The ability to belt home runs into the distant bleachers when there are men on base and the game hanging by a thread has been an outstanding characteristic of the Yankees in their headlong flight toward the American League pennant.

A glance at their record reveals the clouting New Yorkers have won a total of 28 games by the slender margin of one run, and that in 19 instances they pounded one or more for the circuit to achieve victory. The prodigious punches of Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri, and the team's other siege guns have put the Yanks where they are to-day.

Yesterday it was Gehrig whose two homers brought victory over the Chicago White Sox, 6 to 5. Johnny Allen didn't pitch much of a game, yielding 12 hits, but Lou's 30th and 31st four-baggers brought in five runs and made it easy for the big rookie to score his 15th triumph in 17 games. Billy Sullivan made four of Chicago's hits.

The lowly Boston Red Sox gave the day's prize performance, belting Wes Ferrell from the box in the first inning and beating Cleveland, 6 to 2. Three solid hits and a base on balls sent the Indian ace shoverward, and the Sox went on to score five runs before Jack Russell retired them.

Foxx Gets 48th Homer.

Jimmie Foxx's 48th home run, with Cochrane on base, broke a tie in the seventh inning and gave the Athletics a 6 to 4 decision over the Detroit Tigers. Lefty Grove allowed seven hits in scoring victory No. 21.

Led by Ossie Bluege, who batted across five runs with a pair of doubles and a single, the Washington Senators continued their winning spurt with an 11 to 7 conquest of St. Louis. Although he was knocked from the hill in the sixth inning, Bill McAfee registered his fourth success since joining the Senators.

Galt Advances By Beating Brantford

BRANTFORD, August 31. — The Galt Robinhoods continue in their quest for the O.B.A.A. junior title by defeating the Brantford Terrace Hill here last night 11-4. The game was the third of a second round, with the previous games going by 4-3 scores.

The game last night was won really on conversational powers of Manager Poore backed up by Acting Coach McWhirter, the latter donning a uniform for the occasion. The first innings had not been started before there was a big meeting on the mound regarding Richter's standing.

The local boys all got in the argument, and before they had recovered they were down 3-0 due to some of the poorest baseball seen on the local park. The Galt ream secured seven runs in the first four innings on three hits, the Hillmon playing their worst and apparently not getting any better. It was their poorest game in two years, and surely gave Galt an easy time. Richter was taken out, Box was no better, and three hits were secured off Watson with three runs. The pitchers were not all to blame, their help tossing the ball to all corners.

The Galtonians played a clever game in the field. Murphy was unsteady at first, got control and then weakened in the last few frames. Glennie was kept warming up all afternoon, with the prospects of Murphy "blowing" Gooding and B. Orcutt were the only men to get two hits.

INGERSOLL ELIMINATES GUELPH JUVENILES 10-9

GUELPH, August 31. — Guelph Juveniles were eliminated from the O.B.A.A. play-downs last night, when they succumbed to Ingersoll by 10-9. The victory gave the visitors the series in two straight games.

Trailing by six runs going into the seventh innings, Guelph staged rallies in the eighth and ninth which netted them five tallies, but in each inning they were unable to come through with the tying run on the bases.

Ingle afid Fraser, Guelph's starting pitchers, were both driven from the mound early, but Robertson, who hurled the balance of the game, held the visitors runless. Ingersoll really won the game in the sixth when Keen came through with a triple with the bases loaded.

SOUTH WIND WARMS WATER FOR MARATHON

STARTS AT 11 A.M.

(By Jack Hambleton, C. P. Staff Writer)

TORONTO, Aug. 31.—Relenting at the eleventh hour, Lake Ontario early this morning was just 50 degrees, and the Canadian National Exhibition's 15-mile open marathon swim is definitely on.

At 11 o'clock, more than 200 of the world's greatest distance swimmers will plunge in to start the long grind to fame and fortune. The decision to start the swim today followed 48 hours of uncertainty, with the temperature of the water hovering about five degrees under the required warmth. Under a ruling of the Ontario Athletic Commission, the water must be 60 degrees or over or the swim will be postponed.

Wind Warms Water

A soft south wind, which increased in intensity toward morning, has assisted materially, for it has blown the warm surface water of the lake to the inside of the breakwater, where the 15-mile course is laid out.

Today's race is expected to be a gruelling one. Three former champions, George Young, Toronto; Ernst Vierkoetter, formerly of Germany but now of this city, and Marvin Nelson, Fort Dodge, Ia., are entered, with Young ruling as favorite for today's event.

The weather generally was wellnigh perfect. The course was perfectly calm, and a blazing sun poured down as the swimmers drifted down to the waterfront to have a preliminary feel at the water. And the crowd, anxious not to miss any part of the spectacle, was on hand early.

Bowling Notes

Last night's scheduled bowling games were postponed until a later date, the Greens Committee deciding the greens were unsuitable. A big crowd was on hand. Tonight, the rinks entered in the Central Ontario doubles competition will commence play at seven o'clock, the winners of the first round playing again at nine. The semi-finals should be reached this evening, and on Friday night starting at seven, the semi-finals and finals will be held.

A mixed tournament has been arranged for other bowlers not in this competition. It will be held tonight, starting at 7.30, the draw to be made from the board similar to Friday nights. Special prizes will be given the winners.

Next Wednesday, September 7th, the annual open mixed tournament —the last one of the season here— will be held in Peterborough, starting at 1.30 in the afternoon. So far, thirty-five outside clubs have written here, and as only thirty-six will be accepted, local rinks wishing to enter should do so at once. The A. Wander Company, Ltd., has given a fine trophy for this play, and it will be the first annual mixed tournament at which a trophy was ever competed for here. The Ladies' Games Committee has lined up all the local lady bowlers who will participate, and skips may communicate with this committee in arranging their rinks.

Afternoon Game Is Called For Darkness

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—(CP) — The American League baseball game scheduled for today, has been called on account of darkness. Its eclipse day.

CHICAGO REGISTERS ELEVENTH STRAIGHT VICTORY OF SEASON OVER BILL TERRY'S GIANTS 4-3

DODGERS WIN 5-4.

(By Associated Press.)

The Chicago Cubs set a season's record in the National League by defeating the New York Giants, 4 to 3, for their 11th straight victory. It amounted to a gift for the leaders, who scored their winning run in the ninth on a hit batsman, two walks and a fumble by Critz.

Pittsburgh picked up a half-game by outslugging the Boston Braves twice, 10 to 7 and 3 to 2. The Pirates rallied to score five runs in the eighth inning to win the first game and again in the nightcap put over the winner in the eighth.

The Brooklyn Dodgers made only six hits off Syl Johnson and Tex Carleton, but they built them into a 5 to 4 victory over St Louis.

Tony Cuccinello's home run with one on featured a first inning rally that netted three runs.

Cincinati and the Phillies were idle.

MOORE HURLS SKEETERS TO HIS 4TH WIN

Jersey Batters Hammer Three Leaf Pitchers for 15 Blows and 12-7 Win.

ALBANY TAKES FALL.

(By Associated Press.)

Thanks to the various farmhands of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and especially to their latest acquisition, Austin Moore, the Jersey City Skeeters are making a strong bid to finish the current International League campaign a notch or two higher than their usual place.

Since Moore arrived from Brooklyn in exchange for Eddie Pipgras a little more than a week ago, the Skeets have shown new life and have climbed to the comparatively dizzy heights of sixth place. Moore has won four games on the hill to give Jersey City a record of seven victories in nine starts since he joined the club. Albany, meanwhile, suffered a disastrous relapse on the road and made an opening for Jersey to forge ahead.

In winning his fourth straight game, Moore had the aid of some serious clugging yesterday. He was wild, giving eight walks in addition to nine hits, but the Skeeters hammered three Toronto pitchers for 15 blows, five of them for extra bases, and downed the Maple Leafs, 12-7. They scored five runs in the first inning, as George Kelly clouted a homer, and continued firing as well with Chalet Quinn collecting two doubles and two singles.

Montreal handed Albany its 12th defeat in 18 games on the road, winning a close decision, 4 to 3. Each team collected seven hits in a southpaw duel between Frank Barnes and Carroll Yerkes, but the Royals bunched theirs in two good innings. Walters sent home the winning runs with a double in the eighth.

Red Wings Even Series.

The Rochester Red Wings took a 5 to 2 fall out of Baltimore to square their series and to endanger the Orioles' hold on second place. The Red Birds could hit Ken Holloway only seven times, but four of their blows were bunched for as many runs in the seventh.

Bears Increase Lead.

Although they got no better than an even break in a double bill with the Buffalo Bisons, the Newark Bears increased their lead over the rest of the field to 14½ games. Buffalo benefited by the even break to the extent of half a game, and now trails Baltimore by only a game and a half.

The Bisons won the opening game scheduled for seven innings, 6 to 5, by scoring one run in the ninth. They had spotted the Bears five runs in the first two innings, but Horace Lisenbee stopped the leaders cold thereafter. The Bears won the second game 4-2, with a three-run rally in the eighth.

Pairings Are Named For British Team

BROOKLINE, Mass. Aug. 31.—(CP)—The British Walker Cup golf team seeking its first victory over the United States today stole a lead on its rivals. The Britons were first in announcing their lineups for tomorrow's opening foursome matches at the country club.

The sturdy veteran, Cyril Tolley, twice British amateur champion and a member of five international teams, named the British pairings as follows:

1—Captain Tony Torrance and Leonard Crawley.

2—John Burke and John Stout.

3—Rex and Lister Hartley.

4—John Fiddian and Eric McSavin.

Martin Among Year's Famous Sport Failures

Famous flops of the sport world this year:

Pepper Martin, the bucking bronco of the last world series, who is practically unregistered in the base hit and stolen base columns.

NATIONALS WIN SOFTBALL TITLE

Nats Defeat Battling Orioles 3 Games to 1 in South End League Series.

WIN FOURTH 14 TO 10.

The Nationals subdued the batting Orioles in the fourth of a five game series to win the championship three games to 1. A good crowd saw a close contest with the outcome in doubt until the ninth inning. Both pitchers hurled good ball and were given good support by their teammates.

The Orioles jumped into the lead in the initial innings scoring two runs, the Nats going one ahead in the third only to see this lead wiped out in the Orioles half of this innings. The game was nip and tuck till the eighth innings, the score at that point being 10 to 8 in favour of the Orioles. Four straight hits, two of them being homers, countered four runs for the Nats in the eighth innings to give them a two run lead. Two more runs in the first of the ninth increased this lead and the Orioles went down fighting in their last innings, but were unable to push any runs across.

The final score was, Nationals 14, Orioles 10.

SPORTS Day by Day

Baseball — Softball — Lacrosse

Boxing — Wrestling — Aquatic

(BY C. J. P.)

The colorful Orono Ramblers, led by Orme Gamsby himself, are scheduled to play C.G.E. here this evening, starting at six at the Exhibition Grounds. It's the first game of their O.B.A.A. intermediate playdown series, and promises to be a thriller. When the wily Gamsby and the experienced Abbie Rose start swapping tricks, and their teams tangle into each other, anything may result. But the locals want this game badly, and will hustle all the way.

* * * * * * *

There's an exhibition girls' softball game at the Bowl, Leafs playing Park Hill at 6.45 o'clock. To-morrow eve over there, Westclox and Keene meet in the second game of their semi-final series, which Westclox have to win to stay in the running. It starts at 6.30.

* * * * * * *

The Keene champs handed them a 15-3 licking in the first game last night before a big crowd. It was a good game the first half, but the out-of-towners began to get next to Mildred Mortimer's heaves and pulled out well ahead. They received fine fielding and great twirling, Mary McCarthy smoking 'em in there to allow just five hits. Helen Nelson looked smooth at short—at fielding, we mean.

* * * * * * *

The Clock Maidens are in a bad way, but may yet pull out on top. The team is crippled by the loss of two regulars. Belle Thirnbeck, right fielder, was operated on the other day for appendicitis, while Dot Merrett is out of the game with an injured hand. They have a smart team, even as it is, and we'd like to see them playing as they did earlier in the season.

* * * * * * *

There's an old story about the meanest man in the world. He is supposed to have given his child a dime to go to bed without supper, then took the dime back after the kid was asleep, and licked the kid in the morning for losing it. And then there's the guy who dropped a small chocolate wafer in tinfoil into the hat at the Bowl Monday, not to mention the big-hearted palooka who tossed in a shiny washer last night. The girls' games draw some big crowds, but they're made up—for the most part—of cheapskates.

* * * * * * *

Two girls' teams have indicated their intentions of joining the indoor fall league, while one or two others are thinking the matter over. More interest would be apparent among the gals only for lay-offs in their loop at present. The four men's teams in this league will be Sugar Bowl, Red and Whites, Daily Stars, and C.N.R. A meeting is being held at eight to-morrow evening in the Belmont Club Rooms when entries will be accepted, and other business transacted preparatory to getting the games started

* * * * * * *

The intermediate lacrossers journey to Toronto to-morrow for their return game with the Oakwood Grads at 8.30 in the Maple Leaf Gardens, the Petes having a seven-goal lead on the series. This item was taken from The Globe: "There have been some fine displays of goaltending hereabouts in box lacrosse, but none to surpass the show put up by Creighton of Peterborough and Templeton of Oakwoods at the Eastern city on Monday night. They will be seen in action again at Maple Leaf Gardens to-morrow night."

* * * * * * *

Saturday, the McCormick Juniors of Toronto play their return game with the local Pirates in Stevenson Park at 2.30, the Macks having won in the Queen City last Saturday, 9 to 5. A third game, if necessary, will be played on neutral grounds to be decided upon later. The Pirates should win here on Saturday and perhaps in the third game. We're about due for a couple of O. B. A. A. titles here again. Peterborough seems to be Toronto's main rival for provincial baseball championships, even if it is so much smaller.

* * * * * * *

In fact, in the minor series the name of Peterborough for O. B.A.A. titles is eclipsed only by Toronto. This partly bears out our contention that this town is the best for any town near its size in Ontario as far as amateur athletics go. We lost out in the O.A.S.A. playdowns the other day, but have a team very much in the running in the O.A.L.A. semi-finals, and four teams that should do something in the O.B.A.A. playdowns. What town its size can tie that?

* * * * * * *

The Kiwanis Bantams play at 2.30 in Eariscourt Park, Toronto, this Saturday. It is the second game, with Kiwanis having won the first. The intermediate teams, C.G.E. and Orono, will decide after to-night's contest when to hold their second one. And the juveniles are still idle waiting for Toronto St. Andrew's and Milton to settle their differences.

And to-morrow, September sneaks up on us meaning before it should—anyway, weeks. Before we know it, we'll be brushing the rosin out of our hair, picked up at ringsides when the amateur pugs start slinging leather again; and we'll be dodging around rah-rah boys in coonskin coats once more inquiring who that substitute right end is. And so it goes. . . .

Next Wednesday the last lawn bowling tournament of the year will be held in Peterborough, the open annual mixed tourney. Thirty-five outside clubs have been in communication with the local club, and as only thirty-six rinks will be accepted, Peterborough rinks had better look lively and enter right away. The Ovaltine Trophy will be competed for this time.

Rival Hockey Loops Reach Agreement

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 31. — A canvass of the Board of Governors of the National and American Hockey Leagues was under way last night on a "tentative understanding" which would adjust the differences between the rival organizations, arrived at during a closed conference here today of principal officials of both leagues.

President Frank Calder of the National League announced the "understanding" at the close of the meeting, which lasted throughout the day. He said he could not reveal the terms of the agreement, pending action by the separate club owners.

"We have been seeking a situation," he said, "whereby the American League can be brought back into the National League, and we believe we have found a way to iron out the difficulties. The agreement has been submitted to the various club owners and we expect to be able to make an announcement within 48 hours."

WESTCLOX NINE FALLS TO KEENE

Latimer's Outfit Drops 15-3 Decision in First of Group Play-offs.

Keene's versatile crew of clever softball maidens chalked another win on the season's list, last night at the Bowl when Mike Latimer's Westclox nine fell by the wayside in a tilt that wound up 15-3 in favor of the visitors, this game being the first of a three game series to decide the winners in the first half of the schedule, Westclox having finished first and Keene second.

Mary McCarthy's speed on the mound and almost air-tight fielding behind her were the weights that swung the battle in favor of the Rurals, who seem to be headed for the championship for the second consecutive time. She held the Clock-Makers to five hits, four singles and a homer, fanned three and walked eight.

Mildred Mortimer twirled for the losers, dishing up a fair brand of ball and although the winners clouted her offerings for fifteen solid bingles, she nevertheless pitch-steady ball from start to finish allowing only three free passes. She whiffed two.

The game was a battle royal until the end of the fourth frame when the count stood 2-0 in favor of the visitors, but from then on the latter outfit started to hit and soon pushed the count into double figures.

Lois McCarthy in left and Helen Nelson at short each pounded out a triple while Grace McCarthy in centre also connected for a double. Helen Nelson poled out four safe hits, while the Gainor sisters, Roberts and Dorothy secured three and two respectively. For the losers, Mildred Mortimer with a clean home run and Audrey Crary with a double were the leaders.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

REDDY FOX CONSULTS MRS. REDDY

When foxes put their heads together
It means for someone stormy weather.

Of course, that is just a saying. Foxes don't have anything whatever to do with weather. But when folks are in trouble they are said to be having bad weather and so that little verse really means trouble for some one.

Reddy Fox had intended to be selfish and to try to get Johnny Chuck all alone, so that he might dine on him all alone. But, the more he thought it over the wiser it seemed to him to get Mrs. Reddy to help.

In the first place Johnny was so big, and strong that Reddy didn't at all fancy a fight with him. He wouldn't admit it even to himself but he wasn't at all sure he could whip Johnny Chuck in a fair fight. He knew that Johnny was tough of skin, stout of jaw, and sharp of tooth, and ready to fight to the last kick if he had to.

So this was one reason Reddy was wiling to have Mrs. Reddy help him, though not for anything in the world would he have told her this or had her suspect it. Another reason was that he saw a way whereby working together they were almost certain to shut Johnny off from his home, and once they could do that they would have him without fail.

"He is big enough and fat enough to make both of us a dinner," thought Reddy. "Besides, if we succeed in catching him perhaps we can also catch Polly Chuck. Mrs. Reddy is very clever, very clever indeed, and she can help a lot." It is well for Reddy that Mrs. Reddy didn't hear this, for she is the smarter of the two and she knows it.

When Reddy first told her that he wanted her help to catch Johnny Chuck she looked at him as if she thought him the stupidest fellow in the world. "Look here, Reddy," said she, "I'm always ready and willing to help when there is a reasonable chance that something besides failure will come out of it, but if you've got any sense at all in your head you won't ask me to waste any more time on that fat Chuck. We've wasted enough as it is. You know very well that we can't dig open that house down in the far corner of the Old Orchard because it is right between the roots of that pesky apple tree. As for catching one of those Chucks away from their house, it can't be done. There is always one on watch when the other is eating."

"Listen, my dear," interrupted Reddy with a crafty grin on his face. "All that you say is very true. I don't blame you for feeling that way. I don't blame you in the least. But what would you say if I were to tell you that those two silly Chucks have separated and one of them has built a new home where it is the simplest thing in the world to surprise him away from his doorstep? What would you say to that?"

"That is too good to be true," replied Mrs. Reddy with great promptness.

"It is true, though!" cried Reddy, and at once started in to tell Mrs. Reddy all that he had found out. Mrs. Reddy listened with interest, and as Reddy went on to tell of his plan a crafty look crept into her eyes.

"We must plan this very carefully," said she. "Let us put our heads together and see if we cannot have a double dinner of fat Chuck, for if we can catch one we may be able to catch the other."

So Reddy and Mrs. Reddy put their heads together and planned how they would dine on fat Chuck.

BOARD AWARDS BUS CONTRACTS

PRAISE WORK OF HEAD

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 31 (Examiner Staff Reporter)—At a recent meeting of Campbellford Board of Education bus contracts were let for the Roseneath-Hastings and Orland routes.

The number of pupils from Roseneath and Hastings is expected to be considerably larger with the opening of the fall term, while those from Orland will probably be somewhat less. In view of the small number of prospective pupils from Trent River the bus contract for that route was not re-let.

Successful contractors were: Roseneath-Hastings route, A. J. Meyers, $2,000 and Orland route, Robert Fry, $1,800.

The contracts for the bus services were let until June 15, 1933 and a car service for the latter half of the month of June. Mr. Meyers contract was awarded on the understanding that in case a bus service is required after June 15 next year, the price per day is to be $11. If a car is used the price per day is to be $5.

In fulfillment of his contract Robert Fry is to travel as far as Salt Creek, and is to keep the main highway to Campbellford. Should a bus be needed after June 15, the cost to the Board is to be $9 per day, and if a car is used $4.-50 per day.

It is felt by the members of the Board that the running of these two buses will be a good paying proposition.

The only other business was a resolution of appreciation of the excellent results of the years work at the High School, which was unanimously tendered to Principal Greig and his staff. The fact that the candidates who wrote on the Departmental Examinations passed in 88 per cent of the subjects in the Middle School and 92 per cent in the Upper School was regarded as evidence that Campbellford High School stands up well among the best in the Province.

What To-Day Means To You

"VIRGO."
By MARY BLAKE.

If August 31st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m., from 3 p. m. to 4:15 p. m. and from 7:20 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 7:30 a. m. to 8:30 a. m. and from 11:15 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Energizing influences are forecast for August 31st, which may create both feelings of discontent and a desire to "get after" things. Caution required in business affairs, and a very careful reading and interpretation of legal papers before signing. Social affairs cause gossip.

The child born on this August 31st will be strongly afflicted with the Wanderlust, which in later life may be turned into the Wanderlust. It will not be easily put off with simply "no" and "yes," but will demand details. It will have a slightly peppery temper and vivid emotions. Its imagination will be very active.

You do not rely, if born on August 31st, on the power of so-called luck. You believe that the phrase made by a champion golf player after defeat, "It is always the man who plays the better golf who has the luck," applies to most things. Your rewards in life will be those of industry and merit. You do not want, and will not get, many things for nothing. Character, in your case, is the maker of your destiny. Your credit is good in more ways than one, and you will be a man or woman who enjoys the feeling of being trusted.

You drive down the fairways of life with care to avoid the misfortune of a bad lie. You do not get rattled by mishaps, and seldom get over-confident. You are not abnormally brilliant, but you are "sharp" where other people are dull, different or blind, and you do not swallow defeat easily. The frivolities of life do not strongly appeal to you—you are too staid to be playful. You never meddle in other people's business and few attempt to meddle in yours more than once. About your own affairs who are rather secretive, and there are many who wish that you would open up your heart a little more freely.

DON AND WOOD TO TEST CRAFT

Racers Will Give Hydroplanes Run Seven Mile Oval.

FIRST TIME FOR WOOD.

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—Kaye Don, British challenger, and Gar Wood, United States defender, expect to have their two giant hydroplanes out for test runs to-morrow over the Lake St. Clair course on which they will meet Saturday morning in the initial heat of the Harmsworth Trophy race.

Don announced he would take his Miss England III, world record holder, over the seven mile course during the morning. Wood was not sure what time Miss America X would make her first run. He was scheduled to try out the course today, but postponed the test again, saying his craft would not be ready until to-morrow.

The British challenger has been over the course several times, trying out the two three-mile straightaways and the half mile turns at either end. Wood has not had his boat on the course since the markers were placed.

FARMERS AND WOODSMEN ARE WORST OFFENDERS

MONTREAL, August 31 (C P.)—Game inspectors in the Province of Quebec have had a busy summer, reports A. Barbeau, chief inspector for this district, which comprises 28 counties. The worst offenders are farmers and woodsmen, who due to hard times have become poachers, killing moose out of season and bootlegging the meat into Montreal under the cover of darkness. They have even gone so far as to use powerful searchlights and flashlights to blind the animals, and have violated that clause of the Game Act which protects the life of the bow moose. The commercial hunters are difficult to catch, for they will risk much, driven as they are into crime by the demands of starving families, Mr. Barbeau says. Every effort, however, is being made by Mr. Barbeau with 60 men under his command, to break up the traffic. Already some offenders have been caught in the forests, others on the highways to Montreal, while one man was caught by officers peddling contraband meat from door to door.

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 31. — (CP) — Governor Wilber M. Brucker has proclaimed Sept. 6 "Eddie Tolan Day" in Michigan, in honor of the little Negro youth who, in the words of the proclamation, "brought honor to our commonwealth" by winning the two principal dash events at the Olympic games.

Tolan will be extended special recognition at the state fair that day and the governor said he hoped "appropriate observances" would be arranged elsewhere.

AUDIT RUSHED IN MACHRAY CASE

LOSSES OVER $2,000,000.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31. (C.P.)—Accountants neared completing to-day a preliminary survey of the condition of trust funds, until a week ago in the custody of John A. Machray. They may report this afternoon the extent of losses to the funds, which totalled more than $2,000,000.

Rush to finish auditig of the trust accounts of University of Manitoba and the Church of England was made in order that an authoritative interim statement would be prepared before Machray appears in Provincial Court to-morrow to face the first theft charge preferred against him.

The University governor and bursar, and chancellor of the Anglican diocese of Rupert's Land is at his home, free on bail of $50,000, following his arrest for the theft of $47,250 of university endowment trust funds. He is expected to be well enough to attend the court session to-morrow, when further charges may be read to him.

First check of university accounts revealed depletion of endowment funds by about $1,400,000. Only about $100,000 of the endowment, administered by the bursar, was said to remain intact.

TARZAN, LORD OF THE JUNGLE. NO. 93

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

(Metropoli tan Newspaper Feature Ser vice, Inc.)

The king-ape, seizing the girl in his arms, fled into the jungle, pursued by the bellowing, screaming bull-ape, Go-Yad. Guinalda fought to free herself from the hideous creature. She had never seen or heard of such a thing as apes. She believed her captor was some awful kind of dragon. Toyat soon realised he could not escape while burdened with the "she." Suddenly he turned, releasing his hold upon the Princess.

Appalled by the hideous circumstances of her flight, Guinalda sank to the ground, too weak to move. Bristling, snarling in frenzied rage, the two huge Anthropoids prepared to fight it out, while spell-bound by the horror of it, the Princess watched the bestial savagery of the primordial man-beasts seeking sole possession of her. Nor was she the only witness of these terrifying happenings.

From the concealment where he lay, another watched with steady, interested eyes. Just at the moment the two apes were about to grapple each other, there stepped into the open a great lion whose yellow coat gleamed golden in the sunlight. Toyat saw him first. With a growl of rage he turned and fled. Go-Yad, thinking himself the winner, beat up his breast and roared forth the victory cry of the bull-apes.

A moment later the ape saw the lion between himself and the girl, gazing steadily into his eyes. Then Go-Yad, too, lumbered off into the jungle. Now, as the lion walked slowly toward her, Guinalda prayed for a quick death. The king of beasts was close. She felt his hot breath upon her cheek. The little Princess' tortured nerves could endure no more. With a sob, she felt fainting before the tawny beast.

ENGINEER'S STORY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31. — Stupid handling and the sabotage of counter-revolutionists is responsible for the wrecking of $3,000,000,000 worth of machinery bought by the Soviet Government, according to Ernest H. Lebel an engineer, who arrived from Russia last week on the President Harding of the United States Lines.

"I know myself," he said, "that $1,000,000 worth of machinery in one coal mine is gone, and with this machinery gone they did not get 10 per cent. of the coal that could have been mined under proper management."

Mr. Lebel, who said he had been a Socialist for twenty years, went to Russia under contract and served as superintendent of construction of bridges for the Moscow and Dunbasa Railroad, instructor in field engineering for the Second Battalion of the Sixteenth Regiment of Engineers of the Red Army and as an inspector of coal mines and machinery in Central Siberia.

"My contract with Amtorg specified I was to be paid from 500 to 700 roubles a month," he said. "They told me 500 roubles was equal to $250, but I found it actually was worth $50. I had a terrible struggle to live, even though I had free rent and transportation.

"The first thing I am going to do is to report these conditions to the American Society of Mining Engineers and other engineering societies, so they can warn other members from going to Russia. The contracts are not worth the paper they are written on. After all I did for the Russians, they sent me back in rags without a nickel at the end of an exhausting year."

He said the five year plan was working out in the steel, iron and munitions industries because the government was equipping its army and making cannon in fear of a "capitalistic invasion."

SHEEP, POULTRY DUTIES LEVIED

Tax By Free State Laid on Northern Ireland Imports.

AID HOME INDUSTRY.

DUBLIN, Aug. 31 (C.P. Cable)—Duties on sheep and poultry imported into the Irish Free State were announced by the government yesterday as a further encouragement to home industry.

A duty of 11 shilling and three pence (2.70) per head will be imposed on all sheep, and 3 shillings (72 cents) on all poultry imported by the terms of the order which was issued under the Emergency Duties Act. Two-thirds of the full rate is applicable as a preferential rate in the British Empire and the United Kingdom.

The duties are not directed against the United Kingdom, as the imports of sheep and poultry from there are negligible. The main trade is carried out between the Free State and Northern Ireland.

DR. ROBB ANSWERS CRITICISMS OF STATEMENT ON CANCER PLANS

Asks Dr. Cleland to Explain Why He Did Not Attend Recent Commission.

IDEAS COVERED BEFORE.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 31 (C.P.)—Criticism of his statement on the Ontario Government's plan of instituting the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Cancer by Dr. F. A. Cleland of Toronto was met yesterday morning by Hon. Dr. J. M. Robb, Provincial Minister of Health, from his home at Blind River.

Dr. Robb asked that Dr. Cleland explain why he did not appear before the Cancer Commission when it extended an invitation to all experts to attend sessions and explain their ideas, and in the second place he asserted that the ideas advanced by Dr. Cleland in his criticism corresponded almost exactly with those advanced in his statement.

The Cancer Commission's report has been well received by men who are great authorities on the subject of cancer treatment. I have on my files personal letters from such men as Dr. Bloodgood of Baltimore, one of the greatest cancer experts in North America, commenting favorably on the commission report and the statement from Ellis McDonald, Philadelphia, Dr. Quick of New York, some from Paris, from Stockholm and also from England. Demands have come from as far as South Africa and Australia for the commission report and the statement.

Statement Not Read.

It is apparent that Dr. Cleland did not read my statement carefully regarding the establishment of radium treatment observation centres at Toronto, Kingston and London, the university medical training centres. My statement also points out that consideration will be given in time to the establishment of radium centres in places where the proper equipment is available and we can give radium seeds and radium treatment.

If Dr. Cleland had read my statement carefully he would have seen that the treatment will not be confined to one centre. I know of the splendid work being done at Hamilton, Ottawa and in other cities and consideration will be given to these when radium treatment is established in the first centres.

The reason why no radium experts were placed on the commission is that they have their opinions already formed and would not be as interested in investigating every possible way of establishing radium treatment for cancer as others.

HILLS PRESENT ALIBI IN CASE

laneway. An old truck entered the lane and stopped in front of the Hill door. After 15 minutes it started up and was driving down the laneway. The officers ordered it to stop. "While we were searching the front seat," he said, "the driver used a hammer to break a gallon jar, which we believe contained spirits."

Again on Monday they visited the Hill home and searched it, but without results.

Constable Robinson corroborated the evidence of Corporal Canniff. He said that on the night of August 18, he waited outside in the car. Shortly after Canniff and Lee had entered the house, May Hill came out and looked in the car. "She appeared satisfied and went back in," he said.

"Later I got out of the car and took up a position outside the window," he said. "I saw Russell Hill give the bottle of liquor to Lee and May Hill take the money."

This closed the evidence for the prosecution.

Hill's Defense

Russell Hill, in evidence, stated that he visited William Little at his home four miles away on the evening of August 18. His wife, May, accompanied him. He swore that he had no liquor at his home since he was convicted last fall. "I swore when I was betrayed by a friend then that I'd never handle liquor again," he explained.

May Hill told the same story of being away visiting the Littles on the night of August 18, and that there had been no liquor that night, nor had she seen the officers.

"The first time I saw them was early Saturday morning," she swore, "when they brought in a man whose face was all bloody and asked if they could wash off the blood. The man said that they had struck him with a flashlight."

The hearing was then adjourned until later this afternoon.

DOCTOR URGES MOLLISON WAIT

Host Claims if Flier Starts He Will Be Doing So Against Advice.

SCOT TIRED OUT.

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 31 (C.P.) — Captain James A. Mollison awoke this morning to find unfavorable weather reports and the friendly advice of his doctor-host counselling him to wait. Out at the Cape Breton flying field his little Moth plane, "Heart's Content," which carried him to the first westward solo crossing of the North Atlantic was ready to go. But clouds over the ocean were undispersed, and in Sydney Dr. Freeman O'Neil advised the resting of shaken nerves.

Captain Mollison yesterday received a cable from London. Its contents were not disclosed. But Dr. O'Neil had one in his pocket from Army Johnson Mollison, asking him to see that her husband returned to England by steamer if his condition was such as to endanger his chances of making the flight in safety.

It was the doctor, himself a flying enthusiast, who took the captain to his home after the "Heart's Content" came down in the middle of a violent electrical storm on Monday, at Coxheath. This morning he saw the flyer was "shaky" and cabled Mrs. Mollison, advising against the return flight.

Dr. O'Neil said that if the flier went to Harbor Grace "before several days at least," he would be doing so against advice. "He is tired out. His experience in landing in rain and lightning at Coxheath was about the worst, I should think, he has ever had," said Dr. O'Neil.

He admitted, however, that Captain Mollison had not made any definite promises, beyond the fact that he was willing to stay until "the weather clears up."

U. K.-AUSTRALIAN TREATY TERMS COME UP SEPT. 28

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 31.—(C. P. Cable)—Schedules attached to the trade agreement between the United Kingdom and Australia reached at the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa will be submitted to parliament on September 28. Details of the agreement have not yet been published.

Reviewing the work of the Conference Prime Minister J. A. Lyons in the house of representatives today illustrated how the Commonwealth would benefit by quoting 1980 figures when Australian export to the United Kingdom were valued at £30,000,000 of which £4,-000,000 enjoyed preference. If the agreement entered into at Ottawa had been operative then preferences would have covered £20,000,-000.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM

Another hoax, one of several that have been perpetrated within the past few months, was played upon Peterborough Fire Department who last evening received a false alarm from Inverlea Bathing Beach. Arriving at the scene with all the speed they could make and complete with pulmotor, the firefighters searched in vain for anyone who might be in difficulty. They also failed to find any trace of the person who had rung in the alarm from the telegraph station.

FUND REPOSED TO AID FARMERS

New York Committee Would Set Aside $3,000,000 for Emergencies.

USED AS LOANS.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 31. — A $3,000,000 agricultural credit corporation to make available emergency funds to farmers in New York and Neighboring states will be proposed to the reconstruction finance corporation by a New York state committee. By action of the legislature last winter the way was cleared for New York to participate in federal aid.

Word they would welcome an opportunity to serve on a committee for the district has come from agricultural commissioners of Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

"Establishment of such a credit corporation" Commissioner Charles Baldwin of New York said, "has tremendous potential value to farmers throughout the district and particularly in New York state.

"Under the proposed plan, a corporation would be created with a capital of not less than three million dollars to be subscribed entirely by the finance corporation. This regional corporation would be authorized to make loans and advances to farmers throughout the district."

Freight-Riding Boys Will Be Apprehended

Railway police are prepared to wink at the thousands of homeless, unemployed transients who are riding hither and yon upon the railroads, but they are opposed to youngsters of good families taking "joy rides" on the rails free of charge.

"We want to warn parents to keep their boys at home" a C.P.R. constable told The Examiner today. "Riding the railways they get in with bad companions and there is always the danger of injury from falling under the wheels.

"We close our eyes at the thousands of bums that are travelling our rails because they haven't a place to go. But for the young men of decent families with a yen for travel setting off to see the world via box car, its another thing. We are going to stop it" he stated.

He dragged five Ottawa youths off a freight yesterday and they were in jail to-day awaiting the attention of Magistrate Langley's court.

SPEEDBOAT CAPSIZES THROWING MEMBERS OF HARMSWORTH RACE COMMITTEE INTO DETROIT RIVER

CONTROLS JAMMED.

DETROIT, Mich., September 1. (C.P.). — Thrown into Lake St. Clair when their speedboat capsized while travelling 45 miles an hour, six members of the Harmsworth Trophy Race Committee were rescued to-day as they clung to the overturned boat.

The six, W. D. Edenburn, Detroit, chairman of the Race Committee; Captain Charles D. Brown, Toronto, Canadian representative of Lord Wakefield of England; Robert Millspaugh, Indianapolis; Commodore Charles F. Chapman, New York; William Taylor, Detroit, and Harry A. Van Sickle, Detroit, were returning to shore after watching Kaye Don, pilot of Miss England III, make a trial run. When they were 1,500 feet from shore the boat controls jammed and the boat capsized in choppy water.

Brown was knocked unconscious, but was pulled to the overturned boat by the others. A cruiser put out at once and took the six aboard. None suffered any ill effects from the accident.

Don piloted his Miss England III through rough water in his last trial run before the Harmsworth Trophy race, the first heat of which will be run on Saturday, at 8.30 a.m. (E.D.T.).

Don, with Dick Garner, his mechanic, sent the huge white speedboat around the seven-mile course as fast as the choppy water would permit. The boat threw 15 feet of wash in the air as it bounced over the rough water, and Don was unable to show any burst of speed on the straightaway.

One of the spectators was Gar Wood, whose 48-cylinder Miss America X. will defend the trophy on the straightaway. Don's time was not clocked in view of conditions.

Later he brought his Miss America X. down to the course laid out last year in the Detroit River near Belle Isle and speeded through calmer waters for several turns around the old course. On the second lap, he opened up the throttle, speeding at better than 100 miles an hour, while hundreds watched from the Belle Isle Bridge and the river bank.

Wood has not yet tried out the course in Lake St. Clair.

DOOLITTLE SETS ANOTHER MARK

Travels 293.193 Miles Per Hours According to Unofficial Timing.

USES LAND PLANE.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—In the false haze of a solar eclipse, Mayor James H. Doolittle set an unofficial world's speed record for land planes at the National Air Races here yesterday.

He streaked his trim Gee Bee sportster over a 3 kilometre course at an average speed of 283.193 miles an hour in a qualifying test for the Thompson Trophy race. The official record of 278.48 miles per hour was set by Warrant Officer Bonnet, Istres, France, in 1926.

Doolittle streaked over the first lap at 294.492 miles per hour, 291.151 miles per hour in the second, 290.289 in the third, and 291,900 in the fourth.

However there was some doubt his time will be recognized by the International Aeronautical Association because he failed to carry a baragraph, inasmuch as the rules of altitude and heights of dives must be recorded.

Wrecked Vikings Are Back In Sydney

CLOSE CALL.

SUMMER'S HEAT REACHES PEAK

Thermometer Ascended to 94 Wednesday Afternoon for Year Record.

Both day and night heat records for the present summer season were set up during the last twenty-four hours when the mercury soared up to 94 degrees and failed during last night to drop below 69 degrees.

To-day the weather was more bearable with the maximum temperature around noon being officially recorded at 85 degrees.

The 94 degrees registered yesterday afternoon while being a record for the present year was still 7 degrees short of the highest temperature recorded last year when the mercury raced up to 101 degrees in the worst heat wave that has struck this district in years.

Previous highest temperatures this summer were made on Friday last when the mercury stood at 87 degrees as the maximum day reading and at 68 degrees as the minimum night reading.

Walter Peters the County's official weather man intimates that there is cooler weather in the offing. Regarding the rainfall for the month just ended he stated that there was a precipitation of 3.42 inches a large increase over the corresponding period last year. As a consequence the countryside is still clothed in a mantle of green instead of presenting its usually parched and burned appearance common at this time of the year.

Auto's Backfire Frightens Busy Burglar, Jumps Out Window, Confesses In Hospital

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—An automobile's backfire, the police say, can be very disturbing to a man engaged in robbery.

They told of the case of Charles Young whom they accused of trying to commit a robbery in a confectionary store after they had found him in a hospital with a badly gashed neck.

"I was getting along nicely robbing the place when an automobile passed by and backfired, he was quoted as saying. I thought someone was shooting and jumped through the window.

SPEEDING CARS CRASH, HEAD ON SIX ARE INJURED, TWO BADLY

AT HAMILTON BEACH.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1, (CP)—Six persons were injured, two of them gravely, when two automobiles crashed in a head-on collision on Hamilton Beach to-day.

The victims of the accident are Frank Baillie, son of Lady Baillie and the late Sir Frank Baillie, of Oakville, driver; Fred Woods, Toronto; Dorothy Baines, Oakville; Kathleen Ahearn, Oakville; William Sherring, Hamilton and Marie Maddick, Hamilton.

The party of four from Oakville was proceeding along the beach in a southerly direction in a roadster, while the Hamilton car, driven by Mr. Sherring with Miss Maddick as a passenger was travelling in the opposite direction. Police were unable to ascertain exactly what caused the accident, but the two cars met in a collision, both crumpled both of them into each other's wreckage and scattered their passengers in all directions over the pavement.

Rushed to Hospital

Drs. Dingle and Peart of Burlington were summoned and called the Hamilton police ambulance. All the victims were removed to hospital where it was found that Bailey was the most seriously injured. He suffered facial lacerations and internal injuries but his condition was reported as fair.

Fred Woods sustained a fractured skull, facial lacerations, broken right leg and his condition also was fair. Dorothy Baines and Kathleen Ahearn escaped with facial lacerations. William Sherring suffered lacerations and Miss Maddick's arm was badly cut.

SHOOTING LAID TO GUARDSMEN

Two Wounded Men Taken to Hospital After Mysterious Affair.

CHARGES MADE.

DUBLIN, September 1. — Civic Guardsmen who were involved in the shooting of George Gilmore, Republican Army officer, and T. J. Ryan on the night of August 11, have been charged with violation of their duty by friends of the wounded men.

Gilmore and Ryan were taken to Kilrush Hospital after a mysterious midnight gun-battle. There they were kept under the supervision of Civic Guards and charged with attempting to murder Guardsmen and detectives. The charges were withdrawn and the two men released with their colleague, Bernard Lowe.

Gilmore is a well-known member of the Irish Republican Army, imprisoned by the Cosgrave Government for dangerous political activities, and released when President Eamon de Valera came into power.

SINCLAIR ASKS FERGUSON TO OPEN OSHAWA FAIR

OSHAWA, Sept. 1. — Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in London, England, and former Premier of Ontario, will open the Oshawa Fair on Tuesday, Sept. 13, it was announced yesterday by the South Ontario Agricultural Society. The invitation to Mr. Ferguson was extended by W. R. H. Sinclair, president of the fair who as provincial Liberal leader, was for years the former premier's rival in the Provincial House. The fair directors are also sponsoring a get-together meeting between country and city people, which will take the form of a luncheon, and at which the High Commissioner will be the chief speaker.

Fair And Cooler Says Weatherman

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Fair and cooler, declared the weatherman today, as he scanned his charts and made his usual predictions. This hot weather is not very welcome I'm afraid, he said, as thousands of Ontario's citizens sweltered under the hottest spell of the summer.

But the warm south wind which has increased the temperature so greatly in the past two days is nearly ended. The breeze is switching round to the north and increasing in intensity, I think we are quite safe in predicting that it will be cooler tonight and tomorrow.

$350 PENALTY FOR BEER SALE

Harold A. Casson Has Option of Jail Term.

RAID BY MOUNTIES.

Fines totalling $350 or in default eight months in jail, six of them in the Ontario Reformatory, was the sentence handed out by Magistrate Langley to Harold A. Casson, convicted of operating a still in his North Monaghan residence and of manufacturing beer not for his own consumption.

Casson, who was arrested following a raid upon his house a week ago by Corporal Canniff and Constable Robinson, of the R.C.M.P., during which the still and a large quantity of beer was found, had pleaded guilty to both charges.

For operating the still he was sentenced to one month in the county jail and to pay a fine of $300 and in default of the fine he was to spend six months in the Ontario Reformatory. On the beer charge he was ordered to pay a fine of $50 or in default two months in the county jail.

Fred King, formerly of Oshawa, pleaded guilty as a second offender under the L.C.A. and was fined $75 or in default three months in jail.

C.N.E. OFFICIALS HOPEFUL DESPITE SMALL CROWDS

TORONTO, Sept. 1. (CP)—Faced with steadily decreasing attendance figures, Canadian National Exhibition officials to-day are still optimistic that last year's figures will be reached before the big show closes.

There was a decrease of 13,000 yesterday as compared with the same day last year, and that despite the 15-mile open marathon. But the terrific heat which swept over the city yesterday was regarded as responsible for this decrease. The figures so far this year are 72,000 lower than last year's.

To-day is music, radio and women's day.

Auditors Are Unable to Complete Probe of Books For Hearing.

ACCUSED CONTINUES ILL.

WINNIPEG, September 1. — Application for a further remand in the hearing of the charge of theft of $971,351 of University of Manitoba funds preferred against John A. Machray, K.C., former bursar and chairman of the Board of Governors, will be made in Provincial Police Court when the case is called to-day.

Continued illness of Machray and the inability of auditors to complete their examination of trust funds within the prescribed time were the basis for the application. Counsel for Machray and Crown authorities conferred late yesterday with Hon. E. A. McPherson, K.C., acting Attorney-General. There was general agreement on both sides for a remand.

Physicians attending the aged chairman yesterday stated his present condition will not permit his appearance in court. In poor health for years, Machray is said to be seriously ill with stomach trouble. His condition was reported a little better than a week ago, but not strong enough to permit his [illegible] court.

Auditors' progress [illegible] difficulties of the auditors are increasing because of the difficulty of earmarking the money and securities. Exactly when the first conversions from the funds were made has not been disclosed, but it is thought to have been many years ago. Shortages in the various trusts may not be as heavy as first reported, it was stated to-day, but they will be large. The university loss will be close to $1,500,000, with Anglican Church losses totalling $800,000 and St. John's College and School short $400,000. There has been no report on any other private trusts.

Cabinet to Consider.

Condition of depleted trust funds of the University of Manitoba and the Church of England will be discussed at a Cabinet meeting to be held in the near future, Hon. R. A. Hoey, Minister of Education stated yesterday.

"We feel it is a matter of government policy and one that requires immediate discussion," Mr. Hoey said. "Several Cabinet ministers at present are out of the city. As soon as they return and a full slate of ministers is available a meeting will be held and the whole question thoroughly reviewed."

Questioned as to whether the Government would consider making good shortages in trust funds, said a week ago in the custody of John A. Machray, the minister said he was not in a position to say.

MECHANIC FACES BIGAMY COUNTS

Ingersoll Man Appears In Court on One Charge— Finds Two Waiting.

MARRIED THREE WOMEN.

SARNIA, Ont., Sept. 1.—(CP) — Arley Ray, 32-year-old Ingersoll automobile mechanic, appeared in police court on one bigamy charge today and found himself faced by a second similar charge.

Ray is alleged to have married a woman in Sarnia, and to have become estranged from her after the birth of two children. He left for Windsor where, his charge said, he married again. Last September, the second charge said, he returned to Sarnia and married for the third time.

It was the last alleged marriage that got him into trouble with the law.

Ray claimed his first wife was dead but a woman calling herself Mrs. Arley Ray presented herself at the police station today to press the second charge.

Standing Army of 300,000 Naval, Air and Tank Corps is Demand Sent to France

Germany Will Withdraw From League of Nations if Her Claim for Revision of the Treaty of Versailles is Not Granted.

MINISTER OF WAR GIVES STATEMENT OF REICH ATTITUDE TO ITALIAN PAPER

If Equality Rejected Germany Will Not Participate in World Disarmament Conference.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Premier Edouard Herriot, back in Paris for a cabinet meeting which will consider Germany's formal demand for lifting the arms restrictions, conferred today with the British charge d'affaires before summoning his ministers.

The government was uncommunicative regarding details of the demand presented by the German ambassador, but it was understood that its principal points are these:

1.—Modification of the Versailles treaty with a provision for a 12-year service basis in the German army.

2.—Amalgamation of compulsory military service and the period served by the militia.

3.—Sanction for a German army of 300,000 men.

4.—Permission for Germany to maintain heavy, light and coastal artillery.

5.—Permission for maintenance of tanks by the Germany army.

8.—Extension of the German navy by the addition of airplane carriers, cruisers and submarines.

10.—Creation of 35 war material factories in Germany.

Italian Press Report.

BERLIN, Sept. 1 (C.P.). — A threat by Germany to withdraw from the League of Nations' Disarmament Conference unless her demands for equality with other Powers in armaments are met accompanied unofficially to-day a Reich note to France on the subject.

The contents of the note were not divulged, but the views of Gen. Kurt Von Schleicher, the Minister of Defence, were generously quoted on all sides. The General is regarded as the mainspring of the Von Papen Government.

Asked what Germany would do if her claim to equality were rejected, the General told the newspaper:

"The German Government will no longer participate in the World Disarmament Conference. It is evident what non - participation means to the existence of the League of Nations.

BRIDGE PLANS NEARLY READY

DAM TENDERS ARE CALLED.

Announcement is made by the Provincial Government that the high level bridge on Highway 7 here, will be constructed this fall and that plans will be completed within the next two weeks or so.

This proposed new structure will supplant the present narrow swing bridge at the south end of the city, which is at present closed to heavy traffic, presumably because it is considered to be in an unsafe condition. It will cost around $100,000 and will be financed by a Dominion contribution of $40,000. The remainder will be borne by the City of Peterborough, the County of Peterborough and by the Provincial government.

Another important undertaking for which a Federal government appropriation was made at the last sessions, will also be undertaken in the near future, tenders having been called by the Department of Railways and Canals for the construction of a concrete dam at Lock 22 on the Peterborough-Lakefield division of the Trent Canal.

Tenders for the dam will be received at the office of the chief engineer at Ottawa and also at the office of the superintending engineer at Peterborough until noon on Tuesday, September 20, 1932.

RUSSELL HILL IS CONVICTED

Magistrate Langley Rejects Defense Alibi in Liquor Case.

SECOND OFFENSE.

Choosing to believe the evidence submitted by two R.C.M.P. officers that on the evening of August 18 they purchased a quart of moonshine liquor from Russell Hill, of Dummer, rather than the alibi offered by Hill and his wife, May, that on that evening they were not at their farmhouse but were four miles away visiting a sick friend, William Little, and did not see the officers at all, Magistrate Langley to-day convicted Hill of a charge under the Excise Act of having in his possession illicitly distilled liquor.

Hill was convicted last fall on a moonshining charge brought by Detective-Sergeant Zaneth, of the R.C.M.P., so that the penalty he will receive will be as a second offender.

Trial Of Mrs. Hill.

The hearing of the trial of May Hill on a similar charge is proceeding, Magistrate Langley deciding to withhold sentence of the husband until the wife's case had been concluded.

Corporal D. Canniff and Constable Robinson gave the same evidence to-day in the case of May Hill as that given by them yesterday in the trial of Russell Hill. They told of going to the Hill home in company with David Lee, Dummer resident, and purchasing a bottle of spirits for two dollars.

"Russell handed over the liquor and May Hill took the money," they testified.

At the conclusion of their testimony, J. A. O'Brien, defence counsel, moved for dismissal of the charge on the ground that May Hill had never had possession of the liquor. In adjourning the hearing at 1 o'clock, Magistrate Langley stated he would consider Mr. O'Brien's motion, when court reassembled at 2.30 o'clock.

Strike Leaders Seek Funds To Carry On

LONDON, Sept. 1. (CP)—Three Lancashire union leaders came to London to-day to appeal to trade unions for funds to carry on the cotton workers' strike called there this week.

It was also reported they had sounded out the government on intervention, but this was denied. The unions claimed 55,000 of the 200,000 Lancashire weavers had walked out.

ORDER CENSURE FOR MAGISTRATE

Action Follows Woman Cadi's Sentencing of Man Unable to Pay Debt.

SUM OF $1.50 INVOLVED.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Magistrate Margaret Patterson, Toronto, is to be censured for sentencing Walker Brooks, of this city, to 10 days in jail because Brooks was unable to pay a debt of $1.50.

E. J. Bayly, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General of Ontario, today reported to Hon. W. H. Price, K.C. Attorney-General, the circumstances of the case and advised that the magistrate should be censured.

The whole proceedings in this case were taken under the wrong act and I think both the justice who issued the process and the magistrate who tried the case were guilty of carelessness; Mr. Bayly said.

I also think the magistrate who tried this case deserves censure for having made an order of this kind to operate automatically, or without having the accused up before the court against to ascertain the ability of Brooks to pay and the efforts he had made to comply with the order.

U.S. Plans To Scrap 124 Wartime Ships

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (C.P.).— In an effort to improve ocean freight rates from the carriers' standpoint and stabilize the value of private vessels, the Shipping Board plans to scrap 124 of its wartime vessels.

Withdrawal of the ships from registry was ordered by the Board upon recommendation of the Merchant Fleet Corporation and they will be sold for scrap as soon as practicable.

Abuses Are Charged In Flood Districts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (C.P.). — Charges that abuses were found to be general among Negro workers of flood control projects in the Mississippi Valley has resulted in the United States War Department ordering a second investigation within a year of conditions among this class of worker.

Unsanitary camp sites, irregular pay days, overcharging in camp commissary system, long hours, low wages and seven days' labor each week are among the complaints.

VERMONT ROAD STAFF CHANGED

TERRITORIES EXTENDED.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1. —(CP)— Staff changes on the Central Vermont railway were announced today at headquarters of the Canadian National Railways of which the United States line is a subsidiary.

The changes involve the retirement of two prominent officers, John W. Hanley, general freight and passenger agent, after 51 years of service in the company, and E. J. Guthrie, superintendent of the southern division and marine superintendent, at New London, Conn. Mr. Guthrie started railway work as a switchman in Ontario 46 years ago. Three positions in the company are abolished, those of assistant to the vice-president at St. Albans, Vermont, general freight and passenger agent, St. Albans, and the marine superintendent, New London.

Announcement is also made that the New England territory of H. A. Carson, General freight agent of the Canadian National at Boston, has been extended to include the Central Vermont. Likewise the territory of T. E. P. Pringle, general agent of the passenger department of the Canadian National at Boston, will in future include Central Vermont lines.

Reception Changes Sunset Conditions Descend Abruptly

"Celestial Express" Is Several Seconds Late—Tardiness Worries Astronomers, Who Fear Calculations On Moon's Motion May Be Affected.

CLOUDS RUIN WORK, MANY BIGGEST GROUPS; BIRDS GET EXCITED, COWS COME HOME EARLY

(By Howard W. Blakeslee, A. P. Science Editor)

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 1.—One important radio discovery, several new scientific feats, and some queer human experiences summed up today the accomplishments of the total eclipse expeditions.

Clouds completely ruined the work of more than half the largest expeditions, but a few had perfect views.

Two persons were reported so frightened at Island Pond in Vermont as to require medical attention.

The cows came home for milking at a number of farms. Flocks of birds got wildly excited, then calmed down and dived from sight, evidently putting up bird-fashion for the night.

The radio discovery throws new night on the invisible layer of electrified air — which reflects radio waves back to earth. As the sun passed completely from sight, radio reception on special setups changed abruptly to sunset conditions.

Night Conditions.

Then for the minute and a half while the sun was completely darkened, the test radio waves behaved almost precisely as if it were night. Their action showed that in the darkened sky the waves were ascending much higher before being reflected back to earth. It was announced that this showed the invisible layer had abruptly retreated much higher under cover of darkness.

When the sun reappeared, the radio reception changed back to daytime conditions, as it does at sunrise. The layer apparently had been forced down closer to earth.

The 'miracle' of all observations was reported by Prof. S. L. Boothroyd, director of the Cornell University expedition, stationed at Newport, Vt., in the midst of hopelessly thick clouds, a small hole appeared, for two minutes. And in that hole was the total eclipse.

Tests New Process.

R. C. Williams of Cornell forthwith made the first test of a new process he developed recently with G. B. Eshine of Cornell. He evaporated Chromium to produce a special mirror for observing spectroscopically the invisible ultra-violet light from the corona.

Fate was kindest of all to the Japanese expedition from the Tokyo Imperial Observatory, under Prof. Okuro Oikawa. They came the longest distance of any expedition and selected Bartlett, N.H., for their site.

But luck had prevented them

YOUTH DROWNS FOLLOWING DIVE

Police Investigating Believe Lad Struck His Head Upon Rock.

NEAR WILLOWDALE.

WILLOWDALE, September 1. — Getting beyond his depth while bathing in a swimming hole on a tributary of the Don north of Shaughnessy Bridge near Finch Avenue West yesterday, Angelo Yauntz, 18, of 410 McRoberts Avenue, was drowned.

Police believe he struck his head on a rock. His two younger sisters accompanied him, and when they lost track of him among the other swimmers a search was begun. His body was recovered in five feet of water by Laurie Goldthorp, 103 Livingstone Avenue.

Constable Hector Hawkins of North York Township police, on his way to the spot to investigate the reported theft of some clothing, arrived there just as the body was found, and he applied artificial respiration, aided by several men from the Hamilton B. Wills estate, without avail. Police have repeatedly warned swimmers about the dangers of the place. Coroner C. S. Dunning decided an inquest would not be held.

BEER FOUND AT COTTAGE GETS FIREMAN ARRESTED

LINDSAY, September 1 (Examiner Correspondence). — William Downer, C.N.R. fireman on the Haliburton train, has been placed under arrest by Provincial Constable Porter, of Haliburton, and Sergt. Morden, of the C.N.R. The officers visited his cottage at Little Red Stone Lake, where they found sixty-seven quarts and one keg of home-made beer, a number of C.N.R. heavy engine curtains, pick-axes, wood axes, spikes and station platform light. The accused came before the Magistrate at Haliburton yesterday, and was remanded.

Huge Golden Eagle Shot Near Oshawa

OSHAWA, Sept. 1.— A golden eagle, a type of bird which is rarely seen in his district, was shot and killed at Corbett's Point, on the lake shore two miles west of here yesterday by Reginald Lemon, 16-year-old Orangeville high school student. Lemon who was visiting his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. R. Bolt, of Oshawa, at their Summer home on Corbett's Point, was attempting to shoot some crows with a .22 rifle when he noticed the eagle perched on the top of a tall pine tree. He took careful aim and brought the great bird tumbling down with a bullet through its head. When measured the eagle was found to have a wing spread of seven feet.

CLOUD BLURRED TOTAL ECLIPSE TO SCIENTISTS

Some Groups in Quebec Were Favored by Open Sky.

MONTREAL MISSED IT.

Many Astronomers Deeply Disappointed as They Review Results.

(By H. M. Peters—C.P. Staff Writer).

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Astronomers to-day were preparing to check up on data and develop pictures they secured yesterday when for a few fleeting seconds darkness covered a broad stretch of North America from Hudson Bay to the Atlantic coast in New England.

Most of the world famous scientists, gathered from universities and scientific bodies all over the world, were rueful. The positions they had carefully chosen were encompassed by a great cloud and the eclipse of the sun was inaccessible to the elaborate and expensive equipment they had brought from the ends of the earth.

Luck Favors Some.

Here and there through Quebec were jubilant groups of observers. The Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Toronto and London, Ont., sections, and an important gathering of French scientists under Professor Chretien had the good fortune to choose the little village of Louiseville, Que., as their centre of observation. The Canadians accumulated what they hope to be valuable data on shadow bands and pictures of the corona and Bally's beads, those glowing, gem-like bursts of flame, for all the world like diamonds on a dinner ring.

But three large expeditions that chose the Hermitage Golf Club at Magog as their locale suffered grievous disappointment. There were gathered the Cambridge University delegation, the representatives of the University of Virginia and McGill University's physicists from Montreal. Their preparations were doomed to failure, which was taken with good humored resignation—another year will come—seemed to be the keynote as men whose names are to be conjured within the scientific world carefully supervised the packing of delicate equipment.

Many Disappointed.

The man on the street in the belt of totality was also badly disappointed. Only Sorel, Actonvale, Louiseville and one or two other points were fortunate in seeing the clouds roll back and the awe-inspiring eclipse unfold itself in all its grandeur.

Montrealers saw nothing. They crowded all points of vantage in their thousands. Every roof bore its quota. Yet even if a glimpse of nature's finest spectacle was denied the coming of darkness was impressive in itself. Almost one could imagine he heard the rush of the moon as darkness came swiftly down from the North. The air was deathly still and thermometers dropped. There was a feeling of man's littleness expressed as mighty forces took command of the situation and turned an otherwise ordinary afternoon into dingy night. Total blackness did not come. Probably Montreal was too close to the edge of the belt, and far to the south the horizon glowed a brilliant yellow.

For about 30 seconds night lasted. Then, as suddenly as it came, the moon passed on, the sun was partly bared and light penetrated through the clouds.

Convicts' Eclipse

DANNEMORA, N.Y., Sept. 1 Clinton prison officials figured that some of the convicts might take advantage of the astronomical stir and depart. So every inmate went into eclipse in a locked cell while the moon was passing away at the sun.

HEAD OFFICIALS DECLARE TRUCE IN FARM STRIKE

ONLY TEMPORARY.

Wait to See Outcome of Governors' Conference in Sioux City Sept. 9.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 1—John Chalmers, chairman of the National Farm Holiday Association, called a truce last night in the farmers strike.

He sent a telegram to lift their ban on farm produce sale, to-day. The truce, he said, will be "temporary."

"You are hereby notified that a temporary truce has been declared in the farmers' holiday movement in Iowa," his statement read. "Such truce is effective Sept. 1, and pending the governors' conference at Sioux City Sept. 9.

"Notify all members at once. We will not jeopardize the lives of unarmed farmers in such attacks as occurred at Cherokee Tuesday (Signed) "John Chalmers, state chairman."

The conference to which the chairman referred was called by Gov. Warren Green of South Dakota. The Governor asked executives of 18 midwest states to meet with him to consider action in the farmers' strike.

Chalmers would not elaborate upon his statement, but it was believed here that the association's action meant it would hold immediate termination of the truce "over the heads" of the meeting governors, and in this way effect some material benefit to the farmers.

EARL EGMONT QUIETLY WED

Young Alberta Rancher Picks Calgary Man's Daughter as Bride.

2 MONTHS' COURTSHIP.

CALGARY, Sept. 1. —(CP)— The Earl of Egmont left Calgary last night, bound on a honeymoon trip to Vancouver. The 19-year-old Priddis rancher was married this afternoon to Ann Geraldine Moodie eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Moodie, prominent Calgary residents.

The wedding was held quietly at St. Mary's Cathedral and was a surprise to friends of both the bride and groom. The youthful earl had been acquainted with his bride only a short time, meeting her shortly after his arrival from England two months ago.

Earl in July the young earl returned to Calgary following the death in an auto accident in England of his father. He went immediately to his ranch at Priddis, near Calgary, where he was born and to the little home his father left to take up residence in England when he obtained the title.

Declaring himself tired of "the lousy life of an earl," the young man joined in ranch life, taking up where he left off when he departed for England.

Following the Calgary stampede in July when he officiated in the prize awards, the earl spent some time in Calgary. It was during his stay that he became acquainted with Miss Moodie.

In New Zealand an adjustment committee has been set up to deal with cases of hardship which may arise under the act reducing the pay of civil servants.

CAR FATALITIES JUMP IN JULY OVER LAST YEAR

SPEED ONE CAUSE.

Pedestrians and Motorists Are Reported Equally at Fault.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.— With 13 more motoring fatalities occurring in Ontario in July than in the corresponding month last year, the downward trend in the number and seriousness of motor accidents came to an abrupt end in that period, according to figures issued by the motor vehicles branch of the department of highways.

Accidents reported numbered 908, an increase of 3.5 per cent., and there were 39 more persons injured than there were in July, 1931. Fatalities in July numbered 51. Property damage amounted to $109,842 or $6,284 less than that of July, 1931.

Figures issued by the motor vehicles branch shows that over 50 per cent. of the accidents occurred on urban streets. Collision with other vehicles continue to be the most common type of accident.

High Speed

Accidents occurring on the county and township roads, which include main and trunk roads in Northern Ontario, indicate high speed as a definite contributory cause, the report states. Lack of police control and less dense traffic conditions undoubtedly cause many drivers on these roads to operate at a speed which leaves their vehicles quite out of control in the event of an emergency, it is stated.

Of the 51 persons killed, 14 were pedestrians, a decrease of three from July, 1931; 32 were occupants of motor vehicles, four were bicyclists, and one was a passenger in a horse-drawn vehicle. Of the 935 persons injured by motor vehicles, 540 were male and 395 were female.

Fourteen of the 1,334 drivers involved were reported as intoxicated and 19 as driving while extremely fatigued. The remainder were considered normal. Over 20 per cent. of the drivers were under 25 years of age. Arrests and summonses were reported to the number of 216, following investigation of accidents.

Responsibility for accidents to pedestrians is divided equally between motorists and their victims, the report finds. A greater recognition of the rights and responsibilities of both sides is advocated.

"BACK TO THE LAND" FOR 630 JOBLESS ARE ALL MAKING GOOD

Not a Single Family Has Failed, Declares Mayor of Winnipeg.

NO MORE THIS YEAR.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—Six hundred and thirty persons have been placed on farms in three months under the "subsistence" plan. This is what has been accomplished in the three months' work.

It was announced by the "Back to the Land Commission" that no more families would be sent out this year, because it is too late for gardens and preparations for the winter.

Many students of agrarian economics believe this experiment under way in Manitoba is to prove the solution of much of the urban unemployment.

Col. Ralph Webb, mayor, is generally credited with the initiation. "I believe," said he, "that these 126 families now on 'subsistence' farms will be an example that will spread next spring all over the Dominion.

"Not one single family has failed to make good.

"All were on relief before or unemployed and ready to go on relief as a last resort. A family of five costs, on relief, directly, between $50 and $60 per month. Our maximum for a 'subsistence' farm is $300 and $10 per month allowance. Very few have been given the maximum.

Large Centres Profit.

"Most of them get along with $200 to $400. Some of them have not even required the $10 per month allowance. It is not expected, temporarily at least, that they will do more than maintain themselves; but that relieves the pressure on civic finances to that extent. In addition, it gives more room for less fortunates in their search for jobs.

"While it is a fifty-fifty arrangement between the city, provincial and federal governments, the Manitoba large and small centres of population have enormously profited.

"The fact that these people are actually self-supporting on farms is important, but not as important as the fact that they are maintaining their self-respect and keeping their bodies in good condition. The spirit of the whole experiment, I believe, should appeal to every good citizen of the Dominion."

While a carefully-prepared record is preserved in the case of each family placed on the land, the requirements are not made burdensome by red tape provisions.

Chief Consideration.

The fact that a man with a family wants to go on the land is the chief consideration. He is not required to have experience.

In fact, many of those who, in these three months, have shown the best results have been men and women with no agricultural experience. They have all been encouraged to write into the agricultural college for information and many of them have done so.

All were urged to get in their gardens the very first thing. Each family found its own farm, or the one they wanted.

Each was encouraged to take from 25 to 40 acres, but many have preferred a 160-acre plot. In many cases they have secured options on these farms and in others they pay the rent in shares to the owners. Some have managed to get their places as donations from those having more than they want.

Back to Pioneer Days.

In fact, not a few have actually gone back to pioneer days and built houses of sod—very good make-shift places, too. In the case of others community interest has been so strong that farmers in the neighborhood have gathered and put up shacks of logs or slabs as temporary homes.

In most cases, while the head of the family has been busy getting a few acres of land broken, the other members have been busy getting in firewood, a garden, putting up chicken houses and preparing even a little flower plot.

Many of these "subsistence" farm homes represent abandoned farms, old homesteads and drained swamp lands very fertile. Students from the agricultural college have visited many of these relief homes and they report them cheerful.

MANY POPULAR STARS LINKED IN ROMANCES

Recent Marriages of Several Hollywood Luminaries Arouses Interest.

MARKEY—BENNETT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., August 30 (I.N.S.).—Romance has flared often in Hollywood since the start of the year, with such stellar names as Joan Harlow, Jean Bennett, Ruth Chatterton, Ann Dvorak, Greta Nissen and Una Merkle figuring in the marriages and reported engagements.

Outstanding in the social ceremonies that drew the elite of movieland were those uniting Joan Bennett and Gene Markey and Jean Harlow and Paul Bern.

The romance of Miss Harlow, the first and most glamorous of the platinum blondes, and Bern, prominent studio executive, took Hollywood by surprise. Almost without warning the two applied for their marriage licence, and a few days later the ceremony was performed at the home of Miss Harlow's parents.

Bennett Wedding Brilliant.

The wedding of the youngest of the Bennett sisters to Markey, well known author, was a brilliant affair attended by Hollywood's '400.' Their love affair began when Miss Bennett was injured and Markey started visiting her at the hospital to cheer her up.

Ruth Chatterton and George Brent are expected to marry in New York some time in August after Ralph Forbes, present husband of the noted actress, has obtained a divorce in Reno where he is now establishing his residence.

The affections of Jack Gilbert, one of the most dashing heroes of the silent screen, was captured by Virginia Bruce, a newcomer to [illegible]. Their marriage is expected [illegible].

Gretta Nissen.

Another romance united Tom Mix, noted screen cowboy, and Mabel Hubbell Ward, famous circus aerialist. Still others to have wed in recent months were Una Merkle and Ronal Buria, and Carmen Pantages and John Considine, Jr.

The names of two noted boxers have figured in other Hollywood rumors. Jack Dempsey, one-time heavyweight champion, has been seen "squiring around" Lina Basquette, dashing brunette dancer. Following announcement of their joint stage tour, however, Hollywood, which is accustomed to press agent stunts, was inclined to take less seriously their reported attachment. The report persists that Dempsey and Estelle Taylor from whom he was recently divorced, have become reconciled.

Max Baer, another heavyweight and Dorothy Dunbar, stage actress, who filed divorce proceedings, are reported to have become reconciled having been seen frequently together at Reno, where they were married.

"END PRIVATE PROFIT" IS NEW PARTY SLOGAN

Western Farmers, Laborites, Socialists and Idependents Unite In Move.

TO BID FOR MORE.

By Wilfrid Eggleston
(Special to The Examiner)

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 1. — (SNS)—A new political party which seriously aims to capture power in the federal field and in as many provincial legislatures as possible and then to use that power to transform the whole productive system in Canada from one which makes private profits to one which supplies human needs . . . .

Such is the ambitious and audacious program of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, formed in Calgary on the first day of this month. "Farmer - Labor - Socialist," the federation describes itself.

Is it anything more than a pious gesture, this grandiose undertaking? Is there any weight behind it? Does it stand any more chance of making a show in the political history of Canada than Tim Buck would contesting the Toronto mayoralty?

In order to arrive at some kind of an answer for Star readers, I interviewed at Calgary E. J. Garland M. P., who sat in the chair the day the federation was born, ruthlessly holding the varied interests to strict parliamentary procedure, and Norman F. Priestly the secretary of the new movement. Then I came on up here to Edmonton and had a long talk with J. S. Woodsworth, M. P., the president who is addressing the Alberta School of Religion these days.

A brief sketch of the steps which led up to the formation of the new political federation, as enumerated by Mr. Woodsworth, may throw some light on its character.

Formation Steps

1. Several years ago labor groups of the four western provinces met and formed the "Western Labor Conference". This has held annual conventions since, and has now drawn together Independent Labor party, and others.

2. A year ago the United Farmers of Saskatchewan decided to enter politics, and the result of this was the formation of the Farmer-Labor party in Saskatchewan a month ago, under the leadership of Alderman M. J. Coldwell of Regina.

3. At the end of the last session of parliament at Ottawa, the Independent members of the House, number 16, who had already been drawing together as co-operating groups held a meeting, to discuss the formation of a new Canadian political party. Robert Gardiner and J. S. Woodsworth were authorized to take such action as they saw fit.

4. The United Farmer of Alberta called an emergency conference at Edmonton on June 29 and 30 of this year to discuss the acute economic situation. Premier Brownlee and Robert Gardiner alternated in the chair, the whole U. F. A. executive and many of the federal and provincial members being present. It produced a manifesto calling for such action as would "end the existence of poverty in the midst of plenty" and inviting the co-operation of all such organizations in Canada as held similar views.

Growing out of these four steps, a mass meeting was called at Calgary for Sunday, July 31. The Legion Memorial Hall was packed to the doors and, according to E. J. Garland, who was present, almost as many were unable to obtain entrance. According to the report in the U. F. A. magazine: "Speeches delivered on that occasion, boldly setting forth the need to establish an economic and social system based upon new principles and a new plan, met with so enthusiastic a response as to leave no shadow of doubt as to the earnest desire of those present for great and vital change."

Widespread Demand

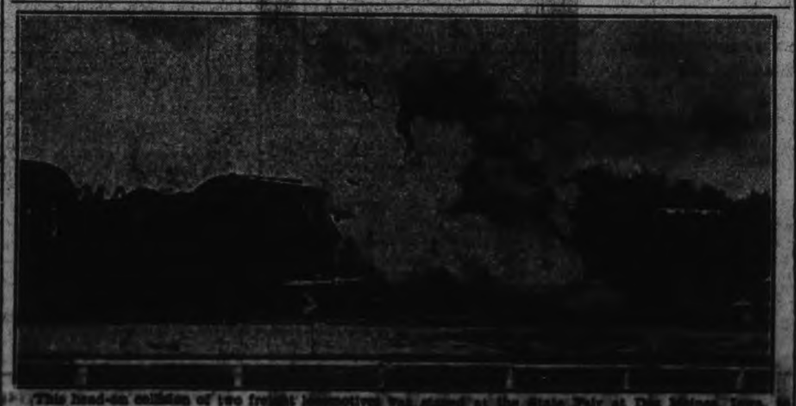
On the following day, satisfied that they were meeting a widespread demand, farmer, labor and socialist groups met to seek common ground, choose a name, draw up a program, elect officers.

For the first time in Canadian history an alliance was effected between such divergent interests as farmers and socialists. The conference was harmonious, and by six p.m. Monday, August 1, the character of the new federation had been defined in six pithy paragraphs, a program of eight objectives drawn up, the name chosen, J. S. Woodsworth chosen president, Norman F. Priestley secretary, and a provisional executive elected.

There was no suggestion that the several groups amalgamate or merge their interests. The new body was to be strictly a federation with a common aim. The new political organization thus embraces:

1. The provincial government of Alberta and the U. F. A.
2. The Farmer-Labor party of Saskatchewan.
3. The Independents of the federal house, numbering 16.
4. The Independent Labor party of Manitoba.
5. The Socialist party of British Columbia.
6. The Alberta Labor party.

In sympathy with the new movement, though not actively a member, is the League for Social Reconstruction, with branches across Canada The United Church of Alberta has also expressed views similar to those of the new federation, and, by inviting J. S. Woodsworth to their School of Religion, have lent further support.



This head-on collision of two freight locomotives was staged at the State Fair at Des Moines, Iowa, to provide a thrill for depression entertainment. A crowd of 25,000 persons came to see the spectacle in spite of a cold, steady rain. Several miles of trackage had been built for the crash, which took place before the grandstand. Firemen and engineers of the two locomotives jumped to safety from their cabs a few seconds before the collision.

People Rush North To Hard Conditions

Four Thousand Settlers reach Fifty-Seventh Parallel—Missionary Reports Their Needs.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—Two post-offices have increased to eleven in two years around Notikewin, on the 57th parallel in northern Alberta. Rev. Harry E. Parker a Winnipeg boy, who left postgraduate studies at Chicago to go pioneering there for the United Church in 1930, reports signs of growth and of need. Sixty-five miles from a railway Notikewin to-day has two large stores, two restuarants, a pool room, a hardware store, large warehouses, a Roman Catholic church and a United church and manse. There was no village when Mr. Parker arrived.

In 1930 there were 400 people in the district, to-day 4,000 and the Sky Pilot is serving regularly 800 square miles, besides making one trip over the muskeg in winter to the Keg and Paddle River prairies. Up there says the missionary, is the real north where millions of acres await the plow.

One of the missionary's big tasks is to motor people through to hospital at Peace River town, eighty miles to the southeast. In January a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Parker in the hospital. Instead of making a four-day trip home by sleigh, they took an aeroplane and reached the manse in 35 minutes. It took the missionary a day and a half to get a man to hospital by motor and sleigh in midwinter.

Many of the families around Notikewan have nothing but ground wheat and potatoes to eat for months. He has found family after family almost naked. Their houses are of logs with pole and sod roofs.

There are Russians, Hungarians, Bessadinarians, Poles, Americans, English, Irish, Scots and Canadians. There are the poorest Europeans peasants to university graduates all trying to carve out homes. If they arrive too late to raise garden stuff they almost starve before spring. Some are coming in this month by covered wagon.

THE ECLIPSE.

Yesterday's eclipse was remarkable for one unusual circumstance; it is seldom that an event of interest to the scientists and astronomers of the world is at the same time a great popular spectacle.

And so yesterday the scientific mind sought, in the few brief minutes the phenomenum was in evidence, to dig new and important data from a study of the corona while millions of other people, ignorant of anything save the fact that the light of the sun was being cut off by the shadow of the moon, thrilled at the sight and perhaps experienced a feeling of awe as familiar objects were seen in the somewhat uncanny semi-twilight that in Peterborough marked the period of almost complete totality.

Scientists have been able to make some very important discoveries from their investigations of previous eclipses and it is probable that long after the memory of yesterday's rare show in the heavens has faded out of the minds of the masses, the scientific aspect of the eclipse will be occupying the thoughts of scientific researchers.

Who can say just what great benefit to humanity may result from what a few men were able to glimpse and to record yesterday?

DRASTIC PROPOSALS.

Several features of the drastic report on the cost of government made by the Kidd Commission in British Columbia deal with the question of education and the recommendations made in this regard will attract a good deal of attention not only in that province but throughout the whole country.

In the first place the Commission urges that the providing of free education for high school pupils should be stopped.

There are not a few people in our own city who hold and have expressed similar views and who declare that when the community has provided a good public school education for its children it has done all that should reasonably be expected of it and that those who want higher education should pay for it.

And then the Commission recommends that school boards should be abolished and their functions vested in municipal councils.

There will be a variance of opinion in regard to that proposal, but certainly it is much more logical than the suggestion advanced in a resolution that went the rounds of Ontario cities a short time ago that municipal councils should have control of the expenditures of School Boards.

That idea is basically unsound and the British Columbia suggestion is much more consistent; to abolish school boards and give the control of education to the municipal councils would at least have the merit of being logical.

A HEAVY PROGRAM.

An announcement made by Hon. Donald Sutherland, Minister of National Defence, to a gathering of newspapermen in Woodstock a day or so ago indicates that the coming session of parliament, which is expected to begin next month, will be a busy and an important one.

Dr. Sutherland declares that four major matters are to come before parliament, any one of which is weighty enough to ensure a most interesting debate and to make this special parliamentary session outstanding.

In the first place the details of the agreements entered into at the Imperial Conference must be presented for the consideration and approval of parliament and the legislation necessary to put them into effect must be introduced and passed.

Then the St. Lawrence Waterway treaty must be considered and acted upon if the United States Senate has in the meanwhile approved the treaty.

The vitally important report of the Royal Commission on transportation must be considered and on top of all this comes the revision of the Bank Act.

When you add to this bill-of-fare the redistribution bill which comes as a matter of course the taking of the census, you have a pretty comprehensive program for Canada's legislators.

QUEBEC'S DEFICIT.

A real indication of general economic conditions is furnished by the annual financial statement of the Province of Quebec, just made public.

For the first time in 36 years the government of that province has had to report a deficit on the year's operations. Premier Taschereau, who is also the acting provincial treasurer, being compelled to announce that ordinary revenue has fallen short by $384,708.01 of meeting the ordinary expenditures, the first year since 1896 that Quebec had not been in a position to report a surplus.

Quebec's financing for nearly four decades has been so carefully managed that deficits have been avoided year after year, the provincial treasurer being helped, it is true, by the fact that our sister province has not entered into the social service field as have other provincial governments and has not had to expend revenue upon such things as old age pensions and mothers' allowances.

During the last fiscal year, however, even drastic economies have not enabled Quebec to balance its budget for while the appropriations of the various departments were slashed by $8,912,842.23, this saving was not enough to take off the $4,389,600.20 loss in revenue recorded during the year.

Quebec's ordinary revenue was $26,941,020.36, but the ordinary expenditure amounted to $27,325,728.97.

PEDESTRIANS VS. MOTORISTS

Another organization has been formed under the title of "The Pedestrian Rights Association of Ontario." Its object is to have clearly defined the rights of pedestrians and motors and to provide machinery for the enforcement of these rights.

This step has perhaps been made more necessary through the action of the Ontario Safety League which, in advising pedestrians to walk on the wrong side of the road, has befuddled both motorists and pedestrians and rendered it much more difficult for either to travel in safety.

There are fool motorists who, drunk or sober, should not be allowed to sit behind a wheel. But their number is comparatively small. There are careless, stupid and smart Alec pedestrians who risk their own lives and those of others—and their number is legion. It would not be an exaggeration to say that possibly ten per cent. of car drivers are careless, reckless or worse, and it is not stretching the truth to add that 75 per cent. of pedestrians and bicyclists ignore, almost entirely, the traffic rules.

Brockville citizens, both pedestrians and drivers, are rapidly becoming accustomed to the traffic signals, but how many of the former wait for the right signal before crossing the street? In larger centres, however, where there are traffic policemen as well as signals, pedestrians refuse to pay any attention to the signals and little more to the policeman. In spite of signals and policemen, the pedestrian will prance right into the danger zone and then blame the motorist, who is strictly adhering to traffic rules, if an accident happens.

There is great need, too, for new legislation to enable traffic rules to be enforced. In Quebec motorists are compelled by law to come to a full stop before crossing a railway track. It should be the same in every province.

Peculiar as it may seem, the rules of the road that have been recognized for many, many years are barren of legislation through which they could be enforced. Recently a judge has held that a vehicle or a person has a right to be anywhere on the highway at any time, notwithstanding any rules that may be supposed to govern traffic.

Something should be done for the protection of children. Parents, alas, in innumerable instances turn their little ones on the street or highway, where, in their innocence, they do not realize the dangers surrounding them. In crowded centres this cannot be avoided if the kiddies are to enjoy the blessing of fresh air. Motorists, so far as possible, should keep off these streets. But in a town like Brockville where there is no congestion and where there is ample vacant space for the youngsters to enjoy themselves, parents who turn the little ones on the busiest streets to play assume a responsibility which they cannot escape by blaming the motorist. On the other hand, where such conditions exist, the motor driver should be all the more careful to avoid accident in which the innocent children will suffer. But admonition or rules without enforcing legislation will be of little benefit.

There is room for such an organization if it proceeds on sane lines. The writer is both a pedestrian and a motor driver and he is free to admit that if he drove as carelessly as he walks, he would probably be in the police court with persistent regularity. — Brockville Recorder Times.

ELECTRIC RAILWAYS.

Some very interesting figures regarding the extent to which electric railways have declined in Canada is furnished by a report for the year 1931 issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Compared with 1930 there was a decrease of 72,283,183, or 9.1 per cent. in the number of passengers carried, whereas the decrease in 1930 compared with 1929 was 40,795,973 passengers, or 4.9 per cent. None of the tramways showed an increase, and the decreases reported for the larger system ranged all the way from 4.2 per cent. for the British Columbia Electric, to 18.2 per cent. for the Calgary municipal system.

With only two exceptions, the western lines reported larger losses than those in eastern Canada. Three electric railways ceased to operate during the year, a fourth was taken over by a steam railway, and there was a total reduction of more than 118 miles in operating lines. Out of a total of 53 systems, 20 failed to earn operating expenses and, after paying interest, taxes and other charges, but before providing for reserves and dividends, 27 showed deficits. The incomes of the other 26 systems more than met these losses, so that the net income of all the systems combined to $7471,301, as against $10,0007,077 in 1930. Only 7 electric railways declared dividends.

In Toronto the street railway owned by the city and operated by a commission showed a net operating revenue of $4,727,009 and, after deducting for interest and other charges, had a net income of $4,7 3,776, but the number of passengers carried was 16,590,171 fewer than in 1930, a decrease of more than eight per cent. The citizens of Brantford are familiar with the problems which confronts the municipal railway commission in its hopeless effort to overcome large deficits. Statistics when analysed seem to indicate that only in large cities, where the traffic is dense according to the mileage of the railways, can electric systems be made to pay.—Brantford Expositor.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

And now a lot of people are hoping for a total eclipse of Gar Wood by Kaye Don.

Doubtless the competitors in the Canadian National Marathon swim were grateful yesterday at having the spectacular show in the heavens to take their mind off the long grind.

Over 90 per cent of the space for exhibits at next year's British Industries Fair has already been taken. This great event is a veritable British shop window.

There was certainly a warm welcome for yesterday's eclipse, the event being greeted with much the hottest day of the year.

Many schools in Ontario opened today, but Peterborough pupils have the satisfaction of knowing that their holidays do not expire until next Tuesday.

ONTARIO POTATO OUTLOOK

J. T. Casson, Ontario Marketing Board, states that the early potato crop is being marketed rapidly, and yields are averaging about sixty-five per cent of those of last year.

The southern counties have almost finished shipping and the crop in the central part of the province is being moved as quickly as it is ready.

The Dooley, or late potato crop, is progressing favorably. Recent rains, which have been more or less general, have greatly improved the appearance of many fields. A good crop of alte potatoes is anticipated, if favorable weather conditions continue.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, September 1. — Butter receipts on the local market yesterday were about the same as on Tuesday, and prices held steady for solids at 21¼c to 21¼c for No. 1, and 20¼c to 20¼c for No. 2. Local brokers offered Western makes at 22c, but buyers were not in the mood for taking on lots from the Prairies at that price. Receipts from Ontario points were not burdensome, but were slightly heavier than previously.

Trade in cheese was quiet, and prices were nominal only. Brokers offered new makes at 10c for large, 10½c for twins, and 10½c for triplets, while prices to retailers were about steady.

Receipts of eggs from country points were heavier, and prices were steady for graded lots at 25c for extras, 20c for firsts, and 13c for seconds, in free cases.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Stocks of butter, cheese and eggs in Montreal are far below those of a year ago, it was shown yesterday when the Montreal Board of Trade issued its monthly figures. Cheese stocks were roughly, 5,000,000; butter, 3,500,000 pounds less; and eggs, 400,000 dozen less.

The stocks follow, with comparisons, being boxes of 56 pounds each in butter and cheese and cases of 30 dozen each in eggs: Creamery butter, Aug. 31, 1932, 169,392 boxes; same date last year 282,077; cheese, 198,216 boxes, 256,826 boxes; fresh eggs, 14,316 cases, 22,209 cases; storage eggs, 92,265 cases, 97,766 cases; dairy butter, 714 boxes, 1,765 boxes.

Present stocks are higher than one month ago, and are regarded as the peaks for the year.

Butter Is Firm

Butter held steady today at the recent advance, which has amounted to five cents a pound. At the weekly auction a total of 268 boxes of No. 1 Quebec butter sold at 21¼c per pound, representing a gain of ¼c over yesterday. Receipts were 246 boxes. Jobbing houses advanced small lots to retailers 1c to 22c for solids and 24c for prints.

Eggs held steady at the recent advance, with carlots or less of quality stock from Ontario, Quebec or British Columbia being 26c to 30c for fresh extras, 19c to 20c for firsts, and 14c to 15c for seconds. Prairie eggs remained at 25c to 27c for extras, 16c to 18c for firsts, and 13c to 14c for seconds. Receipts were 1,194 cases.

Cheese Eases ½c

Cheese eased another ½c per pound with United Kingdom buying still negligible and the market dull. Ontarios became 10c to 10¼c, while Quebecs became 9¾c to 9¾c. At the weekly auction 305 boxes of No. 1 Quebec white and 278 boxes of No. 1 Quebec colored sold at 9 9-16c per pound. Receipts were 1,711 boxes.

Potatoes ranged from 30c to 40c per 80-pound bag of new Montreal potatoes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.— Persistent liquidation smashed all grain prices sharply lower yesterday, but last-minute rallies brought some recovery. Weakness of stocks and cotton was the initial disturbing influence, and the trade received no stimulus from the general crop news. The chief weakening factor was switching of position by traders. Buying of deferred months checked the decline. Oats and provisions eased with other grains.

All Cereals Decline.

Wheat closed weak and 5-8c to 1 5-8c lower than yesterday's finish, despite a rally at the close; corn, 5-8 to 1 3-8 off; oats, steady to 3-8c down; and provisions showing a drop of 5 to 15 cents.

The wheat market received fair support from commission houses after the extreme decline of around 3 cents a bushel, much of it coming from traders reinstating lines in December and May wheat after unloading their September holdings. Weather and crop news, both here and abroad, were little changed from yesterday.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, September 1.—Heavy selling pressure plus an indifferent demand, imparted weakness to the wheat prices yesterday. Firm in opening trade, the market later turned irregular, to close 1⅛c to 1c lower. October closed at 55⅞c, December at 57½c, and May at 62c to 62⅛c.

Considerable selling pressure developed as the result of hedging, but traders were inclined to believe that concentrated selling of another character was largely responsible for the depression of the prices.

Export Trade Light.

Some export trade resulted from the break, and a little was reported worked overnight, but foreign demand generally was not large, and there was little encouragement from that source.

Wet weather in Western Canada continues to delay movement of grain to market. Broomhall intimated that Europe must buy good quantities of wheat daily to augment the floating stocks and bring them to a safe margin, since arrivals for some time have been larger than shipments.

Weather Improves in Russia.

Weather in Russia was reported as more seasonable for harvesting, but collections were still much behind normal. French farmers are delivering wheat in larger quantities, and native prices are dropping.

Cash interest in wheat was indifferent, with only odd-lot sales reported. Coarse grain prices slipped in sympathy with wheat.

The Examiner, City.

Mr. Editor:—To decide a bet, a friend of mine asked me if I would write you asking that you publish a comparison of population of our city 10 years ago and the present year; also give the number of motor licenses issued 1923 and 1932 in this district.

B.T.

Editor's note:—Population of the city in 1931 was 22,909 (figures for this year are not yet ready) and in 1922 the population was 21,605. The earliest figures on motor vehicles available at the Chamber of Commerce are those of 1927 when 5574 licenses of cars and 412 truck licenses were issued. VETERAN HORSE OWNER INJURED AT BELLEVILLE

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 1.—Lou G. Bennett, veteran race horse owner and teamster, was injured at the race course yesterday and had to be taken to the hospital, where treatment was given for three broken ribs. Mr. Bennett was sitting in his truck watching the running race, when one of the entrants bolted from the track, passed between the truck and a car, parked close by, throwing the driver over his head into the truck, striking Mr. Bennett in the chest.

Dr. Roberton attended. Mr. Bennett is past the 70-year mark, but still retains his love for the harness horses and he has a string of four at the fair. Despite his injury, he swore he will drive his own horses in their respective races.

The Orange Free State will build 900 miles of dirt roads within a year.

CHAPTER NO. 6

Elton Day arose. "Stand up Judy," he said.

Judy looked at him indignantly. "What?"

"Stand up!" he snapped.

She didnt move.

"Didn't you hear me?"

"I heard you."

"Then why don't you do what I tell you?"

"I'm not used to taking orders from anybody. Least of all from you."

"Then you'd better get used to it."

"I don't think I ever will."

"You will, or you won't work here."

"Then I won't work here."

"Oh, yes, you will."

"Oh, no, I won't."

Talking like that! Acting like a girl arguing over the backfence with the neighbor boy. Shouting like a school-girl! She heard herself saying, "Judy Allison! Judy Allison! Where's your pride? What's happened to you, Judy Allison? Why don't you walk right out of here? Why don't you?"

She heard her other self saying, "Because he fascinates you. Because you don't understand and you've always been fascinated by anything you couldn't understand." She heard herself answer. "You're not the Judy Allison you ought to be. You—"

• • •

She felt her shoulders taken not too gently in Elton's thin hands. His hands were strong. Much stronger than she had thought.

He drew her up from the chair, stood facing her, still holding her shoulders. He was not smiling at all. His eyes, she noticed now, had strange cold lights in them.

"Listen to me," he said. "When we're friends we're friends. But when you're working in a show of mine, we're not friends. You're working for me. If I give you orders, it's because I want you to do what I say. And if I want it done I know why it ought to be done. And you can forget your silly ideas you've got about pride and independence and all that rot. Because they don't mean a thing."

"You—"

He released her shoulders, stepped away from her, leaned casually against his desk.

"You see, Judy, radio's a funny business. It's not theater, it's not elocution, it's not anything. The best actors in the business are failures in radio. Yet they're the one who know the one thing you don't know—because you're not a professional. And that's how to take orders from the director. Maybe he's a pig-headed fool. Maybe he's butchering a good program. Never mind. He's the boss, and when he talks, you do what he says."

"Is this supposed to be a rehearsal?" she asked.

"Yes. Because you need it. Because you got the job on just one thing—the freshness and life in your voice. And that's not going to carry you very far. You'll have to learn a lot in a hurry to hold that job."

• • •

"But I'm not at all sure that I want to learn. I'm a musician. I'm not an actress."

"And I'm a writer, not a clown. But I'm clowning for a living, and maybe if I make some money. I can quit clowning and be a writer. And maybe if you make some money you can quit acting and be a great concert artist. But if you want the job—"

"You know I do."

"Then we're going to go through a rehearsal right now. And I'm going to work you twice as hard as any director you'll meet up in the studios. If you've got nerve enough to work, that is."

"If I—if I've got nerve enough?"

"That's what I said."

Judys cheeks flamed. She couldn't be called a coward. She wouldn't be. And she wouldn't let anybody say she had failed. Not for anything.

"Try it," she said. "I think I'll stand up as well as anybody."

"We'll see," he said grimly. "Here. Here's your script. Now, how's the light?"

"Bad."

"That's fine."

"Why—"

"Because the light in the studio is bad, too. You've got to get used to reading bad copy, smudgy carbons, standing up. Go ahead. Read."

• • •

She stared at the crumpled sheets. Words had been crossed out interlined with cabalistic pencilled script. The sheets were dog-eared, torn, torn, creased. She puzzled over the first word, found that it was "ladies," and began.

"Ladies," she said. "My name is the Beauty Builder. I'm called the Beauty Builder because that's my job—to help women like you make themselves as—"

"As beautiful as they ought to be," she heard Elton snap from behind her. "As beautiful as they ought to be. Go on, woman!"

"It's silly," she said.

"Well, I think—"

"You're not getting paid to think. You're getting paid to talk."

"Then why do you need me?"

"I told you once. Because you've got a nice, fresh, friendly believe-me' voice. And that's all you need. You call that stuff silly, eh? So do I. So do the other men who write the same kind of program. We all do it the same way—we write it, and some girl reads it. And what happens? Well, last week 1,-100 women bought the line you're going to sell."

"I don't understand it."

"It's so. Women hear you talking over the air and they go right down to the corner and buy what you're talking about. And use it. And making them do something to promote their looks isn't silly at all."

"Doesn't seem honest to me."

"Honest? Of course it's honest. There's not a word in what I've written for you to say that isn't really helpful. Only lots of people don't like to take the trouble of thinking for themselves. So you're thinking out loud for them. That's all."

"Well—"

• • •

"Go on, Judy," he said.

The telephone rang again.

"Shouldn't you answer it?"

"I—well, maybe I should." He picked up the receiver "Hello? What? What's that? He put his hand over the mouthpiece. "Judy, wait a minute." He spoke into the telephone again. "Listen, I'll call you back in five minutes. Yes, in five minutes. Of course, I will. Yes." He hung up.

Something had happened. There was no smile on his face, there was no eager gleam in his eyes. He turned away, stared out of the window, drummed with his fingers on the desk, picked up a cigarette, dropped it.

"Judy. You'll have to excuse me. Better take that scrip home with you and read it about a dozen times. Out loud. Go slow. Be sure every word stands up by itself. And then come for rehearsal at 10 in the morning."

"All right," Judy said. "Yes, Mr. Day."

She waited for the outburst. But it did not come. He seemed to have forgotten she was in the office.

She folded the scrip and put it in her bag. Then, at the door, she said "Good-by."

He did not answer. He was rummaging through a sheaf of letters on his desk, hurriedly, one hand already on the telephone.

Louder, she repeated, "Good-by."

"What's that?"

"I said good-by."

"Oh—Yes—Yes. Of course, Judy. Yes. Good-by."

As she closed the door, she could see him turning letters, studying them, tapping the telephone with one thin hand.

• • •

And, going down in the elevator going out of the building, she wondered. With so much to wonder about. With so many things to consider, to add up and subtract. With the realization that in one day she had talked with the only two men she had ever known who made her wonder.

She went through the revolving door and out onto the wide ramp, and when a uniformed man said, "Taxi-cab, lady?" she said, "Yes," without thinking. Then she stepped back. A taxicab? She couldn't afford it. She hadn't ridden in a taxicab in months. She—She could afford it. She could afford dresses and music and concerts.

She would write home and tell her father, "I'm all right. I'm staying here." She had a job. A good job. And she could do the work. She was sure of it.

"Yes," she said. "Taxicab."

COUNCIL MAY HOLD SPECIAL SESSION

Warden Montgomery Suggests County Legislators To Consider Highway Construction.

A special meeting of Peterborough County Council to consider the advisability of asking the Provincial Government to go ahead with construction of the uncompleted 12-mile section of Highway No. 7 between Peterborough and Norwood, is one of the possibilities of the near future.

Interviewed by The Examiner, and asked to express his opinion as to the general feeling throughout the county on the question, Warden W. H. Montgomery of Norwood stated he was of the belief that the various members of the Council, and also the ratepayers of the county, were divided on the question.

"Personally, I think it would be a good stroke of business at the present time for the county to ask the Government to go ahead with construction. The county's share of the total cost would be only 20 per cent., and it would be the means of putting an appreciable sum of money into circulation in the district, and also of providing employment for a number of unemployed men," he stated.

The Warden continued that he was of the same mind in regard to the question as he was at the June session of the council, when he expressed himself as being in favor of the undertaking.

"The uncompleted portion of Highway 7 to which Warden Montgomery referred, extends from the 8th line of Otonabee to Norwood, a distance of twelve miles. It is a section of the old County Road, which is now in a bad state of repair and for which tenders were advertised yesterday for the crushing and spreading of 5,000 tons of gravel for maintenance.

T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., also interviewed by The Examiner in regard to the gravel tenders, stated, "the uncompleted portion of the highway between Peterborough and Norwood is badly worn and needs new gravel."

In the event of the Government granting to complete construction of the highway at the request of the county, Mr. Lancaster intimated that the need for maintenance would no longer exist and the plans would be changed accordingly.

SISCOE GOLD MINES LIMITED.

Respecting legal action pending before the Courts and naming amongst the defendants Siscoe Gold Mines, Limited, the following statement is made on behalf of the company by its counsel, E. Stuart McDougall, K.C., of Wainwright, Elder & McDougall, Montreal:

"The principal claim is for the return of 353,906 shares of Siscoe Gold Mines, Limited, which were issued by Siscoe to Walter Glod, in trust, and in turn, transferred by him to Eastern Trust Company, in trust, for the benefit of the company. The company figures that they have a good defence to the action and proposes to contest it. The holding of the stock in trust by Walter Glod and by Eastern Trust Company is stated by the company to be pursuant to the practice of a great many mining companies in the Province of Quebec under which shares are issued for property or claims and set aside by the vendors of the claims for the financing of the company. No claim is made in the action to ownership of the company's mining properties, which will, of course, not be affected by the outcome of the action. It is merely a claim for these shares."

STRIKE AFFECTS COTTON MARKET

Producers Unwilling to Make Concession to Buyers.

PICKETING CONTINUES.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Sept. 1.—The Lancashire cotton weavers' strike has caused a considerable drop in cotton market transactions. Producers are unwilling to concede the strike clause which buyers demand in their contracts.

Interest centered to-day in a meeting of the central board of the Northern Counties' Textile Trades Federation, and the wages committee of the Master Spinners' Federation. The spinners will discuss employers' demands for a 10 per cent wage reduction in the spinning section of the industry.

Generally the strike situation was unchanged. All the big weaving centres of northeastern Lancashire except Darwin remain closed. Three firms with five mills closed at Leigh to-day, and three other firms with three mills continued running there with 2,000 operatives at work. Mass picketing was concentrated on these mills.

Canada Purchasing South African Maize

MONTREAL, Sept. 1 (C.P.)—Two million bushels of South African maize will be shipped to Canada in the near future, according to local grain dealers.

The purchase, arranged some time ago by Canadian grain brokers for disposal in the Canadian grain market, is said to be a result of agreements between Canadian and South African grain men, made during the recent Imperial Conference at Ottawa. Eight to ten ships will be employed in carrying the cargo to Montreal.

Eclipse Is Blamed For "Cricked" Necks

Indirectly it is probable that yesterday' seclipse may be the means of directing business to the chiropractors and oculists. At any rate several persons have been heard to complain of "cricks" in the neck and accompanying defects of vision, resultant upon gazing too steadfastly up at the heavens.

It is a fact that last evening people were heard to complain that the street lights and other objects appeared to them to be of a purple or yellowish tinge. This defect was explained by A. A. Fowler, eyesight specialist, to The Examiner, to be caused to persons who had strained the retina of the eye by looking at the sun through an incompletely smoked glass. No permanent defect to the eyesight would be liable to result, the oculist thought, and the vision would become normal within a few hours or following rest of the eyes.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The city's natural gain in population during August was 26, there being 46 births and 20 deaths, according to the statistics registered at the City Clerk's office. Marriages suffered a great slump during the month, wedding bells ringing out only ten times as compared with 31 marriages in July.

STANDING ARMY

Assume Own Security.

The German Government will then be forced by breaches of promise on the part of the signers of the Versailles Treaty to take her national security problem in her own hands, should international solution prove impossible.

When the Government confirmed that a note had been despatched to France, it was recalled that reorganization of the Reichswehr had been discussed for weeks in army circles.

The official press department, discussing conversations between Foreign Minister Von Neurath and the French Ambassador, said the Government had sent neither a note nor a memorandum to Paris, but had merely provided the Ambassador with a loose aide memoire and that disclosure of the exchange had been made not in Berlin but in Paris.

Herr Von Neurath's declarations, said the head of the Press Bureau, proceed from the resolution adopted at the adjournment of the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

Germany's Position.

That resolution contained nothing to indicate whether new measures regarding reduction of armaments would apply also to Germany. It was impossible, therefore, for Germany to support the resolution.

Herr Von Neurath emphasized to the French Ambassador that Germany has a right to demand clarification of the attitude toward her demands for equality.

Britain Informed.

LONDON, Sept. 1 (C.P. Cable).—Great Britain is, of course, being kept fully informed of the Franco-German discussions regarding Germany's claim for equality in armaments, but for the time being at any rate she will maintain her normal policy of friendly observance.

The Government denies reports it has formally deprecated a German tendency to picture Great Britain as a supporter of her claims as against France, but at the same time political observers recognize Great Britain would resent any attempt by Germany to place her in the light of a protagonist in a dispute with France.

It is pointed out that all the interested Powers, with the exception of France, expressed sympathy with the German case when it was outlined by the then Chancellor, Dr. Heinrich Bruening, before the world disarmament conference at Geneva last April.

STOCKER—GOLDEY.

The marriage of Alderman Walter Stocker to Miss Phyllis Goldey was this afternoon solemnized by the Rev. David Wren, at Trinity United Church parsonage. The bride and groom were unattended.

SAY LEGISLATIVE BODIES SEEM TOO CUMBERSOME

TORONTO, Sept. 1. —(CP)— The conviction seems to be growing that large legislative bodies seem to be too cumbersome, declared E. S. Livermore, reeve of Aylmer, in an address before the Ontario Municipal Association here today.

As a result of their consistent demands of the provincial government for financial assistance, and the recently increased powers of the Ontario municipal board, municipalities have forfeited their local autonomy and will disintegrate into merely agents of the board, he declared.

Alderman G. F. Sharpe, Brantford, in moving a vote of thanks to Reeve Livermore, declared the words of the speaker might be crystallized into the belief that democracy spells misrule, mismanagement or mob rule. Why not abolish 50 per cent of administrative bodies? he asked.

BALANCED BUDGET PRESENTED BY PREMIER LYONS IN AUSTRALIA

Shows Estimated Surplus of £12,000—War Service Debts Not Included.

NO NEW TAXES.

CANBERRA, Australia, Sept. 1 (C.P. Cable).—Prime Minister J. A. Lyons, who is also treasurer of the Commonwealth, presented a balanced budget excluding the war service debt to the United Kingdom, in the House of Representatives to-day. He showed an estimated surplus of £12,000. If the war service debts are included, however, the surplus would be turned into a deficit of £4,900,000.

Expenditures for the coming year were estimated by the Prime Minister at £67,388,000 or £2,938,000 less than last year.

The estimates include savings of £1,479,000 of which £1,100,000 is in reduction of pensions and £245,000 in cuts in Parliamentary allowances and civil service salaries. In this connection it was announced the gold bonus would be suspended as from September 30.

No New Taxes

No new taxation was announced. Practically all agricultural machinery will be exempted from sales tax and primage duty as well as machinery parts used in mining.

A proclamation issued removes all import prohibitions imposed by the Scullin Government in order to rectify the adverse trade balance. Items affected include matches, cast-iron pipes and fittings, wireless sets, batteries, accumulators and plated ware.

Duties on galvanized iron are reduced from five pounds, ten shillings per ton, British preferential, and seven pounds, ten shillings general, to four pounds, ten shillings, and six pounds, ten shillings respectively.

E W. Holcomb, government observer said the worst is over and the storm will gradually abate

Catch Current Prices

Before The Tide Turns

"Time and tide wait for no man."

Nor are the low prices of to-day and the turn of the tide toward higher prices going to wait for those who haven't the vision, courage and foresight to buy when prices are at the lowest ebb in 15 years.

And this changing of the tide as applied to prices is more than a mere simile . . . it's a certainty . . . price tides change as surely as ocean tides.

To-day's prices on food, clothing, furniture, furs, cars and other things are from 40% to 100% lower than they have been in years and lower than they will be before the turn of another season.

Don't be caught off your guard when it's so important that your savings be guarded.

DROP IN ON PRINCE OF WALES' RANCH TO BORROW CUP OF SUGAR

Visitors Find Western Hospitality at Prince's Alberta Home.

HE'D FAIN BE THERE.

(By Wilfred Eggleston)

HIGH RIVER, Alta., Sept. 1. — I sweetened my coffee at lunch today, with some of the Prince of Wales' sugar.

It all came about very innocently. At breakfast George Coote, the federal member for this constituency, whose guest I was at Nanton, said: "Wilfrid, your readers must be tired of hearing about crop conditions and economic conundrums. Why not go for a picnic to-day to the Prince of Wales' ranch?"

"Fine!' I replied. So Mrs. Coote packed a luncheon basket, and wth George Coote, Jr. (Bud) making up the fourth, we drove into the Foothills.

The Foothills are the paradise of Alberta. That was the impression of the earliest ranchers, who revelled in the beauty, the luxuriant range, the abundant clear water provided by mountain springs and streams, the groves of willows and cottonwoods which offered shelter for man and beast. A few miles southwest of here between the foothills and the Rocky Mountains lies Happy Valley; but in a sense they are all Happy Valleys, these meadows between the undulating ranges of the foothills.

"There" said George after we had driven west for an hour, "is the Bar U!" A scattered collection of ranch buildings in the bed of Pekisko Creek, making the most historic ranch in Alberta: once the property of the Allans of Montreal, of trans-Atlantic liner fame, then owned by George Lane, now the property of Senator "Pat" Burns, dean of Alberta Cattlemen.

Past the "Bar U" past the lofty derrick of Hudson Bay Oils, a company which is probing the earth's depth for oil at the very gateway of the "E. P." ranch, and a minute later we drove right in the ranch yard. There are no stone walls, no bristling iron gateways around this regal estate. There is not even a gate to open. A grill of iron rails, over which vehicles can pass easily, but which cattle or horses will not cross, makes a gate unnecessary.

Borrowed Royal Sugar

The ranch buildings are located on a flat between two ranges of foothills. Pekisko Creek meanders back and forth through the gravel, half encircling the buildings. A grove of ancient cottonwoods shade the plateau in front and skirt the creek. The ranch house, however, stands away from those, so as to afford a clear view of the magnificent rockies to the west, and the grassy slopes of the foothills south east

All this was evident as we drove to the banks of the creek only a hundred yards or so from the Prince's headquarters. To my surprise, I saw picnic tables and benches there under the trees. No "stand-offishnes" here, evidently. And a moment later there was further evidence of hospitality.

When the hamper was unpacked, it was found that sugar had been forgotten. "Never mind" said Mr. Coote, "I'm sure Prof. Carlyle will lend us a little."

Just as though we had been approaching any other ranch house or any homestead on the prairie, we arrived quite uninterrupted at the side door of the building which serves as developers' quarters, and "bunkhouse" for the E.P. ranch. Professor Carlyle, the ranch manager, came to the door, welcomed us heartily, went to the kitchen table himself, got the sugar bowl, filled the cup Mr. Coote had brought along, and invited us to come and get water from the tap for our coffee if we so desired.

Strolling along the creek before lunch we saw in the glittering mountain water numerous small fish, among them Dolly Vardon trout and grayling, promising good sport a year from now if His Royal Highness comes out to visit his Alberta playground.

Ranch Has Grown

The E.P. ranch house has grown from a modest log shack, by additions and alterations, to a commodious and in some respects a luxurious lodge. A cowboy named Frank Biddingfield, who worked by day at the "Bar U" ranch, homesteaded the site where the ranch buildings stand. In order to "prove up" his homestead he had to spend his nights on the land. The original room is preserved as a part of the present lodge. Later he married, and added other rooms. One of these is the Prince of Wales' bedroom. Another is the room which Prince George used while here. Between these two rooms is a slightly larger one, which Mrs. Carlyle (who showed us around) called the "Princess' Parlor."

The Prince of Wales' bedroom is no more and no less elaborate than this guest room would be in any wealthy western ranch or farm house. The bed itself is not of mahogany or birds-eye maple, but of steel, enameled brown—the same sort of bed exactly as the one in the hotel bedroom where I am writing this. On the walls are several large photographs of Foothill scenery, taken in the vicinity. On the bed is draped a beautiful piece of Canadian handicraft done by the people of Prince Edward Island and presented to the Prince, made of unbleached linen, hand woven decorated with green home-spun wool.

In the staff room or parlor we were shown the Visitors Book. The very first inscription in the book read as follows:

"21-IX-23 Edward P. "E.P." 2% ink!!!! 16th to 21st Sept., '23."

The otherwise cryptic reference to the "2% ink" is explained by the light shade of the writing, caused by very thin ink. These were the days Professor Carlyle recalled, when "2% beer was very much on the public tongue.

Four years later there is an interesting joint entry:

"George—London, Eng. If I could only stay here forever."

Now It Can Be Told

"Edward P., London, Eng. Golf Balls!!"

My curiosity was aroused by the comment, and I begged Professor Carlyle to explain. He obliged, but he wound up with the injunction: "Thats not for publication, young man". So that it must remain a mystery.

ARTHUR HENDERSON TALKS OVER IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Conducted by HAROLD S. EDGAR

A series of weekly articles on advertising and merchandising prepared for the merchants of Peterborough District with the co-operation of The Peterborough Examiner.

MORE ABOUT UP GRADE MERCHANDISING

The question is often asked—why continue to spend millions each year to advertise a product so widely distributed and so well known, and Wm. Wrigley, Jr., gives this answer:

"Tell 'em quick and tell 'em often. You must have a good product in the first place and something that people want, for it's easier to row down stream than up. Explain to folks plainly and sincerely what you have to sell, do it in as few words as possible—and keep everlastingly coming at them."

"Advertising is pretty much like running a furnace. You've got to keep on shoveling coal. Once you stop stoking, the fire goes out. It's strange that some people's imagination can't compass this fact."

A merchant told me the other day that he did not believe in doing any advertising. He said he had a list of customers who had been coming to him for years. He was blind to the fact that many of those old customers were gradually dying off or moving out of the district and the balance were being appealed to by the advertising of other merchants. To be successful in business today you must be continually working to hold all your old customers as well as building up new business. As I have said before the man who is standing still is really dropping behind.

Another merchant in commenting on his plans said: "As the business is going at present we are not going to make a profit for the year and we will be hard put to it to avoid a loss. At the same time, I don't think we should cut advertising except as the last resort because it is advertising we depend on to build up our business. In fact we need to consider a further substantial increase of advertising as soon as we can manage to commence it if we are to hold our own in this market.

Be busy doing business, or be busy trying to get business. No one likes to do business with a doleful merchant, and a busy appearance, even though it may be on the outside, will frequently create the actual. Do not think for one moment conditions are going to come back exactly as they were before; they never do and never have. The energy displayed when things were moving fast is too slow for harder conditions. The gas which will run your car on the level, will not be sufficient to get it over a stiff grade.

The store front, go outside and look at it. Does it look clean, bright and prosperous? If not, now is the time to make it right.

Your windows, are they frequently dressed? Do people stop and look at them expecting something new, or do they pass them by because of the same old story? Inside the store, you are making the best use of the display in the location of the goods and the relation of the products to each other?

The lighting of your windows, do you light them early in the evening and leave the light on while people are on the streets (even if the store is not open), it usually is worth more than it costs

Is the store inside bright and cheerful? or are you holding down your light bill?

I cannot emphasize too strongly that it is essential for you to study your store and see if you cannot easily make changes that will make for better display Study your shelving—your counters—your windows—your advertising Study your other stores and other advertising, not necessarily in your size or even your own type of business, but study them all and look about you for ideas.

NEXT WEEK—DRESS IN BUSINESS

SAN FRANCISCO BAY GRAVEYARD OF DEAD SHIPS

Busy Commerce Piles Over The Corpses of Sunken Vessels in Harbor.

MILLIONS IN THE DEEP

Between 60,000 and 70,000 persons cross the bay daily, but few know of the ghostly wrecks beneath them.

Somewhere in the vinicity of the Vallejo piers is the hulk of the ferry Julia, which exploded February 27, 1898, and sank with a loss of 30 lives.

Somewhere off Fort Point, at the bay's entrance, lie two famous wrecks, the City of Rio de Janeiro and the City of Chester. The Rio de Janeiro, a $500,000 vessel, carrying a $400,000 cargo, struck a rock in deep water, and sank within 10 minutes, carrying 128 persons to their death.

The City of Chester went down August 22, 1888, five minutes after collision with the steel steamer Oceanic, from Liverpool. Sixteen lost their lives.

Somewhere in San Pablo bay lies the wreck of the schooner Secretary, whose boilers exploded April 15, 1864. Fifty were lost. The bark Atlantic lies somewhere along the edge of the Golden Gate, where she sank in 1886, carrying down 27. In the bay, off Alcatraz Island, is the Aberdeen, which went down in 1916, drowning eight.

Stranded on the rocks off Land's End is a portion of the freighter Lyman Stewart, wrecked when it collided with the Walter A. Luckenback, October 7, 1932. Water shoots through the rusty plates and up the pipes of the vessel as its hulk rolls in the pounding surf. Less than a mile away lies the steamer Coos Bays, which drove far up on the beach at Land's End in a heavy fog five years later.

There are many others resting about the fringes of the bay. The Fort Saunders, the Golden City, the Trifolium, the Red Wing, the Aberdeen — barges, schooners, fishing boats, trim motorboats, sailboats—all are there, mute objects in a kind of marine museum.

Hastings Baseball Tourney On Sept. 7

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 1. — Arrangements are being made by the local baseball committee to hold a baseball tournament here on Wednesday, September 7th. The winners will receive the Recreation Club Cup of Havelock, which Hastings won last year at Havelock. It is expected that Havelock, Fosters of Peterborough, Warkworth and Hastings will be the teams.

PAINFUL PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Itching, bleeding, or protruding piles go quickly and don't come back if you really remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower bowel and hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and suppositories fail because only an internal medicine that stimulates the circulation and drives out the impure blood can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in over 600 cases, he named it HEM-ROID. Discovered a day and found a drug store can dispense anywhere, sell HEM-ROID. Tablets with directions they will end your Pile misery or money back.

PRISON TERM FOR HUSBAND

WATCHED BEER PARTY.

COBOURG, Sept. 1. — Found guilty of assaulting his wife and Ross Burke of Trenton, Lorne Mitchell of Murray township, received a total of 15 months in the reformatory, when sentenced yesterday by Judge L. V. O'Connor at Cobourg. The assault had been the outcome of suspicions in the mind of Mitchell in regard to his wife's behavior, the evidence revealed.

Burke told of going to Mitchell's house with Harry Burd to get some beer. Mitchell apparently was not at home when they arrived. Several bottles of beer were consumed and when more was desired, Mrs. Mitchell announced that Burke would have to go down to the milk house with her to help carry it up. When they got outside the house, Mitchell suddenly appeared and attacked Burke.

The defendant related that he watched a drinking party engaged in by the three in his home and later, when Burke and his wife left the house, he said he found them in an amorous embrace under an apple tree.

from reaching Bartlett, so they settled down at Alfred, Me. There the seeing was perfect, while Bartlett was in the middle of the cloudy belt where numerous important expeditions had their hopes wrecked. In a brief statement after the eclipse the director described the Japanese work as "eminently satisfactory."

Shadow Late

Two eminent astronomers charged that the "celestial express," the moon's shadow, was late. Two or three seconds behind schedule, said Dr. Frederick Slocum of Wesleyan University, observing at Centre Conway, N.H. Ten seconds late, said Dr. Philip Fox, director of the Adler Planetarium, Chicago, who observed at Island Pond, Vt.

Something must be done about this tardiness, in the opinion of astronomers, for extremely refined accuracy about the moon's motion is the basis of practical calculations used by man, and particularly of the tide charts used by sailors.

This was the first eclipse to have its changing volume of light measured by a new type of photo-electric cell. In spite of the clouds, said Dr. Harlan T. Stetson of Ohio Wesleyan University, these observations promise important means of checking measurements of the distances of the stars.

FLORIDA CITY STORM SWEPT

TORNADO WARNINGS OUT.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 1.—One boy was killed, three men were reported lost and Pensacola was in darkness last night after a tropical storm, attended by 60-mile-an-hour winds, had whirled inland west of the city last night. The storm had come up out of the Gulf of Mexico and passed inland headed northwest. It is expected to pass east of Mobile.

Ben Baker, 14, son of the assistant postmaster here, was electrocuted by a power line, blown down by the high wind.

Three men, who put out in a small boat to go to the aid of another, were reported to have been lost in the bay. Their names were not known.

The edge of the storm, believed to be the same one that lashed a zig-zag path across lower Florida Monday night, whirled over Appalachicola, south-east, early yesterday afternoon. It was reported that eight boats and a dredge were sunk.

Hurricane warnings were put out from Appalachicola to Biloxi, Miss. At Mobile all preparations were taken to protect shipping and windows have been boarded.

CENTRETON.

A number of boys on Tuesday night were at the home of Mr. Jas. Baxter to the charivari for the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. George Baxter.

An interesting meeting was held on Tuesday night, when the male members of the Y.P.S. put on the following program: Reading, Billie McBride, "Dirty Hands"; mouth organ solo, Eric Hope; mouth organ solo, Hadyn Smith; reading, "Company for Tea"; solo by Berl Jarvis; duet by Eric Hope and Jack Paterson, "Simply Trusting." CLAIM LAY-OFF BEEN CHECKED

11,400,000 JOBLESS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—There are 11,400,000 persons out of work in the United States, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor said yesterday.

He added that while this was the greatest number of jobless since the depression started, the month of August, according to reports of his affiliated organizations, showed a definite check in layoffs. Previously, Green said, 250,000 persons were being thrown into idleness each month.

Meantime, a prediction that the steel industry would increase its production 100 per cent. by the end of the year was made yesterday by Charles F. Abbott, president of the American Institute of Steel Construction. He told President Hoover the industry now was operating at 15 per cent. capacity and should be operating at 30 per cent. or better by Jan. 1, 1933.

Abbott said a survey made by his institute showed that potential self-liquidating construction projects in the United States for which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation could advance funds aggregated $1,232,196,000. He said those projects would provide employment for 680,000 persons. Increased purchasing power in farm communities, the stock market rise and projects for railway purchases promised better times for the steel industry, he added.

MICHAEL WALSH TAKEN BY DEATH

93 YEARS OLD.

He was born in Ingersoll nearly 94 years ago, and had been practically a life-long resident. Failing health forced him to give up his professional interests about two years ago. At the age of 91 years he was considered the oldest practicing lawyer in Ontario, if not in Canada. He remained active despite his age, and walked regularly each day between his home and his office, a distance of about a mile.

He saw the town grow from a mere pioneer hamlet to its present flourishing state. He was a member of Harris Chapter, Royal Arch Masons and of King Hiram Lodge A.F. and A.M., and had served in various capacities. Up until a comparatively few years ago he was an ardent lawn tennis player and maintained a court at his home.

He was a member of St. James' Anglican Church. He is survived by one brother, John A. Walsh Montreal.

ALLDRED DEATH FOUND ACCIDENT

EYE WITNESSES TESTIFY.

NORWOOD, Sept. 1 (Examiner Correspondence) — The adjourned coroner's jury inquiring into the death of Colman Alldred which followed an accident at the Ontario Box Factory, Norwood met in the town hall Tuesday afternoon. Dr. H. G. Carleton, coroner presiding. V. J. McElderry, K.C. representing the Crown examined the witnesses.

Dr. W. N. Campbell, Hastings, who gave first aid at time of accident testified that injuries were sufficient to cause death.

Two employees John Hyslop and Patrick Thorby who were eye witnesses to the accident described how they thought it occurred. Their vision was that the deceased was standing in front of the edging saw and appeared to either fall or bend over towards the saw inflicting the terrible injuries sustained.

Other witnesses who were called gave evidence as to the condition of the machine and factory, were Carl Buck, James Morton, Albert Armstrong, C. E. Elmhurst, Ray Fry, John Marshall and Roy Longhurst. After due consideration the jury brought in the following verdict:

"We your jurors duly appointed and sworn, respectfully submit from the evidence given that Colman Alldred died from injuries by accidentally falling upon an edging saw in the Ontario Box Factory, approximately at 2 o'clock, p. m. on Friday, August 26th, 1932.

"As a means of avoiding accidents in the future we recommend that the edgings and saw dust from this machine be not allowed to accumulate near the saw and also that a safe guard be placed over the saw."

The combined ages of the 24 bowlers who played in a match between Southgate and Chelsea Pensioners of England totalled 1,740 years.

SILVER TEA HELD BY WOMEN'S GUILD

St. Thomas' Church Affair Enjoyable Event—Mission Circle, W.A. Picnic.

MILLBROOK, Sept. 1 (Examiner Correspondence)—The "silver tea" held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Westmacott under the auspices of the Women's Guild of St. Thomas' Church was a most enjoyable and successful social event, well attended and with most satisfactory financial results.

The hostess was assisted in receiving her many guests by her sister, Mrs. Robin Fowler, of Victoria, B.C., Mrs. John Dawson attending the door, and Mrs. J. W. Hilton acting as cashier. The large rooms were lovely with late summer flowers, zinnias in shades of gold and pink being chosen for the tea room, where Mrs. Bonneville and Mrs. A. J. Fallis poured tea, while serving the guests were Misses Ada Attwooll, Maretta Gray, Margaret Simpson, and Mrs. J. E. Allen, convenor of the tea committee. Others who assisted were Mrs. H. Attwooll, Mrs. H. J. Russell and Miss Rose Macnamara.

Miss M. L. Collins was in charge of the program contributing piano solos, as did also Miss Mabel McCarthy, Mrs. W. McKee Bingham singing two solos in splendid voice, Miss Beatrice Jones being her accompanist. Mrs. Bingham was also heard with much pleasure in recitation numbers.

Over twenty dollars was realised from the silver tea, more than one of which pleasant events have been sponsored by the Women's Guild, an organization within the W.A. of St. Thomas' Church, of which Mrs. Westmacott is president. The rector, Rev. William Simpson, was among those present and gave greetings to the many guests.

The joint picnic of the Women's Auxiliary, Golden Links Mission Circle and Sunshine Mission Band, held at Wallace Point at the week-end proved quite successful, over seventy-five being in attendance, and the social side of the gathering receiving due emphasis, and the formal program proving both interesting and instructive.

The fine weather permitted holding the business and study session out of doors under the trees, the president, Mrs. (Rev.) W. W. Jones, taking charge of the devotional and business period, Mrs. Eric Hunter, convenor of Group C, conducting the program when a study from the pages of the Missionary Monthly, the W.M.S. official magazine, was taken up with much profit.

Races were arranged for the little folk of the Mission Band, the superintendent, Mrs. McDowell, being in charge with a number of workers assisting including Mrs. J. Ridge, assistant leader. Mrs. G. W. Sayles looking after the distribution of the prizes. The usual plan of giving big nickels to the winners was followed, letting the boys and girls patronize the booth, Mrs. Cardwell's courtesy in granting the use of the delightful picnic grounds thus receiving some recognition. Mrs. Sayles's initiative in providing one hundred brand new coppers (small size) making it possible to give every entrant in the race program, whether winning or not, a reward.

The long picnic tables were filled more than once before all were served at the abundant supper, and it was generally felt that the annual event had at least attained the enjoyment and success of previous years.

Obituary

PATRICK J. FITZPATRICK.
(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, September 1. — The funeral of the late Patrick L. Fitzpatrick on Tuesday morning was very largely attended.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was well known and respected, of kindly, sympathetic disposition, his friends were many. He was a devoted husband and a kind neighbor, a faithful member of St. Joseph's church, Douro, and a member of the Holy name organization. One of a family of twelve, only three are left—two sisters, Misses Katherine and Margaret Fitzpatrick, living in Dummer, and one brother, Philip, in Minnesota. One of the deceased brothers was a priest, and two sisters were nuns, one of whom died last March; another sister died in May.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in her bereavement.

Mr. Fitzpatrick had been in poor health for several years, unable to go out much. For about three weeks he had been quite ill. Through it all he showed his Christian spirit, patient always and glad to see those who called.

Rev. Father McGuire sang the Requiem Mass assisted by Rev. Father McCauley of Emmaneve, and Rev. Father Garvey of Lakefield.

Father McCauley preached a most helpful sermon, stressing that man is a free will agent, until his latest breath. God does not force himself upon man. He points the way. Man chooses the way he goes. Speaking of Mr. Fitzpatrick, he spoke of his uprightness, his earnestness, but without desire for office, a true member of his church, and a useful one in his community. All was said in simple language, and all knew it was all true. No one could help but be better for hearing those appropriate words.

"Nearer my God to Thee" was sung as the casket was borne out of the church.

CHRISTOPHER GRAHAM

HAVELOCK, Sept. 1. (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late Christopher Graham, whose death occurred here on Sunday afternoon, took place on Tuesday from the family residence on George street east, to Maple Grove cemetery. Services were held at St. John's Anglican church, Rev. Mr. Worrall officiating there and at the graveside.

Mr. Graham, who had been ill for the greater part of the past two years, was well and favorably known by the residents of Havelock and vicinity, having lived in this village for the past forty years. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow, formerly Maude Cataract, and her mother, Mrs. Cataract with whom he had made his home, and who regarded him with all the affection of a true son. There are also two sisters and two brothers, George Graham of Peterborough and Mrs. McCarney of Peterborough, and James Graham of Calgary, Alta. and Mrs. Gellon of Regina.

Rev. Mr. Worrall in his discourse at the church said that ordinarily the service of the Anglican Church was considered sufficient funeral sermon, but in this case he was making an exception, as it was a most unusual one. He had known the deceased for the past eight months and been his spiritual adviser. He had been a great sufferer, none but those who came into close contact with him knowing how much he did suffer. Many would wonder why a man should be allowed to suffer as he did, but it was truly remarkable to see the grace that was being given him during that terrible trial of the flesh. Mr. Graham had asked him to tell his friends that he had been given a great consolation, and that he was well prepared to face his Creator, knowing he was going Home.

The remains were borne to the hearse and grave by six old friends Messrs. Dave Ford, Howard McQuade, Harry Peters, John Barlow, James Ketchen and J. Carpenter.

Millbrook

Robert Shaw left by motor for his school at Iroquois Falls on Tuesday morning, his sister, Mrs. E. Doxsee, and family accompanying him on their way home to Kirkland Lake, after visiting her mother, Mrs. S. Donnelly, for some weeks past. Walter Sayles also was of the party, intending to remain at Kirkland Lake for the winter.

Mrs. (Dr.) E. L. Burnham returned home on Tuesday after a ten days' visit in Peterborough with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Burnham.

Congratulations are being extended to Misses Beatrice Jones and Mary Vance, who were successful in passing in all the subjects written on at the Upper School examination, after attending Port Hope High School last year. Other pupils from Millbrook who also attended Port High School, and who were successful in several of the subjects tried were Marion Earle, Donald Henry, George Gray and Bill Simpson. Beatrice Jones will attend Normal School at Peterborough next term, and Mary Vance will be at Port Hope for another year.

Mrs. T. Wilson, and son Jack, have returned from Toronto to Millbrook to reside, taking the house on King street west formerly occupied by Wilbert Belch. Mrs. Wilson is accompanied by her brother who is remaining with her for a time owing to ill-health.

The Misses Dorothy and Madeline McDowell, Phyllis Kidd, Marian O'Brian, Mary and Pearl Burnham returned home on Monday evening after a delightful holiday at Chemong Park, occupying "Sunset Cottage," the property of Mrs. Margaret Pope. Visitors entertained at the Park during their stay included Mr. and Mrs. W. A. and Miss May O'Brian; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kidd and two sons, Kenneth and Jack; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burnham and Miss Jean Burnham; Mrs. F. W. Burnham and daughter Dorothy, Mrs. Lightheart of Peterborough, Miss Dorothy Hanna, of Kirkfield and little June Howe, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gray, who have been making an extended visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brown, at Detroit, returned last week to their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McKee Bingham and little daughter Marguerite, expect to move shortly to Gore's Landing to make their home, after four years' residence in Millbrook. Mrs. Bingham's dramatic talent has been successfully demonstrated in recitals of her pupils, the organization and training of the Village Players' Dramatic Club, which has presented a number of plays with remarkably good staging, costuming and acting, and in a number of other ways, and her removal will mean a loss to the community that may not be readily replaced.

SUITS AGAINST 8 MILLIONAIRES

$138,000,000 CLAIMED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. — Eight middle-aged millionaires, highly successful in business and reputed to be as shrewd as any eight men the United States has produced, are to be sued for $138,000,000 on the allegation that they naively allowed a ninth gentleman to hoodwink them out of that amount.

The suits were authorized yesterday by Oscar W. Ehrhorn, federal referee in bankruptcy, on petition of the Irving Trust Company, trustee of the late Ivar Kreuger's defunct match company, the International Match Corporation.

Kreuger, who, before his suicide was a great financier, a genius, and after his death, an international adventurer and confidence man, will be the villain in the suits that will allege, in a few words, that the eight Americans, as directors of International Match, did not watch him closely enough.

The eight are:

Donald Durant, also of Lee, Higginson and Company, and director in 16 corporations.

Adrian H. Larkin, a director of 10 corporations.

John McHugh, director of the Chase National Bank and six other corporations.

Permission to File Suits

The Irving Trust Company received permission to file two suits against the eight men. First they will seek for an accounting of $100,000,000 allegedly lost to stockholders of the corporation because of their negligence, secondly it will ask for $38,000,000 allegedly lost to stockholders because of dividends illegally paid from capital.

The allegations are numerous. From the summons and complaint on file in the referee's office, some of them are::

1. That Rockefeller, Higginson and the other directors of International Match allowed Kreuger to control and manage the corporation's finances "despite the fact that the American public had invested $100,000,000."

1. That Rockefeller, Higginson and and the others, neglected the affairs of International Match's subsidiaries despite the fact that because it was a holding corporation, the subsidiaries were its most important assets. They permitted Kreuger to appoint subordinates and associates to their directorates.

3. They allowed International Match to make an advance of $75,000,000 to Continental Investments, A.G., a wholly owned subsidiary, and $17,000,000 to Gesarna, a Dutch corporation which, the trust company charges, Kreuger used in milking other corporations.

4. That International Match acquired valuable concessions through large purchases of foreign securities, but the directors failed to hold them for the profit of the corporation.

5. That through the failure of the directors to safeguard the corporation's interests, Kreuger took $50,000,000 in German bonds from its treasury.

6. That 32 dividends were illegally voted by the eight directors.

ALL FIFTEEN ENDOWMENT FUNDS OF ST JOHN'S COLLEGE WIPED OUT

Despite $800,000 Shortage Historic School Intends to Carry On.

TEACHERS ACCEPT CUTS

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1 (C.P.). — All 15 endowment funds of St. John's college and school, designed almost entirely for the teaching work, have been virtually wiped out, but the historic college and school, the first institution of its kind established west of the Red River, will carry on as usual this year, according to announcement of the college council.

Shortages exceeding $800,000 will be shown by the auditors of accounts of the several Church of England and St. John's College funds administered by John A. Machray, chancellor the ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land, it is expected. Machray was arrested several days ago charged with theft of $47,000 from the University of Manitoba funds, of which he was bursar, and is scheduled to appear in provincial police court next Thursday. A remand is expected as he is suffering from a serious illness at his home.

Continuing the work of St. John's college and school has been made possible by voluntary acceptance by the teacing staffs of stringent salary cuts, the council stated.

IMPRESSIONS OF SCOTLAND

BY A DISTRICT TOURIST

Where Privilege Is Entrenched By Property Owners—Seven-Eighths Of The Country Reserved For The Use Of The Few—Network Of Modern Highways Broadly Extended.

(By a recent visitor from this district.)

An ordinary mapmaker is able to divide a country into colored divisions; but they are not able to give the various human districts, such as where the most kind-hearted live, where the most suspicious, where those loquacious, England would present great difficulties, but Scotland presents an easier task, for truly North Britain has some plainly marked lines. One [illegible] Britain at least when in Scotland, for they are as par[illegible] about not being included in the term England as we are about being called Americans, so beware of insulting a good Scot! Shot by [illegible] ever so slightly, in England and trying to put Scotland in with Wales.

Like Gaul, it is easy to divide Scotland into three parts. The first section would be from the English border country to a line drawn across Scotland a little north of Glasgow. Then a second line north of Inverness.

The Lowlands, that is the first division, is the commercial part, mostly, and also rich farms, for but commerce being by far the important livelihood. And in the Highlands and the hilltops there goes all that one attributes to commerce [illegible] thistle smoke, firm sanny [illegible] and honest trades[illegible] they are, too, and perhaps [illegible] most lacking is what we call the glamour of the Highlander and his claymore and clan.

The central line, the Tweed-Esha to Inverness, this is the Highlands proper: this is the land of the ballad, the kindest the stories surrounding fifty family feuds; the land of the pipes and kilts and beautiful women, women of love and of truth, for what country can produce such as Mary of Scotland? Oh, the glens with their streams and rivers, their lochs and their mountains, their purple heather and touches of yellow gorse; these are indeed hard to find elsewhere; this is indeed the part of Scotland which affords the novelist and the poet such material.

Start From Edinburgh

Starting from England on the way north, the starting point was Cambridge, and knowing what we were going to see, we tried to fix the beauty of the Cam, running behind the colleges, in our minds, to compare later with those of the North. But comparison is impossible. Nowhere else can one find such quietness, such dignified beauty, as one can find in an English garden; and there are few places that can compare with the famous "Backs" at Cambridge; those Backs are the beautiful lawns, cut to twain by the silvery dainty little Cam, with its little arched bridges, its ducks and swans, its tennis courts and grounds. Cambridge itself is such an example of tranquility and beautiful chapels and courts and colleges, that the whole atmosphere of the town seems apparent, even to a mere tourist. The beauty of King's College Chapel, so famous for its architecture; its famous screen, done in five years by Italian artists, is alone an example of English work that cannot be equalled in Britain. But beauty is of many kinds: England has one, assuredly, but Scotland also has its own, and generally of a more rugged kind, even as the main characteristics of their peoples.

We passed Peterborough, Lincoln (and having an hour in this cathedral), and on to the Roman Wall, got tea from Carlisle. That is many miles, but this is supposed to be Scotland, and one finds it hard to get out of England! I am not even mentioning Glastonbury, or Wells, or the fine Cheddar Gorge! Also we were on the Great North Road, the old Roman road, and we must needs stop and see the old Roman wall! We took an excellent snapshot of it, too, even though it was very late, and we were hoping to sleep in Melrose, near to Edinburgh. But there we saw the Wall, or a goodly part of it. A good twenty feet high, six feet across, and following the tops and crests of hill and highlands. One could see the Roman thoroughness. There they were for four hundred years, and so they made themselves comfortable. The forts along the walls were [illegible] There one can still see the granaries, the officers' houses, the beautiful terraced gardens they once had, the beautiful portices to the main building of the fort. But we had to push on, and spent that night at Melrose, but next stop was at Gateshead, where Bonnie Prince Charlie lodged, with its beautiful garden, and where now are so many relics of such as Mary Queen of Scots, of Napoleon, of the famous Flora, of her prince, Charlie.

Melrose Abbey

Melrose boasts the best-preserved ruins of an abbey in Britain, and so they look, for a ruin it is, but showed easily what it was in its prime.

To pass Edinburgh, with Princes street, the most beautiful of all streets, is indeed a feat; but pass it we had to, knowing we were returning later. So down the old naval road of Rosyth, so much used in late decades, we went by the famous naval base used by the battle cruisers under Sir David in conjunction with the Grand Fleet at Scapa. But we went on all too quickly, and going along this road one must pass close to the Forth Bridge, built some fifty or sixty years ago, quite similar to our own Quebec Bridge. It is a magnificent structure, and reminded one of the Scot who was showing his American friend the sights; everything they saw, the American compared with something at home, to the detriment of the Scottish. At last, they came to the Forth Bridge. The admiration of the American was at last aroused. "Who built that bridge?" he demanded of his Scot. The latter looked back over his shoulder at it, and said, "Why, I don't know; it wasna there last night!"

But on to Stirling. To many who have travelled up the Forth (the river runs past Stirling), the most admirable sight is the Wallace Memorial, placed high on its own jagged rock, rivalling in height the very castle itself. Built, I believe, almost centuries ago, it stands as the very true symbol of the Scottish character of independence, and a signal to all that pass to the north. Behind are the first of the real Highlands; mountains, they are to one (living on rolling plains or wooded lakes). The castle itself is so full of history that one cannot attempt to either piece it all together or even carry away a fairly comprehensive understanding of it. The height itself is inspiring; the view from the summit alone, let alone the castle on its bare rock, is supposedly unrivalled; the rooms of the great Douglas, of Mary, and of James; the beautiful old church, now divided into two by a stone wall built in the centre of the church, making two complete churches in the one; the guide, who had lived some years in Toronto, was proudly pointing out the various pews of the Kings and Queens; where one was crowned, where another was christened.

Leaving Stirling, one enters at once the great middle belt, that of the glens and the lochs. To describe them is a task few undertake; the beautiful wooded hills on either side, with the tops covered with the purple heather, the deep blue of the lochs on a sunny day—and we had many—or the mist covering, as usual, the tip of Ben Navis; these and so much more one sees. One noticed rather ruefully, the all-too obvious relic of feudalism in the control of miles upon miles of mountain trout and salmon streams nearer the coasts. It is a grand land, a magnificently proud land, but it is almost a land "verboten." "No fishing." "No parking" signs abound along the highways, and the smaller beauty. It is not natural that such wealth of nature should be reserved for a few, who use it perhaps less than a month a year. When a Canadian considers that nearly seven-eighths of Scotland is such, that is, privately owned, one rejoices in our own freedom.

Building Highways

The scientific road schemes in operation are very impressive; along the Caledonian Canal, which cuts the country in halves, there is now under construction a magnificent highway, mostly blasted out of solid Scottish granite, which is a pinky grey. And these roads are for everlasting; just an odd top dressing every century, say! The rather high, comparatively, prices charged by the hotels and inns, have made many turn to the caravan. A small car towing an immense caravan is nowadays a very usual sight. These have special clubs which undertake suitable camping spots, and, provided the weather is at all agreeable, it is indeed a very pleasant way of seeing Scotland. The tourists' huts do not exist; at least they were not seen throughout England or Scotland. And the caravan is certainly a pleasanter way of spending one's money, than going to a very mediocre hotel. The best lodgings are obtained at the farm houses, where true Scottish hospitality is always evident.

The central part of Scotland, as all know, is a mass of lochs and glens; some are accessible, and have the usual tarvia roads; others have roads a little way up, and then blank forest, stream and rock greets the motorist. The country of John Buchan and his weird Scottish characters is so evident; what roads there are are constructed truly magnificently, over passes, and through rocky gorges that seem impassable. Each hamlet, each farmhouse (like England's Elizabeth's beds!) has its own history. A Mr. Gibson, writing in a Scottish paper, says:—

"Hear you nothing in the glen,
No gruff muttering of men,
Ghosts of men or brae and corrie
To the pibrochs ghostly wailing
Scurrying to the midnight fray?"

It might suit better had he written:

"Hear nothing in the glen Save the music of the waters..."

Because the strongest impression that impresses one is the grandeur that is everlasting, that has always been there, and not mere man striding forth to raid his neighbors. A scenery often outlives its history, famous though that history is, but certainly the glens and streams and lochs give one something more than kilted marauders to dream about.

Ruins Are Numerous

Of ruins and deserted abbeys, and tumbled hears of mountain fastnesses, Scotland has its full share. Many are the old walls to be seen, but as interesting are the castles, the so-called "shootings" even, which are strewn throughout the land; gardens of acres, purely to supply flowers to the main house of forty, fifty, bedrooms. And many of these there are, with the odd rich Englishman or American, for rent, and rarely if one sees a man in kilts [illegible] striding along the road with a Lander twisted cane, one knows he is English; no Scot seems to be addicted to the habit these days, bar the bairns or youngsters. The complete disdain of the true Scot to all such interlopers is as evident as it was years ago. But the strong manliness of those "north of the Border" is most noticeable to one who has motored through the north English factory land. The shepherds, which one can see anywhere one hundred yards from the road, are as you see in your picture book, knarled men, most of them, with Jess or Josh or Jean at his heels, and five hundred sheep over an area which would drive an ordinary human to distraction. Kindly and friendly they are, with their stock sense [illegible] that a staid for generations [illegible] farmhouses—they all seem to have a brother in Alberta or New Brunswick, or one that has left Canada and gone to "America."

It is over-great grievance that [illegible] of Edinburgh is not, for [illegible] that unbeautiful city with the most hospitable of people. The great Clyde river is there, ninety miles long they say, with its twistings and turnings, and three-fifths of the people of Scotland live on its banks. I was with our own friend, St. Lawrence for beauty and magnificent banks, with their hills not far back, and well purpled with the late heather of August. Lots to see there, on the Clyde—the giant new Cunarder, a dark-red hulk, that only has fifty men painting her, and all other work stopped; the many fishing sloops and schooners; the O.P.R. and other liners make a constant stream.

A favorite route for tourists was the one we took. After skirting along the same road to Killiecrankie, where one can easily see how an army could be trapped. And wiped out, thence to Blair Atholl, where lives the Duke, the only man with a private army in Britain; thence across the moors, and along the Garry river—one of the Dart[illegible] rivers, for there are more than one Spean—one come sto the forty-eight, for Inverness and the far North; left to Fort William and the west coast—the wet coast. For in Scotland, the west wind brings the rain; the east, fair; the south and north, warmth and cold. And any of the three may produce the famous Scottish mist.

Forging left, we struck for the West, Loch Glen Spean, where are the Electric works; despoiling the scenery, over a pass that we came to Tyndrum; on to Dornoch, the spot one takes the ferry to the fair Isles of Skye, and here at Dornie stands an old castle, the present stronghold of the Mackie, whose forbears had it as a gift from King [illegible] a reward for [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] we retraced to the Caledonian Canal, which is not like the Trent in any way at all, but is a successful [illegible] sides of lochs, not many, but each vieing with its neighbor for beauty, but the long Loch Ness, which stretches to Inverness, is by far the most attractive. Along the granite base highway to Inverness, down the main road, branching off one hundred miles down to Killin, where the largest pine in Europe even surprises one; along Crieff, Glen Almond, and the Trossachs section to these with no time, so along Loch Lomond, with its Ben shrouded in mist, and soon the outskirts of Glasgow show up: miles of factories, shipyards which are vile, down the same road Rob Roy brought his stolen cattle, and into the misty gloom of the city.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. W. MOORE

Lakefield Friends Express Regret at Her Departure.

LAKEFIELD, September 1. — Before Mrs. Walter Moore left for Toronto, [illegible] her home near Lakefield, a few of her friends and neighbors gathered at the home of [illegible] Mrs. Thomas [illegible] [illegible] Those present were Mrs. [illegible] with an address. Mrs. Stephenson read the following address:

Dear Mrs. Moore:—We, some of your friends of this community, have met to express our appreciation of your going from our midst. We have always found you a good neighbor and a kind friend. Your place will be hard to fill in this neighborhood, as you have always shown yourself so ready to give assistance in any time of need. We have been able to depend on you to do what is right under all circumstances. Now that you are leaving for a new home, where we trust that you will make many and good, new friends, we join in wishing you a very happy and prosperous future, as a token of the esteem of the friends with whom you are parting, we ask you to accept this simple gift, not for its intrinsic value, but for the feeling we mean it to express. (Signed)

The people of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Moore was taken by surprise and made a suitable reply, thanking them, also for their kindness during her five years' stay in the district, and hoping that God's blessing may rest upon them.

Too Many Pets

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 1.—The "cat and dog life" prevailing in the home of Chester Alexander, master of ceremonies in a night club, has led him to file suit for divorce against his wife. He charges she keeps with two dogs and a cat, bathes them in the family bath tub and feeds them from dishes by hand. He said he becomes vexed when she begins to exchange household furniture for more pets. The radio went for a cat. The first time mice [illegible] when the animals were mixed with sheep.

BUYING POWER INCREASE WILL HAVE FAVORABLE TRADE EFFECT

Recent Financial Events Have Effected Change in Sentiment Throughout World

ROYAL BANK REPORT

TORONTO, Sept. 1. (C.P.) Prospects that an increase in the buying power of the United Kingdom and the Dominions will have a favorable effect upon their trade with other countries has made the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa comparable in importance to the Lausanne Conference, according to the monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada.

The Lausanne Conference, the great inflow of funds to the United States from Great Britain and the Continent, the purchases of Canadian securities by the British, the effects of the new fiscal policy in the United States, and the Imperial conference have effected a change in sentiment which is making itself felt in all parts of the world, the letter states. SPLENDID EXHIBITION OF ART IS DISPLAYED FOR CONFERENCE

Dr. Marius Barbeau Gives Fine Review of Works At Gallery.

CULTURE GROWING.

(By DR. MARIUS BARBEAU)

OTTAWA, Sept. 1. (CP)—No retrospective art exhibit has ever been as comprehensive in Canada as the show for the Imperial Conference at the National Gallery at Ottawa. oNne has commanded more attention. Here were the moderns, there the academists and ancients.

The story of painting in our country is rather short; its two main phases, the past and the present, follow so closely on each other's heels that friction often results from encounters on the same grounds. tI is an encouraging sign that preferences at times should become vociferous; art controversies spread the news abroad that something is really happening. Public interest as a consequence is awakened. The whole of Canada indeed is beginning to delight in the knowledge of its own growth, not only as a wheat-producing land but also as a country able to bring forth painters of genius like J. W. Morrice and Tom Thomson. The Dominion is becoming art-minded, as Hon. Vincent Massey has aptly said. Culture is fast growing into an asset in our national life.

In a first article I spoke of Morrice, Thomson and those who with them are mainly responsible for the modern movement. The lack of space forbade even a mention of painters who deserve credit on other grounds. Some of them were the pioneers of art for Canada and the first artisans of progress. They were talented and fairly successful in their day, for instance Blair Bruce and Paul Peel. But they lived and plodded abroad; and their influence at home was not vital, perhaps because they both died young. Their sophisticated figure painting can be advantageously studied in the permanent collections of the National Gallery. In this exhibition we are reminded of their existence by a sugary-sweet sunset of Bruce—I have a particudislike for it, and a "Venetian Bather" by Peel, a nice, Bouguereau-like picture. Both these painters belong to academic studios of the end of the 19th century; their brush-work is well-liked, their colors soft and their themes sentimental. Trained and domiciled in Paris, they lost much of their native stamina—they were from Ontario, and became submerged in the whirlpools of European art. Their harbor now is in our pious reminiscences of yesteryear.

The Leaders

Through them and a few others the academists might have given a sense of direction to Canadian art. But they did not; their teaching did not really bear fruit. Perhaps this is due to the invention of the kodak and the arrival upon the scene of Hollywood, which fulfil the same purpose more extensively. Looking around the walls of the National Gallery, I do not find many figure pictures in the old style outside of Casllener's "Aphrodite's Realm" a nude model holding a conch shell at the edge of phosphorescent waters Studio work is not popular in Canada and the nude on the whole is an exotic theme. Art has taken to the woods and the great outdoors.

The growth of landscape painting in Canada was far more vital, although it was French rather than Canadian in its affiliations and familiar woods.

The first Canadian painter trained abroad who became an active educator at home, in Montreal, was William Brymner. He was the headmaster of the Montreal Art Association Schools for many years. Belonging spiritually to the Barbion School of oFntainebleau, he selected in the Quebec scenery whatever suited warm atmospheric effects a la Millet or a la Rousseau. His Laurentian scenes are still redolent of the charm of Normandy, for instance his "Early Moonrise in September" or his "Evening".

But the rugged scenery of Canada did not appeal to Brymer, who rejected evergreens and much of what is truly native. He would not undertake to blaze the trail in a new country like ours. Yet his great influence as a teacher in Montreal will not readily be forgotten, for he trained many brilliant students who later made their mark and are glad to call him their first master: Gagnon, Mabel May, Robinson, Kathleen Morris, Hewton, Lillian Newton, Holgate, Mabel Lockerby, Sarah Robertson, Prudence Heward and others. Some of these also study under Cullen, another talented master in the same school.

The work of other well-known Canadian painters in this exhibition is also redolent of France, but with a decided note of individuality for instance, Horatio Walkers "Oxen Drinking" and Cullen's "Winter Evening, Quebec" and "Ice Harvest." The first is Millet-like, from the hand of a painter well established on the New York market, yet who was born in Ontario and has his home at Ile d'Orleans, in the heart of Quebec. Cullen's pictures remind us of his spiritual descent from the French through Morrice and Brymner, and of the valiant struggle of his earlier years towards self-expression. "The Settlement on the Hillside" by Suzor-Cote is impressionistic, from a facile brush that never quite found its own stroke. Wason's "The Flood Gate", Brownell's "The Beach: St. Kitts" and George Reid's "Vacant Lots" all tell a story of their own, of long lives of devotion to art and education. Jeffreys' "Western Sunlight", shows the Toronto painter at his best, under the spell of the wide open spaces on the prairies. And Walter Phillips, of Winnipeg, impresses us with his exotic treatment in water color woodcuts—Japanese like—of the "York Boats on Lake Winnipeg" and "Karlukwees" Indian village in British Columbia. Where, as the others lean towards France, he does towards the Orient, the result is intriguing.

The exotic leanings of early Canadian art were only too natural, but they soon proved a handicap. Besides, public opinion was ultra-conservative; it is still. It resisted real progress and has not yet quite accepted the impressionistic school in France of 1870, and still less the later spiritual upheaval represented by Cesanne. It pretends to remain either ignorant of the Canadian movement or for years bitterly hostile to it. Less to now. Under its influence the Royal Canadian Academy has tended to divorce itself from the new movement and is in danger of losing its former prestige and usefulness. A new wave of creative enthusiasm now sweeps Canada from coast to coast, wherein the new sensation cares little for self-appointed authority and interprets its own vision in its individual way.

SASKATCHEWAN HAPPIER NOW BUT RELIEF STILL NEEDED

Commission Continues To Cater To Wants Of Thirty-five Municipalities.

DROUGHT AREA CORE.

SASKATOON, Sept. 1 (Special to The Examiner)—A year ago the Saskatchewan relief commission was set up to provide food, fuel and clothing, seed and feed, for the victims of the most devastating drought in Canadian history.

The calamity which visited Saskatchewan in 1931 is too recent to require much freshening of the memory, but I suppose there are few who realize than an area of 100,000 square miles (twice the size of England and Wales) had to be cared for, and a population of 300,000 given the necessities of life.

When I visited the commission office in Regina the other day they were busy winding up their activities for the year. It was hoped, when the commission was formed, that after twelve months, with the harvesting of another crop, there would be no further need for its services, that it could be completely closed up.

That hope was not quite realized. Some areas in which the commission had to function were blessed with a heavy harvest. Nearly all the remainder of the crop which ranged from "feed and seed" to an average yield.

But one little pocket, the core of the drought area, which had already suffered three successive crop failures, was visited again by conditions not far short of last year's. Three or four municipalities will have virtually no crop of any kind. All in all, according to the estimates of the commission as supplied to me, there will be perhaps 35 municipalities in which relief will again have to be provided.

Great Achievements

This means a territory of about 10,000 square miles, roughly one-tenth of the area affected last year.

The Saskatchewan Relief Commission will, therefore, continue to operate for another year on a restricted scale. In the 35 municipalities which appear to require relief once more, officers have been appointed, and they are now busy making a survey of the needs of their people.

W. A. Black, chairman of the committee, an ex-mayor of Regina, was a bit "cheaty" as he responded the achievements of the past year. Who can blame him? The problem which faced him and his colleagues a year ago was colossal. Sixty thousand farms spread over a territory larger than "Old" Ontario were dependent upon the commission. Without it, people would have starved, gone naked, would have frozen to death in large numbers. Horses and cattle would have perished. Seven million acres of land would have gone cropless this year. It was the duty of the commission to see that in all that far-flung territory a decent standard of living was maintained, that cattle and horses were kept in shape to work, and produce, that horses were kept warm through the severe winter that when spring came farm operations over the seven million acres of crop land would be carried on just as though the previous year had brought abundant harvest instead of failure and destitution.

"The bureau of vital statistics" remarked chairman Black, "shows that the health of our people was never better in the history of the country than it was last winter. That does credit to the quantity and variety of food which we distributed. We took the precaution, before making up our lists and quantities of food obtainable for each family, to submit it to qualified dieticians."

The federal treasury has had to advance $19,000,000 for the drought stricken farmers of the southern part of this province. This sum was not given outright, but advanced on their promise to repay. They have until November 1, 1933 to return the amounts borrowed. The light crop and the low prices of the present harvest do not promise much payment until next year. But there will be some. The first repayment of 1932 was made to-day at Weyburn, where a farmer took 400 bushels of wheat into the elevators for the commission. By the "pegged price" scheme, he receives credit on the basis of 70 cents a bushel Fort William, instead of the current quotation of about 75 cents.

Saved More Than $7,000,0000

W. A. Black calculates that the farmers of the province were saved more than a million dollars by the bulk purchases and mass distribution of the relief handled. He reached this conclusion after comparing the actual outlay of the commission with the prices being charged by retail merchants in the drought-stricken area.

"Farmers were able," he said, "to get their supplies at a rate from 10 to 20 per cent cheaper than they could have done if they had actually had to cash to buy from the retail merchants. I am sure that when the time comes to pay up they will do so all the more readily, knowing how advantageously the government bought and supplied their needs."

Mr. Black indicated how generously Ontario and other parts of Canada had come to the rescue with carloads of foodstuffs and 21 carloads of clothing were brought to us freight-free by the two Canadian railways, and distributed by us throughout the area," he said.

At the peak of activity, the Saskatchewan relief commission had a staff of 650, of which 375 were busy at headquarters in Regina (one whole floor of a former departmental store being taken over) and 260 in the field. The cost of administration works out slightly over three per cent. Only about one-eighth of that year's grant will be needed for the coming year's activities.

CANADA FARM OPERATED ON GOSPEL PLAN

Hutterites Colony Takes It Over as a Communal Effort.

LIVING FOR FORTY.

ALASK, Sask., Sept. 1. The farm "Fogelvik," ten miles north of here, just inside the Alberta boundary, might be dealt with as an improbable "success romance" of a Swede. He came here in 1910 with a team of oxen and fifty dollars, built a sod shack and planted some trees, and in twenty-one years built up an estate of 4,340 acres surrounding a fine home, orchard and garden, made money even in the extreme drought years of 1914, 1919, 1924, 1931, and finally retired to his native country, a wealthy man.

Or, to come to 1933, it might be "written up" as the home of a colony of lofty Hutterites who came from Manitoba and took over the farm as a running concern a year ago, and who are now very busy taking off a wheat crop which promises to yield twenty-five bushels to the acre and pass the 30,000-mark set up by Andrew Anderson, the original owner. "Fogelvik" (Bird Bay) was built up by pure individualism; it is being continued as an experiment in communal effort. In a few years' time a valuable comparative study may be available for prairie economists.

They Came From Germany

The Hutterites sprang up in Germany about the time of Martin Luther; the original colonies lived there and in Austria, but others came to South Dakota, and from there branched out into Manitoba and Alberta.

"What form of government have you?" was asked President Joseph Hofer.

"We have three trustees and a council. The council is elected by the members," he replied.

"You share everything you have? Nothing is privately owned?"

"We don't share," he said. "We all own everything. I own this whole farm. So does my brother over there," (pointing to one of the men in the yard).

Most Stay Faithful

"Your young people are willing to follow your way of life?" "Oh, we have an occasional black sheep, but most of them stay faithful."

That the people enjoy good health without doctor's care is proved in the jolly faces of the girls and the husky forms of the men.

While the Hutterites follow an ancient faith, there seemed to be nothing benighted about their agriculture. A combine, a couple of tractors and a header stood in the yard. Anderson continued horse and power farming, and it was evident that they intended to take over the equipment and follow his up-to-date methods to the letter.

RED STAIN IN JACK PINE

OTTAWA.—Tests at the Forest Products Laboratories of Canada, Department of the Interior, have shown that red stain in jack pine does not affect the strength of the wood. Where his stain, however, has developed to visible decomposition of the wood, the strength is, of course, affected.

RICHARD HALL Limited

WHEAT SITUATION AS IT STANDS AT PRESENT DOWN IN ARGENTINE

CROP OUTLOOK GOOD.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1. — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is in receipt of a cable from the International Institute of Agriculture, showing the following acreages sown in the Argentine this year (with comparative figures for last year):—

	Acres
	1932	1931
Wheat	19,250,000	17,265,000
Flaxseed	7,200,000	6,840,000
Oats	3,500,000	3,470,000
Rye	1,550,000	1,378,000
Barley	1,400,000	1,439,000

The correspondent of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in Buenos Aires has forwarded the following report, under date of August 1, 1932, dealing with the wheat situation in the Argentine:—

Exports

The quantity of wheat exported during the month of July was 3,-073,917 bushels.

The quantity still remaining in the country available for export is approximately 36,607,408 bushels; this figure being arrived at as follows:—

	Bushels.
Official estimate of the crop	325,922,229
Carry-over of last crop.	16,904,520
Total	342,826,829
Needed for seed and domestic consumption	95,532,000
Balance for export	146,694,760
Exported to July 31st	108,087,361
Balance still available,	38,607,408

Movement of Crop

The exports of wheat from this country continue to decrease, and the figures shown above is a sharp drop from the total of 6,864,193 bushels exported during June and 13,033,856 bushels in the month of May.

The growers and local grain dealers in whose hands a good deal of the balance of the crop still remains, are not satisfied with present price levels, and are therefore, not shipping out their grain, nor are they likely to unless there is an improvement in prices or a reasonable assurance of a good yield in the new crop.

Markets

Business throughout the month has been dull, especially in the export trade. With Canadian, Australian and North American wheat all offering at cheaper rates than Plate wheats, there have been very few transactions, farmers being disinclined to sell.

The sharp rise in prices which occurred during the last week of the month induced more offers, in which the local millers showed a good deal more interest than the exporters. They have, in fact, been the best buyers throughout the month.

With only 36,743,100 bushels now available for export, the Argentine is a very small factor in the making of prices, and the future course of the market lies entirely in other hands.

New Crop Conditions

The present condition of the new crop of wheat can still be described as good, although the weather during the month has been so unseasonable that there may be danger ahead.

The precipitation has been far above the average for the month of July, and this, combined with unduly high temperatures, has induced an excessive growth of the young plants which may make them an easy prey to frosts bye and bye. The crops of weeds, too, promises to be unusually heavy, and past experience of such seasons leads one to anticipate bad plagues of insects towards harvest time.

Already in the north a plague of locusts has appeared. It is a very unusual condition for locusts to make their appearance north of the cereal zone; they are gradually working south, and have done some damage in the provinces of Cordoba, Santa Fe and Entre Rios in the grain fields. In the northern part of Santa Fe it is described as the worst invasion for thirty years.

Although many fields of wheat and flax have been stripped by the insects, the damage is not irreparable, as the ample supply of moisture in the soil makes regrowth probable, and unless the same fields should again be visited and stripped later the grain will come along all right although a little late.

Great efforts are being made by the National Department of Agriculture to cope with the locust plague, and there has just been voted by Congress an additional sum of a million pesos to cover the extra expenses being incurred in this campaign.

Reports show that these locust plagues usually attain great proportions every six years, and this happens to be the year when they are due. The Department of Agriculture is, theoretically, well equipped to cope with it, having stores of the necessary materials distributed throughout the agricultural areas, but this department of the civil service has been more than usually under the influence of political patronage in recent years, and how it will meet the needs of the grave situation which apparently faces the country, remains to be seen.

Although the general moisture condition is that there has been ample rainfall, with too much in the province of Entre Rios, where some of the lower lands are flooded, there are still parts of the province of Cordoba and the territory of the Pampa, on the fringe of the cereal zone, where the condition is dry and moisture is needed, but without present detriment to the growing crops.

The weather forecast is for more warm weather, with light rains. What is needed is the very opposite.

Credits 100 Years To Lack Of Dread

MANCHESTER, N.H., Sept. 1.—Explaining how she lived to be 106 years, Abbie Persis Worthley said:

"I never sat and dreaded anything. I went right ahead and got it over with."

The centenarian spent her vacations with relatives on a long motor trip through New Hampshire.

CLAIMS LEPROSY NOT CONTAGIOUS

Japanese Scientist Safe After 17 Years of Work among Lepers.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1. — (By the Canadian Press.)—Seventeen years among the lepers of Taiwan, Formosa, Japan, have left Dr. Makimoto Iwaga in perfect health and confident he will never contract the dreaded disease.

Stopping at Montreal on his way to Berlin, where he will deliver a paper on his experiments with ultra-violet rays and lepric bacilli before a convention of scientists, the eminent Japanese physician told interviewers he was "neither courageous nor foolhardy" in believing it unlikely he should become a victim of leprosy. "And that simply because leprosy is not contagious, a fact not generally known by laymen but widely recognized among specialists in the matter," said Dr. Iwaga.

After years of laboratory experiments, Dr. Iwaga said he had recently killed lepric bacilli by the special ultra-violet rays. "But that is only a beginning," he added. "We have yet to negative the bacilli in the human organism—and that is a difficult step."

Condition of lepers in Formosa was described as follows by Dr. Iwaga: "Our lepers live in comfortable sanatoria, equipped with the very latest in scientific apparatus and receive the careful attention of physicians who keep posted on every development of science as it affects their specialty. Their is almost the life of a normal human being. Marriages between lepers are not infrequent and are sanctioned by the Japanese government. Missionaries and nuns are usually attached to these sanitoria and it is a curious fact that sooner or later nearly all lepers become Christians."

BRUCE REVIEWS RADIO SYSTEM IN AUSTRALIA

Commonwealth Minister Interested In Commission To Be Appointed To Supervise Canadian Radio.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1. (CP)—Australia's nationally-owned radio system, now controlled by a commission of five, is working well, Rt. Hon. Stanley M. Bruce told The Canadian Press after the Imperial Conference. The leader of the Australian delegation expressed interest in the national broadcasting commission to be appointed to supervise Canadian radio.

Mr. Bruce stressed the importance of selecting qualified commissioners and said the entire Australian supervisory body had been chosen because of cultural background, business efficiency and general sympathy with important public movements. "Be sure you do not let politics play a part in the selection" he advised.

"I do not think any of the Australian commission members were ever mixed up in politics" Mr. Bruce said. Great interest and considerable satisfaction had been expressed with regard to the Australian commission, which acts in an advisory capacity and as a court of final appeal, but does not do the executive work. The commissioners are part-time workers and receive a remuneration $400 each annually with $500 for the chairman.

Chairman of the commission is C. Lloyd Jones, managing director of a large Sydney business and well known as a lover of music and art. Herbert Brookes, vice-chairman is universally respected for his worth in public life and business circles, Mr. Bruce said, and has high musical and literary qualifications.

Professor Wallace, vice-chancellor of Sydney University, brought light and learning to the board, Mr. Bruce considered, while R. B. Orchard is noted for organizing ability in the entertainment world. The sole woman member, Mrs. Claude Couchman, is president of the Australian Women's National League and has for many years interest herself in public activities of many and diverse kinds.

The Commonwealth maintains what are called "A" class broadcasting stations. They carry no advertising and their use in political campaigns is restricted to one speech by each leader. They receive part of the revenue from radio licences, ear-marking part of it for entertainment purposes.

The Government also grants licenses to what are known as "B" class stations. These are commercial enterprises, selling their time for both advertising and political propaganda. They derive no benefit from the radio revenue and must sink or swim by their own efforts.

For some years entertainment companies contracted with the national stations to provide programs, but since July this responsibility has been given to the part-time commission of five persons. It will act in an advisory capacity, without doing executive work. The chairman will receive $2,000 a year and other commissioners $1,000.

There are two national stations in each state of the Commonwealth, said Mr. Bruce. Their news broadcasts are handled by the leading daily newspapers in each state capital.

MILLIONAIRES INVITED TO SETTLE IN PERSIA

LONDON—Twenty Indian multi-millionaires owning a combined fortune of $350,000,000 have been invited to leave their homes in Bombay and settle in Persia. The request made by the Persian government is part of a scheme to set aside 1,000 square miles of Persian land for Indian parsees whose ancestors were driven out of Persia more than 1,200 years ago.

RICHEST WOMAN LEAVES LITTLE

Estate of Mrs. Edith Rockefeler McCormick Said to Have Shrunk Badly.

$2,000,000 Gem Collection.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Did Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, social dictator of Chicago for 30 years and long known as the "world's richest woman," die practically penniless?

Lawyers and business associates familiar with the estate that once was valued at more than $40,000,000 said to-day it may have shrunk to such an extent that only enough remains to settle outstanding obligations.

Under present real estate valuations, those familiar with the McCormick holdings said the estate probably is worth very little.

"After it all is summed up, the estate may not be worth a cent," said former Judge Charles S. Cutting, who drew up Mrs. McCormick's will just three weeks before she died last Thursday.

"If financial conditions improve, the holdings may turn out to be worth a considerable sum. There is no one who could estimate accurately the value at present."

Included in the estate is a jewel collections said to be worth $2,000,000, a home in suburban Lake Forest reported to have cost $7,000,000, and her huge furnished mansion at 1000 Lake Shore Drive.

FISHERMEN GET SMALL RETURNS

Catches Increase in Eastern Division But Landed Values Drop.

FIGURES GIVEN.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 1—(CP)—Unfavorable marketing conditions are reflected in July statistics of the Eastern Fisheries Division, which show that while the total landings of fish increased 3,880,948 pounds over landings during the same month last year the value decreased $58,906.

Of the chief varieties landed, the catch of 19,227,900 pounds of cod was greater by 3,903,500 pounds than the July catch last year, but the value decreased $33,126.

The Nova Scotia catch was entirely responsible for the increase in the division, as smaller landings were made in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The herring catch increased 1,949,800 pounds due to heavier landings in Nova Scotia. Slight increases were noted in mackerel and halibut.

Increase of 676,200 pounds was shown in the lobsters. A total of 983,500 pounds were produced in the east coast of Cape Breton and the Magdalen Islands, the only parts of the division where the season was open during the month.

The catch of salmon fell off to 832,300 pounds, compared with 1,052,400 pounds last year, and there was a slight decrease in the landings of haddock.

Nova Scotia.—Total of all fish landed was 31,597,200 pounds, valued at $341,746, compared with 29,796,600 pounds, valued at $337,736, during July, 1931. In order of value the principal varieties taken were cod, mackrel, herring, lobsters, halibut, salmon and haddock.

New Brunswick.—Total of all fish landed was 7,472,100 pounds, valued at $106,600, compared with 10,920,-953 pounds, valued at $163,143 during July, 1931. In order of value the principal varieties taken were salmon, cod, hake and cusk, haddock, cardines and shad.

Prince Edward Island.—Total of all fish landed was 4,067,700 pounds, valued at $48,184, compared with 4,836,800 pounds, valued at $55,636 during July, 1931. In order of value the principal varieties taken were cod, lobsters, clams and quahaugs, mackrel, hake and cusk, and salmon.

Her Hand Felt Dead

Helpless With Rheumatism

At one time she thought she would lose the use of her right hand. But "a blessing" — in the form of Kruschen Salts — put her right again.

"I was sure in a bad state," she writes. "In fact, I could not do my housework. I was so bad with rheumatism in my arms and hands. I could not sleep at nights and had to get up and heat water to ease my pain and numbness. I took all kinds of medicines. I rubbed it and plastered it—but it was still there. I thought I would lose the use of my right hand. I cou'd not hold anything, nor could I sew a button on. My arm would go dead. I was advised to try Kruschen, and inside of three weeks I found such a change. I have kept on taking it, and am so thankful for the blessings I have received in Kruschen. Now I sleep all night—thanks to Kruschen's help and relief." — (Mrs.) J. H.

The six salts in Kruschen stimulate the liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action; assist them to get rid of the excess uric acid which is the cause of all rheumatic suffering. When poisonous uric acid gets —with its deposits of needle-pointed crystals — there's no doubt about those aches and pains going, too!

Woman Finds Abandoned House, Moves In Waits Two Years In Vain For Landlord

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 1. — For two years Mrs. John Docker and her three children lived in a formerly vacant house, waiting each day for a landlord to appear and demand rent. To-day Mrs. Docker cleared her husband with non-support, and told Magistrate C. H. Hawkshaw she could no longer keep her family fed and clothed without money.

Two years ago, the woman said, she was left destitute when her husband deserted her. Unable to find work, she found a vacant house standing in an overgrown and abandoned garden. She entered and stayed, expecting day by day to be evicted.

She had made equiries but could find no one who knew the owner of the building. For two years, however, there hung over her fear that some day the owner would appear, demand rent, and turn her and her children out when she found she was unable to pay.

Her husband, she said, worked for a farmer, and is paid six dollars a week and board. She asked that he and his children be given three dollars a week for their maintenance from her husband's pay.

ALBANIAN GIRLS LEARN COOKING

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.— (By the Canadian Press.)— Adella Chickering of Spencer, Mass., says she has never been afraid, never bored, and has enjoyed her experiences. They include a night's sleep in a one-room hut with 12 persons and five cows; the bombardment of a Turkish town where she was quartered, and the crumbling of her house in Caucasia during an earthquake.

She has just sailed to teach the rudiments of housekeeping to Albanian girls, hoping to teach them to prepare foods other than their present daily diet of barley bread barley tea, and onions. Her headquarters will be the Albanian-American institute for rural youth maintained at Kavaje, to introduce into the little Balkan country its first courses in domestic science and home arts.

Originally planned as an agricultural school for boys, the institute started a girl's department when King Zog held that "We cannot be a modern state without educated women; no nation can rise higher than its womanhood."

To matters of diet, Miss Chickering will add her knowledge of making stylish dresses out of thee beautful fabrics worn in Albania. "I am hoping there is no excitement, but if there is I'll be ready," said Miss Chickering. "I have never been to Albania, but I know the girls are of a high type, eager to learn the ways of western civilization."

FASHION SERVICE

And it's as simple as falling off a log to make it. The cost is surprisingly small.

Style No. 2949 is designed for sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust.

Batiste prints, tub silks, pique and linen are also appropriate.

IMMATURITY AND CULLS INJURE FRUIT BUSINESS

Ontario growers are again advised against the practise of placing immature fruit on the market.

C. E. Broughton, of the Ontario Marketing Board, reports that only recently, he noticed a quantity of plums on the Toronto market which should have been left on the trees for at least another two weeks.

Another practnce, deterimental to the business as a whole, is that of selling cull fruit to jobbers who are definitely in the market for thin quality of produce. Generally, it does not seem to be known that there is a law against selling culls, unless these are being transported direct to a processing plant, to be used in the manufacture of apple by-products.

According to Mr. Broughton, growers should co-operate in an effort to keep the market free from culls. The marketing of culls does serious injury to the entire trade, through creating dissatisfied customers.

CELTIC BARDS HOLD MEETING

Old Fables About The "Dancing Stones" Will Be Retold.

EARLY PAGAN RITES.

TRURO, England, Sept. 1.— (By the Canadian Press.)—Truro, county town of Cornwall, will be the meeting place of men of Celtic history and legend from Sept. 6 to 10. At this Celtic Congress Cornishmen greet and talk with Bretons from Brittany and Welshmen from Wales. Old songs are sung at a Celtic concert.

Appropriately, the Gorsedd or Assembly of the Bards will be held during the meeting of the Congress on Sept. 9. This is a festival of poetry and music similar to the Eisteddfod of Wales. The "Merry Maidens," a famous circle of stones in Buryan Parish near Pensance, has been chosen as the gathering place of the Bards. Members of the Celtic Congress will attend.

Around the "Dawns-Maen," or Dancing Stones, as the "Merry Maidens" were called in the ancient Cornish tongue, the fable will once more be told. Onlookers will say that these were maidens who danced on the Sabaath and were turned to stone, with their attendant pipers represented by the adjacent Men-hir or Long-stones. Antiquarians will reply that the story is a Christian fable imposed upon a pre-historic monument, for the stone circle dates back far beyond the era when dancing on Sunday became a crime and is more probably associated with early pagan rites and ceremonies.

That Body of Yours

USE OF LIME FOR SKIN IRRITATION.

In certain ailments it is necessary in order to obtain results, to use drugs which cause a severe itching of the skin. At the patient has to continue the use of the drug the itching may be so severe that he scratches himself to obtain relief, particularly at night. The result is an irritable skin with blotches, lumps, rashes and soforth.

In order to obtain relief the patient often takes a number of baths daily into which a few handfuls of washing soda have been thrown. Sometimes a teaspoonful of baking soda three times a day gives relief from intense itching from the use of drugs or foods.

Drs. J. G. Downing and A. Blumenfeld have used lime in the form of calcium gluconate in a number of these skin conditions due to scratching the itching skin.

The lime was given in three different ways, by mouth, by the veins, and by injection into the skin, the injection into the skin being the method preferred by these physicians. Where the patient preferred to take the lime by mouth or where circumstances made this method necessary, the dose was one teaspoonful of the lime or calcium gluconate in the powdered form three times a day.

I have spoken before about the use of chloride of lime or calcium chloride for various skin conditions. This is not the chloride of lime used for disinfecting purposes. Unfortunately very few druggists or wholesale drug houses put up this drug for internal uses, but it can be obtained in some places in the form of syrup of chloride of lime, 15 grains of chloride of lime to two teaspoonfuls of syrup, which is the usual dose.

It also happens that some patients cannot take chloride of lime even well protected by syrup; it upsets the stomach. In some cases also the kidneys are irritated by the use of the chloride of lime. For these reasons therefore it is very satisfactory to learn of the excellent results obtained by the lime or calcium, as it is more palatable, and thus easier to take by the mouth.

Lime is needed by every cell in the body at all times, and an extra amount must be taken when certain drugs and foods are taken, or when other conditions arise within the body itself.

Mrs. R. C. Willis and daughter Shirley of Toronto, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parker, 515 Bolivar street.

The Border Cities Star of Windsor, Ontario, carries an item which is of interest to local citizens, as Miss Marion McGrath is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGrath, of Walkerville, formerly of Peterborough, and granddaughter of the late Mr. T. B. McGrath of this city. The article refers to scholarships recently awarded by the University of Western Ontario in London, based on departmental examinations held during June and July of this year. The opening paragraph says: "Marion McGrath, of Walkerville Collegiate, made a startling clean-up in the exams but is ineligible for College of Arts awards because she is on the list of Bascis Hall in London and her studies are to be continued there." The list of seven awards which Miss McGrath captured, but for which she was ruled out on account of the above-mentioned reason, included a scholarship of $50 cash value and two years' free tuition in the University College of Arts, total $250. In this award, Miss McGrath would have been eligible in three sections in which her standing was highest; English, Latin, Algebra and geometry; Algebra, geometry, French, German, or Spanish; English, French, German or Spanish. She also ranked for a scholarship in Latin valued at $25 cash and one year's tuition in University College, total value $125; and for a scholarship in French and one in German of the same type and value. Finally, Miss McGrath, all of whose awards reverted to other scholars, as stated above, ranked first in Walkerville Collegiate Institute for a two-year tuition scholarship in the University College of Arts, valued at $200 and awarded to each collegiate institute or high school in the fourteen counties mentioned in the Charter of the University of Western Ontario. These are general proficiency scholarships depending upon the results in nine upper school papers.

Miss Helen Barrie, whose wedding to Mr. Jack Douglas, Wills, B.Sc., of Toronto, takes place on Saturday, entertained about one hundred guests at a delightful trousseau tea, held yesterday afternoon from four to seven o'clock at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. J. Johnston, 19 Park street north. A profusion of lovely flowers decorated the reception and tea rooms and the upper rooms where the gifts and linens were displayed. Beautifully-tinted gladioli filled tall standards and baskets, with asters, petunias and zinnias in low bowls and vases. Miss Barrie was assisted in receiving by her grandmother, Mrs. Johnston, and her mother, Mrs. E. M. Barrie, while her aunt, Mrs. Frank Barrie, directed the guests and little Aileen Russell received the gifts. Mrs. K. J. Donoghue New Liskeard ushered the ladies to the tea room, where Mrs. J. Pilling presided, assisted by Mrs. R. Wilkinson of Toronto, Mrs. H. Clark, Mrs. Cox, Miss B. Gillespie and Mrs. E. Rahmel of this city. Mrs A. Pinn showed the gifts, Miss Iva Pilling the linens and Miss Marion Pilling the trousseau. The tea table was done very charmingly in a color scheme of rose and silver. Covered by a large doily of antique filet lace, the service was carried out in silver and rose pink china. The centerpiece was a circular mirror reflector holding a tall silver basket filled with deep rose and pale pink feather-edged asters. Four junior silver candlesticks held tall pink tapers. A bowl of pink petunias and pink candles in silver holders were on the buffet and the large window was filled with a nursery bedding deep pink gladioli.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

PAPER NAPKINS, so commonly used for picnics and for meals at summer camps and cottages, have so many uses about a kitchen that I heard one woman say they were practically indispensable in her home.

She keeps a napkin on the table by her when preparing food, making cakes, etc. Whenever her fingers get a bit of an ingredient which is liquid or sticky, on them, she wipes them off on the napkin.

If needed, she first dips them in water and then wipes them on the napkin. There is no danger of getting door knobs sticky, or the containers one touches, when this is done, and every homemaker realizes that it is not easy to keep knobs immaculate without some such precaution.

Used paper napkins are just the thing to wipe off tables with, which have milk or other liquids spilled on them. They are good to take off specks and crumbs, also.

Then when it is soiled and sticky, the napkin may be burned.

When water is scarce, which sometimes happens in places without city water, the use of paper napkins can simplify dish washing. One woman does what she calls paper-napkin washing.

Each dish is wiped out with a paper napkin and each piece of silver, also, before it goes into the dish water. As this takes away practically all foods from the dishes, the dish water does not get specks and liquids from foods in it and a small quantity of water will do a great many more dishes.

If pans and cooking utensils are thus paper-napkin-washed, the work of cleaning them is cut in half.

As paper napkins are free from lint, they will make glass shine. There remain many homes where a reading lamp is liked better than any other artificial light for reading, writing, or sewing.

The chimneys will have a particularly clear lustre if a paper napkin is used to polish the glass when it is almost dry.

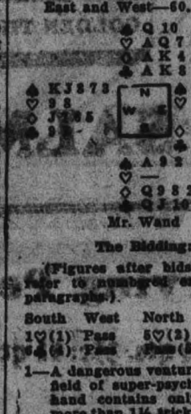
THE TIME FOR PSYCHICS

The time to make a psychic Opening bid is when your partner has all the face cards," says Mr. Ben Wand, Editor and Publisher of the "Southern Lumber Journal" of Jacksonville, Florida, in recounting a happy experience which followed his venture into the realm of super-psychics.

The principle laid down by Mr. Wand is extremely sound, but the means of learning when a partner, who has not yet spoken, has all the face cards he did not point out in submitting the hand shown below:

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North and South—40.
East and West—60.



Mr. Wand

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1♡(1)	Pass	5♡(2)	Dbl.(3)
6♣(4)	Pass	Pass(5)	Pass

1—A dangerous venture into the field of super-psychics. The hand contains only slightly more than 1½ tricks and the suit chosen for the psychic forray outranks any possible escape.

2—The element of surprise for partner is obvious. His response of only five, with his tremendous hand, is remarkable.

3—A very unwise Double. East should have suspected there was something unusual in the state of Florida.

4—South rescues himself and mentally forswears psychic bids, when vulnerable at least.

5—North's pass is probably based upon the expectation that East will double the club contract, as he has already doubled Hearts. With 5½ honor-tricks and an apparent fit in two suits, if South's bid is sound, it certainly must include the Ace of spades. A bid of seven, assuming the bidding to be regular, would not be a bad gamble.

In recounting the hand, Mr. Wand writes:

"Imagine my consternation when North jumped to five hearts, which East quickly doubled. Part of the reason for my psychic bid was for the benefit of my wife, who had chosen that moment to perch on a stool and do a little ribbitzing over my bids, whereas I thought it might be a good thing to let her see how opponents could be misled by a little daring bidding, even if vulnerable."

South's escape of six clubs went undoubled.

West led the fourth best spade and Mr. Wand made all the tricks.

In submitting this hand, Mr. Wand asked the following question:

"Had I passed, as I should have done, what would have been the proper bidding?"

The answer to this is that the proper bidding of the hand would have been:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1♡(1)	Pass
5♣	Pass	5♣(2)	Pass
6♣(3)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—Although North's hand contains 5½ honor-tricks, the distribution is unfavorable for an Opening Forcing bid and the score prevents a bid of two from being Forcing. With the condition of the score, North knows that South will respond to his bid of one, if the hand contains any kind of prospect of completing the game and rubber.

2—North's hand, in support of a suit bid, is very strong. However, it is not strong enough to bid for a Slam. Apparently, an honor-trick in spades must be in the South hand to justify a response. In any event, North feels that the contract of five should be reasonably safe, and if partner has either additional distribution or honor values he will bid six.

3—South's six-card trump suit and the Ace of spades justify the acceptance of his partner's strong invitation to bid the Slam.

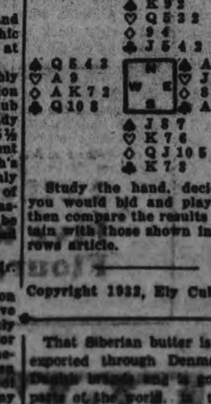
TODAY'S POINTER

Psychic bids are generally losing bids. The successful outcome recounted in the hand shown today was the result of partner holding the predominant honor strength.

Tomorrow's Hand

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

West—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.



Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

SCREEN ODDITIES

by Captain Roscoe Fawcett

Tallulah Bankhead is one of the most unusual personalities ever to be starred in pictures. She believes in doing just what she wants to do at the moment the mood strikes her. Accordingly she thought nothing of lying down on a divan when she felt drowsy and falling asleep although her home was filled with guests invited to the first party she gave after her arrival in Hollywood.

A favorite diversion of Jean Hersholt is bidding by telephone and letter at auctions of rare art objects. Before going to the studio in the morning he places his bid on pieces he desires. He does not know until he returns home later in the day whether or not his bid has been successful. Then, very often, he finds a choice art object awaiting him.

Owing to rigid censorship requirements imposed by the government it is practically impossible to show an American-made movie in Soviet Russia. Because the blowing of a factory whistle indicates that the people of capitalistic countries actually do not have to work all the time, such scenes are deleted from films by the Soviet censors.

WAITRESS SURE ECLIPSE IS HOAX

Montreal Girl Sticks to Opinion Whole Affair Invented by Newspapers.

MAY BELIEVE IT NOW.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1. — (CP) — Marie-Ange, an uptown waitress and among the most efficient of her tribe, is profoundly scornful of all astronomers. For all these weeks grave scientists have been wisely preparing for an eclipse and for all these weeks she, Marie-Ange, has known that it's just another publicity stunt.

Marie-Ange's unorthodoxy broke forth violently yesterday when a customer asked her if she would view the eclipse. "Certainly not," responded Marie-Ange. "This eclipse business was invented by the newspapers."

Missionary endeavor in the gospel of science as expounded by the laity, followed, but to no avail. "How can anyone say it will happen at just such a moment? It's impossible. They can't fool me." Marie-Ange changed her tactics: "Did you ever see such a thing happen?" she asked.

"Yes", lied a customer.

"Well, anyway, if I see it I'll believe it." And thus did Marie-Ange have the last word.

BEING READY FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Although the fear of diphtheria and its consequences has been removed to a large extent from parents' minds, that dread ailment Infantile Paralysis keeps threatening the lives and limbs of children.

Yet just as diphtheria has been overcome by medical science, so also can parents by careful watching prevent this ailment attacking their children; and even if the child does contract it, the paralysis that so frequently follows may be prevented.

Although it is called Infantile Paralysis, grown children, even adults, may contract it. Half of all the cases are under five years, four out of five are under ten years, nine out of ten are under fifteen years, nineteen out of twenty are under 20 years.

How can parents be prepared to prevent this ailment, or prevent paralysis should the child be attacked?

I have written frequently of the mistake many mothers make in using a clinical thermometer almost daily with their children. If the youngster has the slightest stomach or intestinal upset, the temperature will go up one or two degrees, which is really Nature's way of overcoming this upset.

However, in the late summer or early autumn months, if there is any Infantile Paralysis within miles of the home, the use of the thermometer would be very wise, because fever—a rise in temperature—is the most important early sign. The temperature should therefore be taken morning and evening.

They should not be allowed to play so hard that they may become over-tired, and they should have plenty of rest.

Parents should not let them get alarmed over his extra care on their part, as this might take away some of their "fight" or strength.

If the child shows the least sign of listlessness or tiredness he should be put to bed and the doctor called in.

The usual symptoms are headache, no appetite, tiredness, weakness, may have sick stomach. Sometimes he complains of sore throat. He becomes thirsty, flushed and feverish. Perhaps he is cross, or he may be just anxious and restless. He may be too drowsy and sleepy, though bright when roused up. He can't bend his head on his chest.

Rest is the best treatment. If the doctor is called the first day, and the serum is given, the child usually recovers, and no paralysis follows.

Parents should not be alarmed, but alert if the disease is in the neighborhood.

NOTE OF WARNING IS SOUNDED AGAINST MECHANICAL PROGRESS

Sir Alfred Erving Speaks At 101st Annual Meet of Science Advancement Group.

RAPS MASS PRODUCTION

YORK, England, Sept. 1.—(C.P.)—Sir Alfred Ewing, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, sounded a note of warning to mechanical progress as he opened the 101st annual meeting of the Association here to-night.

"We must admit that there is a sinister side even to the peaceful activities of those who in good faith and with the best intentions make it their business to adapt the resources of Nature to the use and convenience of man," Sir Alfred said in his presidential address.

"The cornucopia of the engineer has been shaken all over the earth, scattering everywhere an endowment of previously unpossessed and unimagined capacities and powers," he continued. "Beyond question many of these gifts are benefits to man. But we are acutely aware that the engineer's gifts have been and may be grievously abused. In some there is potential tragedy as well as present burden.

"Man was ethically unprepared for so great a bounty. In the slow evolution of morals he is unfit for the tremendous responsibility it entails. The command of nature has been put into his hands before he knows how to command himself.

"We invent the machinery of mass-production, and for the sake of cheapening the unit we develop output on a gigantic scale," he added. "Almost automatically the machine delivers a stream of articles in the creation of which the workman has had little part. He has lost the joy of craftsmanship. In many cases unemployment is thrust upon him an unemployment that is more saddening than any drudgery. And the world finds itself glutted with competitive commodities, produced in a quantity too great to be absorbed, though every nation strives to secure at least a home market by erecting tariff walls."

The president quoted from newspaper items telling of the inauguration of new mass production efforts, which, he said, "in different ways illustrated the tyranny of the machine.

"Where shall we look for a remedy?" he asked. "I cannot tell. Some may envisage a distant Utopia in which there will be a perfect adjustment of labor and the fruits of labor, a fair spreading of employment and of wages and of all the commodities that machines produce.

"Even so," he said, "the question will remain, how is man to spend the leisure he has won by handing over nearly all his burden to an untiring mechanical slave? Dare he hope for such spiritual betterment as will qualify him to use it well? God grant he may strive for that and attain it. It is only by seeking he will find. I cannot think that man is destined to atrophy and cease through cultivating what after all is one of his most God-like faculties, the creative ingenuity of the engineer."

Sir Alfred spoke with enthusiasm of the benefits of electrical communication which, he said, had brought distant parts of the earth's population into close contact and sympathy with one another.

"Through this physical linkage, which annihilates both space and time," he said, "there is opened a possibility of quick discussion, common resolution, simultaneous action. Can you imagine any practical gift of science more indispensable as a step towards establishing the sense of international brotherhood which we now consciously lack and wistfully desire?"

PLANS CONQUER STUBBORN REBEL

Royal Air Force Assist Irak Forces to Subdue Sheif Ahmed.

BAGDAD, Irak, Sept. 1 (C.P.).—The long history of "little wars" on the frontiers of Empire contains no incident more picturesque than the campaign waged by the Royal Air Force, aided by Irak air and ground detachments, against the recalcitrant Sheik Ahmed of Barzan in the hills of northern Kurdistan. A well-planned and brilliantly executed aerial offensive over what the official Colonial Office report styles "most dangerous and difficult country" brought the rebel chieftain swiftly to his knees, and peace reigns to-day in many villages which for years had suffered the oppression of a tyrant whose power, centred in an impregnable mountain stronghold, no ground attack could break.

Operations opened in March, when an Irak army column, a flight of the Irak air force, and rather more than a squadron of the Royal Air Force moved north. By the end of the month the ground forces were far in the mountains at Birisis, and it was near here that the aeroplanes extricated the soldiers from a position of grave peril. While the column marched forward the Sheik's warriors bided their time, and at a favorable moment they struck a sudden smashing blow at the supply section which was coming along some distance in the rear. The tribesmen captured much transport and the position was critical till the arrival of the R.A.F.

Airmen sent out on reconnaissance saw the attack on the column which was made in the morning. Early in the afternoon the aeroplanes counter-attacked from a low height with bombing and machine-gun fire, breaking up the rebel forces before dusk. On the two following days the ground column was fed, like Elijah, from the air; large quantities of food, blankets and ammunition were dropped in special parachute-supported containers. Thanks to these measures the ground column was able to reform and continue the march towards its appointed destination at Zhashok.

Again the tribesmen barred the way and again the aeroplanes came to the rescue, inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy in the course of sustained low bombing and machine-gun attacks. This time Sheik Ahmed took rather more than he could stomach, and the column reached Zhashok without further opposition.

Meanwhile, another ground column, supported by reconnaissance aircraft, occupied Barzan village in the heart of the Sheik's territory. A reconnaissance machine was forced to land among the rebels, and advantage was taken of the Sheik's request for a doctor to attend one of the occupants for serious injuries to send with him a political officer who began negotiations for peace. The Sheik, realising that his reign was over, withdrew soon after across the Turkish border and surrendered.

Romance Of Mollison Dawned Swift As Flight

Hero and Heroine of Air So on Find Themselves Together in Seventh Heaven Despite Inauspicious Introduction In Capetown.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. — Things happen quickly to people who fly. The course of live, or even love, may be turned as swiftly as the banking of a 'plane.

So it was with James Allan Mollison, hero of the first westward solo crossing of the Atlantic, who now is eager to fly right back to his bride of a month in England.

When the young Scot nosed down his 'plane for a triumphal night landing at Capetown last March, having set a record for the trip from London, he had no idea that the next few seconds were to bring him both a crack-up and the beginning of a romance.

However, Mollison did overshoot the runway and smash his ship. And one of the first to greet him as he climbed out uninjured was Miss Amy Johnson.

Their First Meeting

For Mollison, it was a rather humiliating first meeting with England's greatest woman flyer. He could only grin sheepishly as she said: "I'm awfully glad that you weren't hurt."

Amy has been glad ever since, for it was not long afterward that their engagement was announced. She chanced to be in Capetown during a leisurely air tour of the Empire, following her record-breaking the previous record for London and Australia and London and Tokio. Mollison also had made the 10,000 mile flight to Australia, breaking the previous record for men and lowering Miss Johnson's mark by seven days. So they had plenty to talk about.

Shortly before, when he had taken off from London, Mollison had revealed his engagement to Lady Diana Wellesley, daughter of Countess Cowley. But nothing more was heard publicly of that affair after the flier reached Capetown.

Determined Career

Like every other Britisher, he well knew the story of Amy Johnson—how she quit her secretary's job in London to take secret flying lessons only three years before; how she gave up dancing and tennis and swimming to devote every minute to pottering around airplane motors. She liked boxing, jiu-jitsu and pistol shooting. During her welcome in Australia she had soundly slapped a man who tried to kiss her. She seemed to care nothing at all for public admiration.

So perhaps Mollison was a little surprised to find that Miss Johnson was very feminine at heart, and that she looked marvellously glowing in a dance frock. Before he left South Africa they had mentioned the possibility of an Atlantic flight together. But by the time they met again in London she was making public protest against any encouragement being given him to start another hazardous flight.

After they had announced their engagement, in May, Mollison told of his plans for a solo hop to New York. Miss Johnson said firmly: "He won't go alone if I have anything to say about it."

There was almost a rift in their romance, but they did get married. And pledged themselves not to undertake any more dangerous flights. This pledge had to be renewed frequently, for they both found themselves planning new conquests of the air.

Finally Amy consented to her husband's solo flight, and went with him to Ireland to prepare for it. Before he started she flew alone to London to get him some long woollen underwear. And as his tiny plane, which they called the Heart's Content, became a speck on the westward sea the woman who herself has faced death a hundred times gave way to a flood of tears.

The flying bridegroom is heading home again. If he lands safely at Croydon, he says, they'll plan to do their adventuring together after this.

Orono Defeats C.G.E. 9-7 in First Play-Off Game

RAMBLERS GAIN EARLY LEAD TO BEAT ELECTRICS

Game Called in Eighth With C.G.E. Rapidly Overcoming Orono Lead.

ERRORS COSTLY.

Johny Russell Leads C. G. E. Stickers With Three Singles in Five Times.

Orme Gamsby's Orono Ramblers rambled into town last night and captured the first game of their O. B.A.A. play-down series with the C.G.E., beating the homesters 9 to 7 before a fair crowd at the Exhibition Grounds. The Electrics threw twelve men into the fray before darkness halted the contest at the end of the eighth, and they were rapidly overhauling the early lead piled up by the Ramblers when it was called.

The visitors turned in some healthy clouting off Connors, getting two runs in the first and three in the third. Ralph went in then and was nicked for four runs in the fourth, but pitched hitless ball the last four frames. Bowman went the route for Orono, and backed by good support, went along well til the last two stanzas when the C. G.E. crew began clouting him fairly hard. They got two in the third, three in the seventh and their last two in the eighth innings.

Errors Costly.

An error, a single and Osborne's triple gave the Ramblers their first two, while in the third frame they tallied three on two errors, a wild pitch, Colwell's double and Osborne's three-bagger. The four in the fourth were secured on three singles, an error and a double by Corden. Harold Ralph then settled down and pitched first-class ball the rest of the way, and his team began backing him up properly.

Singles by Russell and Hatton, with C. Corbett's triple gave the Electrics two in the third. They failed to score again till the seventh when a walk, singles by Russell and Corbett, with a wild pitch, accounted for three. With darkness settling rapidly, they ran in their last two in the eighth, singles by J. Jones and Gordon, an out, a pilfered base and a boot, sending them across.

Leads C.G.E. Stickers.

Johnny Russell led the C.G.E. stickers with three singles in five times up. C. Corbett had a triple and a single in four trips. C.G.E. outhit Orono, 10 to 8. For the Ramblers, Osborne was the hardest hitter with two triples in four appearances. Corden and Colwell were next with a double and a single apiece in four times.

The visiting team played a good defensive game, Osborne at short and Cameron in centre both looking good on tough ones. Russell, Corbett and Gordon all went particularly good in the field for C.G. E. and Len Hollingsworth drew a hand for a neat running catch.

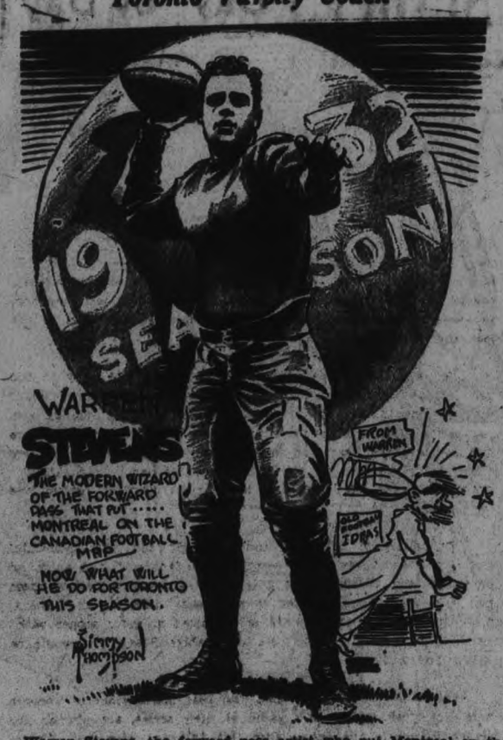
Blagden Wins Marathon Swim Honors

Toronto Varsity Coach



Warren Stevens, the forward pass artist who put Montreal on the football map is going to try to do the same thing for Toronto University as Director of Athletics. Critics seem to be confident in his ability to turn out a well-coached team this season. Warren has branched out from football and is about to take on a bigger and better job. In other words he is going to marry so the 1932 season should see the forward pass star mighty busy.

BEARS PRACTICALLY CLINCH INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE FLAG

Newark 14½ Games in the Lead With 22 Games to Go Before Finish of Season.

ROYALS GOING STRONG.

(By the Associated Press)

Having come through the season's last intersectional series in good style, the four southern clubs of the International League return home, secure in the position that if they do not finish in the places they now hold it won't be because of their northern rivals.

The south was almost completely triumphant in the northern tour which ended yesterday and now holds the favored side of most of the disputed posts. Only Albany, still technically a member of the southern division, failed to win more games than it lost on the road, while Montreal was the only team that could get as much as an even break at home.

Although they lost their final game to Buffalo, 4 to 2, yesterday, as Lefty Pfingstler came back from a long rest and hurled a steady game, the Newark Bears practically clinched the pennant with 13 victories against seven defeats on the road. This spurt placed them 14½ games ahead of the second place Baltimore Orioles with 23 games to go.

Baltimore also lost its last road game, going down before Rochester, 9 to 8, in a slow game. The Red Birds put over five runs in the second inning and won out principally through the clouting of Buster Mills, rookie centre fielder. Mills drove in four runs with a homer and a single.

The defeat gave Baltimore a record of 11 victories and nine defeats on the road and left the Orioles only a half game ahead of Buffalo, which won nine games and lost 7.

Royals Finish Strong.

Montreal finished with a record of 10 won and 10 lost and a half game margin over Rochester by splitting its final double-header with Albany. The Senators slugged out 18 hits and an 11-8 victory in the opener but Johnny Pomorski stopped them with five blows to win the second game, 3 to 0.

Toronto and Jersey City also split a two-ply bill as 11 pitchers went into action for the two teams. Seven hurlers failed to show much as the Leafs won the first game 12 to 9 and Ray Walker lost an argument with three Jersey flingers in the nightcap, when his team only got six hits and he yielded eight and a 5-3 decision.

Records of the other clubs for the intersectional series were: Jersey City 9-6; Rochester 8-9; Toronto 6-11, and Albany 7-13.

(By Jack Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, September 1 (C.P.).—Fully rested and glad it's all over George Blagden, the new king of swimdom, to-day rested on his laurels. In a gruelling 15-mile grind, Blagden yesterday defeated a field of 180 of the world's best natators to win the Canadian National Exhibition's open Marathon. And the Memphis, Tenn., law student, who proved somewhat of a surprise, beat the greatest opponent of all—old Lake Ontario.

In second place was Gianni Gambi, the Italian windmill, who threshed his way into that position in a rousing finish. Blagden, Gambi, and Isador Spondor, Port Colborne, Ont., who was third, broke the world's record for the time, with Blagden finishing in 7 hours 19 minutes 52 3-5 seconds. The best previous time for the distance was established by Marvin Nelson, Fort Dodge, Iowa, in 1930. On that occasion, Nelson won in 7 hours 43 minutes 36 2-5 seconds. Yesterday he beat that time himself, but couldn't do better than finish fourth.

Blagden won the swim by more than 200 yards, with Gambi in second place, and Spondor, the first Canadian to finish, in the third position. Next came Marvin Nelson, and in fifth place was Bill Goll, New York. Then in the final money place was Harry Glaney, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Big Disappointment.

George Young, Toronto, favorite for the race, was nearly drowned when he crashed into a float shortly after the half-way mark had been reached. Young, a favorite to win the event, was in fifth position at the time. Only prompt aid from other swimmers and from nearby boats prevented a tragedy, for Young sank immediately after striking the float, and was unconscious when taken from the water.

On a cot in the emergency hospital where he was rushed, Young announced his retirement from swimming, saying not again. I've got to quit loafing some time, and it might just as well be now.

Marvin Nelson, winner of the C.N.E. marathon in 1930, who took down fourth money in yesterday's event, announced last night he would like to meet Young in a five-mile race before the close of the Exhibition. "I beat him at Sault Ste. Marie and again at Stratford, but the people say he was stalling," Nelson said. "I am ready now to take him on when he is in the best of shape."

Did Not Hope To Win.

Blagden, 22 years a swimmer since he learned the dog paddle in the Mississippi when a youngster of five, came to Toronto only ten days ago to compete in the grind. Although I hardly figured I had a chance to come home in front, I hoped to get in the prize-money and qualify for the shorter swims next week, the congenial George declared as he stepped on the finishing float.

George, who tried his bar examinations shortly before he left for Toronto, is still awaiting the results but he's certain he passed, and hopes to make use of the $7,500 prize in opening a law practice in his home town.

HEAVY SLUGGING.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, September 1. — Selwyn motored home with the bacon on Tuesday night, when the first game of the play-off with Lakefield for the Casement Cup and the attraction which drew a large crowd to the softball diamond.

Both teams had a record of supporters and while it was a one-sided game it had some strong features and the park became of quite interest and players looked a good deal. W. J. GRATTAN WINS IN STRAIGHT HEATS

Lou Ganot Wins Other Belleville Harness Race Event.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 1. — Horse racing featured the second day of Belleville Fair, when two races, a 2.14 class and a 2.30 class, were carded. The 2.30 class attracted nine high-class pacers and W. J. Gratain, owned by Frank Orr, toe roped the field and won three straight heats.

This fellow was bred and raised in this city and under a skilful drive by "Babe" Elmhurst was never in danger. He went away in the pack the first heat and Elmhurst turned it on going into the turn the second half and the contest was over. Chief opposition came from Jimmy the Tramp, a Peterborough-owned horse. Great Scott Grattan, a futurity candidate at the C.N.E., Toronto, was never in the picture and after the first heat was rough in his going.

Another local-trained horse, Lou Ganot, defeated a speedy bunch in the 2.14 class. Away badly in the first heat, Elmhurst tried but little, but in the second he took the good mare Marion R. Grattan and the trotter Macdougal the whole trip and won by a scant length in 2.10. The next two were also easy, although Chapman came on with the trotter in the fourth heat and made Elmhurst go another trip in 2.10 to win the verdict.

Cubs Run Winning Record to 12 Consecutive Games by Defeating Giants 10-9.

DODGERS WIN DOUBLE.

(By Orio Robertson, Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Pittsburgh Pirates, fighting to hold their runner-up position in the National League pennant race, certainly can not claim honors for consistency.

In their run up the standings and their quick tumble out of a commanding position at the top, the Corsairs have played alternately brilliant and mediocre ball. They have won in clusters of seven, sixes and fives to gladden the hearts of their supporters. In contrast they have lost 10 straight games and dropped 21 out of 26 contests.

Now they are away on another winning streak, having accounted for their fifth straight yesterday when Captain Pie Traynor parked a home run in the bleachers with Comorosky aboard to defeat the Braves 2 to 1. Incidentally it gave the Pirates a clean sweep of their four-game series with Boston.

12th Win For Cubs

The Chicago Cubs ran their winning record to 12 consecutive games in a weird 10 to 9 decision over the New York Giants. The Giants chased Lon Warneke, the league's leading hurler, to the showers in the first inning only to have the Cubs tie the count in the ninth when Kiki Cuyler singled, scoring Demaree. The Giants came right back with four runs, thanks to Guy Bush's wildness, but Mark Koenig and Cuyler teamed to give the league leaders five in their half of the frame. Koenig hit a homer with two out and then with two mates on base, Kiki came through with a four base blow.

Dodgers Win Double

The Dodgers took a well-pitched and a slugging orgy from the Reds, winning the opener 7 to 1 behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Clark and the nightcap 11 to 10. Manager Carey used six pitchers in the second game while Dan Mowley sent three to the firing line. Dazzy Vance finally managed to stop the Reds but Joe Shaute received credit for the victory largely because he was pitching when the Dodgers went out in front.

Tigers Break Streak

In the American League the Tigers broke Tony Freitas' winning streak at 10 straight, when Elon Hogsett hit two homer and Gehringer one to defeat the Athletics 5 to 4.

The Washington Senators completed their sweep of a three game series with the Browns, winning 7 to 6 with the aid of some hard and timely hitting and six St. Louis errors. The Browns scored all of their runs in the sixth.

All other teams were idle.

MAX BAER DECLARED WINNER STRANGEST KNOCKOUT OF RING

CHICAGO, Sept. 1. (CP)—Max Baer, California's contender for the heavyweight championship of the world, to-day had a knock-out over Ernie Schaaf of Boston—but it will never find its way into the record books.

After one of the most astonishing finishes seen in any ring, Schaaf, the protege of Jack Sharkey, world heavyweight titleholder, was stretched out cold in the ballyard of the Chicago stadium last night, knocked out just as the bell sounded ending their ten round contest. From the battle Baer salvaged a mere decision victory over the man who had been regarded as the better of the younger contenders.

For the second to the ninth round it had not been so much of a fight. Then, as then 10th round started Baer, an old-fashioned long distance fighter, piled into Schaaf with a withering assault to the head.

Schaaf had fought his way out of a few similar flurries earlier in the bout, but this time, Baer kept firing, smothering the Boston Blond's efforts to fight free. The 10th was the same only more so. Baer chipped Schaaf with short numing shots to the chin and jaw with both hands and Ernie's legs began to buckle. He had plenty of courage and ability to take it and with but seconds left to go, was still on his feet, but leaning on the ropes.

Two mode bruising rights landed on Schaaf's unprotected jaw and down he went just as the final bell sounded.

Ben Doesterling of La Grande, Ore., set a record for swimming approximately four and a half miles in chilly Wallace Lake in one hour 56 seconds.

BRITISHERS HAVE HIGH HOPES OF GAINING REVENGE ON U.S.

Foursome Matches To-day.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 1 (C.P.)—Captain Tony Torrance today led the strongest Walker Cup team that Britain has mustered in ten years of competition, out to do battle with the United States defenders led by Francis Ouimet.

This golf club layout should inspire the U. S. captain, for just 19 years ago Ouimet astounded the world by defeating the great Britons, Vardon and Ray, for the United State Open title over these links.

Torrance and his well-balanced teammates have high hopes of wiping out the crushing 11—1 defeat Great Britain suffered two years ago on the other side of the water. There have been six previous Walker Cup matches and all have gone against the Britons. Ouimet has been a member of every U. S. team and five of his mates also have participated in other Walker Cup campaigns.

Foursome Matches To-day

Four foursome matches opened the competition to-day and on Friday the eight singles will be played.

To-day's schedule was:—

Tony Torrance and John DeForest, Great Britain, vs. Gus Moreland and Charlie Seaver.

Bill Stout and Johnny Burke, Great Britain, vs. Francis Ouimet and George Dunlap, Jr.

BRINTONS LOSE TO MILLBROOK

Local Lacrosse Team Blanked by Villagers.

GAME WAS CLEAN.

The Millbrook City Lacrosse League team added to their string of victories last night by defeating Brintons, 6 to 0, in Millbrook before a small crowd of fans. While the homesters showed superiority all the way through, the game would doubtless have been closer if Brintons were at full strength. Lemarr, Graham, Hatton, Red Creighton and K. Creighton and Miller being unable to make the trip.

It was a fast, clean game, and although weakened the Brintons kept their opponents well covered. And the goals scored were earned. Young McNaughton was brilliant in the losers' net, and had to be to keep the strong Millbrook players down to six markers. The players on both sides battled hard despite the heat. The goals were scored by Freelove 2, Sloan 2, Richards 1, and G. Grey 1. The teams:

Referee, Wm. O'Brien of Millbrook.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Hit By Race Driver Spectator Injured

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 1.—A race driver hurled from his sulky during the harness events at the local track yesterday, dived head-first against the chest of Lou G. Bennett, veteran race-horse owner.

Bennett, who was sitting on a lorry watching the races, was severely injured, and at the hospital it was found a number of ribs had been broken.

The spill occurred during the running of a race, when a horse bolted from the track and the sulky struck a parked auto, hurling the driver through the air.

NEW TORONTO OUSTS PONIES

OUTHIT 13 TO 7.

KINGSTON, Sept. 1.—Kingston Ponies, champions of the Central Ontario Baseball League, passed out of the picture here last night when they bowed to New Toronto by 7 to 4 in the second game of the O.B.A.A. playdowns. New Toronto won the first game last Saturday in Toronto.

New Toronto found no difficulty in hitting the offerings of 'Yammy' Jamieson, stellar pitcher of the Ponies. In addition they were helped by loose fielding on the part of the Ponies at crucial times. Jepson of New Toronto pitched a sparkling brand of ball, and except for the sixth and eighth innings was not in danger. He restricted the Ponies to three hits in the first seven innings, and after a three-run rally in the eighth he closed down to halt the scoring.

Scattered Hits.

The seven Kingston hits were spread out over the first four batters on the line-up.

(BY C. J. P.)

Well, things didn't go so well for C.G.E. last night, the Orono Ramblers coming through with a 9-7 win in the first game of their intermediate O.B.A.A. playdown series. The second one takes place at Newcastle Saturday at three o'clock (Daylight Saving Time). The Electrics may cop this one with Abbie Rose twirling. In fact, they'll have to win this one or hang up their spikes for the year.

* * * * * * *

At that, if the game had been started on time—and it was the Electrics' fault that it wasn't—they would probably have won, as they scored five runs in the last two frames and were getting onto Bowman's pitching fast. He's a fair twirler and received good support, though his catcher has no arm at all, and opponents steal one and two bases every time they get on. As a whole, the Ramblers do not look any better than C.G.E., in our opinion.

* * * * * *

The local lads kicked in with some costly boots early in the game, which along with some healthy clouting, gave the Orono team the early lead. Ralph held them hitless the last four innings, and had better support as the game progressed. The losers got two more hits that the other team and stole eleven bases to none, but had five more left on base than the victors. As far as earned runs go, C.G.E. would have won easily, getting five earned counters against one for Orono.

* * * * * * *

The calling of balls and strikes by Rowden, umpire-in-chief from Port Hope, wasn't the best and the fans told him so in no uncertain terms. However, he gave C.G.E. a break by letting them play that eighth inning when it was pretty dark for an O.B.A.A. playdown game. It should have been started an hour sooner without a doubt, and if it had, most likely Abbie Rose's boys would be sitting pretty now.

* * * * * * *

While the Kiwanis Kaptains, who beat McMurrichs of Toronto here last week in the first game of their series, are playing the return fixture in the Queen City this Saturday afternoon, Pirates and Toronto McCormicks clash in their second junior playdown game. Starts at 2.30 at Stevenson Park. For a while, it looked as if this game would have to be shifted, as it seemed likely that Kingston and New Toronto would stage their third game here, but then the Ponies lost out.

* * * * * * *

The score was 7-4 for New Toronto last night, the conquerors of Oshawa going right into Kingston for their second straight win. Good pitching by Jepson and hard hitting by the Toronto team did the work last night, Kingston's five errors also helping. The Holdenby brothers came through with four hits between them, including a homer, triple, double and single. Jamieson didn't hurl any shucks, either.

* * * * * * *

That New Toronto team is a sort of surprising quantity, proving a big upset in both the Oshawa and the Kingston series. A few days ago, the Oshawa sports writer informed us that, while they were just so-so at pitching and fielding, they had four or five dangerous hitters on the lineup, and these boys came through in just the right spots to beat the Motor City squad. Apparently they repeated against the Ponies, though even their own supporters didn't figure they'd take the second game in a row. Tough luck, Kingston.

* * * * * * *

Maple Leafs, leaders of the second half of the Girls' Softball League, took it on the chin last night in an exhibition game at the Bowl. The Park Hill lassies slipped them the wrong side of a 13-9 count, both teams using four pitchers. Is this the handwriting on the wall for the Leafs, who play-off next week, or will it act as a stimulus?

* * * * * * *

Westclox and Keene play off at the Bowl at 6.30 this eve, it being the second game of their series to declare a first-half leader. Keene took the first and a win to-night for them will eliminate the Clockers and threw Keene and the Leafs in against each other in the finals. A win for Westclox will mean another game to settle the first half.

* * * * * * *

Brinton lacrossers dropped another one to Millbrook last night, 6-0. Without taking anything from the Millbrook boys, we must point out that Brintons were minus four or five of their regulars, and therefore did not give their opponents as good a battle as they should. On account of the Oakwood Grads-Peterborough game in Toronto to-night, Red Creighton was asked to be let off for the tussle last night, and then several of the others didn't show up. Of course, that's all to the good for the out-of-towners, and Brintons' own funeral.

St. Matthew's Rink Leading At Oshawa

OSHAWA, Sept. 1.—With rinks from Toronto, Port Hope, Peterborough, Whitby, Bowmanville and Oshawa in competition, an interesting bowling tourney for the John Stacey Cup was held on the greens of the Oshawa Bowling Club yesterday.

Four games were played, and the last game was not started until a late hour last night. At that time W. Hogarth's rink from the St. Matthew's Club, Toronto, was in a leading position with three straight wins and an aggregate score of 1. First honors between these two rinks. The fourth game with the trophy at stake, was still in progress at midnight. The score for the first three games were as follows:

CANADIANS AND OLD-TIMERS DRAW

H. Darling Opened Scoring For Canadians—Hakin Gets the Equalizer.

A real fast game between the Canadians and the Old Timers took place, last night, before a good attendance of spectators when the score ended in a draw—one goal each. The Canadians are throwing out a challenge to any other nationality on behalf of charity.

First Half

The Canadians won the toss to bombard Old Timer's goal to keep the full backs on the alert to save their citadel. Through the nice combination of the Canadian they opened the scoring through the effort of Harold Darling. Exchanges continued on an even basis for a while with the senior halves demonstrating the expectant movement of the wing men. From a break away by the Old Timers Haking got the equalizer. They tried to add to the score through close passing methods that only tested out Melrose in goal. Half time, Canadians 1, Old Timers 1.

Half Time

On resuming, the Old Timers bothered the Canadian's defense to get a foul off Melrose for carrying the ball outside his own area, but it didn't amount to anything. Then Jack Chambers broke through on his own to find the Canadian goalie right on the spot to stop his attempt to score. Later in the tussle he again enacted he same performance to be repulsed. Near the finish, Dyer, junior had hard luck in not registering. But the Old Timers were checking closely to make the score stand. Canadians 1, Old Timers 1.

Canadians—L. Melrose, goal; Art Downer and Asa Downer, full backs; J. Mayette, S. Clark and G. Earle, halves; E. Jones, F. Dyer, jr., D. Evans, H. Darling and G. Downer, forwards.

Old Timers—W. Curtis, goal; H. Hoteon and J. Chambers, full backs; H. Burrows, H. Mann and A. Roberts, halves; J. Young, E. Hakin, F. Dyer, sr., J. Hodson and T. Foster, forwards.

Referees—J. Clark and A. McKinley.

Constance Bennett in "What Price Hollywood?"

He grew tired of being only Mr. Mary Evans. He married a moving picture star and he hadn't any privacy, any home, any peace of mind. So he cracked up.

It is written that Constance Bennett exacts a great deal of attention from those who direct her pictures. She is always very much "Madame la Marquise", if the people who write in picture magazines can be relied upon. They say "please", when they ask her to do some work.

In "What Price Hollywood?", she is the movie-struck waitress in "The Brown Derby", and Lowell Sherman, with a hangover and a gay outlook, discovers her there and introduces here to the silver screen and the temperamental Mr. Saxe (Gregory Ratoff), who engineers her rise to stardom.

The two supporting males of the cast almost steal the picture from the lovely star. They have notable parts and get through them in splendid style. Lowell Sherman as the dipsomaniac who ruins his own career through drink and does his best to smash the life of Mary Evans, is immense. The power of makeup is demonstrated in the facial change which he undergoes when he slides down the ladder of life. Then there is Neil Hamilton, as Lonny Borden, husband of Mary Evans, and a forthright young man who stops at little to gain his point.

It is an entertaining picture that centers its interest about the pitfalls, the highlights and the successes and failures, of life in Hollywood, as lived by those who make pictures for the public's approval.

All Records Broken For Overtime Golf

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 1 (C.P.)—Long distance golf records blew over Keller to-day as the fight for the professional championship entered the second round minus all but four qualifiers from the 1931 show.

Walter Hagen, five times king of the big professional championship, was among the missing—the victim of a record smashing 43-hole struggle against the iron nerved Johnny Golden of Noroton, Conn. Wee Bobby Cruickshank of New York was still in there pitching, with one of the most valiant uphill fights in golf on the right side of his ledger.

Hagen's stirring struggle against Golden, which ended after almost seven hours with a 10-foot putt for a birdie, shattered all marathon records for modern match play golf. The former mark was a 40-hole seven hours with a 10-foot putt for a birdie, shattered all marathon records for modern match play golf. The former mark was a 40-hole tussle between Reggie Lewis and Chick Evans in the 1920 national amateur.

Cruickshank was the hero of the under dog brigade to-day. Playing a weak game against Al Watrous of Detroit, he was nine down with only 13 holes to travel, but he boomed back on the tide of a sensational 33 on the front nine of the final rush and a great heart and finally overhauled his faltering rival on the 41st green.

Marathoners Take The Plunge, Seeking Fame And Fortune

Promptly at 11.05, on August 31, Premier George S. Henry Premier of Ontario, released the trigger of the miniature cannon that sent 139 swimmers off on a 15-mile jaunt that netted the first to finish (George S. Riagden, of Memphis, Tenn.) the handsome sum of $7,500. With the float's almost submerged under the weight of the hefty amateurs the start presented a fine spectacle with the strong sun glistening on the greased and slimy bodies of the entrants. The above layout shows scenes at the start of the race. (1) Premier Henry firing the cannon, the boom of which sounded mid-swimmers, with the splash created by the men striking the water. (2) The take-off with the Marathoners diving, plunging, or being pushed off the floats. (3) The field jockeying for positions as the race got under way. It was difficult to identify any one of the swimmers so close were they bunched at the start, but they had hardly gone half a lap when they began to string out, and ere long many of the would-be contenders were minding out 2000 calls.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

THE CARELESSNESS OF JOHNNY CHUCK.

There is a certain time when little folks, all kinds of little folks, are neither very little nor very big; they are half way between. But they don't feel half way between. Goodness, no! They feel quite grown up and all too often are quite sure that they know all there is to know. It is at this age that usually they get into the most trouble. No one can tell them anything.

And there is another age when people are no longer young, but have become set in their ways and find it difficult to learn new things, and are very sure of their opinions. Once more they are inclined to think that they know all there is to know. Now when any one, young or old, thinks he knows all there is to know you may be pretty sure that old Mr. Trouble is waiting for him just around the corner.

Johnny Chuck had been all through the first period. Of course Johnny has grandchildren if you must know. And now Johnny was at that second period of knowing all there is to know. He wouldn't have liked it at all, and would have indignantly said that it wasn't so, if you had told him that this was the case. But the truth is he was set in his ways and because he had done certain things in certain ways for so long he had come to think that those ways were the only ways. He had come to think that because Reddy Fox and Granny Fox and Old Man Coyote and Hooty the Owl never had caught him they never would be able to. He considered himself so much smarter than they that he had nothing to fear from them.

Now, when any person, big person, middle-size person or little person, gets to thinking that way, carelessness is just bound to result. And so it was with Johnny Chuck. He intended to be just as watchful as ever. For new dangers he was as watchful as ever. But for old dangers he had so much contempt that he was careless.

Now, when he built that house down in the far corner of the Old Orchard he had made the entrance between the roots of an old apple tree and these roots made it impossible for Reddy Fox or Old Man Coyote to dig him out if they wanted to. So there had been no need of a backdoor so far as they were concerned. No one had ever tried to dig him out there and he and Polly had lived with a delightful feeling of perfect security.

Very likely this was the reason that when he dug his new home up there by the dusty road he didn't think it necessary to dig a backdoor, although there wasn't anything under the sun to prevent anyone digging him out who might want to. Johnny had got it in his head that because no one had tried to dig him out in the old home no one would try to dig him out of the new one. I suspect, too, that the fact that digging was harder work than it used to be for him had something to do with the matter. Anyway the fact is there was but one entrance to that new home and any Chuck will tell you that to live that way is pure carelessness.

While that stone might be a protection in some ways, it was a decided cause of danger in another way.

Then, too, Johnny hadn't stopped to think that while that old stone wall might be a protection in some ways it was a decided cause of danger in another way. It gave enemies a chance to creep unseen right up behind him. But Johnny didn't think of this, wherein is shown once again how careless folks who are set in their ways may become.

For a third thing Johnny had got it in his head that no one really dared attack him now that he was so big and strong. This also made him careless. He didn't begin to watch out for Reddy Fox as he used to do when he was younger.

All these things Reddy Fox had discovered, and he and Mrs. Reddy grinned as they made their plans.

What To-Day Means To You

"VIRGO"

If September 1st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10.15 a.m. to noon, from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m., and from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from 8 a.m. to 9.45 a.m. and from 6.30 p.m. to 8.15 p.m.

On September 1st, the Stars foretell a day beset with many difficulties, but none of an insuperable nature. There will be present the temptation to magnify them. The only sure way to seek a happy issue is to face them squarely and calmly. There will be unexpected signs of improvement in mercantile conditions, and the bad weather prophets will be discomfited.

A boy born on this September 1st will, at a very early age, feel his oats, and will seek to walk unaided. He will have much force of character, as well as independence of spirit. A girl, on the other hand, will grow up to be rather helpless in face of trouble, and dependent all the time, on others. Both boy and girl will have affectionate natures.

You, if born on September 1st, are a very downright sort of person and rather opposed to compromise in any shape or form. It goes without saying that you are intolerant of others' weaknesses, and have little or no sympathy for those who fall by the wayside. You are hard on subordinates, and rarely give them that word of encouragement which so often inspires greater effort. Your servants and your help undoubtedly respect you, but they have little affection for you. In all fairness, it must be conceded that you are an equally hard taskmaster on yourself and you give to your work every ounce of energy of which you are capable.

Your disposition is a hard one. For those, however, who are bound to you by ties of intimacy and relationship, you feel an intense love and devotion, although you consider all demonstrativeness a weakness. You are too dogmatic to be successful as a companion, but that sense which convinces that you are right and forces you to persevere, in spite of friendly warnings, in a given course spells success. When difficulties arise, you are at your best. When failure threatens, you shine as undaunted and fearless.

FLUNKERS NOT ALL DUMBELLS; JUST NEED AID SAYS PROFESSOR

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 30—Not every student who flunks out of college is a dumb-bell. Nor are they all lazy.

Some of the failures, Dr. Luella Pressey has found, merely need a tooth pulled to develop a scholastic reversal of form. Others need to learn to adjust themselves.

Dr. Pressey of the Ohio State University psychology department had suspected something like this for a long time. So she organized small classes for students who found staying in school a lot like sticking to a bucking broncho.

The ones who appeared to lack proper preparation received a thorough brushing up on the subjects in which they were weak. Those whose health was not so good were hustled off to a physician for repairs. And those who couldn't seem to make themselves feel at ease in campus life were helped to analyze their troubles and to conquer them.

Now, Dr Pressey smiles and reports that students who have been helped in this way are doing better work, fewer so helped are leaving school without being graduated and all have gained a new courage and a better understanding of themselves. In addition, she said, most of them showed a general improvement in personality, another valuable asset in later life.

Taking a tip from Ohio, many other large colleges and universities are copying Dr. Pressey's methods but not even the most enthusiastic expect ever to elliminate the failure entirely.

"Still," they say, "the work will raise the scholastic average and help many to get a grip on themselves and go on through who otherwise might drop out entirely. This is a whole lot!"

500 RETAILERS PATRONIZE TORONTO FARM MARKET

That growers are endeavoring to lower marketing costs and, at the same time, ensure a reasonable return for their products, is exemplified by the operation of a farmers' market in Toronto. More than two hundred jobbers and growers are participating in this marketing system and, during the past year, it has been patronized by over five hundred retail merchants. The market is open six days a week. Activities commence at five o'clock each morning and are practically over three hours later. The daily fee to growers is twenty-five cents, while jobbers pay fifty cents.

Weather conditions have been favorable, and crop prospects are from average to somewhat better than normal.

RADIO BUYERS NEED LICENSE

Ottawa Makes It Offense to Sell or Service Set Otherwise.

EFFECTIVE SEPT. 1.

TORONTO, Sept. 1. — Toronto radio dealers have been notified by the Department of Marine, at Ottawa that it will be an offence, on and after Sept. 1, to sell any radio receiving set to, or service a set for, any person who is not the holder of a radio-receiving license issued by the department, it was revealed last night by several Toronto dealers.

The notification from Ottawa states that infringement of this order will result in the levying of a fine. It has met with a cold reception from most dealers, it was stated last night; one dealer declaring that he "will not work as a Government detective without pay because it can't collect its own fees."

Not Notified

Several other Toronto dealers stated they had heard of the notice but had not been notified yet themselves. Of these, a couple were inclined to treat the notice as something "which is only some more red tape." Another dealer explained that he had been forced to ignore the notice twice yesterday.

"Two instances occurred in which I was unable to comply with its provisions," stated M. Fenner, president of the Bloor and Bay Radio Service and Sales, formerly the Wentworth Company. "A man came in to buy a radio and said he had a license to operate his present set. He would take the new set with him. He did not live in Toronto.

"He did not have to have two licenses to have two sets in his house. The result was that I should have gone to his home, somewhere outside Toronto, and take a look at his license. Or else I could have refused to sell the set unless he bought another license. The last course was obviously ridiculous because I would merely have chased a sale out of my store.

Curve Lake Wins From Lakefield 13-1

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, September 1. —An exhibition game of baseball was played on Monday afternoon on the Fair grounds between the Curve Lake team and W. Grotefind's local nine, who have been practicing for the past few weeks. The visitors took home the big end of a 13-1 score and the locals felt that more practice was essential if the team was to click like their opponents did. The Curve Lake team is a strong team which has recently won a signal victory over the redoubtable Alderville team, and its smart team work was too much for the locals, nevertheless there is good material in the Grotefend outfit and intensive practice will produce a good team for another season.

Lakefield had five strike outs and nine walks while the Curve Lake pitchers had thirteen strike outs, and one walk. Junkin made the only run for the Lakefield team.

Jonas Jacobs was the plate umpire and R. C. Chittick and J. R. Hull were a the bases.

The line-up was as follows:

G. McCue c; P. Knott 1b; H. Taylor 2b; R. Taylor 3b; G. Taylor ss; C. Knott, rf; C. McCue lf; P. Whetung cf; M. Taylor sub.

Lakefield K. Junkin p; M. Kyle c; T. Leonard 1b; B. Wannamaker 2b; G. Wannamaker 3b; L. Babatino, 3b; D. White rf; G. O'Neil lf; V. McManus cf; E. Briant sub.

HASTINGS, Sept. 1 (Examiner Correspondence). — The scheduled games in the Trent Valley Bowling League between Hastings and Norwood on the latter's greens, resulted in two wins for each club. The games were all very close, with the exception of the first game between Kempt and Dodd, in which Kempt won 18 to 7; the bowling breaks all went with the Norwood team; the other game was a real battle from the first end till the extra end was played, before Kelly nosed the veteran Hughie MacDonald out by one shot.

LEX ROBSON WINS MILLAR CUP MATCH

Defeats Arthur Holbert By 3 and 2 in 18-Hole Final.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—Lex Robson, professional at the Islington Golf and Country Club, successfully defended the Millar Trophy yesterday on his home course when he defeated Arthur Hulbert, Throhill Golf and Country Club professional, by 3 and 2 in the 18-hole final before a gallery of 900 golfing enthusiasts.

The Millar Trophy was donated to professional golf by Melville Millar, secretary of the Islington Club. Robson, the Canadian professional golf champion, led the field through the qualifying round with a score of 137, and, as a consequence, won the principal portion of the prize money donated by professionals, the Islington Club and sporting goods firms.

The match was all square at the ninth hole. Robson played a brilliant shot at the eleventh, where he cut his ball from a trap back of the green and laid it dead for the hole, when it seemed that Hulbert might obtain a half after he had sliced a ball into the creek. Robson's shot from sand and grass proved the turning point in the match, which was terminated at the sixteenth hole. On account of the excessive heat, Robson and Hulbert refused to play the remaining holes and returned to the clubhouse.

Robson defeated Willie Spittal, Oakdale, in the semi-final round by 3 and 2. Robson was up 3 at the turn, and held his lead for the remainder of the match. Spittal played an excellent game, but was unfortunate with his putting. Hulbert and Robert Cunningham, Royal York, went to the last green, where Hulbert won, 1 up.

RING CHAMPIONS DISREGARD RULES

The National Boxing Association has a rule that holders of world's championships must defend their titles every six months. Extension of time may be granted if suitable evidence is produced that the champion is incapacitated, or if a suitable opponent fails to post a forfeit and sign articles for a championship match.

So far the N.B.A. has had little success making the heavyweight champion risk his title twice a year. Max Schmeling twice flaunted the N.B.A., and got away with it.

Jack Sharkey won the heavyweight title June 21 and under the N.B.A. rule should defend it by December 21. Sharkey probably won't get into the ring again until next summer even at the risk of the N.B.A. taking away its recognition of him.

The N.B.A. champions and the date on which they won or last defended their title and the expiration of the six months' period follow::—

Welterweight—Jackie Fields, Los Angeles, won title Jan. 29, 1932. Six months expired July 29, 1932.

Lightweight — Tony Canzoneri, New York, defended title Nov. 20, 1931. Six months expired May 20, 1932. Signed July 11 to meet Billy Petrolle at New York in August.

Featherweight. — Tommy Paul, Buffalo, won title May 26, 1932. Six months expires Nov. 26, 1932.

Bantamweight.—Al Brown, Panama, defended title July 10, 1932. Six months expires Jan. 10, 1933.

Flyweight.—Young Perez, France, won title Oct. 22, 1931. Six months expired April 22, 1932. Perez and Bob Cesar under contract and Perez ordered to meet Jackie Brown, England.

TARZAN, LORD OF THE JUNGLE. NO. 94 By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

Those of Ian Jad's Arabs who had pressed back toward the City of Nimmr, had been killed or captured by the doughty knights of Prince Gobred. Despairing of their coming and with his Galla slaves taken from him, the sheik strove frantically to get the remnants of his followers out of the hideous forest of the evil spirits. Nerve-shaken and weak from forced marches, the Arabs still clung to their loot from the valley of the sepulcher as they hastened north.

From the west a mailed knight rode down through the forests of Galla Land. A blue and silver pennon fluttered from his lance head. The housings of his charger were rich with gold and silver, the parting gifts of the two knights of the sepulcher. It was Jimmy Blake. And ranging westward, Tarzan of the Apes, coming upon their spoor, was following Fahd and Stumbol and the Princess of Nimmr.

Towards them all marched a hundred Ebon warriors, Tarzan's famed Waziri. With them came Zeyd, Ateja's faithful lover, who had been discovered in a nearby village. As they passed through the forest, Zeyd came upon the gruesome relics of two human beings. From a torn burnous and a white man's helmet, Zeyd believed this was all that remained of his enemy Fahd and Stumbol, the perfidious American. Conceiving the malice of which he could only guess.

Taking short cuts, Tarzan of the Apes, following the spoor of Guinalda and the two men, came upon the remains of the latter and a few hours after, encountered Toyat's tribe. Demanding if any of them had seen the white "she" the king-ape sullenly pointed southward over his shoulder. "Waka," he said briefly, and went on eating. Tarzan knew what the ape meant. Straight through the jungle he raced southward.

YOUNG FARMERS VISIT MARYVALE

ARRANGED BY MAYOR.

Maryvale Farm, the country estate of Frank P. O'Connor, where some of the finest dairy cattle in the province are bred, was yesterday visited by 60 junior farmers of Peterborough County. For the boys the event was outstanding in their education as scientific farmers, since they not only inspected the famed Maryvale Farm, but also Don Alda Farm, which also bears a reputation for superiority among all breeders of fine stock.

The young farmers were the guests of Mr. O'Connor and they had luncheon at Maryvale Farm, later inspecting the prize-winning cattle and the model barns. After a thorough tour of both farms, the boys were taken to the Toronto Exhibition, where they completed the day by taking in all the "sights."

Mayor Denne arranged for the boys' visit to Maryvale Farm and was assisted in selecting those for the trip by J. E. Nelson, agricultural representative. The boys made the trip by car, many Peterborough citizens assisting in their transportation by loaning their cars.

Judges Say Prisoner England's Most Sentenced Man.

Without delving deeply into court records those British judges who have been quelled on the subject pronounce Robert Arthur Cooper, who was recently sentenced at St. Albans to five years penal servitude for imposing on two women, to be the "most sentenced man in England" for in the last twenty-nine years he has served seventeen sentences, with cumulative terms amounting to twenty-five years and six months.

Here is his record as brought to the attention of the St. Albans judge who has now secluded him from society for the next five years:

1903—Three years reformatory sentence at Dewsbury Police Court.
1908—Six months at Bradford Sessions for stealing billiard balls.
1908—Twelve months at Worcester Assizes for stealing clothes.
1908—Three months at Liverpool police court for false pretenses.
1908—Twelve months for stealing jewelry.
1909—Eighteen months (concurrently) at Worcester for false pretenses.
1911—Two months at Bridlington for false pretenses.
1911—Three months at Leeds for credit by fraud.
1911—Twenty-one months at Stafford Assizes for false pretenses.
1913—Eighteen months at Bucks Assizes for false pretences.
1915—Three years penal servitude at Chester Assizes for false pretenses.
1917—Twelve months at Salisbury for false pretenses.
1919—Three years penal servitude at Warwick Assizes for stealing a gold ring and wallet.
1921—Five years penal servitude at Somerset Assizes for false pretenses.
1926—Eighteen months at King's Lynn for credit by fraud.
1928—Five years penal servitude at Stafford Assizes for false pretenses.

ALBERTA AREA IN COMEBACK DUE TO LAND

Country Once Abandoned By Farmers Produces Big Crops Again.

LURES THEM BACK

In the days when the Moose Jaw country was rolling in wealth derived from a succession of bountiful wheat harvests this Manyberries area (south of Medicine Hat in the extreme south-eastern part of Alberta) was being rapidly abandoned by a disgusted people as a region only fit for sheep ranching. Now, while large areas in Saskatchewan, once regarded as without peer for wheat farming, are staggering under their fourth successive crop failure, this "abandoned" country is rejoicing in a good crop, and this small railway point probably will ship 250,000 bushels of wheat, and Manyberries, six miles east, will ship another 300,000.

Few Who Stuck Profit.

The moral of all this may be that it is the persistent who inherit the earth. At any rate, it was the few faithful who refused to leave when all their neighbors "pulled out" a few years ago who are now benefiting from the heavy harvest which the numerous rains of this summer have brought them.

In this part of the prairie, eight years ago, every trail north and west was busy with farmers trekking it to better lands, in the Peace River country, around Edmonton, Red Oser, the foothills, or to irrigated regions. At least 80 per cent. of the original settlers left their locations, but a number left for a time, and later, finding it no better elsewhere, came back again. Probably a third as many farmers are in this country as there were sixteen years ago, but about half as much again is in wheat this summer as was then.

This country was taken from the cattle and the horse rancher in 1910 and thrown open to the homesteader. A heavy migration followed—from the British Isles, Ontario, Minnesota, North Dakota and Idaho principally—until by 1914 all the desirable homesteads were taken up and there were from one to four settlers, many with their families, on every section of land.

Had Two-Year Boom.

Two heavy harvests in 1915 and 1916 coincided with the coming of the railway and this whole country underwent a boom which carried it to the highwater mark. Even so modest a settlement as Orion had at that time four general stores, a hardware store, a drug store, a bank, two livery stables, two lumber yards, four grain elevators, a motor garage, a dance hall, two pool rooms, several implement agencies, three restaurants, a consolidated school, a church and fifteen to twenty [illegible]

Then, beginning with 1917, came a drought cycle which lasted eight years. Summer after summer rains were so light that even the best farmers were unable to make both ends meet. Abandonment began about 1918 and reached its peak about 1924.

That proved to the low ebb of its fortunes. The summer following the general abandonment rain began to fall again with greater frequency, and the trek back began. Many came back to find their abandoned places taken up by those who had remained and were compelled to start over again in an unfamiliar location.

DROP IN FURNITURE

Furniture took a big fall early yester at the corner of Charlotte and Park streets when A. Cherney's truck overturned. Laden with several tons of furniture—tables, chairs, beds and three stoves—which had been purchased in Toronto, the truck somersaulted when its driver, A. Lustic, applied the brakes, which locked. The heavy truck load came down with a crash and the furniture spilled far and wide over the pavement. The truck was litt[illegible] damaged, but the household goods were considerably splintered.

JAIL BREAKER GETS 6 MONTHS

Learns From Magistrate He Escaped Day Before Parole Was Due.

BEGS LENIENCY.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—(CP)—Joseph Brindle, escaped convict from Burwash reformatory, today heard six month added to his original sentence for shopbreaking and theft more than a year ago.

Brindle, who had lived in daily fear of capture since June 27, when he broke out of the reformatory, learned from Magistrate Burbidge he had escaped a day before his parole papers would have arrived and set him free.

He was badly shaken when he was told of his mistake and begged for leniency.

"I'd rather spend three years in Kingston (Portsmouth penitentiary) than return to Burwash," he cried.

Brindle escaped with two other men who were captured in a short time.

PERENNIALS SHOUL BE READY FOR FINAL PLANTING EARLY

In the milder sections of the country most perennials can be planted successfully until quite late in fall, but where the winters are severe care should be taken so that planting is finished several weeks before the ground is hard frozen and a mulch of straw or other suitable material applied.

Perennials that have been grown from seed sown in spring and transplanted during the summer should be ready to put in their permanent places in September. If the ground is dry water thoroughly so that the soil adheres to the roots when the plants are lifted. If planting in a border, group three to five plants of each variety together, leaving ample space so that each plant can develop to its full size.

Iris plants can be divided quite late in September although July and August are generally considered the best time to do this. At the Central Experimental Farm we have found that iris plants generally begin to show signs of failing after three or four years. When the flowers begin to grow small the plant should be dug up and the oldest parts of the rhizome discarded. Pieces with several fans of good healthy leaves should be chosen and three or four can be planted about a foot apart in a clump in a large border. In a small border a single division is sometimes sufficient. The soil where they have to go should be well dug and some bone meal added before replanting. The roots should be made firm but the rhizomes should be just at the surface of the soil. A sunny position should be chosen for the tall bearded varieties.

Peony can stay in the same place for many years, but in time the flowers begin to fail and grow smaller than they used to do. When this occurs it is time to move and divided them. September is the best season to do this. If it is possible to give them a new bed it is better to do so. If this cannot be done then the plants should be dug up and the old soil removed and new good soil put in its place. A handful of bonemeal for each plant should be mixed in with the new soil. After digging the plant, wash off all the soil and divide the roots as carefully as possible. Divisions with four or five eyes are the best for an ordinary garden though smaller divisions can be made if a larger number of plants are required. Peonies should be planted so that there is two inches of soil above the eye. Too deep planting is one of the causes why peonies fail to bloom.

GOVERNORS SUPPORT FARMERS' STRIKE

PROJECT TO PURCHASE BREWERY AND ENLARGE EAST CITY PARK APPROVED BY BOARD OF WORKS

Provide Work and Enhance Ashburnham if Council Endorses It.

EMPLOYMENT SURVEY.

Program of Storm Drain Work Laid Out For Fall.

Decision of the city to purchase the Calcutt Brewing Company's property on Burnham street was reached last night by the Board of Works Committee of the City Council. A motion, which had the opposition of Alderman Tuggey only, was passed by the Board of Works requesting the City Trust to purchase the property for park purposes at a stated price of $3,000.

The plan is to put the unemployed to work pulling down the old stone and brick building, level off the ground, and so complete and enlarge James Stevenson Park.

This was but one of several unemployment relief projects passed upon by the Board of Works. A considerable program of storm sewer about the north-west portion of the city was passed, also it was decided to build a ladies' and men's rest room beneath one of the arches in the Hunter street bridge near the girls' softball diamond and to brick in another arch as a storehouse for the parks' department.

Opposed to Signs

The request of Sid Crowe, 469 George street, south, for permission to erect a fitness sign behind his gasoline station there, was refused by the Board of Works, and City Engineer Parsons was instructed to order the removal of a similar sign at the corner of Haggart and Lansdowne streets.

Permission was granted the Ontario Marble Company to fence over Peck street in the plan to fence the company's whole property. A gate will be placed on Peck street to allow the city free access to its outfall sewer at the end of that street.

Residents of Lisburn street in a petition urged that the embankment resulting from a gravel pit, encroaching upon the southern end of that street be removed. The end of that street be removed. It was decided to remove the embankment, widen the road and make other improvements to the street.

E. Vinette urged that a name be given the street connecting Lisburn street and River Road. The engineer was instructed to learn whether this street had not already a name.

Storm Drain Plans

A program of storm draining was passed. This work will be done later in the Fall at a cost of $8,000. City Deports Four Who Made Request

Distant fields look green and England seems like a better place to at least four residents of Peterborough. They sent requests to the Finance Committee of the City Council that the Council recommend their deportation back to the Old Country. Of the four, two are a married couple that have been here some years; one is a married man who has a wife and three children in England, and the other is a single man, who yearns to go home. "If they want to go back, there's no use trying to keep them here since they are unemployed," was the view expressed by the aldermen. The council will yield to their request and recommend their deportation to the Immigration Department, it was decided.

There is no cost to the city.

Horse is Shocked Into Work

EXETER, Ont., Sept. 2. — (C.P.).—A stubborn horse has been subdued by a local farmer. The equine had defied all efforts of the owner to get him to work. Finally the farmer placed an old storage battery on his wagon. A wire was grounded, while another was attached to the bit in the horse's mouth. When the horse balks now, the farmer gives him a gentle jolt, and the horse, shocked, moves on.

BID FOR $66,000 OF CITY BONDS

Committee Proposes Additional Grant to Chamber of Commerce.

OPPOSED BY TUGGEY.

Further proof of the strong condition of Peterborough's finances, in the consideration of investors, was given last night at the Finance Committee's meeting. Treasurer Frank Adams told the aldermen that he had an offer of the purchase at $66,000 of the city's debentures paying 5½ per cent at par.

The offer, he said, was made by an outsider, and it is probable that the same party will take up $14,000 more of another group of the city's bonds.

It was stated that the offer was remarkable, considering tightness of finances, and the interest paid on other bond issues recently floated by the Province. The sale will clean up all the city's debentures with the amount that the City Trust is taking up.

Motion to accept the offer was carried unanimously.

An additional grant of $300 to the local Chamber of Commerce was decided by the Finance Committee, Alderman Tuggey being the only one to oppose the motion.

John R. Marshall, president of the Chamber, addressed the committee, pointing out that if the Chamber is to continue doing its work here, then some financial assistance from the city was required.

That every city in Canada which amounts to anything has a Chamber of Commerce was othe statement of Mayor Denne, Aldermen McNabb and Turner. "We can't let the Chamber die just because of the lack of a small grant," stated Chairman MacDonald.

Alderman Tuggey opposed it on the ground that a grant of $300 had already been made to the Chamber, and that should be sufficient. It was pointed out that previous years the Council had granted the Chamber $600, and that this year revenue derived by the Chamber from other sources had suffered great reductions.

Alderman Turner's motion that a grant of $300 be made was seconded by Alderman McNabb with the whole committee favoring it, except Alderman Tuggey.

BOY IS SAVED FROM DROWNING

Joe Blewett Pulls Freddy Mason From Water at Lakefield Dock.

UNDER FOR SECOND TIME.

LAKEFIELD, September 2 (Examiner Correspondence).— The bravery of Joe Blewett saved the life of six-year-old Freddy Mason on Thursday afternoon when the little boy fell into the river above the Government Dock. A number of boys were swimming there, and Freddy was an interested spectator when he fell in and was rescued by Joe Blewett after he had gone down for the second time. Joe is a local boy of about fifteen years of age and a splendid swimmer. This is the second time this season that presence of mind and prompt action has saved a life. In the early part of the season, it will be recalled that Kenneth Junkin saved the life of Garnet O'Neill, an act recognized by the Royal Humane Society, who, it is hoped, will recognize also the heroism of Joe Blewett.

2 Slain, 4 Hit in Running Gun Fight As Police Surprise Bandits at Work

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—Two robbers were killed today during the holdup of a Brooklyn pawnshop, another was wounded, and in a running battle wounds were also suffered by two policemen and one bystander.

Four robbers entered the pawnship of George Phain in the Red Hook section of Brooklyn and one of them unconsciously set off a silent burglar alarm which signaled the holdup. Police were quickly on the scene.

During the ensuing gun battle George Nusbaum was killed, Charles Kelly, who police said was from Philadelphia, was fatally wounded, and Walter Gunn was wounded so seriously he was expected to die. The fourth robber escaped.

Of the police Peter de Carlo was critically wounded, Patrolman Ralph Malafanti's gun fell and was discharged, wounding him in the leg, and Annunzio Ciccicoto, a passerby, was slightly wounded in the exchange of shots between police and robbers.

RUSSELL HILL IS FINED $500 WITH PRISON PENALTY ADDED

TO APPEAL SENTENCE.

Five hundred dollars' fine and six months in the Ontario Reformatory, and in default of payment of the fine an additional six months in the reformatory, was the sentence passed to-day by Magistrate Langley upon Russell Hill, convicted as a second offender under the Excise Act of having possession of illicitly distilled liquor.

Tried yesterday afternoon, the case against Mary Hill, his wife, on similar charge, was dismissed on the motion of J. A. O'Brien, defence counsel, that the prosecution had not shown by evidence that the client had ever had possession of the liquor. J. R. Corbett, counsel for the prosecution, argued that since it was shown by Crown witnesses that she had set the price of the liquor and had received the two dollars in payment, she must have had a possessive interest in it. Magistrate Langley upheld the motion of Mr. O'Brien and the charge was dismissed.

Notice of appeal of Russell Hill's conviction was given this morning. Two bail bonds for $2,000 to secure Hill's freedom until the re-hearing of the case before Judge Huycke were signed by Robert Hill, his father, and his wife, May.

For theft of a mackinaw coat from Turner's, William Corvack, French-Canadian transient, who had a long criminal record, was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

A local man pleaded guilty to having liquor in a public place, and was fined the usual $100 and costs.

BANK ROBBER TO FACE TRIAL

CHARGE UNCERTAIN.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 2.—(CP)—The abortive attempt to rob the Royal bank's Shubenacadie branch on August 25 has a sequel in court today when Sidney Rafuse comes up for preliminary hearing. Rafuse was the only one of three men connected with the crime by police able to walk out of the bank. Gerald Freckleton was shot dead, and Edson Boutilier lies wounded in a hospital at Truro.

Interest in the case had been running high throughout the province.

Rafuse has been held in the Hants county jail at Windsor on a charge of robbery with an offensive weapon. Crown authorities have intimated that this charge will be amended before the hearing starts today.

What the new charge will be they decline to say, but it is understood it will be "conspiracy to rob". Boutilier will not appear today, and little of the story behind the case is expected to be heard at the preliminary hearing.

The amendment will not be sought until two o'clock (Atlantic Standard time), when the hearing is scheduled to open before Justice of the Peace Charles L. Wood.

Crown authorities said last night they were fully prepared to proceed with the case. All their witnesses had been subpoenaed. They estimated that all the evidence they will present will be completed within an hour and a half.

Old Omemee Tannery Once Again Occupied

LINDSAY, Sept. 2—After negotiations with Reeve James Magee and the village council of Omemee, the tannery building there is again occupied. The North American Leather Company, with C. S. Shaw as manager, has moved into the building, and it is understood that in a comparatively short time the company will proceed to manufacture sole leather and will employ a number of hands. It is understood that the council proposes to allow an assessment of $10,000 for school purposes. The proposition, however, has still to be ratified by the council and possibly by the people.

He was remanded for a week to allow further investigation of his record.

BUILDING SHOWS NEW HIGH TOTAL MONTH AUGUST

Building in Peterborough during the month of August gained a new high for any month since 1930. Building permits issued at the City Engineer's office during the month total an approximate value of $99,800, as compared with $20,338.

However, the year's building figures are still below the total for the same period last year, $176,094 as compared with the total of $304,381 to the end of August, 1931.

Twenty permits were issued during the month. Permits for two new store buildings, Eaton's and A. R. Cunningham's accounted for $67,200 of the total. A permit for $30,000, the addition to the Raybestos plant, also was a big addition.

In addition to this, permits for five dwellings to a total value of $9,000 were taken out last month. Miscellaneous permits, repairs, new verandahs, etc., totalled $940, and four small garages were valued at $360.

$7,500 DAMAGE BEWDLEY FIRE

Two Cars, One Valued at $6,000 Lost as A. G. Kally's Garage Burns.

ORIGIN MYSTERY.

Fire in A. G. Kally's garage at Bewdley early last evening did more than $7,500 damage, destroying two valuable cars, one a Stuts sedan, valued at $6,000.

Mr. Kally, of Toronto, an executive of the Woolworth Company, was the owner of the garage and the Stuts car, while the other car burned was owned by T. Long, another summer resident of Bewdley.

The fire was first noticed about 9 o'clock, and although a squad of men tried to extinguish it, the flames quickly swept through the garage. It was impossible to remove the cars, the flames having too much headway.

Investigation, it is said, failed to secure any cause of the fire, which remains a mystery.

Thief Hurls Rock Through Window of Jewelry Store

LINDSAY, Sept. 2 (Special to The Examiner).—While the citizens of Lindsay were asleep and while the town police were off duty, some one hurled a large boulder through the plate glass window of Britton Bros.' jewelry store and grabbed off $509 worth of jewels.

A hole as big as a large pumpkin was made through the glass by the rock and the rock was left inside by the thief. The loss includes two large trays of rings, mostly emblem rings valued at $22 and $35, as well as three Bulova watches, valued at $75. One of the watches stolen was one which as yet has to be named, and for which a prize has been offered for the best name.

It was between 5.30 and 6 a.m. when the robbery was first noticed by a passerby, and the police were immediately notified. Mr. Sam. Britton, proprietor of the store, who lives in the house at the rear of the store, heard no disturbance.

A close check up of the loss has not been completed, but it is thought that a number of necklaces have also been stolen. Diamonds to the value of some $700 were not disturbed.

FIVE APPLICANTS FOR LAND GRANTS MAY BE RECOMMENDED

Finance Committee Approves Proposal and Appoints Committee.

WILL COST $1,000.

More than thirty of Peterborough's unemployed have made application to the City Council that they be recommended for settlement on farms in the Federal and Provincial Governments' "back-to-the-land' movement.

For every person so recommended by the Council the city is liable for $200—its share of the $600 required to settle each family on the land. Each government, if the applicant is accepted, grants $200 to aid the settler.

City Clerk Armstrong told the Finance Committee of the Council last night that for two weeks he has been besieged with inquiries concerning the "back-to-the-land" movement and that more than thirty men had applied to be included.

A Cautious Approach

The committee approached the subject with a great deal of caution. It was stated that the problem was a large one and might lead the city into a great expense, which might prove useless in its purpose of making farmers out of the unemployed.

The city of Hamilton had received three hundred applications for the movement and had selected but ten as suitable for the task of becoming farmers in New Ontario, said City Clerk Armstrong in recommending caution.

Any of those selected must have qualifications that would least assure the Council that they would make a determined attempt to farm.

"We must investigate carefully every applicant," said Mayor Denne. "Find out what they have done at home. If they haven't utilized their own property as gardens its a safe bet they won't make farmers and the whole expense to the city would be useless." Others were of the same opinion.

Go North This Fall

"Is it correct," asked Alderman Holland, "that these men are to go back into the North this fall and erect cabins?"

"Yes, that's the plan," replied the Mayor.

Not more than five of the applicants will be recommended by the city, it was decided unanimously. This will cost the city $1,000 as its contribution in placing the men on farms, which will be selected by the Governments.

A committee to select the five men was appointed and consists of Mayor Denne, Alderman MacDonald, Tuggey and Holland.

"We want action right away," said the Mayor. "We must get busy and report back. We'll have to call a special meeting of the council to speed it up."

HOPES TO SEE WALKER RE-ELECTED IN NOVEMBER

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (C.P.). — Paul Block, publisher, to-day said in an editorial, which was printed in all the Block newspapers and inserted as a paid advertisement in other newspapers, that the voters of New York will "undoubtedly prove their confidence" in former Mayor James J. Walker "by overwhelmingly re-electing him in November."

Block testified at the Hofstadter Legislative hearings, which resulted in Walker's resignation, that he had set up a joint brokerage account with Walker and operated it himself. Walker put in nothing, the testimony revealed, and both drew from the account an equal amount, $246,000 each.

PEACE RETURNS TO RURAL IOWA, PICKETS RETIRE

Farmers Are Urged to Withhold Their Produce From Market.

CONFERENCE CALLED.

Governors of Four States Declare Sympathy With Movement.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 2.—(CP) Peace reigned along all fronts of the now suspended farm strike to-day while leaders of the movement sought gubernatorial aid to further their fight for higher produce prices.

Proclamations from the governors of Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Minnesota, calling upon farmers to withold their produce from the market, were suggested to the executives of the affected states by Woodbury county members of the Farmers Holiday Association who offered to withdraw their pickets from the highways if such action is taken.

The suggestion was made to Milo Reno, head of the holiday association in a telegram, copies of which were sent to the governors. Reno approved of the idea and said that the gubernatorial proclamations and withdrawal of pickets "would do a lot to prepare for the conference of governors of midwest states Sept. 9."

The governors' conference which is scheduled to be held in Sioux City, Ia., will seek means to settle differences between farmers and produce buyers over prices and bring the holiday movement to a conclusion. To date Governors Turner of Iowa, White of Ohio, Olson of Minnesota and Shafer of North Dakota have indicated they will attend or be represented at the meeting.

FIVE FASCISTS GET LIFE TERMS

Had Been Condemned to Death for Murdering Communist.

IN POLITICAL BRAWL.

BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 2. — The five Fascists who were condemned to death at Beuthen last week on a charge of murdering a Communist during a political brawl, received a commutation to life imprisonment when the Federal Commissioner of Prussia reviewed their case to-day.

Chancelor Franz Von Papen presided at the conference which decided to show mercy to the men who were condemned under the emergency decree of Aug. 9 providing capital punishment for crimes of political violence.

The men were charged with the murder of a Communist. During the trial it was established the crime was committed only an hour and a half after the emergency decree became effective.

With that fact in mind the commissioner decided to yield to the petitions for clemency which had been submitted by numerous organizations.

Possibly they were influenced also by the consideration that Adolf Hitler's National Socialists had been stirred by the sentence, to vehement attacks upon the law and the government.

Mayor of New York Resigns Under Fire to Seek Re-election

ALLEGES POLITICS.

NEW YORK, September 2 (C.P.)—James J. Walker is Mayor of New York no longer—and the bitter words of his "au revoir" reverberated to-day.

Looking like a wraith of the former sparkling "Jimmie," Walker handed in his resignation last night while Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt was preparing to call him again to-day for another session of his long hearing on charges seeking his removal from office. Joseph V McKee, president of the Board of Aldermen, automatically became Mayor.

Almost as sensational as his abrupt resignation, and his more than a hint that he would seek vindication by running again, was the Tammany Mayor's undisguised assault on the manner in which Governor Roosevelt, national leader of the Democratic Party, conducted his hearing.

"Extraordinary inquisition," "travesty," "mock trial," perversion of the executive power," "studious y unfair," "biased judge," were some of the phrases that studded the statement he gave out on his resignation.

Appeal to the People.

He announced the purpose of his resignation was to "change the venue."

"I can change it to the supreme authority the people themselves," he said. "I can change the place of trial so as to take it away from a biased judge acting illegally and in an avowed usurpation of power, with a personal interest in the outcome that disqualifies him as a matter of common decency from acting as a judge in the matter."

"Nothing at all to say," was Gov. Roosevelt's only comment last night. But from Samuel Seabury, counsel for the Hofstaeter Legislative Investigating Committee, which dug up the material on which the unfitness charges were based, came this statement:

"The charges against the Mayor were fully proved and corroborated in many instances by documentary evidence which was undisputed, and by the admissions of the Mayor.

At Brother's Funeral.

The Mayor, who has become pale and ill, spent part of his last day in office at the funeral of his brother, George P. Walker, in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Walker, who became the city's chief executive in 1925 after a career as song writer, lawyer, assemblyman and Democratic leader of the state senate, is the first mayor of New York to resign under charges.

McKee, who succeeded him, has been called the handsomest and most scholarly of all city officials. He is 42 years old, a lawyer and graduate of Fordham university. He has been an instructor in Greek, Latin, and literature, a reporter, assemblyman and city court judge.

Proclaiming his championship of the nickel fare, ever ready with snappy quips, a whimsical terror to foes who dared oppose in board of estimate meetings, Walker rode out storms like the slaying of Arnold Rothstein, master gambler, whose unsolved death brought heavy criticism on the police and his administration.

More than 14 months ago a move to investigate the city government was begun and for many months the investigators prodded and searched in the multitudinous departments of the country's largest city.

Seabury's Findings

Then Seabury filed with the governor his "conclusions" about the mayor alleging unfitness. They included allegations that the mayor accepted $26,000 in securities from a broker interested in taxicab legislation; that he violated the city charter by holding bonds of a concern which received a city contract; that he sponsored the equitable bus franchise to detriment of the city; that he received a $10,000 letter of credit from one of the equitable promoters; that he accepted substantial gratuities from Paul Block, publisher, and others; that he failed to help the Hofstadter committee locate the missing Sherwood; that he failed to prevent his brother, Dr. William H. Walker, from splitting fees with doctors who received city cases.

"I have met my accusers and disproved their charges" the mayor said in his statement.

JOHN MACHRAY CANCER VICTIM

Former Bursar Unable to Appear on University Theft Charges.

NO CABINET DECISION.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2 (C.P.).—John A. Machray, K.C., former bursar and chairman of the board of governors of the University of Manitoba, charged with the theft of $47,-261 from its trust funds, was unable to appear in court yesterday, owing to his physical condition, and was remanded for one week. A completed statement from the auditors was expected yesterday, but it was announced four or five months may pass before the work can be finished.

A. E. Hoskin, K.C., counsel for Mr. Machray, explained to the court yesterday that his client's physical condition did not permit removal from his home and that he had been unable to see him during the past week. Suffering from cancer, Mr. Machray had already had two operations and was now taking radium treatments, he said. Since last Wednesday his client had a very bad attack but just now he seemed to be a little stronger.

Consent To Remand.

For the Crown, John Allen, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General, consented to the remand, requesting that the court treat the case on the same basis as if accused were present. Defence counsel waived any legal technical objection he might be entitled to make.

The college council and the various committees are rallying to the college in its hour of need in a manner that is most encouraging to its future, it was stated.

SOCIETY WOMAN SHOT FATALLY

Mysterious Shooting Occurs Just After Father Made Mayor of Virgina City.

SUICIDE DENIED.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Sept. 2.—Miss Elizabeth Payne, 23-year-old society girls, was fatally shot yesterday as her father assumed the office of Mayor of Fredericksburg.

More than three hours after she was found on the floor of her brother's office, Miss Payne died in Mary Washington's Hospital, a victim of one of the most mysterious and sensational crimes ever committed in this part of the country.

Police discarded the theory of suicide when Dr. R. J. Payne, the girl's father, pointed out that the bullet entered the left side of his daughter's head. It would have been virtually impossible for a right-handed person—which Miss Payne was—to have fired the shot, officials said. There were no powder marks around the wound. The four Fredericksburg physicians who examined the girl said she could not have shot herself.

Miss Payne was sitting in the office of her brother, Robert, prominent coal merchant. His partner, Robert Olney, left the office to go to lunch. Shortly thereafter a shot was heard. Miss Payne was unconscious when persons nearby rushed into the office. Beside her was a pistol.

BOGNOR REGIS, Eng., Sept. 2.—A stroke of lightning decided a knotty problem which the Town Council here had met to solve. CAPT. MOLLISON SAFE AT QUEBEC

Has Hard Time Making His French Understood in Preliminary Landing.

SAILS SATURDAY.

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—(CP)—A young Scottish aviator to whom a level field apparently has magnetic powers yesterday landed his moth airplane near a farm house on the south shore of the St. Lawrence, five miles from Quebec.

He was Captain J. A. Mollison, conqueror of the North Atlantic ocean in solo flight Captain Mollison struggled with his poor French, received sufficient directions to guide him and took off again for Quebec where he received an enthusiastic reception as he landed on the St. Louis Airport at 5.25 p.m. (eastern standard time), seven hours and 25 minutes after taking off from Sydney, N. S.

Trouble With His French

"My French was so bad that the farmers and I had a hard time," he said with a chuckle. "I couldn't remember the word for airport so I compromised on 'ou est le place des aeroplanes?' That was all right but one farmer said five miles this way—another seven miles that way. So I stopped the engine and had a cigarette" Eventually directions were straightened out and the remainder of the flight was covered uneventfully.

Plane Being Crated

The plane which has taken Captain J. A. Mollison across the North Atlantic to New York and back to Quebec via Saint John and Sydney, N. S., has served its purpose for the present. Today it was being crated for passage back to England in the hold of the liner Empress of Britain, sailing tomorrow.

Known as One of Most Promising of Younger Canadian Writers.

DROWNED MONDAY.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 2 (By The Canadian Press)—The body of Raymond Knister, Toronto, prominent Canadian novelist, was found to-day at Stoney Point, on Lake St. Clair. Knister was drowned Monday while swimming.

Funeral services will be held in Comber United Church on Friday and the remains taken to Port Dover where interment will be made following a service there.

Raymond Knister was one of the most promising of the younger Canadian writers. He began his literary work 20 years ago, contributing from his home in Blenheim, Ont., a weekly book department.

He later went to Iowa City, where he studied fiction writing and became assistant editor of the Midland, a monthly magazine of national repute among the literary.

After his return to Canada, he wrote the "White Narcissus," and also collected and edited "Canadian short Stories."

"My Star Triumphant," written last year, won for Knister a prize of $2,000. The book was never published, however, because the publishers who had awarded the prize subsequently went bankrupt.

Aged Farmer Dies Saving His Horses

PERTH, Sept. 2.—Andrew Hunter, an elderly Bathurst township farmer, died suddenly from heart failure immediately after saving his horses from fire when the barn was struck by lightning and completely destroyed during one of the most severe electrical storms of the year.

Mr. Hunter rushed to the barn and outbuildings immediately after the bolt struck the roof, and on releasing the horses, ran toward the farm house to summon aid, but before he had completed the short distance was overcome by a heart attack and succumbed almost instantly.

Neighbors succeeded in saving the dwelling, but were unable to save the barn and sheds, damage to which estimated at about $2,500, is partly covered by insurance.

FEAR DROUGHT IN 6 U.S. STATES

Wheat Planting in South and East Delayed by Dry Period.

LATE CORN "BURNING."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Six eastern and southern states again are threatened by a drought and the extreme dry period has seriously delayed preparations for Winter wheat planting in another section of the country, the U. S. weather bureau revealed last night.

The states which have had little or no rain for more than three months are New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia. The rainless area also extends into northern Carolina.

Reports to the weather bureau said late corn is "burning" and in Pennsylvania some farmers are cutting the stalks and feeding the grain to cows who are suffering as a result of ruined pasture lands.

Wells and streams in many states have gone dry. Rain within the last ten days brought some relief to Michigan, Minnesota and North Dakota, also sections of the latter state still are so parched that plowing of land for Winter wheat planting is impossible.

Parts of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming also are badly in need of moisture, weather bureau officials said.

Although the present rainless area extends over a large section of the country, authorities here did not expect a repetition of the harmful effects of the great drought of 1930. Some tobacco fields of the south and truck crops in the east, however, have already been ruined, they said.

The present dry spell is similar in many ways to the 1930 drought, it was pointed out.

JAPS PROMISE THEIR SUPPORT IN MANCHUKUO

Undertake Internal, External Defense of New Manchurian State in Treaty.

NO SECRET CLAUSES.

State Not to be Made Protectorate—No Special Rights for Japan.

TOKYO, Sept. 2.—Japan will undertake the internal and external defense of the new Manchurian State, Manchukuo, under the terms of a basic treaty to be signed between the two governments before Sept. 15.

This was revealed today by the Foreign Office, which announced there were no "secret clauses" in the document. The pact will give Japan the right to station troops throughout Henry Pu Yi's State, and a military convention will be signed after covering this phase of relations.

The agreement will provide a defensive alliance between the Governments, and a guarantee of mutual respect for territorial sovereignty. It will be submitted to the principal powers in advance.

As soon as the treaty has been signed, Manchukuo will automatically obtain Japanese recognition, and Gen. Nobuyoshi Muto, who has been designated to affix Japan's signature, will become Ambassador with full powers. General Muto now is in Mukden.

Approval Next Week

The treaty probably will be submitted to the Japanese Privy Council next week, and approved by the Emperor before General Muto proceeds to Changchu, the Manchukuo capital, for the formal ceremony of signing.

A government spokesman declared the agreement will not make Manchukuo a protectorate under Japan since it leaves the new nation independent in the matters of foreign relations and finances. It was also asserted the treaty will accord Japan no rights beyond those previously embodied in Sino-Japanese treaties, except for the military clauses.

The treaty was described as extremely simple and brief, covering only one and one-half typewritten pages.

NOW SCIENCE TELLS WHY BRAN IS SO GOOD FOR HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Has "Bulk" and Vitamin B; Also Healthful Iron

By using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, millions of people have overcome common constipation, and the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so frequently result.

New laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN supplies two things needed to overcome temporary and recurring constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

Further experiments prove ALL-BRAN provides twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Eat this delicious cereal and avoid pills and drugs. They cause artificial action, and often lead to harmful habits.

Try two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily—sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN has a delicious, nut-sweet flavor. Enjoy as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in making fruity bran muffins, breads, cookies, etc. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

200 MONUMENTS MARK CANADA'S HISTORIC SITES

Work of Board Grows as Interest in History of Dominion Quickens.

WORKING 13 YEARS.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 2 (C.P.).—Three events in August brought home to Nova Scotians the extent of the work being done by the Historic Sites and Monuments Board to preserve the landmarks of Canadian History. A memorial cairn to mark the dwelling place of Nicholas Denys, one of the early French governors, was unveiled at St. Peter's; a tablet to William Cochrane, seventh earl of Dundonald, who was killed in a sortie between British and French at the second seige of Louisburg was set up there; and at Annapolis Royal, Jean Paul Mascarene, French Huguenot who held Nova Scotia for the British before the founding of Halifax, was honored in the unveiling of a cut stone monument within the environs of his old Fort Anne.

"The Historic Sites and Monuments Board," said D. C. Harvey, provincial archivist, speaking at the Mascarene ceremony," is tangible evidence that Canada has become conscious of herself as an entity in world organization, that she wishes to trace the road by which she has come and to erect milestones on that road. . . ."

The board has been in existence 13 years in an advisory capacity to the Department of the Interior. Its function is to advise in conserving sites associated with the early history of the country, to perpetuate their memory and the memory of persons who had a part in the building of the Dominion which was of national importance.

The Board concerns itself primarily with events and personages in the national sense, but tries to interpret the phrase broadly and to encourage provincial historical societies to mark sites and honor people of provincial importance, and more local organizations to earn for sites and events of local interest.

Three kinds of memorials have been adopted—a boulder, a cairn and a cut stone monument, and one standard type of tablet. The tablet carries conventiently about 500 letters, and on it a bare outline of an event or public character is recorded, in the hope that when interest is aroused individuals will pursue their studies until their curiosity is satisfied.

Considerable competition exists among various localities to possess an official marker of national events. Of an average, about one request in five is granted by the Board. During the years of its existence 900 proposals have come before it, and some 200 have been accepted, inscriptions drafted and tablets cast. By the end of 1931: 103 memorials had been erected, 198 tablets cast, and 56 fences built around memorials. They were distributed throughout the Dominion —Prince Edward Island, 1 tablet: Nova Scotia, 12 cairns, 1 boulder, 1 monument, 25 tablets and 7 fences; New Brunswick, 8 cairns, 2 boulders, 6 monuments, 23 tablets and 4 fences; Quebec, 22 cairns, 5 boulders, 2 monuments, 4 tablets and 15 fences; Ontario, 26 cairns, 1 boulder, 5 monuments, 63 tablets, and 19 fences; Western Provinces, 35 cairns, 2 boulders, 4 monuments, 43 tablets, and 11 fences.

Mr. Harvey remarks that had it been a Nova Scotian who first proposed the formation of the Board, he would undoubtedly have quoted Howe's sentence: "A wise nation preserves its records, gathers up its muniments, decorates the tombs of its illustrious dead, repairs its great public structures, and fosters national pride and love of country by perpetual reference to the sacrifices and glories of the past."

WIDOW FIGHTS MILLIONAIRE'S

Manufacturer's Brother And Sister Denies He Had Wife.

CHICAGOAN LEFT NO WILL.

CHICAGO.—With the appearance of a widow as a claimant, a bitter fight is in prospect over the $1,000,000 estate left by William H. Kearns, wealthy burlap manufacturer.

Kearns died July 19 at the age of 70 without leaving a will, and a brother, Daniel Kearns, and a sister, Mrs. Rose Fitzgerald, claimed the estate.

But Attorney Charles Soelke served notice on Assistant Probate Judge Oscar Caplan that he was representing a Mrs. Mattie L. Kearns, widow of the manufacturer, and that she would contest the right of the brother and sister to the letters of administration they already have obtained.

Asks Higher Bonds.

In addition, he maintained that the $2,000,000 bond posted by the relatives was too small, for the estate actually will total more than $2,000,000. The law requires a bond of twice the value of the estate, set by the relatives at the $1,000,000 figure.

Neither the brother nor the sister, according to their attorney, Joseph B. O'Donnell, knew of the existence of Mrs. Mattie Kearns.

Died In Her Arms.

Yet, in her notice to Assistant Judge Caplan, Mrs. Kearns stated that the estate reached a value of $2,000,000 by virtue of her husband's and her "joint investment and thrift." She added that her husband died in her arms.

Mrs. Kearns said she had lived with her husband for 40 years. And her attorney pointed out that even if she had never married the burlap manufacturer, she would still receive his fortune as a common-law wife.

Kearns' estate is composed entirely of personal property, the bulk of it being in government and city bonds.

Oshawa Officer Astonishes Pal On Beat By Midnight Chase For Frog-Leg Dinner

OSHAWA, Sept. 2.—Patrolling a dignified residential street with Traffic Constable George Parsons during the night, Sergeant Ed. Stauffer, of the local police force, was astonished when his companion, suddenly pointing an excited finger at a large frog hopping down the centre of the pavement, shouted, "That's my frog," and made a quick but unsuccessful dash after the elusive "leaper" which gained safety in the darkness.

Constable Parsons has a liking for fried frogs' legs, a delicacy which, he avers, are unequalled, but unfortunately difficult to procure, when, on a recent vacation at Lake Scugog he found a new variety of frogs unusually well developed, he was delighted and planned a method of keeping a stock on hand.

Gathering a large number of these frogs in a moss-lined box, he brought them back to Oshawa with the intention of placing them in a pond on a relative's property on the edge of the city. For the first night he left the frogs in his back garden in their box.

Apprehensive of trouble by seeing the large frog on the street, he returned to his garden and found that the box had been overturned and all the livestock escaped.

GIRL-KILLING TREE IS HUNTED ON KIDD'S ISLE

British Woman Explorer To Bridge Playerson Sinbad The Sailor's Trail.

IN FAR SOUTH SEAS.

BRIGHTON, England. — An island known to Sinbad the Sailor and Captain Kidd, where girls are still sacrificed to the man-eating tree, will be thoroughly explored by an Englishwoman this fall.

She is Mrs. V. de la Motte Hurst of this city, and has already begun the organizing of her expedition, to be composed exclusively of bridge-players.

"The island of Sinbad the Sailor is none other than Madagascar," Mrs. Hurst told the International News Service. "Kidd, the buccaneer, founded a colony there. The roc, a giant bird known to the readers of Sinbad, may not yet be extinct and we'll look for it. It is known that rubies, sapphires, and other precious stones can be found on that island.

Tree Crushes Girl.

"The real object of our expedition is the discovery of the man-eating tree worshipped to a frenzy by the natives. I've never seen the tree, but several of the native chiefs have told me about it. It eats human beings, and the natives are reluctant to speak of it. I'll try to get movies of it.

"So far as I know, the tree is like a colossal pineapple six feet around the base and eight feet high. Its long tendrils point skywards, the leaves resemble elephants' ears, and are lined with claw-like growth.

"The tree exudes an intoxicating liquid drunk by the natives. At the height of the religious dance around this tree, the natives force a young girl up to the apex of the tree. Some curious factor in this tree makes the tendrils entwine anything which moves on them, the leaves converging to completely hide the victim.

Some Tribes Hostile.

"Pressure like a vise is exercised by the leaves. It appears the body is crushed. I am told the leaves remain in this formation a week, then gradually opening to release the bones of the sacrifice.

"We'll start off at Mozundava, a small place on the coast, and shall pass through territories of half a dozen tribes, some of the mhostile. The river is thick with crocodiles. We'll have to hack our way back through the jungle."

The expedition will take about five months, spending some time in territory of a primitive race addicted to voodooism and cannibalism.

Captain Hurst, husband of Mrs. Hurst, and a naval officer, will help Mrs. Hurst in her task. A botanist, a biologist, and a geologist are also included, in addition to eight civilians "bent on adventure."

"But those who care to go must be bridge-players," Mrs. Hurst declared. "Only bridge-players think alike. On a previous long trip I found that the best way to avoid quarrels and the like when a party is held up by one jungle difficulty or another is to play bridge."

Certain mountain sections of the road which Chile has built as its part of the Pan-American highway are passable only in good weather.

QUITO, Ecuador, Sept. 2 (C.P.).—Loyal troops defending the Government against Rebels who would install Neptali Bonifaz as President of Ecuador were in control of Quito to-day except for one section, which the last rebel group refused to surrender.

The capital was won at considerable cost, however. Red Cross officials estimated that 360 men had been killed and 732 wounded during artillery bombardments and close fighting.

TO-MORROW'S GREAT CONTEST.

The Harmsworth Cup races which begin to-morrow at Detroit with Kaye Don, British challenger, attempting to wrest the famous trophy from the veteran American, Gar Wood, will attract world wide attention as an extraordinary sporting event.

Canadians to a man, it may be said, are looking forward hopefully to seeing a British triumph in this classic speed contest, not only because Kaye Don races under the Union Jack, but because of the gallant bearing of the challenger at all times, the great contribution made by Lord Wakefield to promote a British victory, and particularly because the circumstances under which Don was defeated last year did not appeal to Canadians as being worthy of what is supposed to be a sporting contest.

There is such a great element of luck in competitions of this nature however, that no one should be too optimistic about the results.

The bugbear of engine trouble, of an unsuspected defect somewhere that chooses the day of the race to make itself evident, the chance of an accident, all these factors enter into the contest and the result of tomorrow's race and of the series may truly be said to be on the lap of the gods.

Canada's backing is, of course, all for Don. May Miss England III be at her fastest and best to-morrow!

AN IMPORTANT WARNING.

While we have no desire to see our American tourist friends get into trouble when they drop in on us for a summer visit, the fact that a couple o' United States visitors, who were careless about their camp fire in the northern woods and caused a bush fire, have been fined $25 each is not without its good points.

The incident should serve as a warning not only to tourists but to our own people who camp in forest areas, that Ontario's timber wealth is a very important heritage that must be protected, that forest fires are much more easily started than they are extinguished and that one of the surest and most effective ways of setting the woods ablaze is to be neglectful of camp-fires.

It should be a point of honor with every visitor to the woods to take dire precautions against fire.

Camp fires should be located carefully, kept as small as possible, watched faithfully and every last ember extinguished before being left; it only requires a spark sometimes to start a forest blaze that may burn over thousands of acres of valuable timber.

Care on the part of visitors means millions to the national wealth and those who refuse to exercise ordinary precautions must be taught the truth of that statement.

THE ACCIDENT RECORD.

Unfortunately the decrease in motor accidents noted in June, May and April as compared with the same months of last year, was not continued throughout July, the monthly accident report of the Motor Vehicles branch of the Ontario Department of Highways shows only too clearly.

In fact in July of this year there was an increase both in the number of accidents and in the number of people injured, although the total property damage was a little less than in July of 1931.

There were 908 accidents last month, an average of nearly 30 a day, and 3.5 percent. more than in the same month a year ago, while 39 more people were injured in July last year. 51 persons were killed, fourteen of them pedestrians, and 32 occupants of motor vehicles.

It is worthy of note that while July is a month in which traffic on the highways is very close to its peak, that over half the accidents occurred, not on the roads, but on urban streets, and collisions were the chief cause of these accidents.

1,334 driver were involved in the July accidents and all but 39 are reported as normal, 14 being described as intoxicated and 19 others as driving while extremely fatigued.

Judging the circumstances of many of the accidents, however, "normal" does not seem to be a fitting word with which to describe the offending drivers.

AIR TRAVEL INCREASES

A little paragraph with a great deal of significance was that sent from Washington yesterday to the effect that in the first six months of the present year there was an increase of 85,000 in the number of passengers carried on scheduled air routes in the United States compared with the same period last year.

Nothing could be more eloquent of the rapid development of air transportation than this remarkable increase recorded in a year of economic distress when other forms of travel have been reporting record lows.

Transportation by air has now reached the stage across the border when it is accepted as a matter of course; to fly from one city to another is no longer a novelty, no longer a stunt, no longer a feat of daring, but just as natural a proceeding as taking a train or riding in an automobile—and it has the advantage over those methods of being decidedly more rapid and not a great deal more expensive.

An increase of 85,000 passengers in six months in a slump year is indeed a noteworthy achievement and it is certain that when more prosperous conditions return air travel in the United States will show a continuous growth in volume.

The safety, speed, comfort and convenience of this method of travel have sold themselves to the public.

THE WON'T-WORKS.

A local farmer interviewed seven transients on the streets of Hanna, last Saturday, offering harvest work at the going wage of $1.50 and board. Not one of them would accept a job at this wage. But, in company with others of their ilk, these men have been soliciting food and clothing from Hanna homes.

The whole problem of handling transient unemployed is approaching a critical state. No doubt there are thousands of these unfortunates who are willing to work, but who cannot secure employment. But, in the light of recent experience, it is increasingly evident that there are thousands roaming the country who are not anxious to work, even when reasonable wages with board and lodging are offered.

It cannot be long before householders will be compelled to cease feeding the armies of transient unemployed. The burden, in this respect, is becoming heavier from day to day. One regrets turning away any human being who asks for food. But the responsibility must be shouldered by the country as a whole, not by the generosity of individuals.

And with a noticeable increase in the numbers who will not work it is apparent that crisis in the unemployment problem is fast approaching.—The Hanna Herald.

WHEN A BARN BURNS.

There have been a number of barn fires in the district in recent days, and on few occasions has the cause been definitely ascertained. A few of them have come when there was a threshing going on, but these cases are in the minority.

In recent days we have seen several of these fires, watched them in progress, and then next day gone back to have another look. It is hard for people who are not farming to understand what it means to have the barn burned.

There are so many things in a barn. They have been secured over a number of years; quite often implements, harness, forks, and all manner of things which the farmer uses in various seasons. There is not much chance as a rule to get much out.

Of course, it is taken for granted that the crops stored in the barn will go. It would take too long to move them and fires in frame barns are always in a hurry to be along with their work of destruction.

A barn fire looks bad enough when it is taking place, but it actually looks worse the next day. It will still be smoking a little. The farmer and his family, and probably a few of the neighbors, will be standing around; there is nothing else they can do because the place is still hot. Perhaps there is an effort being made to recall all the things which were in the barn in order to compute the loss.

The question of insurance enters into some of these barn fires, and there are those who suggest that some of these fires are set for the purpose of collecting the money. That is hard to believe. We heard one farmer say that insurance companies were allowing only $5 per load for oats burned in a mow, and that, of course, would represent a dead loss. Even at low prices or for purposes of feed the oats would bring a good deal more than that.

Then, too, the insurance on a barn is not sufficient to make up for the loss, and if the farmer is going to keep on farming he has to have another barn. We were informed by one agriculturist that the insurance money he collected on a barn fire last year amounted to an even 40 per cent. of what it had cost him to build again a barn of exactly the same size, for he used the old foundations. He also mentioned the question of how many things are lost which are not covered by insurance. His experience was, "I have been looking for things ever since as we have come to need them. When it was impossible to locate the article it meant going and buying another. I can't say exactly, but my total loss on my fire was not covered 30 per cent., and I was carrying what I thought was a fair amount of insurance."

There is something to admire about the farmer who is going on at once with the business of rebuilding his barn. There is something in his attitude which people in cities might study with benefit to themselves. The farmer knows he needs a barn; he knows it is going to cripple him financially for a while to rebuild it, and yet in a number of cases the rebuilding operations are actually in progress right now.

When asked if he were going to rebuild, one farmer put the case this way: "Yes, I have a builder working now, securing the material, and I am going to build a better barn than I had before. It's like this. I can't get along without a barn, that is if I intend to keep on working a farm. I have no intention of quitting, because times are going to turn better some day. I find right now a good time to build. It might not be so good a year from now. And besides I can't stop. I must go ahead."

There's something of the spirit of the pioneer in that attitude. There is certainly nothing of the quitter. The man had taken a good hard jolt straight on the chin, but he had not gone down. He had put his teeth together and decided to go through. We need something like that to-day. It has become a habit to stand by the dead ashes of past hopes and do a spell of complaining. The farmer who is rebuilding his barn to-day has moved on out of that class, and it would be well were the rest of us to form a procession and follow him.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

OUT OF DATE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir: The five ton airplane carrying 15 passengers and the mails, which crosses the continent between New York and San Francisco, is considered to be the forerunner of the type to be used in the contemplated Atlantic air mail.

Air development has flashed upon an astonished world almost in a day and has given rise to the forecast that within a few years the railway and the autobus, like the old stage coach, will be things of the past.

So rapidly have routes developed that air companies in some cases are said to pay as high as 300 per cent. dividend.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Sept. 2. — British buyers of cheese continued yesterday to await developments, coming into the Canadian market to a negligible extent only. Ah a result prices were mostly ¼c shaded from the previous day, the general quotations being 10c per pound for Ontarios and 9¾c for Quebecs. Because of the poor sales throughout the past couple of weeks, shipments of cheese from Montreal to the United Kingdom will be very small this week, probably between 15,000 and 20,000 boxes from present indications. Receipts of cheese here to-day were 3,625 boxes.

The butter market held generally at 21¼c per pound for carlots or less of No. 1 unchanged from the previous day. Jobbers were quoting small lots to retailers at 23c for solids and 24c for prints. Toronto butter stocks were announced as 101,337 boxes, compared with 129,914 boxes at this time last year. Receipts were only 162 boxes.

Egg Market Quiet

The egg market was on the quiet side, with prices holding at about the recent peaks. Best quality stock from Ontario or near-by points, graded, is 28c to 29c for extra, 19c to 20c for first and 14c for seconds. Western prairie stock is a little cheaper than these levels. Receipts were 2,212 cases.

Potatoes held at 30c to 40c per 80-pound bag of Montreal-grown first quality.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 2. — Wheat maintained a stubbornly strong undertone yesterday despite a bearish medley of news which included deliveries much larger than expected, a decidedly weak Liverpool market and crop estimates hard to construe as bullish. The market was unsettled early by further liquidation of the September delivery and contract deliveries totalling 6,729,000 bushels.

Wheat closed weak, ⅛c to ⅝c under Wednesday's finish; corn, mixed, ¼c lower to ¼c-½c higher; oats, a shade down to ⅛c-¼c up, and provisions 5c to 37c advanced.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, September 2. — Weakness at Liverpool and a disappointing export trade brought about easiness in wheat prices yesterday. Scattered selling met with a weakened support and prices dropped fractionally. Values at the close were ¾c lower.

October closed at 55⅛c, December at 56⅝c to 56¾c, and May at 61⅝c.

Hedging pressure appeared to have increased a little with movement of grain in the country heavier and this weight proved too much for the absorbing power available.

Advices from Europe suggested that buyers there anticipated pressure of Canadian offerings and were holding off in their purchases in the hope that they would get their wheat cheaper.

Increased shipments from Russia was a feature of the overseas news. These shipments totalled 704,000 bushels and accounted for all the wheat exported through Black Sea ports.

Demand for cash wheat appeared good at fractionally improved spreads. Trading in coarse grains was slow with prices generally unchanged.

HOLSTEIN DEMAND KEEPS IMPROVING

Over 3000 Head Mostly Cows, Heifers Exported Since First of Year.

The Extension Department of the Holstein - Friesian Association of Canada reports an improved demand prevailing for Holstein cattle with a large number of sales being put through locally, and also for the foreign trade which has been a big factor in keeping surplus stock from accumulating. According to a report issued by the head office this week more than 3700 head, mostly bred cows and heifers, have been exported since the first of January, and there is every reason to believe that the fall business will continue to take the average weekly shipment which during the year has been running between fifteen and twenty carloads a month. Just recently the Extension office had a visit from a Japanese gentleman who is in this country with a view to studying the breeding of Canadian Holsteins, and in the course of a conference with the director, he intimated the likelihood of Japan becoming deeply interested at an early date in making importations from Canada.

The general feeling among breeders of Holstein cattle has been more optimistic lately on account of this good export trade for their cattle, and in many of the best breeding areas herds are being strengthened through the purchase of better bulls. A number of farmers have also been buying foundation females with a view to starting new herds.

CHAPTER No. 7.

As the taxicab raced across the Wabash avenue bridge Judy got as far in the raio scrip as "And a suggestion about hats."

"And a suggestion about hats," she said, listening to herself. No. It sounded more like a sophomore high school girl reading the class essay.

She tried again. "And a suggestion about hats." Louder this time and much louder.

The taxicab swerved, the brakes squealed, the car slid to a stop at the curb and the driver jerked the glass panel aside.

"What's that, lady? What's that?"

"Why, I'm sorry. I was just reading."

"Oh.' He stared at her.

"Never mind me," she said, giggling. "Just drive on. I'm studying a part."

"A part? Oh. Ya—ya're an actress, huh?"

"An actress? No."

Be an actress? No. Be a musician. Be a concert musician and have people in evening clothes come to hear you, and have them applaud just at the right minute, and have them send up flowers, and have the critics say how well you played. But an actress? Somebody paid for being a voice—nothing more?

"You're not getting paid to use your brain. You're getting paid for your voice!" She remembered Elton Day saying that, she remembered how angry she was at him.

* * *

"Yes'm." He scuttled back from the panel and the car shot on into the traffic. And Judy closed the script, folded it, put it back into her bag, and sat staring at nothing. Grand. Ohio. Huron.

"All right, driver. This is it."

"Yeh."

She got out.

"How much?"

"Forty-five, lady. An' I'm sorry I bothered ya."

"That's all right. I'm sorry I snapped at you. Only I was thinking."

"Yeh," he said.

She paid him. But suddenly a hand was taking her money away from the driver, was depositing a bill instead.

"Judy!"

"Dick! Why——Mr. Mason, I mean. I——"

"You said the right thing the first time. That's all, driver."

"Yes, sir."

The taxicab growled away from them, and they stood on the curb, oblivious to the people who passed, who stared.

* * *

"Judy, I've been waiting a long time to see you."

"And I've been eager to see you. To tell you I was sorry you had to leave to-day. To tell you——"

"Tell me all about Elton Day, maybe. Don't bother."

"But he——"

"I know. He told you all about radio, and all about himself, and all about me, and all about everything. He always does."

"Oh."

"Yes, Elton's a grand fellow,—all right. But I can get along without hearing anything about him. Now or any other time.

She stared at him.

"Odd,' she said finally.

"What's odd?"

"He talked very nicely about you. But you——"

"Talked nicely about me, did he? Of course. He would."

She walked ahead of Dick up the path, up the steps.

"Judy. Wait. I didn't mean—"

"It doesn't matter."

"But it does. I shouldn't have said anything. But I don't like Elton Day. Don't like him a bit. And——"

"Then I'm really sorry."

"Sorry?"

"Yes, Dick. Because you were the one who helped me. And if helping me has caused you any embarrassmenb——"

"I don't understand you, Judy."

"Well, it's Elton Day's program, and if you don't like him I'd better quit. Because it's you who got me a job in the first place."

* * *

She kept wanting to say, "It's all mixed up. I didn't want to get into anything like this. I don't want anybody to hate me the way Lona Burdette hates me. I just wanted a job. I don't know anything about people. I don't know anything about politics. I don't like this at all."

But you can't say things like that to people you barely know.

"I don't want you to feel that way, Judy. It isn't like that at all. I don't like Day, and he's not so good. I'm telling you that because you need to know it. But that's got nothing to do with you."

"It has, Dick. Everything. I'm not quite as much in need of a job as all that."

"But you are. You must stay here. You've simply got to stay. You can't go home now. Not now, Judy."

"Dick! What in the world?"

"Oh, I've no right to talk this way. You don't know anything about me. And—anyhow, you must not go home. Please Judy, please stay."

"I can't stay without a job. You know that."

"But you want to stay? Say you want to stay, Judy, say it!"

"Why, Dick——"

"I sound like a movie actor. I know it. But I mean what I'm saying. You do want to stay, don't you?"

"Of course, Dick. I wouldn't go home for anything. I've got to stay here until I go home with money in the bank and a job to come back to. Or my family will never let me come back at all."

"Then you've got to keep that Beauty Builder job. Even if Day is mixed up in it. Even if—if——"

"If what?" she asked him, knowing the answer already, knowing what he had started to say.

* * *

There was no answer.

"What?" she prompted.

He grinned.

"Never mind, Judy. I'm being a kid about it, anyhow. You'll be all right. You're sure to be. And——" He straightened his tie. Judy noticed that he didn't wear a tie and collar that seemed, like Elton's, to be all made in one piece. His tie was rumpled, his collar was turned up a little on one side.

"Here," she said, "let me fix it."

She tugged at the necktie,smoothed it into shape. Strange, she thought how tall a man looks when you fix his tie. And how, no matter how much you smooth the tie, a man will always jerk at it again as soon as you've finished. She felt warm and friendly, and very happy, standing close to Dick Mason, looking up at him, seeing his nice smile.

"Judy,' he said, finally, "Judy."

"Yes, Dick?"

"Judy, you—you——"

"Nothing."

"Yes, Dick?"

?"But——"

"Nothing at all,"he repeated doggedly. "Only listen, Judy. I've got news for you."

"News?"

"Yes. Big news. Look!"

He pointed at the curb. There, resplendent, ornate, sat a lean gray roadster.

"Yours, Dick?"

"Uh-huh Mine," he said proudly. "Or——anyhow, if I keep up the payments, I'll own it in about three years and seven months from now. I'm taking a chance of having enough for the rest of the payments. I made the first payment to-day. And, Judy, I've got to work to-night—and I want you to go along and help me."

"Help you? How can I, Dick?"

"Just by—by being with me."

* * *

Judy caught her breath. Things don't go this quickly, she told herself. A man doesn't walk right up and smile at you and start being in love with you. Maybe in songs. Maybe in movies. But not really. Not ever.

"They want me to be there by 6 o'clock," he said briskly, inspecting his wrist watch. "And that leaves just twenty-five minutes for you to get ready and for us to get there. So——"

"Get where?"

"I'm not going to tell you. You wait and see."

"But I ought to study for the audition to-morrow, Elton said—"

"Elton!" Dick said the name as though he had bitten on a cherry stone, Judy thought. "Elton!"

"But—" she giggled. "I can read while I'm dressing. And maybe you'll help me later if I take the script along."

"Of course. That's just the right way to learn a part. Absolutely. Hurry, won't you, Judy? Please hurry. Please!"

It was comical, seeing a man so tall being so much like a small boy.' It was comical. Judy knew she ought to laugh at him. But she found she did not really want to laugh, and more than ever at this moment, she wondered, her ming asked questions, her mind found no answers, her mind went this way and that, and went nowhere at all.

"I'll be back in ten minutes," she said. "Nine."

"Make it three!"

"Can't. But I'll make it six."

"Sold."

EARLY MORNING HOURS ARE BAD FOR ACCIDENTS

Do not Attempt to Relax Vigilance because Traffic is Light.

If you drive a motor vehicle of any kind, the next time you are tempted to relax vigilance because the hour is early and the traffic is light—don't.

1,283 accidents occurred in the province of Ontario last year between midnight and breakfast time. Most of these accidents took place because drivers, concluding there wasn't much competition for right of way, stepped on the accelerator just a little harder than usual and took it for granted that the approaching intersection or blind curve would be clear.

This attitude resulted in 82 known deaths and known injuries to 768 persons in 1931. An analysis of the accident statistics furnished by the Motor Vehicles Branch of the Ontario Department of Highways, indicates clearly that there is no hour during night or day, in any season or under any conditions, when either motorist or pedestrian can afford to take a chance.

WINNIPEG GRAIN EXCHANGE.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2.— (C.P.) — Influenced by strength at Liverpool, wheat prices here scored gains of nearly 1 cent in early trading to-day. At the high points, however, offerings became fairly liberal and values with the passing of the initial hour settled at levels about ¼ cent over the previous close. At the start good buying by Chicago interests and seaboard houses was in evidence while the bulk of the selling came from elevator interests.

Early reports indicate that a fair export business was worked overnight but no estimate was placed on the amount of business done.

OLD INSTITUTION ARE FALL FAIRS

J. B. NELSON'S ADDRESS.

"Fall Fairs" was the subject of a topical and interesting address delivered by Vice-President J. B. Nelson to his fellow Kiwanians today noon at Empress Hotel, in which he provided a review of the origin and development of fairs in general, and in which he spoke with particular emphasis of the forthcoming Peterborough Industrial Exhibition and stressed its importance to this community.

In introducing the speaker, John J. Turner, chairman of the program committee spoke in appreciative terms of Mr. Nelson's unfailing willingness to help the work of the club or any other organization which had the welfare of the city and district at heart.

That Mr. Nelson's address was wholly appreciated was evident by the vote of thanks tendered to him by President Harry J. Boyle, on motion of J. A. O'Brien. The latter speaking on behalf of the club, was eloquent in his tribute to the speaker and also to Miss Jessie Pattison, the guest soloist.

At the outset of his address Mr. Nelson endeavored to show the close relationship between the city and rural dweller and the degree of inter-dependence one with the other.

An Old Institution

He spoke of the rural fairs as having been contemporary with the early settlement of this country, where people came from the older lands across the seas, bringing their various customs with them, not the least of which was the custom of holding annual fairs.

Primarily the fairs were organized and operated for the benefit of the farmer and rural dweller. Fairs had been aptly described as the "farmer's show window," but Mr. Nelson also reminded his listeners Board as "one of the first service business and professional man and to the entire district in which such fairs were held.

There were educational, social and entertainment values to any fair, besides the other most important advantage of the advertising which an exhibitor or a district received from such a community enterprise.

Peterborough in Forefront

Speaking more particularly of Peterborough Exhibition itself, the speaker said, so far as its size and the value of its prize list was concerned, it was well to the forefront. The Exhibition Board was composed of sixty men, half of them professional and business men and the others farmers, stockbreeders and gardeners. Every member of the board gave of his services voluntarily and without pay.

Peterborough Exhibition, which had now been operating ever since the earliest days of this community now attracted 35,000 people annually. At the time of reorganization thirty years ago, it had an annual patronage of 4,000 people.

Mr. Nelson, stressing the yearly growth of the local Ex., stated there was a strong junior farmer section which had attracted 200 young farmer entrants last year, and which this year would probably attract 250 juniors.

In quoting one of the favorite expressions of Mayor Denne, president of the Exhibition Board, the speaker described the Exhibition Board as "one o fthe first service clubs in Peterborough." In conclusion, he urged the Kiwanians to get behind the Board in their efforts to make Peterborough Exhibition larger and more successful each year. By so doing they would not only be boosting their own community, but indirectly they would be boosting themselves.

While the work of Kiwanis and other service clubs has in past years met with public favor the present unusual world conditions have brought a growing appreciation of this human welfare work. Signs in the West End

City officials faced a new mystery to-day—one that concerned the strange disappearance of some score of "Keep Off the Grass" signs from the city parks.

The whereabouts of the missing park signs do not form a part of the mystery. Their location was soon learned. Residents of Gilmour Street telephoned early this morning to say that Alderman Stocker's lawn was studded with "Keep Off the Grass" signs. A visit to the lawn proved that the message was all too true—there was hardly a square foot of lawn that did not have a sign.

Who moved the signs is the problem that is bothering the City Fathers, but likely Alderman Stocker will solve the mystery when he returns early next week from his honeymoon.

Meanwhile there are no "Keep Off the Grass" signs on any of the city parks.

CRITICISM IS AN EXPRESSION OF EGOTISM

Husband Describes Feelings as He "Nags" His Wife.

ALSO TRUE OF CHILD.

Continues Fault-Finding After First Bit Irks Her.

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

As you read the following imagine yourself writing it. Some readers will want to substitute the word husband for wife.

I desire to describe a curious trait I have observed in myself which I think prevails with all adults, to some degree.

First I should note that it is difficult to observe one's own shortcomings and to see them as if one were another person standing off and looking on.

I have discovered that upon becoming critical of some of the things my wife has done or not done, the evidence in her of being annoyed at my censure has in turn annoyed me, and that as a result, I am then inclined to carry my critical attitude to other matters during the next several minutes or several hours.

What psychology is there in such phenomena? Granted, for argument, that my criticism was clearly reasonable to me. Even then, the chances are that it was given in a manner and at a time not favorable for her acceptance. If it was not well received it did more harm than good.

No matter what she should have done, if she was annoyed by my criticism, more of it by me was gritirely unwise. But since I, like most other people, am rarely wholly piloted by reason in such instances, you can safely guess that one item of fault-finding led to more. Because the first ones were annoying to her, added ones certainly proved more so.

The most curious thing is that I should have gone on being a nuisance, when obviously no good was coming out of my criticism, but I was adding to her annoyance. Now what was back of my persistence? Very primitive factors, is the answer. When I criticise my wife, I announce in relation to the incident at hand, my superiority to her. "That is not the way I should have done it," is substantially what I say. This subtle expression of my egotism arouses her ire, and no doubt unawares, since she has to her credit considerable self-respect.

When she refuses, more or less unconsciously, to accept my announced superiority, I am vexed. My sense of pride is trampled on. I search for other ways to express my self-superiority. I censure her for something else, which in turn aggravates her feelings. Because she betrays increased annoyance at my criticism I am the more irritated. As I pile up criticisms, she is the more annoyed, which annoyance increasingly annoys me. The more she resents being lorded over by me the more her resentment stirs up my ire, and the more I strive through new criticism to reassure myself and to impress her with my superiority. On goes the strife ad infinitum.

Then the mere law of association and general mood I am in conspire to make me go on finding similar things in her to disapprove. I can see a second or a tenth fault in her more easily after having found a first. Then surcharged by the vexation which her responses have stirred up in me., I am all the more disposed to go on at fault finding. The same kind of thing happens in relation to one's children. You must have observed it in yourself and in other parents.

Now if my wife had accepted the suggestions of my superiority and had acted accordingly, there had been no unpleasantness, and my criticisms had been fewer.

to Brock street at a cost of $440. The engineer reported that it would cost $3,000 to curb and gutter George street from Park Hill Road to Argyll street, and the work was turned down.

At a cost of $156, a four-foot steel fence will be erected about the sewage disposal plant. The engineer reported that such a fence would protect the septic tank from stones and other debris. O'Carroll Avenue will be opened from Aylmer street to Bethune street at a cost of $350, it was decided.

In connection with the proposed rest room and storage room under two arches of the bridge, the plan is to brick up the arch for a distance of ten feet, with a door, and have covered wash rooms and dressing rooms for teams inside. The City Engineer was instructed to draw plans and specifications right away and call for tenders. The motion carried unanimously.

Sell Last Team

Permission was granted the Chairman of the Board of Works to sell the city's last team of horses. They have been on grass all summer and the city doesn't need them, it was explained. When they are sold, the city will own but one horse, the one used in cleaning the streets.

Except for Alderman Tuggey, the Board of Works committee were unanimous in the view that the city would be wise in obtaining the brewery property. It would add greatly to James Stevenson Park and complete the park, it was said, while at the same time removing an efesore and a fire trap. Alderman Tuggey opposed it on the ground that now was no time to purchase property.

ENTERED SERVICE 1888.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2 (C.P.).—George W. Taylor, Commissioner of Excise, Department of National Revenue, announced yesterday that, owing to ill health, he had decided to apply for superannuation to become effective on the first of next month.

Mr. Taylor entered the service as an excise officer at Toronto in 1888, in the old Inland Revenue Department and was transferred to Windsor in 1896. He was removed to Bertierville, P.Q., with increased responsibility, in 1899, and from thence his transfer to Hyacinthe was ordered in 1904.

Mr. Taylor was again transferred to Quebec in 1906, and in 1909, he was appointed to the position of assistant secretary of the Department at Ottawa. In 1913, Mr. Taylor was promoted to the position of secretary of the Department, and on October 1 following, received the appointment of assistant deputy minister and secretary.

Owing to amalgamation of the Department of Inland Revenue with the Department of Customs, Mr. Taylor was appointed assistant deputy minister of the combined departments, and with the passing of the National Revenue Act by Parliament on April 1, 1927, whereby the Department became known as the Department of National Revenue, with separate divisions of customs, excise and income tax, respectively, Mr. Taylor was appointed to his present position as commissioner of excise.

HASTINGS WINS BRENNAN CUP

Vilagle Nine Are Winners in Baseball Tournament at Norwood.

FOR T. V. L. TEAMS.

HASTINGS, Sept. 2 (Examiner Correspondence). — Hastings journeyed to Norwood to-day and returned in possession of a trophy donated by Doug. Brennan for competition between the leading teams of the Trent Valley League, Hastings, Deloro and Havelock. The games were a part of the sporting activities of the field day under the auspices of the ladies of the parish of Our Lady of Count Carmel.

Hastings secured the bye, and the first game was won by Havelock from Deloro by the score of 6—5. Following are the line-ups for the two teams:

Deloro.—M. Callery, cf; Boudreau, 1b; Brown, ss; Stewart, c; Gray, 3b; Cousins, rf; McInroy, lf; V. Callery, 2b; F. Callery, p; O'Neill, Brady, McCrpden, subs.

Scort by innings:—

Havelock .....0 0 0 3 1 4 x—8

Hastings Wins 6—5

Havelock and Hastings then played off for possession of the cup. Hastings winning after a hard-fought struggle by a 6—5 score.

Hastings scored twice in their first innings, when Herrington was hit by a pitched ball, Boyle got a life on an error and both scored on G. Scriver's two-base hit.

Havelock immediately tied the score, getting to Jimmy Bigwin for three successive doubles by B. Christie, Campney, and McLaughlin.

Hastings again gained a two-run lead in the third, when C. Scriver walked, Bigwin doubled to centre, and Thompson scored them on another double to centre, only to see Havelock immediately tie it up on Campney's triple, Baylis' error, McLaughlin's single, Herrington's error, and Clarke's single.

Havelock went into the lead in the last of the fourth innings on Capney's double and McLaughlin's single. Hastings then proceeded to put the game on ice, scoring twice on errors by B. Christie and Mathison, and Thompson's single.

Hastings wind up their baseball season a week from next Wednesday, when they will be hosts to Havelock, Warkworth, and Foster's Juniors from Peterborough, in a tournament to decide possession of the C.P.R. Recreation Cup for the next year.

GANOT HORSE SETS NEW TRACK RECORD

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 2.—Over a fast piece of dirt and without a horse to take him any part of the route, Lou Ganot, driven by "Babe" Elmhirst, came back after one day's rest to break the track record held jointly by Sid Hal and Willis Grattan. The Ganot horse went the last trip in 2.07¾, the first half being in 1.04, a nice evenly rated mile. When the driver and horse returned to the stand they were given an ovation by the large crowd attending the second day's racing of the Belleville Fair.

Bud Weinger supplied the opposition in the first two miles, the first heat being the best finish seen in this district, when they raced like a team through the stretch with Lou Ganot getting the decision at the wire. He simply buggy-rode the second mile, but in the third he went the full route to break the track record. On Tuesday this same horse won the 2.14 class in four heats.

The 2.22 class had five starters and Clifford Chapman was always on the winning end, with Pearl Grattan from the Penetang Stable. "Chappy" made every post a winning one, the only time the mare was put to a real drive was in the first heat, when he had to go round the field to take the post position. Marian Grattan, a recent winner at Picton Fair, supplied the opposition. Catharine Grattan, after breaking a hopple in the first heat and not trying the second, came on to finish second in the third heat, and was only nipped at the wire for all the money.

WIDOW POLLAK GIVEN FREEDOM

Beautiful Husband-Slayer Lays Plans to Start Beauty Parlor.

SHOT IN SELF DEFENSE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The Widow Pollak was acquitted yesterday of murder, a month after she shot to death the husband she said she loved.

Chief Justice Harry Fisher ruled that Mrs. Dorothy Pollak, one of the most beautiful of Chicago women ever tried on murder charges, shot "poor Joe" after he had threatened her life with a butcher knife.

Upon kissing friends and relatives when the verdict was read, the smartly clad Mrs. Pollak brushed away a tear and exclaimed:

"I still love poor Joe. I've always loved him. I'm going out to his grave the first thing I do. Then I'm going to take a rest and later I shall open a beauty shop."

Pollak ostensibly was a real estate dealer, but spent most of his time selling illicit alcohol in wholesale lots. His wife killed him, she said, because he had threatened to "cut out her heart" after she chided him for associating with another woman.

EGMONTS HEAD TOWARD COAST

Eleventh Earl and His Bride May Go to Old Country.

ON HONEYMOON.

CALGARY, September 2. — Honeymoon-bound to the Pacific Coast, Frederick George Moore Perceval, eleventh Earl of Egmont, and his young bride, the former Geraldine Moodie, of this city, last night were speeding on a trip which may take them to the Old Country. The young couple were married here on Wednesday.

Parents of the Countess here were reluctant to discuss any plans made for the honeymoon trip, but it is believed the Earl and Countess will visit a number of points en route to the Coast, including Jasper Park. The wedding came as a complete surprise to friends of both the bride and groom.

The youthful Priddis rancher returned to Canada from England early in July following the death of his father, Frederick Perceval, near Avon Castle. Since returning he had made his home in the city. It was here he met his bride, about two months ago.

"Held Up" On A Bicycle Tour

WHEN Tom and Bob were told that they might pay a two weeks visit to their Grandparents, who lived on a big farm about forty miles distant from the city in which they dwelt, they were delighted. But when their father consented to their making the trip on their new bicycles, their joy seemed to know no bounds.

Mother was by no means enthusiastic, for she imagined any number of things that might happen on the ride. And she feared that the boys would lose their way and maybe have to spend the night in the woods. But Father assured her that Tom and Bob were perfectly capable of taking care of themselves and that forty miles, after all, isn't a very great distance for two strong, healthy boys to cover in a single day.

Tom and Bob bought small pocket maps of the country they would pass through and Father carefully marked off the route for them in red ink, and made a number of suggestions as to where and how long they should rest.

Finally the morning set for their departure arrived though it had seemed to both the lads that it never, never would come. It was early summer and the air was soft and balmy with the bright sunshine flooding everything.

Mother had fixed a splendid lunch for them which they wrapped in two packages and tied securely on their handle bars. They fastened their coats on the seats and made certain their tool kits were equipped for emergencies. Then, looking back and waving their hands at their Mother, who was standing on the front steps all but weeping, they peddled joyfully down the street, happy in the thought of all that lay before them.

After reaching the open country, they took turns "setting the pace," and they reeled off the miles rapidly. Past farm houses, with dogs barking in their yards, past machines going toward town with their loads of produce for the market, and through little villages with their general store, oil-station and scattering houses.

Finally about noon they espied a spring trickling down from a wooded embankment at the side of the road and decided to stop there for lunch. The bundles were quickly untied from the handle-bars and the lunch spread before them in the shade. Tom caught a glimpse of a farm house back in the trees and, leaving Bob to watch out for the lunch, set off for it to secure, if possible, a pitcher of cold milk.

He returned presently having braved the danger of a frisky, barking dog, with a stone jug filled to the brim with rich cold milk.

The boys ate until but little of the lunch was left and the milk had disappeared. Then Bob carried the jar back to the farm-house, thanked the woman for her kindness and returned. He found Tom sprawled on his back in the shade, his arms outstretched and his cap pulled down over his eyes. Bob followed suit immediately, for he, too, felt drowsy.

They had been resting about twenty minutes when the bushes suddenly parted behind them, a dirty, unshaven face peered forth and a rough voice exclaimed:

"Hello kids, give us a bite."

Both boys sat up instantly and watched the man—quite evidently a tramp—emerge from the bushes and flop down on the ground beside the remains of their lunch. If the truth be told, they were a little frightened, for the intruder was certainly a rough-looking customer. But they tried valiantly to give no sign of it and to act naturally.

"Sure," said Tom, more cheerfully than he really felt. "Come on, help yourself."

"Don't care if I do," the tramp assented with a smile. "Do you kids know how long I have been without a bite to eat? Huh? Well, it's been seven days!"

"None o'yer lip, kid!" interrupted the tramp crossly, reaching for a ham sandwich with one hand and a hard-boiled egg with the other. "None o' your back talk! I said seven days, didn't I, and that goes! Get me?"

Neither of the boys made him any reply; but they watched him, fascinated, as he stuffed sandwich after sandwich into his mouth without even a glance in their direction, much less a word. And as he ate he seemed to get in a better humor. Presently he had his fill so he stuffed what was left into his pockets.

"Kids don't need to eat but once a day," he said with a leering smile. "An' I need dis in my business. Hey, you," meaning Tom—"Toss over that bag of cute little chociut cakes you got in yer lap. Sweets is bad for little boys. Hurry up, kid, don't you hear me?"

"Say, look here," retorted spunky little Tom. "Who do you think you are? Haven't you got any manners at all. We invited you to have something to eat and—"

"Shut up! None o' yer lip, kid!" growled the tramp, half rising lazily.

"Hand over them cakes or I'll come over and learn you something."

"You—you shut up yourself," snapped out Tom.

"Huh! huh!" exclaimed the tramp, as though he could scarcely believe his ears. "Say!" And, with an ugly look on his dirty face, he scrambled quickly to his feet. Bob jumped up and reach for a large stone that was lying nearby.

"Sit down! You—sit—down!" commanded Tom, without so much as a quaver in his voice.

And the tramp sat down, too—much more quickly than he had risen to his feet—for he found himself gazing straight into a shining revolver in Tom's outstretched hand.

"Aw, say," he whined, "I was only foolin'. Can't you take a joke, kid?" And he tried to smile pleasantly.

"Don't you dare move, you bum!" ordered Tom sternly. And then to Bob, "Pick up our bicycles, Bob, and get them all ready on the road. I'll hold this fellow where he belongs—and if he moves I'll shoot him—I can't miss him this close!" And he waved the pistol threateningly at the tramp.

"Hey, cut it out! Cut it out, sonny!" the hobo cried. "That thing might go off. I ain't scared of it, y' understand, but it might go off!"

"Shut up!" Tom commanded. "You bet it might go off—and if it does you'll know it, believe me!"

Still covering the tramp with the revolver and without taking his eyes off him Tom back to the road where Bob had placed the bicycles in position a good distance down the road.

"Now!"

Instantly he turned, grabbed his bicycle from Bob and, in a jiffy both boys vaulted to their saddles.

"Hey! Come back here you—you—" and the tramp let loose a vile string of oaths. "I'll learn you—what—"

But his voice was lost in the rush of air about their ears as they sped

PRESIDENT HOOVER ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF MACNIDER U. S. MINSTER TO DOMINIONS

Congratulate Him on Part in Consummation of St. Lawrence Seaway Treaty.

SERVICE TO BE PROUD OF.

Quits Post to Devote More Attention to His Private Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—President Herbert Hoover yesterday accepted the resignation of Hanford MacNider, United States Minister to Canada, and at the same time congratulated him upon his part in the consummation of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

Mr. MacNider's letter of resignation said he was quitting his post to give his attention to private affairs.

In accepting his resignation, the president said Mr. MacNider's part in the consummation of the St. Lawrence treaty was a notable service, and one of which you may always be proud.

Accomplished Objective

During the resignation, one of the president's secretaries said he understood Mr. MacNider had accomplished his main objective in accepting the ministership.

I regret exceedingly that your private affairs make it necessary for you to suspend for the present your contribution to public service.

One Great Service

In accepting your resignation I need mention but one great service which you have performed during your term of office in Ottawa—the building up of mutual understanding between our government and the great government to the north.

By the co-operative spirit which you have been able to invoke with officials of both governments you have contributed in large part to the consummation of the great treaty for the development of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway. It is a notable service, and one which you may always be proud.

Has Fleet Of Cars

SIR PHILIP SASSOON

Recognized as most confirmed bachelor in Europe and one of the most eligible.

Richest Of Bachelors

Sir Philip Sassoon Is Forty-Four And Not Yet Married.

MIGHT BE DISRAELI.

Prefers Lesser Place In British Public Affairs.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 2—Fleets of Rolls-Royces.

Oceans of tact.

Handsome.

Sensitive.

Immaculate.

The Right Honorable Sir Philip Albert Gustave David Sassoon, P. C., G.B.E., M.P.

Richest Bachelor

And third baronet.

The richest bachelor.

The world's only multi-millionaire secretary.

He might perhaps have been a Disraeli.

He prefers being a secretary.

The salary doesn't matter.

He was Haig's mouthpiece (unpaid) at G.H.Q. in France from 1915 to 1918.

Purple-necked colonels and brigadiers tried hard to dislike him, but he smoothed them down.

Sometimes even to quell them with an eye that can be cold and compelling.

Lt. G's "buffer" at home and seaside, from 1919 to 1923. With the finest chef in London, he proved himself useful at lake and river and Lido conferences.

Too good for the job, in fact. Sassoon has since found one worth while. Under-secretary this time. For air. The best ever.

He will be forty-four in December. He is determined to keep that schoolboy configuration.

Flying won't do it. Once he tried tennis with a stonetant partner.

Doubtless he would have married long ago, if he had found anyone like her to propose to.

Watched for 25 Years

And Mayfair dowagers have watched for 25 years. His eligibility includes one palace in Park Lane, and two in the home counties.

One marvelous place at Lympne in Kent.

That house is a legend in the district.

Its pool. Its pergolas. Its luxury.

And there one gasps when the Sassoon Rolls-Royces roll down the streets of Folkestone.

All this splendor has no mistress.

Yet women like him immensely. And mainly for himself alone.

Is he disliked at all? Of course. By men. A whole lot. A rich Jew has no business with such a good war record.

Up very early in the morning. He rides in the Row. He must keep that figure.

Dinners Famous

Plenty to do. The best host in London. His dinners at 25 Park Lane are famous.

They are often followed by brilliant speeches. By Sir Philip Sassoon.

He keeps his eloquence for private life.

A great connoisseur of the arts. He can teach the Duveens a thing or two about old masters and French furniture.

He knows books, too.

And he does not pretend to be what he is not. He is a patron of Jewish culture.

And he never pretended to be an English county squire. Despite what they say.

A reverent collector of Jewish antiquities. A trustee of the National Gallery, Tate, Wallace Collection, and British School at Rome.

His own secretaries are busy.

Talk to him. You find a curious personality. Alternately shy and self-obtrusive. It all depends.

If you seek him out, he retires into his shell. If you avoid him, he remembers you at Cambridge.

Loves Music

Probably his greatest love is music. His sister shares it with him. You hear only the finest, sung or played at 25 Park Lane.

That is a home as well as a treasure-house. That "intimate touch of a woman's hand" is entirely absent.

No woman living can teach Sassoon how to run a household.

Once his greatest confidant was another Philip, Kerr of that ilk, maker of constitutions. Lord Lothian now.

Oh, happy days of yore! Spa, Genoa, San Remo, Cannes! When a prime minister's private secretary did not take structions from armament manufacturers.

He gave them. To the armament manufacturers.

Sassoon found Miss Megan a congenial companion in those excursions. But they were only friends. As they still are.

When the Last Trump sounds, Sassoon will be applying once more for the job he loves. Private secretary to the director of celestial and infernal transport.

He did not mind. He took it as a compliment to his life's work.

He pretends not to care if it is unkind. He does care.

And he really ought to get married. The right woman might produce the Disraeli that is in him. He will never be one alone.

Too much the secretary.

BEAR IS SPOTTED IN GULL LAKE

Reports Regarding Arrest of C.N.R. Fireman Found to be Incorrect.

LIQUOR CASE UNDECIDED.

LINDSAY, Sept. 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—The story published in The Examiner of September 1 concerning Wm. Downer, C.N.R. fireman, residing at Haliburton, was misleading and incorrect. No charges of any kind have been laid against that gentleman, nor did he appear before the Magistrate at that village, as was stated in the article. The information was forwarded in good faith following the visit of an officer to the north, and from whom the story was first obtained. The correction is made in fairness to Mr. Downer, whose reputation is above reproach.

George Calder, a well-known guide of Fenelon Falls, while out on his launch on Gull Lake this week, came across a very large bear swimming in the water. The animal reached the south shore safely and disappeared from view.

Judgment was reserved in the charge preferred against Frank Robertson, of Frank's Cafe and Hotel, Haliburton, on Wednesday of keeping liquor for sale. Constable Porter laid the information, following a visit to Robertson's place on August 17. The defence was that the accused had given the beer away in appreciation of the patronage he enjoyed.

Orlm Wiggins, of Hamilton, appeared before Police Magistrate Jordan yesterday, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, by issuing cheques when he had no covering account. He was remanded.

Doctors Bar Kin From Police Force

ATLANTA, Sept. 2. — Amid perennial charges of nepotism, the lack of favoritism of two Atlanta physicians astonished the city. Examining applicants for the police force Dr. C. R Bullock turned down his brother because of a stiff knee and Dr. D. F. Smith declined to pass his son because he was underweight.

HUMANE SOCIETY'S WORK IS CONSTANT

Inspector Johnston Daily Engaged in Animal's Care.

Dr. Thomas Johnston, inspector, is very busy looking after the interests of the dumb animals in this city, and surrounding districts. A large number of dogs and cats are picked up daily, many diseased, others maimed by being hit by a passing motorist, and left suffering upon the street, also many families of new-born kittens, whose mothers have been wantonly poisoned or hurt, have been gathered up and conveyed to his barn. The greater number have been humanely destroyed. A cat was found in Jackson park which had been shot, and was still living after some days suffering, and was speedily put to sleep.

Inspector Johnston finds many cases where thoughtless boys seem to take pleasure in torturing smaller animals and birds. He is also giving special attention to horses. Much suffering has been relieved by proper shoeing, and better care and stabling. Aged ones that are diseased and unfit for work have been ordered destroyed. Under his vigilant watchfulness conditions are improving each year. His work is not confined to the city alone, but he is frequently called to outside places within a redius of 25 or 30 miles.

Dr. Johnston reports a very satisfactory improvement in the transporting of cattle and hogs by truck. There is very little overloading and in some cases individual apartments are provided in trucks for transportation of cattle. The truck owners are to be congratulated upon giving more care and less suffering to domestic animals, which are so necessary an asset to the menu of every table

DEFENSE COST IN YEAR CUT TO 150 MILLIONS

Figures Attest Danger In Event of War in Spite of Scorn For Pacifism.

ITALIAN ARMAMENTS.

ROME, Sept. 2.—Italy believes in war, but can not afford it in its modern version.

Indication of this can be found in recent utterances by Premier Mussolini and his Air Minister Gen. Italo Balbo, and by study of Italy's financial condition.

Writing about the social and political doctrines of Fascism in the new Italian Encyclopedia, Mussolini said:

"Fascism does not believe in the possibility or advisability of perpetual peace. It, therefore, rejects pacifism, which conceals renunciation of struggle and cowardice.

"Only war leads to the maximum tension of all human energies and sets the seal of nobility on a people who have the virtue to face it."

Debts Run to Billions

However, with $2,000,000,000 still owed to the United States and $1,000,000,000 to Great Britain for the last war, Italy, with the crushing load of an internal debt of $4,980,000,000, hardly is in a position to try out the prescription.

In fact, in the billion dollar budget for the current fiscal year only $150,000,000 is allotted for maintenance of the military forces of the nation. The greatest part, nearly $650,000,000, goes to pay the finance charges on the public debt.

Italy's peace battles, the fight against unemployment and the struggle to modernize the nation, are straining her financial resources. Hundreds of millions are being spent for road-building, hydro-electric developments, land reclamation schemes and other projects.

The current fiscal year started with a deficit of $103,000,000—an increase of $38,000,000 over last year. In addition, the internal debt increased $165,000,000 during the past year.

War Unthinkable

It would not be true to say Italy is on the verge of a financial collapse, but it is difficult to see how resources of the nation could stand any unusual strain with its foreign trade cut almost in half and the number of its unemployed nearly double what it was a year ago. However, there has been some amelioration of the unemployment situation during the past few months.

A modern war would be an unusual strain on the financial resources of the nation. The last war cost Italy $47,792,000,000 (more than three times the amount of the public debt to-day), according to the report of the parliamentary commission of inquiry issued in March, 1935.

From the financial point of view, it is easy to understand the strong stand for disarmament taken by the Italian delegation at the recent conference in Geneva, but with the Duce on record for the benefits of war that position seems paradoxical, unless Italy has the intention of bringing the price of war down to a level where she can afford to play it.

A hint of such a motive might be seen in a recent statement by Balbo. In an article for Mussolini's newspaper, "Popolo D'Italia," he wrote:

"Aviation is the arm of the poor. For the price of a single battleship a fleet of 2,000 planes could be built."

Defends Huge Planes

Balbo also took issue with the proposal to limit huge planes, which was included in the Benes resolution drawn up at the close of the disarmament conference. The suggestions were to abolish planes over 4,400 pounds or 6,000 pound in weight.

The Italian Air Minister declared such a scheme would not settle the problem of eliminating bombing planes and would condemn Italy's aviation to death. He made a counter-proposal to abolish all planes of more than 1,430 pounds in weight.

This, he admitted, would condemn all aviation, but Italy could not agree to anything less than that, as every plane over that weight was a potential bomber.

During the past few months, Balbo has constantly urged Italy concentrate on its air force. He advised eliminating some of the useless branches of the army, such as cavalry, and use of the money to build planes.

Italy has not undertaken any new naval construction this year, but about a half of the naval appropriation of $70,000,000 will be used to complete submarines and cruisers already on the ways.

With the military training given to thousands of youths belonging to the Fascist organization it can be said Italy has prepared herself as well as her resources permit for the war, Mussolini believes is necessary for the continued vitality of a people.

BACK TO THE LAND.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—It is a matter of great regret that the Mayor of Toronto has refused Mr. Bennett's far-reaching and permanent policy of back-to-the-Land. To my personal knowledge it has taken tremendously, and if it goes to the wall in favor of the old policy of direct relief, it will discourage many hopeful young men.

THE KEY TO HEALTH.

Edito rof The Examiner.

Sir,—In view of the various opinions held as to the nature and the cause of disease by various organizations working along metaphysical lines it might be of interest to your readers to learn the viewpoint of the Rosicrucian Brotherhood (AMORC). Although this ancient brotherhood is not primarily devoted to the alleviation and cure of disease, yet in its investigation of the laws governing man in his relation to the Universe and to himself, the laws of health have been thoroughly studied.

Fundamentally, disease is a local or general disturbance of the harmonious constructive process of the living creative cells of the body. Regardless of the cause, the condition is basically the same. This breaking down process of the diseased cells is strongly or weakly fought by the healthy, normal cells. Through the creative, constructive powers of the normal cells, nature attempts to end the destruction and renew the disease cells and so restore health.

The battle calls for concentration of energy and so robs the general system of its normal status, while disease is also disqualifying many cells, organs, tissues, etc., of the body for their normal work.

The logical procedure, then, is to help nature, and by ending the cause of the disturbance allow the natural forces to work.

Proper breathing, eating, exercise, sleep, and thinking are the first essentials in helping nature. Giving to the blood, nerves, and general system that which may be lacking is the next essential. Hence the various schools of medicine may assist and contribute to the restoration of health by assisting nature in this way.

While so-called death or transition is inevitable, disease is not necessary, and only comes through unconscious or unconscious violation of the laws of God that govern man in his relation to his body.

Pain is a warning signal, and the aim should be not to dull or remove the pain, but to search out the underlying cause and remove that.

By writing to the Rosicrucian Brotherhood at San Jose, Calif., or to myself, any sincere seeker may freely obtain further information.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for our courtesy,

R. FARTHING.
416½ George Street, Peterborough.

FIRST IN FIELD FOR AUTO TIRES

Lillico Motors Have Local Agency for Dominion Super-balloons.

Super-balloon tires, the latest development in the industry since the introduction of the balloon tire itself, ten years ago, have made their debut in Peterborough.

Lillico Motors as distributors and dealers of Dominion tires for Peterborough and district, are now demonstrating a set of the new big, soft, low-pressure super-balloon tires which have been attached to a Plymouth sedan. They are the first set of super-balloons in this city, it is claimed.

Among the claims made for these new type of tires is included improved riding quality, better traction on wet pavement and in sand, mud, and snow, less danger from blowout, etc.

In a recent demonstration which was given to an Examiner reporter a drive was taken over some of the city's notoriously bad roads where pot holes and ruts commonly make driving an ordeal. With the super-balloons a marked improvement was noticed on the rough stretches, while ease of stopping quickly on loose gravelled surfaces was also noted. Not the least important advantage of super-balloons is their more attractive appearance. Everybody who has seen them agrees that they are better looking and enhance the looks of a car.

Norwood

NORWOOD, Sept. 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—The redecoration of the interior of the Norwood Baptist Church and the replacing of new windows of enameled glass bordered with side lights of amber glass has just been completed.

At the re-opening services on Sunday last, Rev. G. E. Downing preached in the morning on "Burden Bearing" and the subject of the evening service was "The Purpose of the Visible Church."

On Monday night a fellowship service was held, to which the ministers and members of the other churches were invited to join and to which a very representative gathering responded, showing a fine spirit of sociality and goodwill.

The Rev. Mr. Reeves of the Presbyterian church and the Rev. Mr. Celand of the United church, in short addresses, brought greetings from their respective churches and stressed the need of giving God and the church the best we had.

Musical numbers were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Godin, Mr. and Mrs. Bootle, C. S. Patterson, Miss F. Kelly, and Mr. Rutter.

Mr. McGowan, in an excellent way, tendered a vote of thanks to all who had taken part in the program and to the ladies whose efforts played no small part in the beautifying of the church.

At the close of the service lunch was served by the ladies, in the Sunday school room, and thus a very profitable and enjoyable service was closed.

About 100,000,000 pounds of tuna and horse-mackerel, which is the Atlantic cousin of the California variety, are caught yearly by American fishermen.

WORLD IN BAD WAY SAYS "G.K."

Rights Of Man Seem Forgotten Declares Chesterton.

HE HAS OWN PLAN.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 2—"The world is in a bad way," says Gilbert K. Chesterton, British author and philosopher. Chesterton goes further.

"I will make the world's flesh creep with my diagnosis of the world's disease," he says.

Rights Forgotten

"The world has gone wrong because it no longer believes in the rights of man," adds the cloaked philosopher. "It is of prime importance that we should at once decide whether or not democracy should be scrapped and the essential rights of man surrendered.

"For the world is in a bad way. I do not allude to the present muddle in the bookkeeping for which this or that pitiful juggling with counters is proposed as a remedy.

"The Communists have a remedy, the believers in a world-combine trust, or state have a remedy. Those who have been wont to call themselves democrats have none. When I was a Socialist I and nearly all my fellow believers were social-democrats. I am still a democrat.

"The 20th century has discovered that it is not enough to put a declaration of the rights of man on a piece of paper—it was put on one very noble piece of paper, and America has proved how worthless that piece of paper might become.

A Pious Opinion

"There, where no heredity ranks obscure the issue, it is still maintained as a pious opinion that Mr. Henry Ford and Mr. Kid McCoy, whom Mr. Ford has just released from prison, and the Ford machine-minders whom Mr. McCoy will drill, are citizens with equal rights.

"But America knows better. The world knows better. The one true fact lurking shyly in the materialistic interpretation of history is that there must be an economic basis for the rights of man.

"What is the economic security that every citizen should have? Communism and combinism—Stalin and Lord Ashfield—offer the security . . . and abolish the rights. I can see no economic guarantee of citizen rights other than distributed property—that is to say, the ownership by the individual citizen of the means of existence.

"It would possibly be cheaper and easier if we all did standardised work in standardized factories, wore standardized clothes, ate standardized food and lived in standardized barracks, with standardised matings under the guidance of experts and standardized offspring when more machine minders became necessary.

"But that is beside the point. The point is that democracy is only possible when the citizen is economically independent.

"I take it that most people in England are opposed to all dictators. If they are, they must believe in democracy. If they believe in democracy they must stand for distributed ownership."

HERE'S MENU FOR PERFECT LAWN PICNIC

Entertainment Always Fine Guests Agree, If "Eats" at Fete Appetizing.

LABOR DAY PARTY.

(Detroit Times)

A Labor Day picnic party may be given on one's own lawn, or in one's own home as a "dinner," or as a gypsying trail of automobiles, into which one gathers one's friends and goes where the grass is green.

A home picnic dinner may have the menu, that is the napkin, knife, fork, spoon, paper or china plates as one likes, the bread and butter sandwiches, cake, pie, pickles, or whatever isn't too hot or too liquid to go in boxes, in fancy colored pasteboard containers which have been made by the hostess. Perhaps the easiest way to do this would be to purchase a sufficient number of the right size boxes and cover each one with different colored paper.

For this type of dinner there should be games, contests, treasure hunts, all on the subject of Labor Day. Any encyclopedia will divulge information upon which games and contests may be built.

Here is a menu which will serve 50. If the picnic is a motor or hiking one, the hot fried chicken and baked potatoes may be eliminated. The recipies will serve 40.

Menu.

Banana and Grapefruit Cocktail.
Fried Chicken.
Baked Potatoes. Currant Jelly.
Salmon Mold or
Luncheon Tuna Fish Salad
Bread and Butter Sandwiches.
Saratoga Chips.
Deviled Ham, Corned Beef and Sardine Sandwiches.
Loaf Cake.

Banana and Grapefruit Cocktail.—Cut ten 3-ounce jars maraschino cherries in halves, add cherry syrup and five No. 2 cans grapefruit and chill well. Just before serving, add 10 bananas cut lengthwise in slender, 1-inch pieces, letting them stick up around edges and centre of the cocktail as a garnish.

Salmon Mold.—Mix scant ounce salt, five teaspoons mustard, few grain cayenne, 10 egg yolks and scant half cup butter in top of a double boiler, add five cups milk and one scant cup vinegar slowly and cook until thick. Dissolve in it three-fourths cup gelatin softened in three-fourths cup cold water. Cool, and when beginning to thicken add five 1-pound cans salmon flaked, two and one-half cups peas and two and one-half cups chopped walnuts and mold in a fish shaped mold.

Luncheon Tuna Fish Salad.—Boil two pounds diced potatoes and one pound diced carrots until tender. Drain. Add three and three-fourths cups diced celery and three and three-fourths cups diced canned string beans and marinate all in French dressing for at least one hour. Add five cans flaked tuna fish (large cans), mixing lightly, so not made pasty. Moisten with mayonnaise.

Loaf Cake.—Cream one-half cup butter and one and one-fourth cups sugar and add two well-beaten eggs. Add one-half teaspoon soda to one-half cup cider. Combine one-half cup sliced citron, one-half cup chopped nuts and one-half cup chopped raisins and mix with two tablespoons cake flour. Sift two cups cake flour with two and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon clove and one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg. Add the flour alternately with one-half cup evaporated milk and the cider and soda. Add the floured fruits and nuts and pour into a well-greased loaf pan. It makes either one large loaf or two medium ones. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 35 minutes if in two pans, or for 45 minutes if in a large pan. Cool, ice with icing made by adding a little cider to confectioner's sugar until of the proper consistency, then adding a spoonful of melted butter.

Make five or six of these loaf cakes.

Beware Of These Men For Husbands

Don't marry a man whose eyes wander up and down the trim form of the waitress serving the dinner.

Keep away from tightwads.

Keep away from a man with a cranky disposition.

Don't marry a man who is acutely interested in every woman that he meets.

These bits of feminine wisdom have been published for the guidance of the needy by the students of Teachers College, Columbia University.

"The fine arts of choosing a husband requires the nicest execution of judgment at your command," the paper proclaims naively. Substitute common sense for intuition. Consider the man from more angles than you possess.

"Do Eddie's eyes wander interestedly from the tips of the waitress' patent leather pumps to the crown of her boyish bob?

"Does he tap nervously on the tea cloth as he scowls around the room in search of service? If so, beware. Better cast your vote in favor of a man who orders with his eyes on the menu, who contentedly blows smoke rings unaware to the crash of broken dishes nearby, who eats his overdone steak and underdone potatoes, if not gratefully, at least silently.

"Watch out for the man who keeps his change in a purse which is opened only by a vigorous twist of the two-close-fitting knobs."

That Body of Yours

X-RAY TREATMENT OF GOITRE

You have been reading about the treatment of tonsils by electricity which is necessary in cases where the patient does not want to undergo operation or where it might not be safe for him to do so. It means a number of trips to the doctor's office to get these treatments. Sometimes the delay may mean an attack of rheumatism or even heart disease.

Similarly with ulcer of the stomach. In the majority of cases, diet and medical treatment will cure the ulcer if the patient is willing to continue the treatment for a sufficient length of time. Here also an operation often becomes necessary, and the medical treatment must be abandoned.

Another serious ailment and one that might be cured by rest, and medical treatment is the severe form of goitre: the enlargement of the thyroid gland in the neck. Here also there are cases where the individual fears the knife, or where it is thought unwise to operate. In many of these cases the use of the X-ray has given brilliant results.

Drs. P. Hess, and H. Schlect, after the treatment of eighty cases by the X-ray, conclude that the treatment of the enlarged thyroid by this method is very efficient and equal to surgery in its effects. Good results can, however, only be secured by sufficient dosage and sufficient time. Because of the average long time period before satisfactory results can be secured, certain cases may require operation.

In their 29 cases that had been under treatment long enough, a good results was obtained in 93 per cent, while seven per cent were not affected.

In the total series the cure or improvement was only secured in 78 per cent of cases, which they consider chiefly due to insufficient dosage and time.

This can be more readily understood when we learn that the time between beginning the X-ray treatment, and definite improvement or cure varies from 3 to 24 months, an average of 16 months. Improvement usually does not set in until 4 weeks after treatment and it continues so slowly that even after four months one could not speak of a satisfactory result.

It is this slowness of producing the effect that discourages the patient and takes much persuasion on the doctor's part to have him continue treatment.

The thought then is that when the patient is willing to continue X-ray treatment for a sufficient length of time, and there is no danger by delay for this time, this method is certainly worth trying.

Favorite Recipes.

SAUER KRAUT

In summer you're looking for foods that are "light," yet high in food value. Foodad that do not increase weight or the heat of the body. Above all, foods that lend themselves in combination with other good things to lure difficult warm weather appetites.

Sauer Kraut, judged by these specifications, is pre-eminently a summer food. If dietitians and beauty experts have their way, its use will increase tremendousiy in the next few years as a warm weather staple.

Dietitians explain that in the crisp, tangy shreds of nicely-matured Sauer Kraut is conserved a famous purifier known as lactic acid. This acid promotes bodily coolness by tempering the acidity of the blood and sweeping away impurities of the system. Served raw, either alone or in combination with other non-fattening foods Sauer Kraut makes a splendidly tasty and satisfying reducer for the overly plump. (That's why beauty experts commend it!)

Here are a couple of suggestive salad recipes for Sauer Kraut. The inventive housewife will think of many more, no doubt:

Sauer Kraut and Tuna Fish Salad

Blend two cups of finely flaked tuna fish or other cooked fish with one cup of finely chopped celery, two cups of raw Sauer Kraut, two tablespoons onion juice, three chopped, stuffed olives, and two tablespoons minced parsley or water cress. Moisten with a tart cooked dressing and servce on crisp lettuce leaves. The lucky cook with a fisherman member in the family will find left over cooked trout or other fresh fish a perfect companion for Kraut.

Stuffed Sauer Kraut-Tomato Salad

1 quart Sauer Kraut.
1-3 cup salad oil.
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
1 tablespoon sugar.
1-8 teaspoon salt.
1-4 teaspoon paprika.
Lettuce.

Peel the tomatoes carefully and cut out the core and seeds. Chill. Blend the oil, lemon juice, sugar, salt, and paprika, combining with an egg beater. Toss the Sauer Kraut in the dressing and fill the tomatoes with the mixture. Chill thoroughly and serve in crisp cups of lettuce.

TOKIO LEGATION ACTION IS SEEN

LEAVES IN FEW DAYS.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—(CP)—A suitable home for the Canadian Legation in Tokio may be expected in the very near future. In line with the intimation made a few days ago the government has had under consideration the advisability of owning a building in Tokio.

The whole question was discussed with Hon. Herbert Marler, the Canadian Minister of Japan. Mr. Marler has been in Canada for some weeks and is leaving for Tokio in a few days.

Arrangements have been made with Mr. Marler, it was announced yesterday, under which it is hoped that the Legation there will have a suitable home in the very near future. Whether property will be purchased or leased was not disclosed. Nothing further will be done until Mr. Marler reaches Japan, but the impression here in unofficial circles is that a purchase is under contemplation.

35 Cents Per Bushel Alberta Pool Wheat

CALGARY, Alta., September 2 (C.P.). — Initial payment for Alberta pool wheat for the 1932-1933 crop year has been set at 35 cents per bushel, it was announced last night. The basis is number one Northern, Vancouver.

Thepool announced thata list of prices for carlots and street wheat was being sent out to the various stations throughout the province.

The announcement was made following the return from Ottawa of R. D. Purdy manager, who attended the meeting in the Capital between Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, Provincial Premiers, and pool officials.

Holding Dry Ice Burns His Hands

CANTON, Ill., Sept. 2.—"I can hold a chunk of dry ice in my hand for one minute," boasted Samuel Seward. Friends dared Nick to make the attempt. After 30 seconds Seward's hand was burned so severely that it required medical attention. He was unable to use the member for several days.

LIVING COSTS VERY LOW IN VATICAN CITY

Nine Hundred Citizens Buy Most Things Tax and Duty Free.

NO CHARGE FOR HOMES.

VATICAN CITY.—It costs less to live in the Vatican City than almost any other place in the world. This advantage for its 900 citizens is in great measure due to the fact that everything sold in the Vatican City is tax and duty free.

Persons who live in the Vatican City—they include a number of prelates, servants in the Pope's household and laborers—all live rent free. In addition they do not have to pay for their use of electricity, which is supplied by the Vatican power station.

Food also costs much less than it does in Rome. The new Vatican bakery supplies bread for five cents a kilogram as compared to the twelve cents charged by Rome bakeries.

Wine Four Cents

The price for other foodstuffs, are also lower than for the same thing in the Rome markets. Beef is only twenty cents a kilogram as compared to 60 cents in Rome. Macaroni and spaghetti in the Vatican City costs seven cents a kilogram, while outside the price is eighteen cents.

Wine and coffee, two items on which the Italian government levies a high tax, are relatively even cheaper. A good quality of wine can be bought for four cents a litre in Vatican City. In Rome the same grade of wine costs twenty cents. Coffee in Rome costs on the average 50 cents a kilogram in Rome, at the Vatican City store it can be bought for 30 cents.

Other things beside food are also cheaper. Imported English woolen cloth enough to make a suit, can be bought in the Vatican City for $10. One pays $25 for the same sort of material in Rome. Shoes cost only about half as much.

Bootlegging Flourishes

Cigars and cigarets also are sold for less. American cigarettes are sold for sixteen cents a package. In Rome 40 cents is charged. Every Vatican citizen or persons who work there is entitled to buy seven packages of cigarettes and 28 cigars a week.

The Italian government imposes drastic penalties on persons who smuggle goods out of Vatican City, but in spite of the restructions a flourishing trade in bootlegged cigarettes has grown up in Rome.

Salaries in the Vatican City range from 600 lire (about $31) a month up to 3,000 lire. They are slightly under the scale prevailing in Rome, but the purchasing power of the lire is so much greater in the Vatican City that they are really higher.

Heroic Boy Killed Playing Soldier

LONDON.—He played at being a soldier and he died like one. An extraordinary example of heroism was displayed by 12-year-old Harold Hill who was killed by a rapier-thrust during a "charge". Dressed in the uniform of a soldier, he lay dying in the hospital. He put his arms about his mother, and said: "Don't cry, mum, don't cry". He spent his last moments in proclaiming the innocence of the lad who had accidently sent the rapier-point into Harolds brain.

SEEKS MISSING MOTHER ON EVE OF HIS MARRIAGE

HAMILTON, Ont., September 2 (C.P.). — A pathetic appeal from a young Scottish man who desires to find his mother before his pending marriage was received at the police headquarters here, and every effort is being made to find Mrs. Gordon Fichter.

The Halifax man, John Reed stated in a letter to Police Chief David Coulter that he had never seen his mother since infancy. "I am soon to be married, and I would like her at my wedding," the young man said.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

TO ACCOMPLISH ANY TASK requiring time, some progress must be made each day, or there seems to be retrogression.

• • • • • • •

Unless there is a certain appreciation of the passage of time, little or nothing gets done for there appears always to be plenty of time ahead. Time passes so softly and silently.

• • • • • • •

It never whispers a warning as it goes along its inevitable way.

• • • • • • •

It never brushes us, however lightly, on the shoulder as it skims by. It cannot be halted, not for a fraction of a minute, for us to catch up with it.

• • • • • • •

We have all there is of it every day. No one can give us more. No one can take any away from us. It is ours during its temporary but continuous existence, and during the period of our existence we can do things or fail to do htme in this span. Nothing is so lively a deterrent of action as the failure to realize that each day should get us a little ahead though it be ever so trifling.

• • • • • • •

One thing we do well to realize is that time cannot be rushed. It never hurries. The person who is always in a hurry makes a mistake somewhere.

• • • • • • •

Perhaps in trying to accomplish too much. Perhaps in dallying with time and then trying to catch up with the lost moments. Accomplishment seldom depends upon hurrying.

• • • • • • •

There are persons who work with steady rhythm and succeed in finishing a surprising amount of work, and of fitting into the time enough pleasure to supply the needed balance.

• • • • • • •

There are others who work with the fire of genius, and, in a period which is amazingly short, accomplish just as much.

• • • • • • •

Of these persons it is true that when this fire burns out, they have to rest and play, but during this time they are not retrogressing, but storing up more fuel to feed the fire which will burn again when body and brain are ready for another period of work.

• • • • • • •

In both these methods each day is one of progress for whether one plods along slowly but surely or whether one works with a glowing zeal and recuperates as new energy is stored up, accomplishment is fostered.

• • • • • • •

It is the person who thinks of accomplishment while the days flit by, yet who exerts no mental or physical energy, apart from these thoughts to push the work forward, who eventually realizes that he has actually lost ground.

• • • • • • •

Before an advance can be made there has to be a recovery of something which has slipped away in terms of ability or agility during the interim.

• • • • • • •

It is said that a cook "loses her knack" in the making of dishes she has not cooked for a long time. A musician who has not practised for several days is quick to note retrogression.

• • • • • • •

Time has its retarding effect while it passes unnoticed on its silent way.

ALWAYS THE SUIT FIRST

A vivid illustration of the superiority of Approach bidding occurred in the recent final session of the Eastern championship tournament for the possession of the Reisinger Cup, emblematic of team-of-four supremacy. Two of the greatest Contract teams in the world were pitted against each other. The members of The Bridge World team were Mrs. Culbertson and Messrs. Waldeman von Zedtwitz, Theodore A. Lightner and Michael Gottlieb. Playing against them was the team, the captain of which was Mr. P. Hal Sims, who had as team-mates Messrs. Willard Karn, Oswald Jacoby and David Burnstine.

Almost all Contract players have learned that the best results are attained in almost all bidding situations by opening the bidding with suit bids and gradually approaching the correct final contract. Mr. Sims is a believer in the Approach principle, but also considerable of an individualist, which, on the hand below, proved extremely disadvantageous.

West—Dealer.

The Bidding:

(Figure after bid in table refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

West	North	East	South
1NT(1)	Pass	2NT	Pass
3NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—One diamond would be better.

Contrast this bidding with that in the other room, where Mr. Lightner held the same hand as Mr. Sims, and Mr. Gottlieb held Mr. Karn's cards.

West	North	East	South
1◇	Pass	1NT	Pass
Pass	Pass

Mr. Sims was defeated 2 in his contract of three notrump. Mr. Gottlieb made one notrump.

A Raise of an Opening bid of one notrump is clearly indicated with East's holdings, but if West opens with a bid of one diamond and East responds with a bid of one notrump, West's hand does not justify a Raise to three notrump, nor, in fact, does it particularly suggest any further action at all. If partner can merely overcall a bid of one diamond with one notrump, it carries with it the inference that he does not have a biddable suit to show. West's distributional values are practically nil, and thus, when partner responds with a bid of one notrump, showing also marked lack of distributional values, a further bid, even though holding 3½ honor-tricks, is extremely questionable.

TODAY'S POINTER

The Approach principle, which requires that on hands containing a choice between opening with a suit bid or notrump, the suit should first be bid, works with almost unfailing accuracy, both in making easier the choice of the correct eventual declaration and in avoiding losses due to notrump Opening bids.

Tomorrow's Hand

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

North—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

2 TORONTO MEN PERISH VICTIMS OF CYANIDE GAS

Double Tragedy Occurs as They Sprinkle Deadly Powder in Mushroom Shed.

AT WOODVILLE.

BEAVERTON, Sept. 2.— Deadly calcium cyanide fumigating powder sprinkled as a farmer would sow seeds, sprang up in choking gas yesterday afternoon to strangle two Toronto mushrooms-growers in a barn at Woodville, 12 miles east of here.

The dead men are W. J. Murray, aged 83, of 69 Constance street whose Woodville farm supplies mushrooms to leading Toronto hotels, and his helper, Archibald Anderson, 5 Aberdeen Avenue.

Sprawling, distorted, in the gas-filled interior of the rambling mushroom shed, the bodies of the victims formed another ghastly illustration for the pages on which have been written in recent history a series of tragedies caused by the use of cyanide for fumigation purposes.

Death Comes Quickly

Fifteen minutes from the time the men entered the shed with a quantity of the cyanide to exterminate "mushroom mice", a species of insect which infest mushrooms, they were found dead by Miss Murray, daughter of the elder man, who lives with him in Toronto and accompanies him on frequent trips to the Woodville farm.

Attempting to drag the bodies into the open, Miss Murray was herself almost overcome. The only other person at hand to help was Mrs. Anderson, wife of the second victim, who was in the farmhouse.

Both men were beyond aid, however, and after Drs. Artemus Galloway and J. B. Cramer of Woodville had worked over the bodies futilely for an hour, Coroner Dr. F. A. Logan of Lindsay ordered an inquest.

"Calcium cyanide is swift and absolutely deadly in its action when inhaled" Coroner Logan explained last night.

"It would appear" said the Coroner, "that the men simply walked about the shed, sprinkling the cyanide on the floor. Fumes would form at once, and the men must have been quickly asphxiated. They had been dead a few minutes when found.

"Three other mushroom sheds adjoining had been fumigated by Murray and Anderson during the forenoon, and fumes from these buildings, seeping through the walls, may have strengthened those already rising from the freshly-dropped powder.

Deadly Preparation.

The cyanide had been purchased from a Pearl Street firm in Toronto whose name I have secured. The stuff is much like potassium cyanide, which is frequently used for the same purpose. They are equally deadly.

"There will have to be an inquest, but I have not set the date yet," concluded the coroner.

Miss Murray was with Mrs. Anderson in the house when the men left to fumigate the barn. When 15 minutes passed and the men had not returned, Miss Murray became uneasy and went to the barn.

Biting fumes seared her lungs as she entered the open door. Just inside lay Anderson's body, and nearby was Murray, whom Anderson had apparently tried to drag to the open air.

Trying to pull the bodies from the barn, Miss Murray was slightly affected by the fumes. She called Mrs. Anderson from the house to assist her, and Drs. Galloway and Cramer and the coroner and police were summoned.

Nearby residents, including Reeve William Grant and C.N.R. Agent Johnston, assisted the doctors in applying artificial respiration on the bodies until death was pronounced.

ALCOHOL TEST RESULTS VARY

AID DIABETES.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2. — (C.P.).—Alcohol has been found beneficial in treating some diseases but injurious in others by Dr. Harold E. Himwich and Dr. Louis H. Nahum of the Yale Medical School.

Results of their study showing that alcohol increases the acidity of the blood to points formerly believed incompatible with life were made public to-day here and at home, where Dr. Himwich read a paper at the International Congress of the Federation of Societies for Experimental Biology.

In diseases such as tetany, where the blood contains an abnormal amount of alkaline substances, the scientists determined the acidosis of alcohol acts as a neutralizing agent.

Small doses of alcohol were found to be helpful in treating diabetes, for they counteract the effects of partially oxidized fatty acids.

On the other hand, the research showed administration of alcohol to pneumonia patients delays recovery by increasing acidosis.

McCarthy's Yanks Have Close Call from Shutout

SENATORS TAKE THEIR 10TH WIN OF THE SERIES

Alvin Crowder Hurls Washington to 6-2 Victory Over Yankees.

ATHLETICS WIN 5-4.

(By Herbert W. Barker Associated Press Sports Writer)

To the Washington Senators may fall the honor of being the only club in the circuit able to take the seasons series from the New York Yankees heirs-apparent to the American League throne.

The Yankees already have clinched the 22-game series with Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago and Boston and can get no worse than a tie with the Philadelphia Athletics. But with 20 games already in the records, they have gained no better than a tie with Washington at 10 victories apiece. Single games to-day and to-morrow will close the season's competition between the two clubs and give the Senators a chance to win the series.

Certain Of Win

The Yankees are almost certain of winning the series from the Athletics. They have won 11 of the 16 games so far played and need only one more victory in the four games remaining to gain a decisive edge over the 1931 champions. Their record against the other clubs is—Cleveland, 13 victories and six defeats; Detroit, 14 and 3; St. Louis 13 and 5; Chicago, 15 and 4; Boston 14 and 4.

10th Win for Senators

Washington won its 10th decision over the Yankees yesterday, 6-2, and came within two put outs of becoming the first team to blank Joe McCarthy's sluggers this year. Alvin Crowder gave up only five hits until one was out in the ninth. Then he handed walks to Ben Chapman and Lyn Lary. A pinch single by Charley Ruffing sent one run over and a fielder's choice accounted for the other. The Senators meanwhile had hit Herb. Pennock and Ed Wells at opportune moments, a triple by Joe Cronin and a home run by Ossie Bluege accounting for four of their runs in the third and seventh frames.

In the only other game played in the major leagues, the Athletics nosed out the Detroit Tigers, 5-4. Al Simmons and Bing Miller clouted home runs off Tim Bridges in the sixth frame, each time with a man on base to provide the winning margin.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Al Simmons and Bing Miller, Athletics, pounded home runs each with a man on base, in the sixth inning, to beat Tigers.

Alvin Crowder Senators, held the Yankees to six hits and beat them 6-2.

INDOOR LEAGUE OPENS TUESDAY

Four Girls and Four Men's Teams Are Entered in the Loop.

PLAY AT BROCK.

An eight-team indoor fall softball league was organized last night, four girls' teams and four men's being entered. There was a fair representation at the meeting held in the Belmont Club room, with president Dave Leether in the chair. The entries were closed with the following teams in: Girls—Brintons, C.G.E., Maple Leafs and another; Men's—Red and White Stores, Sugar Bowl, Daily Stars and C.N.R., or if the latter cannot make it, the Omemee entry will be accepted instead.

The schedule will be drawn up within a few days and will open at the Brock next Tuesday evening. A mixed double-header will be staged two nights (Tuesdays and Thursdays) and maybe three a week, if Saturdays can be obtained, the first game starting at seven o'clock and the second at nine. One night, the girls' teams will open it, and the next evening, the men's will commence. Admision is ten cents for adults and five for children, to be given to charity after expenses are deducted. The entry fees must be in before the team's first game.

A committee composed of Fred Scates and Dave Leether, will attend to the drawing up of the schedule and to getting the diamond in the Brock in condition. Umpires named last night were Bob Batley and "Shiner" Johnston. The men's teams will compete for a Spalding Trophy, while Dave Cowan has offered a cup for competition by the girls' teams. First and second teams in each division will play-off the last part of November for the championships. Following a few minor matters of business, the meeting adjourned.

PETES WIN OUT IN ROUND FROM GRADS 31 TO 18

Local Intermediates Defeat Oakwood Outfit 16-10 in Second Game.

GOAL-TENDERS STAR.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—Peterborough were a shade too good for Oakwood Grads at the Gardens last night, taking the game by 16 to 10 and the E.O.L.A. round by 31 to 18. The Grads were not as much at home on the Gardens floor as the visitors, who showed a well-balanced team from goal out. The Grads only clicked in spasms, their outstanding star being Goaler Templeton, who took the count twice. Creighton in the nets for the visitors also turned in a nice game. Teams;

Peterborough — Goulid, Puffer, Creighton, Miller, Goodfellow, Hatton, Scriver, Jack, King, Dundas, Bovin, Magee, Cadd, LeBarr.

Oakwood Grads — Templeton, Skanks, Roberts, Galbraith, Tupling, Rawlinson, R. House, Puncheon, Chapman, Ireland Hussey, Walker, Kellows T. Hall.

Referee—Len. Smith.

McCARTHY SISTERS STAR IN VICTORY

Keene Wins Championship of Group One by Defeating Westclox 7-5.

A clean two bagger, with two runners on bases, by Grace McCarthy centre-fielder, for Keene and a single by her sister Mary in the ninth innings of a hard fought battle at the Bowl last night gave the Keene girls their second consecutive win over the Westclox team, which eliminates the latter and gives the rurals, the championship of group one in the Girls' City and District Softball league, together with the right to meet the Maple Leafs for the league honors.

The score last night was 7-5 and the struggle was just as close as the count indicates, both teams playing a heads-up brand of ball that was almost flawless. The Clockers took the lead in the sixth when they garnered three tallies to make the score 5-2 and until the visitors came to bat in their half of the ninth it looked as if the locals had the decision in the bag. However in the last time up Keene gave a nice display of clever ball when Lois McCarthy walked, Roberta Gainor was safe on an error to put two on and Marj Brown sacrificed to advance both runners. Grace McCarthy next batter poled out a clean double to score two runs and crossed the plate herself on a single by Mary McCarthy her sister, who coasted around to third when the Westclox players threw the ball wild. The latter scored on a fielders' choice and the last batter grounded to the pitcher.

Mary McCarthy pitched the entire game for the winners, fanning seven, and holding the usually heavy hitting Clockmakers to seven scattered singles. Opposing her on the rubber was Mildred Mortimer who also turned in a splendid performance, fanning one, walking one and allowing only nine hits. Yvette Rose fielding in right for the losers provided the feature play of the battle when she made a splendid running catch with one hand of a fly from Jean Nelson's bat.

ST. ANDREW'S TIE ROUND WITH MILTON JUVENILES

TORONTO JUNIORS HERE ON SATURDAY

Pirates Called to Win and Even O.B.A.A. Series With McCormicks.

An O.B.A.A. playdown game will be held in Stevenson Park at three morrow) when Toronto McCormicks play the local Pirate Juniors here the second game of their series. Last Saturday the Peterborough team lost out 9-5 in Toronto, but the Pirates are expected to even it up to-morrow, forcing a third game which will likely be played either in Port Hope or Oshawa.

Al Heckman will be on the locals' bench, assisting Manager Jack Deannard in this crucial contest, and the team will be at full strength. Either Dunkerley or McIlwain, southpaws will do the twirling, with "Lefty" Detlor, Hetherington and Joe Bailey all available for mound duty. Marrocco or Jim Sweetman will do the receiving.

The infield is composed of McCullough, first; Fryde, second; John Sweetman, short and McCarrol on third. In the outfield are Bert ("Moose") Bailey, Padgett, Tranter. Babbs, or Joe Bailey. The Pirates won four of their last five play-of games, after winning the City Baseball League title from Fosters and C.G.E. Apprentices. They were considerably strengthened following the regular schedule and are expected to bring a Provincial junior championship to Peterborough this year.

Should the team win this series from the strong McCormick outfit, they will likely get a bye into the finals. They made a surprisingly good showing while losing to the Toronto champions at Willowvale Park last week, on strange grounds before a hostile crowd, and will battle hard here to even the series up. They will toss for the grounds for the third game, if it is necessary. Local fans are urged to attend in large numbers to-morrow as a great play-off game is promised, and the players need both the vocal and financial support if they are to go further seeking an Ontario title.

Southern conference football tickets will be 5 to 40 per cent cheaper this fall than last year.

A baseball player hitting a home run with nobody on base gets credit for a "run batted in" as well for a hit and a run scored.

REABORO TAKES 19-17 VICTORY

Winners Score Five Runs On Two Doubles and Sloppy Fielding to Take Win.

OMEMEE ARE VICTIMS.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, September 2. — In the first of the home and home games between Reaboro and Omemee, the visitors got the jump on the homesters by defeating them Tuesday evening by the score of 19-17 in 11 innings of hard fought softball at Omemee. Going into the ninth Omemee was leading 17-12 and it looked as if they had the game in the bag but Reaboro in the last of the ninth scored five runs on two doubles and some sloppy playing by Omemee. The Omemee boys went out in one, two, three order in the ninth, tenth and eleventh, and it looked as if darkness would stop the game, but in the eleventh W. Reid, the first Reaboro man to bat hit a line drive to centre field, which got away from Williamson, and went for a home run. They scored one more run to bring the final score to 19-17. Although beaten fairly and squarely the Omemee boys are confident they will represent this district yet in the next round of the O.R.S.A. playdowns. J. Carroll and R. Morrissey of Downeyville gave perfect satisfaction as umpires.

After the game Wesley Wilson entertained the boys and girls softball teams to a corn roast and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all those present.

In the return game between Brintons of Peterborough, and Omemee girls, at Omemee on Tuesday p.m., the Brintons were a shade too good and won a close game by the score of 9-6. They scored all their runs in the first two innings, and thereafter were blanked for the rest of the game, while the Omemee girls scored in every inning but two.

Fields, Prest and White went well for Brinton's as did Freda McDonald of Omemee, who scored 3 of their 6 runs. E. Bigelow and H. Mackey also stood out for Omemee.

The line-up:

Brintons: Sturgeon, Snowden, Fields, Prest, White, Snowden, Heffernan, Curtis, Hudson.

FLEETEST HYDROPLANES AFLOAT RACE 6.30 SATURDAY MORNING

Don and Wood Give Sleek Craft Final Grooming Following Tests.

THREE HEATS.

DETROIT, Sept. 2. — The two fleetest hydroplanes afloat were receiving their final grooming to-day for the renewal of the Harmsworth Trophy race shortly after sunrise to-morrow.

Kaye Don, British challenger for the symbol of speed-boat supremacy, was in seclusion while last-minute adjustments were made to Miss England III, holder of the world record of 119.89 miles an hour and the craft with which Don hopes to take the trophy back home.

Gar Wood, who has weathered six previous challenges since he brought the plaque to the United States in 1920, hoped to make his first run over the new Lake St. Clair course with Miss America X during the day. He has made two dashes over the old Detroit River course, but a combination of circumstances has kept him from trying out the course on which he must defend his laurels.

No one doubts that, barring misfortune, the Harmsworth record of 89.913 miles per hour established in the first heat last year by Don in Miss England II, will be shattered by the speedier boats, racing over a faster course.

Don estimates the maximum speed his 4,400 horsepower craft can produce with the fuel available at around 117 miles an hour and in his final pre-race statement he pronounced Miss England III "the best racing boat of its class we have ever built."

Wood Makes No Predictions

Wood has refused to predict the miles per hour for his 6,400 horsepower monster will develop, but the consensus of race followers, based on engineering formulae, is that Miss America X has a potential speed of between 120 and 125 miles per hour. She is Wood's only entry this year.

The starting hour, 6.30 a.m. (Eastern Daylight Time) was chosen to make smooth water most probable. Should the lake be considered too rough at that time, the rules call for an half-hour delay. Should the course still be too treacherous, the Harmsworth Commission must decide whether to postpone the heat until Sunday or until Monday morning.

The present schedule calls for the running of the second heat Monday and the third, if necessary, on Tuesday. The plaque goes to the winner of two heats.

BELLEVILLE GIRLS ARE ELIMINATED

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 2.—Belleville Fruit Girls' softball team was eliminated from the Eastern Ontario playdowns, when they were defeated in the third and deciding game by the Frontenacs of Kingston, 10-2. Marian Walker, hurler for the winners, fanned eleven. "Babe" Lewis, who opposed Miss Walker, pitched a nice game, but the Frontenacs were able to solve her delivery in the pinches. G. Gollogly was the heavy slugger for the winners when she blasted two homers, one of which scored two runners.

Jockey McCoy was probably the first rider to start wearing goggles. Now they are quite the style with many, but it is the general opinion that the jockeys are running a greater risk in using them. At Ottawa during the first meeting, a boy who looked to be on a winning mount, tossed off the race and went to the assistance of another rider when the latter's glasses became clogged with mud so that his vision was obscured. At Stamford the stewards called Jockey Henson into the stand after he had won on Westy's Rose. They put him through an eye test and the result was that they demonstrated to the boy, that for his own protection, as well as others in the race, it would be better if he discarded his goggles. He took their advice and put the glasses away for the balance of the day.

MONTREAL NINE DEFEATS WINGS IN FIRST GAME

Clean Sweep of Present Series Will Give Royals Fourth Place Berth.

FINAL COUNT 14-4.

Bisons Score 8 to 0 Triumph Over Last Place Toronto Leafs.

(By the Associated Press)

The present layout of the International League schedule shows only one series which has any particularly important bearing on the standings and the Montreal Royals seem determined to make that the means of annexing fourth place in the final standing, even if they can't do any better.

If the Royals can register a good triumph in their present series with the Rochester Red Wings, it ought to be just about enough to give them the disputed last place in the first division. They started out in a highly gratifying fashon yesterday by taking the opening game by a 14 to 4 count, and increasing their margin to 1½ games.

It was as much the bad work of the Red Birds as the good play of the Royals that decided the battle, but Montreal, after getting enough runs o win without much effort, came through in the finish and clouted home most of the runs in an eight-run final inning.

The first seven Montreal tallies, which completely ruined the 4—3 lead Rochester piled up against Leo Mangum in the first three innings, either through Rochester errors or walks off Starr and Newsome. Manager Doc Gautreau's double with crammed corners and Oscar Rottger's home with one on featured the hinth inning rally.

Mangum, after giving ten hits in the first three frames, settled down and gave only four in the next six innings.

Buffalo maintained its three-game margin over the Royals by slapping out an 8 to 0 triumph over the last place Toronto Leafs. Fred Fussell allowed only five hits, while the Bisons pounded Herb Thormahlen and Earl Cook for 16, including three doubles and a single by Ollie Tucker.

Bears Blank Albany 8—0

The pace-setting Newark Bears also got the benefit of shutout pitching as they whipped the Albany Senators, 7 to 0. Johnny Brennan gave up only five hits and struck out six as he hung up his 21st victory of the season. The Bears clinched the game in the first inning when they assaulted Al Shealey for five runs. Two passes and four hits, including a triple by Jesse Hill and a double by Marvin Owen accounted for the tallies.

Baltimore won a wild battle from Jersey City, 12-11, by scoring seven runs in the last two frames. The Skeeters held a 10-1 lead after five innings, but the Orioles drubbed Perkins out of the box with a four run rally in the sixth and then pounded Krider and Mattingly for the winning runs in the last two frames. The victory enabled Baltimore to retain its half-game advantage over Buffalo for second place.

The Westclox girls were scratched off the board last night by Keene, last year's winners of the Girls' Softball League and the Percy Bond Trophy. It was a tough game to lose, the Alarm maidens leading 5 to 3 when Keene went to bat in the ninth. A walk, a couple of errors, a double by Grace McCarthy and a single by sister Mary, sent in four runs for the out-of-towners who copped the game and the lead for the first-half, 7 to 5. Fine pitching, good fielding and a close, exciting game all around. Tough luck Westclox, congrats Keene.

* * * * * * *

By Keene winning this first half, no playoff for the second half is required since Keene and Maple Leafs were the finalists. These two teams will now meet — next Tuesday — in a five-game series for the championship of the league for '32. All games will be played at the Ashburnham Bowl starting at 5.30 o'clock (Standard Time). Three umpires will be used, and players will be required to keep quiet on the bench. None of this razzing the other team stuff, which is illegal.

* * * * * * *

Evidently Ivan Fletcher, manager of the Keene team, isn't worried about his team's chances of copping the silverware again this year. At any rate, we hear he stepped out and got himself married yesterday afternoon, a couple of hours before the game. Some girl from Haultain it seems—though we hasten to say this Walter Winchell gossip-hunting is something new to us, and not likely to be encouraged.

* * * * * * *

And word comes from Manager Mike Latimer, of the Westclox, that he is entering a protest regarding the Keene-Westclox semi-final playoffs. It will be on the grounds that Lois McCarthy, Keene left fielder, had taken part in no games previous to the play-offs. She is not eligible, according to Mike, as the girls' league is governed by the men's rules.

* * * * * * *

This is what the men's O.A.S.A. 1932 ruling on that point is, under the heading: Membership, Rule 1, Section D—"No player shall sign a certificate in any League after July 15th, nor sign another certificate unless properly released, and must have taken part in at least three games for the championship club, in order to be eligible to play in the Ontario Championships." This protest had better be settled at once, as the season is slipping around.

* * * * * * *

Baseball fans shouldn't miss that junior playdown game at Stevenson Park to-morrow afternoon at three bells. Toronto McCormicks and the local Pirates hook up in the second game of their series, the Queen City champs winning the first in Toronto last week. The home team ought to win this time, but it will be a great old battle. Most of the Pirates will be playing intermediate ball next season, and a few of them may be up in senior company. They have a good chance of going through to a provincial title this season, and deserve support.

* * * * * * *

Kiwanis Bantams are playing in Toronto to-morrow, it being their second game with McMurrichs, the local lads having won the first one here. And there is an intermediate playdown game also, C.G.E. going to Newcastle to try and even their series with the Orono Ramblers. The juveniles will be idle again this week-end.

Lou Bennett, 75-year-old Port Hope race horse owner and driver, and well known here, received three broken ribs in Belleville on Wednesday. And it didn't happen while he was racing, but as he sat by the track as a spectator! Another driver was thrown from his bike and struck Mr. Bennett hard in the chest, receiving no injuries himself, but putting the veteran in the hospital. Lou, however, said he would be back shortly and driving his own horses again.

Nazzarino Poggi and Casey Berger have been lined up for the main bout of the next pro rassilin' show here, billed for next Friday evening at the Brock Announcement of the supporting cast will be sent us from Toronto in a day or two.

Eight teams were entered at the meeting of the indoor fall softball league last night, four men's and four girls'. However, C.N.R. is an uncertain quantity for a day or so in the men's section, and perhaps Omemee will be in there instead. And All-Stars may or may not be the fourth girls' team, as two or three others had their entrance fees in first, so it will have to be settled. Brintons, C.G.E. and Maple Leafs are definitely in this section.

* * * * * * *

The indoor schedule is due to open this Tuesday with a mixed double-header, but that is a bad night to start it off, as the Girls' Softball League finals at the Bowl between Keene and Maple Leafs commence that evening, and the softball crowd and players will want to take that one in. Perhaps the indoor schedule could be pushed back to a day later.

Give the Peterborough intermediate lacrosse team a big hand. They walloped the Oakwood Grads last night in the Maple Leaf Gardens 16 to 10, winning their O.A.L.A. round by thirteen goals! A great team, and one that should go far. We don't know yet what team they meet next, but just watch their smoke. As in the case of all Toronto defeats, very little was said of last night's game by Toronto papers. Nothing at all like the time last spring when St. Mike's eliminated our hockey juniors by a big score. Well, thirteen goals is pretty one-sided, too.

* * * * * *

The Petes had an edge all the way through, being better in every department. Creighton starred in goal, he had a fine defence in front of him, and the local outfit showed an offensive punch that swept the gallant Grads before them. The big grounds, and the crowd, failed to bother our boys at all, and they showed speed and class from the start. This team will take a lot of licking this year.

Brintons will practise on their field at 6.30 Monday night, and all players are requested to attend. The executive of this club states that, unless players turn out for practise and games they will be asked to hand in their outfit. Players not interested in the game are not wanted.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

UNITED STATES NEEDS 3 POINTS TO RETAIN CUP

Britons Suffer Greatest Setback of Walker Cup Series in Thursday's Foursomes.

FAVORITES BEATEN.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 2. — (CP) — The well-blended United States Walker Cup team lacked early today, but three points for its seventh consecutive victory over Great Britain's greatest amateur golfers. Eight 36-hole singles matches were under way at the Country club.

The Britons, who have not been successful in this international play since it was inaugurated in 1922, suffered their greatest setback of the series in yesterday's 36-hole Scotch foursomes.

Although Francis Ouimet, United States amateur titlist and team captain, was experimenting with new blood, he and his men swept all four of the foursome matches.

George Voigt and Jess Sweetser, the lead-off pair, drubbed the Hartley Brothers, Rex and Lester, seven and six, and Ouimet, who combined with young George T Dunlap, jr., of New York, was equally effective against John Stout and John Burke, the long-hitting Anglo-Irish pair.

Fall Before Recruits

Even the outstanding British combination of Captain Tony Torrance and John Deforest, the current British champion, were swept back by the rush made by the United States recruits, Gus Moreland of Dallas and Charley Seaver of Los Angeles, for a six and five victory.

The closest shave the United States team received was the five and four victory turned in by Don Moe of Portland, Oregon and Billy Howell of Richmond, over Eric McRuvie and Eric Fiddian. Well behind in the afternoon round, the Erics won five out of six holes to prolong the match until the thirty-second hole.

Not Given Assignments

Because of the United States policy of using all possible new talent, Moe and Howell were not given assignments for today's singles. Their places were taken by Maurice McCarthy, alternate on the 1928 and 1930 teams, and Jack Westland of Chicago.

Captain Tony Torrance decided to substitute Leonard Crawley in place of Deforest, who won the British amateur title earlier this year.

Lacrosse Highlights

The Peterborough lacrosse intermediates lived up to advance notices by eliminating Oakwood Grads from the O.A.L.A. race last night. They won the game in the Maple Leaf Gardens, 16 to 10, and as they took the first game here last Monday by a 15—8 count, the round went to the Liftlockers, 31 to 18.

A thirteen-goal lead on the round against a team like the Grads is something to brag about, all right. A team that can do that should about cop the intermediate championship of Ontario. The Petes ought to do this if they continue playing as they have in this series. The district players who were added to the local squad have fitted in perfectly, and the whole team is clicking like a well-oiled machine.

Instead of finding the large Maple Leaf Gardens tough on them the Peterborough gang took to it from the start and outplayed the Toronto Grads right on their own stamping grounds. The boys showed a world of speed and combination to bore in close for hard, accurate shots. Good net-minding by Templeton robbed them of half a dozen more goals. Creighton was hard to beat in the other net.

The old scoring threat of Dundas-King-Bovin was much in evidence, and the Grads found it a heart-breaking task trying to cover these speedy and experienced forwards. Not that any local player should be singled out, as it was the team as a whole that went so well. The defence was well-nigh invulnerable, the forwards all showed class, and the subs failed to weaken the regular line-up at all. Not many, but a few, local lacrosse followers were scattered through the crowd to cheer the work of the Petes.

Their next opponents will be named within a few days, and the Brock should be filled for the game here, the way the boys are going. The hard going and tough checks get the players heated up, and inclined to do a bit of fighting. This adds excitement to the game, if not carried too far. The elimination of the Grads by the Petes did not prove popular with sports writers on the Toronto papers, who are passing it off with as few explanations as possible; but they will doubtless be forced to recognize this team before the lacrosse season is over.

JUNIOR MIXED FOURSOMES

Two ball mixed foresomes were held at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club on Thursday afternoon, September 1st, by the younger players. There was a large entry and splendid golf was played.

After the games, tea was served from a very pretty table, centered with pastel shaded asters in a silver bowl on a pyramid of prizes wrapped to pastel shades of paper, and presided over by Mrs. B. D. Hall, the ladies' captain. The prize winners were:

Best gross. — Jane Macdonald, Gordon Dobbin.

Second gross—Grace Comstock, Pat Hall.

First net—Jane Macdonald, Gordon Dobbin.

Second net.—Mary Westbye, Pete Gordon.

Aggregate three blind holes. — Grace Comstock, Pat Hall.

Mrs. Hall and Mr. C. G. Graham very kindly gave the silver cups for the best gross score. Much credit is due the committee in charge, Lahring Parsons, Jane Macdonald, Louise Hall and Wilmot Gordon, for the success of the afternoon.

SCREEN ODDITIES by Captain Roscoe Fawcett

Six years ago a motion picture unit on location at Coronado, California, needed a girl aquaplaner for a sequence of the picture in production. Constance Cummings, who then lived at Coronado, obtained the job. She was paid $7.50 for her day's work before the camera but while performing in and on the water she acquired a severe case of sunburn. As a result she was in bed for a week and paid $15 for treatments from a doctor.

The stuttering of Ernest Torrence, screen comedian, has been cut to a minimum because of protests received from movie fans. Many parents have written to Will Hays asking him, as dictator of the films, to compel Ates to stop stuttering. They complained that their children, because of their attempts to imitate the comedian, were beginning to stutter.

Actors often are required to age in the portrayal of screen roles but O. P. Heggie had to make up to appear twenty years younger for his part with Norma Shearer in "Smilin' Through." BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

TWO TO ONE.

It was very early in the morning, Jolly, round, red Mr. Sun had but just kicked off his rosy blankets and was hardly yet started for his daily climb up in the blue, blue sky. The birds were just starting out after the early worms and twittering and singing happily as they went. Behind the old stone wall where it makes a corner close by the dusty road that runs past one side of the old orchard, two forms in red lay crouching among the bushes at a point where the wall had partly fallen.

Who were there? Why, you know. They were Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy. From the place where they lay they could see over the fallen wall and their eyes were fixed on the entrance to a certain new house in the corner made by the old mill, a new house with a doorstep of shining sand.

Presently a head appeared, a head becoming rather gray. Then out on the doorstep of shining sand appeared a stout form, which sat up very straight for a few minutes while a pair of bright eyes looked keenly in all directions save at the old stone wall which formed two sides of the corner.

Reddy Fox nudged Mrs. Reddy. "What did I tell you?" he whispered. "Did you ever see anything so easy? Johnny Chuck must be in his second childhood. He seems to have forgotten entirely that it is possible for anyone to jump over this wall."

Reddy Fox nudged Mrs. Reddy — "What did I tell you?" he whispered.

It did seem that way, for after a minute or two Johnny dropped down on all fours and trotted off towards the patch of sweet clover where he was in the habit of getting his breakfast, and although it was some distance away he never once looked back. Reddy and Mrs. Reddy watched him and grinned. Johnny couldn't possibly have done anything to suit their plans better than he was now doing. Straight to the patch of clover he trotted. There he sat up for a moment or two for a last look to see that all was well. Satisfied that it was he dropped down and began to eat, and once he had begun to eat he forgot everything, bu the taste of that delicious clover.

Reddy looked at Mrs. Reddy, then lightly leaped over the old stone wall. Mrs. Reddy followed right at his heels. In a second they were between Johnny Chuck and his house. Then side by side they began to steal towards where Johnny Chuck was stuffing himself with clover. Johnny hadn't heard a sound and he was still wholly unsuspicious.

At just that instant Sammy Jay arrived for his usual morning call on Johnny Chuck. In an instant Sammy saw Johnny's danger and began to shriek as only Sammy can when he sees a Fox. Johnny knew what it meant of course. He sat up as suddenly as if he possessed a spring for a backbone. Of course he saw Reddy and Mrs. Reddy instantly. Also he saw that they were between him and his house and that it was two to one. For an instant all his courage left him. He turned and started to run. But what was the use? There was no place to run to. Johnny whirled and showed all his teeth in an ugly snarl. Two to one wasn't fair. It was not fair at all. But he would fight just as long as there was any fight in him. You know Johnny Chuck is no coward.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

What To-Day Means To You

"VIRGO"

If September 2nd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7.30 a.m. to 9.50 a.m., from noon to 2 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The danger hours are from 3 p.m. to 5.10 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 10.20 p.m.

The planetary aspects of September 2nd are decidedly favorable, and augur well for all fields of endeavor. Quick accomplishment may not be in evidence, but the sound foundations for progress and success can be laid. Care of health and person is advised, as there are indications, not very pronounced, of both sickness and accident.

A child born on this September 2nd will cause trouble and worry just after adolescence. On reaching maturity, however, it promises to settle down, whether it be a boy or girl, to steady effort and application and will "make good". A trifle thoughtless, it will be free from malice, with a disposition bubbling over with affection and love.

Born on September 2nd, you are a confirmed pessimist, and are never looking for that something just around the corner, on which the optimist always reckons. In your case, pessimism makes you work harder and more thoroughly than if you were confident of success, and in spite of your lugubriousness you are destined to accomplish much in any career that you may elect to follow. You are, perforce, condemned to live a solitary life, as the enthusiasts of the world do not court the companionship of one who only visualises failure and belittle effort.

Your disposition, in spite of its mournfulness, is a kind one, and you never hesitate to extend a helping hand to those who stand in need of it. Rather nervous in the society of the opposite sex, and nearly always tongue-tied and a great portion of your life without that intimate companionship which eases troubles and lightens burdens. You are a demon for work, and possess great powers of concentration. Meticulous and careful in your methods, you are a stickler for neatness and order, whether it be in the home, the office or the factory. Indifferent to sports of a competitive character, you find your chief recreation in reading and walking.

Canadian Moose Organization Established

NORMAN G. HEYD
Past Supreme Dictator

AS ANOTHER evidence of the international aspect of the Loyal Order of Moose, the Supreme Lodge of the World, in convention assembled at Cleveland, has established a Canadian organization department under the direction of Past Supreme Dictator Norman G. Heyd, of Toronto, Canada. This department will have complete supervision in the development of the Order throughout the Dominion.

The selection of Mr. Heyd, a leading barrister of Toronto, for this important office by the Supreme Lodge, came as a compliment to his indefatigable labors in the interests of the Order, not alone in Canada but throughout the whole continent of North America, and in Great Britain. In addition Mr. Heyd, during his twenty-five years of affiliation with the fraternity, has almost unaided built up the lodges in the Dominion, and as a result has won the support, confidence and esteem of every member of the fraternity in the Dominion.

It is not too much to say that this action on the part of the Supreme Lodge will be received with enthusiasm by all Moose in Canada, and will also bring with it the best wishes of all the Moose in the United States and Great Britain, among whom Mr. Heyd is exceedingly popular.

This important action—one of the most important of the Cleveland convention—will strengthen the bond between the Moose fraternalists of the two great nations most concerned.

EDISON LIGHT SYSTEM FIRST GLOWED 1882

Half Century Of Electric Lighting To Be Celebrated Sept. 14.

IN NEW YORK CITY.

Only 59 Customers On Original Circuit—Ended Gas Era.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The fiftieth anniversary of Thomas A. Edison's first permanent commercial incandescent electric lighting system will be celebrated by the New York Edison Company next Sunday and on Sept. 12.

It was on Sept. 4, 1882, at 3 p.m. that Edison put the first electric station in operation at 255-57 Pearl street. As the anniversary occurs on Sunday it will be observed with simple ceremonies that day on the site of the pioneer station, and the major celebration will be on Sept. 12, at a dinner to be attended by representatives of civic, scientific and engineering bodies.

When Edison's first station opened, 59 customers were connected to the mains. Now, according to the Edison Company, the New York system supplies more than 2,000,000 customers; and in the nation there are 24,500,000. The population of New York City living in electrically lighted homes is approximately 7,000,000 and in the nation 85,000,000.

Life in the gas-lighted, horse-car age in which the electric lighting service was introduced fifty years ago, was a contrast to the present day. Homes were warmed by coal or wood stoves. There were no skyscrapers, automobiles or subways. The furthest uptown that could be reached by horse car was Fifty-ninth street, and the fastest means of transportation uptown was by boat on the East River. In cold weather a layer of hay was spread on the floor of the horse cars to keep out the cold, and severe weather at any season produced a crisis in all forms of transportation.

It was necessary for Edison to make about 225 inventions on the lamp, dynamos and his system of distribution before he was able to launch the electric industry at the Pearl Street station. The progress of his plans was followed by the public with great interest. One authority declared the whole project was impossible.

To-day the electric industry has encircled the globe. Throughout the nation every community of more than 1,000 population has electric service; as do 50 per cent. of all communities of 250 to 1,000; and 25 per cent of all hamlets of less than 250, as well as 700,000 farms.

The Edison system started with approximately 750 horsepower, which was the capacity of the Pearl Street station on Sept. 4, 1882. To-day the generating capacity of the New York system is 3,180,000 h.p.; and in the nation it is 46,000,000 h.p.

The capitalization of the first Edison Electric Illuminating Company of New York in 1882 was $1,000,000. In New York the electric investment is now approximately $735,000,000 and in the nation it is about $13,000,000,000.

The original Pearl Street district, about a mile square, had fifteen miles of underground cable. Now the Edison companies in New York City has 35,000 miles of cable.

The public did not dream of the future of electrical power at first. Light was the whole centre of things. It was not until 1884 that the Pearl Street station supplied current to motors. Electric fans were the first power application. Thereafter the utilization of power extended until it was largely responsible for shortening the working day through increased productivity, as well as taking much of the drudgery out of housework.

DEBENTURES ISSUED 1864 TO BE WIPED OUT IN 1934

TORONTO, Sept. 2 (By The Canadian Press).—In 1934, one Ontario municipality will finally pay off debentures originally issued in 1864, Herbert J. Cummings, member of the Ontario municipal board, yesterday told members of the Ontario Municipal Association at their meeting here.

On each occasion the debentures fell due, he said, the municipality did not have sufficient finances to make payment, with the result they have been repeatedly funded and refunded. This practice has cost $8,000,000 on a debenture issue of $1,000,000, Mr. Cummings said.

Diminutive Percy Still At It

By Ernie Wyer

In winning second place in the Washington marathon on August 20 for the championship of the United States, Percy Wyer added another splendid feat to his long list of victories and near victories in the marthon section of athletic endeavor.

While Percy was not selected for Canada's Olympic team, it was felt in many quarters that the Canadian Olympic committee erred when he was not included. Certainly he is one of Canada's outstanding runners—and has been for many years. He represented Canada at Amsterdam in 1928. Percy is outstanding because of his tremendous stamina. Doctors have told him time and again that he shouldn't run. His heart was supposed to be bad, and he only weighed about ninety pounds. But Percy kept right on running and his record shows a positively amazing list of marathons. And always he is near the top. Very few of the world's marathon runners have built up a record to equal Wyer's; he has run in 32 marathons on this side of the pond and has never finished worse than seventh.

He won the Detroit marathon in 1926 through a blinding snowstorm, and captured the race again in 1929 when the thermometer registered 90 in the shade He captured the Detroit race again in 1930, which gave him permanent Newsboy trophy, a record of three victories. In the latter event he was knocked down by a motorcycle officer who was clearing the way for him, just as he was catching the leader Michelson, but with typical courage he gathered himself together and caught the Milrose, N. Y., star, to beat him a mile.

In 1930 the Canadian marathon championship as designated the official British empire games trial. Percy won this from a field of 30 starters. In the marathon championship of last year he was third, and first Canadian home; he was third again this year and second Canadian making him proud possessor of three marathon championship medals, of which no other athlete in Canada can boast

He was second in the Detroit marathon in 1927, being beaten by 30 yards by Zuna, the then reigning American champion He was barely beaten out by DeMar in the Port Chester, New York, marathon in 1930; he defeated DeMar a short time later, however, in the Baltimore marathon His best running is done in 26-mile contests and in the 32 full-distance races he has been in, has scored four firsts, five seconds, six thirds, seven fourths, five fifths, three sixths and seventh, twice. This is an amazing record since the fields in marathon races invariably number well over a hundred contestants.

Percy was born in Stourbridge, England, 46 years ago, and has been in the running game twenty years. During his career he has run in over three hundred races, most of them around five, ten and fifteen miles.

Brantford Will Have Pro. Lacrosse Team

TORONTO, Sept. 2. (CP)—The Toronto Star, in its sporting colums to-day carries the following:

"According to rumors around Maple Leaf Gardens, Brantford will fill the vacancy in the newly-formed professional box lacrosse league. Buffalo, Maple Leafs and Tecumsehs are sure entries. The reports had Suds Sunderland, star goalkeeper of the Canadiens, as the man behind the Brantford team. The veteran plans, it is said, to make up a team from the pick of the Montreal Maroons and the Canadiens, who are at present out of a job due to the withdrawals of these teams."

"The Brantford interests have talked terms with the following players: Toots White, Bill Coulter, Shepley, Smithson, Clarke, Kelly Degray, Duke McCurry, Jess Spring, Bob Hughes, Roach, Lounsburry, Bill Davidson, LaFrance Primeau and Barron. If all these players are secured the Brants will have a team that should finish on top of the league" the newspaper concludes.

TARZAN, LORD OF THE JUNGLE. NO. 95
By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

When Guinalda opened here eyes she saw the black-maned lion looking intently off toward the north. It gave a low, rumbling growl. Something was coming. There came to her ears a rustling of the leaves above and the giant figure of a white man dropped lightly to the ground. The lion arose and faced the man, who regarded it fixedly for a brief second. "Jad-bal-ja!" he exclaimed. "Come to heel!"

With amazement Guinalda saw the lion obey the command. The man stroked it affectionately. Then he came toward here. "You are the Princess Guinalda? Do not be afraid. I am Tarzan—a friend of Sir James." "Then thou are truly mine as well," she cried. "Why did the lion not kill thee?" Tarzan smiled. "I have raised him in my home from cubhood," he explained. "There must be some of my people nearby, else Jad-bal-ja would not be here."

Tarzan brought the girl food and drink. Then as she was too weak to walk, he started back toward Nimmr, carrying the Princess easily through the trees while the golden lion followed the trail beneath them. Two days later amid great happiness, the Princess was safe once more in her father's castle. The ape-man would not enter the outer gates, saying he must hasten on his quest to locate Blake. "May heaven bless thee!" were Guinalda's parting words, "and fetch thee back once more, with my beloved."

Meanwhile, Jimmy Blake, continuing his forest search for some clew to the Arab and Guinalda came unexpectedly upon the sound of tramping feet. Soon he saw a slight that gave him a distinct shock. With white plumes waving from their heads, oval shields and long war spears, a hundred Ebon warriors were advancing down the trail on a trot. At sight of him they halted, as much surprised as was Jimmy. And then to Blake's amazement, their leader advanced and addressed him in English.

RIFLE SHOOT RESULTS

Peterborough Rangers Rifle Association Match August 31, 1932.

The last match of the summer season was fired on Wednesday night. This concluded the firing in the evening. Two practices were fired one at 300 yards and one at 400 yards. The 400 yards will not be counted in the average totals on account of darkness. This accounts for the low scores. Everything is ready for a good day's shoot on Labour Day. Anyone interested in shooting is invited to attend. Firing starts at 10 o'clock.

National Group Businessmen To Probe High Cost Government

Object Is To Make Constructive Recommendations On Policy Of Economy For Public Administrations, Financing Ways And Uniform Budget Balancing.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3. (CP) — The high cost of government — federal, provincial and municipal— is to be investigated by a national committee of businessmen. The Canadian Chamber of Commerce has appointed a representative committee of businessmen from coast to coast who will delve into the intricacies of government expenditure with the object of making constructive recommendations on a policy of economy for public administrations, methods of financing and the uniform balancing of budgets.

Col. W. L. McGregor, Windsor, president of Canadian Chamber, in announcing the formation of the national committee, declared it is not our intention in any way to be critical of governments. We have all been parties to the high cost of government. The National committee's work will be an effort to arouse governments and the people to the necessity of much economy.

The committee's terms of reference embrace federal, provincial and municipal finance and expenditures, borrow, budgeting and current indebtedness and balance sheet position.

TAMMANY HALL REMAINS SILENT ON RESIGNATION OF WALKER

Tension in New York's Democratic Circles Has Deepened.

SEABURY ON HOLIDAY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Three little words—James J. Walker's "I hereby resign"—echoed perplexingly to-day down the political corridors of New York.

Uncertainty as to Walker's political intentions continued. Tammany Hall, one of whose favorite sons he has been, remained close-mouthed. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, who presided at the hearings into conduct of the Mayor's affairs, remained silent, as did Samuel Seabury, Counsellissimo of the investigation which was the basis for the charges involving Walker, as he rests in Europe for a rest. Of the principals in the case, he alone made an extended statement.

Seabury Talks

He said it was not surprising that Walker resigned because he (Walker) simply could not explain. He praised Governor Roosevelt's conduct of the hearing.

Seabury also announced he would resume the inquiry into New York government after November 15.

The continued investigation, he said, will be devoted to the assembling of evidence designed to build up rather than tear down, the city government, and his findings will be in the nature of recommendations for changes in the laws relating to the city charter.

There was still considerable doubt as to whether Walker, conceding that he might wish to do so, could run for election in November. Legal experts at the City Hall were understood to have agreed that a special election must be held in November to fill the vacancy.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa.—The flowers that will bloom for Christmas customers got a hot start. Greenhouse thermometers registered 120 degrees yesterday when the Yuletime flowers were planted.

U. S. RETAINS WALKER CUP

Americans Win 8 Out of 12 Matches, Lose One and Halve Three Others.

SET NEW RECORD.

(By Alan Gould, A. P. Sports Editor)

BROOKLINE, Mass. Sept. 3.—The British left a physical mark on the classic Walker Cup, the result of a wild shot by their only winner, besides proving they can take it and still come back fighting, but otherwise today they were still short of winning cup.

Captained by the veteran amateur champion, Frances Ouimet, a team of youngsters, ranging in years from 20 to 25, sustained the United States unbroken winning streak in the international competition. The Americans won eight out of 12 matches, lost one and halved three other. A new record for deadlocks in Walker Cup play.

George T. Dunlap, Jr., and MauriceJ. McCarthy, Jr., both of New York; Charley Seaver, of Los Angeles, and Gus Moreland, of Dallas, all doing double duty, as well as the rising young Virginian, Billy Howell, dominated the two-day conflict.

The freshmen figured in seven of the eight triumphs, Dunlap, Seaver and Moreland each turning in two winning performances. Dunlap stood 10 up on Eric McRuvie at the end of the first round of their singles match. The New Yorker registered a 68, five under par for the country club's layout. He went on to defeat McRuvie, 10 and 99.

Britain's lone victory was scored by Leonard Crawley, over the veteran George Voigt of New York, one up on the 36th hole. Crawley also starred in the event's oddest incident when he delivered the shot that bounced off the Walker Cup itself, all shined up in public view, just off the 18th green.

CAR CRASHES, 2 HURT.

SUDBURY.—Mrs. T. Beaudry and Mrs. O. E. Winters to-day lay seriously hurt as a result of an automobile accident last night. The automobile in which they were riding struck loose gravel about six miles east of Massey, ploughed across a ditch and overturned.

WOULD CONTROL SCHOOL COSTS

Municipal Association Proposes Supervision of School Boards.

RELIEF DISCUSSED.

TORONTO, Sept. 3 (C.P.)—Faced with an increasing financial burden, delegates to the Ontario Municipal Association to-day turned attention to seeking further assistance from the Federal and Provincial Governments and devising new means of revenue of their own.

At the suggestion of Wentworth County, a resolution was passed requesting the Federal and Provincial Governments to assume 90 per cent of the full cost of unemployment relief.

A resolution sponsored by Windsor, Kitchener, Port Arthur and Peterborough was passed urging boards of education and the legislature to discontinue the practice of charging secondary school pupils fees for writing departmental examinations. Another motion provided that the Adolescent Act be amended to reduce the compulsory age from 16 to 15 years.

The legislature will also be asked give councils power to supervise and control expenditures of boards of education this resolution was submitted by the city of London.

Supporting a resolution of Alderman Dr. P. N. Gardner, East Windsor, the association approved the suggestion that the province "assume the full responsibility of erecting and operating all necessary sanatoriums at strategic locations as a means of properly preventing and treating tuberculosis cases."

A "Touchy" Cargo

SARNIA, Ont., Sept. 3 (C.P.)—Two hundred quarts of nitroglycerine, to be used in shooting a new gas well, were transported safely to the premises of the Union Natural Gas Company in Dawn Township, under the care of officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The explosive was brought across the St. Clair River at Sombra and carried here in a special truck.

PARIS POLICE BATTLE CROWD

Three Score Are Injured and Fifty Arrested at Overflow Rally.

SOUGHT PEACE REPORTS.

PARIS, September 3. — Three score persons were injured last night when police clashed with an overflow crowd of 7,000, many of them Communists, who were unable to enter the Bal Bullier where a report on the second International at Amsterdam was being given at a peace meeting.

Fifty persons were arrested, but most of them were released later. The injured included 12 policemen and about 50 alleged Communists.

One of the speakers at the meeting was an American professor, Henry Wadsworth Dana, grandson of the poet Longfellow.

The street fight started after the police attempted to disperse the crowd which could not enter the hall. Thousands were milling around outside, singing the "Internationale," and shouting that the loudspeakers which were to have carried the speeches outside the hall, were not working because they had been sabotaged.

Police pushed the crowds down the Boulevard Montparnasse, when the demonstrators, on passing the sidewalk cafes, snatched up beer and wine glasses and crockery and began throwing the articles at the police.

Frenchman Triumphs as Legal Lights Try Their Skill at Wild Cow Milking

CALGARY, Sept. 3.—(CP)—France triumphed over England and the United States in a wild cow milking competition here Friday. The contestants were three distinguished lawyers who, to the cheers of hundreds of Canadian lawyers attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association, were initiated into the mysteries of the cattle country at the ranch of Senator Patrick Burns.

The cows were not quite as wild as those used at the Calgary stampede but prior to the contest the visitors saw an exhibition of bucking horse riding, calf roping and cow riding staged by genuine cowboys under the direction of Guy Weadick, former manager of the Calgary stampede.

Maitre Olivier Jalin, representative of the French bar at the Canadian meeting managed to get more milk in his bottle in the 30 seconds allotted for the contest than his rivals. Hon. William MacCracken, of Washington, representing the American Bar Association, was a close second and Rt. Hon. Viscount Hailsham, former Lord Chancellor and now Minister of War in Great Britain, came third.

HAMILTON'S ECLIPSE PHOTOS ARE BEING SENT TO GREENWICH

Believe One Plate Shows Coronal Phenomena Never Seen Before.

AWAIT ANALYSIS.

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 3.—(CP)—Hamilton centre of the Royal Canadian Astronomical Society today prepared to send to Greenwich, England, photographic plates its party took of the total eclipse of the sun last Wednesday at Metonvale, Que.

The plates will be subjected to analysis at the Greenwich observatory and until then nothing definite can be warned of whether the formation they are thought to show is there.

The negatives look twelve exposures of duality in all.

Marsh, former president of the Hamilton centre, stated to-day. One set was taken through a clear filter.

Rare Phenomena.

The photograph taken through the blue filter shows coronal phenomena that so far as we know have never been seen heretofore on a photographic plate, he said. We are not making any claims at present, but will submit our plates to Greenwich observatory for examination and there will probably be a delay of six days before we can make a positive announcement.

Dirigibles are now using helium which was discovered at a total eclipse of the sun, he said. Spectral lines were analysed which enabled the chemist to find the element in the laboratory.

Beyond this intimation that new elements were possible of discovery during eclipses, Mr. Marsh would make no further remarks as to the expedition's expectations.

PARTY OF DULUTH TOURISTS FIND CANADA TOO EXCITING

CATCH HAY FEVER.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 3. — Jan Oberholtz, Mrs. Oberholtz and the two little Oberholtzes, of Duluth, Minn. are going to spend their future summers at home. Canada is too exciting.

This is the record of the Oberholtz motor trip through from Quebec City as told by Mrs. Oberholtz, and considering Mrs. Oberholtz has hay fever, the excitement was sufficient almost, to justify the decision.

Just outside Montreal, a motorcyclist crashed into the back of the Oberholtz car and was killed. When the inquest was over and the car repaired the tourists drove on to Kingston.

At Kingston, Mr. Oberholtz's overcoat, driving gloves, and some tools were stolen from the car. On to Peterborough.

At Bridgenorth, on Lake Chemong, eight miles from Peterborough, Mr. Oberholtz was almost drowned.

"It took two hours of artificial respiration to bring him around," Mrs. Oberholtz volunteered between sniffles and sneezes. I'd heard Canada was good for hay fever," she said: On to Toronto.

At Toronto, the family's little fox terrier was killed when he ran out on the street. London.

To-day the Oberholtz family started off for Detroit and a few miles west of the city, the bearings burned out in their expensive car.

They are taking the next train home.

Turn Clock Back Holiday Night

Peterborough will revert to Standard Time at midnight on Monday (Labor Day), and citizens are reminded to put the hands of the clock back one hour before retiring on that night in order to save themselves any inconvenience that might result on Tuesday from such an oversight.

With the return to Standard Time will be noticed a considerable shortening of the evenings, and a curtailment of many outdoor activities. The change will be regarded regretfully as one that is inevitable and will bring a sharp reminder that the summer is about spent. Still there is consolation in the fact that autumn with all its splendor and beauty has yet to come and go before o'd King Winter comes into his own.

Flying Hutchinsons Arrive In Godthaab

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, September 3 (C.P.). — An Exchange Telegraph despatch to-day reported the arrival of the "Flying Hutchinsons" at Godthaab, on the west coast of Greenland.

This party of eight, including two young children, took off yesterday for Hopedale, Labrador, for the 700-mile flight across Davis Strait.

They are flying from New York to London over the Arctic air route.

KAY DON'S BOAT DROPPED SPEED ON THIRD ROUND

Considerable Water Taken On, But Cause Unknown to Driver.

HAS NO EXCUSES.

Gar Wood Did Not "Open Out" Till Near Finish.

DETROIT, Sept. 3.—First honors in the Harmsworth Trophy race rested with United States to-day, as Kaye Don in his Miss England III, after leading for 28 of the 35 miles, lost the initial heat of the international speedboat event to Gar Wood in Miss America X on Lake St. Clair. Wood's time was announced as 30.48.72 against 33.55.92 for Don.

Racing under adverse conditions, with a choppy course, fanned by an off-shore wind and rain falling during the last lap of the race, Wood averaged 78.489 statute miles an hour over the 35-nautical-mile course, while Don came over the finish line with an average of 71.265 miles an hour. The average was considerably under that of last year—89.913 miles an hour.

The jinx that has pursued challengers in last years seemed to follow Don. After streaking away to a sizeable lead, which he held for three laps, his speed was lessened and Wood overtook him, passing him on the last lap and roaring down the finish line more than a mile ahead of the Miss England III.

Could See Clearly

"We lost a lot of speed at the end of the third lap," he said, "and began taking water. How it got there I don't know. That is what we will have to find out to-day. It was a fine course, and I could see clearly."

Wood, declaring he and his mechanic, Orlin Johnson, "ran the race just as we planned," said he did not have his boat "wide open" at any time.

"We were just waiting for an opportunity to put on a burst of speed," he said. "It just happened that it was on the fourth lap that we began to move up. I guess we were going about 95 miles an hour when we passed Don. We had hard competiiton—the hardest we ever had.

As the Miss England neared the boat house at the end of the race, a mechanic standing on the prow called to the operators of the speedboat towing her, to rush her into the well as soon as possible. Don called for pails to bail out the craft.

Boat Low in Water

Asked why the boat appeared so low, Don replied:

"We began taking water. I don't know how. I don't think we sprung a leak and I don't think we shipped all the water we took on board. How it got there, I don't know. That is what we will have to find out to-day."

Soon after Don landed, Commodore Harry Greening, of Hamilton, who represents England on the Harmsworth Committee, arrived with Otto Barthel, of the American Power Boat Association, to talk with the British pilot.

In response to a question as to whether he would be able to race Monday, Don replied: "I think we will be in there again Monday all right. But, of course, I can't tell until we find out what was wrong. How can I answer such a question when I have been in only five minutes?"

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Sept. 3.—When Harry C. Kinne, 23-year-old lawyer from Wilmette, Ill., called for the first time on Harry C. Kinne, 23, local business man, they discovered they have a lot in common besides name. They look alike, each has a son named Harry C. Jr.; each has a daughter Ruth; each has a brother, C.E.; each is a member of the village or city council. The two men are not related, and never knew each other till recently.

Gar Wood Flashes Past British Boat On Final Stretch

American Defender Of Harmsworth Cup Trailed Kay Don Nearly 28 Miles—Winner's Speed 76.024 Miles An Hour.

BRITON RACED AWAY AT STARTING GUN WITH EARLY ADVANTAGE OVER GAR WOOD

Don's Speed Was 71.265 Miles An Hour Over Course Of 28 Nautical Miles — 100,000 Spectators In Rain.

(By David J. Wilkie, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

DETROIT, Mich., September 3. — In one of the most thrilling demonstrations of speed and powerboat piloting, Gar Wood, United States defender, after trailing at the start, cut loose with his Miss America X. to-day to win the first heat of the Harmsworth Trophy race from Kaye Don, the British challenger.

So slow was Wood's craft in the first four laps of the 35-mile course that it seemed he appeared to have encountered motor trouble. Seemingly, however, he was merely conserving his boat, for he opened up at the end of the fourth time around the course and crossed the line to start the final lap only a few boat lengths behind Don's white-hulled Miss England III.

At the end of the race Wood said: "I ran the race exactly as I planned it. I am very happy. and I hope to win again on Monday."

Don went to his boatwell, and made no immediate statement.

Wins by Two Miles.

Despite Wood's victory, which at the finish showed a margin of nearly two miles Miss England III. turned up the fastest lap, circling the course the first time around at a speed of 88.686 statute miles an hour, Wood's fastest lap was at a speed of 87.387 miles an hour, on his second time around.

The average speed for the 35-mile heat was: Miss America X. 76.014; Miss England III., 71.265. This was considerably slower than last year's best average, which Kaye Don set in Miss England II. at 89.913 miles an hour.

The race was run under probably the most unsatisfactory conditions ever prevailing for a similar event. Rain that began early in the morning continued intermittently, ceasing just long enough to permit the regatta committee to get the two hydroplanes under way at 7 a.m. after a 30-minute postponement.

Rain And Choppy Water.

By that time a sharp wind had blown up off Lake St. Clair and kicked up white caps that caused the two boats to bounce considerably, and the rain, coming again in the fourth lap, contributed poor visibility to the pilots' troubles. Nevertheless, both boats performed splendidly.

Taking no chances on another premature start, both Don and Wood laid back at the start. About a minute before the starting gun, both opened up, to come roaring down to the starting line only a few seconds after the gun. Don was 15 seconds behind and Wood 20.

The English boat shot into an immediate lead. At the end of the first lap it was half a mile ahead. Finishing the second and third laps it seemed that only a mishap could deprive it of a victory. Approaching the finish of the fourth lap, however, Wood had all but overtaken Don. A few yards more and he shot into the lead. At the final gun he was nearly two miles in front of the British challenger.

The second heat will be run over the same course Monday morning and a third if necessary on Tuesday.

Miss England Rides Low

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 3. (CP)—Miss England III, Kaye Don's entry in the Harmsworth trophy race, arrived at its boatwell at the end of to-day's first heat with its stern riding low in the water. Don said that the boat had taken considerable water during the heat, but he did not know the cause.

Don was 500 yards ahead as they crossed the starting line at 6.30 a.m. EST. It was the first time Wood was left behind on a start. He was forced to slow down when he ran into heavy water. At the end of the first lap Don was a mile and a quarter ahead.

Don seemed content to hold his lead on the second lap, but Wood suddenly began to catch up rapidly, decreasing the Britisher's lead to one mile. Miss America appeared to be experiencing engine trouble. Five flames shot from her exhaust. At the end of the second lap Don was still one mile ahead. He put on more speed when Wood threatened to catch up.

Miss America appeared out of trouble again but Don again turned more speed loose at the start of the third lap and drew ahead a quarter of a mile. By the end of the lap Wood was only three lengths behind. Wood suddenly shot forward in the fourth lap and passed Don, going 400 yards into the lead, stunning the crowd.

Wins By Two Miles

Miss America forged into a good lead of one-quarter mile. Wood widened his lead to more than a mile and Don pressed Miss England in pursuit. Wood finished nearly two miles in front of the British contender after trailing as much as a mile and a half during the race. Miss England appeared to have run into engine trouble at the time Wood started overtaking her. Wood's time was given unofficially at 31.48.72. Don's unofficial time was 33.55.92.

Crowds Out Early.

Shortly before 6 a.m. Gar Wood came to the timers' barge to set his watch with the official clock that will tick off the seconds before the start.

Even though the rain fell unceasingly, it was a lark for the early spectators, and the scene presented color of an unusual sort. Flashes of lightning played across the lake as daylight came, outlining lake steamers, cruisers, speedboats and even canoes by the score bobbing about in the wake kicked up by speeding official boats.

Along the shoreline, every available grandstand seat was filled. Umbrellas were in profusion.

STORE ROBBED AT WOODVILLE

GARAGE ALSO ENTERED.

LINDSAY, September 3 (Examiner Correspondence). — Provincial Constable Nelson was called to Woodville yesterday to investigate a burglary in that village. The Woodville Mercantile, Limited, store and McIntyre & Mark's Garage were entered at early hour in the morning, when a Smith & Wesson revolver and $250 worth of merchandise was stolen. The burglars followed the same methods used at Britton's jewellery store robbery here—smashing the glass in the store window with a rock. The merchandise consisted of boots and shoes, cigarettes, ladies dresses, ladies suits, etc. Police believe that the thieves made a getaway in a car parked on the outskirts of the village.

Pig Upsets Car

BURY, Ont., Sept. 3 (C.P.)—A car, driven by Mrs. Hazel McGinnity, Detroit, came in contact with a humble pig, weighing scarcely 50 pounds, on middle road, east of here, and ended in a ditch. The car did a complete somersault, and its three occupants were badly shaken up. Thomas McGinnity, father of the driver, was cut about the face.

COAL DEPOSITS CLAIMED FOUND NEAR MOOSONEE

Reports State Finds in Vicinity of New Railway Are Anthracite.

NO OFFICIAL WORD.

T. and N. O. Engineer Sent Into District to Check Up on Quality.

NORTH BAY, Sept. 3.—(C.P.)—Only six weeks after the opening of the Moosenee extension of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, news reached here yesterday that two immense deposits of anthracite coal have been found in the vicinity of the new line.

While neither federal nor provincial mining officials have yet confirmed the report, Arthur Cole, T. and N. O. mining engineer, is on his way to check the two finds and to ascertain whether they are of a commercially valuable nature.

One deposit is reported to lie on the Mattagami River, within five or six miles of the new line to Moosonee, and another is at Hannah Bay, 30 miles from the northern seaport. It is rumored samples of anthracite have been sent to Otawa for testing, though the federal department of mines has not yet acknowledged their receipt.

Large deposits of lignite coal lie just east of the railway, about 75 miles south of Moosonee, and their discovery two years ago was partly responsible for the recently-completed extension. The whole area is known to be rich in mineral resources, though prospecting in the words of mining officials, "has barely scratched the surface." Lying close to the shore of James Bay, it is 180 to 300 miles north of the Timmins-Cochrane region, which has been under development for some years.

No Verification.

Hon. Charles McCrea, Ontario Minister of Mines, to-day was unable to confirm or deny reports that vast fields of anthracite coal had been found near the northern end of the Moosonee extension of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway.

"We had heard 'smoking car' rumors concerning supposed discoveries, but have had no verifications," he said.

He added he would not say such a discovery was impossible but would offer no further comment pending confirmation of the reports.

HYDRO INQUIRY REOPENS TODAY

Recalling of Witnesses May Be Avoided by Re-reading of Evidence.

BEFORE TWO JUSTICES.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Re-opening of the commissioned enquiry in Hydro matters will take place at 11 o'clock this morning at Osgoode Hall when Mr. Justice Riddell and Mr. Justice Sedgewick will sit in what promises to be an informal session preliminary to a resumption of the hearing Tuesday. Not until the Commissioners have conferred with W. N. Tilley, K.C., commission counsel and other counsel to-day will the procedure to be followed be decided upon.

It is expected that this morning's conference with the various parties concerned will result in a definite program covering the re-reading of the evidence taken during the presidings of Mr. Justice Middleton and the late Mr. Justice Orde (to preclude the necessity of again hearing those witnesses), the introduction of any new evidence which may have arisen or been discovered since Mr. Justice Orde's termination of the investigation, and the submitting of argument by the various counsel. It is more than likely that an addition to the summing-up by commission counsel, A. G. Slaght, K.C., and F. W. Griffiths, K.C., representing political groups, and possibly others, will be given opportunity to present their final contentions in view of the fact that their closing addresses before Mr. Justice Orde were not recorded.

BACK IS BROKEN IN TRICK DIVE

Toronto Girl Starts Suit For Unstated Damages After Tragedy at Exhibition.

LIES PARALYZED.

TORONTO, Sept. 3. (CP)—Her back broken when she assayed a trick dive at a Canadian National Exhibition midway swimming show, Belle Lichman, 23-year-old Toronto girl, is plaintiff in an action for unstated damages against the Exhibition, Model Shows Incorporated, Rueben Gruberg, proprietor of Model Shows and Lewis H. and Cleo Hoffman, lessees of the show from Gruberg.

Anxious to earn money for her family and released from her employment in a local factory, the Lichman girl applied to the water carnival for work as a diver. She was practising a "neck" dive when she struck the platform below the diving board. Since that time she has lain in a cast, paralyzed.

In affidavits filed by Samuel Factor, M.P., counsel for the girl, it is alleged that the platform was protruding in a negligent manner. Show officials deny negligence. On Tuesday at Osgoode Hall Mr. Factor will move to have the defendants examined for discovery.

Mob Spoils Raid of Dry Agents

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 3.—(C.P.)—Prohibition agents fled last night before the onslaught of a large crowd that stormed the cellar of a hotel which the agents were raiding.

As the agents, firing shots to frighten the crowd away, ran upstairs and escaped over the roof of a dance hall. Their automobile was overturned and destroyed by fire. A half dozen of 36 barrels of wine found in the cellar, police said, were carried out by members of the attacking crowd.

BLOODY BATTLE GIVES FEDERALS CITY OF QUITO

Streets of Ecuador Capital Strewn With Bodies of Dead.

800 KNOWN SLAIN.

One of Major Engagements in South American History —Damage Heavy.

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Sept. 3. Eight hundred persons are known killed and many more bodies lie in the streets of Quito, the capital, the Minister of War reported last night in a message to the Government. Rebel and Loyalists troops had been locked in a bitter struggle for Quito during the last week.

The report of the Minister of War was received shortly after the Government had announced the end of the warfare, which raged furiously most of the time during a week in which rebels held possession of part of the capital.

Many bodies were carried away and others still are hidden in the debris of many buildings wrecked by artillery and aerial bombs.

Civilians Victims

Aerial bombs were dropped on the capital by the single Government military plane and artillery laid down a sweeping barrage which cost the lives of many civilians. The diplomatic officials resident in the capital were in grave danger and possibly suffered casualties.

For two days the fighting raged back and forth, almost without cessation. Diplomatic efforts toward a truce failed and it was not until late last night that the Federals, slowly widening their positions, won control of the capital.

Then a compromise was reached between opposing forces and Dr. Alberto Guerrero, president of the Senate, was named acting president of the republic, succeeding Acting President Baquerio Moreno, whose term expired Thursday.

The battle was the fiercest in the modern history of Ecuador and on the basis of reports received so far, one of the major engagements in the history of South America.

GIVEN 5 YEARS ON ARSON COUNT

Hamilton Township Farmer Blames Financial Pressure for Action.

TRIAL AT COBOURG.

COBOURG, Sept. 3. —Pleading guilty to a charge of arson and four charges of receiving stolen goods, Robert J. Morton, prominent Hamilton township farmer, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on the arson charge and two years on each of the receiving charges, sentences to run concurrently. He appeared yesterday afternoon before Judge E. C. Huycke and was defended by A. R. Willmott, Crown-Attorney Col. F. D. Boggs, K.C., conducting the case for the Crown.

Crown witnesses revealed a sad state of affairs in regard to Morton's financial condition at the time the offenses were committed, and defence counsel emphasized this fact in his plea for a light sentence.

Morton, who has a wife and six children, had purchased his farm for $11,000 and was depending on his milk cheques to pay the mortgage off, and when milk prices dropped more than 50 per cent was unable to meet the payments. In addition he had liabilities of $3,200 and the bailiff was about to make a number of seizures to satisfy overdue accounts.

W.M.S. HOLD SECTIONAL RALLY IN LAKEFIELD UNITED CHURCH

Splendid Reports Of Work Being Done In Peterborough District Are Given.

PROGRESS MADE.

(Examiner Correspondence)

The first of a series of sectional rallies of the W. M. S. of the United church of Peterborough Presbytery was held in the school room of Lakefield United church on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. J. Burgess of Lakefield, a vice president of the Presbyterial in the chair. Mrs George Taylor of Warsaw acted as pianist for the afternoon and Mrs. Merriam of Bridgenorth read the scripture lesson.

Tabloid reports of the activities of the societies in the district were given by their presidents. Mrs. George Taylor reported for Warsaw which is making real progress and has a fair financial report. Effort has been made to increase the interest in the Missionary Monthly and to increase the number of subscribers.

Mrs. Merriam reported for Bridgenorth which has done well with a small membership. Encouragement has been given to non-members to attend the meetings which are held at the homes and are social. A play was brought in and the proceeds divided among the members as talent money. Miss Rorke of Japan gave an address at the evening service on the Sunday preceding Easter and the branch adopted her as their missionary to pray for. Mrs. W. J. Charlton, president of Knox United church branch reported a small membership but the allocation has been met this year so far. A tea was held for the expense fund at Mrs. Burgess' home in the spring. Mite boxes given to non-members has helped to arouse interest in the work and a second Nile collection has helped a good deal.

Mrs. W. A. Payne, treasurer of the Regent street branch reported fifty-six members in their branch and during the past year several of the meetings had been held in the evening at member's homes. The branch has paid its allocation for the first six months of the year. Mrs. Morton of Peterborough who was a delegate to the summer school of missions gave a report which intensely interesting and which she gave in two sections. One of the speakers was Dr. Walter Brown, principal of Victoria University and a native of Lakefield. Dr. Brown's address was on the subject of "The Biblical back ground of Missions", which carried out the themeof the school which was the need of a vital experience in our lives and willingness for service along the lines of personal consecration. Service is not the basis principal, though there is no religion without service, but the centre is the knowledge of the saving power of God. Isaiah found God in the temple and one of the first experiences of God is humility, then aspiration, yearning and courage.

In the second part of her address, delivered near the close of the programe gave a sketch of some of the missionary addresses given at the school. There were Dr. and Mrs. Grant (both medical graduates) who had spent 42 years in Honan and will be joined this year by their daughter, Dr. Mary Grant.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor who have labored in India for thirty-three years and Dr. and Mrs. Oughterbridge who have been twenty-two years in Japan. Dr. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor spoke of the gradual breaking down of caste prejudice in India but they also noted that the tendency of the young was to deny religion. Dr. Oughterbridge spoke of the Kingdom of God movement in Japan which is encouraging but the Japanese are loyal to the old religions and while they speak of the Father, Lord of God and the Brotherhood of Man they read the papers, see Hollywood films and hear the roll of the Western drums and judge for themselves.

Dr. Tucker, author of "Drums in Darkness" spoke on "Opening Doors in Africa" and reported good work along the lines of evangelism, education and medicine. His church in Africa raised $1,000 to carry on its work although the daily wage of the people is but 15 cents.

Interesting Addresses

Miss Florence Fee who has been in China during very troublous times and Miss Divia Lindsay also of China gave an interesting address. Then a Bulgarian gentleman who is at the head of the church of all nations in Montreal was a colorful speaker who spoke of the work among the new Canadians, there are 20 different nationalities who are making up the Dominion of Canada. He said "if you want to know Canada, study Europe". He was born of Christian parents, educated as a Protestant and came to Canada before the war. His remarkable musical ability is a great asset to his work and influence and was a source of great pleasure to those who attended the school of missions.

Mrs. Graw of the London Presbytery, (a sister-in-law of the late Rev. Mr. Graw of Springville) conducted a study class which was one of the outstanding features of the course. She says the greatest lack is the willingness to study, to think and to pray. She urged special missionary study in Lent, essays written by the Sunday School children for which the best are given prizes and more than all she stressed the power of prayer, not mechanical prayer, but deep sincere prayer in true fellowship with God. A lady from Glengarry also spoke on the Pentecost and wished for a Pentecost in which the church would feel the power given to the apostles in that upper room in Jerusalem.

Mrs. Pakenham of Norwood, who was also at the school of missions spoke, dealing with the life at the school which is held in beautiful "Tralaigar Castle" built by the mayor of Whitby for the reception of King Edward VII when, as Prince of Wales he visited this country but the mayor had over reached his resources in the building and the Methodist church bought it and enlarged it for the Ontario Ladies' college. The chapel and dining room were built by the Massey family. The lawns and surrounding are beautiful and there was ample provision for recreation which was a part of each days' program. The rising bell at 7 a.m. began the day which was followed by breakfast, chapel service, lectures, etc. The chapel services were really wonderful and a source of inspiration to each and every one. The dean was Rev. F. J. Deach. Assistant secretary for home missions and the house mother was Mrs. Langley, who for several years was a missionary in China.

Dr. Peter Bryce

Dr. Peter Bryce, superintendent of the M. and M. fund is at the head of the church of all nations and the Bulgarian who is at the head of the Church of All Nations in Montreal conducted the music which was part of each service. He has translated two hymns into English which are in the hymnary and "Oh, Christ Then came to Earth" translated from the Russian and No. 492 "Lovingly the Shepherd Seeking the Lost Sheep".

A pageant entitled "The Strikings of Canada's Hour" was put on which was a very fine presentation. Miss Griffiths, superintendent of girl's work conducted study classes which were very helpful. She urged strong group leaders for no group can rise above their leader. The making of money should not be too much stressed but the use of bulletin boards, posters, lantern slides, curior and folk songs. The younger the children the more concrete must be the facts.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Pakenham on motion of Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Reed. Mrs. Yale gave the dedication prayer following the taking of the offering. During the afternoon Mrs. J. B. Hull sang very sweetly the appropriate selection "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go, dear Lord". Afternoon tea was served and a delightful social hour was spent.

STRIVE TO END COTTON STRIKE

Three Lancashire Members of Parliament Seek Settlement.

REJECTED BY EMPLOYERS.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Sept. 3—Three members of parliament for Lancashire constituencies have intervened in the cotton mill strike here by asking representatives of owners and unions to meet with them for arbitration.

Other efforts to restore peace in the industry were being discussed yesterday, but the general situation in the strike area had not changed. When the trades union congress meets at Newcastle on Monday the strike probably will be one of the first subjects discussed.

Representatives of the employers rejected the offer of meditation by the three members of parliament this afternoon but it was reported the ministry of labor was approaching both sides to find a basis on which negotiations might be resumed.

Growing a Soul

Are We Neglecting This Inmate of the Body?

"Man has a body, he is a soul," was one of the epigramatic sayings of Dr. Parker. Man is a spiritual being living in an earthly house. The unfortunate thing is that in looking after the house many give but little attention to the inmate.

"To grow a soul" is the first duty of every man. The body requires constant care in order to keep it healthy and strong; the soul requires more if the highest potentialities on the spiritual side are to be reached. To attain the full stature of a man in Christ Jesus was the noble ambition of Paul, and the striving after that he became one of the giants of the race.

In the restless feverishness of our age; its many appeals to passion and pleasure; its struggles for social advancement; its grim battle for bread and butter; its thousand and one interests; there is a great danger of even religious men starving their souls and ceasing to grow on the spiritual side of their nature.

If we could but get away for a quiet hour every day for self-realization. To get away from the tattling of tongues, the talk about money-making and politics, from meetings and committees, and to retire into the atmosphere where the eyes of the soul see things in their true perspective, and God has His chance to whisper His message into our ears is what is needed. The plain fact is, many Christians are too busy "doing" to pay requisite attention to "being."

Life is not rich enough; it is too expansive to be deep and strong. We have laid great emphasis on service, but too little on character. It seems to us at this juncture, when the divided hosts of Methodism are to be united under one banner, that it is very opportune to insist that making Church members and making saints may be too entirely different things. To count heads is one thing; to engender spiritual enthusiasm is another. Nothing is more essential than that we should guard carefully against false standards of success. The Church at Pergamum was saved from utter condemnation, because amidst its crowd of indifferent and lukewarm professors it had produced the saintly soul in Antipas, the faithful martyr. But it was a poor result—many members, one saint. In God's balance-sheet the important matter is not the amount of money raised—not the number on the church roll or the size of the congregation—but the saints that have been made.

To grow a soul is a work demanding infinite care and patience. That is where so many make a mistake. Instead of making it the supreme aim of life, it is the by-product of a few worship hours on Sunday and of spasmodic moments on other days. "I have no time to think of my soul," said an overworked official. Then the duty is clear—give it up doing so much. A few less committees and a few more silent hours will in the end do more for the official himself and the Church.

The right mood for the discharge of the business of the Church is only obtained by waiting upon God. Often men hurry from committee to committee, from conference to conference, utterly lacking the serenity of soul through which comes clarity of vision and right understanding of "what Israel ought to do." The frayed temper, the quick retort, the wrong decision, and things go awry, sometimes with disastrous consequences. Let it be laid down as an absolute rule that no man can rightly discharge the business of the Church who has not come from quiet conference first of all with the Great Herald of the Church. Inspired statesmanship is as much needed as inspired preaching.

We read of Samuel Rutherford spending three hours at a time under the pollard trees at Anworth, and going thence to preach in the little church those sermons in which there lingers still the fragrance of the myrrh and cassia from the ivory palaces. Richard Baxter was a knight of the lone, silent hour, and when he took up his pen a redolency divine rested on the page, a glimpse of which we catch as we read the "Saint's Everlasting Rest." Gordon with the peeled wand before his tent door, telling the British Army that their General was in communion with God, and must not be disturbed, gave him a new element of power over his men. It is a great mistake to think that the more saintly a man becomes the less manly he is. George Warner, a great soul-winner in the Church, went to consult a doctor about some disease of his legs. The doctor noticed that his knees seemed unusually hard and horny. "What is the matter with your knees, Mr Warner?" he asked. "Doctor," he replied, "I have read the Bible through nine times on those knees." He, too, was a man who, to use an old phrase, knew what it was "to be retired unto God." Upon the hours of our retirement will depend the usefulness of our public ministries. Souls grow best when they are fed from the silent, secret spring, which are found only in quietude and meditation. "He leadeth us beside the still waters"—Methodist Times

Why Missionaries Are Needed?

What is the value of Christian Missions?

They have been the means by which the followers of Christ have grown from a despised sect in a small subjugated colony until they are today the most numerous of any religion in the world.

By peaceful means, the preaching of the Gospel, they have transformed the countries of Europe and the Americas from paganism to centres of Christian civilization.

They have introduced into non-Christian lands, schools and colleges which have now a total membership of Christian civilization.

They have introduced into non-Christian lands, schools and colleges which have now a total membership of over 2,000,000 pupils.

They have been the first to open in many non-Christian lands hospitals and dispensaries in which today there are employed over 8,000 doctors, nurses and assistants and where twelve million treatments are given annually.

They have been the first to establish philanthropic agencies to care for orphans, lepers, the blind and the deaf where today over 27,000 unfortunates are provided for.

They have been the leaders in educating the people of many lands in habits of cleanliness and health and in the care of children, thus lessening the danger of the spread of dreadful plague, pestilence and disease.

They have introduced into many lands trade schools and better tools and methods of work to increase the ability of backward peoples in self-support, to promote better standards of living, and to develop Christian character.

They have co-operated in efforts to establish peace and to promote righteousness, to abolish human slavery, polygamy, intemperance and other social evils.

They have been the means of opening the doors of education to women, and have helped to set them free from social bondage, to lift them out of degradation, and to relieve their suffering.

They have reduced thousands of languages and dialects to writing, have prepared dictionaries and grammars and have translated the Bible in whole or in part, into over 800 languages and dialects, distributing over twenty million copies in a single year.

They have trained thousands of Christians in non-Christian lands to take leadership in their own lands so as to make Christianity and its institutions indigenous in these lands. This is what missionaries have accomplished by the grace of God.—The War Cry.

Why Are We Here

By WILLIAM SOUTHERN

It is a mighty comforting thing to know that no matter what happens, no matter how busted you are, no matter what troubles come your way, there is somebody to whom you may always turn with certainty.

The old Psalmist who wrote the 23rd Psalm not only expressed his faith in God but tried to communicate that faith to everybody else when he began "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want." At a big outdoor meeting one night the lights suddenly went out. To carry on in the moment of darkness the presiding officer asked a prominent preacher who was on the platform to repeat the 23rd Psalm. He could not even start it and I never felt so sorry for anybody. I could not have said the familiar words myself but then I was not a preacher. I recommend that you memorize the short psalm whether you are a preacher or not. It might not only come in handy in a time of darkness but I assure you there will be many times in your life when to repeat this psalm will bring a peace of your soul and somehow, I cannot analyze the how, will give you to know it is true. The best things that come to us we cannot analyze nor explain.

Jesus used the symbolism of the shepherd and his flock most effectively following the incident of the healing on a Sabbath day of the man born blind. The only church that man knew anything about had excommunicated him. He was an outcast. The only thing he knew about the man called Jesus was that, much to his surprise, He had restored his sight. I have no doubt the man was wandering or skulking about in the outskirts, avoiding h former friends, not daring to go to his own parents who were good Jews well knowing that he as e communicated man, was anathema; was not welcome anywhere.

It was to this man that Jesus made one of his finest sermons. Rather, I should say, the incident of the casting out of the man who had been given his sight was made the illustration for the sermon. Jesus searched for and found him. Then He used the familiar illustration of the shepherd and the sheep.

There is nothing in nature more helpless than a sheep. Sheep raising was then one of the main industries of the people of Palestine, and is today. The sheep furnished food and clothing. Sheep folds, small enclosures of stone walls were to be seen at convenient places. The entrance was open and when the sheep were driven within the enclosure for the night the shepherd lay himself down across the entrance. A Palestine traveler tells of asking one of these shepherds where is the door of the fold and the man said, "I am the door."

The Jews had thrown the man out and closed the door. He found Jesus who said to him, "I am the door." Christianity never closes the door against any man. Christianity never throws a man out by force. Jesus always taught leadership, voluntary acceptance and never compulsion to get you in, to keep you in or to put you out.

In this same sermon, it can hardly be called a parable, it was so simple and obvious, Jesus taught several other great and wonderful truths. Peter was yet to discover that Christianity was not an exclusively Jewish institution. Paul was yet to devote his life to bringing the message to the Gentiles. Jesus included the whole world in His following when He said "And other sheep I have which are not of this fold." It is hardly likely that the full meaning of these few words reached the men about Him. To them it simply meant that the Jews could not confine real religion behind the gates is disbarment.

Following the simile, the familiar illustration of the shepherd and his sheep, Jesus said "The son of man man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister."

Suppose we apply this to ourselves. What are we here for? Were we brought into this world to be taken care of by others to sit about idle and useless from day to day and year to year while servants and hired men and valets make it unnecessary for us even to dress ourselves? Are we here to eat and sleep and banquet and go to night clubs and spend our lives in seeking what we may term enjoyment and pleasure with no responsibilities whatever to ourselves or anybody else? The pampered rich son of a millionaire would probably be greatly offended if told that the servants all about him, pandering to his every want, making their own living and helping others, were of far more value in the world than he. I have all the respect in the world for the man or the woman whose life is busy, who wastes no time in selfish so-called pleasures and little for that one whose life knows no labor, who never has done a thing for anybody else.

What are we here for? Are we put into this world for the purpose of attaining to power and to satisfy personal ambition? Are we here to have fun and to devote our lives to the pursuit of what we call pleasure? Why is it I wonder that men spend weary years piling up money, hiding it away in safe boxes, investing it where it will yield more money? If you ask one of them he will tell you that he wants to reach the point where he can have his own motor cars, his private yacht, to reach the time when he can quit work and devote himself to living. There is no use arguing with this kind of a man. He would think you were crazy if you told him that the happiest time in his life was the time of labor, early and late, the time when he was devoting his life to certain purposes and that when he did attain a fortune and quite he would most surely die.

The accumulations of great wealth in a few hands has become the threat of nations. There is plenty for all. The bountiful earth always produces in abundance. But some way, somehow, the possession of this wealth seems to gravitate into compact pools which are controlled by men who grasp it tightly and say "It is mine, you shall not have any though you stare." It may be that some day we will have to adopt the Indian idea that the children may not inherit the wealth of their parents but must make their own way. If that times comes the world will be better off and we will have better citizens throughout. About the worst thing you can do for a son or a daughter is to hand over a ready made fortune.

Jesus as far as we know never used the word religion. His word was Life. He did not work exclusively within the ranks of the organized societies. His teaching of life was for the whole world. He appears to the carpenter as the carpenter, to the physician as a physician, to the shepherd as a shepherd, to the king as a king. Blessed are they who can say in faith,

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.

"GIVE A THOUGHT TO AFRICA"

(The author of the following verses is a native of Uganda, East Africa. He is the eldest son of a native king, and consequently is heir apparent to the throne He is a devout Christian, has a fine mental endowment, and is fitting himself for the largest possible service to his people on his return to Africa)

Give a thought to Africa! 'neath the burning sun,
Hosts of weary hearts are there, waiting to be won.
Many idols have they, but from swamp and clod
Many a voice is crying out for the living God.

Breathe a prayer for Africa: "O thou God of love,
Send thy blessing on the tribes, from thy home above."
Swarthy lips when moved by grace, can most sweetly sing:
Pray that Africa's heart may be loyal to our King.

Give your love to Africa there our brothers call.
Bring release from slavery, break sin's bitter thrall.
White shall love the black man, each forget the past;
In the Father's house above, all will meet at last.

—Hosea K. Nyabongo.

The Marvel of Friendship

One sees a group of strangers, and they are just more people. One nods, speaks a greeting, and goes on.

But some day a face appears at which one looks more closely. It is not simply another face added to the crowd. In feature or voice, in manner or speech or turn of thought, there is something which calls to a correspondent something in oneself. Then begins once again that miracle of companionship which turns life into exhilirating adventure, and puts into the treasure-chest of the heart richness and joy inexpressible.

The plainest face may be the most beautiful. Human beauty, in order to satisfy, must come from mind and spirit. Lines of feature may be themselves comely with a rare comeliness, and yet actually draw forth a feeling of repugnance, so much to which they ought to give utterance is wholly lacking. On the other hand, one knows a mouth that is ungainly, eyes that are askew, nose and chin that in themselves are little to please, which give pleasure as few things else in the world.

One's hungry spirit, loving reality as it loves life, passes swiftly by the mere appearance and pretense of things, and seeks commerce with that which will satisfy its deeper cravings. Mind wants to meet thinking mind. Spirit wants great and aspiring spirit. Heart craves sincerity and constancy. These things are found, and behold; life is become suddenly more dear than it was yesterday, before the great discovery was made.

But not by chance will that new comradeship become an invincible and deathless thing. By careful thought must it be cultivated, by effort and devotion, year after added year. You follow your friend through all his ups and downs of experience and hold in mind his peculiar needs. You cease not in your solicitude to him, even though the friendship is now a matter of years. You spend yourself for the sake of his love, binding him to you with cords that he will not wish to break. It costs to have a friend. But who would count the cost.—Southern Churchman.

TEMPERANCE

BY HARLOWE R. HOYT

The question of prohibition has been a sore spot in our political life for years past. A law forbidding the use of intoxicating liquor has failed in its purpose—not because of the fallacy of that law, but because of the weakness of human nature. Illicit sales, gangsters, murder, have followed upon it, oftentimes because those who were charged with the task of enforcing it were false to their oaths.

Now we are engaged in a great political campaign seeking to overthrow that law. But this does not mean the return of the liquor traffic. It means an endeavor to establish once again in the hearts of our people a hearty respect for law and order and to solve the problem in a way that the evils which have sprouted like mushrooms will be destroyed for all time.

There can be no argument against the advantages of temperance. The man who shuns liquor is far better, mentally and physically, than the man who drinks. That in itself should urge each individual to practice it for, since the body is the temple of the soul, it should be hallowed as befits a place of worship.

Be temperate. Forswear the habits of drink which can bring no good. As long as people are human and physical desires are what they are, the battle between drinking and abstinence will continue.

But this in no way need affect the individual. We are our own masters. We can conquer our cravings, if we possess them, and find our own reward in happier, healthier lives. If we are immune from temptation, we have less of a battle to fight.

Be temperate. It is a matter of wisdom, and common sense tells us it is the better way.

Varied Reading

To improve our minds we must wage war first and last with the modern habit of multifarious reading. Do you remember what Robertson says of it, that it "Weakens the mind more than anything else—more than doing nothing—for it become a necessity at last, like smoking, and is an excuse for the mind to lie dormant, whilst thought is poured in, and runs through, a clear stream, over unproductive gravel, in which not even mosses grow." But to set oneself against it requires no inconsiderable effort. Tempting books come in from the library—periodicals multiply like mushrooms — pamphlets, reviews, newspapers, all demand time if not thought. "Have you seen so and so? Oh, you must read that! It is very short, you'll soon skim it through." This one hears perpetually, and it is difficult to resist the pressure, and plod steadily through an old book which will yield nothing to skimming. Yet thus is formed a habit destructive to mental force and thoroughly paralyzing to mental growth. "The art of judicious skipping" has undoubtedly its use, but it may be acquired too dearly.

"But one must keep up with the thought of the day; it will not do to drop behind the stream." Possibly, though it is a stream that may drift on out into a wide and uncertain sea. But I do not forget what I said just now about keeping the mind open to new impulses—cultivating sympathy with new phases of truth. I only wish to impress on you the need of having always on hand some one book which requires absolute study—which is worth reading and re-reading, marking and inwardly digesting. If you will do this, keeping to it steadily for half an hour or an hour daily, giving it your whole mind for the time and dwelling on it afterwards, you may safely be trusted to skim as much as you like beside, provided always that you do it for a purpose—not merely to get rid of time—you may skim to share the interest of a friend, or as needed recreation after mental work.—Hetty Bowman.

LABOR DAY.

It is surely fitting that on the eve of the day set apart in Canada to do honor to the workers of the Dominion a merited measure of tribute should be paid the Canadian labor for the courage, patience and fortitude with which it has faced the trying conditions that have existed in the twelve months since last Labor Day.

With many workers unable to find jobs, thousands of others is employed only part time and practically all those who are working receiving smaller remuneration of their labor, Canada has been singularly free of disturbance; the distress occasioned by the period has been accepted with a cheerful grit that should claim the admiration of the whole country.

The poison of Red agitators has in the main been unsuccessful, organized labor and workers generally have turned a deaf ear to those propagandists who would like to overthrow our social system and place the Dominion on a Soviet basis.

Despite conditions that might well affect the judgment and destroy the confidence of those who have suffered, Canadian workers have stood firm, have refused to be stampeded into new social experiments and with a sheer courage and an optimistic spirit have carried on, loyal citizens, every one of them.

It is a record we may well think about on the anniversary devoted to honor Labor.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The action of the City Council in making a grant to the Chamber of Commerce will be a source of great encouragement to that organization which, in the face of unusual difficulties, has been carrying on successfully.

Revenues have naturally fallen off and the Chamber has been forced to struggle along with a much smaller budget but it has not allowed this condition to destroy its zeal for service on its enthusiasm and its work throughout the past few months, it is simple justice to say, has been well organized and effective.

The recent goodwill tour of Highway No. 7, which cannot fail to strengthen the happy relationship existing between this community and its neighbors to the eastward, is but one example of the initiative of the Chamber, and of its constant desire to help the interests of this city and its people.

A live Chamber of Commerce means a live community; it is therefore most gratifying to know that the local organization has been contributing valuable public service despite conditions that might well have discouraged its officers.

The assistance now granted by the City Council while not large in amount, will be appreciated both for its practical value and a gesture of moral support to a public-spirited body that has done and is doing a splendid work.

MR. FERGUSON INVITED.

An invitation has been extended to Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canada's High Commissioner to London, to visit and formally open Peterborough's Industrial Exhibition next week, Thursday being the day named for the visit of Mr. Ferguson if he is able to make the necessary arrangements.

The people of this city and district will be glad of this opportunity to welcome and listen to Canada's High Commissioner, always an interesting and likeable personality, and always bringing a message well worth listening to.

Mr. Ferguson, even his former political opponents have no hesitation in admitting, has been doing a very excellent service as Canada's representative in the heart of the Empire, he has made Canada House an institution of real value to the Dominion, and by his geniality, his ability to make and hold friends and his never-failing interest in public affairs has given Canada a vast amount of publicity into the Mother Country.

"He has become one of us," was the tribute recently paid Ontario's former premier by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, but while that is true to a degree, it is safe to say that Mr. Ferguson is still a one hundred per cent. Canadian, whose heart remains in Canada.

It is to be hoped that this distinguished son of the Empire may be able to squeeze a visit to Peterborough into his itinerary.

This district will be delighted to welcome him.

AGRICULTURAL PARLEY A SUCCESS.

When such an authority as Dr. W. J. Black, Director of Agriculture for the Canadian National Railways, declares that the agricultural conference called by the Federal Minister of Agricultural was "the greatest meeting in the interests of Canadian farmers should be encouraged to new efforts.

The main feature of what was accomplished at this important gathering is that there is to be teamwork in government movement to assist Canadian agriculture.

Committees have been appointed to consolidate all government effort in this direction and the benefit to Canadian farmers as a result should be great.

The stress that as a consequence of the addresses given by experts in attendance at the Toronto Conference has been laid upon the necessity of keeping Canada's farm products high in quality and constant in supply should not go unnoticed by the farmers of the country.

The governments are showing the way and preparing to do their part as effectively and as completely as possible, but unless their leadership is followed by individual farmers and there is general co-operation, this country cannot expect to get the full benefit of the concessions obtained at the Imperial Economic Council.

The Federal and Provincial Minister of Agriculture are alive to the situation, but they must have the united support of Canadian agriculture.

HOWARD IS RIGHT.

In speaking at Ottawa the other day, Canada's High Commissioner gave the producers of this country some very sound advice. It is true that the subject is not new and the Honorable Frank Carrel, of Quebec, has, perhaps, endeavored to drive it home more thoroughly than any other Canadian. What Mr. Ferguson advised in substance was that Canadians should produce goods of the quality and in the manner desired by the British consumer; and, further, that provision should be made for continuous production and delivery of these goods once the market was obtained. The British producer, particularly of manufactured goods, has yet to learn the same lesson in the way of production and delivery.

For many years the producers of Canada and the consumers of Canada harped on the fact that the British manufacturer declined to change his patterns or methods or quality in order to please any market, believing that what Great Britain produced was the best extant. For several years past the same thing has been truthfully applied to Canadian producers. The latter, unfortunately, have not taken kindly as a whole to the advice given by agricultural departments in the Dominion and in the various provinces.

On one occasion, a former chairman of the Tariff Board brought this question of packing and marketing to the attention of the fruit-growers when they appeared before him and the Board, but h suggestions did not meet with what might be called an enthusiastic reception. He told them that when visiting London he invariably went from place to place endeavoring to purchase Canadian products, just to see how these were being handled. At his hotel he asked for Canadian cheese and bacon, and never let up on the request till he secured both. Unfortunately, however, the cheese was called "British cheddar"; but the gentleman in question went to the place where it was purchased and asked to see the original package and, after considerable inquiry, he was convinced it was Canadian cheese, manufactured in Leeds county.

Another day he went to one of the largest strings of restaurants in Great Britain and asked for peaches. He was brought Californian peaches, done up beautifully and tastily. Demurring at being handed California peaches when Canada is noted for her lavish production and good quality, he inquired for the manager. When told what the fuss was about, the manager asked him to be patient for a moment and, leaving the visitor alone, he returned in a few minutes with a Canadian can of peaches. There is no question in the world that the California article had a neater package, and bore all the imprints of being "put up" for continued sale. "Can you see any difference outside of that?" asked the manager. The aggrieved visitor was not sufficiently versed in the restaurant business to detect the great objection to the Canadian article. The manager said, pouring out both packages into separate receptacles, "If you look at the California fruit and the juice with which it is mixed, you will discover that the number of servings in that package can be definitely determined, and we know when we buy California fruit just how many servings we have purchased." "I can assure you," he added, "that the United States peaches are uniformly canned and packed, and we know just how much is in a case. That means a great deal to us," he said, "with our long string of busy restaurants.

"Now, take the Canadian package," he continued, "and I will go and get another from the same shelf to illustrate what I have said." He did so and, to the writer's amazement, there was fully twice as much juice in one Canadian package as there was in the other and consequently half as many peaches. The Canadian fruit was luscious and good and well preserved, but the manager was right in saying that there was no uniformity in the quantity of juice and peaches respectively in the Canadian packages.

This gentleman, who later was the chairman of the Tariff Board, pointed all this out to the fruit growers' association, or its representatives, when they appeared before the Tariff Board, but, unless they have changed their viewpoint, no great improvement was made in the manner of canning Canadian peaches.

These are just two or three instances to corroborate the views of the Canadian High Commissioner in London, and the Honorable Frank Carrell as well, because in no department of production can we expect to successfully compete, no matter what the preference, unless our producers are prepared to meet requests, and even the whims, of the men and companies to whom they expect to sell their goods.—Brantville Reconder and Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Federal and provincial governments are giving Canadian farmers a good lead. Their effort should have the whole-hearted co-operation of agriculture.

Mr. Ferguson came back to Canada to go fishing, but it looks as if he will not be able to do much until the fall fair season is over.

Riff-Raff Has Always Been In History The Same Element Is In Modern Events

By H. W. L. MAHOOD.

In the first true book of history ever written the riff-raff element of a nation has a place. This is what the writer says of them. "Now the riff-raff among them craved flesh as food and the very Israelites wailed again, O for flesh to eat." The whole company of people on the way to the land of promise had plenty of food of the very best. Most of the people were contented and happy. But there was the riff-raff element, always stirring up discontent. They were ever ready to take advantage of conditions, unfavorable to themselves, to stir up trouble in the whole camp. They awaited the opportunity to create discontent even with the best available circumstances.

This element has never been absent from any nation. We have to contend with it, now. But when everything seemed to be going wrong, that was their great opportunity to mess things.

That was a hard sad day, when an ancient Moses, had to deal with this disturbing element. The 26th day of July will be remembered as a sad day in American history, for then the federal government was compelled to defend itself at the very heart of the capital from the belligerency of a great company of plain, but misdirected ex-servicemen, and from the radicals who were trying to capitalize a tense situation.

The large majority of those who converged on Washington, were truly representative of the spirit of that army which went forth to contend for an ideal on the battle fields of Europe. This part of the bonus army deserved and merited pity. But, there was an element made up of the weaklings of society. To these were added a large number of criminals, and imposters and communist agitators of discontent. On the adjournment of Congress the better element left for their homes. Some two thousand of the riff-raff remained. With this part of the bonus army the police of Washington had serious trouble. A weakling chief of police heightened the trouble. There was not one ranking officer among this two thousand. It was a mob. It was a communist stirred mob. Dynamite was found hidden in the encampment of this anarchist mob. General MacArthur, Chief of Staff of the army, said when all was over, "If the President had not acted with force and vigor, to-morrow would have been a sad day."

While Congress was in session every consideration was shown the bonus seekers, and every opportunity given to advise with the members of Congress. When Congress was about to adjourn it made possible for every bona-fide ex-service man to secure from the government, a loan without interest, to be used for transportation home, at greatly reduced rates, offered by the railroads. The better class and the loyal ex-service men took advantage of the provision.

But there was that small element that would not budge. At last this element defied the government authorities. This revolutionary mob was under the leadership of four men of foreign background. One was from Russia. One was a native of Spain. One was from Ireland. One was a Lithuanian. Waters was with them. He found that what he started he could not handle. His men would not obey him. They were bound to stir a revolution, and take possession of the capitol. The chief of police reported he could not handle the situation. Hoover then took matters in hand. He acted with dispatch, and nipped a little revolution in the bud.

This riff-raff element, morally, economically, physically broken, and wrecked, hopeless, is an obstacle in the way of all human progress. It is a hot-bed for the sowing of the revolutionary seeds of communism, and anarchy, and social disorder. Humanity will never climb very high as long as this millstone is about its neck. Civilization's greatest achievement, today and to-morrow, will depend on the transformation of this element. When this is accomplished communism, and anarchy, and treason will be done for. Worthwhile men and women will then give to the nations a sense of security, freedom, and strength never before realized.

Communism and bolshevism, and modern anarchy did not spring from this rif-raf hot bed. Nor did it come from the mind of a theorist. There are conditions at the human social top that account for them. But that is a story for a future writing.

General MacArthur said after the last of the bonus marchers had left Washington, "The mob down Pennsylvania avenue looked bad. It was animated by the spirit of revolution. The gentleness by which these men had been treated had been mistaken by them as weakness, and they had come to the conclusion that they were about to take over the government, in an arbitrary way, or control by indirect methods.

Harvest Home Dinner Is Held At Hastings

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Sept. 3. — The community harvest home, dinner and field day held in Castleton on Wednesday was very largely attended. Dinner was held in the community hall by the ladies of the United Church, and was very much enjoyed by the large crowd present. In the afternoon a field day was held, despite the intense heat, the events were all very keenly contested. In the girls' softball tournament Castleton defeated Hastings and then won from the Cobourg nine. The baseball match went to Grafton over Roseneath; both teams were guilty of playing rather loose ball.

Rev. W. L. Hinton, pastor of Castleton United Church, and formerly of Trinity United Church here, was in charge of the day.

STATION L-O-V-E

BY CRAIG CARROLL

INSTALMENT 8

Judy ran up the stairs two at a time. She ran into her room, jerking at her dress, jerking it over her shoulders. The brown dress with the fur sleeves? No. The powder blue sport suit? But it might be—she realized now she didn't know what she ought to wear, she didn't know where Dick meant to take her, she didn't even know if she wanted to go. She didn't know anything at all. Only that she must hurry.

Yes! The powder blue sport suit. And the blue shoes. Where were the blue shoes? Not under the bed. Not in the closet. The blue shoes?

"Come on, blue shoes," she giggled. Ahhhh! Hiding under the dresser. And—Her garter caught on the thin chiffon stocking. Racing like mad, a run sped down the stocking. Other stockings. Quick. Oh, no more stockings! She couldn't go with a run in her stocking. A needle and thread. No. She couldn't sew neatly.

"Elsie!" she called suddenly. "Oh, Elsie!"

"Yes," from across the hall.

"Elsie. Save my life."

"How?" from nearer.

"Elsie. Lend me a pair of stockings. Light ones."

"Coming up."

Elsie was fat, Elsie was unbeautiful. Elsie worked in an office, Elsie never went out with men, Elsie always bought good clothes and then sat around waiting for some one to take her somewhere so she could wear her good clothes, but nobody ever did.

* * *

"Here you are, child," said Elsie. "Going places?"

"Going—out—" Judy managed, as she tugged the stockings onto her small feet. "Going out with Dick Mason."

"Dick Mason? The one that lives downstairs?"

"Dick Mason," Judy said firmly, buckling the garter. "Ah. And if these spring a run on me I'll never get started. Elsie—He's nice!"

"Nice? That's not half. He's elegant. He breaks my heart every time he looks at me."

"He helped me get a job."

"He never helped anybody else with a thing," said Elsie. "Gee! When ya got, ya get, Judy."

"Whatz?"

"Take a look."

Judy stared at herself in the mirror. Plain hair. Well, not too plain. Maybe dark blond, maybe just brown. Only sometimes it had red tints. Chestnut. Eyes. Nose. Mouth. Nothing special. It had never occurred to her that she looked like anything more than a nice girl from a little town. She'd been too busy studying music.

"I don't know about me," she said. But she did. The powder blue dress was right, the shoes were right, the hair was just smooth enough. She turned. "Elsie, I don't know where he's taking me, and I don't think I care very much. Even if it's only a 'chile parlor and a 10-cent movie. I like to listen to him, Elsie. His voice—"

"Yeh," said Elsie, quietly. "Yeh, Judy. I know. Every night I tune in on my little radio, just to hear him talk."

"Judy felt a sudden pang. Pity? You couldn't pity Elsie. Too large, too competent, too sure of life and herself. But Elsie, sitting home getting romance out of a radio. Elsie, listening for a voice.

"Elsie, I've got to run. He's waiting. He's got a new car. He just got it to-day, I guess."

* * *

Already, Judy was on the stairs. And, looking back, she saw Elsie walk across her room, and look into the long mirror. She saw Elsie shake her head very slowly. Then Judy hurried on. Dick was waiting. And adventure. More adventure, in a day drammed full of romance and wonder. She didn't see Elsie put her head on her arms, she didn't know that Elsie cried for a little while—she wouldn't have known, for Elsie never told anybody things like that.

And she was listening to the voice beside her that Elsie heard only on the radio. The voice that talked across the air about romance, about adventure. The voice that talked now to Judy, almost unsteadily, almost afraid.

"Judy, I'm doing the announcing at the College Inn to-night. And then we're going on to hear Paul Whiteman. Ever hear Ben Bernie and one of his celebrity nights? Ever hear Paul Whiteman at the Edgewater Beach?"

Ever hear? Ever? Sit in a parlor back home and hear music and laughter and people shouting, and then a voice saying, "And now Sophie Tucker herself will say 'Hello.'"

And wondering if people you read about really look the way they sound. Wondering if they have as much fun as they seem to have. Wondering if anybody in the world could be so wildly, impossibly happy as their voices sounded, coming a thousand miles into your parlor.

"You're not taking me there?" she asked.

"I am."

"But I'm not dressed for anything like that."

"You'll be more beautiful than anybody else there."

"Silly."

"Not silly a bit. I'm only an announcer, but I'm telling the truth for once and I like it."

Telling the truth! What was it Elton said? "I want you to believe me. I'm a liar most of the time, but I'm telling the truth now." Something like that.

The car dodged between two taxicabs, cut across to Lake street, stopped. "Close as we can get, the way downtown traffic is these nights," said Dick. "Come along Judy. It's right around the corner."

* * *

The street was dark. People moved this way, that way. So many people. The street was dark. But it wasn't like dark streets at home. This street might be paved with gold, or brick, or diamonds. It wouldn't matter. It was a street of adventure. Judy was sure of that.

He touched her arm. "I hate men who go along holding onto women's arms," he said. "Always did."

"So do I," said Judy.

"So I'm going to hate myself tonight," he said.

And he took Judy's arm, holding it tightly, helping her along the uneven sidewalk, scowling at the men who looked at her because nobody could help looking at Judy. "And if you listen when the band plays maybe you'll hear what I think about you. Een if you don't want to listen. Even if it doesn't mean a thing to you."

"But—" she began. Then she stopped, quickly, very quickly. Judy knew she had been about to say, "But I will be listening. For every word."

* * *

She felt like a queen just arrived at She felt like a quen just arrived at the throne. She felt like anything in the world, but Judy Allison from Hiawatha, Kas., like anything and anybody else but herself. For people thought she was important. People came up wanting to be introduced. A man who shook hands just a little bit too eagerly with Dick and said just a little bit too soon, "May I dance with the lady?"

Dick said, "No." He didn't say anything more. The man stood waiting. "Just once, maybe?" he asked finally.

And Dick got up. "I said no. I can say it a lot more times if I need to. Do I?"

The man went away.

"Dick! You mustn't be angry!" Judy whispered.

"I'm not. Only you're with me."

"Yes."

"And you're not sorry, are you, Judy? You're not sorry you're here with me?"

Sorry? Sorry to be where you've always wanted to be? Sorry to hear music you've heard before only across a thousand miles of empty space. Sorry to be right next to people you've read about, people you know from their pictures? Sorry?

Judy giggled.

"I'm happier to-night than I've ever been before in my life," she said. And meant it.

"And I'm happier than I've ever been or ever will be," said Dick. And meant it. And then, quickly, he turned to the microphone. Judy couldn't hear anything he said. His mouth was pursed in a strange circle; he seemed to be pushing words from his mouth straight into the microphone. A few words.

And all the time, talking about romance, talking about adventure, he was looking at her. At her!

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People columns must be received at The Examiner Office by 5 p.m. on the day before insertion. All letters must be signed by the writer although a pen name may be used when inserting non-controversial subject matter.

The Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir.—In the interests of the farmer-ratepayers of Otonabee Township, I wish to voice strongest disapproval of any consideration being given to construction of the uncompleted 12-mile stretch of Highway 7 from the 5th Line to Norwood. That is disapproval of any construction being undertaken on the old basis whereby the County of Peterborough will be called upon to pay 20 per cent of the total cost of such an undertaking.

I do not desire to leave the impression that I am opposed to the completion of this link in the Sarnia-Ottawa Highway as a relief measure. On the contrary, I believe it to be a very desirable object, and one that would be the means of providing employment to a number of men who are in bad need of it. I have the strongest conviction, however, that the only basis on which construction should be undertaken, is for the Federal and Provincial Governments to assume the entire cost as they did on the Actinolite-Perth section.

Under present conditions where the farmer is already taxed to the limit, it must be glaringly patent to the most superficial observer that the farmer-ratepayers of this county are not in a position to consider the payment of higher taxes which would result from construction on the 20 per cent basis. The farmers are having a difficult enough task even to meet current demands, and many of them are finding that almost impossible.

At the recent opening of the Actinolite-Perth road recently, the Hon. Leopold Macauley, Minister of Highways, said, "We are waiting only for a resolution from your County Council stating that they are willing to pay their share." He was referring to the proposed construction of the uncompleted 12-mile stretch between Peterborough and Norwood, and I consider that he very cleverly put it up to our Council.

If it comes to a special session of the Council to consider the question, I shall most certainly be against the county's participation in any further highway construction for the present. I have no political axe to grind, but am merely looking at the question from a common-sense angle, knowing as I do the keen opposition that will be experienced from the ratepayers of this township, almost to a man.

Yours truly,

FRED D. MONTGOMERY,
Reeve of Otonabee Township.

Mr. W. H. MaGee of the Nash Motors, Hunter street, has contrived an interesting-looking caravan that aroused much comment among the residents of Chemong Park when it was quartered there this week in the Pavilion Park, where Mr. and Mrs. MaGee and friends spent some time. Erected on a motor chassis, with a long tongue which permits it to be hitched to an automobile and conveyed as a trailer to the car, is a contraption that resembles a truck body. Within is sufficient space to permit of housing a goodly number of people, with table, kitchenette, chairs, oil stove alcove, ice box, and all the paraphernalia of a properly-equipped travelling home. The unique feature of the caravan is the bay-window effect on either side. Projecting from the body of the caravan are awning-covered sections that fold up during the day and are used as beds at night. Sleeping accommodation for six people is provided in this unique and comfortable conveyance, as an alcove at the upper end also contains a sizable bed. The caravan is electrically lighted.

Just Between Us Women

CURTAINING THE HOUSE for the winter is one of the matters which is considered in the early autumn by the woman who wishes to have her rooms look their best as soon as possible after the summer-time.

* * * * * * *

It is surprising how immediately a room responds to the decorative element of new or freshened curtains and hangings.

* * * * * * *

The ideas presented to-day will prove helpful to a home decorator who has a small quantity of material and who wishes to get effects which call for more.

* * * * * * *

Curtains which have to be cut rather short to make the textile sufficient to dress a number of windows or curtains which have shrunk in laundering, can be lengthened without changing hems by hanging them in either of the two following ways:

* * * * * * *

Run the valance on the curtain rod. Pleat the curtains to the desired width. With safety pins, in preference to curtain pins, fasten the curtains to the under side of the valance where the textile is full and the pins will not show.

* * * * * * *

Attach them as close to the top of the valance as the length will permit. No one who has not seen the work in progress will realize that both valance and curtain are not on separate rods.

The second is a method similar to the former except that the curtains are caught to the valance just above the hem of the latter.

* * * * * * *

If the textile is so heavy that the light does not come through it, such a decided lengthening process shows the least. It adds greater length than the first way.

* * * * * * *

The addition of a second textile in the form of a false hem when put on both curtains and valances and when tie-backs are made of this secondary textile, gives no evidence of such trimming being added.

* * * * * * *

A smart method is to have the valance undulating and bind them with the secondary textile. Have the tie-backs of the curtain material cut straight along the top, and having the same bound undulations, only smaller, on the lower edges.

* * * * * * *

When curtains are plain, a contrasting plain textile or a figured one can make the trimming, but if the curtains are figured, the secondary textile should be plain.

* * * * * * *

When the undulating edges are used of plain textile, a novel note is secured by appliqueing a simple motif of a flower in each circular portion.

* * * * * * *

A smart trimming for curtains for chambers in winter houses or apartments which may also be used in country houses, simply decorated for down stairs as well as upstairs, is found in appliqued trimming.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

DRAWING CORRECT INFERENCES

Each step in the bidding of a hand at Contract Bridge should be constructive. Every bid should convey some additional information, either affirmative or negative. It is a corollary of this principle that a player at Contract should not expect his partner to do something that he can do himself.

A very fine example of the drawing of correct inferences and the reaching of the correct final bid was given in a recent team-of-four match between The Bridge World team and the team captained by Mr. P. Hal Sims on the board below:

North—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♡	1♠
3◇	Pass	3NT(1)	Pass
4◇(2)	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—Two notrump on this hand would show merely a minimum bid. Three notrump shows a very strong hand and is a mild Slam try.

2—A very beautiful bid, based on knowledge that his partner holds 4½ honor-tricks without valuable distribution. The long, solid diamond suit, with the outside King of clubs and singleton spade, practically assures Mr. von Zedtwitz that the combined hands will produce six-odd.

In the other room, where the positions of the players were reversed, the same final contract was reached, but North only bid five diamonds on the third round of bidding, leaving it to his partner to bid six. As a matter of fact, this bidding required the stretching of South's hand to the utmost in order to justify bidding the Slam.

Obviously, on the bidding, the Slam would appear to rest upon whether or not more than 1 spade trick is to be lost. As to that, South can only guess, but North definitely knows. After two passes, South opened the bidding with one heart. West's Overcall bid of one spade followed, and North made the regulation Takeout of two diamonds. South had shown a hand above average strength by opening the bidding Third Hand. She then jumped at once to game at no-trump, and, when West passed, North had an opportunity to correctly picture the hand. All that South had a right to expect in the North hand on the bidding thus far was a five-card, or better, diamond suit and something better than an honor-trick in the hand.

As a matter of fact, North held a hand very rich in playing-tricks, if diamonds were trump, and this had not been shown by his regulation Takeout. South's strong bid showed not only double stoppers in the spade suit, but, by inference, an honor-trick in the unbid club suit as well. The hand, North reasoned, must contain either the Ace of spades or the Ace of clubs. The hearts may even be stronger than was actually the case. It was apparent to North that the hand should be played in diamonds, the abnormal distribution making play at notrump a doubtful course. The only question was whether North should bid five or six. Mr. von Zedtwitz rightly solved this question by his bid of six. He could reason that South's spade holding might well be something very similar to what it actually was, and if he bid five diamonds, South might quite easily pass that bid. A good Contract player should not ask his partner to make a bid which he is prepared to make, and thus the bid on North's hand was not five diamonds, but six, because the chances of making the Slam were more than even and the additional bonus for that result was well worth the slight risk.

TODAY'S POINTER

A good Contract player should not ask his partner to make a bid that is justified by his own holding.

Weddings

WILLIS—BARRIE

One of the lovely rose-pink weddings which royalty's choice of the same color, popularized this season, took place at three o'clock this afternoon at Murray street Baptist Church, when the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe performed the ceremony which united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Helen Margaret Barrie, only daughter of Mrs. E. M. Barrie, of 19 Park street north and the late Mr. Norman Barrie, and Mr. Jack Douglas Willis, B.Sc., of Toronto, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Willis of Edmonton, Alberta.

The church was decorated very attractively a profusion of flowers, gladioli and asters and ferns filling baskets and standards.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her grandfather, Mr. J. Johnston, wore an exquisite frock, fashioned on long, graceful, close-fitting lines, of deep rose pink angelskin lace. The fitted lines of the skirt were accented by three ruffles above the knee and a flare which reached to the toe tips. The gown had little puff sleeves of the lace and a girdle of ciel blue velvet ribbon, tied at the left side.

A large picture hat of rose pink lace straw harmonized with the lace of the frock, and had a band of blue velvet ribbon matching the girdle and the slippers of blue moire which were worn with neutral tone silk hose. The bride's long mittens were of rose pink lace and she wore a pendant of marquisettes set in white gold.

Her bouquet of pink Butterfly roses, lily of the valley, gypsophila and plumosa fern was tied with white valley chiffon ribbon.

The matron of honor, Mrs. C. W. Philp of Toronto, was in pale pink georgette. The three frills of the skirt were topped by lace and lace also fashioned the tiny cap sleeves. Her hat of pink lace straw was trimmed with pink velvet ribbon. She wore slippers of silver brocade and pale pink lace mittens, and carried a bouquet of pink Premier Supreme roses and plumosa fern, tied with a pink bow.

The dainty littlest lower girl, Ruth Barrie, five-year-old cousin of the bride, was frocked in ecru net with scalloped hem of fine lace and slip of pale blue trimmed with a side rosette of pink and blue satin ribbon. She wore white slippers, pale blue socks and a bandeau of pink satin ribbon with rosette. Her white basket held pink sweet peas, and was tied with pink tulle.

During the ceremony and the signing of the register, Mr. Arthur Collison, L.A.B., A.D.C.M., played the wedding music.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnston, 19 Park street north, where decorations were carried out in rose and silver. Quantities of pink gladioli, asters and petunias decorated the rooms. The table, centered by the bride's cake, banked with pink tulle, was arranged with silver vases of pink gladioli and silver candlesticks holding pink tapers.

About forty guests, relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom, were present. Assisting in evening refreshments were Mrs. H. Clark, Miss Marion Pilling and Miss Iva Pilling.

Receiving with the bridal party were the bride's grandmother and mother. Mrs. Johnston wore black Roshanara crepe trimmed with black velvet, a small hat of black felt and pressed plush and black slippers.

Mrs. Barrie wore a gown of brown and eggshell printed chiffon, with three-quarter length eggshell kid gloves, brown felt hat trimmed with orange feather mount, and brown kid slippers.

Later, Mr. Willis and his bride will leave by motor for Toronto to take the train there to Jasper Park, Alberta, and Edmonton, where they will visit the parents of the bridegroom. On their return, they will live in Toronto.

$400 A MONTH TO ONE FAMILY

Charges Against B. C. Government Over Relief Expenditures.

DIVERSION ALLEGED.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 3. (S.N.S.)— British Columbia has been shocked by sensational revelations of reckless extravagance, wastage and diversion of unemployment relief funds, contained in charges against the provincial government made to Lieut.-Gov. J. W. Fordham Johnson by Michael H. McGeough, who for some months represented the Dominion government as director of unemployment relief in this province.

Mr. McGeough told of having checked accounts of the provincial government over a long period. In scores of instances he found the amounts excessive. He discovered that the government had been over charged repeatedly apparently for the benefit of intermediaries and that goods had been purchased in large volumes that were not necessary at all.

Not Entitled To It

In many instances, according to Mr. McGeough, it was found that relief pay was granted to people who were not entitled to it. The staff of Alico camp, owned by the Abernethy-Lougheed Logging Company at one time headed by a former minister of public works, was completely manned by those not entitled to relief and who were on the permanent payroll of that company, some of the salaries paid out of relief money running as high as $7.50 a day, while at another camp the foreman had his family working with him, all salaries being charged to the unemployment relief funds and amounting to over $400 a month for the family.

Engineers, according to Mr. McGeough were allowed up to $300 a month for their own automobiles going from home to their work.

Extravagant Expenditure

After reviewing the history of the plans for unemployment relief Mr. McGeough devotes a paragraph to what he calls examples of "extravagant and unnecessary" expenditures, and adds:

"Items for lumber purchased through commission agents at $12.50 per thousand retail back to the government at from $8 to $21 per thousand; heavy roadmaking machinery to displace labor and considered defeating the ends for which we were endeavoring to create employment opportunities; typewriters and adding machines by the score for camps when skilled office men were on direct relief; groceries purchased from selected merchants throughout the province with no check on prices; small merchants receiving orders for groceries by the carload; camp equipment prices were of such a character that it was impossible to accept—three second-hand stoves for $700; camp cots at $6 when the regular price should be $2.50; and these purchased in Edmonton; tents purchased in Ottawa while we were trying to relieve idle factories in British Columbia. The situation was so critical that I deemed it necessary to present the actual invoices for inspection at Ottawa, and proceeded there with invoices covering several million dollars. Experts examined same and the federal government refused to pay them or to be a party to having unemployment funds used in such a manner.

HAVELOCK WOMAN FALLS OFF CHAIR

Mrs. D. Greenley Fractures Shoulder and Wrist in Closing Trap Door.

HAVELOCK, September 3 (Examiner Correspondence). — When Mrs. Dave Greenley saw a bat in the house on Friday morning before going down to breakfast, she at once concluded that the nocturnal visitor had entered the house via the attic route, as the trap door had been left open for the purpose of better ventilation during the intense heat of Wednesday and Thursday. Before despatching the bat, she hastened to close the entrance to the attic to preclude the possibility of another one entering the house. Stepping on to a chair and then a small stove near the hatchway, she proceeded to close the door, and when the lid slipped under her foot she was precipitated violently to the floor.

Hearing her scream as she fell, Mrs. Allan, who lives next door, hurried into the house, and found Mrs. Greenley lying on the floor in great pain with a fractured wrist and shoulder. A doctor was called, and after administering an anaesthetic, the fractures were reduced. She is resting quietly.

El Brendel will have some sort of a part—just what isn't known yet—in the picture that is to mark the screen debut of Masters Tommy and Charlie Chaplin. The story is now being written by Frank Craven, the playwright, and David Butler is to take over the direction.

In all probability two versions will be made, one for British consumption and one for the United States. Americans have no universal conception of the Briton's pride of empire and this will have to be smoothed over or justified in the American version. It was thought at first that Mary Clare, who is playing the lead in London, would be brought to Hollywood for the picture, but this has been abandoned, although the other evening Will Rogers argued at length that the picture should not be made without her. Mr. Roger's comment at the end of the showing was, "Well, Hollywood will have a hard time spoiling this one."

RKO announced its new John Barrymore picture. It is supposedly based on the life of a famous financier and entitled "The Public Be Damned." Gwili Andre will play the feminine lead. Announcement is also made this week by Radio that it had signed Francis Lederer to play the main role in "Nights Are Made for Love," a musical picture in which Irene Dunne will also be seen. Mr. Lederer will not arrive until after his New York stage engagement.

Edward G. Robinson, a busy acting man, will plunge right into a story called "The Machine" when he finishes "Silver Dollar." It is the story of a ruthless department-store owner, and the feeling at First National is that the part affords Mr. Robinson a wide terrain for his abilities. It is expected that "Silver Dollar" will be completed within the forthnight, and the new film will enter production early in October.

Gloria Swanson and a cast she has assembled around her in England are hard at work making "Pefect Understanding." Heading her supporting players are Genevieve Tobin, Sir Nigel Olivier, John Halliday and Laurence Olivier. Most of the actors in the cast are English. The story of the picture, which is Miss Swanson's own idea, deals with companionate marriage and presents the heroine as an American girl who falls in love with the son of an English nobleman while on a visit to Europe.

Hollywood got its first glimpse of a film of "Cavalcade" this week when Winfield Sheehan, head of Fox, invited a group to his home to look at the picture which his company made of the play in London. In photographing the Noel Coward piece in the Drury Lane Theatre, no attempt was made to make a motion picture of it, the film merely being a record of the stage production for the guidance of film technicians here.

Care of Harris' Drug Store, Peterborough, Ontario.

Dear Sir,—Your suggestion to me of the advantage for the constant use of permanent glasses may be necessary, but I desire to inform you that since you examined my eyes at Reed's Drug Store some four months ago and supplied me with a pair of your all-vision lenses and frames that my eyes have so much improved that I am now able to read the newspaper and go without glasses entirely. This is a most remarkable truth I am pleased to state as an absolute fact. But I am taking your advice and will wear the rest glasses as you prescribe.

No Inquest Called In Cyanide Deaths

LINDSAY, September 3. — Dr. F. A. Logan of Lindsay, county coroner, has decided that an inquest is not necessary after an investigation of the double tragedy which occurred in Woodville when W. J. Murray and Archibald Anderson, both of Toronto, were strangled by a deadly gas generated by calcium cyanide fumigating powder they were using in a mushroom shed. He will so report, and as far as local officials are concerned, the case is closed, although the Provincial authorities may order an inquest as there has been a series of tragedies caused by the use of cyanide for fumigating purposes.

BEER LEADERS FREED ON BAIL

Brantford Brewing Company Official Among Group Arrested.

LAUNCH SEIZED.

SIMCOE, Ont., Sept. 3. —(CP)— Six men, arrested yesterday at Port Rowan when police said they found them loading beer from two trucks onto a motor launch destined for the United States, today were on bail to appear in court here September 10.

F. C. Bixel, official of the Bixel Brewing and Malting company of Brantford, faced a charge of having liquor in a place other than his private residence while the company was charged with keeping liquor for sale in a manner contrary to provisions of the Ontario Liquor Control Act.

Charles W. Palmer and Charles Houser, both of Brantford; Joseph Miller, Buffalo; George McOune, Detroit, and Norris Smith, Port Rowan, all were charged with illegal possession of liquor.

All six appeared in court here last night and were remanded by Magistrate Gunton.

Some excitement was occasioned yesterday when High Constable L. L. Shipley, attempting to run the seized motor launch from Port Rowan to Port Dove, experienced engine trouble and was missing for several hours. He finally put back into Port Rowan after a search had been instituted for him.

SHOE FACTORY TAKES HOLIDAY

Weston Company of Campbellford Halt Operations for Month.

BONDHOLDERS TO MEET.

CAMPBELLFORD, September 3 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). —The Weston Shoe Company, Limited, established here thirty years ago, has closed down with the expectation of re-opening in October.

Richard Weston, secretary-treasurer of the company, interviewed by The Examiner on Friday afternoon, while declining to make any definite statement for publication, conveyed the decided impression that expectation of a recovery of trade in the fall strengthens the hope that the plant will commence production early next month.

Referring to a meeting of the bondholders of the company which is to be held at the plant on Thursday afternoon next, Mr. Weston stated; "The ostensible purpose of the meeting is to appoint a new trustee in place of the late Magistrate G. A. Payne."

Mr. Weston also inferred that the conditions which had arisen to cause temporary suspension of production would also doubtless be fully considered.

He led The Examiner to understand that to some extent the future policy of the Weston Company would rest with the bondholders and with any decision they might reach in their contemplated meeting.

Optimistic as to the outcome of pending negotiations, Mr. Weston while regretting the Company's decision to halt production stated, "if there had been any alternative we would not have done it".

Among local business men there appears to be evident every confidence in the directors of the Weston Company. Founded in Toronto fifty-six years ago by the late Frederick J. Weston, the business was brought to this town in 1903 at which time all was incorporated as a limited stock company. The original charter was for $60,000 capital but this was later increased to and now is $100,000. The industry was established in the present location on property on the east bank of the river formerly known as Senior's Cloth Mill.

Frederick J. Weston is president, while Richard Weston another of the founder's sons is secretary-treasurer of the Company. Clifford Weston is managing director.

OLD RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Cynthia Barnett, Nonogenarian, Will Be Buried Sunday.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 3 (Examiner Staff Reporter). — One of the oldest residents of this district passed away suddenly early Friday morning in the person of Mrs. Cynthia Barnett of Round's Island. She celebrated her 91st birthday anniversary on Sunday last, at which time she was in good health.

Of sturdy pioneer stock Mrs. Barnett was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp, who are numbered among the earliest settlers of Seymour Township. She had resided in this district all her life and up to the last had enjoyed a remarkable degree of health.

Predeceased by her husband in the year 1904 Mrs. Barnett had since made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Heagle with whom she was residing at the time of her death.

Besides her daughter Mrs. Heagle, the deceased is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Charles Gordon of Bradley Bay and Mrs. Barnett Brown of Rawdon Township.

It is interesting to note that Mrs. Barnett's mother lived to be 89 years of age, while her grandmother, Mrs. Heagle, lived to celebrate her 94th birthday anniversary.

The funeral is to be held on Sunday from the residence of Mrs. Heagle at Round's at 2.30 p.m. Services will be conducted by the Rev. F. T. McTavish, pastor of the United Church Seymour Circuit.

Interment at Rabbit Hill Cemetery.

Cubs Register Thirteenth Straight Victory

YANKEES MAY EQUAL MAJOR MARK TO-DAY

One Run Will Give Them Record of 132 Consecutive Games Without Shutout.

LOSE TO SENATORS 7-1.

(By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The New York Yankees to-day had the opportunity to prove themselves the most consistent scoring machine in all the history of organized baseball.

If Joe McCarthy's sluggers put across a single run in to-day's final tussle with Washington at Yankee Stadium, they will eclipse the existing record of 132 consecutive games without a shutout set by the Philadelphia and Boston clubs of the National League in 1894.

They equalled the old mark yesterday, even while they were losing to the Senators, 7 to 1. For eight innings big Firpo Marberry turned them back monotonously, yielding only four hits. But in the ninth Babe Ruth drew a pass and Lou Gehrig crashed a triple out past the Miller Huggins memorial in centre field.

It was the second straight day the league leaders preserved their record by the narrowest of margins, Alvin Crowder having blanked them until after one was out in the ninth.

Cuts Yanks' Lead.

The defeat reduced the Yanks' lead over the Athletics 9½ games and gave the Senators an 11-10 margin over them for the season.

Jimmie Foxx continued his pursuit of Babe's home run record, knocking No. 49 outof Shibe Park as the Athletics enjoyed a field day at the expense of Boston, 7 to 3 and 15 to 0. McNair and Simmons each hit two homers for the winners, while Dale Alexander crashed a home run and four singles for the Red Sox.

In the only other American League game, the St. Louis Browns took a tight one from Chicago, 3 to 1, George Blaeholder getting the better of Ted Lyons in a pitching duel.

Continuing their burning pace at the head of the National league the Chicago Cubs chalked up their 13th straight victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 5. Hazen Cuyler and Mark Koenig hit home runs to lead a 16-hit attack on three Cardinal pitchers.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, making a valiant comeback after their disastrous slump, made it six victories in a row by beating Cincinnati, 2 to 1. Larry French allowed the Reds nine hits, as against six the winners could manage off hard-luck Red Lucas, but timely blows by Traynor and Thevenow made the difference.

The other clubs were not scheduled.

Thirty Yachtsmen Are Set For Races

TORONTO, Sept. 3 (C.P.)—Under perfect skies, more than thirty yachts and several scores of dinghies swept out into Lake Ontario for the annual Canadian National Exhibition races. The first of the races were held last Saturday, with most of the boats having heavy going through a terrific sea. To-day the weather was much calmer, and it wasn't blowing enough to kick up any swell at the start.

Several yachts from Rochester will participate in to-day's events, with the slippery-looking Safara highly favored to finish in the R-boat class. She divided second place last week with the Eleanor of Toronto.

Though the Cleveland municipal stadium opened to baseball with a record crowd of 80,000 persons, within five days the "smallest Saturday crowd of the season," 2,070, attended.

RAMONA GRATTAN WINS QUINTE RACE

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 3.—The race card for the Belleville Fair was concluded today with a free-for-all and a 2.18 class carded, which produced as spirited racing as any seen during the week. Ramona Grattan was too good for the little red horse, Willis Grattan, and won a five-heat decision. Chapman, teaming Willis Grattan, was set back in the first and third heats for running under the wire, his horse going to a break on each occasion. Sid Hal, the perennial pacer, slipped for the third heat, but was not a factor thereafter. The time was slow excepting the second trip, which was negotiated in 2.10. Willis Grattan was not keyed for a stiff race, while Ramona Grattan came out of the race a little lame.

Margaret Brewer, owned by the veteran sportsman, Lou Bennett, of Port Hope, made every post a winning one in the 2.18 class and romped the fastest mile of the afternoon, stepping the second heat in 2.09¼, "Chappy" Chapman was the teamster owing to Mr. Bennett not being able to drive on account of injuries received earlier in the week. Chapman raced around the field in the first heat and withstood a hard stretch drive from Marion R. Grattan while in the other two trips he simply coasted home. The racing during the Fair has been of a high calibre without accidents.

Free-for-all—Purse $250:

Ramona Grattan; Dr. Whitely, Goderich	1 2 2 1 1
Willis Grattan; C. Chapman, Toronto	2 1 3 2 2
Sid Hal; Dr. Whitely, Goderich	3 3 1 3 3
Parker Boy; H. Ingram, Lindsay	4 4 4 4dr

Time: 2.13¼, 2.10, 2.12¼, 2.13½, 2.18.

2.18 class—Purse $200:

Margaret Brewer; L. G. Bennett, Port Hope	1 1 1
Marion R. Grattan; R. E. Scott, Toronto	2 2 3
Vernon McKinney Jr.; W. Hillock, Caledon	4 3 2
Grattan Barn Jr.; V. Rowntree, Toronto	3 4 4
June Patchen; C. Williamson, Toronto	5 5 5
Peter Schuff; W. King, Enterprise	6 6 6

Time: 2.11, 2.09½, 2.11.

Toronto Evens Series With Buffalo

Out To Defeat Gray Fox's Miss America X.

BRITISH SPEED KING TUNES UP NEW BOAT FOR TEST.

Kaye Don, LEFT, and Dick Garner, his riding mate, are shown upon their trim craft, which they will use for the match with Gar Wood's Miss America X for the coveted Harmsworth trophy to-day. During its first test run since its arrival at Detroit it is estimated the ship had an average speed of 112 miles per hour. Both the boat and its driver are going to the C.N.E. at Toronto after the races, and Miss England III will be shown in a speed trial.

NOTRE DAME'S GRIDDERS HAVE BUSY SUMMER

Most Of Them Have Been Employed On Strenuous Jobs During Hot Months.

REPORT ON SEPTEMBER 15

NOTRE DAME, Ind. — The depression doesn't seemed to have affected Notre Dame's 1932 crop of football players to any great extent. Out of 62 who have been heard from 54 have jobs—26 varieties of jobs, to be explicit. One hundred and six candidates will report for practice September 15, according to Coach Heartly W. (Hunk) Anderson.

What they do to keep in shape and to help earn their expenses through school? The favorite summer job is that of playground director, camp counsellor and lifeguard. Fifteen candidates are engaged in this work at present.

Five are driving trucks. They include E. Krause, Chicago tackle. Five more are laboring with construction gangs. These are the ordinary jobs, and the others provide a great variety. There are three farmers and two foresters on the squad this year. Angelo Caridco, a cousin of Frank, who also plays quarterback, is spending the summer felling trees.

Two Work in Steel Mills.

And speaking of horses, Al McGuff of St. Mel's fame, another left halfback, is selling tickets at a Chicago track. Another candidate, Bob Knappman, of Los Angeles, worked for the Olympic committee up until this week.

Joe Kurth of Madison, one of the best tackles in the game, spent his summer doing experimental work on internal combustion engines in his brother's garage. Joe has a pilot's license and picked up his knowledge of mechanics while acquiring 1000 hours of solo flying.

Host Turns Salesman.

Capt. Paul Host of LaCrosse has been working for a South Bend finance company. He starts in on advertising selling this week in Chicago and will spend a week at home resting before going out for practice.

Jack Flynn of Quincy runs his soft drink bottling works during the summer. Joe Foley is trying to sell lumber in Jacksonville and start another Florida boom. Harry Wunsch, guard, is property man on the stage of a South Bend theater.

There is only one iceman on the squad, Lowell Hagan, a fullback, and just as hed headed as Red Grange, the world's most illustrious ice peddler. Hugh De Vore is helping out in his father's Jersey City express company. In the commodity field there are a bakery, a grocery clerk and workers in a flour mill, a woollen mill and a sugar warehouse.

Costello has Toughest Job.

Joe Mudre, a guard, is working in the coal fields. There are even a gardener and a plumber listed. And Al Costello of Akron, says he has the toughest job of all—recovering from a slight skull fracture received in an automobile accident early this summer. He promises to be in shape September 15th.

BELANGER SCORES WIN OVER SCOZZA

Buffalo's Hope for Light Heavy Crown Receives Setback from Canadian.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 3 (C.P.)—Charlie Belanger, Canadian light heavyweight boxing champion from Winnipeg, to-day had a victory to his credit over Lou Scozza, Buffalo's hope for the light heavy crown.

Belanger, piling up an edge on points, took the decision in a 10-round bout here last night, stopping the frequent sallies of the Buffalonesin by hard in-fighting in which he showed marked superiority over his opponent.

The Canadian champion fought a clever battle, left-handing Lou out of position and off-balance, killing his frequent efforts to end the bout with hard right crosses and spoiling the effect of his short left hooks.

CHINERY RETAINS JUNIOR GOLF TITLE

Turns Back Gil Walker Threat in 36 Holes of Medal Play at Toronto Yesterday.

TORONTO, Sept. 3 (C.P.)—Jack Chinery, 17-year-old Humber Valley player, to-day retained his crown as junior boys' golf champion of Ontario after turning back a threat by Gil Walker, Glen Mawr, in 36 holes of medal play at the Scarboro Golf Club yesterday.

Chinery ended the morning round with a 77 and cut his figure down by one in the afternoon play to finish with a gross of 153, four strokes better than Walker, who had a total of 157. Walker took 81 on the morning round. He reached the 18th in the afternoon with 73 but was caught in a bunker where he wasted a stroke and missed a putt to take seven on the hole.

LEAFS DEFEAT BISONS 2 TO 1 BRILLIANT DUEL

Murray Howell Clouts Homer in Ninth to Take Decision at Home.

RED WINGS WIN 3-2.

(By the Associated Press)

Thanks to the last-place Toronto Maple Leafs, Newark's League leading Bears are just seven games away from the International League pennant.

The Bears reached that status in respect to the Baltimore Orioles, one of their two surviving rivals and Toronto yesterday reduced Buffalo to the same position. While Newark and all the other southern division teams had an off day, Toronto turned back the Bisons in a brilliant duel, 2 to 1.

Since that defeat, neither Buffalo nor Baltimore can win more than 101 games while Newark already has recorded 95 victories.

Newark	95	52	.21
Baltimore	81	67	20
Buffalo	79	67	22

The Bisons' defeat, which sent them a full game into third place, was one of the heartbreaker type. Toronto got only six hits off Bill Gould while Buffalo nicked Art Smith for eight and had 10 men left stranded. Then with two out in the ninth and the score tied, Murray Howwel, big Leaf right fieder, clouted a home run over the eft fied fence and brought the game to a sudden end.

Regains Lost Ground

In the only other game played yesterday, Rochester regained the ground it had lost to Montreal the day before and closed up their fourth-place battle to a half game with a 3 to 2 victory.

Pitcher Ira Smith and Manager Toporcer earned most of the credit for the Red Wings' victory. In addition to holding the Royals to seven hits, Smith scored the tying and winning runs, coming home both times on singles by Toporcer. The deciding counter did not come until one was out in the ninth inning.

ANNUAL MEETING CARPETBALL LOOP

Charles W. Wiggins Re-elected President—Good Financial Report.

Charles W. Wiggins was elected president of the City Carpet Ball League, at the annual meeting held in the parish house at All Saints' Church Thursday evening. It will be his fifth term in this office. At this meeting, the fifth annual one of the league, there was a good representation, and considerable pre-seasonal business transacted. Dave Leether acted as chairman during the nominations.

The financial report showed the total receipts, including the banquet, to be $130.40, with the total expenditure for the past year $120.35. It was moved by Mr. Hope that a hearty vote of thanks be extended to all the officers for their capable management during the 1931-32 season.

The election of officers followed, Mr. Wiggins being re-elected president. D. Leether and Mr. Parsons were named for vice-president; the latter being elected for his second year. G. G. Groombridge was re-elected secretary-treasurer by acclamation, it being his fourth term. Messrs. Hope and C. Woods were named auditors.

It was decided to hold a meeting in the S.O.E. Hall September 21st, when all applications for entries must be in. All churches and organizations, desirous of entering, are advised to govern themselves accordingly, as the league will be started playing the first week in October.

The teams will be limited to twenty, six of which are already registered. The old ruling of five dollars a team was altered at this meeting, and it will be one dollar a member this season. For teams intending to enter, and wishing to apply before September 21st, Secretary Groombridge will receive applications at 206 Roger street, phone 2535J. With nothing further to be done at this time, the meeting was adjourned.

HASTINGS Sept. 3. — The baseball tournament scheduled to be played on September 7 for the Recreation Cup, won by Hastings in Havelock last year, will be played on September 14 in place of the 7th. Warkworth is to have a street carnival on the 7th so Hastings moved theirs on a day so the two events will not conflict.

Russia Maranville, originally infielder of the Boston Braves, will be 40 in November.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Plenty of local sport these days old-timer and it must be plenty tough on a lotta the lads to find enough jack to finance the bill-of-fare the sport magnates is dishing out to this up-and-coming community.

1 highlight of the week, Mac, has been the boxla flare up between the Oakwood Grads of Toronto and the local talent staged in the Brock St. ice box Mon. nite. The bob-tailed edition of Canada's national game sure sold itself to a lot of local people that nite, Mac, and the new customers got plenty of kick outa the speed, and action of the engagement not to mention the coupla game fights that was tossed in to make up the 2 bits worth. Pete King and his buddies took the Toronto crew and made them like it 15 to 8, a sizeable margin, neighbors, but 1 that would a been a lot bigger if the boys didn't get disorganized in the 2nd canto. Twice they had the Grads 2 men short in that session, but they tossed their team work into the corner and everybody tried to do all the scoring with the result they didn't find the nets at all while the team from the Queen City run in 3 and tied up the count. Then the lads levelled away and their passing attack in the final 2 frames had the Grads popeyed, the Petes making 10 goals against a trey of Oakwood markers. The final bell did more than stop the game, it started a gang war that looked for a moment or 2 might cause a call for police reserves, but that was squelched without no serious casualties

Our bantam team, Mac, got away to a good start Sat., trimming the smart McMurrich kids from Toronto 11 to 7 The local youngsters fielded better than the kids from the big town and their closer defence about win for them, the Playground entry hurting their own cause by some costly misplays They aint no reason why the Kiwanis fledgelings can't take the McMurrich youngsters for the series

Up in Toronto the Pirates, our Jr. standard-bearers, dropped a tough game, 9-5, but they come back full of confidence that what it needs to take the serious from the Toronto Jr. champs they got. Here's hoping they're calling the trick right.

The news from the mush ball front aint so hot, Mac Our Sugar Bowl outfit, pride of the Central School grounds and conquerors of the Lindsay Firestones, are out of the Ontario running by the shortest route possible, absorbing 2 on the chin from the Oshawa Dodgers, whose line up included none other than Doc Rowden It aint a official game for a Oshawa team in any sport from table croquet to dinghy sailing, unless Mister Rowden is in line. Oshawa win here Sat., without a great deal of trouble, but the Bowl give them a merry old battle at Oshawa, losing out by the odd run in 9 after leading practically all the journey. It was a tough game for the Petes' entry to lose, but they went down fighting.

Our intermediate Edison works team, Mac, was beat here Wed. nite by Doc Gamsby's Orono Ramblers in a game that suggested our lads musta spent the p.m. looking at the eclipse without smoked glasses. They couldn't either field or hit in the early stages and at 1 time they was behind 9 to 2. They closed up the gap on end, but was still 2 down when the game was called in the 8th Anyway the C.G.E. team couldn't win if the game didn't go 9 innings because Orono would surely have protested if they had been nosed out in a shortened game and they'd of win their kick too. There is no excuse for starting a O.B.A.A. play-off game as late as 6.15 in the evening. However the Generals aint out by any means and with any luck they should cop the serious yet from the cheesty Gamsby and his talent.

More doings next week, Mac.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

Von Gronau Reaches Japanese Territory

TOKYO, Sept. 3 (A.P.)—Captain Walfgang Von Gronau, flying around the world with four companions, rested last night in bleak Kakumabetsu Bay, the most northern point of the Japanese Empire, having completed the 800-mile hop from the Taleutian archipelago to the Asiatic kuriles in seven hours.

His Radiograms to Ochiishi indicated that Kakumabetsu where only an occasional fisherman puts in during the summer; was deserted except for himself and his companions.

He was gathering weather data by radio to determine whether he would start to-day on another 800-mile flight to Nemuro over the fog-shrouded kuriles.

POGGI AND BERGER MATCHED FOR MAIN BOUT NEXT FRIDAY

Latter Made Great Impression With Local Fans in Match With Hewitt.

ACTION WRESTLERS.

In matching Nazarino Poggi with Cary Berger of San Francisco for the main bout of next Friday's wrestling show at the Brock street rink, promoter Jack Corcoran of the Queensbury Club is bringing together two men who should provide a bout comparable with the best ever seen in this city. Both lost close bouts at the last show here but suffer no loss of prestige. Poggi won a fall but lost two to Doctor Ralph Wilson, one of the leading contenders for world honors while Berger lost a decision to "Whitey" Hewitt of Memphis in a bout which the California was the favorite of the fans throughout the entire forty-five minutes. The verdict was an unpopular one and Berger will be welcome back against the rough and ready Poggi and once more will not lack support.

While Berger made a great impression here in his bout with Hewitt he himself was far from satisfied with Hewitt.

"I should have thrown Hewitt", he said after the bout. "I believe I could do so easily in another week but I am not quite at my best right now following a long ride all the way across the continent. Five or six more days of training should put me back into first class condition."

Berger, according to reports of bouts he has had since last here, has rounded into great condition and he will have no excuses to offer if he does not beat Poggi. The latter was more unpopular than ever in his bout against Wilson out at the same time those who booed him the loudest could not help admitting that there was no reason to deny the ability of the swarthy disciple of Musselini.

Action Wrestlers

Both Berger and Poggi are what might be termed "action wrestlers". There is no stalling when they are in the ring and for that reason their services are constantly in demand. It will be an international battle, Poggi having been born right in Italy while the handsome Berger is a real American.

Promoter Corcoran plans an all-star preliminary card which he will complete over the week-end. He hopes to secure Jack Kogut, Canada's "Little Sonnenberg" for the semi-final and also expects to introduce a newcomer of ability.

Trinity Softballers Defeat Luckies 15-6

(Examiner Correspondence)

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 3.— Trinity softball nine of Peterborough walloped the Lucky Strikes 15-6 in a five innings fixture played on Friday night. The fans apparently thought the girl's game had closed the season for the attendance was small and some of the Lucky Strikes were playing hard ball in the Exhibition grounds against the married men. So the regular team was not on the field, but the game was played with a pick-up team representing the Luckies. Wolstenholm bagged a homer in the second, the only one in the game.

W. Graham at the plate and L. Charlton on bases handled the game.

Trinity—S. Hayes, c; A. Ward, p; T. McBain, 1b; J. Wolstenholm, 2b; N. Stanger, 3b; M. Clark, ss; D. Clark, rf; G. Clark, lf; B. McFadden, cf.

Lucky Strikes—H. Jewell, c; R. Payne, p; R. Kennedy, 1b; E. Edwards, 2b; C. Webster, 3b; R. Tully, ss; P. Payne, rf; T. Graham, lf; W. Morin, cf.

Score by innings:

Trinity .....3 5 7 0 0—15
Luckies .....2 0 1 0 3—6

Ideal Weather For C.N.E. 1-Mile Swim

TORONTO, Sept. 3 (C.P.)—With ideal weather and the water hovering around 70 degrees, conditions promised early to-day to be letter-perfect when 30 female swimmers plunge into Lake Ontario at six p.m. to clinch the one-mile swimming championship of Canada. The title is at present held by Florence Southard of Buffalo, N.Y., who is again favorite for this year's race.

Eva Bien of New York, National long distance champion of the United States and regarded by many as a better swimmer than Margaret Ravoir, present queen of the professional ranks, is highly favored, too, and is expected to give Miss Southard a great run.

But the experts to-day are predicting a surprise victory for Ruth Kerr, speedy little Canadian from Windsor, Ont., who is one of the Dominion's outstanding natators. The swim has attracted wide interest and a large crowd is expected to attend.

SEVERAL CHANGES ARE LIKELY IN PLAYERS ON TWO CIRCUITS

American League Will Resume Minor Status and Control Six Clubs.

CHICAGO-BUFFALO OUT.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3. (CP)—The oft-predicted shakeup in the hockey world was a reality to-day. With the announcement last night by Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, that the rival N.H.L. and American League had joined fores, changes in both outfits were a matter of discussion by hockey officials, and a topic of interest to fandom in general.

Decision to merge both bodies came after a telegraphic vote of the governors of the senior organization, Mr. Calder said. Enrollment of the American League under the banner of the N.L. will result in the abandonment of the junior organization's operations in Chicago and Buffalo.

Will Draft Players

Consummation of last night's announcement will come with the signing of an agreement between the two organizations. Terms of this agreement, Mr. Calder stated, will be similar to those obtaining between the N.H.L. and its present affiliates, the International League and the Canadian-American League will be given the absorbing organization.

Forecast in hockey circles here of the probable results of Mr. Calder's announcement were:

1. The American League will resume minor status and control six clubs, Tulsa, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Poul and Duluth.

2. Detroit will become a strong factor in N.H.L. affairs.

3 Considerable shifting of important players between various clubs will be made shortly.

Chess Tournament Opens At Haileybury

HAILEYBURY, Ont., Sept. 3.—(C.P.)—This northern town makes its bow to the chess world to-day as competitors match craft in the annual Dominion tournament.

Headed by M. Fox, of Montreal, present Canadian champion, the entrants checked in for opening play to-day and it was thought the entrant list would reach 15 or more.

From Toronto came J. B. Morrison, former champion, seeking lost laurels; J. H. Nelson, R. E. Martin and D. Friedman. In addition to Fox, Montreal sent L. Richard, D. Bumin, S. Brisebois and W. Schnider. Early-comers were rounded out by H. Opsahl, Temiskaming, Que.; H. E. Seymour, Haileybury; K. H. Whitefield, Galt, Ont.; J. H. Moncur, Hamilton, and S. Shenkman, Winnipeg.

BOWLING NOTES

The doubles' finals for the Central Ontario competition were not settled last night, because it was late when the semi-finals were completed. They will be run off at seven next Tuesday evening with Bredin and Cairns opposing Wall and H. Woods. The Central Ontario singles draw will be announced in Tuesday's paper.

Twelve rinks participated in the Friday night tournament last night, with the prizes being won as follows: First: L. Bernstein, M. Breckenridge, L. Loftus and Skip H. Clegg; second: T. Macdonald, F. Skinner, P. Nichols and Skip Joe Bennett; third: Dr. Mahood, P. Wise, J. Skinner and Skip J. D. Fitzpatrick; fourth: R. Graham, O. Tremaine, B. Chesler and Skip Reg. Dyer.

Monday evening at seven, the mixed tourney will be played on the same principle that governs Friday night's play, and those wishing to take part must be on hand at seven o'clock. And the last open mixed tournament of the year to be held at the local Lawn Bowling Club takes place next Wednesday, starting at 1.30 p.m. (Standard Time). Local skips should enter right away for this competition.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

NEW YORK — Benny Leonard, New York, outpointed Phil Rafferty, New York, (8).

PARIS. — Young Perez, Spain, outpointed Jose Arilla, Spain (10).

ST. LOUIS—Sammy Kid Slaughter, Terre Haute, outpointed Allen Matthews, St. Louis (10).

Grimsby Critics

Criticism of the board was forthcoming at the annual meeting of the Grimsby Town club.

Councillor Franklin said the directors' report gave no adequate reason for the loss if first division status. New men were not secured until it was too late to avoid relegation. They may have been unlucky last season in some respects, but for two years they had been lucky to remain in the first division.

They had players who were fine fellows and loyal to the club, but not a first division team, and a further explanation of the failure to strengthen the team ought to be forthcoming.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Eric McNair, Athletics—Drove in seven runs against Red Sox in double bill with three home runs, double and single.

George Blaeholder, Browns — Scattered White Sox eight hits and won 3-7.

Larry French, Pirates — His effective pitching beat Reds 2-1.

Fred Marberry, Senators — Stopped Yankees with five hits and contributed three singles to his own cause.

FORMER HEROES NOW RECEIVING COLD SHOULDER

Sisler And Hornsby Once Hailed As Sensational Batsmen For St. Louis Teams

BOTH LOOKING FOR JOBS

Men Under 40, But Continuance In Baseball Field Termed Uncertain.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Ten years a young man of 29 named George Harold Sisler, star first baseman for the St. Louis Browns, broke the modern major league record by batting .420 in a full season.

St. Louis was very proud of this great player and slugger and predicted that he would be a hero in St. Louis until his dying day.

Two years later another St. Louis idol, named Rogers Hornsby, aged 28, surpassed Sisler's great mark by batting .424. St. Louis was very proud of this great player and slugger and predicted that eventually the city would erect monuments to these sterling athletes, one an American leaguer and the other a National leaguer, but both St. Louisans.

Idols of the City

At that time St. Louis knew little of pennants, but the Mound City fans could idolize the only men who had achieved such dizzy marks in the difficult business of smacking base hits.

Both of these clean living young men had done many other stirring things in baseball. But the marks of .420 and .424 set them up as supermen. Insofar as St. Louis baseball fans were concerned. Sisler and Hornsby owned the town from then on.

Within a span of a few days recently two jobless men arrived in St. Louis. One was George Harold Sisler, 39 years old, and the other, Rogers Hornsby, 36 years old. And no bands played or fans cheered when they came to town.

Sisler had come up to St. Louis after resigning as manager of the Tyler Texas League team because his meager salary had been cut brutally. And you probably have read how Hornsby was able to be in St. Louis when the Cubs weren't there.

Just Some More Fickleness

No blame is attached to the St. Louis fans for not honoring the faded heroes. The return of Sisler and Hornsby to an apathetic community is mentioned here as another of the million stories about the ficklenss of the public in the matter of its idols.

It is said the St. Louis fans, in commenting on the return of the miracle pair, spent little time in referring to the great accomplishments of the two athletes in their happy prime. Reports that both somewhat embarrassed financially and a little mystified about the future, seemed to make much better conversational material.

The feeling toward Sisler was a bit more mellow than towards Hornsby, though Hornsby was, perhaps, the greatest hero, inasmuch as he was more spectacular and led the Cardinals to St. Louis' first pennant and a world championship in 1926.

At the End of the Road

It is not definite that the connections of Sisler and Hornsby with baseball have been terminated. There are many, however, who believe that neither will derive much from the game after this year. A couple of men all washed up seems to be the fear. Two of the greatest of all time—both under 40, both short of cash, but both old men with the future a great big question mark.

They won't hear the cheers of the crowds again, perhaps, but they always can get the records books of baseball for reflection and solace.

George can read that .420 in 142 games in 1922, the .407 he hit in 154 games in 1920 and a lot of other big numbers which gave him a fifteen-year major league batting average of .344 in 2,055 games.

Rogers, too, can go through the baseball books and find even more than George. But somehow, one suspects that Rogers will spend more time looking into his ledgers in an attempt to learn what has become of more than $350,000 that he has earned in the last eighteen years.

Though this is his eighth season with the New York Giants, Mel Ott, outfielder, is only 23 years old.

SPORTS Baseball — Softball — Lacrosse Day by Day Boxing — Wrestling — Aquatic

(BY C. J. P.)

There's not much doing in sports locally over the holiday, outside of the soccer game. And the cricket team is playing Toronto C.C. in the Queen City. But there's plenty doing today. Three baseball playdown games, the junior one here, the bantams in Toronto, and the C.G.E. intermediates in Newcastle against Orono.

* * * * * * *

Next week, we'll be back on standard time, and the girls' softball games, which are the only evening outdoor games remaining, will have to start at 5.30 to be over before dark. Lacrosse and indoor softball will continue till late in the fall, along with rugby and the occasional boxing and rasslin' show. But summer sports are on the wane, and will be all through in a week or so.

* * * * * * *

The City Carpet Ball League has organized again and is open for entries. These must all be in by the 31st of this month, and there's no need of being any later with this much notice given. The play will start early in October, and the league looks for a bigger and better season than ever.

* * * * * * *

The Westclox girls' softball team has been accepted into the girls' section of the indoor fall league, the other three damsels' teams being C.G.E., Maple Leafs and Brintons. The Clock lasses had applied early to enter, sending their entrance fee, but because of their playoff series with Keene failed to have a representative at the meeting of the indoor league the other night. Consequently, they were nearly left out and the All-Stars taken instead. However, the league has since decided that Westclox had first right, so they're in.

* * * * * * *

Maybe excitement isn't plenty high over around Ashburnham concerning the girls' playoffs now on. Every fan and his brother, and all their sisters, are chattering away over the chances of Keene and the Leafs—and plenty of them are still howling about Westclox losing out. Those East Citizens take their gals' softball seriously, and here and there some of the wise (?) guys are offering dough on the Leafs. Oh, oh, here's hoping there isn't another Black Sox scandal! Anyway, what we're trying to get at is that there'll be a monster crowd and a lot of fun when the teams meet in the first game Tuesday.

* * * * * * *

The exhibition game at the Bowl last night between Maple Leafs and Port Hope drew a big crowd and saw some snappy softball. The Leafs climbed fast toward the end to overhaul the Hopers and win out, 12 to 8. Some smart heaving and fielding with the odd bit of lusty clouting made it a fair game to watch. Leafs are getting smart and tuning up for their series with Keene.

No less than 284 amateurs are entered in the Labor Day swims at Toronto Monday, in connection with the C.N.E. The men and boys alone in the mile events have over 120 entries between them. Two local boys, Vern Janeway and Bill Giroux, are hiking up to compete in the mile race.

* * * * * * *

The Millbrook-Orde bay lacrosse game scheduled for here on Monday will not be played, as it's a holiday.. On Wednesday, C.G.E. meet Brintons at the Brock in a City League fixture. This race is very close now, Orde's in first place having sixteen points, Millbrook next with twelve, while Brintons and C.G.E. are tied in third place with eleven points each. They get two points for a win and one for a tie. When only five points separate the first and last place teams—that have taken part in a dozen or more games—you know they're well-matched.

* * * * * * *

As the Globe pointed out this morning, the masked manager of the Masked Marvel, who is always trying to steam up publicity stunts, made a mistake in Belleville the other night. The crowd was acting pretty peeved at the Marvel, and when his manager shouted defiance at them, someone tossed a chair his direction—and the fight was on. He was rescued in time by the police and escorted out of the place. No use fooling with a rasslin' crowd when it's burning up.

* * * * * * *

It's going to be tough to get good grappling shows here and in the smaller towns from now on, as the mat season assumes the spotlight for the fall in the bigger burgs. The boys who mangle each other for greenbacks are going to perform where the picking is best. However, we're getting a good card for here next Friday.

* * * * * * *

Harness horse racing, which has been dead here all summer, comes to life the last three days of the Peterborough Exhibition, less than two weeks away...On the 15th, two classes will run, the 2.35 and 2.15; on the 16th, it'll be the 2.25 and the 2.10 classes; while the 17th sees the 2.22 and 2.14 trotters perform. Good prizes are offered.

* * * * * * *

We were informed just before the column closed that the Westclox girls' protest on the Keene series had been withdrawn. They were kicking about the Keene team using a player who had not taken part in three games before the playoffs, but had not sufficient grounds for a protest as they were going by '31 men's rules, and this is another year. So the finals will proceed as scheduled.

DIXIE ROOKIES LEADING IN FIRST-YEAR HONORS FIGHT

Weaver, Warneke Showing Way For Big League Pitcher Fledglings.

ATLANTA, Georgia, Sept. 3. — Two Dixie rookies—Monte Weaver and Lonnie Warneke—are showing the way to American and National League pitchers and waging a merry battle for first year honors.

Through August 9, Weaver topped American League hurlers with eighteen wins and five defeats — three of them in a single week, while Warneke led the senior circuit moundsmen with seventeen wins and five losses.

Both are small, town boys, but they come from widely separated places—Weaver from Hilton, N.C., and Warneke fro mMount Ida, Ark.

Near Top of League.

In his first season Weaver, whom Walter Johnson bought from Baltimore, ranks alongside Wesley Ferrell of Cleveland, another Carolinian, and Lefty Gomes, the Yankee flash, as one of the best hurlers in the American League. He's whipped every rival team and beaten the Athletics five times.

Montie played baseball for Emory and Henry College in Virginia and later pitched two years for Durham, N.C., before going to Baltimore. He taught mathematics for a while and had about decided on a combination of teaching and athletic directing when he finally cast his lot with baseball.

Weaver is 24, weighs 170 pounds, is six feet tall, throws right-handed and bats left-handed. He is the leading batter among American League pitchers.

Warneke, who is 22, made his major league debut last year with the Cubs, but gave little evidence of blossoming out as one of the best hurlers of 1932. He spent most of his time warming the bench.

Paid Tribute by Hornsby.

However, when Rogers Hornsby was deposed as manager of the Chicago team, he remarked that leaving Warneke, who he believed would be one of the game's greatest pitchers, was one of his major regrets at quitting the Cubs.

This year he apparently has gained both the confidence and control that was somewhat lacking a year ago. He is six feet two inches tall and weighs 180 pounds. Some critics say he has the fastest ball in baseball.

Warneke's string of victories this year hasn't been against the weaker teams. One by one, he has beaten all the National League clubs.

U.S. MARINE BOXER HOPES TO FOLLOW IN GENE'S FOOTSTEPS

Emulates Ex-Heavyweight Champion Even On Point Of Reading Shakespeare.

STRING OF 22 KNOCKOUTS.

NEW YORK, (A.P.)—A big, good looking marine with a remarkable facial resemblance to Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion who usually totes a volume of Shakespeare. That's Ed Prante, 22 years old, six feet five inches tall, weighing 225 pounds, who has won 22 of his 23 professional prizefights by knockouts and says he is bound for the boxing throne Tunney vacated to take up literature and politics.

Overlooking the too-obvious introduction of Shakespeare into the picture, the fact remains that young Prante has a fine build, big hands and a good record at this stage of his career.

Prante grew up around Greeley, Colo., attended high school there and in Denver, played football and basketball, won an amateur boxing tournament and started in the professional ranks.

In July, 1929, he joined the marines, but continued his professional fighting when he could get a few hours' leave from his ship. His "cruise" with the sea soldiers does not end until next summer, but he plans then to take up boxing in a serious way.

EMPLOYER AND DOG SAVE FARMER GORED BY BULL.

PICTON, Sept. 3.—James Rogers is in Prince Edward County Hospital suffering from a severe gash in the leg and other bodily injuries as a result of being attacked by a bull. Rogers was leading the animal into the barn at the farm of Warden Gordon Christie at Bloomfield, when it suddenly attacked him, knocking him down and goring his leg and trampling him. Mr. Christie and his dog drove the animal off, undoubtedly saving Rogers' life.

HAMILTON ASTRONOMERS TAKE PERFECT TOTAL ECLIPSE PHOTOS

Believe They Are Only Party Who Had Good Fortune of Clear Skies.

PLATES DEVELOPED.

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 3.—From information which they have been able to gain of the success of other parties of astronomers studying the total eclipse of the sun in Quebec and New England on Wednesday last, the members of the Hamilton centre of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, who viewed the phenomenon at Acton Vale, Quebec, believe they are the only party which succeeded in photographing the eclipse at totality.

It was announced yesterday that although four of the pictures taken were slighly blurred, eight have proved to be exceptionally clear and perfect. Most important results are expected from the information gained.

The little party of astronomers returned to Hamilton last night, eagerly hopeful that their research will prove successful. The zeal of the leader of the group, Rev. Dr. D. B. Marsh, B.Sc., F.R.A.S., restrained him from remaining in this city, so anxious was he to return to his home in Norwich and develop the photographic plates. He insisted on doing this work himself, by dead of night and using only the rays of a special lamp which he himself perfected. His 74 years of age have in no way damped his zealous pursuit of astronomy. Mrs. Marsh accompanied the party as mathematician.

Give Account of Work

His son, J. A. Marsh, of Hamilton, and Wilfrid S. Mallory, President of the local unit of the R.A.S.C., gave an interesting account of the party's work. Though they did not wish to be too dogmatic in the opinion that they were the only ones to secure photographs of totality, they explained that parties were present in Canada and the New England States from all parts of the world, and most of these parties had located in centres where the view during the precious seconds of totality was obstructed by clouds or mist.

"We do hope that there were other parties who saw the eclipse under as favorable circumstances as we did," Mr. Marsh said. "In the interests of scientific research it is desirable to secure as many photographs as possible."

Totality Brevity

"At four minutes before totality a fresh breeze sprang up from the west, striking our faces suddenly. This is a phenomenon which has been observed before an eclipse of the sun. Incidentally, it immediately died down when the sun flashed into view after totality."

The view to the naked eye at totality was described by Mr. Mallory: "Looking down the valley for the approach of the shadow, we saw it get blacker and blacker—it seemed that an inky blackness was pouring down on the countryside. Yte, all through this there was a brightness. It is a difficult thing to describe.

"Then, as I was working at the plates, I looked up at the sun for a second. It appeared that there was a big black ball in the sky, and all round it was the flaming corona. A large section of light, appearing as large as the diameter of the sun, radiated out from the upper left section. At the lower right there was a broad band of abotu the same length, and all around the sun was a narrow band of light. In color it was a faint, pearly white, getting dimmer farther out from the sun.

"The sensation was uncanny, the light appeared so feeble and yet so powerful. Suddenly there was a brightening to the right, and then a stroke of broken light, which was probably Bally's beads.

"During totality cattle lowed in the fields, and birds winged their way to their nests. Night birds could be heard."

NORWICH, Ont., Sept. 2 (C.P.)—Tired but smiling, a grey-haired, astronomer rested in his little white frame house—thanked God for the good fortune which gave him probably the finest photos taken of the total eclipse of Aug. 31—and wondered whether further investigation of his plates and filter might lead to the discovery of new elements.

Seventy-four years old and tanned by years spent in the Bermudas and South America, Rev. Dr. D. B. Marsh sighed with relief as he ruffled through the dozen perfect plates he printed at dawn—after only four hours sleep. They had been developed in his little darkroom at the back of the Presbyterian Manse, completed two hours after midnight when Dr. Marsh was forced to bed by sheer exhaustion.

Alone in the specially-equipped room, the aged minister who comes from Grey County on the shore of Ontario's Georgian Bay, went to work on the dozen plates as soon as he reached home last night. He forgot, he said with a humorous eye-twinkle, he had motored 400 miles over hot and dusty roads from Valleyfield, Que.

Rev. Dr. Marsh was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Springville and president for years of the Peterborough Astronomical Society, which became defunct shortly after his removal from this district.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

HOW THE GREAT FIGHT ENDED.

(By Thornton W. Burgess.)

The little people of the Old Orchard still tell about the great fight which happened up near the corner by the dusty road. Of course Sammy Jay saw the start of it because he was right there. And of course it wasn't long before everybody in the Old Orchard who could fly was right where they could see all that went on for Sammy's voice reached even to the far corner where Polly Chuck was. So all the feathered folks forgot everything else and hurried over to see the fight. Such a racket as they made! Their tongues fairly flew as they shouted encouragement to Johnny Chuck.

Johnny needed all the encouragement possible. To have fought Reddy Fox alone would have been no small task, but to have to fight two at once was more than twice as bad. But Johnny Chuck is not only stout in body, he is stout in heart as well. He is the kind that never says die. There was no fear in him now. A great rage filled him and drove out all fear.

"Coward," He Snarled as Reddy Fox Faced Him.

"Coward!" he snarled, as Reddy Fox faced him. "Coward!" Coward!" You didn't dare face me alone!"

Now Mrs. Reddy had no mind to spoil her beautiful red coat if she could help it so she was quite willing to sit by at first and let Reddy do the fighting. But Johnny Chuck knew that all the time she was watching for a chance to jump at him from behind, while Reddy held him helpless, so as he fought he tried to keep both Reddy and Mrs. Reddy in front of him. After a little he was able to get his back to an apple tree and then he felt better. Reddy Fox tried his best to pull him away from this, but he couldn't. Johnny Chuck was too big and heavy. Besides he was giving Reddy all he could do to keep from being torn by those sharp teeth.

It soon became clear that Reddy was getting a little the worse of it. Johnny's coat was tough. Underneath that tough coat was a layer of fat and Reddy's teeth had to go through both the tough coat and the fat before they could do any real harm to Johnny Chuck. Mrs. Reddy soon saw this and that Reddy would have to have help. So she watched, jumping this way and that way, for a chance to dodge in and seize Johnny where he would soon be made helpless. That this chance was bound to come sooner or later she was sure.

Now it happened that Bowser, the Hound, took it into his head to trot down the dusty road early that morning. When he reached the corner where Johnny Chuck's house was, of course, he heard the racket made by the birds and knew right away that something was going on. He stopped to listen. Mingled with cries of the birds were snarls and growls. Bowser scrambled up to the bank and looked over the stone wall. One glance was enough. There right before him were Reddy and Mrs. Fox! With a roar Bowser was over that wall and half way to the fighters in the twinkling of an eye.

At the sound of that voice Reddy and Mrs. Fox had but one thought and that was to get away as fast as their legs could carry them. Like a red flash Mrs. Reddy leaped and darted down through the Old Orchard toward the Green Forest. Reddy tried to do the same thing, but Johnny Chuck had set his teeth in Reddy's shoulder and not even the sound of Bowser's voice made him let go. He was beyond caring about Bowser.

Reddy struggled with all his might and fear doubled his strength. Just in the nick of time he shook himself free and bounded away. Bowser merely glanced at Johnny Chuck and started after Reddy, his great voice waking all the echoes in the Green Forest.

So ended the great fight of which the little people of the Old Orchard tell to this day. As for Johnny Chuck, he marched back to his house growling fiercely all the way and there on his doorstep he set about licking his wounds.

What To-Day Means To You

"VIRGO."

If September 3 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9.30 a.m. to 11.50 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger hours are from 11.35 a.m. to 1.40 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The astrological indications of September 3 are more negative than positive. Nothing startling is scheduled to happen; no stirring event is foretold. It appears that ordinary routine will be maintained, and those who keep to the beaten path will, whilst not making much headway, avoid any retrogressive steps.

Children born on this September 3 will be productive of much felicity in the family circle. The boys may not occupy high positions, the girls may not "marry well," but both boys and girls by their unselfishness, thoughtfulness, and their consideration for others, will engender feelings of affection and radiate sun rays.

Born on September 3, yours is rather a complex character, and not very easy to analyse as so many of your traits are contradictory. On the debit side you are procrastinating, a disciple of "manana" rather than a "do-it-now" subject, disposed to skimp work and neglect detail, a lover of ease and creature comforts, and of a critical disposition. On the credit side, you possess a faculty for accomplishing much in a short time, once you have made up your mind to get down to it, capable of handling big issues and forcing them to a successful termination, uncomplaining when Fate decides that you have to "rough it," and very commendatory of the efforts of those whom you like.

Necessity, not ambition, will be the motive power of your work. This condition is to be deplored, as you possess much latent talent — especially along artistic lines — and if it were assiduously and perseveringly cultivated, the results would be eminently gratifying. Your emotions are very deep, and you are never ashamed to show them. The one with whom you may choose to mate may run short of the materials that make life worth living, but will always be feasted with the spiritual outpourings of a loyal and constant love.

"VIRGO"

If September 4th is your birthday, the best hours for you are from 7:50 a.m. to 9 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 8:30 p.m. to 10.30 p.m. The danger hours are from 9.50 a.m. 11:10 a.m. and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

September 4th does not, according to astrological indications, hold out much hope of "a day of rest and gladness". Unexpected troubles are scheduled to arise in the family circle, and many result in consequences as little anticipated as pleasant. Engagements of long standing are threatened, and the foundations of marriage will be, in many cases, subject to mental earthquakes.

A child born on this September 4th will be particularly sensitive to environment. Its early surroundings will either "make or mar it." Unhappiness at home will embitter its whole existence. Family contentment and harmony will bring out all its good points, and, in every possible manner, it will react in such a way as to color its actions throughout life.

You, if born on September 4th, are a strong, fearless character, yet possessing great sympathy for and understanding of those who are tempted, and being weak, fall. You, in spite of the rigidity of your views, are very tolerant, and have the indispensable faculty of looking at both sides of a question before you express an opinion, or act. Your mind is active; your brain is fertile. Quick to conceive, you are just as quick—Although not impulsively so—to perform. You do not create a first favorable impression. You are too abrupt and catechistical. On longer acquaintance, however, you reveal sterling qualities that are admired by one and all.

The emotional side of your character is very strong. You are quite successful in repressing, rather than expressing, them. You are disposed to stretch to the point of breaking the practise of being cruel in order to be kind, and those on whom you practice this habit feel the former without being grateful for the latter. You are not thrifty, and if you succeed in amassing money, it will not be by "taking care of the pennies so that the pounds take care of themselves." Anything considerable will have to be made in a lump.

LABOR DAY, 1932

by

P. M. DRAPER, Secretary-Treasurer, Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The year which has passed since last Labor Day is one long to be remembered in the annals of industrial affairs. Unprecedented economic depression held all countries of the world in its grip, and Canada experienced conditions the like of which we have not seen before.

Though no substantial section of the community escaped without its particular experience of the consequences of this trying period, unfortunately, as is always the case with these major economic disturbances, the heaviest toll was paid by the workers. From their ranks were recruited the large army of the unemployed, those who, after a brief interval in which scanty savings were rapidly exhausted, have become dependent upon public grants and private charities for the merest subsistence. One cannot contemplate their most unhappy situation without feeling that too little effort has been devoted to the great problem of a more equitable distribution of industry's products, the solution of which problem would render as obsolete, as it should be unnecessary, the present spectacle of such widespread unemployment.

Nor is it alone through those of its members who are totally without work that Labor has been called upon to pay the price. Greatly reduced earnings through short working time and through wage reductions have visited in greater or lesser degree virtually all those who still remain on payrolls. Wage standards, hardly won after years of effort in an atmosphere of relentless competition, have been quite as relentlessly cut, in many cases beyond the point which might seem warranted by temporary reductions in living costs, thus depressing the standard of living for the masses of the people, and providing still further problems for those who see ever rising living standards the hope for betterment of the race.

Such improvements in conditions are fully warranted by the accelerating pace of commodity production, and time alone will show the difficulty of winning back what has been lost, even after the present depression may have lifted. Such are the sombre thoughts which must force themselves on the workers on Labor Day, 1932.

No Aid to Workers' Let

Some few there are who seek to capitalize the present situation to their own particular ends. There are those who indulging in radical criticisms of the method of the organization of industry and society, would substitute for it a state bordering on communism. These are the forces which would destroy, but they have yet to show their capacity for the more difficult task of building. With little likelihood of their "isms" being put to any practical test, they may be quite irresponsible, turning all evidences of the unhappy lot of many of the people into arguments in favor of a semi-chaotic condition. From these people the workers can hope for nothing except further misery.

Fundamental Changes Necessary.

Then on the other hand there are those who accept the attitude that absolutely no change must be made in the present economic organization, together with those who even seek to profit at the expense of the misfortunes of the victims of the depression. Fundamental changes in our present economic conceptions are demanded by the present poss such changes as common justice dictates are as anti-social in their attitude as are the propagandists of radicalism. Equity requires that each person willing and able to work should be given opportunity to make his own livelihood through a grossly unequal distribution of the resources and machinery of production this opportunity is denied to many. As no system of society can hope to survive when it works an injustice to any large section of those whom it should serve, it behooves all to lend every effort toward improvement in the hitherto existing system of distribution. This is a fundamental principle and current comment from all quarters indicates an increasing realization of its truth. However, agreement on the need and agreement on the corective to be applied are two different things.

Should Ascertain Causes

In recent years each successive depression has been more serious in its consequences than its predecessors. It is, therefore, to be regretted that the present great depression is not accompanied by the thought for the prevention of similar future catastrophes that one might expect to find. Palliatives are essential, but they should be accompanied by some long time study in the direction of determining more definitely the causes and the means which might be applied for their removal. Miracles have been worked in the field of material reasearch in recent years, and inspired by the hope that human ingenuity would be no less efficient when applied to human problems, some similar effort should be devoted to studying and curing unemployment.

One means which immediately suggests itself is by a better distribution at all times of the work available amongst those who require gainful employment. Some progress has been made in recent years in reducing the hours of labor, but further advances must be made in this direction before the positive handicap of greatly improved machinery will be converted into the blessing for the masses which it should prove to be. In order to maintain the purchasing power at a point where it can absorb products of industry, the reduction of working hours should not be accompanied by any loss of income. A movement along this line is on of the first essentials of any planning in advance to minimize unemployment.

Failed to Bring Prosperity

For many months wage reductions have been advocated as a necessary precedent to a return of prosperity. Labor has protested that wage cuts, through reducing purchasing power, would only tend to increase the severity of the depression. Experience has shown that the workers' argument is sound, for in spite of the wage cuts which have occurred the promised prosperity has not yet returned.

Until better means are devised for meeting these unemployment crises, an unemployment insurance scheme should be put into effect to bridge the gap. Public authorities throughout Canada have expected considerable sums to relieve the distress due to unemployment, but it is to be regretted that more regular financial provision is not made for this purpose, with the result that expenditures which should be charged over the years intervening since the last depression have piled up against shrinking revenue at a time when public finances are put to the most severe test. The cost of unemployment relief should not be reckoned upon the basis of the years in which it is spent, but should more properly be charged against the years between crises.

It is difficult to extract much optimism either from the past year or from the prospects for the year to come. But in some respects Canada is very favourably situated, particularly as regards its natural resources in relation to the size of its population and this gives some hope that when the present depression lifts as it must in time, Canada will be among the first of the nations to return to a state where her people will experience the bounties of prosperity. With this thought in mind, one may also express the hope that Canada may still show the way among the nations in scientific planning to reduce unemployment and to alleviate its disastrous consequences.

FENELLA W.M.S.

FENELLA, Sept. 3 (Examiner Correspondence) — The regular meeting of the Fenella W.M.S. was held at the home of Mesdames S. and N. C. Leach, on the afternoon of August 31.

The meeting was held one week earlier than on the appointed date, so that a quilt might be prepared for the bale. The president Mrs. A. Nill, was absent owing to illness, and the meeting throughout was conducted by the first vice president, Mrs. Sol. Leach. Nineteen members and visitors were present, and during the early part of the afternoon a warm quilt was prepared for the bale. The devotional leaflet "God's World" was read by Mrs. George Montgomery. Mrs. Sol Leach gave a short talk on the program, "The World Spread Out," and suggested that this program be continued at the next regular Miss Florence Macklin, recording meeting. Owing to the absence of secretary, Mrs. Howard Macklin, acted as secretary, pro tem.

Mrs. Howard Macklin offered her home for the October meeting, a vote of appreciation was tendered the hostesses of the day for their hospitality, the Mispah Benediction was repeated in unison at the close. Lunch was served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed.

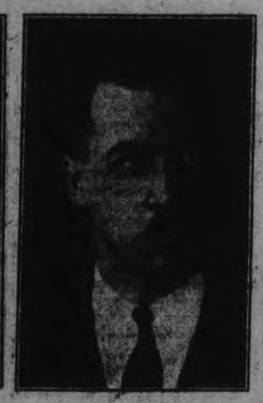
Successful Insurance Salesmen

HARRY TUDHOPE



RAY BROWN

Ray Brown and Harry Tudhope of the Peterborough agency of the North American Life have recently qualified for membership in the Company's Leading Producers' Club. Membership in this club not only requires a large production of new assurance but also business so well selected that a very high percentage remains in force.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Tudhope have been in the insurance business only two years and have gained recognition by being members of the company's club both years. This is a noteworthy achievement.

As a result they have been invited to attend the club convention to be held at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto during the early part of September. At this time the first unit of the company's new fifteen-storey head office building will be officially opened.

Both of these representatives are popular in insurance circles and are looked upon as being well qualified to give the best in insurance service. They are to be congratulated on their splendid achievement.

TARZAN, LORD OF THE JUNGLE. NO. 96 By Edgar Rice Burroughs (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

"We are the Waziri of Tarzan," said the leader, "searching for our chief and master." Blake could have wept for joy. Meanwhile the ape-man, with his golden lion, had intercepted Ibn Jad and, terrified, the Arabs, into turning back with the stolen treasure. Thus it was that the advancing Waziri met Tarzan with Ibn Jad's bedraggled party, took over the prisoners, and the custody of the jewels and gold from the Valley of the Sepulchre.

TARZAN AT THE EARTH'S CORE No. 1 (Metropolitan Newspaper Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan of the Apes paused to listen and to sniff the air. From a great distance faint sounds came to his ears — sounds that no other human ears could have heard. Something strange had come into his African jungle. Silently, the Ape-Man swung into the trees and moved swiftly in the direction of the sounds. For when strangers came, the Lord of the Jungle always investigated. Because man, alone of all creatures, brought change and strife and trouble into the jungle's peace.

Buto the rhinoceros, Tantor the elephant, and Numa the lion came and went through the forest. To them, to-day, Tarzan paid little attention as each minute narrowed the distance between the Ape-Man and those whom he sought. Now, his keen ears caught the sound of padding, naked feet. To his sensitive nostril came the spoor of black men mixed with the faint scent which Tarzan knew meant the presence with them of a white man. Above the wide, well marked game trail, the Lord of the Jungle crouched and waited.

Swinging along beneath their heavy burdens and singing as they marched, came into view a column of natives. Near the front marched a single white man. Tarzan's eyes surveyed the handsome youngster, intently, for several minutes. Like many savage beasts and primitive men, Tarzan possessed an uncanny instinct. Almost instantly he could judge aright the characters of strangers he encountered. And evidently this stranger met the Ape-Man's whole-hearted approval.

Like a shadow, Tarzan sped through the trees until he was some little distance ahead of the marching safari. Then he dropped down into the trail and awaited its coming. Soon the blacks rounded a curve in the trail and suddenly saw him. Instantly they halted, jabbering excitedly. For these were men recruited in another district and did not know Tarzan of the Apes by sight. "I am Tarzan," announced the Ape-Man. "What do you want in Tarzan's country?"

A dozen times was the ape-man forced to repeat to Blake the parting message of the Princess before the young American could believe it. "Ant-thou findst him, tell him the gates of Nimmr be open to him and Guinalda awaits his coming." The following morning the Waziri prepared to take up their march south toward the country of Tarzan. Blake, dressed again in his iron mail, bestrode his charger as the column started down the trail. Tarzan and the golden lion stood beside him. Blake reached down and extended his hand to the ape-man. "Good-bye, Sir," he said, "and thank you a thousand times." "Good-bye?," demanded Tarzan. "Aren't you coming home with us?" Blake shook his head. "No," he answered, "I'm going back into the middle ages with the woman I love!" Tarzan and Jad-bal-ja stood in the trail watching Sir James as he rode out toward the City of Nimmr, the blue and silver of his pennon fluttering bravely from the iron tip of his great lance.

77 Per Cent Of Wheat Already Cut In West

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3.—Seventy-seven per cent. of wheat and 63 per cent. of oats and barley in the three Western provinces are now harvested, according to the report issued to-day by J. M. McKay, general agent of agriculture of C.P.R. lines, this in spite of the halt in harvesting operations due to heavy rains in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and in South and West Central Alberta. Threshing was resumed late last week but was also held up by recent rains in Manitoba. Nearly 40 per cent. of the wheat is threshed.

British Columbia, says the report, expects to ship MacIntosh Reds in about ten days, and Wealthy apples, peaches and pears continue to move in large volume and are of good quality.

SIX IN ONE.

A six-in-one cob of corn was brought to The Examiner this morning. It was grown in the small patch owned by M. A. Lucato, of 616 Aylmer street, north. The main, or central ear is of normal size and it is surrounded by five smaller ones, some with normal kernels and others undeveloped. But all grew under the one husk, providing something in the way of a natural curiosity.

Project Between Lakes St. Francis And St. Louise to Be Part of Seaway.

WORKING ON AGREEMENT.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3 (C.P.). — An agreement for the conveyance to the Dominion of the Beauharnois Canal between Lake St. Francis and Lake St. Louis, near Montreal, is practically completed. Execution of the document by the Beauharnois Light, Heat and Power Company and the Dominion Government will take place "shortly," it is intimated. The canal will be a link in the St. Lawrence waterways project.

Compensation is to be paid by the Dominion for the canal other than the servitudes, easements and other rights granted. Lands and works of the company, it is learned, as may be necessary for the maintenance and operation of the canal for navigation purposes are also to be transferred to the Dominion.

All bridges over the canal are to be provided and maintained by the company to the satisfaction of the Governor-in-Council, and railway bridges across the canal must be authorized by the Board of Railway Commissioners. Fixed spans, it is stated, may be provided initially but, moveable spans similar to those in use on the open branches of the Welland Canal must be provided afterwards.

Another provision, it is learned, is that in the event of the Governor-in-Council deciding that locks and appurtenant works should be constructed to connect Lake St. Louis with the canal for navigation purposes. The company will convey to the Dominion, free of all cost or encumbrance, the title to such of the company's lands as are necessary and sufficient for locks and works.

PRODUCE HEAVY ON TODAY'S MARKET

Butter Averaged 22 Cents—Potatoes 15c a Peck.

Another market that overflowed with produce was patronized this morning by a large crowd of buyers.

Chickens were priced from 20 to 25 cents a pound, hens at 18 cents, ducks from 20 to 25 cents a pound.

Eggs ranged in price and size from 12 to 20 cents a dozen, the lower quotation for pullets' eggs of small size. Butter was generally quoted at 22 cents a pound.

Crabapples were 25 cents a basket; green grapes, 35 cents; peaches 45 cents; greengages, 25 cents; damsons, 50 cents in large baskets; pears, 35 and 50 cents; red and yellow Burbank plums, 25 cents a basket; and sugar plums, 45 cents.

Corn was 10 cents a dozen. One man sold his ice at 3 dozen for a quarter, and one careful lady buyer, remarking that Toronto market vendors always expected this procedure, stripped each cob in the 36 as she handed it to the tired-looking vendor, who deposited each cob in a large bag, after its careful inspection.

A little la dwith a tanned face sold red and green peppers at 2 for a nickel; thimbleberries were 15 cents a quart box; shelled peas were well blanched, 10 cents a bunch; small cucumbers were 20 cents a basket; and gherkins 25 cents a basket.

Potatoes were 15 cents a peck, and 75 cents a bag; broccoli was priced at 15 cents for two bunches; little "top" onions for seeding were 10 cents a quart; chokecherries were 25 cents a basket, and elderberries 50 cents; huckleberries sold at 20 cents a quart box; shelle dpeas were 25 cents a quart, and little pigs, $3.50 a pair.

A gay little black Newfoundland puppy, with "papers" somewhere in the background of his pedigree, was offered at $10.00.

Rains Over Prairies Delaying Harvesting

WINNIPEG, September 3 (C.P.).—Fairly general precipitation over the greater part of the three Prairie Provinces during the past week has delayed harvesting operations somewhat. Many points report the likelihood of lower grades through sprouting and bleaching, according to the 13th crop report issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce to-day.

In Manitoba threshing is 50 per cent. completed. A recent survey by the Provincial Department of Agriculture estimated the wheat crop of the province at 48,000,000 bushels.

General rains have delayed harvesting operations in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Only about 60 per cent. of the wheat crop has been cut. Threshing will be resumed in a few days if the weather continues fair.

Grain Reviews

WINNIPEG GRAIN EXCHANGE

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3 (C.P.)—Called upon to absorb a large volume of wheat, part of which represented hedging against no crop receipts, the wheat market exhibited a stout front to finish the week with net gains of ¾ to ⅞c.

October and December futures ach advanced ¾c to finish at 55⅝ and 57¾ respectively, while May gained ⅝ to close at 62c.

Heavy selling pressure which developed at times was attributed to liquidation by large interests, but while this, together with moderate hedging sales from day to day occasionally proved weighty, the market gradually absorbed the slack and recovered any losses sustained.

Canadian wheat continued to offer abroad at prices equal to or below that of competitive heats. Argentine and Australian offerings remained small with the remaining surplus in both countries almost negligible.

Light trading featured all coarse grain commodities, but in the majority of cases prices were a shade higher. Oats advanced ⅝ to ¾ in the October and December futures, but declined ¾ in the May. Barley was unchanged to ⅞ lower and rye to ⅞ higher. Fax jumped 5 to 5½ due to crop conditions.

CHICAGO GRAIN EXCHANGE

(By Giles L. Findley, A.P. Market Writer.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Activity of large speculative interests in the pit rather than the run of news is the controlling influence in the wheat market.

The net result has been, so informed traders say, erratic price changes which are hard to explain. Taken as a whole, traders say that the bulls are in control and are making determined efforts to bring about a higher level of prices.

Nevertheless, compared with a week ago, wheat this morning was ⅝ to 2 cents higher, corn ½ to 2 cents up, oats 1 to 1¾ advanced, and provisions ranging from 8 cents decine to 30 cents higher.

The price of United States wheat is now regarded as the highest in the world. At this time of year, when exports are usually heaviest, the total for July and August was scarcely 8,000,000 bushels of wheat and flour.

Speculative interest in corn has increased materialy of late and the market has advanced to the highest point since May.

Oats has benefited from easing of hedging pressure with a slackening of the marketward movement.

Provisions have a mixed tone, being pulled with grains one day and with hogs the next.

A method of making artificial veneers by pressing chemicals into wood has proved successful in Germany.

AUTUMN PROSPECTS BRIGHTER THAN FOR PAST THREE YEARS

Canadian Security Traders Expect Unusual Activity And Expansion.

END OF DEPRESSION?

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, Sept. 3. (S.N.S.) — While most people hate to see the summer months pass, traders on the Canadian security markets are looking forward to the Fall months of 1932 with greater interest than heretofore, hoping that these months will confirm the judgment of the stock market that business is on the mend. Discarding of straw hats, summer flannels, etc., is usually a signal for increased activity on the stock exchanges, seasonal expansion in industrial operations and increased retail sales. This year there is greater hope than for any Fall of the past three years that the expansion will be more than seasonal and that the stock market will be confirmed in its judgment that the depression has ended and that from now on we will be able to look for better conditions.

September 1929 opened with the security markets top heavy as the result of the speculative orgy that had been carried on for about three years preceeding and facing the crash which started a bear market to greatly depreciate security values. September, 1930 and 1931 brought no relief with the intervening periods presenting shock after shock that failed to give securities a chance to lift their heads. International complications; failure of nations to meet international obligations in full; drastic falling off in foreign trade; suspension of the gold standard by Great Britain; banking troubles in the United States; overthrow of several governments; overproduction and under consumption of commodities; unemployment; lower corporate earnings; dividend reductions and Commissions, etc., were only a few obstacles that were thrown in the way of recovery for security prices in the short space of the past three years.

Sentiment Has Improved

The public became panicky and ditched securities in a market in which buying was at a low ebb. Values depreciated to the lowest level in years and it was not until a few years ago that the public regained sufficient confidence to again purchase securities and stem the tide of liquidation that at one time appeared as if it would never end. Public sentiment started to improve about the first of July and as commodity and security values rose this sentiment turned to confidence.

As the Fall of 1932 opens the public is waiting to see if the judgment of the security markets in forecasting general improvement is correct. The rise in securities and commodities so far has been based on improvement in fundamental conditions, such as remedying or partial remedying of conditions that were contributing factors in the depression. Nations of the world have shown greater inclination to confer with each other. The Lausanne conference on war debts appears to have been successful and great hopes are held for the world economic conference to be held in Europe later. The Imperial Conference at Ottawa is seen by many as an indication that tariff barriers are to be lowered to permit of freer flow of international trade and the stock markets have only corrected their top heavy position of a few years ago, but have also placed themselves in a sound technical position.

A change in the business cycle is indicated by returning confidence rising bonds prices, commodity prices, commodity prices and share values, and all that remains to complete the cycle is improvement in business. Improvement in business usually follows the others and it is because of this that the public is looking to the fall of 1932. Securities and commodities have acted convincingly and responded well to the change in public sentiment. Corporation executives are planning for expanding operations and if the fall months bring more than seasonal increase in business activity the assumption of the security markets will be confirmed.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Sept. 3. (CP)—Getting away to a brisk start values among the base metals moved up into new high price territory for the year in an active short session on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market to-day. Higher-priced golds were sluggish but balance of the list displayed a stronger tone from the opening.

International Nickel made the best gain, closing almost $1 above last night's final. Noranda was up over 50 cents and Pend Oreille firmed another 5.

Teck-Hughes rallied to show a gain of 70 at the close but Wright-Hargreaves, Mining Corporation and Granada were easier.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—(CP)—The Montreal Stock Exchange listings gave a strong performance in to-day's trading, most issues moving up fractionally and special issues advancing up as much as three points. Trading was moderate and a narrow list of stocks appeared.

Steel of Canada was a feature advancing 3 points to 23½. Consolidated Smelters continued active and strong to close at 99, up 1 1-2. Dominion Textile moved up 2 points to 62 upon announcement of the regular quarterly dividend.

Montreal Power gave a strong performance. Gaining a full point to change hands at 37¾. Brazilian Traction was ½ higher at 11¾.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Sept. 3. —(CP)— No obstruction was placed in the path of advancing prices in today's short session on the Toronto Stock exchange with the result that many issues registered new highs for the year and gains of as much as 6 points are recorded.

Consolidated Smelters opened the day by selling at 100 for a gain of 2½ points and a new 1932 top. His issue closed about a point below its peak.

International Nickel set a new mark of 12⅝ and leaders such as C. P. R. Ford of Canada and Brazilian Traction, all made gains.

Page-Hersey Tubes continued its spectacular advance of Friday to reach a new 1932 high of 67½ for a net gain of 5½.

TRANSIENT MURDERED IN BOAT-HOUSE

ASSOCIATES OF SLAIN TRANSIENT TOUGH OUTFIT

Thomas Told Hard Luck Story to Archdeacon Blagrave on Thursday.

KNEW HIM AS A BOY.

Met Tough Character in War But None Like Jungle Crowd.

"Yes, I heard of the tragedy while at Sunday School this afternoon," remarked Archdeacon Dr. R. C. Blagrave when interviewed by The Exsminer during the week-end in connection with the Thomas murder.

"I knew Thomas as a boy who used to attend Christ Church Mission Sunday School at Belleville some years before the War. It was during my ministry in that city. Thomas drifted away from Sunday School and I had not seen him for many years, until he called at my residence here last Thursday."

"Thomas told me he had seen my name on the brass door plate, and remembering that I had been his minister at Belleville at one time, he called to have a talk with me."

"I asked him where he was living. He said he was staying in the jungle. I expressed surprise and not a little concern, knowing that he came of a well-respected family. He had a hard luck story to relate and mentioned that he had recently failed in business at Windsor. He did not say what kind of business he had been engaged in."

Tough Characters.

One portion of the conversation with Thomas assumed significance in view of the tragic events of Saturday night, Dr. Blagrave thought. It was Thomas' remarks concerning his association in the local jungle with some of the roughest characters he had ever met.

"I met some rough characters during my army service overseas," Thomas is stated to have observed, "but I was never associated with a tougher crowd than those with whom I am associated in the local jungle."

Acting Coroner Herbert N. Young, who performed an autopsy of the body at Comstock's Funeral Home here Sunday afternoon, said: "The main artery to the heart was cut. The wound, situated about an inch above the heart, was three and a half inches deep."

Arrangements for the inquest, he said, would be completed upon the return to the city of Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young.

GERMAN THREAT TO ARM, SERIOUS

Defense Minister Says Country Refuses to be Treated as Second Class Nation.

PLANS HER DEFENSE.

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—General Kurt Von Schleicher, who startled Europe recently by asserting that if Germany is not granted equality of arms she will arm anyway, told the press to-day that he meant what he said.

Emphasizing his remarks with vigorous gestures, the Minister of Defense declared in an interview at Koenigsberg that Germany "under all circumstances will do what is necessary for her defense."

"No longer will we stand for being treated like a second-class nation," he said.

"The National Government is ready to defend East Prussia to the last man," he told the correspondents, asserting that munitions and other materials necessary for the defense of that territory can be brought there by sea if needed.

East Prussia was separated from Prussia proper under the Versailles Treaty by creation of the Polish corridor.

OSHAWA—Things are picking up around Oshawa's harbor. During the month of August, 1932, a total of 26 vessels entered the port. This is as many in one month as there were during the entire navigation season 1930, when the harbor was first opened. During the season of 1930, 19,962 ons of coal were unloaded here; during the month of August, 19,253 tons were unloaded.

Make No Change In Jungle Policy

The murder of Harry Thomas in a boathouse neighbouring the city's "jungle early Sunday morning by a fellow--denizen or fellow-denizens of the "jungle" is not going to stampede local police into adopting any rash methods in regard to the handling of transients. Chief Newhall said to-day. . . . . ..Asked if, in the face of the murder, he would police the "jungle" and have all transients entering the city henceforth sent on their way, Chief Newhall said "No, this affair is not going to cause us to change our methods.

"In the jungle we have the bums who come here to "roost" under our observation now," he explained. "We have them altogether. If we chased them away as they came, they would likely set up quarters in widely separated places just outside the city and our job of keeping watch would be made doubly hard."

INDIA SHOULD NOT BE JUDGED BY NEWS YARNS

Rotarian Members Are Advised Not to Base Their Opinions on Sinclair Article.

DR. SCOTT SPEAKS.

Tells Fascinating Story of India, Its People and Its Customs to Service Club.

"Don't judge India from Gordon Sinclair's articles," was the advice given members of the Peterborough Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon to-day by Dr. Charles Scott, who discussed life in that mysterious country with the aptness of a man who had spent seventeen years there, and gave the club a fascinating picture of India and its people.

Mr. Sinclair touched only the lurid high spots," he explained. "Remember he was writing articles for newspaper consumption and don't base your opinions of India from what he wrote."

"Neither was India to be judged by such a book as "Mother India." The picture presented by that book, Dr. Scott said, of womanhood oppressed and abused was only relatively true So far as certain people in certain sections were concerned, the indictment of "Mother India" might be correct, but he had come into contact with many cases in which husbands and brothers showed as much consideration for their wives and sisters as men anywhere could do toward their dear ones. The opinion among many Indian people was the writer of 'Mother India" must have been in bad company when she visited the country.

Clad in the picturesque native costume presented to him by a native ruler on the occasion of the birth of a son and heir, Dr. Scott gave a rapid fire description of India, its people and their customs, lifting to some degree at least the curtain that shuts out knowledge of the country from peoples of other sections of the British Empire. He explained the caste system, under which Hindus refused to eat with or intermarry people of other castes, particularly of lower castes. He told of the custom of native women refusing to expose their faces in public and of the pains taken to ensure privacy in this respect. The native dress was explained in detail by means of dolls dressed in typical Indian costumes, and the clothing wore by Mahatma Gandhi and his followers was also fully described, including the interesting fact that the Japanese had shrewdly obtained hold of the market for these cotton garments, supposedip of all-Indian origin.

Dr. Scott dealt with the food of the Indian people, pointing out that the rice-eating sections were populated by the people of the poorest physique. He explained the great difference of opinion between Hindus and Mohammedans as to the cow, the former regarding the cow as a sacred animal and the latter looking upon it merely as a source of cheap food. In all questions between the two sects this cow issue was a matter upon which no agreement could be reached.

The speaker told of the poverty of the people, their houses and how they are constructed and gave an interesting description of the weather conditions. His address was full of unusual information, interestingly presented and was one of the most enjoyable the club has heard.

Dr. Scott was introduced by Rotarian Dr. A. Moir, while a vote of thanks was proposed by Rotarian H. R. H. Kenner.

The speaker at next Monday's luncheon will be Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture for Alberta.

Attempt Is Made To Enter Dwelling

City Police, last night, investigated complaints made by a Dalhousie Street resident respecting an alleged attempted entry to a dwelling house. Informing the Examiner of the circumstances this morning, the house-holder who requested that her name be witheld stated tht signs of footmarks around the house and other indications on the back door led her to suppose that an attempt to force an entry to the house had been made by some person during her temporary absence

She wished the affair to be made public in order that other householders in the city might take precautions against any attempts at robbery. She also stated that a neighbour of hers on the same street had an entry made to her house some time during last week when the sum o ten dollars was stolen.

Parking Ticket Ends Free Coffee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 6—(C.P.).—It used to be that policeman Clifford Detienne could walk right into Mrs. Edna Chinn's restaurant and enjoy a free cup of coffee, but those days are gone forever.

Mrs. Chinn told Judge A. J. Hedding in district court all about how policeman Detienne killed the goose that laid the golden eggs.

"I went out and found a ticket on my car," she said.

It had been parked for six months in the same spot and I never got a ticket. And that ends his free coffees and kidding of my waitressess.

Judge Hedding said the ticket would cost a dollar.

She paid.

CREW MUTINY, POLICE BOARD DUTCH LINER

Sailors Protest as Ship Heads For Southampton Instead of Rotterdam.

MARINES CALLED.

Orders Given When Officials Fear Walk-out to Join Seamen's Strike.

ROTTERDAM, September 6 (C. P.). — The mutiny aboard the Holland-America liner Rotterdam, near the end of the ship's voyage from New York, ended to-day in the hands of the police.

When the liner entered this port this morning under escort of the mine-layer Meerlandt, four policemen went aboard immediately with arrest warrants for the rebellious members of the crew, charging insubordination.

On request of captain, 30 Dutch marines met the liner yesterday near West Hinder Lightship when members of the crew were reported to have insisted on proceeding to Rotterdam from Boulogne in spite of the fact that the company's and the captain's orders were to debark passengers at Southampton.

Fears that the crew would join a seamon's strike here if they came to this port were given as the reason for the order to proceed to Southampton.

Ten Under Arrest.

Nine foreign members of the crew and one Dutch member were placed under arrest. The others of the 200 men were allowed to go to their homes and the plan was to prosecute them later for alleged disobedience of orders.

The foreigners were held to prevent their escape, officials said, and the Dutch fireman was charged with seditious behavior and threatening violence.

Members of the crew said the trouble arose when the liner was entering the English Channel. They said the captain withheld telegrams from the Sailors' Union, and also deceived them by declaring that the vessel was proceeding to Rotterdam, whereas its course was being set for Southampton.

WAR COMRADES HONOR VICTIM

Harry Thomas is Laid to Rest in Cemetery at Belleville.

FLAG AT HALF-MAST.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 6.—Flying at half-mast, the flag on Memorial Hall yesterday evidenced the sorrow of war camrades at the death of Harry Thomas, slain in an unemployed men's "jungle" at Peterborough.

Members of the "Originals," with whom Thomas left Belleville on Aug. 15, 1914, to mobilize with the first Canadian contingent at Valcartier, recalled incidents of his long war service record. He went overseas early in 1915, serving until the Armistice. He was blown up at the Second Battle of Ypres when bringing ammunition to his harassed battery.

A brother of Thomas yesterday went to Peterborough, and claimed the body. The funeral was held here to-day with only the family and his war comrades attending. Surviving relatives are: his father and mother here; two brothers, Walter of Belleville; and Albert of Kingston; and four sisters, Misses Bessie and Ilene, Belleville; Dorothy, Detroit; and Mrs. Harry Stewart, Oshawa.

COST OF POWER JUMPS $27,000 TO COMMISSION

$15,000 Will Go Towards Paying Difference in Exchange.

INTERIM RATE UP.

Power Users Will Not Have to Pay Extra Assessment This Year.

The Peterborough Utilities Commission is being billed by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission for $27,000 more this year for power used by the citizens of Peterborough than last year.

Notice of this unforeseen increase in the cost of power to Peterborough was secured late last week by the Utilities Commission, Gordon S. Matthews, chairman of the Commission, told The Examiner today.

It was explained that the reason for $15,000 of the increased charges was that the Provincial Commission bought up some large power rights and promised to make payment in American funds. Since that time the value of the Canadian dollar has dropped on the exchange markets, and this year's payment by the Ontario Hydro Commission is $107,000 more than it would be if the Canadian dollar were at par.

Paid Out of Reserves

Peterborough power users will not have to pay this extra $15,000, or $2.70 a horsepower, this year, Mr. Matthews said. The $15,000, he said, will be paid out of reserves, but if the same situation on the exchange markets prevails next year, local power users will feel the extra charge. "However, next year it is more than likely that the Canadian dollar will be at par or even better" said Mr. Matthews. "Under such conditions, there would exist no such extra charge."

The other $12,000 increase is because Peterborough's interim rate, the cost per horsepower that the Utilities Commission pays the Ontario Commission for power used, has been raised from $30 to $32.

Increase Is General

Mr. Matthews explained that the Ontario Commission had been compelled to raise the interim rates to all municipalities because, while overhead expenses of power production have remained steady, the consumption of power has dropped off greatly.

However, Mr. Matthews is hopeful that much of this $12,000 will be handed back to the Utilities Commission and thus to power users here under the 13th Bill. This bill is the difference between the actual cost of power sold to Peterborough Utilities Commission and the rate struck. Thus if the cost of supplying power to Peterborough is only $29 per horsepower, the Utilities Commission will be refunded $3 per horsepower or $18,000.

Both extra charges, making up the $27,000 increase, date back to the beginning of the year Mr. Matthews said.

SAVES EIGHT FROM DROWNING, GRIDIRON STAR HAILED HERO

Dr. Angus McLachlin Risks Life Time After Time to Rescue Undertow Victims.

IN LAKE ERIE.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 6.—(C.P.).—Dr. Augus D. McLaughlin, captain of the University of Western Ontario champion rugby team was proclaimed a hero to-day after rescuing eight persons from drowning in Lake Erie.

On seven occasions he swam from 100 to 150 yards out into the rough lake and saved eight swimmers who were sinking.

On th last trip he held two persons afloat while other bathers rushed to his aid in a boat.

Repeatedly bathers were swept from shore by a strong undertow and were rescued by the intrepid football player until a boat was sent to patrol the beach.

Battles Breakers

The parade of near-tragedies started at mid-afternoon, when a young boy was swept beyond his depth. His father went to his assistance. He pushed the boy within the reach of friends, but he himself was swept out into the lake. His

Porcupine Tried To Enter Church

A new kind of church-goer was striving eagerly to enter the locked door of St. Paul's Church at 8.30 this morning.

It was a fat, wise-looking, old porcupine. "Porky" was scratching at the stout oak door of the church that opens on Murray street. His antics and the warlike appearance of his barbed quills attracted the attention of a host of school children.

Sergeant Bill Wigg rescued "Porky" from the circle of children, placed him carefully in a large box, carted him to Jackson Park and set him free to climb trees and forget about church doors.

War Veteran Refused to Go Through With Hold-up Plot Is Knifed Above The Heart

Harry Thomas, 43, Belleville, Former Member Of 2nd Overseas Battalion, Is Found Dead In Boat-House Early Sunday Morning.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR THREE ASSAILANTS WHO HAVE BEEN OCCUPANTS OF BOAT-HOUSE

Man Named "Shorty" Is Suspected By Police To Have Been Wielder Of The Knife—Men Intended to Hold-Up Local Citizen.

The straight and narrow path led Harry Thomas of Belleville, unemployed transient, to violent death some time during the early dark hours of Sunday morning in a boat-house on Little Lake, near the intersection of Burnham and Maria streets.

He was murdered because he refused to go through with the hold-up Saturday night of a Peterborough citizen whose week-end ways had been watched and who was believed to carry a considerable sum of money in his pockets.

On this assumption, supported by direct evidence which he declined to divulge for the present, Chief of Police Newhall erected a hypothetical explanation of Thomas' death which seemed logically to advance a motive for murder. On reaching that deduction about noon on Sunday, Chief Newhall began a search for two or three tramps who have been occupants of the Maria street boat-house virtually all summer.

One of the suspects has been known as "Shorty" among the homeless fraternity of the local 'jungles", an undersized "hard egg" whose anonymous and repellent character has been associated with a criminal willingness to wield a knife.

In the difficult sifting of all the available gossip and reports from nearly two score transients who were questioned Sunday, an accusatory finger returned again and again to this "Shorty" who, with several others, has been missing since late Saturday night from the boat house of which he was the temporary lord and master.

Wide Search Begins

The search for this "bo" was started Sunday morning and quickly broadened out in all directions from Windsor to Montreal and along all the roads leading out of Peterborough.

Chief Newhall is convinced that if the vanished 'Shorty" and one or two others whom he regards as material witnesses can be rounded up, the solution of Harry Thomas' death will be quickly unfolded.

Thomas was 43 years old, a son of George I. Thomas, prominent retired wholesale and retail butcher of Belleville, and a war veteran who enlisted with the 2nd battalion in 1914 and saw active service with the big drive of 1918 when he was taken seriously ill with dysentery.

Holdup Discussed.

According to Chief Newhall's deduction the boathouse tenants, Thomas, the man called "Shorty" with one and possibly two others, had discussed a holdup of a local citizen and timed it for last Saturday night. Thomas was seen walking down George street toward the C.P.R. about 10.30 p.m. with a load of bread under his arm. It is thought that he went to the boat-house, returned across the bridge, and, as a result of a conversation with some local man, an incident which Chief Newhall prefers not to elucidate for the present, Thomas decided to have nothing to do with the proposed robbery.

Going back again to the boat-house he took off his boots and shoes and lay down on his bunk until his several companions arrived later to proceed with the business that had been planner. It is presumed that they knocked at the door, a knock which Thomas recognized, and he got up and opened it. At that stage, according to the police reconstruction of the affair, he declared that he would not be a party to the hold-up, and in the ensuing altercation one of the tramps plunged a knife into Thomas' breast almost completely severing an artery close to the heart.

Found Trail of Blood

Police found a trail of blood from this door at the southwest corner of the boathouse leading diagonally across towards the northeast corner where Thomas was seen slumped in his bunk in a sitting posture by Maurice J. Gainey, part owner of the boathouse, when he first looked some time after seven o'clock Sunday morning.

Mr. Gainey thought the man was asleep and went away, but when he returned an hour later, and received no answer to his salutation he concluded that something serious was wrong and called the police. They were confronted with the problem of learning the dead man's identity, the names of his boathouse associates and other de-

JEAN HARLOW'S HUSBAND DIES SUICIDE VICTIM

Body of Paul Bern, Young Film Executive, Found at His Home.

WED ONLY TWO MONTHS.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 6 (CP).—The death of Paul Bern, husband of Jean Harlow, platinum blonde of the screen, to-day confronted Hollywood with a mystery akin to the death stories which have swept the film world of late.

Slumped before a mirror in a dressing-room of his picturesque home, Bern's body was found yesterday, a bullet hole through the head. Detectives said the young film executive had obviously taken his own life, but they found no hint of the cause. His bride of only two months was so hysterical when informed of his death she could not discuss it.

Hand Holds Gun.

When found by a butler, John Carmichael, Bern's right hand gripped a .38 calibre revolver, one chamber discharged. On a nearby dresser was another firearm. Beside a picture of Miss Harlow a note lay. It read:

"Dearest dear: Unfortunately this is the only way to make good the frightful wrong I have done you and to wipe out my abject humiliation. I love you.—Paul." A postscript: "You understand last night was only a comedy."

Miss Harlow, overcome with grief, was unable to discuss the tragedy. Detectives said they would return to-day, after a coroner's autopsy, in an attempt to find a plausible reason for Bern's act.

HOLIDAY PARTY LEFT STRANDED IN GRAND RIVER

Twenty-seven Men, Women and Children Caught by Sudden Flood.

ON TINY ISLAND.

Swift Current Prevents Rescue Efforts—Food Running Low.

CALEDONIA, Ont., Sept. 6 (C.P.)—Twenty-seven persons to-day were marooned on a small island in the Grand River near here, when swirling waters prevented neighbors reaching them by boat.

The flood caught the 27 men, women and children, camping over the week-end holiday, and prevented their return to the mainland.

Food was said to be running low on the island, but efforts to send supplies across the roaring current failed.

Chill winds swept in the wake of a heavy rainstorm and many of the campers appeared to be without suitable shelter.

Watchers on the shore could see men of the party struggling to erect shelter against the wind, while others chopped wood to keep their families warm.

What food there was appeared to have been pooled in an effort to provide enough for all till help came.

Riverman To Rescue.

Ben Marshfield, riverman, set out in a powerful motor-boat this afternooon and watchers on shore awaited word of success or failure of his attempt to reach the Island.

The campers, two families from Toronto and two from Hamilton, arrived on the Island Saturday, driving their automobiles through shallow water of the river.

A storm struck the neighbourhood on Sunday and the river became a raging torrent.

The water through which they had driven without difficulty today had risen to a depth of eight feet and was rushing by with such speed men in rowboats were unable to withstand its force.

One Piper Too Many Costs Scot Laurels

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (C.P.)—The great "Pipe contest," which for years has brought fresh glory to Angus MacMillan Fraser, took a strange turn at the 76th Annual Scottish Games here, when Angus marched onto the field at the head of seventeen of his pipers, only to be disqualified. Angus had put one man too many on the field, violating a cardinal rule of the competition.

But Angus took the decision with good humor and later was adjudged the best dressed gentleman in full Highland costume.

Hutchinson Expresses Regret For Landing in Greenland Without Permission.

ERROR COSTS $180.

Party Aims at Iceland as Next Goal on Flight to London.

COPENHAGEN, Demark, Sept. 6 (C.P.).—George Hutchinson, United States flier leading a party of eight from New York to London, over the Arctic air route, was fined 1,000 kroner (approximately $180) by the Governor of Southern Greenland for landing in Greenland without a permit.

The Governor, notifying the Danish Government of the penalty to-day said Hutchinson's conduct since arriving at Godthaab had been exemplary and that he had expressed sincere regret for his error. The Governor said he did not know yet when the Hutchinsons would continue their flight.

Refused Right To Land.

The Hutchinson party includes Mrs. Hutchinson, their two children and a crew of four. They included Greenland in their itinerary when they left New York, but the Danish Government withheld permission for a landing there, explaining that should the plane come down in some inaccessible spot they could not assume responsibility for the safety of the fliers.

Nevertheless Mr. Hutchinson flew from Labrador to Godthaab. It was reported that he intended going on across Greenland to Angmagsalik, thence to Iceland. The Greenland authorities had requested that he follow the coastline to Angmagsalik instead of striking across the interior.

HUNDREDS HIT BY RIVER FLOOD

Levees in Lower Rio Grande Valley Save Rich Farming Lands.

CREST ADVANCING.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 6—Hundreds of persons were homeless but the rich citrus and farming lands of the lower Rio Grande Valley appeared to have escaped major damage as the Rio Grande flood crest swept slowly toward Brownsville and the Gulf of Mexico to-day. Lowlands adjoining the river were under water, but levees and floodways protected other sections.

The crest passed Rio Grande City in Hidalgo County last night. Army aviators reported the river was from two to five miles wide between Penitas and Rio Grande City, but that stretch of land is outside the Hidalgo County flood control works.

SLUMP AT EBB SAYS BENNETT

Premier's Message of Cheer Gets Great Ovation in Calgary.

TOIL IS KEYNOTE.

CALGARY, Sept. 6 (C.P.)—Two thousand Calgarians who gave a rousing reception to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett last night are to-day pondering his message of optimism. Addressing one of the largest gatherings of its kind in Calgary's history, Mr. Bennett told the throng there were "signs the greatest depression which the world has ever seen has about reached its lowest level."

Conservatives, Liberals and men of many political and religious faiths crowded the hotel where the reception was held in honor of the Prime Minister. Calgary welcomed its most prominent native son with cries of "Good, old R. B." The reception was strictly informal and Mr. Bennett was forced to shake hands with practically the whole audience following the official welcoming address by Mayor Andy Anderson.

Mr. Bennett believed great things would result from the Ottawa Imperial Conference. He added, however, that only through toil could prosperity be brought back.

King Hunts Grouse At Scottish Estate

LONDON, Sept. 6 (C.P. Cable).—The King and Queen, who reached their Scottish home, Balmoral, a week ago, will remain there for at least another five weeks.

His Majesty occupies much of his time in grouse shooting, although for this sport he is obliged to a large extent to shoot over the neighboring area, for the Balmoral estate itself is never very prolific in grouse.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his daughter Ishbel are expected to receive a command to spend a week-end at Balmoral as in former years. Sir Herbert Samuel, Home Secretary, is Minister in attendance while the court is in Scotland.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid, and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder form — never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion

DON'S ENGINE TROUBLE GIVES WOOD VICTORY

Miss England Disabled Before Completing Half of Course.

U. S. RETAINS TROPHY.

Wood Averages Only 69.036 Miles Per Hours in Second Run.

(By David J. Wilkie, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

DETROIT, September 6. — The seventh attempt of a challenger to lift the Harmsworth Trophy failed yesterday — as have all others in the last decade—in the disabling of the challenging craft Miss England III., piloted by Kaye Don.

For Gar Wood, veteran defender of the historic bronze plaque, yesterday's heat was merely a workout in Miss America X. After mechanical difficulties had brought Don to a complete stop before he could finish 13 miles of the 35-mile course, Wood coasted along to an uncontested victory.

Before Wood had finished his fourth lap of the seven-mile semi-ellipse, Don accepted a tow to his boatwell, and was automatically eliminated from further competition this year.

Slowest Run Since 1928.

Wood's big, mahogany-hulled Miss America X.'s average for the 35 nautical miles was only 69.036 statute miles per hour, slower than any Harmsworth race has been run since 1928.

Don, plainly disappointed at the failure of his craft, showed himself a good loser. He congratulated Wood and said: "I am deeply disappointed, since I feel that I have disappointed many thousands by not making a good contest." He said he planned to depart for Toronto on Wednesday, but added that he was not sure he would be able to put on a scheduled demonstration run of his boat on Thursday.

Don stated it was a broken throttle-control on the starboard motor which caused all his trouble. When the starboard motor failed, he said, the added strain was too much for the other engine, which quickly overheated.

Wood expressed his regret that the mishap had eliminated Don. "That was tough luck," he told Don at the latter's boatwell.

"Rotten luck," Don agreed.

He explained that one of his two twelve-cylinder motors went out of commission about a mile after the start. "The port motor then had to take the full load," he said, "and, as a result, overheated." He had averaged only 59.796 miles an hour on the first lap and was about a mile from the end of the second lap when the remaining engine failed.

Florida Warned After Hurricane Lashes Islands in Bahamas.

MOVING SLOWLY.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6. (CP) — Northeast storm warnings were displayed along the Atlantic seaboard to-day between Daytona Beach, Fla., and Wilmington, N.C., as a precaution against the tropical disturbance which yesterday lashed Great Adsco Island in the Bahamas with hurricane force.

Latest official information on the storm was from the National Observatory at Havana where Dr. Carlos Millas last night said the storm travelled about 50 miles yesterday and was then north of Great Bahama Island. The intensity was lessened, he said, but he was unable to learn the force.

Meanwhile the tension was lessened on the South Florida coast. The weather bureau ordered storm warnings down south of Miami and around the end of the peninsula to Punta Gorda.

Make sure about "B.O."

PORES are constantly giving off odour-causing waste—a quart daily. In crowded places—overheated rooms—others are quick to notice even a trace of "B.O." about us.

Use Lifebuoy. Its creamy lather cleanses so deeply, purifies so thoroughly, that every trace of "B.O." vanishes. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent disappears as you rinse.

A complexion secret

Every night, massage Lifebuoy's bland lather well into the skin; then rinse. Pores are freed of impurities—dull complexions freshened. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

IOWA FARM LEADERS PLANNING TO RENEW HIGHER PRICE "WAR"

Delay Action to See if Governors in Parley Develop Relief Scheme.

VIOLENCE CONTINUES.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 6. (CP) A plan to spread anew the farm "war" for higher prices was the indicated objective of leaders of farmers, marketing strike as they gathered to-day to map plans for the future. Meanwhile reports of violence in northwest Iowa were received.

To-day's meeting was a secret affair, but preliminary statements of county officers of the Iowa Farmer's Holiday Association hinted strongly that efforts may be made to continue the movement, especially if the conference of midwest governors at Sioux City Sept. 9 does not develop a programme of agricultural relief, satisfactory to the strikers.

BOLIVIA FACING NEW WAR MOVE

Action With Paraguay Brings Threats of International Blockade.

1907 COVENANT USED

Late last night a bill authorizing the Bolivian Government to declare war against Paraguay, was introduced into the Chamber of Deputies by Deputy Molina. The present situation of the conflict, the Deputy said, authorized taking the drastic step.

At the same time semi-official circles here heard the A.B.C. powers (Argentine, Brazil and Chile), with Peru, were preparing to declare Bolivia and Paraguay in a state of war and that the declaration would be made under the Hague Covenant of 1907 providing for the establishment of an economic blockade.

It is established upon a sound scientific basis.

Income from premiums is sufficient to provide a large margin of safety against all contingencies.

No policyholder has ever lost a dollar through the failure of any Life Insurance company, licensed in Canada, to fulfill its obligations promptly and to pay all claims in full.

All Life Insurance companies are subject to continuous government inspection and control.

Hold fast to your Life Insurance and add to your holdings whenever possible.

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

LABOR DAY came a little later this year, which is gratifying to many children and vacationists who can remain away until after this day, which so definitely terminates the period recognized as belonging to days of freedom from regulation tasks.

* * * * * * *

Cottages will be closed in large numbers, certain trains and boats will cease running, perhaps, and affairs in the business world will resume their fall schedules.

* * * * * * *

As summer time is a slack period of mercantile operations, the return to busier days after this is passed is hailed this year with more appreciation than in other seasons when business has not been at quite so low an ebb.

* * * * * * *

It means better times to many households, for they are dependent on business prosperity for the things which money can buy—and these are many in a house.

* * * * * * *

And so it is with a feeling of coming prosperity that the vacation season closed on Labor Day. There is sure to be a return to normal conditions, for business upheavals are not unheard of events in past times, and they have always teminated after having run their course.

* * * * * * *

The one we are passing through just now has had so long a duration that this, in itself, helps the idea that the end is nearing.

* * * * * * *

To those who can remain at summer places longer there comes a certain sense of relaxation with the cessation of social activities. The added days or possibly weeks when living at the summer cottage can be indulged in have a precious character such as precedes an expected busy winter.

EVANGELIST SERVICES ON SUNDAY EVENING

That the work of the Pentecostal church in Peterborough is being taken note of and appreciated, was evidenced by the large crowd gathered under the "White Top" on Sunday evening, to hear Evangelist T. Johnston, of Montreal, discuss the question, "Is Pentecost of God?" and "How we may know isms Satanic". Opening the Scriptures at 1 Tim. 4 1-2—Now the Spirit speaketh expressly that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith; giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils, speaking lies in hypocrisy, having their conscience seared with a hot iron. He said the Bible tells us to beware of false doctrines, that is why, he said, I put the question to you to-night, "Is Pentecost of God?" I'll answer in the affirmative giving the reasons why this movement is of God and how we may judge precisely whether a movement is of God or of the devil. I say it is of God, because she believes in the infallibility and inspiration of the Word of God, believes it from cover to cover and believes all that it teaches, believes in the vicarious death, and glorious resurrection of her Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Believes what the Word teaches about divine healing, for our bodies; believes in the Baptism of the Holy Ghost; believes in the divinity of the Son of God, and that He took on Himself our sinful nature, that He might redeem us, who were born in sin and shapen in iniquity, condemned to die, with the seed of corruption already in us. She believes in the second coming of Jesus Christ. Some critics say we are of the devil, because we teach Divine healing. Well the early church must have been of the devil, too, for they taught and practised it for the first hundred years. The curse of God rests on all who belittle the substitutionary work of Christ. Religion alone cannot save a man. We have salvation only through the efficacious work of Jesus Christ. Pentecost is in line with God's Word and God surely has blest us with signs following.

Y.W. Water Meets Resumed On Friday

The popular swimming meets at the Y.W.C.A. pool were resumed Friday evening after the holidays. All races were well contested and enjoyed by the swimmers and spectators. Next Friday will be a free swimming meet and all girls of the city are invited to compete.

Miss C. F. Littlefield, physical director of the "Y," states "the weekly races and contests mean a great deal in developing strong swimmers and giving practice in new stunts and diving."

Mary Kingsbury had first place in senior speed and racers back stroke and Elda Bradley first in diving.

Francis Bestard was first in the intermediate class in speed and racers back stroke, and Gladys Bridcott was second.

In the junior contests Lily Long and Margaret Sheehy tied for first place in speed. Eleanor Bestard was first in racers back stroke and Lily Long first in diving.

Jimmie Cummings was first in the babies' speed and diving and Douglas Brownscombe second.

All swimming classes are now resumed and Miss Littlefield urges all those who wish to take lessons to enroll at once. Lessons will be continued throughout this month, while during October and November the pool will remain open for swimmers and lessons for stunt and life saving classes.

Regarding the times of classes the babies' and juniors' swimming lessons will be held on Tuesday and Thursday at 4 and 4.30 of next week. Senior classes are held on Thursday and Friday evenings. Swimmers are reminded that the pool will be open for swimming on Labor Day.

That Body of Yours

ANOTHER METHOD OF PREVENTING STIFF JOINTS.

One of the mistakes of the past was allowing a joint to become stiff after an attack of rheumatism or arthritis as it is now now more frequently called.

I have suggested on previous occasions that the joint be heated well with hot towels for five or ten minutes, then movement of the joint by the patient himself or an attendant for two or three minutes and then the use of hot towels again for another ten minutes

The idea of this treatment is that the heat applied before any movement of the joint is done, warms up the joint, increases the circulation, acts as a sort of anaesthetic so that when movement is given there is little or no pain and considerable exercise can thus be given the joint. This exercise breaks up any little adhesions or fibrous bands that are keeping the joint from moving properly.

Then when the hot water is applied again, after the exercise, these little adhesions or material from these adhesions gets carried away in the circulation.

However, Dr. M. R. Ray, London, England, tells us of another method of preventing or loosening stiff joints that is getting excellent results.

It is called the "pool bath". The temperature is about or somewhat above the body temperature that is from 97°F. to 104°F. The lower temperature for old or chronic cases.

The bath is of sufficient size to allow the patient to stand, sit, and walk a step or two.

A limb under water weighs less and moves with less fatigue than when not under water. The limbs are supported and movements that would be otherwise impossible can be performed.

"The importance of getting a patient to move his stiffened joints at the earliest possible movement after the inflammation has passed off, cannot be too strongly emphasized." No joint can possibly get back to its normal healthy state unless it does what it is intended to do, that is move.

This looks as if it might be an improvement on the method we have been using to prevent stiff joints.

Tired and Weak

Mrs Liedtke Says Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Made Her Strong and Happy

Now Does Her Own Housework

"I was run-down and in bed for a month and my friends told me I was looking as if I had lost my last friend. I was terribly weak, and didn't know what I was going to do. Prescribed medicines didn't do me any good. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—and they certainly did the trick," writes Mrs Fred Liedtke, Wingle, Ont. "I have now a good appetite, and I am strong and healthy and able to do my housework."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills remove the cause of weakness and nervousness by creating new red blood, which builds up the exhausted nerves and restores vigour. Run-down conditions are steadily benefited as the enriched blood stream reaches and revitalizes the entire system. Growing girls are greatly helped by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. MACDONALD'S DAUGHTER TO WED ON SEPTEMBER 20

LONDON, Sept. 6. (C. P. Cable). The wedding of Miss Jean MacDonald, second daughter of the Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister, to Dr. Alastair MacKinnon, will take place on September 20th in the Congregational Chapel of Wendover, Berkshire.

The place has been chosen because of its comparative proximity to Chequers, the county seat of successive British prime ministers. The chapel holds only 400, and though the wedding ceremony is to be simple as possible there is some doubt as to whether te accommodation will be sufficient for all who will be desirous of attending.

Both the bride and bridegroom are members of the Presbyterian Church of Scotland, and the marriage service will be on the lines usually followed by members of this communion.

BUSINESS DRESS FOR BUSINESS

Neat and appropriate dress for all members of staff means more in business today than in the past.

The day has gone by when the salesman need not pay attention to his personal dress.

A man's business clothes should be neat, reasonably well pressed, shirt and tie blending—not clashing, tie pin neat, well-shaven of course, hair trimmed.

Parcel boys neat even if it means paying them more. A neatly-dressed boy is a better assistant to you, more pleasing to your customers. Make sure they are polite as well. A boy's rauciness hurts your business.

The lady members of the staff. Here I tread on dangerous ground but many a good saleswoman depreciates her value to the business by her dress, her hair and her general appearance. Frequently it is the young woman with most ability that makes the mistake of overlooking the most vital factor in her job of selling goods. It is not a necessary policy in a retail store to put your staff in a uniform nor to say that all should wear black, but dresses for afternoon or evening wear are not suited for store or office. Clothing for business hours should be purchased for that purpose with an eye to its suitability and utility—not a suit or dress purchased to grace a social occasion and then relegated to speak against you in your work-a-day contacts.

Don't be too good looking. That is don't dress to have men say "She's stunning" or to have the girls say "He's a good looking fellow." There is many a national advertiser who uses pretty pictures that cost him a heap of money for art work and in lessened results—because his picture talks so loudly his real message misses attention. Just so behind the counter—if you attract attention to yourself you take it away from the goods you are selling.

Men holding responsible positions and whose work is most responsible—dress neatly.

Young women heads of departments, private secretaries, impress you with their ability, neatness and quiet effective manner.

Your health—You owe it to yourself and to the business whether owner, manager or member of staff to keep in health. No one who is to meet the public can afford to neglect their health, to become listless, nervous, dyspeptic. These things take away from your keenness of mind, your ability to sense your customers' reactions, to make friends.

Here are simple rules which will enable you to be healthy and attractive.

Keep regular hours. The average adult needs eight hours sleep. Eat lightly at noon. Drink plenty of water, at least three glasses a day. Pause, if possible during the afternoon's work to recover your balance. One store urges each salesman to wash his face at 3 o'clock, brush his hair, clean his shoes, stand near an open window for three minutes, and then come back on the floor and defy any customer to upset him.

Take as much outdoor exercise as possible.

Stand erect, hold up your chin, and you will give your customers confidence in you and your store.

Avoid tight clothing. Wear comfortable shoes that permit you to stand firmly and give your toes plenty of room to spread and rest.

Rubber heels are easy on the feet.

Take care of your hands. If they perspire, wash them frequently with a solution of alum water to protect delicate merchandise.

Aim to create a favorable impression by your obvious refinement of manner. Avoid annoying and distracting habits.

THE SCHOOLS RE-OPEN.

The long summer vacation is over and this morning Peterborough's pupils in public, separate and high schools returned to their desks ready for, if not reconciled to, the months of study that must intervene before the next extended play period.

A glance at the sun-tanned faces on the city streets this morning revealed the fact that a great many local boys and girls have used the holiday to good advantage by long hours in the open air, a condition that shows how fortunate is this community in the facilities it has to offer its citizens for recreation under the happiest of conditions.

Rivers and lakes at our very doors provide hundreds of children with a health-going holiday, such institutions as the Rotary and Y.W.C.A. camps offer additional opportunities, the Kiwanis Health Association camp at Jackson Park builds up the bodies of other children whose health is below normal, and for the youngsters who do not get the benefit of these facilities, there are within the borders of our own city and all the ingredients for play and recreation, including a safe bathing beach, so that no child is deprived of opportunities to enjoy the summer period.

The army of children entering the portals of the city's schools today showed the benefit of a worthwhile holiday, and for that there should be general thanksgiving.

A WISE PURCHASE.

It may be argued that the present conditions do not make this a good time for the municipal purchase of property, but the circumstances in regard to the buying of the Calcutt Brewing Company's property on Burnham street will undoubtedly claim general approval for the decision of the Board of Works that this land should be acquired.

The appearance and usefulness of James Stevenson Park will be materially enhanced as a result; the old brewery building, not a thing of beauty in itself, will be torn down, the hill cut down, the material used to level the ground farther west, and the park property enlarged and rounded off, making possible a beautification scheme that could not in its entirety be carreid out without the purchase of the brewery property.

On top of these advantages there is the further benefit that the acquiring of this land will prevent the property from being used for other purposes that might have been detriment to the appearance of Stevenson Park, which is destined to be one of the city's chief beauty spots and most popular recreation areas.

In preventing that development the Board of Works has acted wisely, as it has to in its decision to build rest rooms and dressing rooms under one of the arches of Hunter Street Bridge.

The park is now widely used and these facilities have become necessary.

MAKE SURE OF YOUR TIRES.

Good advice to motorists is given in a bulletin just issued by the Ontario Safety League which shows a photograph of a badly wrecked automobile and the following warning:

Here is the result of an old worn tire blowing out—one killed, six injured—the car a mass of tangled wreckage. Do not risk your life—replace worn tires today. One accident may more than cover the cost of an entire set of new tires.

Motorists would do well to follow this excellent advice.

There is no economy in attempting to use a tire past the point of safety—it is a gamble that is entirely unjustified.

Those drivers who try to get the very last mile out of a tire are flirting with death merely to avert an expenditure of a few dollars; they are endangering their own lives and those of their families by exposing them to the risk of a burst tire that is likely to produce a fatal accident.

The wise car owner takes no chances; he knows that sound tires are an insurance policy and he sees to it that his machine is always up to standard in that respect.

It is good policy to have your tires inspected by a reliable tire merchant; he may save your life by telling you of defects.

And as the Safety League says: "Do not put it off—tomorrow may be too late."

SIDEWALKS ARE NEEDED.

From North Bay, near which town a young boy was recently killed by a motor car while walking along the highway, comes a verdict returned by the coroner's jury, to the effect that a sidewalk should be provided at each side of the North Bay-Callendar Highway.

Similar recommendations have been made in other parts of the province and it has been a source of wonder to many people that when ways and means of provided work for the unemployed were being considered that no thought has apparently been given by the Ontario Department of Highways to this most important question of furnishing protection for pedestrians who are forced to walk upon heavily travelled highway.

Few miles of provincial highways are provided with sidewalks and as a result thousands of people including many children en route to and from school, have to take their chance on the roadway itself, in the absence of any other place for them to walk.

Many schools are situated along the main highways, erected there long before motor traffic became a menace, and as a result of this condition young lives are constantly being endangered.

It would be good business to provide by building sidewalks that would pay for themselves over and over again in the lives they would save.

SENTENCES ON REDS.

Reference has already been made to the meeting held under the auspices of the Canadian Labor Defense League, at Windsor, contrary to the law. A permit had been granted to the League to hold its meeting in Riverview park, but it had been refused permission to hold a public assembly in Lanspeary park. Disregarding the law the leaders called a meeting at the latter place. Mayor Croll, of Windsor, appeared at the meeting and warned them that they were breaking the law and would be liable to prosecution. He also informed them that in the future no further permits would be issued.

Later the offenders were charged before Magistrate Brodie, of Windsor, with holding a public assembly without legal permission. The chief point was that the meeting "organized revolution against the government" was advocated. The result of the prosecution was that five of the offenders in addition to fines, were sentenced to serve twenty-one days in Sandwich jail. The leader and organizer of the meeting was convicted on two charges, aggregating fines of $100.00 and forty-two days in jail. His two terms of imprisonment run concurrently.

Such episodes as this are exceedingly regrettable, but cannot be avoided as long as Communists and other agitators persist in violating the law Canadians are very jealous of their right of free speech. This is fully protected as long as speakers conform to the limits of the law. When they become seditious and advocate revolutionary measures to overthrow the government the offenders are liable to severe punishment. A few more sentences like those meted out in Toronto, Sudbury, Windsor and other points will teach Communist agitators that the law must be respected. If they find themselves serving prison sentences it is their own fault, for they have been given abundants warning that all such breaches of the law would be severely punished. Canada is no place for agitators who proclaim revolutionary doctrines—Brantford Expositor.

THE WEST WILL LEAD THE WAY

John C. Kirkwood, the capable observing editor of Marketing (Toronto), has been on a trip through Western Canada and has come back convinced that the West rather than the East will first feel the full benefits of any trade recovery. He bases this on what he has seen and from personal contact with sober-minded business men who gave considered opinions, backed up by reasons. These views, as set forth in Mr. Kirkwood's publication, are based principally on the belief that the return of better times will come about mainly through the marketing of a good wheat crop. The farmers, one business executive holds, are not banking so much on a good price but on the good wheat crop, estimated at from 400,000,000 to 430,000,000 bushels. At 40 cents a bushel 400,000,000 bushels will bring $160,000,000, and every cent per bushel over the fifty cents puts another $4,000,000 into the farmer's pockets. To offset the low price he will get for his crop the Western farmer also has the satisfaction of realizing that, as Charles W. Peterson, editor of Farm and Ranch Review, Calgary, puts:

"The present promising crop in Western Canada will perhaps be the most remunerative to the farmer of any that he has harvested during the past ten years. Aside from his own and his family's labor, his cost of production, apart from overhead, has been almost nil. Hired help has been generally dispensed with, or has worked for merely nominal wages. His household expenses have been inconsiderable. If the present crop is harvested successfully, the agricultural purchasing and debt liquidating power this year will probably be the greatest in Western history."

The prospect is giving the Westerner, never a pessimist, a new confidence and hopefulness that while it hasn't meant any new business so far at least indicates that normal purchasing power is not far distant. Mr. Kirkwood wrote that:

"Retailers' stocks of merchandise throughout the country never were lower than at present and a replacement will be necessary to meet increased demands from consumers. Prices are extremely low, and the low levels should be an inducement for retailers throughout the country to anticipate future trade requirements more than usual."

To back this up Mr. Kirkwood quotes a leading executive who says:

"We have scraped the bottom. The mental attitude has changed. We are feeling better than for a long time. Everybody is commenting on the changed spirit of the West which has taken place during the past six months. The difficult times have taught the people of the East that there is a Western Canada. We used to be regarded by Easterners as their poor relations. Now they have come to see very clearly that we are essential."

So, unless these men whom Mr. Kirkwood quotes are sadly mistaken, we are to look to the West, where they grow optimism as well as wheat in large quantities, for leadership out of the valley of depression.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

NORWOOD YOUTH RECEIVES HONOR

Canadian Humane Association Presents Medal to William Rogers.

CITIZENS GATHER.

NORWOOD, Sept. 6— Norwood citizens gathered in the town hall on Wednesday evening last, to honour one of Norwood's young men in the person of William Rogers who last September, put forth valiant efforts to save Everett Buchanan of Dummer who was drowned in the Norwood Mill pond. Everett, with two other companions, while bathing at the swimming hole got into difficulties and went down. His young companions gave the alarm to which many responded but were unable to give assistance until "Bill" who was at an up-town garage, jumped into a truck, and disrobing himself on the way, immediately on his arrival dived into the water, located the body and brought it to the surface. Although the body had been in the water only a few minutes willing hands who worked for a considerable time were unable to restore respiration.

Warden Montgomery, chairman of the gathering, asked Mr. Rogers to come to the platform and in the absence of a Royal Humane Association representative, Mr. T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P. presented a medal and read the following letter from the association:

Dear Mr. Rogers—We congratulate you upon having been awarded the bronze medal of the Royal Canadian Humane Association for gallantry in attempting to rescue Everett Buchanan from drowning in the Mill Pond, Norwood, Ontario, September 18th, 1931.

The record shows that you rendered every aid possible toward the saving of Mr. Buchanans life, but he failed to respond to resusitation methods.

Your conduct on that occasion has been investigated by our Board of Investigating Governors and our officers are pleased to approve of the award being made.

Yours faithfully,
H. E. Waterman, Hon.-secretary.

Mr. R. A. Dean, village clerk, came forward and read an address from the citizens of Norwood, recognizing the outstanding heroism, combined with the natural love and respect for his fellowmen, who nobly did his duty without hesitation or thought of his own safety. In recognition of which Warden Montgomery presented Mr. Rogers with a gold watch on behalf of the citizens of Norwood.

Fitting tributes were paid to Mr. Rogers by the following: Rev. Cleland, Rev. Downing, Rev. Father McCarthy, Dr. Carleton, Mr. T. P. Lancaster and Mr. McGowan.

The Norwood Band was in attendance and rendered several selections.

STATION L-O-V-E

"And that's over," said Dick, smiling that same quick, young smile, sitting down, leaning across the table, looking at her in a way that made Judy want to look away, that made her want to look back, that made her want to get up and dance to the music, dance all around the room, tell everybody she was Judy Allison, tell everybody she wasn't ever going back to Hiawatha.

"Judy! You're not even looking at me!"

"I'm looking at everything. This place—" Her hand indicated the shadowed walls, the caricatured people, the strange, awesome fish that seemed to swim in the colored light. "These people," she pointed at one, at every one. "That music." Her eyes were very bright. So bright that Dick Mason forgot the place, the people, the music. So bright that he forgot everything but Judy.

"Judy, I'm supposed to go over and say 'Hello' to some people. Will you—I don't want to leave you at all."

"You go ahead, young man," she said with mock sternness. "Like a good little soldier."

He clicked his heels. "Yes sir, cap'n. I'll be seein' ya!" He grinned and turned away. She saw him bow at a table, saw him shake hands with men in evening clothes, saw him bow again to a tall, regal girl in white satin. The girl held out her hand and Dick shook hands. The girl did not let go of his hand. She went on talking, quickly, excitedly, smiling a lot.

Judy knew the smile. The way a girl smiles when she meets a man she's always wondered about, when he's standing right in front of her, just as handsome as she has thought he ought to be, handsomer even. When he's being polite and interested.

She knew all at once why some of the girls looked as though they hated her. Because she was hating the girl in white satin. Hating her thoroughly and deeply. Hating her—

INSTALMENT 9

Dick was going to dance with the girl in white satin. The girl draped her arm around Dick's shoulder. Holding him much closer than she ought to. Looking up at him. Laughing a lot. And moving with him through the crowd. Graceful. A good dancer. Too good, almost professional, Judy thought. A flame of jealousy swept through her. But now Dick was looking at Judy over the girl's shuloder. Raising his eyebrow, nodding. Dick making words with his mouth without saying them.

Words? He didn't need to make works. She knew what he was thinking. All at once she didn't hate the girl in white satin. She found herself feeling rather sorry for her. For all the girls who listened to Dick's smooth, deep voice, and wondered about it and dreamed—

The music ended. The people didn't want it to end. They didn't want to go back to their tables, to the smell of food, to the clink of glasses. But they had to. The music was over. The men in the orchestra were filing out of the bandstand, disappearing, hurried.

A man with a cigar and a violin was walking toward Judy's table with Dick.

Why should you feel so glad because Dick Mason is coming to your table? Judy's self asked Judy that. And Judy did not bother to answer. For Judy's self knew the answer, and Judy knew.

"Judy I thought I'd never get back," Dick said.

"You seemed to be happy dancing with that girl," Judy smiled.

"That's part of my job. Her father owns half of the station. So what?"

"So nothing," said Judy, somehow relieved. Just a job. Just part of being a public figure. And the girl in white satin might have a gown that cost ten times as much as Judy's, but that wouldn't help her.

• • •

"Judy, I want you to meet Ben Bernie. You've heard of Ben Bernie, of course?"

"Heard of him? I've heard him and wanted to meet him for years and years. Only—"

Ben Bernie smiled.

"Not as young and handsome as I was, Miss Allison. But I've my charms. I'm the old maestro, you know."

"Yes. Of course. We used to listen for you every night back in Hiawatha."

"Hiawatha?"

Judy crimsoned.

"It's in Kansas. It's got 3,211 people and a thousand automobiles."

"Good for Hiawatha. And I'm glad to have met you, Miss Allison. We'll see you often, I hope."

"I hope so, too."

He bowed jerkily. A brief man, with a furrowed brow, with dark eyes, with a strange twinkle about him. A man who seemed to be amused by this crowd as much as he amused them. A man, Judy remembered, who said things that were true as often as they were funny. The old maestro. Old mic-robe, somebody called him once. And instead of being angry about the name, Ben Bernie liked it and used it and laughed at it. Nice man.

"Good-by, Mr. Bernie."

"Good-by."

• • •

He was gone, and people were saying, "Hy, Ben!" and "Hello, there, old pal!" and most of them didn't know him at all, most of them were just making their girls think they knew him because he was Somebody.

But it wasn't that way with Dick. Ben Bernie had talked with him as an equal, Ben Bernie, whose name went all over the country! Dick—

"Nice fellow," said Dick, sitting down, flashing Judy a quick, young smile. "One of the nicest in our racket."

"Why..you're not going to say you hate radio?"

"Oh." He nodded wisely. "Elton Day again, eh?"

"How did you know?"

He grinned. "First thing he tells every new girl. Very first thing. Let me see. Something like this." He made himself solemn, he leaned back with his hand almost covering his eyes, he began. "'They're all fools in radio or they wouldn't be in it. And I'm a fool, too. I could be back home selling a story now and then, and being the boy prodigy, but.."

It was uncanny. His voice was like Elton's voice, almost exactly like it.

"Dick! Stop it! That's cruel."

"Cruel? Maybe. Only it's true."

"How can you make your voice sound so much like his?"

"I'm an actor, and he's an actor, and any ham can do what any other ham can do, Judy."

"Hom?"

"That's what all actors call themselves when they don't want you to believe a word they're saying."

• • •

"Oh." She giggled. Somehow, she wished he hadn't said it. But it was funny. "Dick, didn't you want to be a real actor?"

"Of course. But I wasn't. Not good enough.

"Why not?"

"Couldn't believe it. Stand up there dressed in a suit you got in a second-hand store and tell people you're Silas Marner of Mr. Watch-amacalit. And it's too much, Judy. Bad enough being a voice—"

"But—" Bad enough being a voice? "You're not paid to use your brain. You're paid to be a voice," Elton Day had said.

"Oh," Dick said quickly. "I'm sorry, Judy. You mustn't worry about it. If you're a voice, you can be the best voice there is. That's something, anyhow. Only, it must be a terrible shock to meet one of those heartbreak voices and discover it's a man 40 years old with four children and a mortgage."

She giggled again. Nice, hearing Dick talk. Funny, how much difference a voice could make. And funny, how few men thought about their voices. Most of them just talked, just opened their mouths and said words. But Dick Mason—

She heard the drum roll sharply. Now the lights flashed up in the center o fthe great room. And Ben Bernie, cigar, violin, smile and all, walked down from the bandstand, into the lights.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (C.P.). — Strong price action marked to-day's trading on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange Market to-day, many new highs for the year being chalked up under the leadership of base metal issues.

Lindsleys featured from the opening, Falconbridge gaining 40, Ventures 12, Sherritt Gordon 11 and Sudbury Basin 6; Noranda fell 75 and Hudson Bay 30, but Nickel was up 40.

Teck-Hughes withstood afternoon selling to close 12 above Saturday's close. Mining Corporation advanced 7 and Granada and Wright-Hargreaves 3 each.

Oils were relatively quiet but firm, with Chemical Research up 8.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (C.P.)—The Stock Market quickly spent its strength in an early upturn to-day, and slid back rather sharply in the final dealings. Extreme gains of 1 to more than 3 points were sharply reduced or lost, and final prices disclosed several losses of like extent. The late tone was heavy, Transfers approximate 4,400,000 shares. Gains of 1 to 2 points in such issues as Anaconda, American Smelting, Kennecott, and International Telephone were partially retained, but a 3-point rise in United Aircraft was mostly lost, and such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, New York Central and Union Pacific finished with net losses of around 1 to 3 points.

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, September 6 (C.P.)—Opening with a burst of strength and activity that carried several issues to new highs for the year, trading subsided around midday on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day to firm again just before the close.

The opening rush was similar to that experienced on all international commodity and security exchanges as a result of the more optimistic feeling generated by the Labor Day holiday.

The session finished with prices down from the early peak, but above the level at the end of the previous week.

Leaders were subject to considerable activity and fractional gains. C.P.R. was up the best part of a point. Intercolonial Nickel sold to a new high above 13 and closed at 12¾. Smelters soared to 101, but dropped to close unchanged at 99

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.— (By the Canadian Press.) — The Montreal stock market gave a strong performance to-day in one of the most active days of the year. Stocks moved up from fractions to four points, and several new year highs were recorded. The advance was interspersed with small setbacks throughout the day, however, as a result of profit taking, but realizing and late heaviness in Wall street alike failed materially to affect the local trend.

Consolidated Smelters was particularly subject to irregularity. After touching 100 at the opening it settled back to 98, but recovered to 99½, where it closed, up ½.

Gains of a point and over included: Canadian Pacific, up a point at 20¼, Dominion Textile, up 1 at 63; Power Corporation, up 2 at 18, a new high; Quebec Power, up 1¼ at 19; Shawinigan Power, up 3¼ at 23¼, and Winnipeg Electric, up 2½ at 7, equal to the previous high.

SCHOOLS REOPEN ATTENDANCE UP

City Schools Re-opened To-day After Long Summer Holiday.

MORE AT COLLEGIATE.

School days are here again! Between 4,000 and 5,000 children, Peterborough school population, were roused early from sleep this morning, donned dress-up suits and dresses, leaving behind their summer-holiday clothes in which they have eased away the long, lazy summer days, and with an eager glint in their eyes tramped off for the first day of school.

It was the official opening of school, but no work was done to-day. That will start to-morrow. This morning the youngsters passed on to their new rooms, were placed in the rows of desks and got acquainted with the "new teacher."

Almost the same proceedure was taking place in the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational Schools and St. Peter's High School as in the Public Schools and Separate Schools. More than a thousand students trooped into the Collegiate and Vocational School, and it is likely that its increased capacity will again be more than taxed.

Principal H. R. H. Kenner said that he could not estimate the number of students enrolled at the Collegiate, but would know after a meeting of the teachers this afternoon. He did say, however, that the enrollment in the academic department was greater than last year.

This afternoon the High School students flocked to the business district, engaged in the task of purchasing new books prescribed for their studies by the Department of Education. To-morrow the new books will be opened and the task of learning begin.

NO TRIAL RUN OF DON'S BOAT AT EXHIBITION

British Pilot Intends to Ship Craft Directly Back to England.

DAMAGE IS SERIOUS.

DETROIT, Sept. 6 (C.P.)—Kaye Don, British speedboat pilot, announced to-day that the damage that put his challenger, Miss England III, out of the Harmsworth Trophy race yesterday, was more serious than at first believed, and that the craft would be shipped direct to England for repairs.

Further examination of the port engine of the craft, he said, disclosed that the damage consisted of a broken piston, which in turn damaged a cylinder wall.

Announcing cancellation of his plan to make repairs here and put on an exhibition run at Toronto, Don said it had been decided to return the boat to England "exactly as it was at the finish of the race on Monday.

Ship From Montreal

The British pilot said the boat will be shipped to Montreal Wednesday night, and from there will be placed aboard the steamer Duchess of York, sailing Friday, Sept. 9. He said he would be in Toronto on Thursday and Friday, and planned to sail for England on the Olympic from New York on September 16.

Gar Wood, whose Miss American X was never extended to win the second and final heat of the race yesterday after mechanical trouble eliminated Miss England III, was making plans for another attempt at the one mile speed record for hydroplanes. The record is 119.81 held by Miss England 111.

The time and place for the attempt has not been decided, but it is expected to be held in local waters.

SAVES EIGHT

cry for help brought young McLachlin from the beach. He battled towering breakers until he reached the struggling man, and then he brought him to safety.

Friends were helping the victim to the beach when another cry was heard. Without hesitation, Dr. McLachlin turned and though suffering from his earlier struggle, rescued the second man.

While he was trying to regain his breath, a bather saw an arm thrown up farther still in the lake. A youth who had been swimming strongly a few minutes before was almost overcome. Dr. McLachlin took the plunge again.

Before rescuer and rescued reached the shore the youth had collapsed. Other bathers carried him to the beach where Dr. McLachlin applied artificial respiration with success.

Ignores Fatigue.

Dr. McLachlin was so fatigued, he begged that the bathers be ordered out of the lake; but before this could be done a girl of eight and her older brother were swept away. When Dr. McLachlin reached their side, the little girl was unconscious. The young doctor brought her into where another swimmer was waiting and then rescued the boy. Tirde as he was when he reached the shore, he revived the little girl with artificial respiration.

Refuse To Be Warned

Although no more bathing tickets were sold, some bathers refused to be warned. A grey-haired man ventured out too far and was caught. Dr. McLachlin after another hard fight, reached his side. He couldn't make shore with his burden however, so strong the undertow had become. Six or seven other swimmers tried to help them but were only rescued when a human chain was formed from shore.

Finally two other swimmers were rescued by Dr. McLachlin, who again defied the undertow. He helped the rescued into a lifeboat which by this time had been launched and was himself picked up.

STRAY BULLET INJURES BINKS

Local Cricketer is Struck While Playing in Toronto.

INJURY NOT SERIOUS.

Battles are said to have been won on the playing fields of Eton, although they are not necessarily fought there.

In the cricket match between Peterborough and Toronto in the Queen City yesterday, however, a miniature game of warfare was literally experienced.

The casualty was Walter Binks, popular local cricketer, who was struck in the region of his heart by a bullet from a .22 rifle. The velocity of the bullet, which had in all probability richochetted, was only such that it penetrated Binks' clothing and inflicted a slight flesh wound.

Younger players followed the example of the ex-service members of the club and soon became quite efficient at ducking. Then some of the braver cricketers, including Archie Hamilton and W. Coleman, counter-attacked, and discovered a small boy sniper concealed behind a hay stack.

Following the application of a "cricket field dressing," Binks was able to continue playing. Despite his inury he made a useful score of 19 and assisted materially in helping Peterborough to give Toronto their first defeat on their own ground in matches between the two clubs.

POLICE PROBING BERN'S SUICIDE

Inspector of Detectives States He Will Question Widow, Jean Harlow.

STAR NEAR COLLAPSE.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 6.—In an effort to uncover a motive for the apparent suicide of Paul Bern, motion picture producer, Inspector of Detectives Davis A. Davidson announced to-day he would question Jean Harlow, screen star who married the produced two months ago.

Davidson said he would call on Miss Harlow at the home of her parents as soon as he received word the actress was in a condition to be interviewed. Miss Harlow was reported near a collapse to-day.

Although Davidson said there was no doubt in his mind that the death of Bern, whose body was found yesterday afternoon in his Beverly Hills home, was a suicide, the Inspector said he wanted to clear up all angles of the case.

"Miss Harlow may be able to tell something that will aid us in our investigation," he said.

The widow was at the home of her parents in Beverly Hills to-day. She became hysterical on being informed of the death of her husband and, so far has made no statement to police.

PARRY SOUND.—The body of G. K. Lucas, Toronto, son of Hon. I. B. Lucas, formerry Attorney-General for Ontario, was recovered today at Point Au Baril. Coroner M. H. Limbert was informed to-day.

Archie Hamilton then came in and quickly started scoring. It didn't take these two long to put on 63 runs, when Lawrence was caught by H. Cornelius for 19 runs. Archie now in with W. BOWERS GIVEN TERM IN JAIL

Bancroft Moonshiners Are Serving Terms in Belleville Jail.

DID BIG BUSINESS.

Simon Bowers, alleged leader of a band of moonshiners about Bancroft, who had repeatedly boasted that "no revenuers will knock me off," is in Belleville jail beginning a jail sentence following his conviction of Friday of having in his possession illicitly distilled spirits.

Two others, Fred McLean and Herman Wemier, confederates of Bowers, were convicted on similar charges. Bowers and McLean were sentenced to two months in jail and fined $200 and in default of payment of the fine an additional year in jail. Weimer was given the same sentence except that he fails to pay the fine he will serve but six months in jail.

The arrest of the trio followed investigations conducted by Corporal D. L. Caniff, of the R. C. M. P., who has extended his operations from Peterborough County to Hastings. Caniff not only found the large still, located in a swamp on the outskirts of Bancroft, but also unearthed more than five gallons of liquor. It is alleged the gang was doing a wholesale business selling more than 200 gallons of swamp whiskey a week.

Canadian Dollar Is Higher To-Day

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (C.P.)—Attaining the highest level since April 21, the Canadian dollar to-day pursued its upward march on local foreign exchanges, with noon quotations at 90¾ cents, almost a cent above the closing figures Saturday.

To-day's advance marked the current peak of a steady recovery from the low for the year of 89⅝ cents, set last January 5.

For the first time in months the dollar hit the 90 cent mark on Saturday, and at to-day's opening had scored an additional gain of ⅛ cent.

The demand for Canadian money was attributed to several factors. In some quarters it was believed the preference rate of six cents a bushel on Canadian wheat, granted by Britain at the recent Ottawa Economic Conference, was responsible for the firmness.

The enthusiasm that has been created throughout the Dominion and at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto and the favorable comments on the programs given by the

RECORD ENTRY LIST ALREADY

Wm. Knox Reports Keenest Interest in Peterboro Exhibition.

PROMISE OF SUCCESS.

With Peterborough Exhibition opening date just a little over a week distant, William J. Knox, managing director, reports a record entry of cattle exhibits, and also indications that the number of Junior Farmer exhibitors will touch a new peak.

Sponsored by the Department of Agriculture of which J. B. Nelson is district representative, the Junior Farmers' Division of Peterborough Industrial Exhibition is a comparatively new departure, and one that is rapidly gaining in popularity and value.

A feature of the juniors' prize awards for this year is a handsome trophy which has been donated by the Robert Fair Company, through the courtesy of Robert J. Goring, president. The trophy is inscribed as follows: "Inter-County Trophy donated by the Robert Fair Company of Peterborough. Girls' demonstration competition Peterborough Industrial Exhibition."

It is to be won by the best team and will become the permanent possession of the team who holds the trophy two years in succession.

WAR VETERAN REFUSED TO GO THROUGH WITH HOLD-UP PLOT

tails of their summer sojourn on the waterfront with almost no information immediately available.

A Difficult Case.

By noon Chief Newhall had pieced together from facts and surmises a situation that pointed to murder, and the initial circumstances were later supported by the clue of a motive. In the casual acquaintanceships of the "jungles" where the itinerant unemployed come and go, some of them remaining for longer periods than others, few questions seemed to have been asked. Men were taken for granted. Even their names were as shadowy as their previous background and personal connections. Harry Thomas, for instance, was generally known as "Butch", because he had told some one that he had been engaged in the butcher business in Windsor and had "gone broke." Then it was learned that his home was in Belleville.

During the day police rounded up thirty-five tramps who were all questioned by Chief Newhall. Meanwhile enquiries had been pursued in the neighborhood of the boathouses on the shore of Little Lake opposite the stately home of the late J. J. Lundy. All this detailed work clinched the first impressions that Thomas's several associates in his summer stay on the lakefront were the men most likely to be able to explain the manner of Thomas's death, and since Sunday morning the search has been concentrated upon them.

Autopsy On Sunday

An autopsy performed by Dr. Herbert Young, acting coroner, at Comstocks' Sunday afternoon revealed that death had been caused by a wound in the region of the heart, presumably made by a knife. It was three and three-quarter inches deep and about three-eights of an inch wide. The artery near the heart was almost completely severed, and it is believed that Thomas could have lived only a few minutes after being struck.

A blood-stained knife found by the police behind a nail keg near the door in the boathouse apparently corresponds with this wound. It is an old bread knife with the blade ground and sharpened to three inches in length and three-eighths of an inch in width. The blood stains extend from the tip to the handle, and it is understood that this knife had been identified by one or more habitants of the "jungles" as the property of the missing man called "Shorty."

It is also stated that the wound is a level one, possibly indicating that the knife thrust was made by some person who was shorter in stature than Harry Thomas.

Friendly In Evening

One of the tramps detained by the police furnished the information that he had played the card game of five hundred with Thomas and 'Shorty' around six o'clock Saturday evening, and at that time they appeared to be on good terms. From this and other evidence there is no doubt about the presence of "Shorty" and at least one other transient of the boathouse family early Saturday evening.

But they were gone Sunday morning, and Thomas was dead in his bunk. The loaf of bread was on the table, just as Thomas had brought it "home," and there were no signs of a struggle or fight, just the knife and the trail of blood across the floor, from one small pool near the door to the larger smear at the bunk.

From one informant it was learned that a few days ago Thomas had disclosed a sidelight on the gentle methods of the suspected "Shorty." When some French-Canadian drifters from Quebec arrived at the "jungles" and cast envious eyes on the de luxe boathouse they were greeted with a frosty and menacing welcome from "Shorty."

Used Knife As Threat.

According to this story, Thomas said one day last week that 'Shorty' displayed his knife and told them to get out, and from another bit of information he is alleged to have said that he was willing to use it on any of the "dicks" (police) that bothered him.

At noon Sunday an Examiner reporter learned from one of the group of tramps at dinner west of the boathouses that Harry Thomas was known to Mr. George N. Graham of the Empress Hotel and also Tommy Miller, George street. Mr. Graham knew the deceased through his father, Mr. George I. Thomas, of Belleville, a highly respected citizen and former wholesale and retail butcher now retired. Mr. Miller had know him as a companion in arms overseas.

"You don't mean to say that anything has happened to Harry," Mr. Miller said, as the news was gradually broken to him. "He joined up with the 2nd Battalion, and he was a fine fellow. All this mates liked him in the army. He was in it until 1918 until he was taken down with dysentry during the big drive, and I believe that since he has been in Peterborough he was being treated by Dr. MacPherson for the same trouble. He came here about two months ago, and as we had been in the same battalion together he came to see me, and I have met him a few times since then."

Mrs. Miller said that she saw Thomas going down George street about 10.30 o'clock Saturday evening carrying a loaf of bread.

"I remember him because I said to a woman who was with me, 'that man was in Tom's battalion overseas'."

When Mr. Graham was informed of the death of Harry Thomas he gave immediate instructions to have the body prepared to be sent to his father's home in Belleville. It was also learned that Mr. Graham had befriended the deceased since he came to Peterborough, but that his more generous offers of assistance had not been accepted.

Discharged in 1919.

From various sources the consensus regarding the character of Harry Thomas was entirely favorable. One of the tramps related that he had not gone to his father's home in Belleville after his failure in business in Windsor because of some entrangement with a brother. He left home seven years ago, and had not returned since then. His army service papers showed that he had enlisted at Valcartier September 22, 1914, and was discharged at Kingston February 13, 1919.

Among the effects of the dead man was a letter received by him last week from a girl in Windsor whose only signature was "Doll." It was replete with terms of endearment, and expressed the wish that she might be able to sell her beauty parlor equipment and from the proceeds send Thomas money to pay his fare to Windsor. She declared that she was true to him, had kept company with no one since he had gone away, and her great wish was to have his arms around her once more.

"I wonder how all this will end?" was one of her comments as if she had some premonition of a shadow passing over their friendship.

A report from Windsor indicated that Harry Thomas had a small butcher shop there for a few weeks last spring, and for several years previously he was employed as manager of a branch shop. When his own business failed, he probably was unable to get any immediate work and took to the road like so many others.

Assisting Chief Newhall in the investigation of Thomas' death were Detectives Meagher and Piercy. Inspector Reid, Sergeant Wigg and Constable Deannard in the preliminary work Sunday morning, but the whole staff was called upon when required later in the day and on Monday.

The boat house under the willows a few steps from the C.P.R. crossing on Maria street, which was tenanted by Thomas and "Shorty" and one or two other transients for at least two months, is a roomy and fairly comfortable shed affair with floor, table, stove, several bunks and walled with heavy board. The south end of it projects over the water, and a verandah about four feet wide reaches out on a level with the lake. The verandah is roofed over affording protection against rain. It was stated that this addition was made by Norbert Millar, local airman, who used to nose his hydroplane under this covering.

This boathouse had all the aspects of a pleasant summer home, with the lake as a swimming pool off the back porch. It is easily understood why these men were content to spend a hopeless summer in a comfortable idleness in these comparatively cosy quarters.

One of the noon hour diners under the willows remarked to The Examiner: "This means there's be the devil to pay for all of us. We'll all get more or less blame for the actions of some one or two men who could be capable of doing a thing like that. It is one thing to be down on your luck when you can't beg a job, but using a knife is something very few of the fellows I've met would think of."

SUGGEST $4 A WEEK.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 3.—Taking the stand that the minimum relief paid to any unemployed family should be $4 a week, the London Labor Reserve last night decided to send a delegation to the City Council to request them to consider this proposal. In addition, the council will be asked to see that additional relief of $2 a week will be paid to those men who are working out their rents.

The Reserve will ask that there be no evictions for non-payment of rent between now and June 1, 1933, at least in the city.

Nude Bather To Rest Week In Local Jail

The sparkling waters of Otonabee river proved too inviting yesterday afternoon for Alman Martin, a transient. Hot and dusty, he just couldn't resist a swim. Minus a bathing suit he plunged in, and that act cost him a week in jail this morning. He was sentenced by Magistrate Langley as a vagrant.

Housekeepers on the east side of the river just about the intersection of Douro street and Driscoll Terrace observed Martin running about naked in the shallow water. They telephoned police and an officer was despatched.

Police found Martin sunning himself on the island just above the old dam. "He didn't answer questions," it was explained to Magistrate Langley. "No one asked me any," replied Martin, but he pleaded guilty to the vagrancy charge. The sentence of seven days followed.

WHEAT, COTTON SALES HALTED

U. S. Farm Board Stops Reducing Stock to Give Growers Chance.

WAITING UNTIL JANUARY.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 6.—Sales of stabilization wheat and government-controlled cotton definitely were halted to-day until next year.

This decision was announced by Chairman Stone of the Farm Board after being made possible by a $50,000,000 Reconstruction Corporation loan to the Cotton Stabilization Corporation and American Cotton Co-operative Association.

These steps are being taken and loans obtained, Stone said, so that the cotton growers will get the full benefit of the market for their crop this year, and for the purpose of enabling the organizations to gradually liquidate their holdings during periods when more active demand is anticipated."

Mr. Stone said the board's unsold wheat stocks, amounting to less than 3,000,000 bushels as compared with 250,000,000 bushels 14 months ago, "will not be reduced by sales before January 1, 1933, except such sales of this 3,000,000 as may be made for shipment to foreign countries that otherwise would not be importad by buyers of United States wheat."

Chicken Shortcake

"I always use and recommend Magic Baking Powder," says Miss Alice Moir, Dietitian of one of Montreal's finest apartment-hotel restaurants. "Magic combines efficiency and economy to the highest degree. Besides, it always gives dependable results."

In whole-hearted agreement with Miss Moir, the majority of Canadian dietitians and cookery teachers use Magic exclusively. And 3 out of 4 Canadian housewives use Magic because it gives consistently better baking results.

No wonder Magic outsells all other baking powders combined!

Favour your family with Chicken Shortcake—made with Magic as Miss Moir directs. Note its delicate flavour, its feather lightness!

CHICKEN SHORTCAKE

LOCAL ELECTRICS LOSE TO GAMSBY'S RAMBLERS IN SECOND BATTLE, 8-3

Game is Poor Exhibition of Pastime, C.G.E. Looking Bad From the Start.

ROSE LEADS AT BAT.

Victors Outhit Local Aggregation 10 to 6—Electrics Have More Errors.

For the second year in a row, C.G.E., champs of the East Peterborough League, were eliminated from the O.B.A.A. play-offs by the Orono Ramblers. They lost their second straight game on Saturday in Newcastle, 8 to 3, before a fair crowd of Orono rooters. It was a poor exhibition of baseball the Electrics looking bad from the start.

Abbie Rose started on the mound for C.G.E., but early got into trouble, his arm apparently bothering him. He walked the first two, and then with two out, the batter rolled one to Rose who picked it up and threw the ball a yard over the first baseman's head to let in two. Two hits sent in one more. A double, a walk, and four wild pitches gave Orono two more in the third, and Rose retired in favor of Jack Crary.

He got by till the seventh, when two doubles, a single, and an error meant three more markers for the Ramblers. Following a double in the eighth, Harold Ralph took over the pitching, and finished all right. The Electrics' fielding was very shaky most of the time, with the usually-reliable Russell having three costly boots, and Rose also going bad. However, they tightened up at times to leave eleven Ramblers stranded on the sacks, and pull their pitchers out of several holes.

Holds Electrics.

Jimmy Bowman was sent back to do the hurling for Orono, and he went great, fanning eleven and holding C.G.E. to six hits. They got a single by Hatton and one by Rose in the fourth but both died on the runways. A walk, an error, and hits by Russell and Rose gave the visitors two runs in the sixth. Holland got a single in the seventh, but it was Russell's double and two boots that gave them their last run in the eighth. The Orono fielding was good for the most part.

Leads Local Batsmen.

Manager Rose led the Electrics at bat with two singles in three times Russell being next with a double and a single in four trips. Holland and Hatton got one hit each. Lycett had three for Orono, while Cameron, Corden and Moore got two each. McGill got a cheap double when his high fly rolled safe as Holland fell chasing it.

BELLEVILLE BREAKS EVEN.

ST. Even three homers by Vanstone, Stoin, and Stuart failed to give the Hawks a morning victory, but an eighth inning rally in the second fixture allowed them to take the lead and verdict.

Poulter's Position

H. Poulter, the former Sunderland centre-forward, who recently signed for Exeter City, is certainly in a most unusual position.

On leaving the navy the F.A. ordered that he remain an amateur with Sunderland and the ban has never been lifted despite the fact that he desires to make football his living. He has, of course, been compelled to sign amateur forms at Exeter.

Deloro Regains Soccer League Lead

MOUND ACES HURL YANKS TO WIN TWIN

McCarthy's New Yorkers Need Six More Victories to Clinch American Flag.

SUBDUE ATHLETICS.

Pirates Cut Chicago's Lead By Defeating Cardinals Twice 4-3 and 3-1.

(By Herbert W. Barker, A.P. Sports Writer.)

Joe McCarthy's pennant-bound New York Yankees garnered the most valuable harvest of Labor Day's crop of double-headers.

Facing the Philadelphia Athletics, their closest rivals, the Yankees, the Yankees tossed their twin mound aces, the very left-handed Vernon Gomez and right-handed Johnny Allen, into the fray and emerged with two victories that left them only six more to win in order to clinch the American League flag. . .

As the teams stood to-day, the Yankees led the Athletics by 12½ games. Six more Yankees victories, or any combination of Yankees victories and Athletic defeats which totals six, automatically will give the Yankees the pennant. Washington, in third place, will be eliminated when the Yankees win five games or when Yankee victories and Washington defeats total five.

Gomez turned in his 23rd victory against six defeats in the opener which the Yankees won, 8-6, chiefly because they scored six runs in the first inning on six bases on balls, singles by Gehrig and Gomez, and McNair's error. Allen won his 16th game against two losses in the nightcap, giving the A's nine scattered hits as the Yanks won 6-3. Babe Ruth hit his 40th homer in the first game.

Effective pitching by Alvin Crowder and Fred Marberry gave Washington two victories over the Boston Red Sox, 6-2, and 9 3, and Cleveland walloped the St. Louis Browns twice. Earl Whitehill pitched steady ball as Detroit turned back the Chicago White Sox, 5-3, but the Sox came back to take the nightcap, 3-1, as Milt Gaston allowed only five hits.

In the National League, Pittsburgh shaved another game off the Chicago Cubs' lead by whipping the St. Louis Cardinals twice, 4-3 and 3-1, behind effective pitching by Heinie Meine and Larry Reich. The Cubs split a double header with the Cincinnai Reds, winning the first, 9-2, but dropping the second, 6-5, as Si Johnson steadier after his teammates had given him a 6-4 lead in the sixth inning. Pittsburgh, which has won 10 games in a row, now trails the Cubs by six games.

The Phillies advanced to within 2½ games of the third place Brooklyn Dodgers by taking the New York Giants over the hurdles twice, 3-2 and 5-4, despite Mel Ott's 30th and 31st homers. The Boston Braves moved into . . fifth place, two games behind . . the Phillies, as a result of two triumphs over Brooklyn, 13-2 and 5-4. The Braves had one big inning in each game, clinching the opener with six runs in the fifth, and scoring all their runs in the second game in the third inning.

Little World's Baseball Series Opens In Newark City Stadium, September 27th

NEW YORK, Sept 6.—(C.P.)—The first three game of the Little World's series between the International League and American Association champions will be played in Newark, starting September 27th.

Newark clinched the International League pennant yesterday and now awaits definite decision as to whether American Association's representattive will be Minneapolis, as seems likely, or Columbus.

The first game will be played the afternooon of the 27th and the second game on the night of Sept. 28. The third game, and the last to be played in the International league champions' bailiwick, will be played the afternoon of Sept. 30.

If Minneapolis wins the Association pennant, the clubs will spend Saturday, Oct. 1, travelling to Minneapolis where the last four games, or as many as starting Sunday, Oct. 2. If the series goes the full limit of seven games, the clubs will play Oct. 3, 4, and 5.

In the event Columbus wins the Association pennant, the clubs will jump from Newark in time to play the fourth game at Columbus, Oct. 1.

COCORAN SIGNS YOUNG "SZABO" FOR FRIDAY NIGHT'S MAT CARD

Hungarian Has Proven Great Crowd Pleaser in Past Performances.

WILL MEET FRANKIE HART.

Word was received from promoter Jack Corcoran of the Queensbury Club to-day announcing the complete program for next Friday night's wrestling show at the Brock Street Rink. Corcoran promises a newcomer for one of he bouts and the new man will be "Young" Szabo of Hungary, flashy wrestler who is said to be a great crowd pleaser. Szabo is a nephew of Sandor Szabo, the Hungarian champion who is now a sensation in the United States and the critics claim that he will became an even better mat man than his famous uncle.

Corcoran has chosen Frankie Hart the "Flying Dutchman" as Szabo' opponent and it must be said that he could not have made a better selection. He must rate Szabo rather highly to pit him against as good a man as Hart for the Toronto promoter has the reputation of never making a one-sided match. There is little need to dwell upon the ability of the handsome young athlete from Hamilton. He has always been a great favorite here and the fans know that if Szabo can even make it close for Hart, the Hungarian will merit consideration.

Hart and Szabo will be opponents in the opening bout while the semi-final to the finish match between Nazzarino Poggi of Italy and Casey Berger of San Francisco is also one which should hold plenty of appeal to local mat enthusiasts. Jack Kogut, Canada's "Little Sonnenberg," one of the best exponents of the flying tackles in the game, will meet the sturdy Detroiter, Bert Rubenstein. The latter held Frankie Hart even here on July 11 and in doing so proved himself to have an effective manner of combining rough wrestling with a more scientific brand of the sport. Close observers noted that Rubenstein, whie he broke the rules at every opportunity, also did some highly interesting grappling of a more clever variety at times. Powerfully built, he should give the squat Kogut a terrific battle. The latter is just getting back into condition after an absence from the ring due to an auto accident and will have to be right in form to beat Rubenstein. Kogut's last bout here was on August 12 when he threw Nick Mercurio of Italy.

PORTS LOSE 2 LEAGUE POINTS TO MINE CREW

Goalies Set Something New in Soccer History by Scoring Both Goals.

DELORO 2, PORT HOPE 1.

Ideal weather prevailed, last night, for the return fixture between Port Hope and Deloro soccer eleven for the possession of league points in which the latter won by two goals to one, in one of the cleanest and smartest games seen in the city. With only four minutes to finish the game, the referee stopped it owing to darkness. The ruling being that they would have to play the enccounter over again but the Port Hope executive decided to concede the points to the winners which puts the Deloro aggregation up into the top position along with the Canada Packers, Canadian General.

The league standing is as follows:

	P	W	L	D	F	A	Pts.
C.G.E.	14	7	3	4	29	21	18
Deloro	14	7	3	4	31	29	18
Packers	12	7	2	3	30	29	17
Caleys	14	6	7	1	28-	39	13
Port Hope	13	0	9	4	15	26	4

Two points for a win and one for a draw. Goal averages count.

Port Hope Won Toss.

The spin of the coin fell in favour of the Lakeshore eleven. Both teams showed the finer points of the game by clever tackling in the mid-field that was accompanied by beautiful combination by the attacking force. This style brought out the defensive methods of the full backs that were similar to each other. Whenever the forwards altered their approach into the goal area by swinging the ball out to the wings or trapping it back to the inside men, it was the code played to the scientific point. Port Hope were superior in first twenty minutes but they peppered out when the Deloro boys checked closely whenever they were in possession of the ball. Bradley breaking up the attack time and again to feed his extreme wing men who transferred the ball to the Port Hope goal. Twice did Brooks break away on the left to finish with a lightning drive across the goal mouth looking for the necessary touch into the goal. A scrimmage in front of the Port Hope citadel was cleared by Jock Black and carried up the field. His brother Roy accepted the opening to place the ball back to Morrison, who shot it up the centre. R. Black tackled fearlessly to upset the Deloro full backs.

Players Very Cautious.

Both teams were instructed to change around so as to complete the full forty-five minutes each way. On resuming, the players took no chances in allowing their opponent getting too near the danger zone but it brought out the superb anticipation of counter attacking of the respective departments. While Cameron, Jock Black and J. Shaw, of Port Hope, were battling out the issue against the Deloro fast moving forwards; the Smelters line of Hipson, Bradley and Sproul did likewise against the Lakeshore versatile attacking line that seemed to get near the goal but tried to carry the ball too long whenever in a position to score. Give and take play continued for a while until a penalty question arose inside the Deloro dreaded area. The referee consulted the linesmen who aided him in giving a flag kick instead. It was a lucky break for the Smelters. From the corner kick taken by Boon, the ball fell to the waiting toe of Jones who met a first timer that skimmed the cross-bar. It was first one goal then the other until Brown sent Brooks away down the wing with the ball at his toe. The latter deceived the opposition nicely as he drew inside the goal line and finished his effort by a smashing drive that Curtis failed to hold as the ball rolled over the line. Port Hope responded with a continued bombardment until the end; while the Deloro boys put all they had into the remaining minutes in an endeavour to hold on to the two points. Deloro 2. Port Hope 1.

Goal scorers:—Deloro, Brown and Brooks. Port Hope—R. Black.

Port Hope—W. Curtits, goal; D. Green and J. Watson full backs; J. Cameron, John Black and J. Shaw halves; R. Ashby, C. Morrison, E. Jones, R. Black and T. Boon forwards. Subs—J. New, J. Cromley and J. Millar.

Deloro—J. O'Neill, goal; T. Cousins and J. Hart full backs; R. Hipson, E. Bradley and R. Sproul halves; J. Smith, R. D. Murray, J. E. Nicholson, W. Brown and G. Brooks forwards. Subs—R. Stewart and J. Cuddy. Referee—Jack Clark.

ERRORS COSTLY AS BUCCANEERS FALL ON ROUND

Dunkerly and Hetherington Hand Out Nine Free Passes Between Them..

ARE HARD HIT.

Peterborough's Pirates, champs of the Junior City League and conquerors of Belleville in the O.B.A.A. playdowns, proved that they are not "mudders" on Saturday when on a wet and greasy diamond at Stevenson Park they suffered a 14 to 2 defeat at the hands of Toronto McCormicks. The loss eased the Pirates out of the O.B.A.A. race since a week ago they had suffered a ninth-inning defeat by McCormicks in the Queen City.

Jack Deannard, mentor of the squad, just couldn't get his youngsters going in the wet. They failed to show anything like the form they had displayed all season in winning their own league. The pitchers, Dunkerly and Hethrington both had a bad day, repeatedly putting runners on bags on walks and then laying one in the groove, which was cracked to the tall grasses by the McCormick hitters. In all nine free tickets were handed out, Dunkerly giving out seven, and most of them shaped largely in the scoring.

Besides the difficulties of the twiriers, the team itself failed to step into the breach. In all they kicked in with six errors, all of which were costly. Again they also were short on hits, when bingoes meant runs and time and again runners died on the pathways.

Play Steady Ball

McCormicks, while they failed to dazzle the spectators with their form, played steady ball, behind the careful pitching of Goodall, who allowed but six hits.

* * * * * *

Peterborough ball teams didn't fare so well Saturday, two being eliminated from the O.B.A.A. play-downs, and one winning. The bantams won their game and series in Toronto, while the juniors lost their second straight game here, and C.G.E. Intermediates were rubbed off the slate by Orono in Newcastle. We've only got the bantams and the juveniles still in the hunt.

* * * * * *

Credit goes to Manager Herb Ralph and his battling bantams, Kiwanis. They went up to Toronto Saturday and defeated McMurrichs, 9 to 3, to win their second game in a row over the Queen City champs, and showed a decided superiority in doing it. The whole team turned in a great performance with fine hurling by "Lefty" Field who fanned eight and held his opponents to four hits, besides getting a homer himself.

* * * * * *

The hitting of A. Clark, Kingdon and Dunkley was outstanding, while the first two named and Eddie Starr turned in a good defensive game. All the boys pulled well together and were too much for McMurrichs. This team has been playing nice ball all season and going strong in the play-downs. They look like potential champs right now. Probably Hamilton is next.

* * * * * *

The less said about the showing made by C.G.E. down at Newcastle the better. They looked pretty bad the first half the game, pitching, fielding and hitting. While Bowman threw a good game, the lack of hitting on the part of C.G.E. made him look even better than he was. Both Russell and Rose had a bad day, and this didn't help matters any either.

* * * * * *

There was considerable argument when it was found that the diamond wasn't measured off right, first base being back five feet and third base one foot out. It may have been some more of Gamsby's smart work—remembering that he has a catcher with a poor peg —but it still is no excuse for the poor brand of ball shown by the Electrics. Only a few of the players played up to form in this contest.

* * * * * *

We didn't see the junior game in Stevenson Park, but have been told the locals looked not so good. They couldn't hit worth a hoot, they kicked in with some bad misplays, and Dunkerley was wild as a hawk raised on malt and hops. Both he and Hetherington were hit hard and often by the McCormick lads who completely outclassed them down here, after the Pirates put up a good game in Toronto the previous week. Oh, well, that's that for this year.

* * * * * *

Two local sea flea racers, Don White and Don Wood, are taking part to-day in the C. N .E. water races in which $300,000 worth of power boats will be represented. The two local swimmers, Janeway and Giroux, failed to finish in the money in th Exhibition amateur swims held in Toronto yesterday.

* * * * * *

A fair crowd took in the exhibition girls' softball game at the Bowl last night in which Choates defeated Park Hill, 20 to 14, not a bad game at all. The Park Hill lasses stage another exhibition tilt over there to-morrow evening against the gals from Bethany, starting at 5.45.

* * * * * *

The indoor fall softball league opens to-night at the Brock, but it will not interfere with the girls' play-offs at the Bowl, as the latter game will be over before the first of the double-header at the Brock commences, at 7.15. The two classy men's teams, Red and White Stores and Sugar Bowl, open it, followed by Westclox and C.G.E. girls at 8.45. It should be good and only costs a dime for adults and five cents for children.

* * * * * *

Wardie Wright, 15-year-old Peterborough boy, competed in the Junior Men's Swim at the C.N.E., Toronto, yesterday and in a field of forty finished sixth. It was a very good showing for the local boy, as th race was open to swimmers from all over Ontario up to the age of seventeen.

Quaker Oats Club Beats Lindsy 4-1

Quaker Oats tennis players defeated those of the Lindsay Club on the former's courts, four matches to 1, on Saturday. The ladies' doubles went to the visitors, the Misses E. Baker and C. Kelcher winning from Miss May Warner and Miss A. Dixon, 6-3 and 6-4.

Miss B. Pickering captured the ladies singles from Miss E. Hodgson, 6-0 and 11-9, the last set being a hardfought one as the score indicates. George Nicholls won the men's singles, 6-1 and 6-0, from K. Gregory; the first men's dcubles went to W. J. Brooks and L. B. Cunningham, 6-4 and 6-2, over F. Williams and W. White; while the second doubles was taken from R. Baker and C. McLean by Max Clark and Bill Young with scores of 6-2 and 6-2.

Practices

The intermediate lacrosse players will practice Wednesday evening from 7.30 to 8.30, and two full lineups should be on hand in preparation for an exhibition game.

The Brinton lacrosse players are asked to be at the Brock shortly after eight Wednesday night, their game with C. G. E. The team will be picked from these players: Le Barr, Staunt, Rothwell, Hatton, Reynolds, Hewitt, Creighton, Firth, Howarth, E. Creighton, Miller and Collins. Any who cannot attend should phone 1208 at once.

A uniform practice of the Kiwanis Bantams will be held at six o'clock Wednesday evening at the Exhibition Grounds, and every player is requested to be on hand.

Just Gate-Crasher

LOS ANGELLES, Cal., Sept. 6.— Tex Griffin, Panhandle cow-puncher, sauntered up to the box office at Olympic Stadium Labor Day. A rodeo was in progress inside.

"Look, he said beseechingly, I lost my pasteboards."

The ticket-seller was stony-eyed. Griffin turned away but soon came back leading a horse.

Tell you what I'll do, Griffin said, I"il trade you this nag for some pastboards."

The ticket seller stared incredulously.

"Sure," he said, finally.

Griffin grabbed the tickets "I hope that guy gets his cayuse back, he soliloquized as he passed through the gate.

The animal one of the horses in the show, had been tethered outside the stadium.

"LEFTY" FIELDS HURLS KIWANIS TO 9-3 VICTORY

Toronto McMurrichs Eliminated in O.B.A.A. Playdowns For Bantam Title.

STRIKES OUT EIGHT.

TORONTO, Sept. 6.—"Lefty" Fields' great twirling was too much for McMurrich Playground bantams when they lost to Peterborough Kiwanis, 9 to 3, at Earlscourt Park on Saturday afternoon. This was the second straight setback for the local team and it eliminated them from the O.B.A.A. playdowns.

Fields held McMurrich to four hits with his portside slants and struck out eight batters. Barker was hit hard by the Petes and was relieved by Shaw in the sixth. The latter stopped Peterborough in their tracks as he whiffed seven during his tenure on the mound. Starr shaped up as the outstanding performer for Peterborough, with Dunkley and Kingdon also to the fore. Harrigan was best for McMurrich.

BEARS CLINCH INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE HONORS

Newark Takes 3-0 and 5-3 Decisions From Skeeters on Labor Day.

ROYALS BREAK EVEN.

Toronto Drops Both Ends of Twin Bill 9-5 and 2-1 to Rochester.

(By The Associated Press)

Al Mamaux's Newark Bears, pace-setters almost all the way, have clinched the International League pennant two weeks before the end of the season.

A double triumph over Jersey City in the Labor Day program gave the Bears a season's record of 100 victories against 52 defeats and definitely assured them their first championship since 1913.

Baltimore now trails the Bears by 17 games with only 16 top lay while Buffalo is 17½ games behind and has only 17 to play.

Newark maintained a lead over the first months of the season but ran into trouble the latter part of May and surrendered the league lead to Buffalo on May 26. They had fallen into third place, five and one-half games out of the lead, when reinforcements arrived in the shape of Jack Saltzgaver, second baseman from the parent major league club, the New York Yanks, Forest Jensen and Marvin Owen. The Bears quickly pulled themselves together and regained the lead on July 3 and never thereafter relinquished it.

Fittingly enough it fell to the lot of the league's leading pitcher, Johnny Brennan, to clinch the pennant for the Bears yesterday. After Johnny Murphy and George Miner had blanked the Skeeters in the first game, 3-0, Brennan held them to six hits in the nightcap, won 5-3, and chalked up his 22nd victory of the season against seven defeats.

Baltimore split a double bill with the Albany Senators, winning the opener, 7-6 on a four-run rally in the eighth, but dropping the second in the eighth inning of what was to have been a seven-inning game when Leggett's single chased two Senator runners across the plate and gave Albany a 5-4 decision.

Royals Break Even

Buffalo whipped Montreal in the first game, 5-1 as Joe Bicomer gave up only five hits but the Royals came back to take the nightcap, 5-4. This game, scheduled for seven frames, went nine before Montreal could push over the winning run.

Leafs Take Double Fall

The Rochester Redwings, shorn of the championship they had worn for four successive years, beat Toronto in both ends of a doubleheader, 9-5 and 2-1. The Redwings battered out 16 hits in the opener but had to travel 10 innings to win the second game, Nick Cullop's long fly with the bases filled deciding the battle.

RIFLE SHOOT RESULTS

PETERBOROUGH RANGERS' RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Match held Labor Day, September 4. The final outdoor shoot of the club for the season was fired under ideal conditions. The match lasting from 10 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening. Each member set his own handicap before the match commenced, The idea being to have a perfect score at the end of the day. Two points being deducted for each point scored above a possible 140. Four practices were fired—200, 300, 500 and 600 yards. Some of the members did not fire all the practices; this accounts for some of the small scores. Both the aggregate and the handicap were won by J. McGrath with A. Meeks and W. Lackie next in line in the handicap. The prizes awarded were given back by the winners to the club to foster rifle shooting in the city. Standing:—

$300,000 In Boats At C.N.E. Regatta

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (C.P.)—Sea flea drivers from many parts of the United States will battle on Lake Ontario to-day and to-morrow with Canadian pilots at the Canadian National Exhibition power boat regatta.

More than $300,000 in boats and motor equipment will race over the C.N.E. speedway. This afternoon pilots will complete for the Lord Wakefield Trophy, emblematic of the world's championship in Class C. The Sir Thomas Lipton Trophy race, for amateur drivers, which the United States competitors hope to capture from the present holder, J. R. Ardiel, Canadian ace, is also down for decision to-day.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

A CURE FOR OBSTINACY

Johnny Chuck was stiff and sore. It was the day after the great fight. Johnny sat on his doorstep and he was in anything but a happy state of mind. In the first place, each separate wound made by the teeth of Reddy Fox had a separate and distinct ache. No one who aches all over can be in a very happy state of mind.

Then, too, Johnny was nervous. He kept turning his head every two or three minutes to make sure that all was safe behind him. That stone wall which had seemed such a splendid protection when he built his house in the corner of it now seemed a constant danger. Johnny imagined he heard enemies creeping up on the other side of it. He expected to see the head of Reddy Fox or Mrs. Reddy bob up over the top of that wall any minute. No one as nervous as that can be in a very happy frame of mind.

Also Johnny was beginning to be quite honest with himself and to admit that he wished he never had thought of leaving his fine home in the far corner of the Old Orchard. He wished he was back there. He knew now that it was the very best place in all the Great World. At least it was the very best place for him. But he was still too obstinate to make up his mind to go back there. If there had been no one there he wouldn't have minded. But Polly Chuck was there and Johnny just couldn't make up his mind to go back and confess that he had been wrong in the first place. Of course, no one feeling that way could be in a very happy frame of mind.

But what made him most unhappy of all was the fact that he was hungry and all the time growing hungrier. He didn't dare go far enough away from his doorstep to get his breakfast, and he hadn't had much to eat the day before, nothing at all after the great fight. With longing eyes he looked over to the distant clover patch. After his experience of the day before he didn't dare go so far from his house. If he had been feeling all right he wouldn't have dared to. Stiff and sore as he was it was out of the question. He couldn't run and he couldn't fight.

He tried to eat some of the grass near his doorstep. It was thick with dust and so gritty and unpleasant to the taste that he managed to swallow only a little of it. So the morning passed and afternoon came. With every passing minute Johnny grew hungrier. The hungrier he grew the more he thought of the delicious sweet clover which grew so close to his old home in the far corner, and the more he thought of this the more he thought about going home.

Late in the afternoon Sammy Jay returned to see how Johnny was getting on. An idea came to Johnny. He would ask Sammy Jay to keep watch while he hurried over to that patch of clover and get a bite or two. Sammy agreed at once. But Sammy is just brimming over with mischief as you know. Johnny was only half way to the patch of clover when Sammy screamed. Back scrambled Johnny Chuck as fast as he could. When he found it was just a joke he scolded as only he can scold. This tickled Sammy Jay and he flew away laughing. You see, Sammy didn't know how very, very hungry Johnny Chuck was.

By the time jolly, round, red Mr. Sun went to bed behind the Purple Hills hunger and fear had quite cured Johnny Chuck of obstinacy. He would start for home the first thing in the morning.

What To-Day Means To You

"VIRGO"

If September 5th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10.30 a.m. to noon, from 4 p.m. to 5.15 p.m. and 8 p.m to 9.40 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 a.m. to 9.35 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 3.30 p.m.

Astrological influences on September 5th will be of a very negative nature and it would be useless to seek a "Sign in the Heavens," for there will be few to be seen. Artists and writers will put forth very poor work, and would do well to retire to the back-ground, until their inspirations come. Meddlers will upset some pet plan.

The child born on this September 5th will have that self-assurance which will lead it on to adventure, and give it sufficient spunk to stand on its own legs, at a very early age. It will have a severe attack of that adolescent disease called "know-it-all-itis," but will completely recover, without abnormal remedies. It will have a very sound mind.

If born on September 5th, you will be a fighter all your life, and will go after the things you want. You are a man or woman who can stick to your guns, and persist in your aim until your desired achievement is accomplished. The world may call you "lucky," but it would be more correct to call you "plucky," for you'rs are no chance successes. They are the product of your own grit, and hard work. You will have your "flops," for you are ambitious, and every now and then take on too much. It is to your credit, however, that you can step down as gracefully as you can step up.

Good-bye to work would be good-bye to contentment for you. It is easier for you to make opportunities for labor than to make opportunities for leisure. It would not be easy for you to fill the role of a "gilded exquisite," whether you can pay the bills or not. There is little of the snob and nothing of the prig about you. You are friendly, and sociable in an informal way.

Your horoscope favors uncommon pursuits, and many September 8th people have gone into pioneer businesses with success. You should avoid business partnerships, if possible. A late or second marriage is indicated.

"VIRGO"

If September 6th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this day are from 8 a.m. to 9.30 a.m., from 2.30 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 6.15 p.m. to 8 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 1.30 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 10.30 p.m.

A lazy atmosphere will have its effect on most people on September 6th, and indolence may stand in the way of many blessings, which will be out of reach to those who lack the energy to reach for them. Good health should be enjoyed, and "a good day" experienced by chronic invalids. Slightly adverse influences for young lovers.

The child born on this September 8th will be very close-mouthed, and rather a moody little boy or girl. It will be serious minded, a good student, a faithful friend, and a most loyal member of its family. It may not be able to "show off" in a social way, but it will be made of the right kind of clay to secure success, in its chosen field of endeavour.

You have a forceful nature, if born on September 6th, but one which is decidedly lacking in diplomacy. You possees none of the meekness of a lamb, but much of the butting qualities of a ram. The most essential thing in the whole world to you, is to have your own way, although there will be many times, when you will regret the fact that some kind person had not stopped you from having it. If you could reverse your present practice of acting first and thinking afterwards, many things would be left undone, and many words left unspoken.

In spite of the positiveness of your nature, you are not a difficult person with whom to live or work, for those, who understand your ways. You are brusque, but not at heart a bully, and you fall for flattery as easily as anyone. You are generous with your possessions and if you have anything good, you are not happy until you have found it possible to share it with you. You aim to be just, although your justice may not always be softened by mercy. It is difficult for one of your strength of charcater, to understand the weaknesses of others. Your moral integrity is very high.

"GRUDGE" BATTLE AT FOREST HILLS

Lott-Parker Match Promises to be Highlight of Third Round.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (C.P.) — Tennis addicts at Forest Hills turned their attention to-day from the main business at hand—the battle for Ellsworth Vines Jr's., national championship crown—to concentrate their enthusiasm on a "grudge" match that may have no bearing at all on the title fight.

The principals were George Lott, Jr., the veteran Davis Cup star from Chicago, and Frankie Parker, the 16-year-old Milwaukee lad, who practically has ruined the present outdoor season for his older rival. Their battle promises to provide the highlight of the third round.

They have clashed five times previously this summer, with victory perching on Parker's banner in four instances.

If Parker does survive to-day's hurdle, he might cause plenty of trouble. Between him and a semi-final against Vines are such stars as "Bunny" Austin of England, Clifford Sutter and Takeo Kuwabara, champion of Japan, but none of them is much, if any, tougher than Lott, who was good enough to reach the final round a year ago.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 6. (CP) — The Aurora Jockey Club last night called off the 13-day meeting now in progress after but two days of racing.

The track was one of two running in the Chicago area. Announcement of its intention to conduct the Fall meeting came as a surprise to turf followers as the dates had been previously announced for the Lincoln fields track.

Attendance at the Aurora' track Labor Day was less than 5,000. At the same time a crowd of 31,000 attended at Lincoln fields.

TITLES SETTLED VANCOUVER MEET

Three Canadian Pro Mat Championships Settled—Fourth Undecided.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6. (CP) — Three Canadian professional wrestling championships were decided here late last night while the fourth on the program went undecided after an hour's wrestling.

Champions crowned were:

Lightweight: George Woods, Vancouver.

Light heavyweight: Herbert Parks New Westminster.

Heavyweight: Jack Forsgren, Vancouver.

The title that went undecided was the middleweight, in which Jack McLaughlin, Winnipeg, and Lachman Singh, Vancouver, went the hour route. After 30 minutes of wrestling without a fall, the judges ordered another 15 minutes and when that was finished another extra 15 minutes was ordered. Another extra session was in the offing when Singh refused to continue. McLaughlin refused to concept the title. Whether another bout will be arranged between the pair was undecided and no formal award of the title was made.

Woods defeated Norm Wood, another Vancouver wrestler, to win the lightweight division belt. He took the first fall with a flying wristlock and the second with a shoulder butt.

Parks was awarded the light heavyweight title after winning the first with a head scissors and cross body hold over Jack Idler, Winnipeg. Idler refused to continue. Tom Knuston, Edmonton, was eliminated by Parks on a decision in the semi-finals Saturday night.

Forsgren won the heavyweight title in straight falls from Ken North, north Vancouver. He took the first with a cross body hold and the second with a body press.

Queen City Cricketers Make Fine Showing in Robertson Cup Match.

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—The John Ross Robertson Cup, emblematic of the cricket championship of Canada, last night seemed destined to return to the clubhouse of the Toronto Cricket Club as the result of the first day's play here against the defending West Indian Cricket Club of Montreal. Toronto scored 178 runs in their first innings, and the West Indians replied with only 67 and had to follow on. In their second time at the wicket the Montrealers had made 37 runs for the loss of four when stumps were drawn for the day. The match will finish to-day.

DOUBLE-HEADER OPENS INDOOR SOFTBALL LOOP

A mixed double header opens the autumn indoor softball league to-night at the Brock. The two men's teams, finalists in the city league, Red and White Stores and Sugar Bowl, start it off at 7.15. They are followed at 8.45 by the girls' teams, Westcloox and C. G. E. The Brock has been fixed up for this game and good crowds are expected.

These games will not commence until the Keene-Maple-Leafs' play-off game at the Bowl this evening is over, so that players and fans may take in the contests at both places. Admission is ten cents for adults and five for children.

18-Pound 'Lunge Is Caught At The Locks

Perseverance had its reward for two local fishermen over the week-end.

From early Sunday morning till late in the afternoon Wilfred Davis and Fred Campbell of Chamberlain street had cast and recast their lines over the waters of the Otonabee River and Rice Lake without so much as a strike.

Arriving within the city limits in the evening with not so much as a sunfish to show for their day's fishing, the two anglers undiscouraged made their way to the Locks Bridge and soon afterwards had landed a fine lunge weighting eighteen to twenty pounds. It measured forty inches in length and had a girth of seventeen inches. The fishermen used a Lucky Strike bait made locally by F. Edgar.

It was also reported by other anglers at the looks over the week-end that a monster lunge had been seen trailing a length of fishing line which was attached to a stout hook embedded in its mouth. The fish was said to be fairly well exhausted but despite that fact attempts to catch it proved futile.

TARZAN AT THE EARTH'S CORE No. 2

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service, Inc.)

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Tarzan spoke, the young man advanced toward the Ape-Man. There was a smile on his eager face. "YOU are Lord Greystroke?" he asked. "Here, I am Tarzan, of the Apes," replied the foster-son of Kala, the great she-ape. "Then luck is certainly with me!" cried the young man, 'for I have come all the way from southern California, expressly to find you!" "Who are you,' demanded the Ape-Man, 'and what do you want of Tarzan of the Apes?"

'My name is Jason Gridley," replied the other, 'and what I have come to talk to you about is a long story. Perhaps wou will think it is a fantastic tale," he laughed, "but you are the one person in all the world who can help me in a strange adventure. I hope you will come with me after I have told you my plans." The Ape-Man watched the American keenly as he spoke, and his curiosity became aroused at Jason Gridley's earnestness.

"Where do you intend making camp?" asked Tarzan. 'My guide deserted us yesterday," replied Jason. 'none of my men are familiar with this country. Is there a suitable campsite near?" "Within a mile," said the Ape-Man, "one with good water." So the safari resumed its way, the blacks happy at the prospect of an early camp. After their evening meal, the young American lost no time in outlining his amazing plan, which appealed to Tarzan's adventurous nature.

Far into the night Jason Gridley talked. Tarzan scarcely uttered a word. At last the American ended. Then he turned to Tarzan, saying: 'That's my big idea—and now I suppose it is going to be difficult to convince you I am not crazy!" The Ape-Man arose and said: 'You would have me believe the world is a hollow sphere, containing life within its interior? And you wish me to descend with you into the bowels of the earth?"

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

A CLOSE CALL.

The Canadian National Railway crossing gates on Hunter ter Street west narrowly escaped being smashed-up early this afternoon, while the driver of J. L. P. Smith's plumbing truck probably had a bad scare.

The truck approached the crossing from the east just at the moment that the gates were swinging down into position to bar the way to traffic. Edging through in the nick of time the truck stopped on the tracks but got out of the way before a shunting freight train lumbered by.

UNIQUE COB OF CORN

Eighteen nches in length and full of golden ripe kernels a cob of corn grown in the garden of Allie Clark at Cobourg was brought into The Examiner office this morning. The great size of the corn cob is by no means the only remarkable feature. It possesses seven offshoots of lesser cobs all in a state of similar perfection.

E. G. FERGUSON WINS THE CLOCK

Interest-Holding Contest at McBride & Franks Closed Saturday Night.

For the past eight-days considerable interest has been manifest in MMcBride and Franks great Opportunity Sale, and many a thrifty householder has picked up bargains in top grade furniture and house furnishings that they will remember with the utmost satisfaction for years to come.

A feature of this big selling event was the estimating contest for a handsome Grandfather Electric Clock, valued in the regular way at $24.95. This popular contest closed at 10 o'clock Saturday night, when an examination of the estimating blanks—nearly two thousands of them—revealed E. G. Ferguson, 594 Charlotte Street as the prize winner. The lucky number sealed in an envelope and attached to the prize displayed in the east window, was 583, the number estimated by Mr. Ferguson; and while several contestants guessed very closely to these winning figures, he was the only one whose estimate was exact to the very unit.

Mr. Ferguson is to be congratulated upon winning a very handsome and useful prize indeed.

GERMANY HURLS GAUNTLET DOWN ON ARMAMENTS

States She Will Quit World Disarmament Group Unless Given Equality.

NO IDLE THREAT.

Italy, Hitherto Backing Germany, Insists Case Be Settled at Geneva.

BERLIN, Sept. 7 (A.P.)—A German ultimatum, announcing that she will quit the World Disarmament Conference unless the powers agree to grant her equality in armaments, was before the world today.

From a clear sky last night Foreign Minister Baron Konstantin Von Neurath published the text of the Government's aide memoire to France, containing its arms equality demands. The document was handed to the French Ambassador more than a week ago.

The note also suggested "confidential talks between the French and German Governments." Its publication followed a recent statement made at Koenigsberg by Defense Minister General Kurt Von Schleicher, who said if Germany is not granted arms equality she will arm anyway.

Means What He Says

The Defense Minister, recognized as a power behind the Von Papen Cabinet, added that he meant what he said.

Foreign Minister Von Neprath's threat was acknowledged in principle and featured to-day in the section of the German morning press which supports the Von Papen regime.

"It is already certain to-day," the Foreign Minister said in an interview, "that it is impossible for Germany to participate in further deliberations at the Disarmament Conference before the question of Germany's equality has been clarified in principle. We have offered for debate the question of our equality, not our arming."

The Socialist newspaper, Vorwaerts, however, called attention to the fact that Italy which alone thus far has announced its support of Germany's position, has insisted the question be settled at Geneva.

Coalition Hopes Shaken

Hopes of the Nazis and Centrists that a coalition might be affected to unseat the Von Papen regime were given a severe jolt last night by a speech by Herman Goering, Nazi president of the Reichstag.

"Negotiations with the Centrists would be a sin against the Holy Ghost," Goering, who is one of Adolf Hitler's chief lieutenants, said. "All we are doing is to chat with them. The Nazis do not fear a new dissolution of the Reichstag."

The Government was reported to be determined to dissolve the Reichstag, however, before either a motion of non-confidence or a motion to rescind the emergency decrees can be voted upon. The Reichstag agenda for Monday contains a single point—a Government declaration.

FARMERS MASS TO BLOCK ROADS

Sheriff Swears in 200 Special Deputies at Sioux City as Trouble Brews.

SEVERAL TRUCKERS HURT.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Sept. 7. — Sheriff R. E. Rippey of Plymouth County mobilized about 200 special deputies to-day upon reports that 1,000 farmers' holiday adherents were massing at James, with the expresesd intention of preventing 22 trucks of livestock from reaching markets here.

The deputies were armed with clubs and shot guns, and were sent to the place where Monday several hundred farmers, who seek higher agricultural prices by keeping produce from the markets, attacked drivers of 14 trucks and threw scrap iron, clubs, timbers, and stones at the machines. Four drivers were hurt.

One report Sheriff Rippey received was that the pickets had poured gasoline over the highway and planned to ignite it at the approach of the trucks.

Previously Rippey had warned the holiday workers that any attempts at violence would result in wholesale arrests.

Meanwhile plans were going forward for a Governor's conference here Friday.

Paul Bern, one of Hollywood's leading producer-executives, shown here with Jean Harlow, his platinum-blonde bride of two months, shot himself to death after writing a mysterious note to Miss Harlow, apologizing for the "frightful wrong" he had done her. Miss Harlow, who was prostrated when informed of her husband's death, issued a statement last night in which she contradicted intimations of police that there had been a quarrel in the Bern family.

Red-Haired Man Wanted by Police

Coroner's Inquest is Held Into the Death of Harry Thomas.

NOT QUARRELSOME.

Blood-stained Knife Found in Boathouse Property of "Michigan Shorty."

A coroner's jury last night tried to piece together, from the meagre evidence produced by nine witnesses—three of them being denizens of the jungle"—the events of the tragedy enacted late Saturday night or early Sunday morning in a boat-house on Little Lake at the foot of Burnham street in which Harry Thomas, son of a well known Belleville business man and a veteran of the 2nd Battery, C.E.F., received the knife-thrust that caused his instant death.

"That the said Harry Thomas came to his death through a hemorrhage caused by a stab of a knife in the left breast in the hands of some unknown person on Saturday, September 3, or Sunday, September 4, 1932, in a boat-house at the south end of Burnham street in the city of Peterborough," was the finding of the jury.

Michigan Shorty

Several of the witnesses had described "Michigan Shorty" or "Campbellford Shorty," the man who occupied the boat-house with the slain man and another transient, called "Yank" as being red-headed and inclined to baldness. Evidence showed that the blood-stained table-knife, which police found in the boat-house and which is clearly the weapon used in committing the murder, was the property of this "Michigan Kid," who was described as having a bad temper and whose wild appearance and strange behaviour had produced such an effect upon Maurice Gainey, local man, that he would not go near the boat-house while the "Kid" was about.

"Let's hope that the police will catch this red-haired man," was Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young's comment to the jury after their finding had been read.

The inquest was conducted before Dr. Young by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C.

Nothing throwing any light upon what occured in the boat-house just previous to the stabbing was brought out. But it was clearly shown that Thomas had been stabbed near the door of the boat-house and had then staggered or was dragegd to his bunk in the opposite corner where his life-blood quickly gushed from the deep wound.

"The knife-thrust was made by a man used to handling a knife," was the opinion of Dr. J. M. O'Brien, who was one of two medical men to perform an autopsy on Thomas' body. "A man with a strong, dexterous wrist."

Dr. Herbert Young gave as his opinion that "the blow was a force-

THIEVES STEAL CASH REGISTER

Three Business Places Entered by Thieves in Hastings.

SAFE BROKEN INTO.

HASTINGS, Sept. 7 (Examiner Correspondent).—Provincial Police from Cobourg are working in conjunction with the local police office in an effort to catch thieves who last night broke into three business premises here.

The premises entered were the Imperial Oil Company's warehouse, Bond's Service Station on Front Street, and W. M. Fowld's office on Bridge Street.

Removing a staple and a lock to effect an entry to the oil warehouse, the thieves apparently left again without finding anything that appealed to their fancies. At Bond's entry was made by means of a skeleton key, and it was from here that a cash register was stolen. Minus its contents, believed to have amounted to about five dollars, the rifled register was found out on the Norwood Road this morning three miles, or so out of town.

A fire and other small articles was stolen from Mr. Fowld's office and the vault was also entered. Mr. Fowld, when seen by The Examiner following the discovery of the robbery, was unable to state what had been stolen from the safe.

Thieves recently stole 130,000 cigarettes from the Bristol, England, post office.

MURDER VICTIM IS LAID TO REST IN BELLEVILLE

Rev. A. L. Geen, Chaplain to Legion, Conducts Thomas Funeral Service.

IMPRESSIVE TRIBUTE.

Owing to Illness Parents Were Unable to Attend Funeral Service.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 7.—Harry Thomas of Belleville, who was allegedly murdered in Peterborough early Sunday, was buried here yesterday, many of his former comrades in the Second Field Battery being in attendance as well as many private citizens, who had known the deceased since his boyhood. The funeral was of a private nature, interment being in Belleville Cemetery.

Owing to illness, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Thomas, were unable to attend. Rev. A. L. Geen, chaplain of the Legion, officiated, while his brothers: Walter, Lawrence and George Thomas; his brother-in-law, Harry Stewart, and two intimate friends, William and Harry Green, acted as pallbearers.

The deceased enlisted in Valcartier in 1914 with the 34th Battery from this city, and later was transferred to the 2nd C.F.A., and he served with that unit for the duration of hostilities. He was blown up at Ypres, and was some months in hospitals. He was demobilized in November, 1918, and spent a few years in this city before moving to Windsor.

COUPLE PERISH IN SUICIDE PACT

Note in Young Bride's Purse States They Were Secretly Wed in May.

GUN MISSING.

SYDNEY, N. S., Sept. 7.—(By the Canadian Press). — A note addressed to "The General Public" to-day told of a secret marriage and a love suicide pact as police investigated the death of William Rosnek, 29, and pretty Joyce Roberts, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roberts.

The two were found last night, lying wounded and groaning on the bank of a small brook at Table Head, near Glace Bay. Blood was gushing from bullet holes in their heads. They died early this morning.

Note Found in Purse.

In Miss Roberts' purse the police found this note:

"We were married on May 24, 1932, and have decided to go this way. Our only request is that we be waked and buried together. May we rest in peace. Husband and wife."

Traffic Officer Daniel Brown and Patrolman David Noland were nearby investigating an automobile accident, when the fatal shots were fired.

Hearing the reports, Brown left the scene of the accident and walked past the Table Head Club and into the field. He flashed his light as he neared the brook and saw the girl lying almost at his feet. Twelve feet away, he saw the man

Descriptions of Three Men Wanted in Murder Case

Search for the three men wanted by local police in connection with the murder here of Harry Thomas is widening out. Descriptions, obtained from fellow-denizens of the local jungle, of the three have been sent out to all police over a wide area, and the chase is believed to be closing in on the fugitives.

The descriptions as sent out on Sunday are as follows:

"Wanted for murder—Campbellford Shorty alias Michigan Kid, Canadian, 40 to 45 years old, 5 feet 4 inches in height, fair complexion, inclined to be sandy, turning grey, and getting bald on front of head; weight 145 pounds, khaki shirt, grey pants, grey cap.

"An American, called Yank 24 or 25 years old, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall; complexion and hair fair, thin face, very white teeth, two missing centre of lower jaw; dressed in navy blue suit, brown fedora hat; very clean appearance; speaks with Southern accent; has apparently been well brought up.

"McDonald, 30, about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches tall, well built, half French, half Indian, commonly called The Wire; is an expert at making wire egg-lifters; originally from the Iroquois Reservation at Cornwall; is addicted to the use of rubbing alcohol."

50 Million Project Finally Receives Federal Sanction

Passing Of Order-in-Council Removes Any Obstacle In Way Of Beauharnois Filling Its Contract With Ontario Hydro By October 1.

COMPANY MUST HAVE 35,000 HORSEPOWER READY FOR COMMISSION UPON THAT DATE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(C.P.). — Plans for the general works of the $50,000,000 Beauharnois project have been approved by the Dominion Government. Official announcement to this effect was made to-day.

The plans given the stamp of approval include the 14-mile Beauharnois canal between Lake St. Louis and Lake St. Francis, near Montreal, which will shortly be conveyed by the company to the Dominion. This canal—to form a link in the St. Lawrence seaways proposals—will come under the administration of Hon. Robert J. Manior, Minister of Railways and Canals. The width of the navigation canal will be 3300 feet with a depth of 27 feet.

Passing of the order-in-council sanctioning the plans removes any obstacle in the way of the Beauharnois concern fulfilling its contract with the Ontario Hydro Commission on October 1.

Take 2 $50,000,000

According to the terms of this contract, the company will make 35,000 horse power available on that date for the use of the commission. This amount is to be increased gradually until a total of 250,000 horse power is placed at the disposal of the Hydro authorities at the end of five years.

Transfer Shortly.

Signing of the agreement by the Dominion and the company for the transfer of the canal to Canada is expected to take place shortly. Drafting of the document is virtually completed. Amply protecting navigational rights of the Dominion and contemplating the use of the canal for the greater St. Lawrence scheme, the provisions in the agreement control the character of all bridges, spans and similar works constructed by the company in connection with the canal.

Don Crates His Boat To Be Shipped Home

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 7 (C.P.)—Kaye Don is to leave Windsor early Thursday by airplane for Toronto. He will be accompanied by his manager, William F. Sturm, and Mrs. Sturm. They are due in Toronto Airport before noon.

To-day his craft, Miss England III, is being placed on a freight car at the Ford Motor Company plant in East Windsor and will go direct to Montreal, to be sent to England on the Duchess of York. No repairs are being made to motors before inspection in England.

Don plans to sail from New York on September 16 for England.

ENGINE HITS TANK CAR 10,000 GALLONS GAS LOST

BRANTFORD, Ont., Sept. 7 (C.P.) —Ten thousand gallons of gasoline were flowing through the Canadian National Railways yards here today, after a yard engine struck a tank car and stove in one end.

The engine also was damaged. Railway employees dared risk of fire and explosion to remove the tank car and the locomotive. Red hot ashes from the locomotive fell perilously close to the spilled gasoline, but no fire resulted.

NIGHT CLASS MINIMUM SET AT 15 PUPILS

997 Students Registered at Collegiate on Opening Day.

BOARD MEETS.

Pupils Unable to Report on Account of Lack of Clothing.

A minimum enrolment of fifteen in each class will be required in the formation of night school classes at the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School this year, according to a decision reached by the Board of Education last night. The change was made on the recommendation of the Vocational Committeee under the chairmanship of James Dutton; the former minimum being ten.

A recommendation in the same report that classes for instruction in stationary engineering and brick laying be established and that a class in salesmanship be considered, was withdrawn by the chairman of the committee and tabled for the present on the grounds that the financial situation and employment conditions do not warrant the step. However, recommendations to accept the class for new Canadians and the nursing class were adopted.

A record attendance total of 997 students on the opening of the Collegiate and Vocational School yesterday was reported to the Board by Principal H. R. H. Kenner. In the academic section 558 were enrolled, and 438 in the vocational section. The vocational enrollment was made up of 220 in Commercial, 170 in Industrial Arts, and 148 in Household Arts.

The total represented a gain of 60 over last year's enrollment at the Collegiate, which comprised of 540 in the academic section and 397 in the vocational section. Last year's Commercial enrollment was 224, Industrial Arts, 148, and Household Arts, 25.

A number of pupils were unable

Andy Cleland Wins Wakefield Trophy

WATERFRONT, Toronto, Sept. 7.—(By the Canadian Press.) — Andy Cleland, Hamilton, won the Lord Wakefield trophy, emblematic of the British Empire outboard motor boat championship at the Canadian National Exhibition Regatta to-day. Cleland negotiated the 10 mile course in 18:10 to win by 100 yards. Art Heavens, Oakville, was second. The race was open only to British Empire drivers.

The Weather

White frost on the roofs of many buildings this morning was an indication that summer was passing. The temperature was at 43 degrees. A year ago to-day was Labor Day. It was clear and bright, but was followed from the 9th to 13th by some very warm weather, for any time but a record for September. On the 9th it was 91; on the 10th, 93; 11th, 90; 12, 89; and on the 13th, 92. Then came the Peterborough Fair, with showers on every day and heavy rain on the 17th and 19th. Here's hoping the sun may shine, and success crown the efforts of the Fair Directors this year.—W.P.

NO TRACE FOUND OF THREE HOBOS COMB COUNTRY

Transients in Eastern Ontario Rounded Up For Questioning.

LIKELY "HOLED UP."

Michigan Kid Was Reported on Train Bound for Kingston.

Although every police officer throughout Eastern Ontario is on the qui vive for the appearance in their district of any of three men wanted here in connection with the murder of Harry Thomas, their watchful lookout has failed so far in its purpose. Although four days have elapsed since the slaying in the boathouse, no definite trace has been found yet of the three men who quietly slipped from the jungle following the killing, like wraiths into the darkness of the storm that was then sweeping this district.

Transients Questioned.

Telephone and telegraph wires have been busy since Sunday afternoon speeding messages through to Chief Newhall concerning the movements of hundreds of transients. In distant villages, north and east, suspicious-appearing tramps were picked up by the watchful police and held for questioning in connection with the crime.

Many times such police officers thought they had surely picked up the "Michigan Kid" alias "Campbellford Shorty," the "Yank," or "Wire" McDonald, but in each case communication with Peterborough police proved that the man held was not connected with the slaying, and that the search was still as far from success as on Sunday morning when Thomas' cold body was found slumped on his bunk.

All "jungles" between here and Tweed were combed Monday by a detachment of Peterborough police, but the trail of the fugitives was not picked up.

Bound for Kingston.

A telephone call from Sharbot Lake at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon created a stir at the local station. The message stated that a man answering the "Michigan Kid's" description was seen in

U. S. DRIVERS TAKE HONORS

American and Canadian Speed Boat Drivers Vie for Supremacy at Toronto.

WATER SURFACE SMOOTH.

(By Jack Hambleton—C.P. Staff Writer).

LAKEFRONT, Toronto, Sept. 7.—Driving like madmen, speed boat drivers from the United States and Canada vied for supremacy here today, as the Canadian National Exhibition's power boat meet opened. With a cold north-westerly wind blowing, but the surface of the lake fairly smooth, the leaping crafts shot through their paces with every event a real fight.

R. A. Smith, Miami, Okla., carried off the main professional honors of the morning session when he was placed first in the mile race for Class B boats, with Bob and Hub Myers, both of Chicago, finishing second and third. There was one spill, when one of the flying boats struck the wash of a preceding boat and overturned.

Canada scored when Dave Reid, Hudson Heights, Que., won the divisional honors in the Class B race. Reid finishing ninth in the race, was the first amateur and takes the class trophy.

Two Class A races were held this morning, both being over a five-mile course. R. J. Straley, Buffalo, accounted for the first of them, and Tom North, Minneapolis, gathered in the second.

W. Loughlen, Niagara Falls, N.Y., driving Thunderbolt II., easily accounted for the unlimited class of inboard boats. Tom McClure, Toronto, with Miss Windsor was second.

CARR PRESIDES MAYOR'S CHAIR FOR FIRST TIME

MacColl Urges Need of Warning Before Electric Power is Cut Off.

DANGER TO LIFE.

To Ask Bell Telephone Company to Improve Service on Campbellford Central.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 7. (Examiner Staff Reporter).—Presiding over the Town Council meeting here this evening for the first time since his recent election to office, Mayor H. N. Carr voiced his appreciation of the honor that had been conferred upon him.

"I desire to express appreciation of the privelege you have conferred upon me to preside over the deliberations of this council" said the Mayor prior to the disposal of routine business. "While I feel diffident about assuming office I feel confident of the full and sympathetic co-operation of the council. I hope we will work together amicably in the interests of this town and continue to restrict expenditures so far as is possible and practicable."

Danger to Life

During the course of the council session Deputy Reeve Alex MacColl called to the attention of the members the danger which might result from the practice of cutting off electric power without warning. In consequence a resolution was passed on motion of Deputy Reeve MacColl authorizing that a recommendation be sent from the Council to the Water and Light Commission urging that the public be notified well in advance of any contemplated shut down of the power supply.

In the discussion which arose on the matter, it was stated by the Deputy Reeve that recently a surgeon attending a confinement case had been left in the dark through a failure of the power supply. The lights had gone off during the night just at a most critical period and according to the doctor, another five minutes of darkness on that occasion would have cost a woman's life.

The Deputy Reeve believed that in all probability the result of the failure at the power plant was due to faulty equipment.

Public Should Be Warned

Mayor Carr stated that recently changes of apparatus had been made at the power house. He agreed however that if such changes were contemplated the public should be warned of the hours at which the lights would be cut off.

It was also said that the public was usually notified of power shut downs which occurred in the day time. When the power was cut off at night time it was done without warning.

The members of the Council were particularly impressed by the danger to human life which might result from a power failure at night and also by the great inconvenience that might be caused to manufacturers.

By resolution the Council decided to make representations to the Bell Telephone Company requiring the company to take steps to improve the telephone service on Campbellford Central.

It was stated in discussion that there was an absolute lack of proper service in the town. The fault did not rest with the telephone operators, it was stated. Rates had been put up and the staffs cut a year ago. Since then the service had steadily got worse. It was now worse than it had ever been.

Among the communications read by the town clerk and which were referred to the chairman of the Relief Committee was a letter from the Minister of the Department of Lands and Forests regarding the back-to-the-land movement.

It was stated by the Mayor that there was one family in town who was interested in establishing themselves on the land under the Government scheme. He thought it advisable that the Council should take the case into consideration.

Another communication which constituted a comprehensive treatise on the problem of unemployment relief was received from the Department of Labor and was referred also to the Relief Committee.

On motion of Councillors F. Long and J. R. Battersby, a pool-room license was granted to C. A. O'Connor, an old-established resident of town.

An application from Frank Blake to erect two gasoline pumps on a vacant lot just north of his store on George Street was referred to the Town Property Committee. Discussion on the matter arose as to the rights of property owners erecting gasoline pumps at the curb.

The date of Campbellford Court of Revision was set for October 17 at 7.30 p.m.

AIRD "PAYMENT" NOT RIGHT TERM SAYS RIDDELL

Judge States Cash Was Part of Purchase Money Insisted on by Vendor.

Hydro Has Done No Wrong.

Glad to Get Evidence From Anyone—Onus to Lie Upon Attacker.

TORONTO, Sept. 6. —(C. P.). — "Upon the written testimony and documents what is called the payment to Aird was not in fact a payment and was not properly described," declared Mr. Justice W R. Riddell in resuming the investigation into certain affairs of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission and its dealings with John Aird, Jr., of Toronto, to-day.

Referring particularly to the payment of $50,000 to Aird by the Hydro in connection with the purchase of certain rights on the Madawaska river, Mr. Justice Riddell said: "It is quite plain the payment to Aird for services rendered was part of the purchase money insisted on by the vendor."

Hydro Done No Wrong.

The Hydro, according to His Lordship, had done nothing wrong. "At present we cannot see anything which the Hydro board did which they ought not to have done, or anything they left undone which they ought to have done We shall be glad to get any evidence from anyone.

"We shall not call upon Mr Tilley, W. E. N. Tilley, K. C., (Counsel for the Royal Commission which had been investigating Hydro) or whoever may be representing the Hydro board to give any further evidence, but the onus will be cast upon any person attacking the impropriety to establish the impropriety.

"We do not regard 'propriety' solely with integrity subjective; but objective propriety, not one in which the Hydro Board acted sincerely and honestly with the public but propriety with a business point of view which they entered into on behalf of the public. If any person has any evidence that they should not have entered into after prudent investigation from proper sources in the carrying out of business, we shall be glad to hear of it."

Have Read Evidence.

Mr. Justice Riddell, with Hon. G H Sedgewick, had read over the evidence taken at the investigation. The late Hon. J. C. Orde's death necessitated the appointment of the two justices to conclude the investigation.

The Commission investigated the payment of $50 000 to Aird in connection with Madawaska; the payment of $125,000 to Aird by the Beauharnois Power Corporation in connection with Hydro contracts; and the payment of $22 000 000 by the Hydro for the assets of the Dominion Power and Transmission, Limited, at Hamilton.

$10,000 Bottle of Beer

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 7.—(C.P.). — State Senator Paul Houser fyled a claim to-day for $10,000 insurance money on the ground that a bottle of pre-prohibition beer which he had displayed in beer parades was shot to pieces from ambush by an unidentified marksman. Houser said he had insured the beer against theft or destruction.

CAMPBELLFORD SCHOOLS OPEN

Slight Increases in Attendance Reported By Principals of Three Schools.

TEACHER CHANGES.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 7. — (Examiner Staff Reporter). — The school population here got down to work in earnest this morning with the happy carefree days of the summer holidays but a memory. The school bell tolled yesterday morning to announce the resumption of classes for the Fall term, but little was accomplished in the public, separate or high schools in the way of studies. Reorganisation and registration was the main order of the day.

Principals of each of the schools in town report slight increases in attendance as compared with the corresponding period of a year ago.

At the High School according to Principal E. H. Greig, 199 pupils answered the roll, while the prospects are for even heavier enrollment in the course of the next few days. "The school bus from Roseneath and Hastings had a full load this morning, while there was also a good representation from the Orland route," Mr. Greig told the Examiner.

One of the changes on the High School staff, which now comprises the head and six teachers is the appointment of E. E Darling.

In the town's public schools, the approximate number of students enrolled yesterday according to Principal Chas. S. Haig was 474, an increase over last year of about twenty pupils.

Changes on the teaching staff include the appointment of Miss Enid Richardson who is taking senior and junior third classes, in place of Miss M. C. Watson, junior fourth class mistress who resigned in June last. The staff is now made up of the principal and eleven teachers.

Regarding the Separate School, Rev. C. J. Phelan informed the Examiner that close to 82 pupils were present for the opening of school yesterday morning. It was an increase over last year of about fifteen students. The Principal Sister Dolores has as her assistant this term Sister Frances Xavier.

Cement is thought to have been first made in Canada between the years 1830 and 1840, at the Wright plant, Hull, Quebec.

COUNCIL ASKS DEPARTMENT TO IMPROVE NORTHERN ROADS

Hope Work Will Be Part of a Relief Programme.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS.

Formal request to the Department of Highways to improve the Apsley-Bancroft road and also the western boundary road from Bobcaygeon to the Burnt River turn was made in a resolution by A'd Turner, seconded by A'd. Tuggey at last night's meeting of the Council.

This appeal to the Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways, was the result of a recent conference between Ald. Turner's committee and the local members of the Legislature, J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., and T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P. It also expressed the suggestion and hope that the necessary construction of these two roads be carried on during the approaching fall and winter as part of the program of unemployment relief.

The road from Peterborough to Apsley is already well advanced in improvement and a long stretch of the Bobcaygeon-Kinmount road has been improved, but the additional links mentioned in the resolution require considerable reconstruction to bring them to corresponding standard.

No Gypsy Kings

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(C.P.). —Irving Brown, Columbia University Professor, has punctured the belief that gypsies have kings and queens who arrange royal marriages and such like.

The professor, who spends his vacations among the romany rovers, said to-day that the talk about gypsy royalty is "an American fiction." It is against the spirit of gypsies to have rulers, he said.

DYING GANGSTER NAMES THREE

Claims Attackers Were Men He Testified Against in Criminal Trial.

TAKEN FOR "RIDE."

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (C.P.). — They rarely talk, but James Marlo, dying from half a hundred icepick wounds, did.

From a hospital cot early to-day he looked upon the face of Vincent Sorrentino, standing over him between two detectives, and his lips formed the sentence, "He was one of them."

Marlo, not many months out of prison, where he served a sentence for extortion, had been dumped from a car last night on the lawn of a Westbury, Long Island, estate. His attackers believed him dead.

But Marlo lived. He named his attackers. He said they were the three men against whom he had testified recently in a criminal trial. The men had been acquitted. The "ride," Marlo said, was to punish him with death for his testimony.

Sorrentino was held on an assault charge. Marlo's death, doctors said, is a matter of hours.

The rector smiled at the "bobby" who served the summons and promised "an original defence."

GILBERT PARKER WRITER IS DEAD

Noted Canadian Succumbs to Heart Attack—in 70th Year.

BORN NEAR NAPANEE.

LONDON, Sept. 7 (CP)—Sir Gilbert Parker, noted Canadian-born novelist, died here of a heart attack last night, aged 69.

For more than 30 years his name figured from time to time among the best sellers and was best known, perhaps for his novel "The Right of Way" the motion picture of which he also arranged.

His first literary sensation was "The Seats of the Mighty" which sold more than 100,000 copies in 1896.

He was born in Camden East, Ont., Nov. 23, 1862.

Two years ago he was still enthusiastic over plans for continued writing, of which he could visualize no end. He had a year's work on his memoirs, he said, and other plots in his head.

He made frequent visits to Ontario, his native neighborhood, and some years ago purchased a home in Belleville, Ont., where his parents and sister resided many years.

Taught School

Camden East, where he was born, is a few miles north of Napanee, in the public school of which he received his early education. He taught school at Holloway, a few miles north of Belleville for many years and was attached to the staff of the school for the deaf.

After his ordination to holy orders he was curate at Trenton, Ont. Later he decided to attend Trinity College at Toronto and paid his way with fees from elocution instruction.

Sir Gilbert's wife, who died in 1925, is buried in Belleville cemetery.

Surviving Sir Gilbert are a sister, Mrs. Beaumont Jarvis, Toronto, and two brothers Harry of St. Paul, Ont., and Arthur, whose whereabouts are unknown here.

Bluenose Model On Exhibition

Victim Complains, Police Net 8 In Raid

WINDSOR, Sept. 7.—(CP)—When Sidney Young, claiming Toronto as his home, complained to Windsor police that he had been "rolled" for about $125. They started a series of raids which brought eight people into police toils. Three apartments in one building were raided and "blind pig" charges followed.

In police court today Ivan Rivers, pleaded guilty to a "keeping for sale" charge and was sentenced to two months in jail. The others were remanded pending further investigation. Police said that Young undoubtedly lost his cash but no worthwhile clues have been established.

SKINS OF FRUIT AND VEGETABLES, removed when preparing for certain ways of serving and which are usually thrown away, can be utilized to make tasty dishes.

* * * * * * *

So can the food budget be diminished without detriment to the excellence of the table or the nourishing power of the foods.

* * * * * * *

Here is one which is new to me and perhaps some of you readers have never heard of it either. Scrub potato skins thoroughly so that they are perfectly clean.

* * * * * * *

Peel with a vegetable peeler, or with th blade of an apple corer. These shavings of skin which can be a bit thicker than when they would be thrown away, should be kept in water for a meal to follow that when the inside of the potatoes is used, or they can be used first and the potatoes kept.

* * * * * * *

Remove peelings and dry on a cloth. Put some in a frying basket and plunge into hot fat until a delicate brown. Put on brown paper in the oven until all have been fried. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and serve piping hot.

* * * * * * *

These curls are very tasty. The potatoes can be shaved as well as the skins, and both inside and skin be fried in the deep fat and served together. They are a cross between French fried potatoes and potato chips.

* * * * * * *

Most homemakers are familiar with watermelon rind pickle and preserves. Citron melon rind can also be so used. Pare off the green skin and cut the solid white rind into squares, oblongs, or fancy shapes.

* * * * * * *

To five pounds of rind add three and three-quarter pounds of sugar, the juice and rind of one lemon and one orange, and a small piece of ginger root, or a little preserved ginger, cut into small pieces, can be added when the mixture is nearly done.

* * * * * * *

Put into a preserving kettle with barely enough water to cover and cook until rind is clear and juices syrupy. Put in hot jars and seal.

* * * * * * *

When peeling peaches, pears or apples, save the peelings. Cut small. Cook them down either separately or two or more together. Cover with water and add sugar to sweeten.

* * * P R B

Put the stones of peaches with the skins, as they add flavor and can be easily removed. Simmer until skins are tender. The thrifty concoctions can be put in glasses and kept for later use, or they can be added to bread pudding, to pies, tapioca and rice puddings, and improve the flavor, as well as supplying some of the liquid instead of milk or water.

STUDY REQUIRED

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (C.P.)—If the same principles were applied to the human race that are applied to livestock, declared Mrs. Joan Hamilton Shearer of Poole, Ont., to-day the results would be "incredible."

"Time and study are necessary to achieve the success we see reflected in the livestock exhibits here," said Mrs. Shearer, speaking at a Women's Institute program of the Canadian National Exhibition.

The next time you buy coffee, think of this:

If ANY air is inside the tin or package, that coffee has deteriorated, lost flavour. It continues to do so.

If NO air is inside the tin or package, that coffee will keep full-flavoured indefinitely.

Vita-Fresh Process Removes All Oxygen

This new packing method exclusive to Maxwell House absolutely removes and keeps out all oxygen from the sealed tin. No other coffee can be so rich, so smooth, so full-flavoured, because the quality which has made this old Southern blend world-famous is now completely protected.

Present Petition To Douro Council

A farmer of Douro presented a petition to the Douro Council at its meeting September 6th, asking the council to promote help and indirect aid to those farmers needing it on account of not being quite able to meet their ordinary liabilities through poor prices for farm products. It is understood that the Council turned the petition back in favour of direct relief. The question before the people is evidently to be in some municipalities whether those who ought to get assistance are to receive it or to be allowed to follow the course of events.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1932.

A DISSAPOINTING COMPETITION.

The Harmsworth Cup races in which the veteran Gar Wood was once more victorious proved a great disappointment not only to Britishers who were hoping for a win for the popular Kaye Don, the British challenger, but to all those who appreciate a hard fought and spectacular sporting event.

The element of chance which on every other occasion has entered into these speed boat contests, once more decided the victor and in such a manner that the competition was robbed of most of its thrill and color.

Here was the defender with a new super-powered boat said to have turned up a speed of 125 miles an hour, meeting a challenger also provided with a new boat that had established a new world's speed record of about 120 miles.

With two such drivers and two such machines a wildly exciting series of races at speeds never approached in the history of the Harmsworth competition were looked for—and what really happened was not even a fair imitation of what was expected.

With the challenger disabled near the end of the first race and soon after the start of the second, the contest became a walkaway for the American veteran, who in both cases had merely to idle through the remaining miles to ensure victory.

The race was disappointing both as a contest and because of its failure to bring out the speed both craft were capable of; it proved nothing except that the British boat "cracked up" at the critical moment.

TIME FOR ACTION.

When "jungle" life gets down to the level of knife-play and wandering unemployed are done to death, it becomes time for society to step in and deal with such conditions before their seriousness is increased.

The Advisory Committee on unemployment recommended internment farms for transients who failed to establish a residence, urging that all wanderers who refused to comply with this condition should be placed on these farms and compelled to work for the board and shelter provided.

This feature of the committee's report should be adopted without hesitation, for unless this roaming round the country of large bodies of men who find it difficult to pick up a living along the road is stopped we will build up a condition that will have tremendous possibilities for evil.

A wandering irresponsible life, in a period when public generosity is easily taken advantage of and transportation, food and shelter are accessible for the asking, is the sort of training that breeds not only permanent tramps but turns out a menacing crop of criminals.

There are decent fellows, really anxious to work, who are drifting about Ontario at the present time, but the circumstances of tramp life demoralize many whose original intentions were good and the longer the racket is permitted and supported the worst will be its fruits.

The Advisory Committee has suggested the right remedy; the government take hold of all transients who refuse to establish a residence.

THE WRONG WAY.

The Ontario Muncipal Association at its meeting in Toronto on Saturday gave approval to a resolution calling upon the Ontario Legislature to grant power to municipal councils to supervise and control educational expenditures of Boards of Education.

The Examiner's views on this matter have been presented before, but in view of this action on the part of the Municipal Association it will do no harm to state them again.

While the present system of having Boards of Education elected by the people remains in force we submit that it is illogical to insist that the expenditures of such a body should be controlled by another elective body.

Both municipal councils and Boards of Education receive their authority from the people and both are equally responsible to those whose representatives they are; if either body is extravagant or inefficient the remedy lies in the hands of the electorate, and certainly while that condition prevails there is no more logical reason why municipal councils should control the expenditures of school boards than there is why school boards should control the expenditures of municipal councils.

The Association should have taken a leaf from the book of the Kidd Commission and gone on record as favoring the abolition of school boards and the placing of responsibility for providing and directing educational facilities upon the municipal council.

That proposal would have been sound basically; which the resolution the municipal authorities have adopted certainly was not.

REAL DRIVING

Insurance companies are naturally vitally concerned with the question of automobile fatalities for the slaughter on the highways cuts deeply into insurance profits.

The bigger companies have been endeavoring to deal with the situation by carrying on educational campaigns, one of the most recent being the action of the Metropolitan Insurance Company, which has issued a booklet entitled "Encourage Real Driving in Your Community."

The publication has been designed in the hope that it will build up a community spirit of safety in the operation of motor vehicles by bringing all the force of public opinion to bear on the subject.

The Examiner is thoroughly in accord with this campaign and would like to see it succeed, but must admit that the task of arousing public opinion to the seriousness of the situation often seems an impossible one.

It is not difficult to get people who do not own cars to see that the toll being taken by the automobile is appalling but the majority of drivers have the faculty of disassociating themselves from any idea of danger to themselves that it is apparently a hopeless task to awaken them to the feeling that it is time that safer driving conditions were established.

If an epidemic were raging in any particular locality most people would stay away from that district, if it hit their own neighborhood they would resort to vaccination or any other preventive medical skill might suggest.

Yet with an agency of transportation that is taking more lives than any epidemic, it is impossible apparently to get motorists to realize the dangers of the situation or to take ordinary precaution against accident or death.

"Real Driving" is a consummation devoutly to be wished and it would be a great day for Peterborough if all our car-owners would live up in support of the movement.

THE PROFESSIONAL BEGGAR.

One business that flourishes even at the peak of the depression is that of the professional beggar—and there are many of them on the streets today. Even in times when employment was plentiful there was a certain type of man who preferred to beg rather than work. When the wheels of industry commenced to slacken their speed and men were being thrown out of jobs, the beggar's business picked up. Today he is making a better living than the average man who is doing an honest day's work.

The professional beggar today is an artist. When he raps at the door and asks for money (he wants nothing else) or when he makes a "touch" on the street for a cup of coffee, he sees to it that his mouth droops down at both ends. He hunches his shoulders as much as to say, "pity me." He probably has money in his pockets to be dressed in respectable clothes, but he wears the oldest ones he can get. He is as much a make-up artist and character actor as any cinema star, because his "profession" demands it.

It is this sponger and parasite, who begs his living from other people's earnings, who is making it hard, awfully hard, for the man who is really up against it. There are thousands in this latter category today who are turning their hands to anything that may bring a little money into the family coffers. Many of them are selling articles from door to door, and that is where the parasite is making it most difficult for them. The professional beggar has so well established himself, and has become such an artist in his own sphere, that the housekeeper is unable any longer to distinguish between the man who is worthy of help and the man who is not.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Out of a day's contributions from sundry Government publicity departments we take the following items of evidence in the case for optimism and confidence:

Canada's exports to twelve British dominions and colonies were higher in July than in the corresponding month of last year.

Exports of condensed milk were up 33 percent. in July, of evaporated milk 99½ per cent., of milk powder 27 percent.

The city of Toronto has let a contract at $1,056,000 for a water purification plant.

Ontario's gold production for the first seven months of the year was well up on last year's. The figures are $26,840,418 and $23,976,874.

Additional capacity of 475,000 bushels is being added to the Government grain elevator at Vancouver.

Automobile production for July in Canada was 7,472 units, which was 5 percent. over June and 77 percent. higher than July of 1931.

Regina is going ahead with preparations for the world's grain show to be held next summer.

A new steamship service between Vancouver and North China is expected to stimulate lumber exports.

And so the record goes. Those who believe the corner has been turned have more than pious hopes to back them up.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Mr. Bennett declares that the depression has reached its lowest level. Let us hope that the Premier is right.

The Harmsworth Trophy races must be classed as a "flop" from a spectacular viewpoint. Challengers do not seem to be able to shake misfortune.

Entries for Peterborough's Industrial Exhibition are already so numerous as to indicate a new record. The reputation of this big annual event is not only wide-spread but solid.

With parliament due to meet in October, Ottawa will be looking forward to getting on the front page again.

Tilsonburg minister opposes the gambling feature involved in sale of tickets in which the purchaser takes a chance, but is still willing, we understand, to perform marriages.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

A country woman's idea of a vacation, according to the Atchison Globe, is to go to her married daughter's home and put up fruit.—Kansas City (Kan.) Star.

If there were jobs for boys and girls who are leaving school, there would be a greater argument in favor of the proposal to reduce the compulsory attendance from sixteen to fifteen years.—Niagara Falls Review.

The conference being what it is, there has got to be bargaining. The thought of such a thing may horrify the good and sadly uniformed people who seem to think that the trade and all the difficulties of the trade of a fourth of the world can be resolved satisfactorily by a pious resolution, but it is nevertheless a reality.—Ottawa Journal.

Dragging Struggling Deer From Lake, Campers Find Wolf Hanging to Flank

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., September 6 (C.P.). — Algoma wolves will not attack a human being, but they will attack a deer while humans have their hands on it, trying to rescue it.

Proof of this was given at Wolf Lake, back of Achigan on the Algoma Central Railway when a party of tourists, led by Stanley Hauxhurst, was camping there. They heard wolves in the bush, quite close to the camp, and went out to investigate.

Embarking in three canoes, members of the party went out on the lake. Approaching the far shore they saw a deer in the water, threshing about frantically. Reaching the animal they attempted to get it into one of the canoes, and found that a big timber wolf had a grip on its flank. With some difficulty the men finally beat the wolf off, and found that the deer was badly mangled.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Urgency of wheat traders who wished to convert profits into cash did much to turn prices sharply backward yesterday after a brisk advance.

Stirred by news that 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels of Government financed domestic wheat would be held off the market until next year, prices made a quick jump of 2⅛ cents, but later dropped nearly all the gain. Tending to incite selling was 3,638,000 bushels increase of the United States wheat visible supply and enlarged hedging pressure at Winnipeg.

Close Is Unsettled

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛-½ above Saturday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, oats off to ⅛c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12c.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.— A firmer undertone in butter and cheese featured the local produce market yesterday, while egg prices marked time at last week's close. No. 1 Ontario creamery butter, in solids, was farctionally higher at from 21½ to 21¾ cents with No. 2 at from 20½ to 20¾, due to a steady decrease in local supplies and the week-end advance at Montreal. Cheese was also buoyant and closed steady at 10 cents, compared with last week's close of from 9¾ to 10 cents.

Egg prices to farmers and country shippers were unchanged at 22 cents for ungraded fresh extras, cases returned with fresh firsts at 18 cents and seconds at 12 cents. Graded eggs, cases free, were steady at 25 and 26, 20 and 13 cents, respectively.

All prices to the retail trade held firm at Saturday's closing levels for eggs, butter and cheese.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, September 7.—Gains of two cents were erased when the heavy hedging pressure checked a promising upturn in wheat prices late yesterday. Values at the close were ¼c to ⅝c lower.

October closed at 56¾c, December at 58¾c, and May at 63⅛c.

Unexpected strength at Liverpool, based on reports that the United States Farm Board would keep its wheat off the market was the major influence in the early upward swing. The bulge, however, was the signal for heavy offerings, and the market met a wave of selling which comprised to a large extent hedging pressure against the new-crop receipts.

SLIGHT DROP FORECAST IN U.S. WHEAT ACREAGE

WASHINGTON. — The Department of Agriculture announced yesterday that reports from farmers indicated that they intended to plant about 39,805,000 acres of winter wheat this fall.

An area of 40,172,000 acres was planted last fall. This year's planting will be materially below the 43,526,000 acres sown in 1930 and 48,347,000 acres in 1927.

The total reduction from the peak level of 1927 will amount to approximately 17 per cent. for the country as a whole with the wheat growing regions east of the Mississippi leading the decrease.

STATION L-O-V-E

The same words. The words she heard, sitting in the parlor back in Hiawatha. A joke that wasn't funny until Ben Bernie said it, and then it was very funny indeed. A queer sort of confidential way of talking that made everybody lean forward and listen. And the show. A boy who sang. Pat Kennedy. Of course. She remembered him. Her mother liked the way he sang "Mandalay." That was the song her mother's brother used to sing so much, before he died in the war. Queer. You could take just four steps from this table and say something into the round little microphone, and a thousand miles away your mother would be hearing you say, "Hello, mother. I love you mother. Good night, mother." Queer. And sort of terrible. To send your voice out into the air without knowing where it was going, what it might do, who might hear it.

• • •

"Judy. You're not listening."

"I'm sorry, Dick. I was thinking."

"Uh-huh. And while I'm telling you the true story of my scarlet life, you're a thousand miles away."

"Just a thousand, Dick. Back home.

"Oh. Lonesome, Judy?"

A little. Sometimes. When—well, just now that boy sang a song mother used to like very much. And—"

"'Mandalay, you mean? That one, Judy?"

"Yes. Her brother used to sing it. A long time ago."

"And maybe your mother is listening right now?"

"She always listens to Ben Bernie."

"Well—"

He got up.

"Dick! Where are you going?"

"Back in a minute, Judy. Just one minute."

Tall, very tall, he walked out under the lights. And Judy, watching him, watched people at the tables, too. Girls whispering and looking at Dick and whispering again. Men looking a little disgruntled. Girls and men pointing. And, out in the middle of the dance floor, the boy who sang listening, nodding, when Dick whispered in his ear. A chord from the orchestra, and Ben Bernie speaking into the microphone. Judy could hear him.

"And, by special request of Mrs. Allison of Hiawatha, Kas., our boy, Pat Kennedy, sings 'Mandalay.' And I hope you like it!"

"Mandalay." Just as they used to hear it, sitting in the parlor together. Funny old song. Crazy old thing.

"On the road to Mandalay,
Where the flying fishes play
....."

People staring at Dick. Staring at her. Whispering. Wondering. Wondering about the little girl with the chestnut hair and the cheap little powder-blue suit. Wondering? They needn't. She was with Dick Mason. She was a name, too. Wait. A month or a year, and they'd be listening for Judy Allison. Maybe playing the organ. Maybe talking. Maybe playing the violin. Just wait!

"Judy. I hope your mother likes it."

"Dick! That was the nicest thing anybody ever did for me. The very nicest."

There wasn't anything more to say. Except the sort of thing that is said only by the way you look at a person, and the way that person looks at you.

INSTALMENT 10

More people drifted in. People from shows, people who had their names up over Randolph street in electric lights; people who got up to take bows, when Ben Bernie called their names, or who did songs or who coughed and stammered, lost without the lines they had learned for the show in which they seemed so original and so intelligent.

Until Dick Mason seemed to remember, all at once, that this was Judy's night, that he had promised to show her more famous people.

He tapped his cigarette in the ash tray. "Judy."

She said softly, "Yes."

"Shall we go?"

"But—Say, I don't want this to end. Being here where there is music and where there are all these people, and where evrything is so bright and noisy and quiet and gay?" She couldn't do that. "Yes, Dick. I'm ready," she said.

He helped her with her coat. "Here you are," he said to the hovering, interested waiter. Then, "Good night, Ben. Thank you."

"Good night, Dick. Good night, Miss Allison."

• • •

Nice to have Ben Bernie remember your name! Nice, to be walking between the tables beside Dick Mason; to know how many people must be staring, wondering, whispering.

So they went up the stairs, past the exotic pictures Aaron Douglas painted on the walls. They found Dick's car, and Judy sat beside Dick, content, a little sleepy.

The car purred north, across the drive, across the Michigan bridge, then straight north up the most beautiful, the most romantic street Judy had ever known.

"But—" she began. The car had passed Ohio street, Huron, Superior. The car went straight north. There was a small smile on Dick's mouth. But he did not speak. He drove well, finding space between the big cars, passing them, driving even faster. Here was the Drake hotel. Ahead stretched the long, beautiful procession of buildings that line the drive. Still he drove north.

"Dick," Judy said now, "aren't we going home?"

He chuckled. "Not for a long time."

"But—"

"I told you I wanted you to meet Paul Whiteman. We're going up to the Edgewater Beach and meet him. And have supper with him. As special guests. Think of that, Miss Judy Allison from Hiawatha." She laughed. "You don't really mean it, Dick."

"I never say things I don't mean, he answered, as the car sped along the outer drive, past Lincoln park. "Never, Judy. Not even when—" He turned slightly. "Better keep my mind on my driving, I think," he said. "Look, isn't it beautiful?"

The moon glimmered through thin white clouds. The lake stretched out beyond the sky. Like an ocean. Like the ocean Judy Allison had dreamed of seeing. She remembered a poem in the Sara Teasdale book. "When beauty grows too great to bear."

They were passing big houses, now. Quiet houses, set back among trees. People must be rich to live in homes like this. Very rich, and very happy. It would be fun, to walk up to one of those doors, to know that the door opened on your own home. It would be nice to see Dick coming up the walk, to be there standing inside the door when he opened it.

• • •

"Judy," said Dick loudly (because he knew he must talk loudly, to quiet what should not be said). "Judy—we're here."

She saw enormous grounds, surrounded by a high fence, and, just ahead, a great, sprawling building, with shops all along the sidewalks, bright little shops. She saw a black dress in one window, and caught her breath sharply, wishing she could own a dress like that.

Then the car slid in through a porte-cochere, and a tall footman with brilliant red hair, a footman in elegant green uniform, stepped forward, bowing. He helped Judy from the car. She felt like a girl in a smart advertisement, being here, seeing people in evening clothes walking leisurely into the glittering glass doors. She saw herself in a mirror. The little powder blue dress, the little blue shoes, the plain little hat—

"Dick! I can't go in here. I—"

"And why can't you?"

"I'm not dressed for it."

"You're still more beautiful than anybody who's ever been here, and you're dressed just right, Judy. Very few people put on the stiff shirt and the wrapp, in Chicago. Look—"

Irregular Trend In Toronto Trade

TORONTO, Sept. 7. — (C.P.)— Operations were carried on cautiously in forenoon trading on the T... stock exchange to-day, and the result was an irregular price trend. Leaders were only able to make fractional gains, while secondary issues chalked up advances of a point to 5 points. Weakening in other spots gave the list an irregular appearance.

Active issues such as International Nickel, C. P. R. and Ford were fractionally higher. Consolidated Smelters advanced a point. Bell Telephone and Consumers Gas were down a point apiece. Page Hersey 1 7-8 and Steel of Canada ¼.

Oils were irregular with International Petroleum featuring the group with a new high at 13.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Sept. 7. (CP)—Trading quickened near the close of the local stock exchange to-day to give the list an appearance of greater strength. Activity increased when the oils assumed the leadership and, enccuraged by Wall Street, prices closed at practically the top for the day.

Closing prices found gains in the majority but there were enough weak spots to give section of the board an irregular appearance.

Leaders such as C.P.R., International Nickel, Oils and Brazilian Traction made their best prices near the end of the session. C.P.R. featured with a gain of 1⅝ to 22. Nickel spurted to close at 13¼, for an advance of ⅝. Brazilian gained more than a point and Ford was up a fraction.

Oils came to the front to move irregularly higher.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (C.P.)—Base metal shares stood out in a somewhat irregular session on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market to-day. Gains were general in that group, but other changes were mixed. Volume was down from yesterday.

Noranda, moving through $22, was up 60 on end, Hudson Bay above $5 for a 55-cent gain, International Nickel and Waite-Ackerman both up 25, and Amulet 4 higher.

Nipissing advanced 15 under good accumulation but Teck-Hughes lost about that amount and Siscoe, Kirkland Lake Gold and Wright-Hargreaves were down several cents each.

In the oil section, Pen Pete moved up a fraction, but Royalite was off 25, and Home Oil and Olga lost a few cents apiece.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (C.P.)—After a slow morning advance, stocks picked up momentum this afternoon and rallied briskly, led by utilities and motors. General Motors rose nearly 2 points, while Chrysler, Nash and Checker Cab gained 1 to 3. Auburn jumped more than 8. American Telephone advanced 3, while Du Pont, North American, Standard Gas, Stone and Webster, United Aircraft, Consolidated Gas and American Water Works were up at least 2. U.S. Steel and American Can improved about 1½. Transactions aproximated 3,800,00 shares.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7 (C.P.). — After an irregular performance during the session the Montreal Stock Market closed with a strong tone to-day. After weakness in the early trade the market recovered part of its losses by noon and stocks were being bid higher at the close. The list closed with a majority list. Banks failed to recover from opening weakness.

Brazilian Traction was a feature of the late trade advancing 1 3-8 to 13 5-8 in active trading. The issue opened at 12. Canadian Pacific also provided leadership, advancing steadily from midday to close at 21¼, up 1 3-8, scoring a new high for the recovery movement. Montreal Power was ½ higher at 38½, and International Nickel was up 3-8 at 13)-8.

Shawinigan, yesterday's strong spot, failed to recover an early loss and closed at 22½, off ½. Power Corporation lost ¼ at 17½, National Breweries and Quebec Power losing the same amount at 19½ and 19 respectively.

Flying Hutchinsons Off For Angmagsalik

The message, which came from the S.S. N. B. McLean, Canadian government ice-breaker stationed in Hudson Straits, said the Hutchinsons planned to fly around the coast to Angmagsalik, and then make the all-water flight to Reykjavik, Iceland.

SASKATCHEWAN HIGH IN WHEAT

257,191,000 BUS. OATS.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7 (C.P.)—The wheat fields of Western Canada will produce 426,813,000 bushels of wheat this year, according to the annual estimate of grain crops compiled by the Winnipeg Free Press. Saskatchewan's production is placed at 217,602,000 bushels; Alberta's at 168,120,500 bushels, and Manitoba's at 41,090500.

Although the Saskatchewan wheat acreage is the largest of the three, the estimated yield in that Province is lower than in the others. It is placed at 14 bushels to the acre.

Estimates on coarse grain crops place the oat yield in the three Provinces at 257,191,000 bushels; barley at 66,445,886 bushels, rye at 9,573800 bushels and flax at 3,165,500 bushels.

Details of the wheat estimate follow:—

	Acres.	Yld.	Bushels.
Manitoba	2,651,000	15½	41,090,500
Sask.	15,543,080	14	217,602,000
Alberta	8,201,000	20½	168,120,500
	26,395,000		426,813,000

Crops Improved

There may not be plenty of wheat in some of the areas of Southern Saskatchewan, but reports show that very few places will not harvest a better crop of wheat than last year.

As threshing becomes general, a better estimate can be made of the yield, and elevator and railway men now place the average yield for the south section of the Province at about 14 bushels per acre. Threshing is general this week, the wheat is of good grade with few exceptions, and the yield is much better than last year.

Numerous reports show "no crop last year," and this year as high as 15 bushels per acre is being harvested off the same fields that yielded nothing last year. Coarse grain crops are not too heavy, and the feed situation is none too good.

NO TRACE FOUND OF THREE HOBOS

board a passenger train just as it speeded out of the Sharbot Lake yards. The train was bound for Kingston. A phone call was made to the Limestone City police to have them search this train. No results came of the effort.

Chief Newhall stated his belief to-day that the trio of wanted men have "holed up." "They have separated and hit out for the back channels of travel," was the opinion expressed by the Chief. "It is likely that they are out in the more sparsely settled districts between here and Montreal or Ottawa. They may live away from their usual channels of travel until the cold of winter, but then they will be driven in to the larger centres for shelter and they should be apprehended then, if not long before."

Chief Newhall is not discouraged He is still hopeful that at least one of the men, who can throw much light on the murder, will be picked up soon. He is particularly anxious to stop the flight of the Michigan Kid," the red-haired man, who in the circulars is described as "Wanted for Murder."

AGED LABORER BELIEVED SLAIN

Body Found Beside Highway Near Kemptville—Gash Between Eyes.

POLICE LACK MOTIVE.

KEMPTVILLE, Ont., Sept. 7 (C.P.)—Foul play is feared in the death of Edward Mackey, 69-year-old laborer of Kemptville, whose body was found on the Prescott highway, near here, early to-day.

There was a deep crescent-shaped cut between the eyes, which police believe was inflicted by a sharp instrument, and his skull was fractured. In view of the nature of the wound between the eyes, police are disinclined to accept a theory of accidental death. The body was discovered just a few feet from the concrete highway by a truck driver.

No motive has been advanced for the suspected slaying. Mackey was without money, according to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Graham, of Oxford. She visited Mackey last night, and he accompanied her part way home along the highway, and was returning to Kemptville when he met death.

Mummy for Sale

KANKAKEE, Ill., Sept. 7. — (C.P.)— Has anyone lost a good mummy?

Policeman Ralph Stone is asking this question these days—ever since he moved into a new home and his children began to look around a bit. In a locked room inside a barn on the place they found a coffin, inside of which was what appears to be the double body of a boy. Nearby was a poster which read: "Labow, famous double-bodied Egyptian boy." Policeman Stone thinks a circus or carnival used to make money with the bodies" and that the owner stored them away in the barn and forgot about them.

JUDGE HINTS FUR THER EVIDENCE NEEDED ON M ADAWASKA DEAL

Suggests Hydro Consider Giving Public More Information on Purchase and Property.

SLAGHT RAPS AIRD.

TORONTO, Sept. 7. (CP) — Further evidence may be required concerning the purchase of Madawaska power rights from the O'Brien interests, it was indicated today by Mr. Justice W. R. Riddell in concluding the Royal Commission inquiry into the propriety of a $50,000 payment by the Ontario Hydro to John Aird, Jr.

His Lordship suggested the Hydro authorities should consider giving the public more information about the purchase and the property. This followed a demand by A. G. Slaght, K.C., counsel for opposition critics of the Hydro, that evidence should be produced to show what loss had been sustained on the Madawaska properties since their purchase. Mr. Slaght also asked that counsel for the Hydro Commission show whether the additional power secured at Madawaska was actually needed, and whether power was not going to waste at Niagara.

W. N. Tilley K.C., counsel for the commission, objected to embarking on a "phantom inquiry". The evidence had already been given, he asserted. If the commissioners wanted further evidence, he would try to produce it.

Mr. Justice Riddell said a ruling would be given later, and announced that the Royal Commission will consider the matter in connection with the $125,000 Aird received from the Beauharnois interests.

A Wizard.

John Aird, Jr., was "a wizard in bringing money into his own pocket out of the people, if he is to be believed," declared A. G. Slaght, K.C., continuing his argument today on behalf of Ontario Hydro critics.

There was no service for which $50,000 could be properly paid to Aird, contended Mr. Slaght. His activities in connection with the Madawaska development might be divided into two periods, the period in which he was only a promoter and that in which he might have been of some service to the Hydro.

"We asked Mr. Henry, the Prime Minister, what judgment he had brought to bear on the payment of the $50 000," continued counsel, "and he said he had heard about it about a year later."

YOUNG-RAVIOR TO WED NOV. 25

Pair Will Be Married in Philadelphia, Home of the Bride.

OPEN TRAINING CAMP.

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (C.P.)—Margaret Ravoir, three times winner of the Canadian National Exhibition women's swim marathon, announced to-day she will become the bride of George Young at her Philadelphia home on November 23. They will live in Toronto at the house presented by the city to Young after he won the Catalina swim of 1927.

Young declared he would not accept the challenge of Marvin Nelson, 1930 marathon winner, to a 5-mile match swim. He is through with swimming, he declared. Miss Ravoir will also stay out of a swim to be held here on Saturday, explaining that the other swimmers will have a better chance at the prize money in her absence.

The boy who won fame for his lone success at Catalina said he plans to open a training camp for young swimmers at Bracebridge, where he has built a log cabin. Miss Ravoir revealed her earnings during the last three years were $18,000, and she does not expect to race again. Johnny Walker, who trained both stars this year, was confident they would soon change their minds. "I know they will swim again," he said.

TWO SUSPECTS ARE HELD IN ADVERTISING SWINDLE

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 7.— Another suspect in what police have described as a $3,000,000 fake advertising swindle was under arrest here to-day.

The suspect, Martin Gavin, 42, club proprietor, was arrested last night on a charge of second degree forgery on the complaint of John H. Farrell, an official of the Dynamo Motor Exchange Company.

The other man under arrest in connection with the swindle which police say has been perpetrated on leading business men throughout the country for the past 12 years, is William Lyons, also of Buffalo. He is being held in $5,000 bail.

MISSING AIRMEN RETURN.

CORMORANT LAKE, Man., September 7 (C.P.). — Flying Officer R. A. Gordon, Aircraftsman John Fortey arrived here this afternoon after a record-breaking flight to 21,000 feet in the air carrying scientific instruments designed to reveal facts in connection with the cosmic ray.

Buried 22 Years, Toad Shows Life

WELLAND, Ont., Sept. 7. — (C.P.).— Cracking a large concrete block removed by blasting from the Welland south dock of the Welland ship canal, workmen were astonished this morning to see a toad hop out from the centre of the block after it had been split.

The dock was built in 1910, therefore the toad had been imprisoned for 22 years. It appeared slightly dazed for a few minutes after gaining its freedom, but was soon hopping about like any other toad.

It seemed quite normal with the exception of its fee', which appeared to be under developed.

HOUSE BREAKING COSTS 6 MONTHS

Claim Prisoner Entered Sister-in-law's Home, Struck Her on Head.

SCREAMS FOIL THEFT.

HAMILTON, Sept. 7. (CP)—Appearing for sentence in police court on a charge of house breaking with intent to commit an indictable offense, Harry Courson to-day was sentenced to six months determinate and six months inndeterminate in the Ontario reformatory.

When Courson was tried last week, it was stated he entered his sister-in-law's house on the night of Aug. 28. His sister-in-law entered later and as she passed along the darkened hall, he struck her on the back of the head and then pounced on her. Her screams caused him to take to his heels.

Returning home, he set the stage for a fake robbery, making it appear as though the elusive "pants" burglar had paid him a visit. Police suspicions were aroused by the fact that the homes of two members of the same family, situated in separate sections of the city were entered on the same night.

POULTRYMEN ARE PLANNING SHOW

Poultry Show Will Be Held in Market Late in November.

Plans for the annual three-day poultry show to be held by Peterborough Poultry Association commencing on November 29, were discussed at a well-attended meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce council room under the presidency of S. E. Moncrief.

Kent Throop informed The Examiner to-day that prospects for a big show are already looking bright and that two prizes had been kindly donated by the following firms: Fuel and Cartage Company, half ton of coke and A. Thompson, half ton of coal. The prizes he said would be probably awarded as door prizes in which every visitor to the show would have a chance to participate.

Committees were organized to undertake preliminary arrangements in connection with the show and tickets are to be printed and sold and the prize lists prepared.

It is also learned that the local poultrymen are again contemplating to enter a large number of choice birds in the show at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition opening on Monday next, and it is even hoped that the poultry exhibits may exceed those of last year which were considered to be unusually heavy.

DONCASTER, Eng., Sept. 7. — (C.P. Cable).—Colors of the Aga Khan were carried to victory today in the classic St. Leger by Firdaussi, three-year-old chestnut colt by Pharos, out of Brownhylda, before a crowd estimated at 250,000. Dastur of the same stable was second in a thrilling finish, and Mrs. C. Rich's Silvermere third.

WOUNDS WOMAN, LOVER SUICIDES

Toronto Man Found Dead on Lawn Following Violent Quarrel.

HAD BEEN TURNED DOWN.

TORONTO, September 7 (C.P.). — Result of a jealous rage and quarrel, William Micknow, 39, today lies dead and Mrs. Annie Holuv also 39, is in hospital with a bullet wound in the chest from which it is expected she will recover.

The quarrel arose from the breaking off of a five-year love affair. Mrs. Holuv left Micknow three months ago for Parry Sound. She returned to Toronto two weeks ago. Last night Micknow called at her Bathurst Street residence where an altercation started, during which he demanded $50.00, which was refused.

The woman told Micknow she did not want to see him again, whereupon, it is alleged, Micknow drew a revolver and shot her in the chest. He then turned the revolver on himself, firing a shot into his head and another one through the heart.

MURDER VICTIM IS LAID TO REST

Regt. Sergt. G. N. Spefford, and also signed by Sergt. Bill Black, Sergt. Lionel Harris, Sergt. Charles Weaver, M.C., and Bombardier Gactum, all comrades of Harry Thomas, reads, in part, as follows:

"Tragedy, grim, stark, ruthless consummated the career of a transient—a life snuffed out in a 'jungle.' A man we find who had served this Canada of ours as a soldier in France and Flanders, with an honorable discharge in evidence. We, his comrades, the remnants of a gallant company, the old fighting 34th Battery, C.F.A., Belleville, hasten to pay tribute to our comrade who has passed over yonder to join the invisible army of comrades who gave their lives on the fields of battle in the cause of justice and freedom.

"We hasten to extol his merits, his bravery, his humanitarian principles, his generosity and his unselfishness by which we all knew him.

"A gallant soldier, he enjoyed the confidence and admiration of his officers and comrades. The horses he rode as a driver in the artillery would follow him like dogs, and he always took pride in them to an extent evidenced by their appearance and confidence. When they were killed under him he wept like a child, never once thinking of his own danger. He was generous in extremes—he gave the shoes on his feet to a pal who was out of luck.

"He was gentle as a woman to the writer, who was ill in a dugout in the trenches. Nothing was too much trouble. In spite of his own hardships, he endeavored to make life more cheerful under those trying circumstances.

"Such was the youth, Harry Thomas, when he left his good home to serve his King and country; the patriotism he upheld; the fine example of unselfishness that he displayed and he was one of the first to don the uniform in August, 1914.

'This a tribute:
'Hail to the land we tread,
Our fondest boast.
There is no other land like thee.
No dearer shore.
Thou art the shelter of the free,
The home and port of Liberty.
Thou hast been and shall ever be,
Till time is o'er.
Ere I forget to think upon
My land, shall Mother curse
The son she bore?'

"Whatever the force of circumstance may have been under which our beloved comrade was compelled to keep his body and soul together, like many others who to-day know not which way to turn, it but reminds us young people of Canada of your promise to make this Canada a fit place for heroes to live in.

"It is but another reminder to the veterans, the remnants of a last generation, that it is high time that we, at this eleventh hour, should unite and speed up the machinery for our present administration, so that every comrade, regardless of who or what he is today, will be taken care of. There is much to be done, but unless we are united, unanimous in our effort, we can do nothing. Let us be charitable and patient, even as our Master Jesus. Let us look beyond the veil."

RED HAIRED MAN

ful one—a short quick stab—not necessarily directed to the exact, fatal spot between the ribs to penetrate the aorta artery."

Thomas Miller, first witness, a resident of this city, said that he had known Henry Thomas having served overseas in the 2nd Battery with him from Valcartier days. Thomas came to see witness at his home here about two months ago.

"I saw him about 8 o'clock Saturday night, September 3," stated witness. "I was standing on the corner of Sherbrooke and George streets when he came along. He was happy and bright and was always that way kidding like, even in France."

Accompanied by "Yank"

Mr. Miller said that when Thomas came to his house he was usually accompanied by an American who was called "Yank." When witness saw the murdered man last he was carrying two loaves of bread. "He said the stem's pretty hard to-night. I've only got two loaves and I usually have three or four."

Witness said that living with Thomas in the boat-house was another man called "Shorty," who usually wielded a knife when unwanted visitors came to the door of the boat-house.

Mr. Miller said that his wife saw "Pork" Thomas (army nickname), about 10 o'clock on George street. He said "Porky" was anything but a quarrelsome character. "Just the opposite always kidding," said Mr. Miller.

Maurice Gainey said he knew the boat-house in which Thomas was killed very well. He stated he hadn't been in the boat-house since a reddish-complexioned man had taken possession of it.

"After he took possession of it I never went into it," said Mr. Gainey. "He was a queer-acting fellow and I didn't like his looks. He put up the signs and always keep out when anyone came near as though he owned the place."

Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, Mr. Gainey said he noticed the boat-house door opened and saw Thomas sitting slumped on a cot.

He said at this time there was no one around the boat-house whereas other mornings there would be many men about the place.

Mrs. Clara Miller, wife of the first witness, stated that she had seen Thomas going down George street at 10 o'clock Saturday evening.

Alex Darling, photographer, gave a description of the interior of the boat-house and produced pictures showing pools of blood and the trail of blood from the door to Thomas' couch.

Bumming Over Year

Edelard Lessard, transient and formerly a habitue of the jungle, said his home was in Quebec. He said since a year ago last May he had been bumming. He had been in the local jungle for the past two weeks, although during that time had been to Millbrook for a few days.

He said when he first came here the boat-house "Butch" (Thomas) and "Shorty" occupied the bunk.

He said he and his pals were accustomed to leaving their surplus grub in the boat-house. He said on Wednesday last week he was in the boat-house playing "rummy" with "Butch" and "Shorty."

Saturday afternoon, witness played cards with Thomas and "Shorty." Later Thomas went out to get some bread. Witness, after getting some grub up street, returned about 10 o'clock to the box car where he slept all night.

Daniel Kelly, also a transient and jungle dweller, said he arrived in the jungle at 11.40 Saturday night. The last time he saw "Butch" alive was Friday afternoon. He said he and his pals spent Saturday night in the tabernacle tent on George street.

Dr. J. M. O'Brien said he performed a post mortem on Henry Thomas on Sunday afternoon. He said the blow that killed Thomas must have been done by a man used to using a knife. It was a short quick jab like a bayonet thrust," he explained.

A sudden incised wound by a sharp instrument penetrating the aorta gland of the heart. Dr. O'Brien said was the cause of death.

Dr. Herbert Young stated that in his opinion death set in between 10 o'clock Saturday night and 4 o'clock Sunday morning. Dr. Young said that the blow might have had similar results if it was a blind stab in the dark or a deliberate painstaking blow.

Leslie Scott, also a jungle dweller, said his home formerly was in London, Ontario, and previously in Scotland. He came to Peterborough first about a month ago. He met "Butch" and "Campbellford Shorty" who occupied the boat-house together.

"Shorty always claimed that he was the boss of the place and was paying the taxes on it," said witness. "Shorty was very sharp-tempered. But Thomas was an easy-going man."

Buried Gold

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(C.P.).— That's gold under them Thar Streets, stranger—but try to get it. The academy of natural sciences, opening a display to-day, disclosed that the greater part of Philadelphia is underlain by a bed of blue clay that assays about three cents worth of gold to the cubic foot. But there's a catch. It costs about 50 cents to extract the three cents worth of gold.

Sees End Of Slump 1933—Normal 1934

WELLESLEY, Mass., September 7 (C.P.). — Ralph B. Wilson, vice-president of the Babson statistical organization, sees happier days for the business world in 1933.

"The depression would be over at once," he told the 19th annual National Business Conference to-day, "if it were possible for us to reduce at one fell swoop the cost of governing ourselves 15 per cent."

He predicted that "business has struck rock bottom," and added, "a sharp rise in the commodity and security markets indicates that the worst is over."

"The total volume of business in 1933 should be greater," he said, "than that of 1932. Because the readjustment has been drastic, it is not unreasonable to expect the recovery to reach normal by the close of 1934."

Wood To Attempt Straightway Mark

Harmsworth Cup Holder Confident He Can Set New Speed Record.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 7.—(C.P.).—Miss England III, unsuccessful and disabled challenger for the Harmsworth trophy, will be loaded on a flat car at Walkerville, Ont., to-day for the first leg of her journey back to England.

At Montreal, she will be put aboard the Duchess of York, which sails September 9.

A broken piston, damaged cylinder and detached throttle control [illegible] her out of the second heat of the Harmsworth races Saturday, will not be repaired until the boat reaches England.

Kaye Don, who drove Miss England III to the present world record of 119.81 miles an hour in Scotland will leave either to-night or to-morrow for Toronto. The trip will be by train if he leaves to-night, or by plane should he remain until to-morrow. He sails from New York September 16.

Meanwhile, Gar Wood, successful defender of the symbol of competitive speed boat supremacy, began preparations for the attempt on Don's straightaway speed record, which he expects to make, probably within a week, with his Miss America X.

Wood entertained the British delegation last night at dinner.

MARY McCARTHY HOLDS LOSERS TO FIVE HITS

Country Maidens Hold Decided Edge on Play Throughout Game.

HAS EIGHT STRIKEOUTS.

Large Crowd Braves Chill Autumn Winds to Watch First of Girls' Play-offs.

Before a huge crowd that surrounded the Bowl and shivered in the chill autumn air last night, Keene hammered out a 17 to 6 win over Maple Leafs in the first game of the Girls' Softball League finals. Taking an early lead and playing steady ball, while getting fine hurling, the champs of last year held a decided edge throughout.

Mary McCarthy held the Leafs to five scattered hits, no two coming in the same frame, while she breezed her fast ball by eight batters. She had good support all the way both afield and at bat. On the other mound, Elsie Gates went three innings, allowing Keene five runs, though holding them to three hits. G. Mann replaced her in the fourth and was hit hard the rest of the way. Neither twirler was given much backing by her teammates, who kicked in with ten misplays.

Score From First.

The out-of-towners rambled across with two markers in the opening session on a single and M. McCarthy's homer. Two more were added the next time on two walks and a couple of boots. An error, wild pitch and single sent one in in the third. The Leafs got two in the fourth on a hit, a walk, a miscue and two pilfered sacks. But Keene got them back in their half when three solid smashes came in a row. They made it 8-2 in the fifth on an error and D. Gainor's triple.

The sixth saw some fireworks. Maple Leafs started by getting three on a single, two errors and three free bases. The country lasses came back with a vengeance to tally eight on seven hits, a wild pitch and three bad errors. G. Mann's homer in the seventh was the Leafs' last run, but Keene got one more in the eighth on an error, a stolen base, and two outs. The game was called early in the ninth, when the fielders couldn't see the ball.

Is Star Slugger.

G. Mann got three of her team's five hits, one a homer and one a double. H. Nelson led Keene with the willow, getting four safe blows. M. McCarthy had a homer and two singles, while G. McCarthy got three hits. Dot Gainor lined out a triple and a single. G. Mann, E. Gates, H. Mann, R. Gainor and I. Shortt all turned in some nice fielding.

OMEMEE TEAM IS ELIMINATED

Reaboro Takes 9-7 Victory to Send Visitors' Hopes Glimmering.

STAGE BELATED RALLY.

OMEMEE, Sept. 7 (Examiner Correspondence)—In a very close exciting game played at Reaboro Thursday evening, finis was written to Omemee's hopes of representing this district in the next round of the O.R.S.A. play-downs when Reaboro eliminated the Omemee team by the score of 9-7. Up to the first half of the seventh Omemee's hopes were rosy as their boys were leading 7-1 and appeared sure winners but a ball game is never over until the last man is out.

Dr. McPhee missed an easy fly ball in this inning and not to be outdone by the manager the other boys started to commit errors also, which paved the way for Reaboro to score 5 runs.

Parsons for Omemee pitched a fine game as did McKay for Reaboro. Adams as first played his best game of the season while McNeil at third steadied the Omemee infield. The Omemee team were the first to congratulate the winners and wish them success in their quest for the championship. The Omemee team won over 50 victories this season dropping 11 games. It seemed the irony of fate that Reaboro should win this series as Omemee had not dropped a game to Reaboro this season in five previous games. The game marked the end of Omemee's best year in softball and the manager would like to take this opportunity of thanking the citizens for the truly wonderful support which they have given the boys.

DODGERS ADVANCE BY BEATING KINGSTON 13-5

OSHAWA, Sept. 7— Outplaying the Kingston Frontenacs in every department of the game, the Oshawa Dodgers last evening won the second straight game in the third round of the O.A.S.A. playdowns at the Motor City Stadium, the score being 13 to 5 in favor of the Oshawa team. Whiteley, the Oshawa twirler, was in fine form, allowing only six hits and striking out seven batters, while his teammates secured eighteen hits, two of them being home runs.

The Frontenacs secured a two-run lead in the second inning, but this soon vanished when the heavy hitters of the Dodgers brought in four runs in the third, one in the fourth, and then staged a fierce assault in the fifth to count seven more. The game from that time on was rather tame, with the locals coasting on to victory. Hurst, with a home run and two singles; Rowden, with one and a single and Cornish, with three safe hits, were the batting stars for the winners, while Whitham, the Frontenac pitcher was the only batter on his side to secure two hits.

As the Dodgers won the first game in Kingston last Saturday by 10 o 4, last night's victory gives them the series and they are now ready for the next round.

HERD REGAINS SECOND PLACE WITH ORIOLES

While Wings Pass Montreal to Capture Berth in First Division.

LEAFS LOSE AGAIN.

(Associated Press.)

Although the pennant race proper is over in the International League, the struggles among the clubs are not. Six of the eight teams still are involved in battle for positions that are hotter than the chase after Newark was for some weeks before the Bears ended it.

Two changes in the status of the clubs apoeared only yesterday as the result of three games. The Buffalo Bisons caught up with Baltimore in their second place race, and the Rochester Red Wings passed Montreal to capture a berth in the first division.

Bisons Take Double.

The Bisons slammed a doub'e defeat on Montreal while Rochester took one game from Toronto. As a result, the Red Wings took fourth place by a full game over the Royals. Baltimore's game was a night affair, so the Orioles did not have a chance to argue for a while about second place.

Ira Smith earned Rochester's place fairly by pitching brilliantly to get the best of Art Smith, Toronto flinger, and win 6 to 3. He gave only four hits, all of them in the seventh inning, and after that weak frame had given the Leafs a 3-3 tie he won his own game in the next inning by clouting a double with loaded bases.

Toss Away the Second.

After hitting hard but ineffectively in the first game, Montreal tossed away the second. The Royals made 14 hits in the opener, but Slim Brewer held them scoreless until the eighth, and Pat Caraway halted a ninth-inning rally in time for the Bisons to win 4-3. Two errors in the third inning of the second clash paved the way for a Buffalo rally that netted five runs after two were out. A homer by Winsett finished the scoring in that frame and one by Poole in the seventh brought the other two runs.

Baltimore failed in a night game to regain the ground it lost in the afternoon when the Albany Senators stepped out and gave the Orioles an 8 to 1 drubbing. Buzz Arlett's 52nd homer was the only tally off George Mc'sead who gave only four hits. The defeat dropped them a full game behind Buffalo.

Newark, having clinched the pennant, promptly took a trimming from Jersey City in another floodlight encounter, going down by a 6 to 1 count before Charley Perkins. The Bears got only seven hits, while Frank Nekola granted 12.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Pittsburgh—Johny Datto, Cleveland, knocked out Charley Baxter, Pittsburgh (4); Louis Disantis, Cleveland outpointed Patsy Hennigan Clairton Pa. (6).

Belpre O.—Myer Christner, Akron knocked out Russ Rowsey, Huntington (7).

POGGI CLAIMS ITALIAN TITLE

Friday Night's Finalist Has Beaten Garibaldi and Romano.

MATCHED AGAINST BERGER

Nazzarino Poggi, Italian wrestling star who is to meet Casey Berger of San Francisco in the finish match which will feature the Queensbury Club wrestling program at the Brock Street Rink next Friday night is determined to win recognition as the Italian heavyweight champion. He has good grounds upon which to base his claims and declares that he is willing to meet any other Italian wrestler who disputes his right to the title.

Poggi held the Italian light heavyweight championship for some time and even as a 175 pounder met with considerable success among the heavyweights. Then he himself developed into a full-fledged heavyweight and became more effective than ever. Now that he is weighing in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, he feels he has every right to claim the Italian championship.

Impressive Record

Two Italian grapplers of note are Gino Garibaldi and Mike Romano and Poggie has already beaten both of them. He threw Romano in twenty-two minutes and last year at New Orleans won a main bout from Garibaldi. The latter was not satisfied and they were rematched, Poggi also winning the return bout. He claims that George Calsa, another Italian, has persistently dodged the issue by refusing to meet him and thinks that the veteran Renato Gardini is past his best as a wrestler. That pretty well covers the field of outstanding Italian heavyweights and Poggi may establish his right to the title before the end of the year.

Poggi's bout with Berger wil have no bearing on the Italian championship but it should be one of the hardest Poggi has had in some time, Berger being a clever all-round wrestler with a flying tackle that is particularly dangerous, even though he had just finished a lengthy journey across the continent, he showed real ability against "Whitey" Hewitt at the last local show and he should be back at his best for Friday's bout.

The supporting bouts promise plenty of high class wrestling and exciting action with Jack Kogut meeting Bert Rubenstein in the semi-final and Frankie Hart opposing "Young" Szabo of Hungary in the opener.

Paul Cook Victor International Golf

MINOT, N. D., Sept. 7. —(C.P.).—Paul Cook, Bismark, nosed out Bobby Reith, Winnipeg, Manitoba open and amatsur champion, by one stroke to win the international golfing tournament here. Cook carded 233 strokes for the 54-hole championship flight while Reith had 234. M. Shafner, Minot, was third, with 235 just nosing out Don Kennedy ,Winnipeg.

Reith took medallist honors in 18 holes of qualifying play Sunday with an 18-hole score of 75.

CUBS FAVORED.

To Win More Games Than Pirates During Balance of National Schedule.

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(A. P. Press Sports Writer)

The Chicago Cubs are not the best road club in the National League but there's nothing in the records to indicate they'll lose much of their present six-game lead on their current eastern invasion.

The second place Pittsburgh Pirates can boast a better record on the road but the Cubs have overcome this by a vastly superior showing at home. Chicago has played .718 ball at home and .459 on the road. The figures for Pittsburgh are .592 at home and .500 on the road.

Here's how the two contenders have fared his year:

At Home

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Chicago	51	20	.718
Pittsburgh	45	31	.592

Away

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Pittsburgh	39	29	.500
Chicago	28	33	.459

The remainder of the schedule also favors the Cubs, six of whose remaining 22 games will be played at Chicago. Pittsburgh must play all of her remaining 20 games on the road.

Just One Chance

There's just a chance that the Pirates can pick up enough ground in the next couple of weeks to make a "crucial" series out of the four games they will play with the Cubs at Wrigley Field Sept. 20, 21 and 22.

Action in the major leagues yesterday was restricted entirely to one double-header in the American League, the Cleveland Indians taking the St. Lou's Browns over the hurdles twice, 4-3 and 6-0. Irving Hadley struck out seven Indians in the opener but was the victim of a three-run outburst in the sixth frame.

George Connally was in form in the second game and blanked the Brownies with eight scattered hits. Earl Averill hit his 31st homer in this contest.

HENRI COCHET TO PS THE LIST AS BOX OFFICE "ATTRACTION"

Spectacular French Player Meets John Van Ryn in Fourth Round To-day.

IN NATIONAL TENNIS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (C.P.) — Henri Cochet may or may not be the world's greatest tennis player at the moment, but there can be no doubt the spectacular little Frenchman has topped them all as a box office "draw," in the opening rounds of the National Tennis championships.

Cochet, surrounded by an aura of semi-invincibility, has pulled most of them through the gates. Some have been there to see other favorites, but it has been noticeable that when Cochet played on the centre court, the Stadium was filled.

Prospects were he would need all his resources to-day when he encounters John Van Ryn, the steady Philadelphian, in the outstanding duel of the fourth round. The French ace was favored to win but not any such margin as that by which he overwhelmed Manuel Alonzo yesterday.

Vines Meets Gledhill

Things also promised to warm up to-day for Ellsworth Vines Jr., who has loafed through two previous matches. The United States champion meets his old friend and doubles partner, Keith Gledhill, who has beaten him frequently in lesser tournaments, and observers anticipated a close match.

Much attention was being given to the formidable British challenge, with "Bunny" Austin, who has captivated the galleries with his dashing game, much in the limelight. Austin has been playing even more brilliantly than Cochet or Vines in his matches to date.

This afternoon Austin meets another strong opponent in Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans.

Fred Perry, of England, also is pitted against a ranking United States star, Sidney Wood, Jr., of New York, although he is expected to emerge victor. John Olliff, the third English ace, meets the powerful Frank Shields of New York.

Bowling Notes

The winners for the Central Ontario bowling doubles were settled uast night, E. Wall and H. Wood being victors over M. Bredin and G. Cairns in some close play. There remains only the singles winner to be declared in this event, and the first round of this competition will be played on or before to-morrow night.

The Central Ontario annual tournament mill be held here next Wednesday, the 14th, and rinks are expected here from the ten towns in the league. The H. Rosevear Trophy will be up for rink competion with prizes being offered for rinks, doubles and singles.

The last open mixed tournament of the season here begins to-day, in the afternoon, the Ovaltine Trophy being competed for. Entries have been received from Kingston, Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, Whitby, Norwood, Peterborough and more are expected to-day.

The local club bowling singles card is still open at the clubhouse, but all entries in this event must be in no later than Saturday night, September 10th. It will be played the next Thursday.

City Tennis Tourney

Following is the draw for the city tennis championships:

Men's singles, senior — George Nicholls vs. George Scott; Fred Rigby vs. Ken Wilson; Ken Toole vs. Ralph Cowle; John Hammond vs. Walter Jackson; H. A. Wilson vs. Max Cotton; J. Donaldson vs. Herb. Young; B. Schwartz, bye; Gordon Cathcart, bye.

Men's doubles, senior —Cathcart and Cotton vs. Jones and Nicholls; Scott and Cranfield vs. Schwartz and Ward; Bowness and Jackson vs. Thackeray and Cunningham; Cowle and Wilson vs. H. Sills and C. Crough.

Ladies' singles, senior—Miss I. Davidson vs. Miss F. McKenzie; Miss G. Caddy vs. Mrs. Hammond; Mrs. Dewart vs. Miss B. Pickering; Miss Hazel Jackson, bye.

Ladies' doubles, senior — Miss Langley and Miss Jackson vs. Miss Pickering and Miss Dixon; Mrs. Dewart and Miss Davidson, bye.

Mixed doubles—G. Nicholls and Miss Pickering vs. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond; M. Cotton and Miss Davidson vs. W. Jackson and Miss Jackson; G. Scott and Mrs. Dewart, bye; B. Brooks and Miss Dixon, bye.

Ladies' singles, junior — Miss Betsy Scott vs. Miss L. Lundy; Miss Jean Howson, bye.

Ladies' doubles, junior — Miss Lundy and B. Scott vs. K. Caddy and R. McKee; Miss A. Langley and J. Howson, bye.

Play in the first round of all events must be completed by Wednesday, September 14th. The winners of all matches will put the results of their matches on the bulletin board either at the Kawartha Country Club or the Peterborough Bowling and Tennis Club.

Brintons And C.G.E. In Lacrosse Battle

Brintons and C.G.E. of the City Lacrosse League play a scheduled game at nine o'clock to-night in the Brock, an important loop fixture. Both teams are tied now in third place, half a game down from Millbrook. The winner to-night will move into second place, leaving the loser alone in fourth position.

These two squads always put up a fast, snappy battle from start to finish, and with so much at stake and the cool Fall evening putting added pep in the players, to-night's tussle should be worth seeing. The opposing outfits will be at full strength.

Minor Ball Games Over The Week-End

Both the Peterborough teams still in the O.B.A.A. running will play Saturday of this week. The Maple Leaf Juveniles will play Toronto St. Andrew's either here or in Toronto, while the Kiwanis Bantams will meet Hamilton either here or in Hamilton. The places for the games have not yet been settled but should be known to-morrow.

QUEEN CITY CRIC KETEERS WIN FROM MONTRE AL BY 4 WICKETS

West Indian Club Makes Great Bid For Victory When They Score 220 Runs.

FINE BATTING DISPLAY.

(By J. H. Marsters—C.P. Staff Writer).

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—After a year's sojourn in Montreal the John Ross Robertson Cup, emblematic of the cricket championship of Canada, returns to Toronto by virtue of a four-wicket victory here yesterday of the Toronto Cricket Club over the defending West Indian Cricket Club of Montreal.

Toronto scored 178 runs in their first innings on Monday, and yesterday put on 114 runs for six wickets. The West Indians after a disastrous first innings of 67 runs were forced to follow on. When stumps were drawn Monday they had made only 37 runs for the loss of four wickets, but a desperate tail-end stand brought the score up to 220 before the side was dismissed.

Despite the fine battling display at the end of the West Indians' second innings it was practically a foregone conclusion that Toronto would be able to make the 110 runs necessary to win the cup. Over-anxiety on the part of the locals when the visitors were at the wicket for the second time, cost them many chances, a total of seven catches being dropped.

Make 48-Run Stand.

J. Abrahams and E. Jemmott made the first stand for the West Indians, putting on 48 runs before Abrahams fell to E. F. Loney's bowling after making 30 runs. Jemmott followed shortly after, being bowled by S. Levey, when he had scored 22 runs. R. Forde then teamed with H. Smith who was bowled by E. C. Carlton after making 14 runs. J. C. Grell joined Forde, and between them they made 85 runs in an hour and a half at the wicket. Forde was bowled by W. Bell when he had scored 49 runs while Grell was not out with 38 runs.

G. F. Biggar and W. E. N. Bell opened Toronto's second innings, and when Bell had scored 10 he was out leg before wicket. A. C. Hill made 19 before being bowled by Jemmott, and then L. C. Bell fell to H. Smith's bowling after putting on 21 runs. Biggar, who had been missed four times, was finally stumped by E. Holder when he had scored 29 runs, the highest individual total of the Torontonians' second innings.

Loney Out For 13.

Loney also fell to Smith's bowling when he had made 13. Just before the 110 was posted Charlton was bowled by Jemmott for a duck. A. C. Logie, who made 73 runs not out in Toronto's first innings, carried his bat with 14 runs. J. A. K. Rutherford was also not out, but did not make a run.

The cup will stay in Toronto until next season, when a Montreal team will have to travel to the Queen City to play for it. Toronto C.C. won it here in 1929 from McGill C.C. of Montreal, and successfully defended it at Toronto in 1930 against the West Indians. Last year the West Indians succeeded in winning the cup from the Toronto Cricket Club, but yesterday the visitors made certain of its return to their clubhouse.

SMART BALL IN INDOOR LEAGUE

Red and White Stores Defeat Sugar Bowl 20-14 While C.G.E. Downs Westclox 8-6.

OPENING FIXTURES.

A mixed double-header of two snappy games opened the indoor softball league schedule before a fair crowd at the Brock last night. Red and White Stores turned back Sugar Bowl, 20 to 14, in the men's game; while C.G.E. nosed out Westclox in the girls' fixture, 8-6. Players and fans alike found the rink ideal for this game, the hard sand floor and good lighting making the games fast and interesting.

Good pitching by Curry and hard hitting by his teammates gave the Harrison boys the nod in the opener. The Grocers lambasted Bill Simmons' pitches hard most of the way, though the Bowlrites came through with some hard clouts also. Curry fanned five and allowed the Bowl 13 hits, while his side collected 27 safeties. Some smart fielding was seen. Score by innings:

Sugar Bowl .....412 231 10—14
Red and Whites ....309 035 0x—20

Sugar Bowl.—W. Calladine, ss; Weir, 2b; Playford, cf; P. Calladine, c; Dallin, lf; Wilshaw, 3b; Sturgeon, rf; Smith, 1b; Simmons, p.

Red and Whites.—Dorrington, 3b; McCarrol, ss; Dundas, cf; Starr, c; Foley, lf; Gillespie, rf; Crary, 2b; Ellis 1b; Curry p.

Snappy Fielding

The girls' game was a clean, snappy one throughout, nice hurling and snappy fielding holding the score down as the evenly-matched teams fought it out. Two southpaws, V. Young and Marj. Self, tossed the ball in good style.

C.G.E. started off strong, shoving across five counters in the third, and adding two more in the fifth and one in the sixth. They were blanked the last three stanzas while the maidens from the Clock Shop ankled across with two in the fifth, two in the seventh and another brace in the last go, to make it an exciting finish. Both sides looked good afield. Score by innings:

Westclox .....000 020 202—6
C. G. E. .....005 021 000—8

Westclox.—K. Kearney, c; H. Joyce, ss; M. Mortimer, 3b; G. Hawkes, 2b; L. Chartren, ss; G. Mortimer, rf; D. Merrett, lf; B. Blade, 1b; V. Young, p; M. Kearney, cf.

SPORTS Day by Day

Baseball — Softball — Lacrosse
Boxing — Wrestling — Acquatic

(BY C. J. P.)

Looks like the Maple Leafs have a man-sized job on their hands to take the girls' softball championship away from Keene. The country damsels romped home with a 17-6 win in the first of the five-game series at the Bowl last night, and certainly looked better. Of course, there's four more games possible and anything may happen yet.

* * * * * * *

The gals drew an extra large crowd despite the cool weather, and there'll likely be another bumper turnout when they tussle again Thursday evening. The third game is billed for Saturday night, and every contest should be started no later than 5.30. They were twenty minutes late starting last night, and the game had to be called early in the ninth. And it wasn't too bright in the eighth either. That's no good for either players or fans, especially in the play-offs.

* * * * * * *

Mary McCarthy threw nice ball for Keene, being almost invincible in the early innings. She was being touched up a bit later, but only allowed five safe hits. She had good support, the fielding and hitting—and Mary was in on the hitting also—gradually piling up the score against the Leafs. There was a number of smart catches made by players on both sides, and there were some errors that were faintly reminiscient of the Miami Maidens—if we may be forgiven for going back so far to bring up such an unpleasant memory.

* * * * * * *

All in all, the gals are improving. Remember this is just the second season this loop has been operating, and most of the players were so green when they started that their consciences wouldn't let 'em steal a base; and they thought—some of them—that making a catch had something to do with snaring a husband. They're playing fair ball nowadays, and Thursday night's tilt should be better still.

* * * * * * *

The opening of the indoor softball league at the Brock last night drew a fair crowd, though this will be considerably swelled when the girls' playoffs at the Bowl are completed. The Brock has been fixed up and should be ideal for this game, with good lighting and a level, hard-packed floor. The players thought it was okay last night, and two good games resulted.

* * * * * * *

To-morrow night up there, the girls' teams, C.G.E. and Brintons will open the double-header at 7.15 to be followed at 8.45 by Daily Stars and C.N.R. of the men's section. There will be no Saturday night games this week. One thing found objectionable last night was the personal remarks by some of the less thoughtful fans directed toward the girls. Men athletes don't like insulting remarks either but they are generally not so sensitive, and get used to them. But the girl players should be spared this cheap "razzing."

* * * * * * *

Red and Whites turned in a smart all-around game to win from Sugar Bowl in the first of the double header, 20 to 14. These teams will carry their City League war indoors for the fall and continue to battle merrily on. C.G.E. damsels got an 8-6 nod over Westclox in the gals' contest, and it was a smart game from start to finish. Competition ought to be pretty hot in this loop.

* * * * * * *

A classy City Lacrosse League game is billed for the Brock at 9.00 o'clock this evening between C.G.E. and Brintons. These teams are tied in third place, half a game back of Millbrook, and both will put up a real scrap to leave the other alone in the cellar this game. The cooler weather prevailing should make for even faster lacrosse than we've been getting.

* * * * * * *

Friday night up there the pro rasslers are back with us in another likely looking card. Signor Poggi, the unpopular Italian, with the perennial grouch, tops the show against Berger, who gave Hewitt a mean forty-five minutes here before. Kogut, Rubenstein, and Hart are all well known here, but this bird with the unpronouncable name, Szabo—and won't Announcer Scates have some fun rolling that one around his palate?—is a new one to us, and might be bad news to the handsome Frankie Hart.

* * * * * * *

Two local golfers, F. M. DelaFosse and W. G. Morrow took part yesterday in the foursomes competition with which the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association opened their annual championship tourney yesterday on the course of the Toronto Golf Club. Both Peterborough men play again this afternoon.

* * * * * * *

And we see where the Dominion Football Association (soccer) is objecting quite violently to the A. A. U. of C. taking a 25-cent fee on all amateur cards issued to the players. The trouble is that the Amateur Union permits professional athletes to play soccer with amateurs without impairing the amateur standing of the simon pures. That's all very well, but why muscle in for two bits on every amateur card? Of course, the Association has to like it, as nothing can be done.

Practices

INTERMEDIATE LACROSSE

A full turnout of Intermediate lacrosse players is requested for the practise to be held in the Brock from 7.30 to 8.30 this evening, in preparation for an exhibition game.

Thirty-Four Players On Art Ross's List

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Manager Art Ross of the Boston Bruins yesterday announced a list of 34 hockey players who will report at Quebec on October 20 for three weeks of pre-season practice.

The list, with two exceptions, included all players under contract with the Bruins of the National Hockey League the Boston Cubs of the Canadian-American League, and 14 new players.

Neither George Owen nor Miles Lane, Harvard and Dartmouth hockey products, were included on the list. Owen will not decide whether or not he can leave his business to practice with the Bruins until later, and Lane, Boston University's new head football coach, will condition himself on the gridiron and report to the Cubs after the football season.

The only member of last year's Bruins' squad missing from the list was Ralph 'Cooney' Weiland, who has been sold to Ottawa. Among the new men were Nelson Stewart, purchased from the Montreal Maroons; Joe Lamb, New York Americans' right winger last season, and Billy Burch, also late of Americans; Orville Hetimer, up from the Canadian-American circuit; Jack "Red" Beattie, out of action last year with a broken leg, and Frank Ingram, late of the Chicago Black Hawks.

The new-comers to the Cubs, farm for the Bruins, were headed by playing manager George Boucher, defence man for the Chicago Black Hawks last season.

Senior Tournament Is Opened To-Day

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (C.P.).—Battling for the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association championship, 141 members to-day will start the first 18-hole round of the 36-hole competition. Ranging in age from 55 years upwards, the veterans will vie for the title held by J. Dix Fraser of Toronto.

Opening day honors of the tournament went to Dr. H. Bascom of Whitby and Dr. Charles Carter of Hamilton, who won the foursomes yesterday when they carded a gross round of 85. A handicap of 18 left them with their winning mark of 67.

Guelph Eliminated By Hamilton Team

PRESTON, Sept. 7.—Twenty-two strikeouts in an O.B.A.A bantam semi-final game was the feat accomplished here by Clark of Hamilton when that club ousted Guelph from further contention for the honors by a 6-2 count. Hamilton now meets the Peterborough Kiwanis. In addition to his twirling efforts, Clark supplied the scoring punch for his teammates, slamming out a home run in the second inning with two on base.

RED HAIRED MAN

ful one—a short quick stab—not necessarily directed to the exact, fatal spot between the ribs to penetrate the aorta artery."

Thomas Miller, first witness, a resident of this city, said that he had known Henry Thomas having served overseas in the 2nd Battery with him from Valcartier days. Thomas came to see witness at his home here about two months ago.

"I saw him about 8 o'clock Saturday night, September 3," stated witness. "I was standing on the corner of Sherbrooke and George streets when he came along. He was happy and bright and was always that way kidding like, even in France."

Accompanied by "Yank"

Mr. Miller said that when Thomas came to his house he was usually accompanied by an American who was called "Yank." When witness saw the murdered man last he was carrying two loaves of bread. "He said the stem's pretty hard to-night. I've only got two loaves and I usually have three or four."

Witness said that living with Thomas in the boat-house was another man called "Shorty," who usually wielded a knife when unwanted visitors came to the door of the boat-house.

Mr. Miller said that his wife saw "Pork" Thomas (army nickname), about 10 o'clock on George street. He said "Porky" was anything but a quarrelsome character. "Just the opposite always kidding," said Mr. Miller.

Maurice Gainey said he knew the boat-house in which Thomas was killed very well. He stated he hadn't been in the boat-house since a reddish-complexioned man had taken possession of it.

"After he took possession of it I never went into it," said Mr. Gainey. "He was a queer-acting fellow and I didn't like his looks. He put up the signs and always keep out when anyone came near as though he owned the place."

Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, Mr. Gainey said he noticed the boat-house door opened and saw Thomas sitting slumped on a cot.

He said at this time there was no one around the boat-house whereas other mornings there would be many men about the place.

Mrs. Clara Miller, wife of the first witness, stated that she had seen Thomas going down George street at 10 o'clock Saturday evening.

Alex Darling, photographer, gave a description of the interior of the boat-house and produced pictures showing pools of blood and the trail of blood from the door to Thomas' couch.

Bumming Over Year

Edelard Lessard, transient and formerly a habitue of the jungle, said his home was in Quebec. He said since a year ago last May he had been bumming. He had been in the local jungle for the past two weeks, although during that time had been to Millbrook for a few days.

He said when he first came here the boat-house "Butch" (Thomas) and "Shorty" occupied the bunk.

He said he and his pals were accustomed to leaving their surplus grub in the boat-house. He said on Wednesday last week he was in the boat-house playing "rummy" with "Butch" and "Shorty."

Saturday afternoon, witness played cards with Thomas and "Shorty." Later Thomas went out to get some bread. Witness, after getting some grub up street, returned about 10 o'clock to the box car where he slept all night.

Daniel Kelly, also a transient and jungle dweller, said he arrived in the jungle at 11.40 Saturday night. The last time he saw "Butch" alive was Friday afternoon. He said he and his pals spent Saturday night in the tabernacle tent on George street.

Dr. J. M. O'Brien said he performed a post mortem on Henry Thomas on Sunday afternoon. He said the blow that killed Thomas must have been done by a man used to using a knife. It was a short quick jab like a bayonet thrust," he explained.

A sudden incised wound by a sharp instrument penetrating the aorta gland of the heart. Dr. O'Brien said was the cause of death.

Dr. Herbert Young stated that in his opinion death set in between 10 o'clock Saturday night and 4 o'clock Sunday morning. Dr. Young said that the blow might have had similar results if it was a blind stab in the dark or a deliberate painstaking blow.

Leslie Scott, also a jungle dweller, said his home formerly was in London, Ontario, and previously in Scotland. He came to Peterborough first about a month ago. He met "Butch" and "Campbellford Shorty" who occupied the boat-house together.

"Shorty always claimed that he was the boss of the place and was paying the taxes on it," said witness. "Shorty was very sharp-tempered. But Thomas was an easy-going man."

Buried Gold

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(C.P.).— Thar's gold under them Thar Streets, stranger—but try to get it. The academy of natural sciences, opening a display to-day, disclosed that the greater part of Philadelphia is underlain by a bed of blue clay that assays about three cents worth of gold to the cubic foot. But there's a catch. It costs about 50 cents to extract the three cents worth of gold.

Sees End Of Slump 1933—Normal 1934

WELLESLEY, Mass., September 7 (C.P.). — Ralph B. Wilson, vice-president of the Babson statistical organization, sees happier days for the business world in 1933.

"The depression would be over at once," he told the 19th annual National Business Conference to-day, "if it were possible for us to reduce at one fell swoop the cost of governing ourselves 15 per cent."

He predicted that "business has struck rock bottom," and added, "a sharp rise in the commodity and security markets indicates that the worst is over."

"The total volume of business in 1933 should be greater," he said, "than that of 1932. Because the readjustment has been drastic, it is not unreasonable to expect the recovery to reach normal by the close of 1934."

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

WOUNDS WOMAN, LOVER SUICIDES

Toronto Man Found Dead on Lawn Following Violent Quarrel.

HAD BEEN TURNED DOWN.

TORONTO, September 7 (C.P.). — Result of a jealous rage and quarrel, William Micknow, 39 to-day lies dead and Mrs. Annie Holuv also 39, is in hospital with a bullet wound in the chest from which it is expected she will recover.

The quarrel arose from the breaking off of a five-year love affair. Mrs. Holuv left Micknow three months ago for Parry Sound. She returned to Toronto two weeks ago. Last night Micknow called at her Bathurst Street residence where an altercation started, during which he demanded $50.00, which was refused.

The woman told Micknow she did not want to see him again, whereupon, it is alleged, Micknow drew a revolver and shot her in the chest. He then turned the revolver on himself, firing a shot into his head and another one through the heart.

MURDER VICTIM IS LAID TO REST

Regt. Sergt. G. N. Spafford, and also signed by Sergt. Bill Black, Sergt. Lionel Harris, Sergt. Charles Weaver, M.C., and Bombardier Gaetum, all comrades of Harry Thomas, reads, in part, as follows:

"Tragedy, grim, stark, ruthless consummated the career of a transient—a life snuffed out in a 'jungle.' A man we find who had served this Canada of ours as a soldier in France and Flanders, with an honorable discharge in evidence. We, his comrades, the remnants of a gallant company, the old fighting 34th Battery, C.F.A., Belleville, hasten to pay tribute to our comrade who has passed over yonder to join the invisible army of comrades who gave their lives on the fields of battle in the cause of justice and freedom.

"We hasten to extol his merits, his bravery, his humanitarian principles, his generosity and his unselfishness by which we all knew him.

"A gallant soldier, he enjoyed the confidence and admiration of his officers and comrades. The horses he rode as a driver in the artillery would follow him like dogs, and he always took pride in them to an extent evidenced by their appearance and confidence. When they were killed under him he wept like a child, never once thinking of his own danger. He was generous in extremes—he gave the shoes on his feet to a pal who was out of luck.

"He was gentle as a woman to the writer, who was ill in a dugout in the trenches. Nothing was too much trouble. In spite of his own hardships, he endeavored to make life more cheerful under those trying circumstances.

"Such was the youth, Harry Thomas, when he left his good home to serve his King and country; the patriotism he upheld; the fine example of unselfishness that he displayed and he was one of the first to don the uniform in August, 1914.

'This a tribute:
'Hail to the land we tread,
Our fondest boast.
There is no other land like thee.
No dearer shore.
Thou art the shelter of the free.
The home and port of Liberty.
Thou hast been and shall ever be,
Till time is o'er.
Ere I forget to think upon
My land, shall Mother curse
The son she bore?'

"Whatever the force of circumstance may have been under which our beloved comrade was compelled to keep his body and soul together, like many others who to-day know not which way to turn, it but reminds us young people of Canada of your promise to make this Canada a fit place for heroes to live in.

"It is but another reminder to the veterans, the remnants of a last generation, that it is high time that we, at this eleventh hour, should unite and speed up the machinery for our present administration, so that every comrade, regardless of who or what he is today, will be taken care of. There is much to be done, but unless we are united, unanimous in our effort, we can do nothing. Let us be charitable and patient, even as our Master Jesus. Let us look beyond the veil."

Wood To Attempt Straightway Mark

Harmsworth Cup Holder Confident He Can Set New Speed Record.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 7. —(C.P.).— Miss England III, unsuccessful and disabled challenger for the Harmsworth trophy, will be loaded on a flat car at Walkerville, Ont., to-day for the first leg of her journey back to England.

At Montreal, she will be put aboard the Duchess of York, which sails September 9.

A broken piston, damaged cylinder and detached throttle control [illegible] out of the second heat of the Harmsworth races Saturday, will not be repaired until the boat reaches England.

Kaye Don, who drove Miss England III to the present world record of 119.81 miles an hour in Scotland will leave either to-night or to-morrow for Toronto. The trip will be by train if he leaves to-night, or by plane should he remain until to-morrow. He sails from New York September 16.

Meanwhile, Gar Wood, successful defender of the symbol of competitive speed boat supremacy, began preparations for the attempt on Don's straightaway speed record, which he expects to make, probably within a week, with his Miss America X.

Wood entertained the British delegation last night at dinner.

MARY McCARTHY HOLDS LOSERS TO FIVE HITS

Country Maidens Hold Decided Edge on Play Throughout Game.

HAS EIGHT STRIKEOUTS.

Large Crowd Braves Chill Autumn Winds to Watch First of Girls' Play-offs.

Before a huge crowd that surrounded the Bowl and shivered in the chill autumn air last night, Keene hammered out a 17 to 6 win over Maple Leafs in the first game of the Girls' Softball League finals. Taking an early lead and playing steady ball, while getting fine hurling, the champs of last year held a decided edge throughout.

Mary McCarthy held the Leafs to five scattered hits, no two coming in the same frame, while she breezed her fast ball by eight batters. She had good support all the way both afield and at bat. On the other mound, Elsie Gates went three innings, allowing Keene five runs, though holding them to three hits. G. Mann replaced her in the fourth and was hit hard the rest of the way. Neither twirler was given much backing by her teammates, who kicked in with ten misplays.

Score From First.

The out-of-towners rambled across with two markers in the opening session on a single and M. McCarthy's homer. Two more were added the next time on two walks and a couple of boots. An error, wild pitch and single sent one in in the third. The Leafs got two in the fourth on a hit, a walk, a miscue and two pilfered sacks. But Keene got them back in their half when three solid smashes came in a row. They made it 8-2 in the fifth on an error and D. Gainor's triple.

The sixth saw some fireworks. Maple Leafs started by getting three on a single, two errors and three free bases. The country lasses came back with a vengeance to tally eight on seven hits, a wild pitch and three bad errors. G. Mann's homer in the seventh was the Leafs' last run, but Keene got one more in the eighth on an error, a stolen base, and two outs. The game was called early in the ninth, when the fielders couldn't see the ball.

Is Star Slugger.

G. Mann got three of her team's five hits, one a homer and one a double. H. Nelson led Keene with the willow, getting four safe blows. M. McCarthy had a homer and two singles, while G. McCarthy got three hits. Dot Gainor lined out a triple and a single. G. Mann, E. Gates, H. Mann, R. Gainor and I. Shortt all turned in some nice fielding.

Reaboro Takes 9-7 Victory to Send Visitors' Hopes Glimmering.

STAGE BELATED RALLY.

OMEMEE, Sept. 7 (Examiner Correspondence)—In a very close exciting game played at Reaboro Thursday evening, finis was written to Omemee's hopes of representing this district in the next round of the O.R.S.A. play-downs when Reaboro eliminated the Omemee team by the score of 9-7. Up to the first half of the seventh Omemee's hopes were rosy as their boys were leading 7-1 and appeared sure winners but a ball game is never over until the last man is out.

Dr. McPhee missed an easy fly ball in this inning and not to be outdone by the manager the other boys started to commit errors also, which paved the way for Reaboro to score 5 runs.

Parsons for Omemee pitched a fine game as did McKay for Reaboro. Adams as first played his best game of the season while McNeil at third steadied the Omemee infield. The Omemee team were the first to congratulate the winners and wish them success in their quest for the championship. The Omemee team won over 50 victories this season dropping 11 games. It seemed the irony of fate that Reaboro should win this series as Omemee had not dropped a game to Reaboro this season in five previous games. The game marked the end of Omemee's best year in softball and the manager would like to take this opportunity of thanking the citizens for the truly wonderful support which they have given the boys.

DODGERS ADVANCE BY BEATING KINGSTON 13-5

OSHAWA, Sept. 7— Outplaying the Kingston Frontenacs in every department of the game, the Oshawa Dodgers last evening won the second straight game in the third round of the O.A.S.A. playdowns at the Motor City Stadium, the score being 13 to 5 in favor of the Oshawa team. Whiteley, the Oshawa twirler, was in fine form, allowing only six hits and striking out seven batters, while his teammates secured eighteen hits, two of them being home runs.

The Frontenacs secured a two-run lead in the second inning, but this soon vanished when the heavy hitters of the Dodgers brought in four runs in the third, one in the fourth, and then staged a fierce assault in the fifth to count seven more. The game from that time on was rather tame, with the locals coasting on to victory. Hurst, with a home run and two singles; Rowden, with one and a single and Cornish, with three safe hits, were the batting stars for the winners, while Whitham, the Frontenac pitcher was the only batter on his side to secure two hits.

As the Dodgers won the first game in Kingston last Saturday by 10 o 4, last night's victory gives them the series and they are now ready for the next round.

HERD REGAINS SECOND PLACE WITH ORIOLES

While Wings Pass Montreal to Capture Berth in First Division.

LEAFS LOSE AGAIN.

(Associated Press.)

Although the pennant race proper is over in the International League, the struggles among the clubs are not. Six of the eight teams still are involved in battle for positions that are hotter than the chase after Newark was for some weeks before the Bears ended it.

Two changes in the status of the clubs appeared only yesterday as the result of three games. The Buffalo Bisons caught up with Baltimore in their second place race, and the Rochester Red Wings passed Montreal to capture a berth in the first division.

B'sons Take Double.

The Bisons slammed a doub'e defeat on Montreal while Rochester took one game from Toronto. As a result, the Red Wings took fourth place by a full game over the Royals. Baltimore's game was a night affair, so the Orioles did not have a chance to argue for a while about second p'ace.

Ira Smith earned Rochester's place fairly by pitching brilliantly to get the best of Art Smith, Toronto flinger, and win 6 to 3. He gave only four hits, all of them in the seventh inning, and after that weak frame had given the Leafs a 3-3 tie he won his own game in the next inning by clouting a double with loaded bases.

Toss Away Five Second.

After hitting hard but ineffectively in the first game, Montreal tossed away the second. The Royals made 14 hits in the opener, but Slim Brewer held them scoreless until the eighth, and Pat Caraway halted a ninth-inning rally in time for the Bisons to win 4-3. Two errors in the third inning of the second clash paved the way for a Buffalo rally that netted five runs after two were out. A homer by Winsett finished the scoring in that frame and one by Poole in the seventh brought the other two runs.

Baltimore failed in a night game to regain the ground it lost in the afternoon when the Albany Senators stepped out and gave the Orioles an 8 to 1 drubbing. Buzz Arlett's 32nd homer was the only tally off Georg: M'sead who gave only four hits. The defeat dropped them a full game behind Buffalo.

Newark, having clinched the pennant, promptly took a trimming from Jersey City in another floodlight encounter, going down by a 6 to 1 count before Charley Perkins. The Bears got only seven hits, while Frank Nekola granted 12.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Pittsburgh—Johny Datto, Cleveland, knocked out Charley Baxter, Pittsburgh (4); Louis Disantis, Cleveland outpointed Patsy Hennigan Clairton Pa. (6).

Belpre O.—Myer Christner, Akron knocked out Russ Rowsey, Huntington (7).

POGGI CLAIMS ITALIAN TITLE

Friday Night's Finalist Has Beaten Garibaldi and Romano.

MATCHED AGAINST BERGER

Nazzarino Poggi, Italian wrestling star who is to meet Casey Berger of San Francisco in the finish match which will feature the Queensbury Club wrestling program at the Brock Street Rink next Friday night is determined to win recognition as the Italian heavyweight champion. He has good grounds upon which to base his claims and declares that he is willing to meet any other Italian wrestler who disputes his right to the title.

Poggi held the Italian light heavyweight championship for some time and even as a 175 pounder met with considerable success among the heavyweights. Then he himself developed into a full-fledged heavyweight and became more effective than ever. Now that he is weighing in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, he feels he has every right to claim the Italian championship.

Impressive Record

Two Italian grapplers of note are Gino Garibaldi and Mike Romano and Poggis has already beaten both of them. He threw Romano in twenty-two minutes and last year at New Orleans won a main bout from Garibaldi. The latter was not satisfied and they were rematched, Poggi also winning the return bout. He claims that George Calza, another Italian, has persistently dodged the issue by refusing to meet him and thinks that the veteran Renato Gardini is past his best as a wrestler. That pretty well covers the field of outstanding Italian heavyweights and Poggi may establish his right to the title before the end of the year.

Poggi's bout with Berger will have no bearing on the Italian championship but it should be one of the hardest Poggi has had in some time, Berger being a clever all-round wrestler with a flying tackle that is particularly dangerous, even though he had just finished a lengthy journey across the continent, he showed real ability against "Whitey" Hewitt at the last local show and he should be back at his best for Friday's bout.

The supporting bouts promise plenty of high class wrestling and exciting action with Jack Kogut meeting Bert Rubenstein in the semi-final and Frankie Hart opposing "Young" Szabo of Hungary in the opener.

Paul Cook Victor International Golf

MINOT, N. D., Sept. 7. —(C.P.).— Paul Cook, Bismark, nosed out Bobby Reith, Winnipeg, Manitoba open and amateur champion, by one stroke to win the international golfing tournament here. Cook carded 233 strokes for the 54-hole championship flight while Reith had 234. M. Shafner, Minot, was third, with 233 just nosing out Don Kennedy ,Winnipeg.

Reith took medallist honors in 18 holes of qualifying play Sunday with an 18-hole score of 75.

CUBS FAVORED.

To Win More Games Than Pirates During Balance of National Schedule.

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(A. P. Press Sports Writer)

The Chicago Cubs are not the best road club in the National League but there's nothing in the records to indicate they'll lose much of their present six-game lead on their current eastern invasion.

The second place Pittsburgh Pirates can boast a better record on the road but the Cubs have overcome this by a vastly superior showing at home. Chicago has played .718 ball at home and .459 on the road. The figures for Pittsburgh are .592 at home and .500 on the road.

Here's how the two contenders have fared his year:

At Home	Won	Lost	P.C.
Chicago	51	20	.718
Pittsburgh	45	31	.592
Away	Won	Lost	P.C.
Pittsburgh	39	29	.500
Chicago	28	33	.459

The remainder of the schedule also favors the Cubs, six of whose remaining 22 games will be played at Chicago. Pittsburgh must play all of her remaining 20 games on the road

Just One Chance

There's just a chance that the Pirates can pick up enough ground in the next couple of weeks to make a "crucial" series out of the four games they will play with the Cubs at Wrigley Field Sept. 20, 21 and 22.

Action in the major leagues yesterday was restricted entirely to one double-header in the American League, the Cleveland Indians taking the St. Lou's Browns over the hurdles twice, 4-3 and 6-0. Irving Hadley struck out seven Indians in the opener but was the victim of a three-run outburst in the sixth frame.

George Connally was in form in the second game and blanked the Brownies with eight scattered hits. Earl Averill hit his 31st homer in this contest.

HENRI COCHET TOPS THE LIST AS BOX OFFICE "ATTRACTION"

Spectacular French Player Meets John Van Ryn in Fourth Round To-day.

IN NATIONAL TENNIS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (C.P.) — Henri Cochet may or may not be the world's greatest tennis player at the moment, but there can be no doubt the spectacular little Frenchman has topped them all as a box office "draw," in the opening rounds of the National Tennis championships.

Cochet, surrounded by an aura of semi-invincibility, has pulled most of them through the gates. Some have been there to see other favorites, but it has been noticeable that when Cochet played on the centre court, the Stadium was filled.

Prospects were he would need all his resources to-day when he encounters John Van Ryn, the steady Philadelphian, in the outstanding duel of the fourth round. The French ace was favored to win but not any such margin as that by which he overwhelmed Manuel Alonzo yesterday.

Vines Meets Gledhill

Things also promised to warm up to-day for Ellsworth Vines Jr., who has loafed through two previous matches. The United States champion meets his old friend and doubles partner, Keith Gledhill, who has beaten him frequently in lesser tournaments, and observers anticipated a close match.

Much attention was being given to the formidable British challenge, with "Bunny" Austin, who has captivated the galleries with his dashing game, much in the limelight. Austin has been playing even more brilliantly than Cochet or Vines in his matches to date.

This afternoon Austin meets another strong opponent in Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans.

Fred Perry, of England, also is pitted against a ranking United States star, Sidney Wood, Jr., of New York, although he is expected to emerge victor. John Olliff, the third English ace, meets the powerful Frank Shields of New York.

Bowling Notes

The winners for the Central Ontario bowling doubles were settled last night, E. Wall and H. Wood being victors over M. Bredin and G. Cairns in some close play. There remains only the singles winner to be declared in this event, and the first round of this competition will be played on or before to-morrow night.

The Central Ontario annual tournament will be held here next Wednesday, the 14th, and rinks are expected here from the ten towns in the league. The H. Rosevear Trophy will be up for rink competion with prizes being offered for rinks, doubles and singles.

The last open mixed tournament of the season here begins to-day, in the afternoon, the Ovaltine Trophy being competed for. Entries have been received from Kingston, Cobourg, Port Hope, Oshawa, Whitby, Norwood, Peterborough and more are expected to-day.

The local club bowling singles card is still open at the clubhouse, but all entries in this event must be in no later than Saturday night, September 10th. It will be played the next Thursday.

City Tennis Tourney

Following is the draw for the city tennis championships:

Men's singles, senior — George Nicholls vs. George Scott; Fred Rigby vs. Ken Wilson; Ken Toole vs. Ralph Cowle; John Hammond vs. Walter Jackson; H. A. Wilson vs. Max Cotton; J. Donaldson vs. Herb. Young; B. Schwartz, bye; Gordon Cathcart, bye.

Men's doubles, senior —Cathcart and Cotton vs. Jones and Nicholls; Scott and Cranfield vs. Schwartz and Ward; Bowness and Jackson vs. Thackeray and Cunningham; Cowle and Wilson vs. H. Sills and C. Crough.

Ladies' singles, senior—Miss I. Davidson vs. Miss F. McKenzie; Miss G. Caddy vs. Mrs. Hammond; Mrs. Dewart vs. Miss B. Pickering; Miss Hazel Jackson, bye.

Ladies' doubles, senior — Miss Langley and Miss Jackson vs. Miss Pickering and Miss Dixon; Mrs. Dewart and Miss Davidson, bye.

Mixed doubles—G. Nicholls and Miss Pickering vs. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond; M. Cotton and Miss Davidson vs. W. Jackson and Miss Jackson; G. Scott and Mrs. Dewart, bye; B. Brooks and Miss Dixon, bye.

Ladies' singles, junior — Miss Betsy Scott vs. Miss L. Lundy; Miss Jean Howson, bye.

Ladies' doubles, junior — Miss Lundy and B. Scott vs. K. Caddy and R. McKee; Miss A. Langley and J. Howson, bye.

Play in the first round of all events must be completed by Wednesday, September 14th. The winners of all matches will put the results of their matches on the bulletin board either at the Kawartha Country Club or the Peterborough Bowling and Tennis Club.

Brintons And C.G.E. In Lacrosse Battle

Brintons and C.G.E. of the City Lacrosse League play a scheduled game at nine o'clock to-night in the Brock, an important loop fixture. Both teams are tied now in third place, half a game down from Millbrook. The winner to-night will move into second place, leaving the loser alone in fourth position.

These two squads always put up a fast, snappy battle from start to finish, and with so much at stake and the cool Fall evening putting added pep in the players, to-night's tussle should be worth seeing. The opposing outfits will be at full strength.

Minor Ball Games Over The Week-End

Both the Peterborough teams still in the O.B.A.A. running will play Saturday of this week. The Maple Leaf Juveniles will play Toronto St. Andrew's either here or in Toronto, while the Kiwanis Bantams will meet Hamilton either here or in Hamilton. The places for the games have not yet been settled but should be known to-morrow.

QUEEN CITY CRICKETEERS WIN FROM MONTREAL BY 4 WICKETS

West Indian Club Makes Great Bid For Victory When They Score 220 Runs.

FINE BATTING DISPLAY.

(By J. H. Marsters—C.P. Staff Writer).

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—After a year's sojourn in Montreal the John Ross Robertson Cup, emblematic of the cricket championship of Canada, returns to Toronto by virtue of a four-wicket victory here yesterday of the Toronto Cricket Club over the defending West Indian Cricket Club of Montreal.

Toronto scored 178 runs in their first innings on Monday, and yesterday put on 114 runs for six wickets. The West Indians after a disastrous first innings of 67 runs were forced to follow on. When stumps were drawn Monday they had made only 37 runs for the loss of four wickets, but a desperate tail-end stand brought the score up to 220 before the side was dismissed.

Despite the fine battling display at the end of the West Indians' second innings it was practically a foregone conclusion that Toronto would be able to make the 110 runs necessary to win the cup. Over-anxiety on the part of the locals when the visitors were at the wicket for the second time, cost them many chances, a total of seven catches being dropped.

Make 48-Run Stand.

J. Abrahams and E. Jemmott made the first stand for the West Indians, putting on 48 runs before Abrahams fell to E. F. Loney's bowling after making 30 runs. Jemmott followed shortly after, being bowled by S. Levey, when he had scored 22 runs. R. Forde then teamed with H. Smith who was bowled by E. C. Carlton after making 14 runs. J. C. Grell joined Forde, and between them they made 85 runs in an hour and a half at the wicket. Forde was bowled by W. Bell when he had scored 49 runs while Grell was not out with 38 runs.

G. F. Biggar and W. E. N. Bell opened Toronto's second innings, and when Bell had scored 10 he was out leg before wicket. A. C. Hill made 19 before being bowled by Jemmott, and then L. C. Bell fell to H. Smith's bowling after putting on 21 runs. Biggar, who had been missed four times, was finally stumped by E. Holder when he had scored 29 runs, the highest individual total of the Torontonians' second innings.

Loney Out For 13.

Loney also fell to Smith's bowling when he had made 13. Just before the 110 was posted Charlton was bowled by Jemmott for a duck. A. C. Logie, who made 73 runs not out in Toronto's first innings, carried his bat with 14 runs. J. A. K. Rutherford was also not out, but did not make a run.

The cup will stay in Toronto until next season, when a Montreal team will have to travel to the Queen City to play for it. Toronto C.C. won it here in 1929 from McGill C.C. of Montreal, and successfully defended it at Toronto in 1930 against the West Indians. Last year the West Indians succeeded in winning the cup from the Toronto Cricket Club, but yesterday the visitors made certain of its return to their clubhouse.

SMART BALL IN INDOOR LEAGUE

Red and White Stores Defeat Sugar Bowl 20-14 While C.G.E. Downs Westclox 8-6.

OPENING FIXTURES.

A mixed double-header of two snappy games opened the indoor softball league schedule before a fair crowd at the Brock last night. Red and White Stores turned back Sugar Bowl, 20 to 14, in the men's game; while C.G.E. nosed out Westclox in the girls' fixture, 8-6. Players and fans alike found the rink ideal for this game, the hard sand floor and good lighting making the games fast and interesting.

Good pitching by Curry and hard hitting by his teammates gave the Harrison boys the nod in the opener. The Grocers lambasted Bill Simmons' pitches hard most of the way, though the Bowlrites came through with some hard clouts also. Curry fanned five and allowed the Bowl 13 hits, while his side collected 27 safeties. Some smart fielding was seen. Score by innings:

Sugar Bowl .....412 231 10—14
Red and Whites ....309 036 0x—20

Sugar Bowl.—W. Calladine, ss; Weir, 2b; Playford, cf; P. Calladine, c; Dallin, lf; Wilshaw, 3b; Sturgeon, rf; Smith, 1b; Simmons, p.

Snappy Fielding

The girls' game was a clean, snappy one throughout, nice hurling and snappy fielding holding the score down as the evenly-matched teams fought it out. Two southpaws, V. Young and Marj. Selft, tossed the ball in good style.

C.G.E. started off strong, shoving across five counters in the third, and adding two more in the fifth and one in the sixth. They were blanked the last three stanzas while the maidens from the Clock Shop ankled across with two in the fifth, two in the seventh and another brace in the last go, to make it an exciting finish. Both sides looked good afield. Score by innings:

(BY C. J. P.)

Looks like the Maple Leafs have a man-sized job on their hands to take the girls' softball championship away from Keene. The country damsels romped home with a 17-6 win in the first of the five-game series at the Bowl last night, and certainly looked better. Of course, there's four more games possible and anything may happen yet.

* * * * * *

The gals drew an extra large crowd despite the cool weather, and there'll likely be another bumper turnout when they tussle again Thursday evening. The third game is billed for Saturday night, and every contest should be started no later than 5.30. They were twenty minutes late starting last night, and the game had to be called early in the ninth. And it wasn't too bright in the eighth either. That's no good for either players or fans, especially in the play-offs.

* * * * * *

Mary McCarthy threw nice ball for Keene, being almost invincible in the early innings. She was being touched up a bit later, but only allowed five safe hits. She had good support, the fielding and hitting—and Mary was in on the hitting also—gradually piling up the score against the Leafs. There was a number of smart catches made by players on both sides, and there were some errors that were faintly reminiscient of the Miami Maidens—if we may be forgiven for going back so far to bring up such an unpleasant memory.

* * * * * *

All in all, the gals are improving. Remember this is just the second season this loop has been operating, and most of the players were so green when they started that their consciences wouldn't let 'em steal a base; and they thought—some of them—that making a catch had something to do with snaring a husband. They're playing fair ball nowadays, and Thursday night's tilt should be better still.

* * * * * *

The opening of the indoor softball league at the Brock last night drew a fair crowd, though this will be considerably swelled when the girls' playoffs at the Bowl are completed. The Brock has been fixed up and should be ideal for this game, with good lighting and a level, hard-packed floor. The players thought it was okay last night, and two good games resulted.

* * * * * *

To-morrow night up there, the girls' teams, C.G.E. and Brintons will open the double-header at 7.15 to be followed at 8.45 by Daily Stars and C.N.R. of the men's section. There will be no Saturday night games this week. One thing found objectionable last night was the personal remarks by some of the less thoughtful fans directed toward the girls. Men athletes don't like insulting remarks either but they are generally not so sensitive, and get used to them. But the girl players should be spared this cheap "razzing."

* * * * * *

Reds and Whites turned in a smart all-around game to win from Sugar Bowl in the first of the double header, 20 to 14. These teams will carry their City League war indoors for the fall and continue to battle merrily on. C.G.E. damsels got an 8-6 nod over Westclox in the gals' contest, and it was a smart game from start to finish. Competition ought to be pretty hot in this loop.

* * * * * *

A classy City Lacrosse League game is billed for the Brock at 9.00 o'clock this evening between C.G.E. and Brintons. These teams are tied in third place, half a game back of Millbrook, and both will put up a real scrap to leave the other alone in the cellar this game. The cooler weather prevailing should make for even faster lacrosse than we've been getting.

* * * * * *

Friday night up there the pro rasslers are back with us in another likely looking card. Signor Poggi, the unpopular Italian, with the perennial grouch, tops the show against Berger, who gave Hewitt a mean forty-five minutes here before. Kogut, Rubenstein, and Hart are all well known here, but this bird with the unpronounceable name, Szabo—and won't Announcer Scates have some fun rolling that one around his palate?—is a new one to us, and might be bad news to the handsome Frankie Hart.

* * * * * *

Two local golfers, F. M. DelaFosse and W. G. Morrow took part yesterday in the foursomes competition with which the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association opened their annual championship tourney yesterday on the course of the Toronto Golf Club. Both Peterborough men play again this afternoon.

* * * * * *

And we see where the Dominion Football Association (soccer) is objecting quite violently to the A. A. U. of C. taking a 25-cent fee on all amateur cards issued to the players. The trouble is that the Amateur Union permits professional athletes to play soccer with amateurs without impairing the amateur standing of the simon pures. That's all very well, but why muscle in for two bits on every amateur card? Of course, the Association has to like it, as nothing can be done.

Practices

INTERMEDIATE LACROSSE

A full turnout of Intermediate lacrosse players is requested for the practise to be held in the Brock from 7.30 to 8.30 this evening, in preparation for an exhibition game.

Thirty-Four Players On Art Ross's List

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Manager Art Ross of the Boston Bruins yesterday announced a list of 34 hockey players who will report at Quebec on October 20 for three weeks of pre-season practice.

The list, with two exceptions, included all players under contract with the Bruins of the National Hockey League the Boston Cubs of the Canadian-American League, and 14 new players.

Neither George Owen nor Miles Lane, Harvard and Dartmouth hockey products, were included on the list. Owen will not decide whether or not he can leave his business to practice with the Bruins until later, and Lane, Boston University's new head football coach, will condition himself on the gridiron and report to the Cubs after the football season.

The only member of last year's Bruins' squad missing from the list was Ralph 'Cooney' Weiland, who has been sold to Ottawa. Among the new men were Nelson Stewart, purchased from the Montreal Maroons; Joe Lamb, New York Americans' right winger last season, and Billy Burch, also late of Americans; Orville Bestimer, up from the Canadian-American circuit; Jack "Red" Beattie, out of action last year with a broken leg, and Frank Ingram, late of the Chicago Black Hawks.

The new-comers to the Cubs, farm for the Bruins, were headed by playing manager George Boucher, defence man for the Chicago Black Hawks last season.

Senior Tournament Is Opened To-Day

TORONTO, Sept. 7 (C.P.).—Battling for the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association championship, 141 members to-day will start the first 18-hole round of the 36-hole competition. Ranging in age from 55 years upwards, the veterans will vie for the title held by J. Dix Fraser of Toronto.

Opening day honors of the tournament went to Dr. H. Bascom of Whitby and Dr. Charles Carter of Hamilton, who won the foursomes yesterday when they carded a gross round of 85. A handicap of 18 left them with their winning mark of 67.

Guelph Eliminated By Hamilton Team

PRESTON, Sept. 7.—Twenty-two strikeouts in an O.B.A.A bantam semi-final game was the feat accomplished here by Clark of Hamilton when that club ousted Guelph from further contention for the honors by a 6-2 count. Hamilton now meets the Peterborough Kiwanis. In addition to his twirling efforts, Clark supplied the scoring punch for his teammates, slamming out a home run in the second inning with two on base.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

THE HOME GOING OF JOHNNY CHUCK

Johnny Chuck had made up his mind to go back to his old home in the far corner of the Old Orchard. Yes, sir, Johnny was no longer obstinate. He didn't care what Polly Chuck might say. Hunger had quite cured him of all obstinacy. He wanted to get back where the grass was cool and clean and sweet, and where he need hardly more than leave his doorstep to get plenty to eat.

So Johnny Chuck had made up his mind to go back home. The one trouble was that he couldn't decide when to start. You see, it was a long, long way back home. At least it was a long way for Johnny Chuck, though you and I would have thought nothing of it. In case of sudden danger along the way there was no place in which to hide. There would be nothing for it but to run or fight. Johnny didn't feel that he could do either. He was stiff and lame and sore from his fight with Reddy Fox.

So Johnny was in a bad fix. He was hungry, very hungry, yet feared to go far enough from his house to get enough to eat. He wanted to go back to his home and Polly Chuck, yet feared to make the journey. Perhaps Sammy Jay guessed what was in his mind, for Sammy suddenly offered some good advice.

"If I were in your place," said Sammy, "I would start for home about noon."

"Who said anything about going home?" growled Johnny Chuck.

"I did," chuckled Sammy as if Johnny Chuck hadn't growled at all. "Noon is the best time for you to start."

"It's too hot then," growled Johnny.

"It's safer than any other time," retorted Sammy. "You know, or ought to know, that Reddy and Mrs. Fox and Old Man Coyote usually are resting then. Bowser the Hound is sure to be napping. If I were thinking of making a journey I certainly would start right about noon."

"Huh!" grunted Johnny Chuck, and that was all Sammy could get out of him. Now Johnny knew that Sammy was quite right. He knew that there is no other time of day or night when so few are out and about as during the very middle, the hottest part, of the day. The more he thought it over the better Sammy's idea seemed. And so it came about that at noon of that very day Johnny Chuck started back for the old home in the far corner of the Old Orchard.

"It is about time you came home," was all she said.

Now, though he didn't know it, Sammy Jay was watching to see if he would go and Sammy followed along behind, taking care not to show himself. Sammy's eyes twinkled as he watched Johnny limp along, stopping every few steps to pant or to get just a bit of clover.

The fact is, Sammy was keeping watch and had the least sign of danger appeared he would have warned Johnny Chuck instantly.

But no danger did appear and slowly Johnny Chuck made his way toward the far corner of the Old Orchard. As he drew near he began to wonder what Polly Chuck would say. Would she be glad to see him back? A little distance away he sat up and watched the entrance to his home. He wished Polly would come out. Perhaps if she did and saw him she would speak first. That would make it easier. Somehow, now that he was almost there he hated to go the rest of the way. It was too much like giving in. Johnny's obstinacy was begining to rise again.

And just then Sammy Jay screamed. He screamed just as he does when he sees Reddy Fox creeping up on someone. Johnny forgot that he was stiff and lame and sore. He forgot everything but that tree just before him was home and safety. He scrambled down his long hall and half way down he met Polly Chuck.

"It's about time you came home," was all she said.

As for Sammy Jay he flew off to the Green Forest laughing fit to kill himself.

ANOTHER LINK IN WATERWAY

Dredging Operations Have Been Completed in Brockville Narrows.

27 FOOT CHANNEL.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Sept. — (C.P.).— With the completion of dredging operations in the Brockville narrows, another link has been welded in the St. Lawrence waterway. A channel 27 feet in depth is now available from Crossover lighthouse, seven miles east of this city, to Sister island, a mile east of Brockville. The average width through the narrows, extending from Hillcrest to Big Island, is 550 feet, with a minimum of 500 feet. The remainder of the channel above and below the narrows is 750 feet wide.

Dredging operations; now under way in American waters, extending from Crossover lighthouse to Clayton, N. Y., will be completed shortly. The new channel, 27 feet in depth throughout, will then extend from Lake Ontario to Prescott, making possible the navigation of the larger upper lakes freighters from the head of the lakes to Prescott.

What To-Day Means To You

"VIRGO"

If September 7th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7.30 a.m. to 9 a.m., from 11.15 a.m. to 1 p.m., and from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. The danger periods are from 2 p.m. to 3.40 p.m. and from 7.30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

On September 7th, the Fates will have difficulties in store for certain groups of people, such as: housekeepers, food venders, church workers, attorneys and journalists, may be unsettling to the mind. Few material advantages shown, although social benefits may be received.

The child born on this September 7th will have few lazy bones in its body, and will have a wide-awake, attractive personality. It will be strong willed without being too obstinate, and will appreciate and listen to reason. It will be capable of putting up a good fight, if its toes are pinched too hard; otherwise it will generally be amiable.

Your two best qualities, if born on September 7th, are cheerfulness and resolution. You do not pray for a "chance," or "a spot of luck," but roll up your sleeves and get to work. You have faith in self, faith in your ideas, and faith in your associates. You prove to the world that if faith cannot move mountains, harnessed with industry, it can bring success to the man or woman who has this valuable virtue.

You have great respect for the advantages of education, and believe in as much self-improvement as is convenient and possible. You worship, if anything, too much at the feet of intellect and have too little patience with those who cannot help being stupid. You are very critical, and your criticisms are not always constructive ones.

The influences at the time of your birth favor occupations connected with travel, government work, or literary efforts. Your memory is very strong and reliable and seldom "tricks" you with its records. It cannot be denied that popularity and a desire for fame are prompted by your large "bump" of vanity, and it hurts you very much when life lets you down a notch. You are naturally affectionate, and capable of being a very constant and romantic lover. Your friends must be interesting and lively.

Belleville Advances By Beating Napanee

NAPANEE, Sept. 7. — Belleville Victorias smothered Gananoque 17-3 in a C.O.B.L. Intermediate "B" play-off here yesterday afternoon and qualified to enter the third round. Each team had won on the home grounds.

Belleville had the game well tucked away before Campbell eased up, and allowed Gananoque to break into the run column in the fifth.

Dorey, losers' southpaw, was well pounded in the fifth when the Vics put over 10 runs and retired in favor of Bantams.

Belleville ....500 0 101 010—17 19 4
Gananoque ..010 0 20 010— 3 8 5

WANTED — BY YOUNG COUPLE,

WANTED MAN WAS IN LINDSAY POLICE STATE

French - Canadian Transient Wanted for Thomas Murder Known as "The Wire."

MADE EGG LIFTERS.

LINDSAY, Sept. 7—That McDonald, a 35-year-old French-Indian transient, more commonly known as "The Wire" because of his proficiency in making wire egg lifters, one of the three men sought by Peterborough police for the murder by knifing of Henry Thomas, 43-year-old unemployed war veteran, in the Electric City last Saturday night, was in Lindsay "jungle" some time ago, was established by police yesterday.

A man answering to the description broadcast from Peterboro was in town only a short time ago, and sold many of these wire egg lifters from house to house. He also visited many officials around town, pleading for their help on his record as an ex-soldier and the value of his products. Among his customers was an ex-Mayor who took five egg lifters to assist him.

Description, flashed by Peterboro police on Sunday gave description of only two men and when Chief Lawlor was at the "jungle" checking up he noticed a wire egg lifter there but no sign of any of the two wanted men. Yesterday information sent out by Peterboro asked that watch for a third man, McDonald.

Remembering the egg lifter the chief checked immediately but it was learned that the article in question had been made by two Scotch transients who claimed they had learned the art from "The Wire" during their travels. One other man who was at the "jungle" when the police first went there was making a wire hat stand but he was not MacDonald.

Freak Fruit Grows On Monaghan Farm

A new and un-named variety of fruit—a cross between the cherry and plum, is at present ripening on a tree at the property of Orville Young in North Monaghan township.

Having the color and shape of a cherry and resembling a plum in size and taste, this composite brand of fruit, was not cultivated, but was according to Mr. Young just one of those infrequent freaks of nature herself. He states that he has a cherry tree and a plum tree in his orchard growing about six or seven yards apart, and he believes that by some means one tree has innoculated the other with the queer results that are now being manifested.

Already this year Mr. Young has had a good crop of fruit off each of the trees which was normal in every respect. Since that fruit was picked the trees have started to bear "cherry plums." They are said to be quite tasty.

WELSH IS AWARDED COPPER CONTRACT

Alex. McLeod Awarded Roofing Contract on Eaton Building.

Sub-contracts for the copper work for the roofing of the Canadian Department Store in course of construction here at the corner of George and Charlotte streets have recently been awarded by the Dickie Construction Company locally.

G. A. Welsh of 348 Water street was given the copper work contract, which he was successful in securing in competition with six Toronto and three local firms. It is stated that Mr. Welsh's price was not the lowest. There were three tenders submitted which were below him and three others which were above in amount. Despite this fact due consideration was given to the claims of a contractor within the city. A condition attached to this and other contracts on the Eaton Company's work is that local labor be employed.

Mr. Welsh is planning to make twelve roof ventilators in his own shops with local labor exclusively.

Alex McLeod of Hunter street east has the roofing contract.

Weddings

HEAL—SWAN.
The marriage was solemnized quietly yesterday at St. James' church parsonage, by the Rev. A. E. Moorhouse, of Emmaline E. Swan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Swan of Otonabee, and Clifford J. A. Heal, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Heal of 217 Princess street.

Attendants were Mr. Clarence W. Swan and Mrs. Ella D. Callan. Mr. and Mrs. Heal left for a honeymoon trip to Toronto and other points.

PULLYBLANK—BURDITT.
A quiet wedding took place at the parsonage of Park Street Baptist church, when Lorne Franklin Pullyblank, second son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. F. Pullyblank of 72 Victoria avenue, was united in marriage to Dora Alberta May Burkitt, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burkitt. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. K. Tyler in the presence of the witnesses: Mr. Herbert Pullyblank, brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Eleanor Bolam.

The bride wore a tailored suit of navy trimmed with grey, with grey hat, hose and gloves. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Pullyblank, left on a motor trip to Toronto. They will reside at 575 Gilchrist street.

BUCKLEY—FLYNN
A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral on Monday, when Verline Margaret Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Flynn, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Frederick Bernard Buckley, son of Mrs. Louisa Buckley and the late John Buckley, both of this city.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of yellow silk organdie, with hat, gloves and shoes in matching tones, and carried a bouquet of butterly roses tied with yellow tulle.

The bridesmaid, Miss Kay Reynolds, was attired in a becoming gown of pale pink crepe, with matching accessories, and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Vincent Flynn, brother of the bride.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a gold pin with diamond settings; to the bridesmaid, a diamond set pendant, and to the best man, a silver cigarette case.

After a dainty luncheon, served at the home of the bride's parents on Water street, Mr. and Mrs. Buckley left by motor for Kingston and points east. On their return they will reside in Peterborough.

AFTER WORLD'S RECORD.
TORONTO — There is a new claimant for a world's record at Toronto to-day.

A triumphant crowing and rattling at the Canadian National Exhibition poultry show drew the attention of officials and visitors to the arrival of a large white egg. The hen is 19 years old. The owner, R. Dumencu of Creighton Mines, Ont., says she is in perfect health.

FIRE DEPARTMENT UNDERMANNED UNDERWRITERS TELL COUNCIL

Also Flow of Water From 13 Streams Below the Standard.

BANK DANGEROUS CURVE.

In their report of an inspection of the Peterborough Fire Department made on June 20 the Canadian Fire Underwriters Association points out that the discharge of water from thirteen streams at the approximate rate of 3,287,000 Imperial gallons per hours was 15.7 per cent. less than the discharge of thirteen standard streams.

It is also stated that the number of firemen should be increased. There are now twenty-one in two platoons, and as each fireman has one day off in seven the number on duty at any time is eight or nine, and not more than seven during vacation periods. To man the appliances of the department not less than nineteen men should be on duty, the report suggests.

Reference is also made to the large proportion of 4 and five inch mains and dead ends in the waterworks system, and the need of additional hydrants in some residental areas is mentioned.

This report was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee at last night's meeting of the council.

To Bank Dangerous Curve.
A motion by Alderman Stocker, seconded by Ald. Phelan, petitions the Ontario Department of Highways to widen and bank the curve near the Hatton property on the highway to Port Hope. Several serious accidents have occurred at this approach to the city, and it is believed the Department will be willing to make an improvement that should reduce the hazard. It is also proposed that red reflectors be set up on each side of this curve

Ald. Stocker's New Job.
The trimming of trees in the city will henceforth be done under the supervision of the chairman of the Parks committee. This is an extension of Ald. Stocker's present duties, and it is understood that he wil start working this fall while the leaves are still on the trees instead of waiting until the winter. One of the objectives of this work is to expand the illumination of street lights and also to check the growth of lower limbs, some of which reach down almost to the height of pedestrians.

The appointment was made in a resolution by Ald. Macdonald, seconded by Ald. McNabb.

WAR VETERANS PENSIONS JUMP

Scale of Relief Still Lower Than Last August When Cut Made.

AMOUNT VARIES.

CALGARY, Sept. 7 (C.P.)—Relief allowances to unemployed war veterans have been increased, effective yesterday. According to Premier R. B. Bennett, instructions have been issued by the Department of Pensions and National Health to bring such allowances up to the standard of unemployment relief in the municipality in which the veteran resides.

The scale of relief, however, is still lower than that prevailing previous to August 1 last year, when reductions were made. Before the reductions, single pensioners received $30 per month, while married men with two children received $67 per month.

The cut lowered single men to $15 per month, while a married man without children obtained $27.50. A married man with one child was given $30 per month with $2.50 for every child up to the number of six. A total of $42.50 was given a married man, with six or more children.

Scale Varies
According to veteran organization officials here, single men in Calgary under the increase will secure $15.80 per month; married men without a family will still retain their $27.50 allowance. An increase of $4.00 will be granted married men with one child and married men with two children will be given $40. Married men with six children will receive $54 instead of $42.50 and for each additional child 50 cents monthly.

In other municipal districts and cities the rates will not be the same because of the difference in relief granted in the various sections of the Dominion.

Farmhouse In Smith Is Destroyed By Fire

A farm house, partly owned by John Fowler of this city and situated on the 8th line of Smith township was destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning. With the exception of a lean-to shed, the building which was insured was totally destroyed, although the contents of the house were salvaged.

The house is tenanted by a family of three people who were awakened from their sleep at 3 a.m. by a choking, blinding pall of smoke that filled the rooms. They were able to get to safety in good time and to get most of the household effects outside.

LINDSAY HONORS DR. KIRCONNELL

C.P.R. Announces Intention of Reducing Service on Burketon-Bobcaygeon Line.

NO MURDER ARRESTS.

LINDSAY, September 7. —(Examiner Correspondence). — In the assembly hall of the Collegiate Institute yesterday afternoon, a large gathering of citizens assembled to do honor to Dr. T. A. Kirkconnell, a former principal, and who has been on the teaching staff for the past year. Mr. C. E. Weeks acted as chairman and paid a warm tribute to Mr. Kirkconnell as a feacher and citizen. Mr. Kirkconnell was the recipient of a grand-father's clock, while Mrs. Kirkconnell was the recipient of a silved salver.

It was announced to-day by the municipal authorities that the C. P. R. intended cutting down the daily service from Burketon Junction to Lindsay and Bobcaygeon. At present, this is a two train a day service, but it is proposed to cut off the morning and noon train and only run the afternoon train to Burketon and return.

Two St. Catharines youths named Tripp and Varley had a narrow escape from serious if not fatal injuries on No. 7 highway, near Manilla this morning. Their automobile hurtled into the side of a moving C. N. R. train at a crossing on the Midland-Blackwater line and then rolled upside down into a deep ditch. They suffered from a number of cuts and bruises, while the front of their car was badly smashed.

Local police, following a check up on transients, are quite satisfied that McDonald, "The Wire," sought by the Peterborough police in connection with the murder of Henry Thomas in that city, was in Lindsay for a time, and made the local "jungle" his head-quarters. McDonald made and sold wire egg lifters, and sold a number of them here in a house to house canvas. The Examiner, in conversation with the police on Monday, was told that it was a very difficult matter to obtain any information from local transients concerning the movements of others. They make a practice of "passing the buck," at the police station to some other transient whose whereabouts is unknown.

CHARITY BOARD GIVES RELIEF TO 356 FAMILIES

1,586 Persons Received Relief From Board Last Month.

2,262 IN JANUARY.

Disbursements By Board in August Totalled $3,893.63.

The number of families receiving relief through the Central Charity Board of this city has increased from seven in August 1928 to 358 last month.

This extension of the public assistance rendered through the Charity Board is indicated in the following significant statistics for August in each year:—

Year	Families.	Persons
1928	7	22
1929	11	42
1930	23	96
1931	89	403
1932	358	1386

Last January there were 539 families on Relief Officer Meiheral's list, and the number of individual persons receiving relief during that month was 2,262.

Disbursements by the Board for the month of August in these years was as follows:—

1928	$164.00
1929	$216.50
1930	$242.00
1931	$842.00
1932	$3,893.63

Eighty-three persons called at the Relief office yesterday for assistance. They were all men, the policy of this department being adverse to receiving women and children as applicants.

Wood Purchases.
The Charity Board's purchases of wood from Howard Windsor have grown to a total of 2,500 cords. This contract will be concluded within the next two weeks. Mr. Windsor's first wood lot in Dummer was entirely cleared some time ago, and a new supply of wood was obtained at Gilchrist's Bay on Stoney Lake. It was all trucked to the city, and has been piled on three lots owned by the city, two of them on Townsend Street, and the third on Park Street at the end of Lake Street.

About 700 cords still remain to be transported from Gilchrist's Bay. On the south side of Townsend St. adjoining the Allin Ice Company, 958 cords have been piled in ten rows, most of them extending all the way from Townsend Street through to Rink Street. Another large quantity has been stocked on the north side of Townsend Street just east of the incinerator. Maple, beech, and elm comprise most of this wood with some cedar and other softer varieties. It is expected that the cutting of these 2500 cords will give work to men applying for assistance. The price paid to Mr. Windsor was five dollars a cord, representing an investment by the Charity Board of $12,500.

GLADIOLUS SECTION HAS MANY CLASSES

Big Entry is Expected at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

This year for the amateur at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition there are 25 sections in gladiolus. Twenty of them call for a single spike: 1st prize, $1; second, 50 cents. There are also open sections and all are open to anyone in the province of Ontario on payment of member's fee of $2, which allows you 20 entries free. Exhibitor's membership ticket entitles bearer free entry at any time during the Exhibition and is not transferable. Each entry above 20 will cost 10 cents each, and any number of entries may be made in one class, but may only win one prize. Special arrangements may be made covering entries above 20 in the gladiolus section owing to the uncertainty of having spikes ready on time. See the chairman of horticulture, W. H. Young, from whom copies of prize list may be obtained.

The High Cost of Neglect
It is poor policy to neglect the welfare of your body. Sickness is expensive. Derangements of the Spine cause Nerve Constriction, which produces lowered vitality and decreased resistance to disease. MICHIGAN KID IS ARRESTED

NEW ELECTION UNLESS HITLER GIVES SUPPORT

Chancellor Von Papen Threatens to Dissolve Reichstag as Alternative.

DECISION BEFORE MONDAY.

Government Confident It Will Weather Fifth Major Vote of Year if it Comes.

BERLIN, Sept. 8 (C.P.). — Adolf Hitler's Nazis and the Centrist Party of former Chancellor Heinrich Bruening have until next Monday to decide whether they will support the Cabinet of Chancellor Von Papen or go before the voters in what would be the fifth major election this year.

Actually the decision must be made between noon Saturday and 3 p.m. Monday.

If the decision of the coalition parties is not to support the Government the Chancellor will invoke the decree, already signed by President Von Hindenburg, to dissolve the Reichstag, and another election will be held, probably November 6.

The President announced he would receive representatives of the proposed Nazi-Centrist coalition at Belief that Canada will maintain comment generally held this reception will be merely a formality, after which the President will reject the coalition proposal to oust the Von Papen Cabinet.

Have Until Monday.

Then the Nazis and Centrists will have until the Reichstag convenes Monday to decide their course.

Most political commentators expressed the belief Von Papen would allow a day or two to debate the Government's announcements but that he would promulgate the dissolution decree before an opportunity arose to vote on a question of non-confidence.

The Government's willingness to face another election is based on its belief that the Von Papen Ministry is much stronger with the public now than it was at the last election.

R. J. McLAUGHLIN TAKEN BY DEATH

Noted Toronto Barrister Born in Cartwright—Attended Lindsay School.

DIES AT STURGEON POINT.

TORONTO.—Robert J. McLaughlin, K.C., prominent Toronto barrister, died suddenly early to-day at his summer home at Sturgeon Point.

Mr. McLaughlin was born in Cartwright township, but educated at Lindsay and Hamilton schools. He was admitted to the bar in 1888, in which year he won the law society gold medal.

He was vice-president of the Victoria Trust and Savings Co., Lindsay, and a director of the Macmillan Company of Canada. He unsuccessfully contested North Victoria in 1906 and Victoria and Haliburton in 1909 for the Federal parliament.

Royalty Welcomed At Braemar Games

BRAEMAR, Aberdeenshire, Sept. 8. (AP)—The King and Queen and the Duke and Duchess of York were welcomed to-day in a drizzle under dreary skies by thousands of holiday-making kilted highlanders and lowlanders and many lowlanders and foreign visitors at the annual Royal Braemar Games.

The picturesque part of the ceremony was the lilt and swing of gay tartans in braided color as the clans of Duff, Farquharson and Balmoral marched in solid ranks past the royal enclosure, led by their bonny pipers and carrying the traditional weapons of war.

A feature of the day's events was the ancient Scottish sport of tossing the caber, a stout tree trunk about 20 feet long. Only the brawniest athletes competed and some of the best exponents heaved the enormous spar twice its length.

Shipments from Alaska to the United States in July were $134,000 greater than in July, 1931.

Keg Beer "Gift of Gods," Says Fisher; Magistrate Differs—Levies $100 Fine

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 8.—(By Canadian Press).—"It was a gift from the Gods," said Urias Loop. "It costs you a fine of $100 and costs of $26.50," said Magistrate W. A. Smith.

The cause of this exchange of words was a simple keg of beer which Provincial Police found in Loop's fish shanty at Kingsville. The court could not accept Loop's story that strangers must have left it there as they are wont to hold drinking parties in fish shantites along the lake.

Loop admitted that he had taken some of "my favorite drink" from the supply so fortunately, or unfortunately, reposing in his shanty.

Thomas Aggressor In Hoboes' Scrap Prisoner Declares

Michigan Kid Declares That Slain Man Planned the Hold-up, and It Was Himself Who Did Not Want to Go Through With It.

FOR 9 YEARS PRISONER WORKED IN AN HOTEL IN CAMPBELLFORD

Henry Reid alias the "Michigan Kid" alias "Campbellford Snorty" is a Campbellford man.

For nine years he was employed at Fred S. Keller's hotel at Campbellford, Ontario. He left Campbellford last fall, and for a short period he worked on the Michigan Central Railroad.

Telling his story of the slaying of Harry Thomas to-day, Reid stated that the story in The Examiner of Chief Newhall's reconstruction of the murder was correct, except that Thomas was the aggressor, and not himself.

"It was Thomas," he declared, "who planned the holdup of the local man, and it was me who wouldn't go through with it. Thomas got mad. We began to argue. He started for me, reaching for the knife, I grabbed for it, too, and stabbed him. It was me or him."

Lived For 10 Minutes.

He stated that Thomas had lived for ten minutes following the fatal stabbing. The "Yank" was in the boathouse at the time of the fight.

"'Yank' went out for a doctor, but I stayed," Reid said. "I waited for 'Yank' to bring back the doctor. When he didn't come and Thomas had passed out, I beat it."

Reid will be arraigned formally in Police Court to-morrow on a charge of murder.

Magistrate Langley is out of the city attending the Police Magistrates' convention in Hamilton, so that Reid will appear before two Justices of the Peace. He will be remanded to appear early next week before the Magistrate.

Meanwhile police will press the search for "Yank," whose testimony at Reid's trial will be most important.

TWO BROKERS GET FREEDOM

Report States Ex-Stimson Officials Released Before Half Time Served.

PLEA USED, UNKNOWN.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.— (C.P.). — Frederick G. Johnston and Lawrence E. Clark, one-time high-priced executives of the Stimson Financial enterprises, who were sentenced respectively to three and two and one-half years in Portsmouth Penitentiary on charges of publishing false prospectuses, have been released on ticket-of-leave before half their sentences were served, the Evening Telegram says to-day.

The Telegram was unable to learn what extraordinary plea was advanced on behalf of the prisoners. It was stated by an eminent counsel that an application could be made for the release of a prisoner at any time, but that for a matter of precedent the Governor-General seldom exercised his powers of granting clemency until half the sentence had been served, the newspaper says.

TOLMIE FAVORS COALITION GROUP TO GOVERN B. C.

Early General Election Being Held as Strong Possibility.

LIBERALS MUM.

VICTORIA, Sept. 8. (CP)—British Columbia is on the brink of important political changes. Formation of a union government and an early general election emerge as strong probabilities as a result of Premier S. F. Tolmie's intimation he will shortly issue a statement recommending a coalition administration composed of men able to render the best service to the state.

Details of the premier's plans are still lacking but it is believed they are well advanced. The attitude of the Liberal party, the official opposition in the legislature has not been made known. T. D. Pattullo, liberal leader, yesterday declined to comment on the situation until he has Premier Tolmie's full statement before him. He added he had received no communication from Dr. Tolmie in the matter. Mr. Pattullo in the past has expressed himself as opposed to an alliance with the present government.

EXHIBITION ATTENDANCE FIGURES DOWN 237,000

TORONTO, September 8 (C.P.). —Dedicated to "Transportation and Commercial Travellers," the Canadian National Exhibition enters its twelfth day to-day with attendance figures far below the mark of last year on the corresponding day.

Girls' softball, outboard motorboat racing, and harness horse racing are the principal items on the sport card for to-day. Music competitions and the horse show will also attract their quota of enthusiasts.

Attendance figures show a decrease so far of 237,000, with the comparative figures standing at 1,115,000 for 1932 and 1,352,000 for 1931.

JOHN MACHRAY IS GIVEN REMAND UNTIL SEPT. 15

Aged Bursar Hears Charge Read Against Him of Theft of $901,175.

NOT ASKED TO PLEAD.

Prisoner Leaning Heavily on His Cane is Accompanied By Physician.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 8 (C.P.). — John A. Machray, K.C., former bursar and chairman of the Board of Governors of the University of Manitoba, made his first appearance in Provincial Police Court to-day, and heard a charge read against him of theft of $901,175.30. The case was remanded until Sept. 15.

The information declares that thefts of monies and valuable securities, the property of the University, covered a period from Nov. 5, 1925, to June 22, 1932.

John Allen, K.C., Deputy Attorney General of Manitoba, explained that the amount of $47,451.31, the theft of which had been previously charged against Mr. Machray, was included in the amount named in the information read to-day.

There were still two charges standing on the docket. Bondsmen who were surety for $50,000 bail surrendered Mr. Machray to the court to-day on the first charge.

Mr. Allen said the reason for the two charges was that he did not know until yesterday what was the amount of the charge. He said the audit was not yet completed, but that it so far proves the amount of shortages was as given in the information.

Magistrate R. M. Noble remanded the case until September 15 without asking the defendant to plead. The request for the remand was made by Mr. Allen, representing the Crown, and was agreed to by A. E. Hoskins, K.C., acting for Mr. Machray.

Mr. Machray sat with his face buried in his hands until the Magistrate entered the court-room, when he arose with the aid of his cane and leaned heavily against the table. For the past two weeks he has been confined to his bed suffering from cancer of the stomach.

CHARGE MURDER IN JAIL DEATH

Prisoner Found Hanging Declared to Have Died From Beating.

DEPUTY SHERIFF HELD.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 8.— Deputy Sheriff C. O. Skinner of Pekin, Ill., was held in Peoria County jail last night on a murder charge growing out of the death last week of a prisoner in the Tazewell County jail at Pekin.

Skinner was rushed here after his arrest when a mob of about 300 men, shouting threats, gathered in the Tazewell County jail yard. Most of the men were friends of Martin Virant, East Peoria coal miner, whose death in jail resulted in the murder charge against Skinner.

The murder charge was lodged against Skinner after Dr. W. D. McNally, Chicago pathologist, reported to Coroner Allen that a laboratory examination of tissue and cartilage from Virant's neck and an examination of his body convinved him that the man had not died from hanging. Sheriff J. J. Crosby reported that Virant was found hanging from the roof of his cell.

Virant, held as a witness and suspect in the slaying of Louis Nelan, testified at the opening of the inquest into Nelan's death that he had been beaten by several deputies led by Skinner.

Man Wanted For Murder Is Located By Police On Farm In Dummer Twp.

Henry Reid, Alias 'The Michigan Kid' Arrested At 11.10 a.m. On Farm Of Wesley McClure While Watering Team Of Horses.

TIRED AND SPENT AFTER 3 DAYS OF ROAMING REID GAVE NO FIGHT OR ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

Tip Was Given Police By The Examiner Following Information Supplied By Russell Little, Farmer And Cheese Factory Operator.

One of the greatest man hunts in Peterborough County's history ended at 11.10 this morning with the capture of Henry Reid alias the "Michigan Kid" alias "Campbellford Shorty," wanted for the murder early on Sunday morning in a boathouse at the foot of Burnham Street of Harry Thomas, Belleville war veteran.

The "Kid" was apprehended by Detectives Bill Meagher and Bill Piercy, of the local police, at the farm of Wesley McClure, on the Crowe's Landing road near Bethel School House, some eight miles north-east of Lakefield. He was engaged in watering a team of McClure's horses at the barn when the police descended upon him.

Tired and spent after four days of scampering through the lake district just ahead of his pursuers, the "Kid" gave no fight to the police. He made no effort to run when the two officers rounded the corner of the barn.

Identified by Leslie Scott.

Police were accompanied by Leslie Scott, denizen of the local "jungle," who identified the "Kid." When the police seized the "Kid," Scott instantly recognized him as the wanted man. Scott said in a low tone: "Yes, that's the 'Kid!' That's 'Shorty,' all right!"

Questioned by The Examiner reporter a moment later, Leslie Scott again stated his certainty that the little man with the hunted look in his eyes, who had just slumped, manacled, into the rear seat of the police car, was "Shorty."

Police then rushed the "Kid" in their speeding car down through Warsaw to Peterborough. During the drive to the police cell, the "Kid," The Examiner reporter was informed by Detective-Sergeant Meagher, chatted with the officers and with Leslie Scott, his former "jungle" pal.

The arrest was easy. Before a word was spoken Detective Meagher had slipped the handcuffs on the "Kid's" wrists.

"The "Kid," who has often boasted of his ability with a knife, proved to be anything but a kid. He is about forty years of age. He is little more than five feet in height, but is tough and wirily built for all his short stature.

Appeared Tired and Worn Out.

His face had been recently shaved of the red stubble of beard which police were told yesterday added to his wild, hunted look. To-day he appeared like a man tired out, one who had spent many anxious moments during the past four days.

Police are still seeking "Yank" for his connection with the murder. The "Kid" is alleged to have told police that "Yank" was in the boathouse when he stabbed Thomas.

"We separated right after. I don't know which way he went," the "Kid" told the police.

"I headed right north out of town right after the affair in the boathouse," the "Kid" is reported to have said. Following along Armour Road in the darkness of the storm that swept this district early on Sunday morning, the "Kid" continued out past the golf links. In the early hours of Sunday morning he, wringing wet from the downpour of rain, plodded along the east side of the Otonabee River on the Lakefield Road, until in the early morning he came to the Canada Cement Company's plant at Lakefield.

Hung Around Lakefield Sunday.

"I hung out around the elevator at Lakefield all day Sunday," the "Kid" said.

About 9 o'clock on Monday morning the "Kid" was out on the road just north-east of Lakefield. Mose Marsden, an Indian resident of Lakefield, came along in his car driving out of the village. The "Kid" asked for a ride.

"I killed him, I did the sticking," the "Kid" is alleged to have told the two officers.

Telling of the manner in which he came to stab Thomas, the "Kid," the Examiner was told, said, "It was all in The Examiner. I read the story closely and they had it right."

He gave his name as Henry Reid. Asked his home address he replied, "Nowhere."

Tip Given By The Examiner.

The "Kid's" capture came directly as the result of a tip given Detective-Sergeant Meagher at 8.25 this morning by E. A. Outram, Examiner reporter. Outram received a phone call at that time from Russell Little, farmer and cheese-factory operator in Douro Township on the Crowe's Landing Road. Little stated that Wesley McClure, farmer residing four miles further up the road, had just come into his cheese factory with a load of cream. "He tells me there is a man answering the description wanted for the murder in Peterboro, as given in The Examiner yesterday, working for him. He came to his farm Tuesday night and fills the description exactly."

The reporter talked on the 'phone with McClure and from the description furnished by the farmer was certain in his mind that the man on McClure's farm was the "Kid."

Immediately the reporter, who had accompanied a squad of police in a wide search through the lake district until 1 o'clock this morning on the hot trail of the "Kid," telephoned Detective Sergeant Meagher, informing him of his positiveness that the "Kid" was at McClure's farm.

Acting on the reporter's tip, the two detectives an hour

Endurance Plane Forced to Land

FONTANA, Calif., Sept. 8.—(C.P.). —The endurance plane, Spirit of '76, after being aloft slightly more than 96 hours, was forced to land here shortly before 2 a.m., to-day because of a broken oil line.

The pilots, John Sheasey and Fred Murillo, brought the plane to a safe landing. The plane took off from Los Angeles, last Sunday afternoon in an attempt to break the 647 hour endurance refueling record of Forest O'Brine and the late Dale Jackson.

GAS WELL FIRE TRAPS DRILLERS 2 DIE OF BURNS

Victims Given No Time to Escape as Spark Ignites Fumes.

FARMERS RUSH TO AID.

Eighteen Other Workers Escape Similar Fate by Being Away to Meeting.

DRESDEN, Ont., Sept. 8. (CP)—Two men died to-day from burns suffered in the explosion of a gas well on a Dawn Township farm.

The men, John Blackhall, Newbury, and Nick Diehl Cleveland, were burned when a spark ignited the gas as they were drilling at the well.

Neighboring farmers rushed to their assistance and dragged them from the roaring fire which leapt from the mouth of the well.

Flames from the well shot high into the air illuminating the countryside. Men gathered at a community meeting, rushed to give aid to the men caught by the fire.

They found the two drillers lying on the ground with their clothing burned from their bodies. Both were unconscious as the rescuers braved the terrific heat to drag them clear of the flames.

The community meeting had removed 18 of 20 men usually at work on the well and it was said the toll of the fire would inevitably have been higher had the entire drill crew been at work.

FAVORS UNITED POLICE FORCE

Guelph Cadi's Plan Embraces City, Provincial, County.

RALLY IN HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, Sept. 8. (CP) — Magistrate Frederic Watt of Guelph to-day recommended formation in Ontario of a unified police force which would include all police of cities, counties and province.

Magistrate Watt outlined his proposal at to-day's annual assembly of the Ontario Magistrates' Association which was welcomed to the city by Mayor John Peebles.

The meeting was presided over by Col. C. S. Woodrow of Sarnia, while devotional exercises were conducted by Very Rev. Dean Broughall.

D'scussion Follows.

A general discussion was held following the address of Magistrate Watt. It was suggested that schools of instruction be held for magistrates. The practice of the public resorting to police courts for the collection of debts was deplored.

Magistrate A. E. Calman of Picton led a discussion on the Juvenile Delinquents Act. He touched upon the increase in juvenile crime, and declared that the tragedy of present day life was the fact that when a young man left school he could find no place to secure employment. He suggested that boys leaving school with no prospect of jobs in the city should be placed on farms.

NATIONS ARE DISAPPOINTED ON ARMS PARLEY

Henderson States Critical Situation is Arising From German Demands.

DOES NOT ADMIT FAILURE.

British Labor Chief Fears Renewal of Old Armament Race.

NEWCASTLE, Eng., Sept. 8. — (A.P.). — Disappointment and dissatisfaction is wide-spread in England and other countries over the meagre results of the first six months of effort at the world disarmament conference at Geneva, Arthur Henerson, Labor Leader and President of the Arms Conference, told the Trades Union Congress here to-day.

It was Mr. Henderson's first public pronouncement on disarmament since the adjournment of the Geneva Conference. He said he frankly confessed the results were far from what he had expected.

A critical situaton was created, he said, by Germany's demand for arms equality. The suggestion was made that Germany leave the Conference, he said, because it would now be impossible to achieve success there but this course, he added, would mean disaster.

Renewal of Race.

It would certainly, he said, to a renewal and intensification of the old competitive race for armaments. Germany, he said, had nothing to gain by leaving the Conference which was not responsible for her present position. Her claim, must first be dealt with by the former Allied and associated powers, he said.

Although the results to date were not encouraging, he added, it is too early to declare the Conference a failure. I have refused to contemplate failure and cannot do so now, he said. There has never been a Conference with a greater public opinion behind it than this.

SAVES SIX GIRLS FROM DROWNING

Driver Arrested For Reckless Driving Reveals Story in Court.

CAR PLUNGED OFF BRIDGE.

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Sept. 8. (CP)—Spectacular rescue of six girls from drowning was revealed to-day in police court when Anatole LaFrance appeared on a charge of reckless driving.

LaFrance, it was revealed, had crashed through the railing of a wooden bridge over Stoney Creek, eight miles north of Carleton, carrying himself and six girls into about eight feet of water.

All windows in the light sedan were closed but LaFrance succeeded in bursting a front door open, opening other doors from the outside and dragging all his passengers to safety.

Occurred in Pitch Darkness.

The accident occurred Monday night in pitch darkness and LaFrance said he had the utmost difficulty in preventing two of the girls, Unita Armstrong and Edna Saunders from returning to the water to look for their sisters after he had dragged them to shore, 10 feet from the point where the car sank.

Magistrate Atkinson, after hearing evidence, immediately dismissed the case and congratulated LaFrance on his heroic rescue.

LaFrance himself said he had no idea how he accumplished it. He was so excited and frightened, he said, he did not realize he had got all his passenger, out until after it was all over.

Those rescued besides Misses Armstrong and Saunders were Inis Armstrong, Phyllis McDonald and her sister Irene and Mrs. M. McCauley.

BRAVE MIMOSA.

ATLANTI COITY, N.J. — Alas for tradition, the Mimosa didn't get scared. The Mimosa, a sensitive plant which closes its leaves when pinched or slapped, is on display at a flower pageant. It is said the Mimosa is afraid of dogs and will tremble when they approach. But in an experiment at the show a fox terrier seemed afraid of the Mimosa while the Mimosa remained perfectly calm.

Daring Canadian Pilot Goes Over Jumps

CRAFT LOSES MOTOR IN DARING WATER JUMP

R. Q. Maxwell, Canadian outboard motorboat pilot, furnished an added thrill at the Pacific North-West Championship Regatta at Harriston Lake, British Columbia, recently, by taking a half-mile run to an inclined platform and hurling his craft through the air. The motor was torn apart by the terrific jolt, but the Vancouver rough rider brought his boat safely over the hurdle otherwise.

MANITOBA MAY RESTORE FUNDS TO UNIVERSITY

Meeting of Cabinet Will Be Held on Return of Premier Bracken.

MINISTER'S PROMISE.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 8 (C.P.)—Investigation by a judicial committee of facts surrounding shortages in University of Manitoba endowment funds was unofficially promised yesterday by Hon. R. A. Hoey, Minister of Education, and Acting Premier. Mr. Hoey also stated he would recommend restoration of university funds. A meeting of the Cabinet will be held immediately on the return of Premier John Bracken from the East, and an official statement will then be made. Mr. Bracken is expected some time to-day.

"The Government will undoubtedly make restitution of the funds at said, "but they cannot, of course, do some time in the future," Mr. Hoey so until after the matter has been thoroughly thrashed out in the courts and by a Judicial Commission, if, as I understand it, it is the intention of the Government to appoint such a commission to fix the ultimate responsibility for the losses."

John A. Machray, K.C., former Bursar of the university, charged with theft of university trust funds, is seriously ill at his home here.

RELY ON ROCKNE SYSTEM.

OSSINGTON, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(C.P.). — The Sing Sing prison football team is relying on the Rockne system to even up for that defeat by the Port Jarvis Police team last year. John Law, Captain of the 1929 Notre Dame eleven and now a real estate man, comes to the prison once a week to drill the team behind closed gates.

Edna Ferber Does Not Believe Sequels

NEW LORK, Sept. 8.—(C.P.). Edna Ferber, novelist and playwright, believes the characters in her books should be left to get on by themselves from the point where she leaves their narrative. There is nothing more ghastly than a sequel, she said on her return from abroad. "If I ever write one, you will know I am through. Her present enthusiasm is the stage, Miss Ferber said, and she wondered how she could ever have written novels when there were plays to be done.

MAN IS KILLED AT KEMPTVILLE

Post-mortem Dispels Foul Play Theory in Highway Tragedy.

STRUCK BY CAR.

KEMPTVILLE, Sept. 8.—After an all-day investigation by the Provincial authorities into the death of Edward Mackey, 70-year-old resident of this village, whose body was found on the Ottawa-Prescott Highway, about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, by a driver of a Hamilton moving van, it was discovered that the deceased had been struck by an automobile or truck.

When opening the investigation under the direction of Coroner Dr. C. F. MacPherson, the officers were of the opinion that there had been foul play, as the only mark visible on the body was a bad fracture of the skull above the left eye.

CLERGYMAN OFFERED PARISH

COBOURG, Sept. 8.—The Parish of Perrytown, with Gore's Landing and Harwood charges, has been offered by the Archbishop to Rev. W. F. Payton, at present supplying the work on the Grafton parish.

Mammals Die On Flats Of River

WINDSOR, N.S., Sept. 8 (C.P.)—Trapped by Avon's swift falling tide, thirty huge "blackfish" are stranded on the mud flats near Mount Denson, Hants County.

Hundreds of the monsters swarmed into the river on the flood tide, cawing and blowing in boisterous manner. With the outward sweep of water that characterizes all streams along the Bay of Fundy, a group was left gasping in the mud.

Eye-witnesses estimated that about five hundred of the fish came up the river at high tide. The ones stranded measure from 15 to 30 feet in length.

The fish are known to science as Globisephala Melaena, or "cawing" whale. They will make good fertiliser, but while they are lying on the mud flats they will worry the health authorities. About forty years ago a school of the mammals was stranded at Hantsport, and the stench was such that the district was in grave danger of epidemic.

Man Allegedly Shot In Back By Neighbor

PRESCOTT, Sept. 8. — While working in a field near his home on the Seventh Concession of the Township of Edwardsburg yesterday, Thomas Weir, aged 45, was shot in the back by a shotgun allegedly in the hands of Frederick Anderson, aged 60, of the same place. Anderson gave no reason for his alleged action. When he was arrested by Officer C. Johns of Prescott, it was stated he also had a loaded .38-calibre revolver on his person. He will appear before County Magistrate C. A. Adams at Prescott Thursday afternoon. Mr. Weir, though seriously wounded, is expected to recover.

WATER IN LAKE HURON AT CRITICAL LOW LEVEL

OTTAWA, Sept. 8. (CP)— The water in Lake Huron has dropped to a critical low level only two and a quarter inches higher than the lowest level since 1890, according to a report of the Canadian Hydrographic service.

Montreal harbor water dropped only 1¼ inches from July to August as compared with a 72 year average drop for that period of 13¼ inches. Increased precipitation in the Ottawa River watershed was the reason.

Lake Superior maintained a higher than average level in August while other Great Lake and St. Lawrence River levels were somewhat lower than average.

S. S. Staples Winner At The Toronto "Ex"

The Staples horses, especially "Bloomfield's Best,' are outstanding animals, and will add to the quality of the exhibits in this class.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Sept. 8.—(C.P.).—The Government ordered the mobilization of its extraordinary army reserve to-day, comprising all citizens between the ages of 33 and 40, as a result of recent developments in the dispute with Bolivia over the Chaco territory

Unofficial reports said a Bolivian force attacked an outpost belonging to Fort Islapoi in the Chaco but was repulsed, fleeing and leaving behind a quantity of arms and ammunition.

The Cabinet held an extraordinary session last night with the chiefs of the army and navy. It was announced afterward no important decisions were reached.

Just Getting It Back

CHATHAM, Ont., Sept. 8. — (C.P.) —The United States tourist entered the barber shop. He wanted a shave. The regular price was 25 cents. When the operation was concluded, the customer handed the barber an American one-dollar bill and received 60 cents change.

Isn't there something wrong? he asked.

Nope, that's correct, said the barber.

But don't you charge 25 cents for a shave? What about the other 15 cents coming to me?

Well, you see, it's this way, went on the tonsorial artist. The other day I went to Detroit and they charged me 15 cents on a Canadian dollar bill. I'm just getting it back—that's all.

Sault Legionnaires Are Against Politics

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., September 8 (C.P.). — The Sault Ste. Marie branch of the Canadian Legion to-day had taken a stand against the Legion taking an active part in politics.

Legionaires at last night's meeting in preparation for the annual convention of the Ontario Command the week of September 26, failed, however, to sanction a resolution that the Legion should not concern itself with politics. They decided to wait and see if developments at the annual meeting of the Ontario Command should cause them to change their minds.

W. H. Birks, president of the Soo Branch, who will be a delegate to the Command convention, said he did not believe the Legion should mix in politics.

HOPE DWINDLES FOR THREE MEN, DERELICT FOUND

Pilot Spots Wrecked Sailboat on Beach Near Hillsboro.

MAST BROKEN OFF.

Londoners Missing Since Friday on Trip to See Speedboat Races.

SARNIA, Ont., September 8 (C. P.). — Further search from the air continued to-day as hope steadily dwindled for the safety of three young men from London, Ont., who sailed on Friday from Bayfield to witness the Harmworth Trophy races at Detroit. Finding of their derelict craft two miles west of Hillsboro Beach late yesterday by Captain Al. Brown of the London Flying Club, almost removed the last vestige of hope that they might be alive.

There was no trace of the trio, Eric N. Chapman, Reginald A. Appleyard, and Douglas Milne, in the boat. The mast of the 30-foot craft was broken off near the level of the deck, with the tattered remnants of a black sail and jib still clinging to it. The outboard motor and rudder were apparently in good condition.

Struck Rocks.

Condition of the boat led to the belief the vessel had struck a rock or upset in breakers, throwing its occupants into the water. Search of the vicinity where the boat was found was made from the air yesterday by Captain Brown without result. Despite non-success he will make a further flight to-day in an effort to locate the bodies.

Mrs. Appleyard at home in London with her three-months-old baby, heard the news of the finding of the boat, and collapsed. She was taken to her parents at Aylmer.

He was met by his wife, Amy Johnson, also a noted British long-distance flyer. She flew here from England to accompany her husband home aboard the ship.

Monster Lobster Taken By Seaman

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 8.—A lobster, valued at $50 by a Portland fish company, was landed by Captain Arthur Ricker, skipper of the gill netter, Onward III.

The lobster measured 36 inches from the tip of the claws to the end of the tail, and the claws alone measured 20 inches. The shell bore marks of many battles.

Captain Ricker said the lobster became entangled in his nets, sunk on Kettle Bottom, so-called by fishermen, and was hauled in with a catch of 4,000 pounds of cod.

CANADA ADVISED TO PROMOTE AIR TRANSPORT ATION AND RADIO

Bar Association Told These Services Will Affect Conference Policies.

U.S. ATTORNEY'S VIEWS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

CALGARY, Alta., September 8.—"Air transportation and radio communication will be the important factors in the administration of policies agreed upon at Ottawa. The British Commonwealth of Nations is to-day bound closer together by transportation and communication than were the original 13 states which left the Mother Country and set up a government of their own in America. Aviation and radio will play an important part in the history of the world; I beseech you to promote them here in this Dominion."

So said Hon. William P. McCracken, Jr., Washington, D.C., hon. secretary of the American Bar Association held here.

Mr. McCracken, himself a pilot, is chief attorney for a number of aviation lines in the United States. He paid tribute to the Canadian government in establishing civil aviation and to the help which Canadian authorities gave the United States when it commenced to organize civil aviation six years ago.

There is no doubt, he said, that air transportation is the speediest in the world. Referring to safety, he declared there was an accident hazard in every form of transportation, including walking, and an accident hazard would always be present in air travel..

"To give you some idea of how safe air travel is to-day all accident insurance companies have taken out of their policies restrictions on passenger flying on any established airline," Mr. McCracken said."

ATHLETIC CLUB FORMED FOR BLAIRTON RESIDENTS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BLAIRTON, September 7. — An organization whose activities will doubtless be widely felt in this district, with an ambitious program already outlined for the coming months, came into being recently, with the formation of a society which will be known as the Blairton Social and Athletic Club.

An outgrowth of the softball team which has represented Blairton in this sport during the last two seasons, the new club was organized at a meeting held at the residence of Thomas B. Moffatt and attended by the players and supporters of the local team.

The object of the new society is to present during the future months a program of entertainments of various descriptions, for the purpose of providing interesting recreation for residents of the surrounding district, with the intention of using any financial profit derived from this source for the betterment of the softball team next season.

The township hall at Preneveau, will be the scene of the club's functions which will probably take place at regular intervals of two weeks, the first being planned for Friday, September 30, when an old-time dance will be held.

The following officers were elected: Honorary Presidents, T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P. and J. A. Sexsmith, ex-M.P., President, Thomas B. Moffatt; 1st vice, A. McPall; 2nd vice-president, C. Robertson; 3rd vice-president, A. Boyd; secretary-treasurer, R. B. Collett. Committees will be chosen by the above executive as needed.

Kidnapped Boy Found Dead

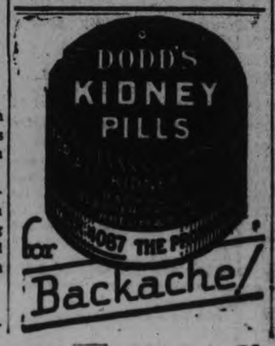
Ens the suspicion that police are on the right trail would appear to be deduced from the fact that on Monday the farm home of Russell Little of Douro Township was entered and theft of a loaded five-chambered revolver was committed.

Police Chief Samuel Newhall, who is directing operations in the search for the three wanted men, has worked tirelessly since the gruesome discovery of Thomas' body was made early Sunday morning.

In their work the other police officers yesterday combed every barn and farmhouse throughout the district in which they were searching, and covered scores of wearisome miles over tortuous gravel roads and side lines in the back country. No line of investigation was neglected and dozens of people were questioned and re-questioned with regard to any details concerning trace of the suspect.

Herbert Lennox of Belvedere Hotel, Crowe's Landing, was called from his bed at eleven o'clock last night by police. Other persons were disturbed in similar manner, but without exception the fullest co-operation was given by farmers and other residents of the county who are all anxious to bring the murderer of Henry Thomas to justice.

Al Singer of New York held the lightweight title a shorter length of time than any other champion of the division. His reign was around three months.



day afternoon in conversation with some unidentified fruit peddlars who had come into the village with a truck load of peaches.

From that moment the trail apparently ends, although information from Lakefield early this morning again gives hope that the scent will grow stronger and that the man hunt will result in early capture.

THIEVES MISS DIAMOND RING

Walter M. Fowlds Heaviest Loser in Hastings Burglaries.

CAR STRIPPED.

HASTINGS, Sept. 8 (Special).—Provincial Officer McBrien of Brighton and Constable Killingbeck of the village force are busy checking up on clues they have received on the robbery of Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning. Of the three places entered, Mr. Walter M. Fowlds is the heaviest loser; in checking up he finds that he is short a new truck tire, a valuable diamond ring, some change and a new 50-foot steel tape. At the Bond's Service Station the only thing noticed missing was the cash drawer with about ten dollars worth of change. The Imperial Oil loss appeared to be nil, as Mr. Edwards could not find anything missing. The theives appeared to have been after money as they ransacked the drawers in the Fowld's office as well as going through the vault. Mr. Fowlds had fortunately a day previous transferred some very valuable securities to another vault.

A touring car stalled on the Norwood road on Tuesday night and left there by its owner was also stripped of its removable parts. The officers believe both jobs to belong to the same gang.

WEED OUT THE INDIFFERENT

With a record enrollment reported at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational Training School and every indication that the available accommodation will be taxed to the limit, a suggestion advanced at Chatham should be of more than passing interest.

It is proposed that some attempt should be made to weed out from high school attendance those pupils who are obviously unfit for a secondary education, and the others who manifestly do not appreciate the advantages of such an education and are remiss in their attendance and indifferent in regard to their school work.

In every school there are scores of such pupils whose conduct indicates that they have no real interest in their studies and no intention of making their attendance at school a source of benefit to them in after life.

As The Chatham News expresses it: Most municipalities which are faced with congested schools are hardly in a position to undertake a building program to provide for all; hence the necessity of eliminating those who merely make their attendance nominal, awaiting the chance to find something else to do.

Facilities for secondary school education are provided at heavy expense and they should be regarded by pupils as an opportunity to be cherished and appreciated. As a stepping stone to success in life rather than as a chance to idle away four or five years.

Those who refuse to take that attitude might well be eliminated from school lists.

THE PREMIER'S WARNING.

Premier Bennett made the announcement in Calgary the other day, that after the end of this month steps will be taken to prevent transients from stealing rides on railway trains.

Most municipalities will be glad to learn that action to stop this moving round of thousands of men, most of whom have long since abandoned any idea of working, has been decided upon.

There is every sympathy for victims of the unprecedented economic conditions, from which this country and practically the whole world has been suffering, but as The Examiner has stressed in recent articles on this subject, a good many of the 1932 crop of tramps are merely joy-riding round the country, and a large proportion of the remainder have no intention of seeking or accepting jobs so long as the public can be touched for enough food and money to supply their needs.

Railway crews have been tolerant toward these wanderers, and they have had little difficulty in securing free transportation, some of them drifting from one end of Canada to the other, while others are more or less travelling round a circuit, touching periodically the centres where experience has taught them they can count upon assistance.

The Federal Government now proposes to stop that sort of thing and it is quite justified in doing so.

The wanderers have three weeks to reach their home localities and establish a residence.

If they fail to act upon the warning, they will have to be dealt with in internment camps or some other equally effective fashion.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

In the latest survey of motor accidents in Ontario, issued by the Motor Vehicles Branch of the Department of Highways, it is pointed out that collisions with pedestrians continue to be the most serious as regards personal injury.

The report shows that of the fatal motor vehicle accidents which have occurred in Ontario during the past 23 months, about 47 per cent. have been of this type; 443 pedestrians having been killed during the period.

"From information available," says the Department, "the responsibility is about evenly divided between drivers and their victims, approximately 53 per cent. being attributable to the pedestrians and about 47 per cent. blamed on the faulty driving actions of motorists."

"These estimates are based on an assumed right of the motorist between intersections and the superior rights of pedestrians at intersections. However, as the pedestrian may at times be careless almost to the point of criminality and many drivers are absolutely malicious in the usurpation of the right of way at interesections and in making right turns at both controlled and unprotected crossings, the problem is to prevent accidents, to provide protections and convenience rather than legal status.

"The situation demands a greater recognition of the rights and responsibilities on both sides. The pedestrian must realize and display an understanding of the rights of the motorist between interesections by refraining from 'jay-walking' and similar foolhardy actions, and the motorist must recognize the pedestrian's right to definite protection and convenience at intersections. The problem is one that may be solved only by co-operation on the part of all those who at any time either drive or walk on our streets or highways."

MANY EXHIBITION ATTRACTIONS.

Materially decreased attendance at the Canadian National Exhibition this year indicates that many people throughout the Province who formerly made it a point to visit that great show have been unable to do so on this occasion.

To all such who are residents of this section of Ontario, the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition next week will provide an opportunity of seeing some of the highlights of the Canadian National, including the Besses o' th' Barn Band, the premier musical attraction of this year's Toronto show, which the local management has been fortunate to secure for the first two days of the Peterborough Industrial.

All lovers of band music should note that the famous Besses will be heard in but three concerts here: on Monday night and on Tuesday afternoon and night, providing three rare programs that will make this year's Exhibition notable.

And for the balance of the week, there are outstanding attractions, including the Royal Canadian Dragoons in their musical ride; high class vaudeville offerings; horse racing, and other features; while Conklin's All-Canadian Shows will provide the Midway entertainment during the entire week.

With such an array of attractions and with the exhibits more extensive and of higher quality than ever, Peterborough's Exhibition will be well worth while visiting, not anly once but three or four times.

Good roads lead into Peterborough from all directions, and the directors confidently expect a record attendance.

LEAVE OUR HEROES ALONE.

Perhaps it is because we live a little to one side of the main road, but it was only yesterday we noticed we had an Archery Association in Canada, with a president, secretary and all the rest of the fixings. There has been a meeting in Toronto at the exhibition and members have been pelting away with their arrows at a target. It used to be called bows and arrows years ago, but now it it archery.

Malcolm Lennox is secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Archery Association, and we noticed where he told a reporter he was much in doubt about the manner in which William Tell and Robin Hood used to do their shooting. William Tell, if we recall it correctly, once split an apple on top of a boy's head, and of course it was stated that Robin Hood could split a spider's leg at 60 yards. We do not know if the spider would have to stand still while it was being done, but that really does not matter.

We can see no good reason for the archers of today trying to diminish the lustre with which we have surrounded William Tell and Robin Hood. We fear that had it been the end of December instead of the end of August this gentleman would have been making remarks about Santa Claus and trying to make us believe he did not exist in person. Just because the archers of today dare not try splitting in twain apples which rest on the heads of boys, or cannot cut the leg of a spider in two parts with an arrow is no reason at all why they should say the heroes of other years could not do such a things. We recall having once seen a man who could fiddle, call off and dance at the same time. That too, was many years ago.—Stratford Beacon Herald.

ESCAPING THIS TOWN MOLD.

In a letter recently published in the Times an up-State correspondent remarks that the centralized schools, which are gradually superseding the little white schoolhouse, are shaping the farm boy and girl in "the cheap town mold." Being better equipped with material accessories, the centralized schools do somewhat urbanize the pattern of rural education. But they are no isolated influence. The radio, the motion pictures, the telephone, the automobile, the hard roads and electricity have for some time been drawing the country districts into the fabric of an industrialized American life.

In some measure it is a change that has been forced on the farmer. Although it lightens his physical labor and gives him many of the comforts of modern life, it has also increased his economic hazards. It costs him more to do business in proportion to hi income. It has made taxes such a burden that he begins to regard government, both local and national, as a form of tyranny. He is not the mysterious "forgotten man"; he too has shared in the transformation of modes of living. But he understands that the political and industrial organization of the country is not predicated upon his needs.

Yet no matter what influences are brought to bear on him, he will never conform to the town mold. He is the last stand of "rugged individualism," for the soil breeds a type of man that cannot be herded. In the first place, different kinds of farm land produce different kinds of farmers. Success in farming is not purely a matter of skill. To a large degree it depends upon the quality of the soil, the lay of the country, the climate and the nearness of markets. In the second place, every community has as many kinds of farms as it has farmers. Although the farmer listens to the radio, whence cometh a good deal of excellent information, and reads the farm papers, some of which are examples of inspired trade journalism, his farm bears unmistakably the stamp of his personality. Whether he is cautious or adventuresome, discouraged or ambitious, sullen or jovial, indolent or alert, ignorant or enlightened, his acres and buildings reveal him with great candor. The battle of the soil leaves its scars on both antagonists. Few workers in the city in equivalent situations have as much scope for their character as have the farmers.

Everything else in the farmer's life conspires to keep him outside the town mold. City dwellers are rocked in the downy cradle of service. From janitor to delicatessen-vendor it is a sheltered existence. So long as an apartment dweller can breathe he can live. But the farmer's whole scheme of life is rooted in self-reliance. He has to meet every situation on his own responsibility. To keep his buildings in repair and to operate his farm he must be something of a carpenter, mechanic, inventor and engineer as well as husbandman. To do a day's work he needs the endurance of a common laborer. To manage a farm profitably he needs some of the business man's acumen. Like any other profession, farming is a life career, based upon a native aptitude. Although the town mold may make a surface impression upon farming communities, the farmer is by the necessities of his life a different breed of man.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Music-lovers of the district should not fail to hear the famous Besses o' th' Barn Band at the Peterborough Exhibition. The visit of this organization will be a feature of Monday and Tuesday only.

Internment camps for transient unemployed are a Provincial responsibility, Mr. Bennett declares. Let us hope that there will not be a lot of passing the buck over this matter.

With a record year assured in regard to exhibits and program, it is now up to the public to provide a record attendance for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

From a Canadian velwpoint, the exchange situation is improving, a development that will be highly welcome in the light of recent Hydro increases.

IS THIS JUSTICE?

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—My husband, after volunteering for overseas service and going through the horrors and sufferings of only those who know who went through the war, in serving his country, is now told there is very little work for him. He faithfully worked for this city when others holding good positions thought it not very nice or desirable work to be at such work. No work was too hard or below his dignity to do.

Now the city employers tell him he must not expect steady employment when others are out of work. Many of these are not men who have wielded the pick and shovel when they could find other work. No! They would simply not do so and now they expect preference when they have to come to it.

Is this right, I ask. I for one do not think it is right or just.

Yours truly,
A Mother of a Large Family.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Sept. 8. — British buyers re-entered the cheese market yesterday and price levels on the Montreal Wholesale Produce Exchange advanced, closing prices being 10 3-8c to 10½c for Ontario, and 10 1-8c to 10¼c for Quebecs, up 1-4c to 3-8c for the day.

At the noon auction over 900 boxes of No. 1 Quebec cheese sold at 10 1-8c. Shipments to the United Kingdom, which have been falling for the last two weeks, are due to be sharply higher this week. Receipts at Montreal yesterday, 5,280 boxes; same day last week, 1,711; same day last year, 6,834.

Butter at 22c for No. 1.

The butter market was also a little firmer again, and was quoted generally at 22c per pound for carlots or L.C.L. lots of No, 1. At the noon auction 482 boxes of No. 1 sold at 22c per pound, while 116 boxes of No. 2 sold at 21½c per pound. Wholesale jobbing houses announced that small lots to retailers would be 1c higher, effective to-morrow, becoming 24c for solids and 25c fo pints. Receipts, 667 boxes; asme day last week, 248; same day last year, 2,005.

Egg Prices Steady.

The egg market continued steady. Receipts, 2,000 cases; week ago, 1,194; year ago, 2,566. Ontario graded fresh eggs, carlots or small lots were quoted 26c to 29c for extras, 18c to 20c for firsts, and 14c for seconds. Prairies were 26 to 28c for extras, 18½c to 19½c for firsts, and 10c to 13½c for seconds. There is a growing scarcity of extras, and jobbing houses announced an advance of 1c in the price of extras, effective to-day, other lines being unchanged.

The potato marketheld unchanged at 30c to 40c for 80-pound bags of new Montreal potatoes.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 8—Big receipts at Winnipeg and much-enlarged Canadian country marketings put a burden on wheat values yesterday.

Domestic arrivals of wheat also showed an increase both Northwest and Southwest. Widespread notice was taken of assertions that as a result of $50,000,000 new credit from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the United States Farm Board, the liquidation of Government-financed commodity holdings had merely been postponed, not accomplished.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, September 8. — Bull forces retreated in the wheat pit yesterday. After making a valiant bid for higher levels in early trading when gains of nearly 1 cent were established, wheat prices receded before hedging pressure. Closing prices revealed losses of 1⅛ to 1 cent a bushel.

October closed at 55½c, December at 57⅛c to 57¼c, and May at 62c to 62⅛c.

Heavy deliveries of new crop wheat brought about th hedging sales. With clearing skies over the Prairies threshing is in full swing, and receipts at elevators have risen sharply.

Export Demand Good. .....

Export demand was reported quite good, and substantial purchases were made during the day by large interests with European connections. Estimates of sales ran as high as 1,000,000 bushels. In addition, there was excellent buying by Chicago houses.

Liverpool displayed a comparatively easy trend, but cables indicated demand for Canadian wheat was good, and moderate sales were confirmed. Offerings from Russia were disappointing, and this fact is diverting demand to Canadian varieties.

Trading in cash wheat was slow. Spreads on the top grades were inclined to ease. Demand for oats and barley featured coarse grains trading. Prices were narrow.

Mellon Says Trip Purely a Holiday

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept. 7.—(A.P.) — Andrew Mellon, United States' Ambassador, returning from a visit to the United States, said to-day that his trip to America had absolutely no significance as a matter of world finances.

"Nobody is thinking about war debts now— there is nothing to think about them," he said. "I went over because I felt that I needed a holiday after a strenuous time in London. I can assure you that my visit had no significance whatever from a financial standpoint."

DOUBTS HUDSON BAY COAL WASHED UP FROM WRECKS

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Sept. 8 (C.P.)—C. R. Kenny, surveyor who has worked over a wide area in the James Bay area, to-day said he regarded as unfounded, suggestions of Ontario Department of Mines officials that coal reported found in the Hannah Bay district had been washed up from wrecks of ships.

Mr. Kenny said he himself had found coal in the Harricanaw River district during a survey trip.

"Reports such as that of to-day to the effect that the coal was washed ashore from sunken ships are without foundation," he said. "If boats were sunk, as claimed, they must have been European vessels, and it was never known to the Hudson's Bay Company that there had been a wreck on that part of the coast."

STATION L-O-V-E

BY CRAIG CARROLL

INSTALMENT 10

He was kind. His hand showed other girls dressed as simply as herself. Even one girl in sweater and sport skirt. Judy felt a little better, a little calmer. It was nice. Going up the steps, going into the most enormous hotel lobby she'd ever seen, seeing people everywhere, important-looking people, people with the stamp of travel and knowledge on them, she felt somehow possessive, as though she, Judy Allison, had some definite share in all this.

* * *

The Marine dining room, straight ahead," Dick murmured, looking like a sightseeing guide. "Here we are, Judy."

She gasped. The great room stretched out before them, terraced quiet, softly lighted. And she saw the tall windows. She saw the lake not more than twenty feet beyond the windows. And people everywhere, and on the bandstand more men than Judy had ever seen in a jazz band before. On the big drum, the Paul Whiteman head she had seen on records, in the papers. A picture of the fat, jovial, mustached man who was called "King of Jazz.' And in a minute she would be meeting him, even talking to him.

"Dick! Glad you came!" She saw a man in evening clothes, a young man, and knew he was important even before Dick introduced him as "Jean Paul King, announcer, master of ceremonies. My friend."

"Glad to know you, Miss Allison. Dick's been telling me a lot about you."

She blushed and felt silly for it. And followed, now, toward a tiny latticed bower, in a far corner of the terrace. "This is Whiteman's own particular table," Dick whispered. "And—ah! Here he comes now."

* * *

Judy turned, expecting the enormous man the picture on the drum-head indicated. Instead, she saw a tall, well set up man, not the least bit fat, not the least bit as she had expected.

She heard, dimly, the introduction. "Miss Allison, Mr. Whiteman. Judy's been wanting to meet you, Mr. Whiteman."

"And I'm glad to meet Miss Allison," Whiteman answered. "Won't you sit down, please?"

As simple as that. You read about somebody for years, you think it wouldn't be possible to climb Olympia and meet that person, and you sit down at the table with a calm, smiling, kindly man, who extends the most enormous cigarette case you've ever seen—a case filled with Russian cigarettes, a case bearing on its cover the same Paul Whiteman head you've seen, but set, this time, in diamonds.

"Are you hungry?" Dick asked now, softly, smiling at Judy's awe. "Because if you are—But wait. Listen to Mr. Whiteman's order."

She listened, startled. A double order of grapefruit, sliced, the band man said. A double order of thin consomme. A poached egg. A double order of spinach. Nothing else.

She stared, not meaning to, and the band man suddenly smiled, then chuckled, then laughed, and the others joined in.

"Funny meal," Whiteman agreed with Judy's unspoken thought. "But—tell her, Jean."

So the announcer explained. How Paul Whiteman, weighing much too much, had reduced almost a hundred pounds, by a special diet. How this meal was part of that diet, "Here," he said. "I'll write it down for you, Miss Allison. Perhaps some of your friends will want to try it. But not you. You'll never need anything like that."

And she found herself folding up the scribbled diet schedule, putting it in her bag, all the time feeling dazed, watching, listening, looking. At people everywhere. At the orchestra, where the men played without their director, with an assistant conductor in charge. "Roy Bargy," Dick whispered. "You've heard him, haven't you, Judy? Of course. Of course."

And then the band man excused himself, started back to his orchestra, stopped to bow to Judy, stopped to talk to Dick in low tones. He smiled, Dick smiled. Then Whiteman nodded. "Glad to do anything for you, Dick," Judy heard him say. She wanted to protest, wanted to say, "Dick, you're being too nice. You're working so hard to see that I enjoy everything. You don't need to, Dick. It's enough, just being here with you. Enough to make me happy always, Dick.' But again she was silent—again she wondered.

* * *

Now, through the thin gause curtain before the orchestra, she could see Whiteman himself, holding a tremendously long baton. She saw the men put new music on the stands. She stared at Dick.

"What?" she asked, because one word seemed to be all she could manage.

"You said you loved 'Rhapsody in Blue.' Well—he hardly ever plays it through any more. Never for dancing. But—"

Soft, clear, then suddenly thunderous and grand, she heard the Gershwin music she had played on the organ, the music she had wanted to learn better. Played for her. Played for Judy Allison of Hiawatha, Kas., by Paul Whiteman, the jazz king. Because Dick Mason asked for it. Because Mason wanted Judy Allison to be happy.

She fumbled in her pocket book. Silly, to fee lsmall tears coming from eyes that ought to be happy. Silly, to be a little girl just at the moment when she wanted to be a woman of the world. Silly. But—

Under the tablecloth, her hand groped for Dick Mason's hand, found his hand, was at rest. All through the music, for a long time afterward, they held hands, like two children, quiet, silent, utterly happy.

And the music went on. And once they danced, and again. And then the music stopped. That was all. Cinderella had to go home.

INSTALMENT 11

So the evening ended. Evenings end too soon when there is music, when there are people laughing, when a man with a deep voice and deep eyes and a boy's smile is forgetting every one else to look at you and talk to you. But then it is nice to see the lights going out, to walk out into the cool morning, to walk to a lean gray car, to ride south slowly, coming near the lake, knowing that to-morrow and to-morrow there will be new things to see and do more people to meet, more music, more of Chicago the city of dreams.

"Happy?" Dick asked. Then, quickly, "Silly thing to ask."

"But you've a right to ask, Dick. And it's time I told you. Because if it hadn't been for you—"

"Shhhh! It's too late to talk about ifs."

"No. If it hadn't been for you I'd be getting on a train to-morrow morning. I'd be going back to Hiawatha. I'd marry some boy and just stay there forever. Never see anybody or anything. Listen to the radio and hear you talking, maybe, and wonder if you'd be like you sounded."

"Am I?"

"Much nicer."

"That's good. Like to stop somewhere else? There're clubs of all sorts around the town, you know."

"I don't think, I'd like it. Not now. I guess I'm still a small-town girl. I—" She fought against the small yawn that would not be conquered.

* * *

"Your nose wrinkles up like a rabbit's when you yawn."

"Like a rabbit's?"

"Yes. Used to have a rabbit, when I was a boy, that wrinkled its nose just that way."

"I don't think I like that."

"You ought to. I wanted it to make you laugh."

"All right. I'll laugh, then, Dick."

It was wrong, it made the late walkers stare, but Dick stopped the lean gray car then, near the Oak street beach. And they laughed, Dick and Judy. At nothing. And the car purred south again, and the drab buildings were castles and towels, and the traffic lights might have been poplars. And, all at once, they were home.

"Judy," Dick said then.

"Yes, Dick."

Hearts shouldn't race at a single word. Hearts should have manners. Hearts should remember the rules.

"Judy."

"Yes?"

"I—" She could see the nice young smile in the half-light. She could see the nice deep eyes. "I—No. I mustn't."

"Mustn't what, Dick?"

Ask questions, when you know the answers. Make a man say things, when he doesn't even need to say them.

"I mustn't tell you how I feel about you. Not yet. Not for a long time."

* * *

Judy almost said, "Why not? Why not now? Why not this very minute, Dick?" Almost. Not quite. Story-books don't happen. Because you can't forget enough to let them happen.

"Oh," Judy said quickly. It's almost 2.30."

"No. It couldn't be."

"It is."

"But we—we've only been together a couple of hours, Judy."

"We've been together since 6 o'clock. And that's too long, Dick Mason. And I've got to go to that rehearsal first thing in the morning. And—Ummmm!"

The yawn triumphed again. A very small yawn, covered by a very small hand. And Dick took the very small hand in his and looked at it carefully.

"Your hands are so soft," he said, in the deep voice that so many people listened for every night. "So very soft."

"Because I've never done any work," Judy said lightly.

"No. Because they're like you."

"But that's not so. I'm not soft. I'm a very efficient person, really. Even if you don't believe it."

"I do. You could do anything, Judy."

"Except get a job."

"But you've got a job. And if it isn't so much, and if it isn't what you want, it's a start."

"Of course, Dick. I don't mean to look down on it. Only it's new to me. It's different."

'I know. But—Judy!"

Again that note in his voice, that note like the story books, like the voices you dream about if you are a girl in Hiawatha.

* * *

"Judy."

"Dick, I've got to go in. Right away."

She pointed at a small square of light high up in the old building.

"Elsie's waiting up for me."

"Elsie?"

"Yes. The girl across the hall. I had to borrow her stockings tonight when I was dressing."

"But, surely, she's not waiting up for her stockings?"

"No." She giggled again. "She's waiting to hear about you."

"About me?"

TWO BROKERS GIVEN FREEDOM

ed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on Saturday. Every indication is that it will be well over 100,000,000 bushels more than last year when the total was 304,144,000 bushels.

Factory Patrons Are Forming Association

Organization of the Cheese Factory Patrons' Association throughout this district has been proceeding steadily and with practically unanimous approval from milk producers.

W. J. Moore, dairy instructor, attended four meetings last week, two already this week and is booked for Bobcaygeon Friday night. At Warminster, Monday night, and at Oakdale in Dummer township, last night, factory patrons instructed their secretary to forward the membership fee to the central association. Indian River patrons also met last night with a fairly large representation of the producing membership. G. A. Gillespie was present, and informed the Examiner to-day that the patrons decided to fall in line with this movement which has the active support of the Hon. Mr. Kennedy, provincial minister of agriculture.

From Mr. Moore it was learned that nearly all the factories in his district are now affiliated with the new association of factory patrons. This season's effort has been in the form of preliminary organization, and it is confidently expected that results will be forthcoming from this association when another unfolds its possibilities of co-operative effort.

CHEESE PRICES

MONTREAL, Sep. 8. (CP) —A firmer tone was in evidence on the cheese market here to-day and trading was brisker. Stronger sterling quotations were considered a factor in the improved tone. Ontario cheese sold at 10½ cents a pound and Quebec cheese at 10⅛ to 10⅝ cents a pound.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, September 8 (C.P.). —The Montreal Stock Market pursued an irregular course in to-day's trading and closed in a soft trend following weakness in Wall Street. Pivotal issues were mixed during the day, but the close showed recessions. A few issues in the general list held advances scored during the session and closed fractionally higher. Trading was very active.

GAINS OUTNUMBER LOSSES 3-1 DURING THIS MORNING'S TRADE

Brazilian Traction Leads Sales With Over 12,000 Shares in First Two Hours.

UTILITIES ACTIVE.

TORONTO, September 8 (C.P.). —An outburst of buying at the opening of the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day carried volume to the highest of any forenoon session for the year to date. Floor traders came to the market with substantial buying order on their books, and before the wave spent itself several new highs for the year were established. By noon the activity had subsided somewhat, but prices were well above the previous close with gains outnumbering losses by about 3 to 1.

Active leaders were turned over in volume. Brazilian Traction was the leader with sales of over 12,000 shares in the first two hours. It showed a fractional loss at noon. International Nickel was down ⅛ at midday. C.P.R. made a fractional gain. Consolidated Smelters dropped sharply to 92, off 6 points.

Utility issues were again in the forefront with Consumers' Gas gaining 3 and Montreal Power ¾. Bell Telephone was unchanged.

Oils were featurde by a new high for International Petroleum and fractional gains throughout.

Comb Shores Vainly For Lost Londoners

SARNIA, Ont., Sept. 8 (C.P.) — Airplanes continued to-day flying up and down the shores of Lake Huron in search of three missing Londoners whose sail boat was found yesterday washed up on the beach at Hillsboro, but no trace of the men was found.

Farmers living along the shore where the battered boat was found, patrolled the beach in search of bodies of the men, Eric Chapman, Reginald A. Appleyard and Douglas Milne.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Stocks fluctuated erratically in one of the most active sessions of the past two years to-day. Intermittent rallies failed to hold, and several of the leaders slid off 1 to 3 points in the late trading. Issues losing 2 to 3 points included U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Dupont, Union Pacific, and Case, while losses of a point or more were numerous. The late tone was weak. Sales approximately 5,500,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—(C.P.)—Under the influence of softness on industrial boards and pressure of profit-taking price movements turned irregularly lower in afternoon trading on the standard stock and mining exchange market. Forenoon gains were in many cases wiped out, with the active base metals showing recessions for the day.

Noranda and International Nickel lost upwards of 75 cents apiece. Hudson Bay was down 15, Base Metals 10 and Amulet 4. Lindsleys were relatively firm, with Falconbridge and Sudbury Basin both slightly above last night's finals.

Golds were mixed at the close. Hollinger and Lake Shore showed small losses and Teck Hughes and Sylvanite minor gains. McLeod River and Bobjo were active and higher among penny issues.

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Sept. 8. —(C.P.).— Following the most feverish opening of the year and a forenoon session that set a new high record for a half session of 1932, trading tamed down in the afternoon session of the local stock exchange to-day. While gains out numbered losses the list closed below the peak from the day and with a good portion of the early advance wiped out.

Leaders were active with Brazilian traction outstanding. Gains in this group were more than lost in the afternoon with C. P. R., International Nickel and Brazilian closing with net losses of fractions or more.

Consolidated Smelters was subjected to profit taking closing with a loss of 10 points at 88. Montreal Power dipped 2 points.

Steels were featured by a new high and gain of 2 7-8 points by Steel of Canada and an advance of a point by Page Hersey.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Sept. 8—The strange suicide of Paul Bern, Hollywood movie executive, produced another mystifying angle to-day when George G. The woman is suffering from lacerations about the head, and injuries to her back and shoulder. Hamilton is only bruised.

The two were on their way to Toronto, when the animal suddenly started across the highway. The driver swerved suddenly to avoid collision, and sent the car into a ditch.

New Highs Appear In The Base Metals

MAN WANTED FOR MURDER IS LOCATED BY POLICE

later made their excursion into Dummer Township. Further questioning of Russell Little at the cheese factory strengthened the opinion that the "Kid" was at McClure's.

Thought To Be Armed.

Police had armed themselves with a rifle, because, on further information furnished by the reporter, it was thought more than probable that the "Kid" had a revolver in his possession.

On the way to McClure's farm, the police overtook McClure driving a team of horses. McClure stated that the little man, red-haired, bald and dressed in grey pants and a khaki shirt, was still at his home. "I sent him out in the bush to cut wood this morning," said McClure.

Preceded by McClure on his wagon, police drove into McClure's farm yard, and parked their car behind the barn. Having half-completed a circuit about the barn, they came upon the "Kid" watering a team of horses.

That's where he made his first mistake. It led to the first tip police had that a man answering the "Kid's" description was in the Lake district. However, this information was not secured until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Chief Webster, of Lakefield, 'phoned and told police of Marsden's suspicions that he had given a ride "to the man wanted for murder in Peterborough." Police immediately set out yesterday on the cold, four-day old trail.

Marsden gave the "Kid" a ride as far as Bethel church. From there he walked through to Gilchrist Bay, where the "strange short man" was observed by natives. About noon Monday he walked into Crowe's Landing.

No news of the murder had reached Crow's Landing at that time. But the "Kid" knew of the murder and told residents at Roy Whetung's hotel and at Belvidere Hotel, Bob Lennox's summer resort, of it.

Looking For Job.

He told "Jay" Knox at Crowe's that he was looking for a job. He repeatedly asked if anyone could give him a road map of the district. He had dinner at Lennox's and was directed to Bill Salter's farm on the ninth line of Dummer, where he might get work.

About sunset Monday, the "Kid" tired and weary from walking, tramped into the Salter farm house. He had superp and slept the night there. Again he told of the murder in Peterborough for the Salters on their lonely homestead knew nothing of the events happening in the outside world.

Secured Ride on Truck.

Early Tuesday morning, the "Kid" walked away from the Salter homestead. He reached a clearing in the woods where Harry Dinsdale of Peterborough is cutting wood. He secured a ride on wood truck, stating that he wanted to get out so that he could go to Vancouver.

At Bethel church, he asked the truck driver to stop, jumped off and said "good-bye, I think I'll look for a job here."

About noon on Tuesday, the same "strange, short man" was seen in Warsaw. He was talking with some men who were peddling a truck load of peaches in the village.

But later that day Wesley McClure picked him up in his car as he was driving toward Lakefield near the Bethel school house. He told McClure he wanted to go to Peterbough. As the car approached Lakefield, he told the farmer that he didn't want to go through Lakefield. McClure, responding to the "Kid's" plea to go around Lakefield, skirted the main street of the village. He drove down the road on the east bank of the river.

At the third lock's below Lakefield, his passenger suddenly turned to McClure and said, "I've changed my mind, I don't want to go to Peterbough. I'm getting off here."

Asked For a Job.

McClure returned to his farm house that evening, and there near the gate of his laneway was his passenger of the afternoon. The "Kid" asked for a job, stating that he would do anything.

McClure took him in, gave him his supper and a bed. Yesterday while police searched the country just north of McClure's place, the "Kid" was quietly working about the farm.

This morning McClure took a load of cream to Little's cheese factory. There he told Little of the strange man who was working for him. Little asked for a description. It fitted with that given of the "Kid"—the man wanted for murder—as given in The Examiner received by Little yesterday.

Little telephoned The Examiner reporter at once, and within two hours the "Kid" was handcuffed and on his way to the police station.

Acting on the information given yesterday afternoon by Chief Webster, Detectives Piercy and Meagher scoured the Crowe's Landing road. The trail of the "strange, little man with the red stubble on his face" was picked up at Gilchrist Bay, where he was seen walking through Monday morning.

Again at Crowe's Landing the trail was picked up. Then a visit was made to Bill Salter's farm, where Mrs. Salter told of giving the man his supper Monday night, bed and breakfast.

It was learned along the Ninth Line that the "strange, little man," had secured a ride on one of Dinsdale's trucks.

Called in Warsaw Garage

At Warsaw the detectives were informed by Harry Clements, county constable, that a man answering the "Kid's" description had come into his garage for a few minutes. Later he was seen talking to the men selling peaches.

There the trail of the "Kid"—then only 24 hours' old—was lost by the searchers. It was then 7 o'clock and the police returned to the city.

However, at the station they learned that a man was seen two miles beyond Crowe's Landing in the afternoon near "Cain" Drain's home.

A posse, consisting of the two detectives, Provincial Constable Silvester, Sergeant Morden of the C.N.R. police, and Constable Jack Evans, of the C.N.R., and the reporter, who had accompanied the searchers in the afternoon, was formed. Leslie Scott, transient, acquaintance of the "Kid," was taken for identifying purposes.

It was 9 o'clock when the posse set out in two cars. First stop was Crowe's Landing. From there the search spread out along the road running further on along the lake. Every resident along the road was wakened from sleep and questioned. Deserted farm dwellings, tumbledown barns and sheds were searched.

The Hull homestead was reached but the family were away. About midnight, Mrs. Hull was found walking along the road. She punctured the rising hopes of the posse, which up until then had been relentless in its search.

She stated that the man to whom she had given a cup of tea in the afternoon—the information that this was the "Kid" was that on which the posse had been formed—was a youth "Rolly" McWilliams, who had become sick while working on the road gang.

Knowing that they had been following a false scent, the police returned to Peterborough at 1 a.m. to-day.

At 8.25 to-day, however, the message that the "Kid" was at McClure's farm was given police and the long search was brought to its successful conclusion.

CANADA HOLDING HER PLACE AS SECOND GOLD PRODUCER

Local Man Writes Booklet for Department of Mines, Ottawa.

IN EVERY PROVINCE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—"Gold is where you find it"—and Canadians have been finding it in such increasing quantities in the last 75 years that the Dominion now ranks as the second greatest producer of the precious metal among the countries of the world.

A booklet prepared by A. H. A. Robinson, Gilmour street, Peterborough, and issued by the Department of Mines, tells of the strides taken by this industry, one that did not feel the depression and never fails to find a market for its product.

In cold figures and prosaic observations that reflect nothing of the hysteric "gold rushes," the heart-breaking travel of the pioneers of the Klondike or the hectic life of the mining camps, the record tells of the increase of Canada's output from 34,000 fine ounces valued at $705,000 in 1858, to 2,695,000 ounces valued at nearly $56,000,000 in 1931.

In 1930, after a steady increase from 1923, Canada stepped into second place among the world producers, supplanting the United States, a close third, at 2,100,395.

South Africa, leader among world gold producing countries since 1905, has forged ahead with only slight occasional setbacks until the figure was 10,716,351 in 1930.

In 1931 Canada won a better grip on second place with 2,695,219 fine ounces. The United States produced 2,191,881 ounces and South Africa, still increasing its output, 10,874,145.

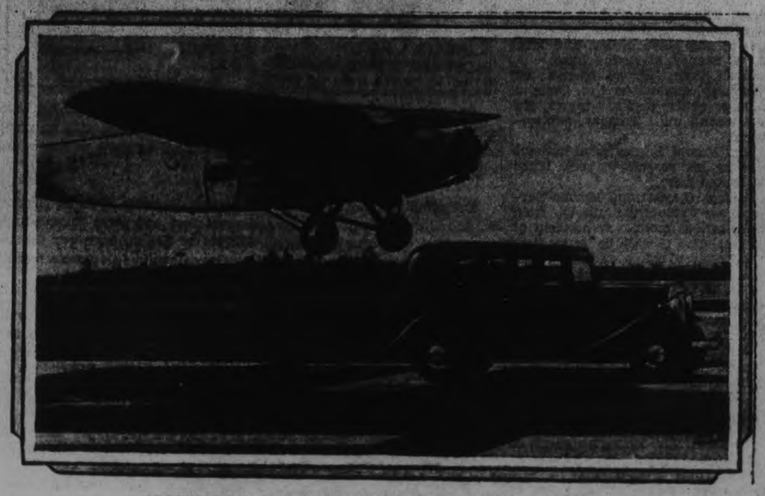
Gold is found in every province of Canada except Prince Edward Island, but the Province of Ontario is now the heaviest producer. Of the 1931 production Ontario accounted for 78 per cent., principally from the mines at Porcupine and Kirkland Lake. Quebec produced 11 per cent. of the total; British Columbia six per cent., Manitoba four per cent., and the balance from Yukon Territory, Nova Scotia and Alberta.

Ranking with coal as the two most important mineral products of the Dominion, gold took the lead in 1913 when the value of the yellow metal produced in this country exceeded the value of coal for the first time.

Changing conditions, and changed methods have written the history of gold mining in Canada, its rise and decline and second rise to even greater heights.

Placer or alluvial deposit mining which produced $23,000,000 worth of gold in 1900, has given way to ore mining, the main source of the present day. At present the average gold recovered from aluvial sands average $1,000,000 per year.

Automobile Beats Plane In Getaway



AUTOMOBILE AND AEROPLANE TEST GETAAWAY SPEED.

When an automobile and an aeroplane competed for getaway speed laurels for the first time, each scored two wins. With its rapid acceleration, the car jumped away from the aeroplane as soon as the starter's flag was dropped, but the aeroplane, with its far greater top-speed, gained rapidly as soon as it was under way. Never before, say automobile and aviation officials, has a motor car been able to make such a creditable showing in competition with an aeroplane.

POLICE SUSPECT DOUBLE MURDER IN DEATH OF STORE KEEPER, GIRL

Skeptical of Suicide Pact — Baffled by Absence of Gun.

BOTH SHOT IN HEAD.

GLACE BAY, N.S., Sept. 8 (C.P.). —Police to-day sketched a theory of double murder and reviewed evidence of a suicide pact—and neither of these leads took them closer to a definite decision in regard to the death of William Rosnek and Joyce Roberts yesterday.

Rosnek, proprietor of a small store, and the pretty 18-year-old girl were found wounded in a field at Table Head on Tuesday night. Both had bullet holes in their heads and they died in hospital at Glace Bay.

The girl had been shot through the right side of the head, Rosnek directly from behind.

Although a note found in the girl's purse told of a suicide pact, police were baffled by the absence of a gun at the scene of the tragedy and the possibility of a double murder was investigated.

HUNGRY FISH BITES WOMAN BATHER TWICE

Nibbles Ankles Of Gloucester Woman And Again On Calf.

HUSBAND GOES TO AID.

GLOUCESTER, Mass.—The most experienced local fish experts are puzzled to account for an attack by a large fish on Mrs. W. A. Anderson of Chicago while she was in bathing with Mr. Anderson at Good Harbor Beach, near their summer home at Bass Rocks.

Mrs. Anderson is said to have been in water about four feet in depth when a fish, about 3½ feet in length and one foot in breadth and having a very large mouth and sharp teeth, bit her on one of her ankles.

Husband Goes to Aid

Mrs. Anderson shrieked and then the fish bit her again higher up, in a fleshy portion of the leg. Her husband hurried to her assistance, seized the fish, which was too large and too heavy to carry to shore, and quickly threw it as far away off shore as he could.

Patrolman Lemuel T. McDonald, within whose jurisdiction the affair took place, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Anderson to the office of Dr. John Eagan, who dressed Mrs. Anderson's wounds. She was then taken to her home.

Local fishermen think the description given of the voracious fish best fits what is called a monkfish, though that species is rarely found so near the shore as in the present instance.

There has been a large quatity of small mackerel along shore here and since monkfish are found of that sort of prey, the presence of Mrs. Anderson's assailant may perhaps be accounted for.

Autumn Season Brings New Creations

INTRIGUING NEW STYLES, PREPARE FOR COOLER WEATHER.

In this charming dinner gown of black and white dotted crepe a bright green bow has tried to take it up and the lines of the frock have tried to swerve it down to the hips. The bow is probably winning. (2) A pebbly wool of purple-blue makes a sleek and slim coat for a sleek and slim girl. A matching hat and an almond green scarf and youth to the other two qualities. (3) Let the autumn come. With a coat-dress of French blue, fox bordered cape, and black accessories how could the cold weather worry us?

GANNA WALSKA'S THIRD MATE BARS CLAIM OF BIG ESTATE

Cochran Limits Singer to $20,000 Income Under Divorce, Tax Files Show.

OTHER MILLIONS LOST.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8— Ganna Walska, whose operatic career is matched by an equally unsuccessful marital career, has lost a huge fortune for the second time within a year.

According to a transfer tax report filed the other day, she will not receive a dollar of the $39,000,000 estate of Commander Alexander Smith Cochran, her third husband.

What is more, there is scant likelihood that Mme. Walska can do anything about it, so strong and effective is the will with reference to herself.

So, for the time being, Mme. Walska must content herself with a trust fund Cochran established before their divorce and which nets her $20,000 a year for the rest of her life. Added to the $100,000 annually she receives from another former husband, Harold F. McCormick, Chicago harvester king, Mme. Walska admits it isn't difficult to get along.

Cochran Farseeing

Commander Cochran Royal Navy retired sportsman and one of New York's most prominent and respected citizens, made doubly sure Mme. Walska would have no claim on him. The trust fund—for $300,000 — which guarantees Mme. Walska $20,000 annually, contained an agreement which the singer relinquished all claims against Cochran.

Commander Cochran did provide for deficits in Mme. Walska's trust fund. He provided that ah deficits be made good through residuary funds. In his will, Cochran went a lot further to insure no principal sums would pass to his former wife. His will specifically states:

"If for any reason I have failed to legally dispose of any property, and Ganna Walska McCormick would be entitled to share therein by such failure, I hereby expressly bequeath such property to my next of kin, according to the statues of distribution of the state of New York."

Mme. Walska's share in the Cochran millions, had she remained his wife, would have been considerable.

Other Millions Lost

Early last Fall she lost many more millions when McCormick divorced her in Chicago in 1922. An agreement made some time before their marriage stipulated that if Mme. Walska was not the McCormick's widow at the time of his death she would lose $15,000,000.

Mme. Walska divorced Cochran in 1922 to marry his friend, McCormick.

Cochran was chief owner of Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company. A well known philanthropist, he inherited fortunes as well as making one for himself. At the time of his death, estimates of his estate ran from $70,000,000 to $150,000,000. Stock shrinkage took a few millions from the fortune he did leave.

During the World War, the English and Belgian Red Cross received considerable sums from. Cochran.

Before America entered the war, he went across and was a courier, at nominal pay when he found American diplomatic service had dificulty in transmitting messages between British and German capitals. Later, before America declared war, he became commander of the Warrior, a great steam yacht he had previously presented to England. He owned during his lifetime about 15 yachts, one of which won the German Emperor's cup in 1910. One of his boats was the American defender against the yacht of the late Sir Thomas Lipton.

Deadlock Continues In Textile Strike

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 8 (C.P.).—Both strikers and employers expressed disappointment to-day as the Lancashire textile strike continued and the Government's attempt at mediation was limited to the letter directed to both sides yesterday by Sir Henry Betterton, Minister of Labor.

The letter thus far appeared to have produced no results. Spokesmen for both sides said unless a stronger policy was adopted for bringing the disputants together there could be no hope of immediately ending the strike.

HER MOANING KEPT HIM AWAKE

Arms and Legs Stiff with Rheumatism

HOW THEY BOTH TAKE KRUSCHEN

Something had to be done for this old couple. She could not sleep for pain, and he could not sleep for her moaning. He tells us how it all ended:—

"My wife, who is 67 years of age, has suffered for years with rheumatism in the joints. At times, the pain was so bad that she had to drop anything that she carried in her hands. In the night, I was often wakened by her moaning, on account of the pains in her arms and legs. She was so stiff she could not climb the stairs.

"About 12 months ago, she started taking Kruschen Salts, and after finishing the first bottle, she could use her fingers much better. So she continued to take it, and now she is so far recovered that she very seldom feels any pain. Now we both take Kruschen and have resolved that we will never be without it as long as we live."—P. J. P.

What caused her rheumatic pains was the sharp-edged uric acid crystals getting into her joints. The combination of the six salts in Kruschen dissolved away those crystals, and prevented them from forming again. That is the way Kruschen works with rheumatism, and that is why rheumatism cannot exist in the system that gets its "little daily dose" of Kruschen.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

TOMATOES FULL OF VITAMINS

Research Shows Juice One Of Most Healthful Thirst-Quenchers.

USE CANADIAN FRUIT.

Research has shown that tomatoes, sun-ripened, as are all Ontario supplies now reaching the market, are a rich source of vitamins than oranges.

In addition to containing valuable and mysterious food factors, the juice of the tomato is one of the most healthful thirst-quenchers known, because the sugar and acid are more perfectly balanced than in the juice of any other fruit.

Just now, it is to your advantage to make your own tomato juice at home from the fresh, sun-ripened tomato, which is so plentiful.

Raw tomatoes sliced are one of the most popular dishes of the summer season.

Tomatoes fresh picked from the vine yesterday are more nutritious than fruit brought two or three thousand miles and allowed to ripen en route.

CASEY BERGER TACKLE ARTIST

San Francisco Wrestler Rated as Effective as McMillen and Sonnenberg in This Art.

HERE FRIDAY NIGHT.

Flying tackles have played an important part in wrestling during the past few years and in addition to adding effectiveness to the style of the men who used them, supply added thrills for the fans. Jim McMillen, former all-American football star, claims to be the man who introduced flying tackles to wrestling but "Gus" Sonnenberg has capitalized on the football tactics more than any other individual.

In trend with the wrestling times is the Queensbury Club's all-star program for to-morrow night's show at the Brock Street Rink for all six of the men scheduled to appear are adepts at the use of the tackle, some favoring it more than others. This is a coincidence for it is seldom that one sees an entire program composed of men proficient at the use of the tackle.

Rated One of Best

Casey Berger of San Francisco has had experience in football and his tackle is rated as just as effective as those of McMillen and Sonnenberg. His opponent in main bout, Nazzarino Poggi of Italy, never played football but was clever enough to realize the value of the tackle, which manouevre he has perfected to a nicety.

Like Poggi, Jack Kogut and Bert Rubenstein learned the tackle without having had football experience which proves that others besides the ex-gridders can make use of it effectively. Kogut's build and his tackles have earned him the nickname of "Little Sonnenberg" and he is sure to use his specialty frequently when he meets the well-built Rubenstein.

It is not surprising that Frankie Hart has become proficient as a tackler for his great speed makes this offensive of real value to him. To-morrow night Hart will test a highly rated newcomer, "Young" Szabo of Hungary and the latter will have to be good to beat the clever Hart.

It is worth noting that, while the wrestlers mentioned above use the tackle often, they do not have to depend on it to win their bouts. All are splendid all-round wrestlers and could get along very nicely were the tackle to be barred.

Barnum, the circus man, once said of advertising: "If you have $10 to put to good use, put up one for the article and the other nine dollars for advertising. I can out-talk any man on earth but a printer. The man that can fiddle around with sticks of type and the next morning talk to a thousand people while I am talking to one, is the man I am afraid of . . . I want him for a friend."

16-FOOT SHARK TAKEN ON HOOK

Fishermen Haul it in by Mistake and Have Battle to Kill It.

SPEAR DOES WORK.

BOSTON, Sept. 8 (A.P.)—Alexander Burbank and John Rogers, members of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Rhodora, ordinarily are hospitable souls, but neither is cordial to the idea of sharing a small dory with a live shark. That's why the fight started.

The Rhodora arrived from the south channel fishing grounds yesterday, and the crew told the story. Last Sunday about dusk, Burbank and Rogers, dory mates, were making the day's last haul. As they were pulling in the trawl, they noticed an extraordinarily large haddock on one of the hooks, but before they had it landed, a 16-foot shark swept upward, snapped and swallowed the haddock, hook and line. In their effort to land the fish, the fishermen hardly realizing it, haulled the shark into the dory.

An interesting ten minutes ensued, the shark threshing about and snapping, and the men striving at once to kill the visitor and to keep the dory from capsizing. Finally one of the fishermen succeeded in reaching a short spear which he plunged into a gill of the shark and ended the struggle.

TO A SLAIN GOLDEN EAGLE

Safe in thy mountain fastness far from man,
O'er many a lofty peak and torrent wild,
On wings of mighty strength to soar and scan,
The depths below, thou, nature's grandest child.
In combat fair thy matchless strength to prove,
'Gainst aught that flies, none could with thee compare;
Or far above the raging storm to rove,
Thy pinions spread to heaven's calmer air.
Despotic man, curse on thy murderous art,
Where is the joy thus wantonly to kill?
Lord of creation without a heart
To lie in ambush safe, and slay at will.
The taxidermist now may ply his hand,
With sightless orbs the monarch of the air,
On pedestal or in glass case shall stand
While he of callous heart shall some to stare.
True sportsmanship, to thee all honor due
Great hearts have added laurels to thy name,
But ruthlessly to kill, a sportsman true
Must bow his head and softly murmur "shame."

—Andrew Heron.

LLOYD-GEORGE GOES BACK TO LAND.

David Lloyd-George, Britain's wartime Premier, and leader of the small Opposition Liberal group in Parliament to-day, is seen here looking over his pig farm at Churt, Surrey. He is just as enthusiastic over his farm as over his politics. At present he is spending a working holiday on the farm among his pigs and fowls. His farm is not just a hobby, but a paying proposition. His apples are acknowledged to be the finest in the country.

Church Fund Shortages Appal West

Alleged shortages and defalcations in the funds of the University of Manitoba and the Diocese of Rupert's Land have caused a great stir in western Canada, where many retired Anglican clergy find themselves threatened with poverty due to lack of money in the superannuation fund. Shown in (1) is the Administration building of the University of Manitoba, of which John A. Machray, K. C., was chairman of the board of governors. (2) Archbishop Matheson, patriarch of the Anglican Church in Canada, whose private fortune and ecclesiastical emolument were swept away. (3) St. John's College, bereft of practically all its endowment. (4) St. John's Cathedral, where Machray was known as a generous giver. (5) Rev. Canon W. J. Garton and (6) Rev. A. C. Garock, aged 84, confined to bed, both of whom are left without support by the shortages. (7) Archbishop I. O. Stringer, who first took steps to investigate charges that the church funds were loaded with fraudulent mortgages.

CANADA RANKS SECOND AMONG THE WORLD'S GOLD PRODUCERS

Department of Mines Publication Shows Great Advance in Industry.

DURING 75 YEARS.

By C. R. BLACKBURN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, Sept. 8. (CP)—"Gold is where you find it"—and Canadians have been finding it in such increasing quantities in the last 75 years that the Dominion now ranks as the second greatest producer of the precious metal among the countries of the world.

A booklet prepared by A. H. A. Robinson and issued by the department of mines tells of the strides taken by this industry, one that did not feel the depression and never fails to find a market for its produce.

In cold figures and prosaic observations that reflect nothing of the hysteric "Gold Rushes" the heart-breaking travel of the pioneers of the Klondike or the hectic life of the mining camps, the record tells of the increase of Canada's output from 34,000 fine ounces valued at $705 000 in 1858 to 2,695,000 ounces valued at nearly $56,000,000 in 1931.

In 1930 after a steady increase from 1923, Canada stepped into second place among the world producers, supplanting the United States. In that year Canada's output was 2,102,068 fine ounces with United States a close third at 2,100,395.

South Africa, leader among world gold producing countries since 1906, has forged ahead with only slight occasional set-backs until the figure was 10,716,351 in 1930.

In 1931 Canada took a grip on second place with 2 695,219 fine ounces and South Africa, still increasing its output, 10,874,145.

Gold is found in every province of Canada except Prince Edward Island, but the province of Ontario is now the heaviest producer. Of the 1931 production Ontario accounted for 78 per cent., principally from the mines at Porcupine and Kirkland Lake. Quebec produced 11 per cent. of the total, British Columbia six percent., Manitoba four per cent., and the balance from Yukon territory, Nova Scotia and Alberta.

Takes Lead in 1931

Ranking with coal as the two most important mineral products of the dominion gold took the lead in 1931 when the value of the yellow metal produced in this country exceeded the value of coal for the first time.

Changing conditions and changed methods have written the history of gold mining in Canada, its rise and decline and second rise to even greater heights.

Placer or alluvial deposit mining which produced $23 000,000 worth of gold in 1900, has given way to ore mining, the main source of the present day. At present the average gold recovered from alluvial sands average $1,000 000 per year.

At the present time companies working alluvial deposits are located as follows: Alberta one; British Columbia 35; Yukon Territory 12. Companies working gold ore mines: Nova Scotia eight; Quebec 20; Ontario 53; Manitoba five; Saskatchewan one; British Columbia 33.

In a brief history of the use of gold the booklet tells of the bloody yet romantic place the metal has played in the life of mankind as far back as history reveals. "The object of men's stupidity from the earliest times, gold has been, perhaps, more influential than any other metal in shaping the course of human history" says the introductory paragraph. "The lure of gold has drawn men to the most remote corners of the earth and has thus paved the way for settlement and civilization in new countries. It has been a fruitful source of wars and of many other of the strenuous activities, both good and evil, of the human race."

Of little commercial value, except for ornamental purposes, gold has at no time been valued for the industrial uses to which it may be put.

Valued at first as an ornamental substance of some rarity it quickly became a common medium of barter, ranking at first with silver, copper, iron, corn, oxen, cloth, skins and shells. But all these other mediums passed into discard while gold remained, always and everywhere held in high esteem until finally it became the accepted standard of value throughout the greater part of the civilized world.

As a matter of prosaic fact the only industrial use of the metal at present, apart from its ornamental value, is in the making of pen nibs and fillings for teeth. But it remains the only substance that is freely accepted for all services and commodities in all parts of the globe—the one commodity the market for which is never glutted.

FLIERS TO AGAIN INVADE HEIGHTS PROBING COSMIC RAY MYSTERIES

R.A.F. Pilot Forced Down on First Ascent Will Seek New Altitudes.

NEW DATA RECORDED.

CORMORANT LAKE, Man., Sept. 8.— (C.P.). — Secrets of the behaviour of the mystic cosmic ray are being wrested from the chilly areas of the upper atmosphere at this lonely northern station. Today the flying laboratory, the super-powered aeroplane of flying officer C. A. Gordon, of the Royal Canadian Air Force, is ready for its second ascent to dizzy heights at more than 20,000 feet.

The aeroplane is loaded with sensitive recording electric-scopes brought here by Dr. Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology. Dr. Millikan, one of the world's greatest physicists is studying the effects of the world's forces of the earth on the cosmic ray and has enlisted the aid of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Ran Out of Gas.

Flying officer Gordon made the first flights Tuesday and was forced to land 300 miles from his base when he ran out of gasoline. The flight, however, was pronounced a decided success by Dr. Millikan, when Gordon returned after being missing for 20 hours.

To test the full effect of magnetic forces it is necessary to get high enough to be out of range of the continually changing conditions in the lower atmosphere. Gordon reached 21,000 feet on his first ascent and may be able to go higher to-day.

Data collected here, close to the north magnetic pole, will be compared by Dr. Millikan with results obtained in other latitudes, and the results announced at the meeting of the American Association for advancement of Science in December.

PLEASANT ODOR AIDS EYESIGHT

EXPERTS IN SESSION.

(By Howard W. Blakeslee, A.P. Science Editor.)

ITHACA, N.Y., September 8 (C.P.). — Experiments proving a sniff of a pleasant odor improves eyesight temporarily were reported to the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association which opened at Cornell University to-day.

An unpleasant smell or the pain of a pinch on the hand is equally effective for greater acuity of eyesight. The experiments were reported by George W. Hartmann of Pennsylvania State College.

The message of the eyes is that they do not function virtually alone in seeing, as commonly supposed, but that sight is really only a part of the unity of senses. In other words, a person seemingly crippled in some needed talent can replace part of his lack by training some other part of his being.

A discovery that human eyes are subject to unfelt jars which cause them sometimes to see intermittently like the shutter of a movie camera, was reported by Dr. Milton Metfessel, of the University of Southern California, who credited the discovery to Dr. Wichart, his assistant. The looker does not realize he is seeing intermittently. The effect is called stroboscopic seeing.

The well-known aversion to starting a hard job is just a momentary matter of heart beat and oxygen, as explained by Herman J. P. Schubert, of the University of Buffalo. In the first few minutes of muscular work the heart-beat and also the intake of oxygen rise rapidly. They climb a hill. But after that for a long time they ride along without much change on a level plateau of effort.

Bear" PRICES!

Catch-- Them Before They Climb....

PRICES To-day are below "sea-level," if we may be permitted to use the phrase as a simile for par.

They're actually "sub" prices in the sense that many commodities, and principally the necessities of life, are being sold below cost of production, or at least below the cost at which merchants, manufacturers and wage-earners can continue to produce them and maintain normal standards of living.

What, then, is the inevitable result? Prices must come "up for air" . . . national and individual prosperity demands it and the upturn is immediately in the offing.

To-day's prices are depression prices. They can only be compared with prices during other periods of depression of past years . . . they cannot remain in this country any more than depression can continue in a country so basically prosperous in resources, in enterprise, in wealth, in commercial and industrial leadership.

These are conditions which will, and are already, adjusting themselves . . . by inevitable laws of economics.

We've reached the low . . . and at the low is the time to buy. With Food, Clothing, Furniture and almost everything else at the lowest prices in 15 years; with the purchasing power of your dollar greater to-day by 40% to 100% than at any time since the war surely it's time to stock up . . . even to buy beyond your immediate needs because unless you buy now, or very soon, you're surely going to pay more . . . when prices come "up for air."

CATTLE ENTRIES MUCH HEAVIER FOR EXHIBITION

Secretary is Anxious to Get Entries in as Scon as Possible.

BIG FAIR PROMISED.

Many Entries Are Coming From Other Fairs in Province.

"We are very anxious to get all entries in as early as possible this year," stated Sheriff F. J. A. Hall, secretary of Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board this morning, in commenting on the fact that entries for the big fair which opens on Monday next are rolling in to his office in large volumes.

Each year the sheriff said we have made the same appeal for exhibitors to have their entries in early in order that the judges' books might be prepared with a minimum of delay, but each year there are quite a number of exhibitors who come along at the last minute.

He contemplated that in view of the possibility of a record entry list this year the work entailed in registering all the exhibitors would be heavier than usual.

"Cattle entries are unusually heavy in quantity and in quality," stated Mr. Hall, who added that when he spoke of quality he did so not out of any knowledge of the live stock entries, because he had of course not seen them; but out of a knowledge of the exhibitors themselves, who were some of the outstanding stockbreeders in the province. Many of them he said were coming on to Peterborough Ex fresh from triumphs on other fair circuits throughout the summer.

Horses also, he believed would provide strong classes judging by the manner in which the entries were already coming in.

"Yes, I have no doubt about it this years Exhibition is going to be just as good if not even better than last year. We have a wonderful line of vaudeville attractions lined up and a good clean midway not to mention the Besses-o'-th'-Barn Band which is an attraction in itself," he said.

'CORPSE' WALKS MOURNERS BOLT

Burial Societies, Showing Efficiency, Rush Supposedly Dead Man to Funeral.

FIND HIM ALIVE.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 8. (CP)—As a corpse, Caesar Milt was so lively he rode to his own funeral—on a hearse.

Mr. Milt, who lives in South Chicago, was in a hospital expected to die by his many friends of the three burial societies to which he belonged, so his friend, William Peters arranged with the directors of the three organizations to take care of the situation at the proper time.

Then somehow the word got about that Mr. Milt had passed on to his reward. Lee Capper, driver of a hearse went to the hospital. There he met Mr. Milt, alive and apparently recovered from his recent illness. Capper called one of the directors of one of the burial associations and said:

"This Milt corpse"—he began and got no further. "Yes, yes," said the director, "bring it along. The funeral's waiting. We can't waste time jawing about it.

"But," objected Mr. Capper—but the director had hung up the telephone receiver.

In due course the hearse, with Mr. Milt, arrived at the church, where several hundred mourners were startled to see Mr. Milt climb out of the hearse and ask: "What's this?"

No one waited to answer.

Of 4,300 varieties of flowers tested for scent in Europe only 420 had an agreeable odor.

HEALTH BROUGHT BY DEPRESSION

Illinois Professor States Hard Times Produces Simpler Living.

LOWER DEATH RATE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The American Congress of Physical Therapy was told to-day that "the economic depression has given the people the greatest blessing of life—health."

The assertion was made by Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, associate professor of medicine at the University of Illinois, as he reported to the congress a consistent decrease in tuberculosis mortality to a new low record of 67 deaths per 100,000 population in the registration area of the United States for 1931. In 1904, he said, the death rate was 201 per 100,000.

"Unemployment has taken the excess funds from the general population," he said. "This has produced a simpler form of living, with more relaxation and an elimination of the intense fatigue produced in the era of high industrial production and constant pleasure-seeking.

"Especially is this true in the years of younger adult life. To-day in our large cities thousands of individuals are found out-of-doors in the parks and at the beaches enjoying a more natural life."

LINER'S SMOKER NOW IN HOTEL

MADE 190 CROSSINGS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—"Skaal!" has taken the place of "Happy Days" in the smoking room of the old trans-Atlantic liner Montroyal formerly the Empress of Britain in new surroundings. The timbered oak smoking room of the old liner, which made 190 round trips across the Atlantic between English and Canadian ports has found a stationary abode. If you ever cross the threshold of the Sola Strand Hotel, in Stravanger, Norway, you will find it again.

Copying American millionaires who have transplanted famous old English rooms to the soil of North America, the Norwegian hotelman bought both smoking room and gymnasium when the Montroyal was sold by the Canadian Pacific Steamships. The smoking room made one more trip, this time not as the rendesvous of happy voyageurs, but in the holds of a tramp.

Russell Township Copies Doomsday Book To Determine Farmer Taxpayers' Holdings

RUSSELL, Ont., September 8 (C.P.). — A Doomsday Book, the ancient method of determining a taxpayer's holdings in vogue during the time of King Alfred, is in for a revival in Russell Township.

A questionnaire, styled after the Doomsday Book, is in course of preparation. It will list the entire holdings of farmers, who are unable to meet their property taxes this year, the name of wife, number of children, and the amount of income during the past year. It also asks the number of live stock owned, and the quantity of grain and hay harvested.

When completed, the questionnaire must be sworn to before a notary public, and sent to either the Reeve of the township or C. A. Seguin, the county representative, Conservative member for Russell.

SCIENTIFIC WORLD WATCHES EXPERIMENTS WITH COSMIC RAY

Royal Air Force Flier Missing After Taking Instruments Up Four Miles.

AT CORMORANT LAKE.

CORMORANT LAKE, Man., Sept. 8 (CP)—The eyes of the scientific world to-day are focussed on this northern Manitoba outpost where Dr. Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, one of the world's most noted physicists, is testing his theories of the cosmic ray, aided by experienced flyers of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Bent on determining the effect of the earth's magnetic forces on the cosmic ray, the study of which is believed the key to some of the greatest mysteries of the universe, Dr. Millikan is sending sensitive electroscopes high above the earth's surface. He has chosen this point because it is close to the megnetic North Pole and because the Royal Canadian Air force station here provides facilities.

Flier Missing

The first observations were made yesterday when Flying Officer R. A. Gordon took the recording instruments aloft on a flight which was to carry him to a height of 25,000 feet. Gordon, who served in the air force during the war and who has had long experience in the north country was unreported late last night but was believed to have made a landing on some lake not far away. Other flights are being made to-day and the lofty regions of the stratosphere, which Pro. Auguste Picard penetrated in his balloon from Switzerland a few weeks ago are to be explored by instruments which will be sent up in balloons.

Assisting Dr. Millikan here are Professors I. S. Bowen and H. V. Neher, co-inventors with him of the sensitive electroscope being used in the tests.

BUMPER CROPS IN S. MONAGHAN

Quality of Grain Superior to Last Year—Wind Hits Buckwheat, Corn.

POTATOES GOOD.

BAILIEBORO, Sept. 8 (Examiner Correspondence) — The major portion of the crop is now harvested in South Monaghan township, with the exception of some late barley and buckwheat.

Crops that have already been threshed have produced a fairly good yield, while the quality of the seeds and grain are much superior to last year's crop.

Sunday morning's wind storm did considerable damage to the buckwheat and corn crops by leaving them badly flattened. Both these crops promised a bountiful yield, but owing to the damage caused by wind and rain will be very difficult to handle.

The farmers in the district are now preparing their soil for wheat and a larger acreage to be sowed this fall than for the past two years.

There is a small acreage of red clover to be threshed in this locality, but prospects are bright for a good crop.

Potatoes Above Average

Potatoes are above the average this fall and some splendid crops will be dug. The farmers however have a smaller acreage owing largely to the low price which prevailed last season.

The fall pastures have been kept fresh by the frequent rains and stock should commence the winter in excellent condition.

The apple crop is far below the average and there will no doubt be a scarcety of good varieties this coming winter.

STREET FAIR IS HELD AT BETHANY

Good Sports Program Provided by Capable Committee—Community Dancing.

BETHANY, September 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — Labor Day was marked by the first event of its kind ever held in the village in the form of a street fair and dance.

At one o'clock the first of the ball games commenced at the Park, and as early as eleven o'clock the large crowd started to assemble for the best day's sport sponsored by the Street Committee. The gate receipts at the Park amounted to $68. The lunch counter did a thriving business.

A large band stand was placed in close proximity to the Town Hall, and dancing commenced sharp at nine o'clock, and continued until three o'clock. The booths were liberally patronized.

Ten prizes were offered on the tickets sold, and were splendidly distributed, only one being won by a local resident. A beautiful radio was drawn by a Peterborough resident and another smaller prize also went to a resident of that city. Manvers Station, Pontypool, Allandale, Omemee, and Fleetwood shared in the prize competition, the stubs being churned by F. W. Reynolds, while Miss Frances McKinnon, guided by F. W. Bowen, M.P., drew the numbers while blindfolded. A. H. Monk was the efficient announcer.

An eight-piece orchestra provided music for dancing. The best of order prevailed and the committee is to be congratulated on the great success of the first venture at a street fair and dance.

Cattle Shipment Is Made From Millbrook

MILLBROOK, September 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — Two carloads of export cattle were shipped from the C.N.R. Station at Millbrook last week-end for Montreal, en route to England, by F. J. Clemens of Bowmanville, the animals being purchased through the local drover, Wentworth Gray.

One carload was of particularly choice cattle, averaging thirteen hundred and fifty pounds each, bought from William Douglas; the other, while not up to the standard of unusual excellence attained by the twenty-one in the first car, were yet of very fine quality, and were purchased from J. R. Eakins, R. A. Ford, and Thomas Douglas.

Car Built In 1913 Still In Service

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 8 (Examiner Staff Reporter) — Still in service after nineteen years running, an ancient Ford car with the square brass radiator front, now so rarely seen, is at present at T. E. Hall's garage here for minor repairs.

The car stands in the shops glaring conspicuous in contrast with the 1932 V-8 models representing the advancement that has been made in automotive construction and body design since the year 1913, when it was sold by Mr. Douglas then the Ford dealer in this town.

Old "Lizzie," is owned by William Hedger a Percy Township farmer. It was originally purchased by the late Dennis Owens who was a brother-in-law of Mr. Hedger's. That the car has been well-cared for is evident by the well-preserved appearance of the leather upholstery, which is said to be the original upholstery, and also by the fact that the car still is able to make frequent trips to and from the farm and town.

People of Britain are buying nearly three times as many phonographs as in 1934.

Expenses But By Placing Continuation and Public Classes Under One Roof.

BUILDING PARTITIONED.

BAILIEBORO, Sept. 8 (Examiner Correspondence) — The continuation school and public school in the village have now been put into the one building.

The local school board made arrangements to have the public school partitioned and the alterations have been made.

This will help to cut down expenses as well as have all the pupils in the two play-grounds on either side the school.

Formerly the pupils attending the continuation school were taught in the building formerly occupied by the Bank of Toronto.

Miss A. Breckenridge is teacher of the continuation classes and Miss J. Murphy has charge of the junior pupils.

YOUNG WOMAN IS RESCUED AT INVERLEA

Jack Baird Saves Life of Young Toronto Woman.

WADED INTO DEEP WATER.

Had Gone Down For Second Time When She Was Rescued.

An act of gallantry to which a Toronto young woman probably owes her life has been brought to the attention of The Examiner by one of its readers who signs herself Mrs.—"An Interested Spectator."

The unknown correspondent relates that while at Inverlea Park on Monday afternoon she was an eye-witness to a near drowning fatality, which was only averted by the presence of mind and heroism of Jack Baird of 668 George Street, who successfully brought the young woman to safety after she had gone beyond her depth and had plainly got into difficulty.

"I think as an appreciative bystander that an inquiry should be made to see that Mr. Baird's act is recognized, since a fatality would no doubt have resulted except for his efforts," the writer concludes.

Interviewed by The Examiner, Mr. Baird who is employed as an accountant in the local offices of Bigear & Crawford, stock brokers, made light of the incident, although he admitted that if he had not gone to the young woman's aid she may have drowned.

Name Not Divulged.

Mr Baird related that the young woman, whose name he declined to divulge, had accompanied himself and another young woman to Inverlea bathing beach. "I did not know the girl was unable to swim," he said, and after we had all been in the water for a short time my attention was called to the girl's danger by a warning shout from some children nearby. I immediately went to her assistance and had gone down for the second time when I reached her, and was about played out. I got her ashore and the lifeguard came along and advised her to rest on the beach. She was quite exhausted."

Evidences of the struggle which Mr. Baird had to bring the frantic girl ashore were still visible in the scratches on his forehead and nose yesterday, but what happened, he stated that the girl, who could not swim, had waded into the water and having gone too far out had become panicky when she found herself out of her depth.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

REST AND WEIGHT.

Every health writer, including myself, advises the thin to eat more and the stout to eat less. The thin are also advised to take a little exercise to give them a better appetite and the stout are advised to take a great deal of exercise as their surplus fat thus gets used or burned, thereby reducing the weight.

I sometimes think that health writers, again including myself, do not say enough about rest and sleep, to the thin, and to the stout.

The way to think about rest or sleep is to think about it as food. If you take an extra hour of sleep or rest, you lose about an ounce or two of weight only, whereas if you are up and about for this hour you may lose as much as four to six ounces of weight. You can thus see that if you get this much extra sleep or rest, every day for a week or a month, that it should add considerable weight to your body.

What does this mean?

It means that the thin or underweight individual by making sure of this extra hour or two of rest at night or during the day, is not going to use up all the food eaten, and some of it will be stored as extra weight.

To the overweight individual it means that as his or her body stores fat much more readily than one who is normal, that this extra hour of rest or sleep will give the system that much longer time to store fat at this increased rate.

You can thus see that perhaps more important than cutting down on the food intake, more important than taking vigorous exercise, is this cutting down on rest and sleep.

Just figure it out for yourself. By being on your feet, getting around the house, streets, store or office, one hour more each day than usual, and you are generally on your feet three or four hours a day, it would mean that you would be using your body, using up five times the energy as when at rest for one more hour a day. Thus the length of time when fat from your body was being used up would be 20 to 25 per cent. more every day.

Frankly, the thin individual cannot always gain in weight what would be expected for one more hour of rest or sleep, and taking one more hour of rest or sleep each day, but the gain would be certainly worth the giving up of one hour of play or recreation.

However, with the overweight individual, cutting off one hour of rest or sleep, and taking one more hour of light exercise such as walking, would give excellent results—loss of weight because not resting, loss of weight because of the light exercise.

YOUNG MOTHER

Driven to Distraction by Children

"You see," explained Mrs. Rogers sadly to her friend, "I'm never done, with three healthy children on the go all day, it's one continual strain and the washing alone makes me despair. No sooner do I put the children into clean clothes, than out they go and come back again black as tinkers."

Her friend listened to her patiently. "Ruth dear, you are foolish to worry yourself over such things. Children will be children and accidents will happen, so why not make the best of things and enjoy life instead of worrying about it."

Friend Solves Washday Problem

"There is no excuse for you to be wearing yourself out at the washtub. Why don't you do as I do? First, I use a good soap. I'd advise you to use the brand I always buy—Pearl White Naptha. You'll find it a good practical laundry soap and a lot more economical than most. Soap your clothes and put them to soak overnight in cold water. You will find that, as the water temperature rises to the heat of the room, more dirt is loosened than would be if the water were cooling. In the morning, rinse your clothes thoroughly in warm water and you'll never have any more troubles with your wash."

Thousands of women have learned this valuable laundry secret. Get the Pearl habit yourself—Pearl means efficient work in less time and at less cost. That's something to remember these days.

Over 3000 cakes of Pearl Soap are used by Canadian housewives every hour

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

281

AN UNUSUALLY BID SLAM

It is a most exceptional thing for players at the Contract table to reach and make a Small Slam in notrump after their opponents have opened the bidding and after both players have passed their first opportunity to bid. However, when you are playing against super-psychicists like my one time team-mate, Mr. John Rau, or like another brilliant young New York player, Mr. Edward Hymes, Jr., anything may happen in the bidding and almost always does.

In a recent rubber game, they were pitted against Mr. William K. Barrett, also a former teammate of mine on a championship team-of-four, and Mr. Samuel Fry, Jr., of New York, when along came the hand below:

South—Dealer.

East and West vulnerable.

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1♠(1)	Pass(2)	2♡(3)	Pass(4)
Pass(5)	3NT(6)	Pass	4NT(7)
Pass	5♣(8)	Pass	6NT(9)
Pass	Pass	Pass

1—A venture by Mr. Rau into the realms of super-psychology, due to the scoring situation.

2—Mr. Barrett is quite certain that Mr. Hymes will bid something and give him an opportunity to enter the bidding later. Hence his pass on a 4½ honor-trick hand.

3—Mr. Hymes obliges.

4—Mr. Fry has no clue to the actual situation. The pass, therefore, is sound.

5—Satisfied that his Opening psychic has accomplished its purpose.

6—Mr. Barrett reasons that, with the enormous hand he holds, both of his opponents cannot be telling the truth. With his strong holding in spades, he argues that his partner must have something in hearts, and if he bids only two notrump, his partner may think that he also has entered the misinformation class and that his bid of two notrump is based merely on a long club or diamond suit, to which he will run, if doubled. His bid of three notrump is designed to disclose the psychic to his partner.

7—Mr. Fry decodes his message.

8—In view of the previous bid and the score, the bid of five clubs is distinctly a Slam try.

9—The Slam invitation is rightly accepted.

The hand, of course, is a lay-down for six against any defense.

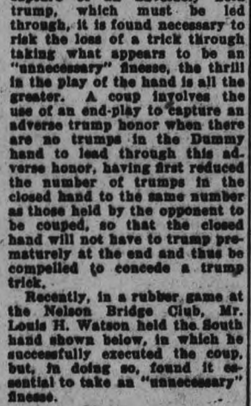
TODAY'S POINTER

Bluff bids, so popular with many players, cannot serve their purpose if the opposing players are alert. Either they are brushed aside, as though never made, or they are unnecessary, if partner's hand is a strong one.

Tomorrow's Hand

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.



Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

TAKING AN "UNNECESSARY" FINESSE

The coup is one of the rarest and most sought-after plays at the Contract table. Hands which permit this play are far from common, and even when the cards are so distributed that it may be made, players often fail to recognise the situation in time, so that the coup may be successfully accomplished.

If, in order to accomplish the capture of an adversely held trump, which must be led through, it is found necessary to risk the loss of a trick through taking what appears to be an "unnecessary" finesse, the thrill in the play of the hand is all the greater. A coup involves the use of an end-play to capture an adverse trump honor when there are no trumps in the Dummy hand to lead through this adverse honor, having first reduced the number of trumps in the closed hand to the same number as those held by the opponent to be couped, so that the closed hand will not have to trump prematurely at the end and thus be compelled to concede a trump trick.

Recently, in a rubber game at the Nelson Bridge Club, Mr. Louis H. Watson held the South hand shown below, in which he successfully executed the coup, but, in doing so, found it essential to take an "unnecessary" finesse.

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The Bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2NT	Pass
3♠	Pass	3NT	Pass
4♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Three rounds of hearts were won by East and West, and West, who had taken the third trick, led the nine of clubs. If the adverse trumps are divided 3-2, the hand, of course, is a lay-down for four-odd. Mr. Watson won the club lead with the King in Dummy and, on the second round of trumps, discovered that East held four to the Knave originally and thus had a sure trump trick, unless the coup could be accomplished. On the seventh lead he led his last club, won with the Ace and returned a club from Dummy, which he trumped. This was the first step in the execution of the coup.

The next step involved a brilliant and unusual play. Although his hand contained no losing diamonds, he now led the seven of diamonds and when West played a low diamond, finessed the Knave. When the finesse held, Dummy's last club was led and trumped in the closed hand. The King of diamonds was then led, overtaken by the Ace and Mr. Watson, as a result of his careful play, won the last 2 tricks with his trump tenace. East's trumps falling harmlessly under them.

The diamond finesse was a brilliant and sound play and, while it risked the loss of an additional trick, it also presented the only method by which the hand could be made. Faced with such a situation, a good Contract player never hesitates. The game is the thing and the loss of an extra trick should not be permitted to weigh against it.

TODAY'S POINTER

A good player will take the risk of the defeat of his contract through taking an "unnecessary" finesse, if it presents the only method by which the contract can be made.

Tomorrow's Hand

The bidding and play of the hand below will be discussed tomorrow:

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

TO PROBE OVERCHANGING.

THOROLD, Ont.—The Town Council to-day had before it a recommendation that investigation be launched into alleged overcharging of grocers catering to recipients of public relief.

Although no formal resolution was passed for action at last night's meeting it was understood the majority of Council members were in favor of an immediate probe.

SUDBURY UNABLE TO PAY RELIEF

Council Petitions Government Following Threats By Jobless.

MEN DESPERATE.

SUDBURY, Ont., September 8 (C.P.). — The Ontario Government to-day was being asked to assume 100 per cent. of the cost of relief in Sudbury following a demonstration by 250 unemployed in the Council Chamber last night where they demanded an increase in relief.

"If you don't give us our daily bread, there is not a man who will come out of Council," declared Maurice Ouimet, spokesman for the workless. "We can't wait longer. We must have action tonight. We're hungry, and if you don't give us food we're going to get it. Our children have nothing to eat."

After jeering attempts at explanation by Council members, the situation was finally eased when a motion passed Council declaring the inability of the municipality to bear the cost of relief and petitioning the Ontario Government to assume 100 per cent. of the cost. A petition of the unemployed supporting the motion will also be forwarded to the Government.

Sunday, September 4th, marked the date of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Blade, 444 Dublin Street. Last evening, in the presence of a large number of their friends and relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Blade commemorated their silver anniversary by holding a reception at their home, where they were assisted in receiving by their daughters, Margaret and Jeanne. Their third daughter, Dorothy, answered the door. The rooms were lovely with a profuson of beautiful flowers, in tall reed standards, bowls and vases. Crimson zinnias and bronze helenium, tall spears of gladioli in pale pink, mauve and yellow, and mauve and white asters, decorated the rooms, while the table from which refreshments were served was very attractively arranged with a cloth of embroidery and Cluny lace, four tall pink tapers tied with little white ribbon bows, in junior silver holders, and a central silver basket filled with pink cosmos and pink snapdragon, with a bow of pale pink tulle. On the buffet was a silver basket of cosmos and pink and yellow snapdragon and bronze candles in silver candlesticks. The triple lights of the chandelier were covered with pretty shades of pale yellow, pink, green and silver paper. The tea-room was in charge of Mrs. George Adams and the guests were ushered by Mrs. W. B. Miller. Tea was poured by Mrs. Walter Henry and Miss Bertha Curtis, assisted by Mrs. James Cruikshank, Mrs. George Moncrief, Miss Rita Head, Miss Adrienne Matthews, and the Misses Margaret and Jeanne Blade. Many beautiful gifts in silver were received by the host and hostess, including a tea service and tray from the daughters of the house and a silver flower holder from the Degree Staff of the Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, of which Mrs. Blade is a member. The letters and telegrams of congratulation from a large circle of relatives and friends included a message from the Rev. J. R. Webb of Kitchener, formerly of Peterborough, who officiated at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Blade a quarter of a century ago. Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox.

THE HOMEMAKERS who would keep her books in good condition should be careful not alone in the handling of them, but also in the way they are laid down or put on sheives in a bookcase.

• • • • • • •

When books were costly because of the money required to print them, and authors were neither so many nor so prolific, the volumes which one possessed were prized.

• • • • • • •

The care given them was far greater than to-day when prices are lower and books are universally owned. The book lover continues to treat volumes with the respect which is their due, but it is not uncommon to find them nonchalantly handled by others.

• • • • • • •

This is frequently because a true knowledge of how to treat books is not known, so the glimpses given to-day may be illuminating.

• • • • • • •

Book bindings preserve pages. This was their original purpose, and continues to be their object. These bindings may be simple paper covers on cheap editions, or handsomely tooled and illumined leather on costly editions.

• • • • • • •

In between these two extremes there are thousands of different bindings in varying prices. The cheap require more care for their preservation than do the more expensive ones, not for their intrinsic worth, but for the protection they offer the pages they enclose.

• • • • • • •

Care should be given bindings as well as pages, for, although it is the reading matter that one especially wants, it is not easy to handle books with torn or loose bindings, and eventually the pages themselves get torn or slip away from their stitchings.

• • • • • • •

More persons realize that to throw books down is bad for bindings. To leave them open and covers spread out is also hard on bindings. But few really appreciate what it means to bindings when books are not perfectly upright in bookcases, book-troughs, or on shelves.

• • • • • • •

When a shelf is not filled with books, the last one is usually on a slant. This throws all the other volumes slightly out of line. The bindings are harmed in proportion to the angles at which they stand.

• • • • • • •

To prevent books from falling over or getting aslant, use book ends. See that they are pressed firmly against the volumes which they support, and always stand books absolutely upright.

• • • • • • •

If no book ends are available, lay enough books down at ends of those upright to keep the latter standing correctly.

VOTE IN FEW MONTHS FOR ARGENTINE WOMEN

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 8 ((A.P.)—Argentine women, who had expected to wait some years for the right to vote despite the championing of their cause by both candidates in the recent Presidential campaign, now envision full suffrage within a few months.

Congress is considering an equal suffrage measure and the women have found an ardent champion in Dr. Leopold Melo, Minister of Interior. Declaring denial of suffrage to be a survival of the prejudices of the early Romans, he says, women's presence in Parliament will help to calm the tone of debates, suppress violent scenes, and will be an incentive to harder work.

Fines for motoring offenses in England in the last year totaled over $1,000,000.

The mirror, for the huge reflecting telescope now being built for the David Dunlap Observatory, University of Toronto, will weigh 5,000 pounds.

Holds Beauty and Brains Go Hand-In-Hand Adage "Beautiful But Dumb" Is All Wrong

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Beautiful girls make the best wives.

If you want to have a happy married life, don't go out with an ugly duckling!

Beauty and brains go together. The two are as closely related as apple pie and ice cream!

The old adage "beautiful but dumb," is all wrong. A girl that is beautiful can't be dumb. Good looks presupposes intelligence!

That, in brief, is the heart-breaking to man philosophy of love expounded by Dr. Paul Propence, director of the Institute of Family relations, of Los Angeles, who is conducting a Summer session course on marriage at the Columbia University.

Pity the poor wallflower!

Yet, the Columbia expert assuaged the wounds of the homely girls by adding that even if she does not have baby doll eyes and million dollar hair she need not give up in bleak despair.

There is no such thing as love at first sight, Dr. Propence smilingly asserted. What is commonly known as "love at first sight" is merely adolescent youth on the rampage, the mentor explained.

FIVE TRANSIENTS GIVEN 20 DAYS IN POLICE COURT

General Clean-up in Hobo Transients Promised By Mayor.

LIVING IN FILTH.

Appear Before Justices of the Peace R. Denne and V. Eastwood.

"Because of the anxiety and fear to many of the women householders of this city and also on account of the intolerably filthy condition under which many of the hobo transients are living in the local jungles" His Worship Mayor Denne as chairman of the Police Commission this morning stated to The Examiner that the future policy is going to point in the direction of a general clean-up. "Peterborough is to be cleared of hobo transients" he stated definitely.

That His Worship was not exaggerating the condition that does exist in this city has been tragically stressed by the recent murder of Henry Thomas unemployed Belleville war veteran and more recently by the appearance in police court this morning of five hoboes who each received a sentence of twenty days' imprisonment on charges of trespassing on railway property.

The prisoners who were arrested in the early hours of this morning by C.P.R. Constable J. Evans, M.M., gave their names as: Albert Bradshaw, 21, Halifax; Raymond Clarke, 18, Tweed; M. R. Davis, 36, Vancouver; James Murphy, 26, Toronto; and George Healey, Fredericton N.B.

Filthy Conditions

Constable Evans related conditions of intolerable and almost indescribable filth caused by transients who made a practice of inhabiting railway box cars.

The cars, he stated, were brought into the city in a clean and sanitary condition for the use of the Quaker Oats Company and for the Canadian Packers Limited. It did not make any difference whether the cars were sealed or not, the hoboes just simply made use of them as they stood on the sidings waiting for shipment of grain or frozen meat.

Time and again the constable said, a call had been made for a box car, only to find that the car was in such a filthy condition that it was absolutely unfit for use. It was causing the company a great deal of inconvenience and was also interfering with the business of the local manufacturers concerned.

Afterwards Constable Evans remarked to The Examiner, "I could take you to the sidings right now and show you a box car that you would not accept one hundred dollars to clean."

Magistrate Away

J. W. Anderson, C.P.R. freight agent here also gave evidence before Justices of the Peace Mayor Denne and V. Eastwood Sr., who occupied the bench this morning in the absence of Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. Mr. Anderson in reply to Mr. Eastwood said his company could not do anything more than they were now doing to prevent a recurrence of the trouble. "These men break into box cars regardless of seals" he stated.

Sentencing the five men Mr. Eastwood told them there was no reason even if they were unemployed, why the should be allowed to conduct themselves in such a filthy and disreputable manner. He also pointed out to them the heavy expense of such conduct to the railway company and also the inconvenience to local manufacturers who were doing all they could to provide employment.

A further instance of the annoyance caused by hobo transients is also revealed by the management of a local dairy, who states that recently the theft of milk from doorsteps in the early hours of the mornings has been reported. Empty milk bottles have been found on the grand stand at the Exhibition grounds, which would lead to the inference that this place is also being converted into a happy hunting ground for the ever-growing army of transients that drop into the city from the rods of passing freight trains.

No Inquest Called In Strychnine Death

SUDBURY, Ont., Sept. 8 (C.P.)—No inquest will be held into the death of Mrs. Hilda Nirva, following the discovery of strychnine in the body of the dead woman by Dr. H. L. Rogers, Provincial analyst. Authorities here decided that it was obviously a case of suicide. Mrs. Nirva, who resided here, left about August 13 after selling all her furniture and telling her neighbors she was going away on an extended holiday. On August 26 her body was found in the bush near the Frood Mine, about two miles from this city. There were no external marks of violence on the body.

Saskatchewan's greatest industry is in full swing to-day after a lengthy wet weather delay last week. Fine weather now prevails throughout the Province with grain dry and in good condition.

Labour needs are expected to absorb all able bodied unemployed in the Province for several weeks at least.

MARX BROTHERS SCORE ANOTHER

Many Bright And Fun Producing Episodes In "Horse Feathers."

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—In "Horse Feathers" Chico Marx portrays a bootlegger who masquerades as an iceman and Groucho impersonates Quincy Adams Wagstaff, the newly chosen president of Huxley College.

Wagstaff, while in a speak-easy searching for football talent, says to Barravelli:

In case I never see you again, which I am planning right now, what would you want to play football?

Barravelli replies:

Well, first we want a football.

Groucho says:

I don't know if we've got a football, but if I can find one, would you be interested? I don't want a hasty answer.

The ways of this bootlegger in furnishing whisky for a client are laughable. He makes it a point of telling a customer over the telephone that he will find out if he has a quart of Scotch and a quart of rye and after pretending that he has, he proceeds to fill the bottles labelled Scotch and rye from the same gallon container.

In one scene, Barravelli undertakes to give a singing lesson to Connie, and Wagstaff says to the audience in the theatre:

I've got to stay here, but there's no reason why you folks shouldn't go into the lobby until this blows over.

Barravelli thinks "haddock" means "headache," that a sturgeon is a doctor and a corpuscle a corporal. His teammate, Harpo, who is an ingenious dog-catcher, brings forth from his voluminous costume a steaming cup of coffee and gives it to a beggar. When Flagstaff remarks that he cannot burn the candle at both ends, the mute dog-catcher quickly produces a candle lighted at both ends. When a seal is wanted for an agreement, Harpo again is on the job with a live seal.

Wagstaff is told that he must pay for the drinks in the speak-easy, to which he goes for the purpose of buying football players. He asks the bartender whether he can cash a check for $15.20, and when the money is handed to him he tells the speak-easy attendant that he will send a check for $15.20 as soon as he gets one. Then, of course, there is a hasty exit.

There are many chases in which Harpo figures and during one of these feverish pursuits a policeman makes the big mistake of leaping into the dog-catcher's cage which is on a cart. Quick as a flash, Harpo reveals a sign setting forth that he has a police dog for sale.

A Comic Football Game

A good deal of this piece of clever foolery is taken up with the incidents in a riotous football game, in which not only Groucho takes part in a morning coat and leather headgear, but also Chico and Harpo the latter being perhaps the most amusing of the brothers in this particular stretch. He conjures up many ideas to baffle the opposing team, that of Darwin. At one moment the ball is on an elastic string, and subsequently it looks as though half a dozen balls were being used. The game is to the imaginative rather than to the swift and the strong and like the other parts of the film keeps up a fast pace.

At the outset there is a good musical comedy bit during which Groucho attempts two songs and Zeppo chants of love. No Marx Brothers film would be complete without the silent Harpo playing his harp, or Chico playing the piano, and it is always interesting to observe the changing expression on the faces of the brothers during these solos, as they sway from the ridiculous to the sublime.

Taking it all in all, it is a pity that these funsters do not dodge very low comedy and stick closer to their less boisterous but keener ideas.

CROONER'S WIFE CHANGES MIND

Makes Up With Rudy Vallee and Contemplated Divorce is Off.

"JUST A LITTLE FOOL."

RENO, Nev., Sept. 8 (A.P.). — There will be no divorce for the Rudy Vallees, the former Fay Webb, acress wife of the crooning radio singer, said here yesterday.

"It was all a mistake," Mrs. Vallee said. "I love my husband and always have loved him. I am leaving at noon for Santa Monica and will join Rudy later in New York. I'm so happy.

The startling turn came as Mrs. Vallee was believed to be preparing to establish divorce residence here.

A sudden realization that her separation from Vallee was all the result of a "childish and foolish quarrel," coupled with a midnight telephone conversation with the singer and orchestra leader in Atlantic City, was responsible for the change in plans.

"I know now that I was just a little fool to even think of divorce," Mrs. Vallee confessed. "Rudy never wanted one, although he was just a perfect dear and told me that if I thought a divorce was best, why that was what I should get. 'But I was wrong and we love each other more than ever now. We both admitted that last night."

Pullets And Roosters Are Sent North Aklavik Will Now Have Fresh Eggs

(Special to The Examiner.)

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 7.—(S.N.S.)—No longer will residents of Aklavik, one of the last outposts in the western Arctic, sigh for nice fresh eggs. Aklavik, which is more than 1,500 miles north of Edmonton and up in the Arctic circle, will have its population increased soon by thirteen pullets and two roosters, and the residents will have fresh eggs—that is if the hens continue to lay.

G. M. Cormie, provincial poultry commissioner, has shipped the feathered flock to P. Stramberg, described as a "poultry fancier of Aklavik." Aklavik has no chickens at the present time, it is stated.

The chickens are travelling by train to McMurray and then by boat to Aklavik. They are pure bred-to-lay barred Plymouth Rocks and are five and a half months' old pullets.

The hens are laying at the present time and are in good condition to face the long winter darkness of the north. On the trip north they will be fed a special laying mash and whole grain to keep them laying until they arrive.

In announcing the trip by the chickens, the poultry branch remarks that civilization is going north. In this connection it might be recalled that a team of horses went as far north as Arctic Red river by boat last year to do various pieces of work around the different posts. At Arctic Red river children who had never seen horses gaped open-mouthed at them and called them "big dogs."

VEREGIN'S RIVAL AS SECT LEADER FATHER'S WIDOW

Doukhobors of West Not All "Hooligans"—Many Own Fine Farms.

FAVOR EDUCATION.

(Special to The Examiner)

PRINCE ALBERT, Sept. 8 (S. N.S.)—Another chapter is being written in a history already stained with persecution and exile and human misery. The affairs of the Doukhobors are reported to be reaching another crisis. Peter Veregin, accepted by many of these people as their spiritual and temporal leader, and by some as their Christ, has resigned office. His loyal followers, in consternation, are begging of him to remain as their leader. Veregin, serving an 18-month term at the penitentiary here for perjury, is threatened with deportation at the expiry of his sentence. Petition are going forward to the governor-general and to other authorities asking that he be allowed out on parole.

Since his arrest, major disturbances have occurred among the "Sons of Freedom" and hundreds of nudists are serving a three-year term on an island once used as a lazareto, off the British Columbia coast. Smaller parades have occurred here in northern Saskatchewan, and only last week several Doukhobors were given the three-year term.

Veregin Has Rival

The general term "Doukhobor" embraces so many different groups with such sharply contrasting ideals and leaders that the public is almost sure to be given eroneous impressions about them. Some of the Doukhobors live in communities, owning nothing, sharing everything. But thousands of them are individualists, and operate their own private farms in every respect the same as the Canadian or British prairie farmer. Some of them acknowledge Peter Veregin as their leader, others ignore him and refuse allegiance, and there is at least one rival leader, his father's widow with a colony at Gleichon.

Then the name "Doukhobor" has been so frequently associated with nude parades that it is no wonder many people think of them all as potential nudists. But the "Sons of Freedom" who have been responsible for all the uprising of this sort, are repudiated and disowned by the main body of the Doukhobors who deplore their excesses as much as anybody else. A leading independent Doukhobor to-day said that the "Sons of Freedom" were the "hooligans" or "bums" which are to be found in every society, and Peter Makaraff, Veregin's legal adviser, used similar terms in speaking of them.

Successful Farmers

As I found out myself in a tour among the independent Doukhobors of Blaine Lake district, there are any number of them progressive successful farmers, anxious to be good Canadians, encouraging their children to gain a superior education, sending them to high schools and to universities, training them to be doctors, lawyers, teachers and engineers—people no more likely to throw up their lands and go on a religious "trek" or to join in a nude parade than the average farmer of Peel or Halton.

The the independent Doukhobors do not acknowledge Veregin as spiritual leader, do not pay him tribute, do not associate themselves in any way with the erratic demonstrations of the "Sons of Freedom", they are vitally concerned, as fellow men and fellow immigrants from Trans-Caucasia, with everything that affects the welfare of the other Doukhobors, whether "Sons of Freedom" or not. They are afraid that if Peter Veregin is kept in prison, his leaderless followers will blindly wander into further excesses, perhaps abandon their Canadian lands and migrate elsewhere. That is why they are assisting the community Doukhobor, who do accept Veregin as absolute Monarch (some of them as the incarnation of Christ) to appeal for his release, on parole.

Children "Farmed Out"

I came upon another instance of their concern over the welfare of the "Sons of Freedom" to-day. At the community hall at Blaine Lake where several hundred of them had gathered a letter was read from British Columbia telling them about the children of those "Sons of Freedom" who are sentenced to serve three years for nude parading. The lady who wrote the letter said the children, who are "farmed out" by the government among families who offer to take them in for so much a week, are in many instances being treated badly and are not getting sufficient food and clothing.

The Blaine Lake Doukhobors, on hearing this, decided that they would send an investigator to obtain the facts about these children and report. In order to save time and money, they would ask one of their number living in British Columbia settlement to act as investigator, the Blaine Lake Doukhobors financing the trip.

Peter G. Makaraff, of the legal firm of Makaroff and Bates, Saskatoon, who spent two days at Prince Albert and Blaine Lake giving me first-hand contacts with the Doukhobors, was the pioneer in breaking away from the ancient obsession against higher education. His father had to suffer innumerable insults and minor persecutions from the community because he would not conform. Makaroff was probably the first Doukhobor since the beginning of the movement 250 years ago to complete high school and go on through university. Since then many of the others have been emboldened to secure higher education.

The Home Of John A. Machray, K.C., In Winnipeg

FORMER UNIVERSITY HEAD CHARGED WITH LOOTING TRUST FUNDS.

Assertions that John A. Machray, K.C., former chairman of the Board of Governors, University of Manitoba, might have disaipated nearly three million dollars of church and college trust funds, have astounded Winnipeg, and indeed, all of Canada. It is reported the Bracken Government will hold an inquiry, and it is thought that a portion of the missing funds may be recovered perhaps by holding others than Machray responsible to some extent through possible neglect of duty. Nominally charged with theft of $47,251 from the University of Manitoba, Machray, a sufferer from cancer, was too ill ao appear in court on September 1, and was remanded a week. Machray is shown in (1) and his home in (2).

Karen Morley has discovered that, photographically, light blue blends best with her complexion, and she always tries to wear this shade while filming a picture. Off-screen, however, she avoids the color because it is not becoming to her. She recently went through a "lighting clinic" during which cameramen experimented with lights at various angles and devised a new system of photographing her.

Orientals, notably Malayans, consider the kiss contemptible, and are loud in their disapproval of kissing scenes in American-made films. The touching of hands takes the place with the Malayan of the kiss of white races as a form of greeting and affection. So distasteful is the thought of a kiss to the Malayan that affectionate love scenes are vociferously hooted by natives viewing movies.

MEXICO MAY SUCCEED PERU IN LEAGUE COUNCIL

GENEVA, Sept. 8 (A.P.)—Mexico was regarded to-day as the probable successor to Peru in the League of Nations Council when the election is held at the coming Assembly session. Argentina's return to active membership at this session was regarded as improbable, though the authorities have not entirely abandoned hope that the Government at Buenos Aires may make the necessary decision within the next two weeks.

DROP MURDER CHARGE AGAINST H. FLEISHER

DETROIT, Sept. 8—Prosecutor Harry S. Toy, charging that "organized grandom" was preventing the appearance of his one identifying witness, yesterday asked and was granted the dismissal of a murder charge against Harry Fleisher, member of Detroit purple gang.

Fleisher at once was turned over to Federal officials to face an indictment of conspiracy to violate the Federal Prohibition law.

The missing witness, Toy said, is Solly Levine, whose testimony previously resulted in three men being convicted of the Collingwood apartment massacres in which three gangsters were slain. Fleisher, it was charged, was the fourth man involved.

SHIP SALVAGED OFF SHOAL IS MADE READY FOR OCEAN

Eighty-seven New Plates Are Placed Upon Liner "Prince David."

JOBS FOR 500 MEN.

(Special to The Examiner)

HALIFAX, Sept. 8 (SNS)—There is a sound sweeter than music invading the waterfront of old Halifax to-day. It may be discordant with musical tones, but it is certainly atune with the times in Nova Scotia. The Halifax shipyards' whistles blow every morning at an early hour to call the happy toilers to their jobs, and more than 500 men pour out of their homes in Halifax north in response to the call. Down they come from the slopes of the city where once a great catastrophe left demolished homes and factories in its wake and where now a beautiful new Halifax has arisen. Down they come with their dinner pails, chatting and laughing, for they are cheerful men, happy in that they have a job to do and they are ready to go about their work in that spirit.

Soon the machine shops are opened and there is a sound of clanking drills and turning wheels. Immense derricks pick up great steel plates and hoist them high up in the air. Rivetting machines drown out the voices of shouting foremen. Five hundred men in rebuilding a ship can be incessantly noisy—but it is an agreeable noise to-day—and the workmen are happy.

Perhaps that explains why the damaged liner, Prince David, which came to the mover a month ago, is now floating trim and steady in the waters of the harbor after spending only 35 working days in the Halifax Shipyards drydock.

From Stem to Stern

Perhaps that explains why W. J. Jones, the superintendent of iron workers, was able to stroke the side of the 6,892 ton passenger liner and say with a satisfaction in his voice: "We took 87 plates off her and cut, drilled and shared in our machine shops 87 new ones. We treated 20 other plates and scraped the ship from stem to stern. She floats, Mister, and there's not a weep from her! Not a weep!"

Nova Scotians won their early marine fame through the building of wooden ships—that reputation is still maintained—but to-day Nova Scotians are fast winning a name for repairing ships, not wooden ships, but huge greyhounds of the Atlantic.

Several months ago the C.N.S. Prince David, when plying between Boston and Bermuda, crashed upon the coral rocks and the cruel Atlantic nearly swallowed her up to place her in an ocean graveyard, fathoms below as a sacrifice to the great god Neptune. Skilful divers went beneath the surface and patched the sides of the heaving "Prince," then a New York salvaging company towed the damaged liner to Saint John and thence to Halifax, where officials of the Halifax shipyards took her in hand, a broken, shattered snarl of twisted steel, to begin the herculean labor of making a floating luxury palace of a hull that had been knocking at Davy Jones' locker.

After being battered about on the rocks and being submerged in salt water from keel to B deck, the damage was so extensive that all the engines, electrical equipment, woodwork and general interior fixings and furnishings will have to be completely renovated and replaced.

CANADIAN WOOL IS FOUND TO BE MOST SUITABLE

Judgment of Pioneers is Confirmed To-day, Say Wool Growers.

DOMESTIC USE.

Canadian pioneers did not have to look far for their clothing requirements. From their own sheep there was always sufficient wool to be made up right in the home or the local mill. And furthermore was never any complaint about their clothing, their blankets or home made rugs. Indeed we of to-day look back on these old time products with keen envy, because that virgin wool grown on sheep which lived in the same limate as the people did themselves, wore like proverbial iron and it fulfilled the purpose of any real clothing fabric, being amply warm in winter and yet cool in the summer months.

To-day while Canadian wool still remains the natural clothing material there have been a lot of unnecessary and rather cumbersome changes. In this country we have about three and a half million sheep producing around 21,000,000 pounds of wool annually. Although there is room for a sheep population of ten times this number and we actually consume four or five times the amount of wool produced there has been little expansion in the sheep industry in the last two or three decades. Indeed, if anything, the swing has been the other way and wool prices now are the lowest in the history of the country. To an outsider the situation must appear absurd, particularly when he learns, that we a wool importing country actually must seek an export outlet for a large proportiton of our domestic production. It is probably this state of affairs that has given rise to the rumor that Canadian grown wool is not suitable for Canadian manufactureing but this theory loses all backing when we discover that the bulk of all the wool used in Canada is very similar to the type produced in Canada and there are several mills here that are using from 40 to 75 per cent domestic wool. Of course the whole situation is largely explained by tariffs. Until recently there was no duty on wool and it still comes in free from the biggest exporters in the world — Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Great Britain. Not only is wool from Empire countries admitted free but also the partly processed material whereas there is a heavy duty on the completely manufactured article. Under these conditions Canadian wool raisers ship large quantitites into foreign markets every year, though part of this production may return to Canada again in the form of partly processed wool ready for spinning.

But there are indications at present that we are swinging back to the days when our good Canadian wool is going to be all used by Canadians. One indication of this is the increasingly large number of growers who in the past two years have had their wool made up locally into blankets, yarns, heavy tweed and mackinaw cloths. These people, through generations of necessity, have become the keenest buyers on earth and above all demand that their purchases be durable. They have found that clothing, blankets, and other materials made from Canadian wool give them that durability and they also get everything in the way of color, softness and sheerness that is wanted. There is a change, too, in the attitude of the manufacturers. They are becoming convinced that it is no longer necessary to ship Canadian wool across the Atlantic and back particularly when they find that this grown in Canada' product naturally makes a more suitable clothing fabric for Canadian conditions than that grown outside.

SURE CANADA CAN HOLD WHEAT EXPORTING LEAD

SASKATOON, Sept. 8 (C.P.). — Belief that Canada wildl maintain her position as the leading wheat exporting nation of the world and that the human element in Russia would militate against that country capturing the exporting market, was expressed here by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., recently elected president of the Canadian Bar Association. He based his statements on observations during a tour of European countries and of Russia.

Mr. Rowell thought the average yield of Western Canadian farm lands would be five bushels per acre more than the average yield in the other big wheat exporting countries. Quality of Canadian wheat was also a deciding factor, he emphasized.

The distinguished visitor also stated he thought conditions had definitely turned for the better and than improvement would be noted in the not too distant future.

BISHOP UPHOLDS NEW IDEAS FOR PROGRESS OF MEDICINE

Dr. Barnes Preaches Radical Sermon to 500 Doctors in Worcester

ATTACKS PREJUDICE

Worcester, Eng.—"The golden age of humanity lies in the future; behind us lies a morass of ignorance and dirt."

This was one of many provocative pronouncements made by Dr. Barnes, Bishop of Birmingham, preaching to 500 doctors in Worcester cathedral at the special service in connection with the centenary of the British Medical Association.

He traced the progress of medicine through the ages, condemned the activities of anti-vivisectionists, and upheld the medical profession in such measures as the sterilizing of the unfit, vaccination, and dissection, in order to produce a healthy race.

Dr. Barnes said new aspects of truth and vision bewildered men and aroused their instinctive opposition. So bewildered they easily turned to old superstitions.

"We reverence the body, the temple of the Holy Spirit. None the less, a medical student must be allowed to dissect the human body, or his training will be marred.

"Possibly before many years have passed our knowledge of human heredity will have so increased that we shall know how, by preventing the birth of children to certain persons, to raise the quality of our population. Will mistaken prejudice impede the good work?

"Mistaken prejudice gave strength to the clamor against inoculation and vaccination. Fanatical objections to it still survive.

"There exists in this country organised hostility to all experiments on living animals, but if our leaders of medical research are to conquer the dread diseases which now cause incalculable agonies to humanity they must be allowed such restricted liberty as they at present possess.

"I urge that social leaders and religious teachers must join with men of science to emphasize continually that man has been endowed with his rational powers in order that he may by the discovery of truth find and enter the Kingdom of God."

Before the cathedral service a plaque was unveiled on the house in which in 1794 Charles Hastings, founder of the association, was born.

The doctors marched in procession to the cathedral, clad in robes of red and black.

WILL LINK HEBRIDES WITH THE MAINLAND

Islanders to Have Both Telegraph and Telephone

Inverness, Scotland.—Following an agitation that has lasted about three years, the postmaster-general has decided to give better facilities for communication between the Island of Lewis and the mainland.

This step on the part of the postal authorities should be of great benefit, particularly to the business community in the Hebrides, and will, it is hoped, remove the irritating delays that have occurred in the past when the cable has been broken.

The work will be done as soon as possible, but the post-office will bring into use an additional wireless link in the case of any prolonged interruption of the present cable.

The islanders will have both telegraph and the telephone under the new scheme.

The decision of the authorities will be hailed with great satisfaction in Stornoway and other centres of importance in Lewis.

The route between Loch Erisort and Staffin has been selected for the new cable.

REVIVE 'DEAD' WOMAN BY HEART MASSAGE

Kept Alive for Two Days After Breathing Had Stopped

DURING OPERATION

London.—Revelations of how a "dead" woman was revived in a hospital and lived for two days were made at a Westminster inquest.

She was Mrs. Minnie Evelyn Barnes, aged 64, wife of a retired railway official, of Church Rd., Iwerne, Minster, Dorsett, who died in St. George's hospital following an operation.

Dr. Charles Bevan said that for the operation Mrs. Barnes was given three grains of membutal, a hypnotic drug, by mouth and by injection into the spine with stovaine, a local anesthetic.

Just as the operation was starting the patient's breathing and respiration stopped. Various methods were applied, and she resumed breathing.

It was deemed advisable to proceed with a modified operation. This was successfully performed, and Mrs. Barnes was returned to the ward in a fairly satisfactory condition. She did not recover consciousness, however, and died two days later.

The coroner, Mr. Ingleby Oddie: "Had she stopped breathing?" "Yes."

"So she was dead practically?" "Yes."

"And you massaged the heart and it started again?" "Yes."

The coroner said that all might have been well if it had not been for the fact that the patient was suffering from old disease of the liver and heart.

"It is a remarkable case," he said. "She practically died while the operation was being performed, but steps were taken to restart the heart by respiration, and the net result was that a 'dead' woman came to life and lived for two days.

OLDEST TWINS IN ENGLAND ARE 91, BRIGHT AND HAPPY

They're Lady Elizabeth Lock of Lonodon and Lady Lytton of Knebworth

VISIT FREQUENTLY

London. — The oldest twins in England are Lady Elizabeth Loch and Lady Lytton, who were born 91 years ago.

One lives in London, the other at Knebworth in Hertfordshire; but this distance is no barrier to these devoted sisters, for they continually correspond with and visit one another.

In the long low-flung home designed for her by Sir Edwin Lutyens, not far from Knebworth House, the Dowager Lady Lytton told an interviewer who went to see her on her birthday that by the towering clumps of trees in her garden she marks the passing of the years. She said: "When I came my house was filled with sunshine, but now those trees keep my house in shadow, I am getting old."

On every side in the pleasant room were her treasures, miniatures of her children, bookshelves filled with the library of Bulwer Lytton's work, a piano, where she still plays Chopin she loves so much.

Walking over to the bookcase, she picked up a picture of King Edward and Queen Alexandra.

"She was beautiful and so sweet, with her lovely figure. I attended her on her wedding day."

She led the interviewer up the spacious stairway to the landing where hung a portrait of the late Lord Lytton in oils.

"Every night," she said, "when I come up I smile up at him and bow him good-night—like this."

In her day and her class no girl ever went out without a chaperone on the streets of London; but to-day "little toddlers, just babies, can go anywhere, but the girls are just the same as they were in my day, and always will be."

Then she added: "You know, it's most useful being a twin, especially when you're young, for if I didn't want to see a young man I merely told him he must have come to visit my sister, and she was out."

LORD HARBERTON AND ARTIST WED QUIETLY

Bride Retains Her Own Name at Her Studio

London.—It has been revealed that Lord Harberton, sixty-four-year-old Irish peer, was secretly married to Miss Fairlie Harmar, Chelsea artist, before the British Consul at Monte Carlo last March.

They have been in Brittany and recently came quietly to England and settled at Miss Harmar's studio in Cheynewalk.

Lord Harberton is known to the other people in the house as "Mr. Harberton," and Miss Harmar retains her name by her own wish.

"I met my husband nearly 30 years ago, and we have been friends ever since," said Miss Harmar. We shall be in England for a few days, and then we hope to visit my husband's estates in Ireland before we return to France."

The balloon landed on a bungalow at Ash Green, 40 miles away. The occupants, except for slight bruises, landed unhurt.

4,500 PEOPLE SEE A PARACHUTIST KILLED

Becomes Entangled With Plane and Brings It Down

Cambridge, Eng.—About 4,500 people at Littleport saw a parachutist killed while dangling from an aeroplane in which the parachute had become entangled.

The man killed was Mr. R. E. Hopkins of Primrose Lane, Birmingham.

The pilot of the machine, Flight Lieut. R. C. Spencer, attached to the R.A.F. depot at Cranwell, Lincolnshire, was taken to Cambridge hospital badly hurt.
